BIG BASKET—Joe Belmont leaps into the air and lays the ball in for the two points that put Duke ahead in the final two minutes of the State game last Saturday night. More than 8800 screaming fans watched the tense contest that saw the Devils overcome a nine point lead at the end of the third quarter and roar to a stunning 87-85 victory over the Wolfpack.

DUKE NEWS BUREAU TELLS WORLD OF VARIOUS CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

By HERB LODDER
Senior Staff Reporter

When you are selected as the man who slept through the most classes in 1953, how does this information turn up in your hometown weekly? A little investigation on your part will turn up a bureau that you hardly knew existed, the Bureau of Public Information.

This Bureau, directed by Earl Porter, is the only connection between Duke doings and the outside world of teletype and newsprint. It does not consider itself just a publicity organization, which in that capacity would consider "any publicity good publicity," but feels that its job is to interpret the university to the public through the medium of radio, syndicated news agencies and telecasts.

Huxley Lauds Rhine ESP on 'Solid Basis'

In "A Case for ESP, PK and Psi" in the current issue of Life, Aldous Huxley, noted British author, writes that the work of Dr. J. B. Rhine, Duke parapsychologist, has established a transitory perception (ESP) "on a basis too solid to be explained away."

Commenting on Dr. Rhine's new book "New World of the Mind", Huxley points out that "It was Dr. Rhine and his co-workers who first developed fully controlled experimental conditions and subjected all results to statistical appraisal. It has achieved what no collecting of anecdotal material could achieve."

Hoof 'n' Horn Plans For Spring Success

Commenting on Hoof 'n' Horn's recent selection of Denny Marks' humorous satire, Foamin' Oer, for spring production by his group, producer Bill Neale appeared well satisfied.

Neale announced the following staff appointments for the show: Stage Manager, King Rimbach; Technical Director, John Hunger; Business Manager, Tom Oakley; Scene Designer and Makeup Supervisor, Artie Kaufman; Master Electrician, Taylor Rogers. Lee Edwards will serve as press agent for the show.

Early To Discuss Issues

Discussing "National Issues in Public Education," William A. Early, president of the National Education Association, will speak at 8 p.m., Jan. 14, in the Woman's College Auditorium, sponsored by the Duke Education Department, Kappa Delta Pi, and the Future Teachers of America.

Duke Hospital to Construct Seven-Floor Wing to Clinic

In order to relieve congestion, Duke Hospital expects to begin construction this spring on a new $3,386,000 seven-floor wing providing a new out-patient clinic and more than 100 new beds, President Hollis Edens announced Sunday.

The new wing will bring the number of beds to 668, making Duke among private general hospitals in the South second in size only to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore.

Capitol Singing

Men's Glee Club To Perform For National Republican Rally

Duke University's Men's Glee Club, will sing Feb. 5 in Washington, D. C. for the annual Lincoln Day rally of the Republican National Committee, J. Foster Barnes, director, announced here today.

Over 6,000 Republicans are expected to be at Uline Arena in Washington to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Republican Party. President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to give a short address.

The invitation for the glee club to sing came from Norris Nelson, a member of the Republican National Committee. Nelson told Director Barnes that the glee club had been recommended by George Murphy of Hollywood fame who has arranged many such programs for the Republicans in the past.

BARNES REPORTED

Barnes reported that details are now being worked out for the glee club's appearance. It is not definite yet how many men will make the trip or what type of transportation will be used.

Barnes said that the club will do several patriotic songs, a spiritual, and probably some popular numbers for the program. Also included on the program will be several big name stars, Barnes said.

Barnes commented, "I am extremely pleased by the invitation and happy that the glee club could accept. I think it is one of the highest compliments the club has ever received."

The Washington appearance comes a week before the regular mid-winter concert of the glee club which will be held in Page Auditorium on Feb. 12.

As early as 1946 the Duke Endowment made available $1,000,000 toward a new addition. The remaining cost will be met by contributions from a number of private sources to the medical and hospital building fund.

400 A DAY

The out-patient clinic, originally designed for 200 patients a day, now handles 160,000 a year, an average of more than 400 a day.

The basement of the new wing, which will extend back from the Private Diagnostic Clinics to the Duke Gardens, will contain the pediatrics and psychiatry out-patients department.

Expanded medical facilities will include 10 new operating rooms, three new x-ray machines, a central laboratory and more space for the Medical Record Library, dietetics and the Central Supply Room.

The wing will also include new teaching facilities for the Duke Medical School and for employees, new lockers and lounges, a larger cafeteria and more office space.

As soon as drawings are complete, contracts will be let, and construction is expected to begin by April or May. Completion may take about two years.

