

The Duke Chronicle

Vol. 50—No. 21

Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Tuesday, December 7, 1954

Carr Speaks Tomorrow Evening

Greek Week Opens In Chapel Service

With events emphasizing the spiritual, social, competitive, and community service aspects of Greek life, the annual Greek Week will commence its seventh annual activities tomorrow night in the University Chapel.

This year, for the first time, the Greek Week committees

Student Group Slates Orange Bowl Events For Miami Weekend

Reservations for any of the social events organized by the Duke-Miami Club must be in before Dec. 15, announced Buddy Beacham, chairman of the organization.

Coordinating with the South Florida Duke Alumni Association, the Duke-Miami Club has planned three socials for Duke students and their families going to the Orange Bowl for the New Year festivities.

Thursday, Dec. 30 there will be a reception at the Biscayne Terrace Hotel with a dinner served afterwards. The charge for this function is $5.00. On the next day there will be a buffet supper at the Columbia Hotel, also at a cost of $5.00 per person.

Reservation blanks for these exciting entertainments can be obtained at the New Gym at any time before Dec. 15, and checks should be mailed to "Duke Alumni of South Florida, 2742 Biscayne Blvd., Miami 377, Fla.

Peggy Paul . . .

Chronicle Photo by Mike Pierry

BASSETT BEAUTY CROWNED QUEEN

Peggy Paul, a Bassett House sophomore, is the 1955 CHANTIER queen. Her coronation came as the highlight of Saturday night's Coed Ball, sponsored by the Woman's College Social Standards Committee. Featuring the music of the Southerners from Wake Forest, the annual event was staged in Christmas surroundings in the West Campus gymnasium and was followed by breakfast served in each dorm for the couples attending the gala affair. Members of the committee and their dates were served in the East Campus Union.

The dance figure, in the shape of a Christmas package, was made up of the finalists in the contest. Pete Taylor served as emcee, crowned the queen, and named the runner-up, Ann Ausley of Jarvis House.

Judy LeFever Stars In Play Opening Tomorrow In Branson

Players Give Comedy, "Playboy of the Western World"; Four-Day Run Planned for Satire on Irish Weaknesses

By MIKI SOUTHERN

CHRONICLE Staff Writer

Shifting from Saroyan's brittle irony in their first performance, Duke Players change pace this week in their production on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of "Playboy of the Western World," John Millington Synge's satirical comedy.

Cast as Peegen Mike, the tavernkeeper's daughter, Judy LeFever returns to the Duke stage for the first time this season. Playing leading roles in past productions including "Remains to Be Seen," "The Glass Slipper," and "A Study in Sin," Miss LeFever also has appeared in two Hoof 'n' Horn shows.

A newcomer to local theatre circles will play opposite Miss LeFever as Christy, the Playboy. John Guthman is a transfer from Northwestern where he worked in dramatic productions.

The Irish comedy, which is slated for a four-day run in Branson beginning tomorrow night, revolves around the love story of Peegen Mike and Christy, complicated by the Playboy's unpredictable father, Old Mahon, played by Robert Butts.

Other supporting members of the cast are Sally Morse who won acclaim for her performance in the "Adding Machine" last winter