HOSPITAL OPENED

Within a few years after the hospital opened in 1930, the need for expansion was apparent. With appropriations from the Duke Endowment and Duke University, a wing for private and semi-private patients and offices and examining rooms for the Private Diagnostic Clinics was completed in 1940.

By 1952 the out-patient clinic had handled more than 1,500,000 visits and more than 450,000 patients.

Dedicated last October, the $750,000 William B. Bell Research Building houses research laboratories, basic diagnostic facilities and several teaching and research departments.

Hungarian Musicians Will Present Beethoven Program Saturday Night

Hungarian Quartet Performs Saturday

Under the auspices of the Chamber Arts Society, the Hungarian String Quartet will feature an all-Beethoven program as the third concert in the series, Saturday, Jan. 16, at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Room of East Duke Building.

The Hungarian musicians will give the Quartet in C Sharp Minor, Opus 131; the Quartet in B Flat Major, Opus 18, No. 6 and the Quartet in C Major, Opus 59, No. 5.

The chamber music of Beethoven has been of special interest to the Quartet. During the Nazi occupation of Europe, while no concerts could be given, they CLASSICS QUARTET—Appearing next Saturday night in the East Duke Building, the Hungarian Quartet, Zoltan Szekely, violin, Alexander Moskowsky, violin, Denes Koronzy, viola, and Vilmos Palotai, cello, will present an all-Beethoven Concert. The program will begin at 8:15.

A Penny A Day

A newspaper office is flooded with literature of all sorts, from advertisements to news brochures, most of which are quickly filed in the wastepaper basket. But, once in a while, something comes along that demands attention and serious thought. We received such a letter the other day from the Foster Parents' Plan For War Children, Inc., a New York-centered organization with a spirit of good will and Christian principles guiding it.

The Plan, as it calls itself, is a private, non-profit organization that functions as intermediary between Americans with a big heart and a generous purse and war orphans in Europe and Korea. These young people, many of whom have neither mother nor father, receive from a maximum total of $180 a year (the amount prescribed by the Plan to enable an individual or a group to "adopt" a child), staples like food, clothing, specific medical care, welfare service and school enrollment.

These benefits are an integral part of American childhood but luxuries in countries where five year old boys fight with knives in the streets over a piece of fruit. On this campus one of several groups is supporting a French orphan through the simple but effective means of the smallest medium of exchange—the penny. Instead of buying chewing gum or another quarter mystery, their pennies, deposited each day in a special box, are bringing to an unfortunate child health and happiness, not measurable in money.

This newspaper will be happy to answer any and all questions about the Plan and supply the necessary information for correspondence with Foster Parents. This is one time when your two cents' worth will buy a smile and warm gratitude, which rarely come at one thousand times that price.

Display of Paintings Will Begin Jan. 17 In Gallery of Library

A display of paintings, drawings, and etchings by a young North Carolina teacher-artist, John Gordon, began in the Gallery of the Woman's College Library Sunday with the artist present.

Included in the exhibition are 8 paintings in a new medium, tri-tex, an emulsion of oil, casein, and wax. Some of these are "Knarled Trees," "The Accordionist," "Ladies of Cythera," "Beach at Beaufort," and "Italian Girl."

Gordon, instructor in art at East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, is a professional portraitist, with a studio in Greenville, as well as a painter in

Letters to the Editor

An Explanation?

Editor, the CHRONICLE:

A few statements are appropriate here to correct several misconceptions that might arise as a result of the CHRONICLE's editorial (Friday, Jan. 8) concerning MSGA's Efficiency Committee.

The reasons for the delay in announcement of the results of the recently conducted poll of student opinions of the Student Health Services are:

1. The scope of the poll has been expanded to include twice as many students as originally announced.

2. The questionnaires can be evaluated no faster than students fill them out and return them.

3. The report on the questionnaires' contents will include not only enumeration, but also analysis and evaluation of the students' replies. This is necessary in order that the poll's results may be used as an instrument for positive action by MSGA; that makes tabulation slow and tedious.

Providing that all questionnaires are returned in time, a report on the poll will be made at the MSGA meeting Wednesday, Jan. 13.

The Fan's Fare

By CHARLES WRAY

The victory over State here last Saturday night definitely established Coach Harold Bradley's basketballers as the team to beat for the Atlantic Coast Conference title.

Before Saturday's action Carolina, Wake Forest, and Duke all were tied for the top spot with 2-0 marks. Carolina's victory over the Deacons left them tied with the Blue Devils, both with 3-0 records; however, with a tougher schedule ahead it seems only matter of time before the Tarheels will meet with defeat.

Saturday's action left State with two defeats in loop play and Wake Forest with one.

Another team that will have to be reckoned with before tournament time is Maryland. They have lost but one in conference play, that one a pre-Christmas game at Wake Forest.

The team winning the top-seeded position in the March tournament will have the easy road to the championship, since the number one seeded team will automatically meet Virginia in the first round.

In the State game, the Blue Devils continued to show their terrific incentive to win which has carried them to seven straight triumphs and the Dixie Classic championship. Many teams, trailing by nine points going into the final period, would have given up, but not the Blue Devils.

A factor overlooked in the game stories was the magnificent student spirit displayed at the game. Spirit to many people is merely something newspaper writers discuss to fill space, but it is much more than that. Experts allow a team playing on its home court an eight to twelve point advantage, and part of this comes from the spirit of the partial crowd.

The excitement and the packed stadium reminded many people of the Dick Groat days, but no single victory scored during the Groat era was as outstanding and thrill-packed as the one here Saturday.

Grapplers Triumph

Duke's varsity wrestlers, trailing after five matches, rallied in the last three to top a previously unbeaten Davidson College squad, 17-13.

Jim Roth and Greg Raimondo started off well for the Devils. Roth pinned his opponent, while Raimondo decisioned his. The visiting Wilcats took the lead when they won the next three matches, but Jerry Chadwick, Bill Buchelt and Fred Campbell came back to win and ice the meet for the Blue Devils.

The next meet for Duke is Thursday at Maryland.

SWIMMERS WIN

Led by Ron Walske who took two first places, the Duke swimmers won their first meet of the year, beating Georgia Tech, 45-39.

HOW MORAL CAN A VICTORY GET?

or... don't put all your goose eggs in one basket

Once there was a Basketball Team that had Plenty of Nothing. It was so poor that even the Coach hadn't gone to a game all season. Couldn't stand to watch his Scoreless Wonders. So the Fittle Five careened through the schedule and hit the road for the Big Game. Due to lose by 45 points, the Experts said.

But somebody back on campus had a Brainstorm. He whipped out his Trusty Telegrammar (the Telegrammar being a pocket-sized guide to telegraph use. If you'd like one, incidentally, for gratis, just write to Room 1227, Western Union at 60 Hudson Street, New York City.)

Spotting a likely idea he started the wheels moving! So, just before game time, the team got more Telegrams than you could shake a Referee at. Group telegrams from fraternities and sororities, personal telegrams from Prexy and the Dean of Women, hundreds of telegrams from students... all saying "We're behind you, team!" The reaction? Tremendous. The boys pulled themselves together, went out and lost by only 28 points instead of 45.

The moral is Obvious. The more you encourage a guy, the better he'll do... and Giving a Hand by telegram works wonders. In fact, whether it's Money from Home you want, or a Date, or just to send a Souful Message to Someone Special, just call Western Union or whip down to your local Western Union office.

Devils Battle Deacons In Conference Game

After dropping a powerful North Carolina State quint, 87-85, the Blue Devils readied themselves for today's invasion of Gore Gym at Wake Forest and their battle with last year's Southern Conference champs, the Wake Forest Demon Deacons.

The Deacons, with their 6-6 center Dickie Hemric expected to return to action, will be out to avenge their Dixie Classic defeat by the fast-breaking Blue Devils.

Wake Forest has a mediocre 8-7 record to date, but many of their losses have come from the nation's outstanding teams, among them Kentucky and Duquesne. Two of their wins have been from State.

The "big" men in the Deacon offense are All-American Hemric, who has averaged over 23 points per game, and Lefty Davis.

Murray Gresson, Wake coach, is expected to start Hemric, at center, forwards Ray Lipstas and Lefty Davis, and Billy Lyles and Al Deporier at the guard spots.

THE IDEAL ENVIRONMENT FOR YOUNG ENGINEERS

In 1953, Sylvania's 40 plants in eleven states produced upwards of $300 million worth of products in more than sixty categories of lighting, radio, television and electronics equipment.

This year will see the completion of additional new plants and laboratories, as another phase of a continuing expansion program which has doubled plant and equipment in the past few years.

As a graduate engineer, you'll naturally find a wide range of opportunities in every phase of engineering at Sylvania. And you'll find yourself making rapid headway as the company continues to add new facilities, new fields.

A stimulating atmosphere of accomplishment and opportunity — plus size, growth, and diversity — make Sylvania, a company of young men where the executive level averages 45 years of age, an ideal place to build a satisfying career in engineering.

For detailed information, see your College Placement Office or send for our comprehensive brochure, "Today and Tomorrow with Sylvania", by writing to Supervisor of Technical Employment.

Opportunities, too, at Sylvania's
16 research and development laboratories.
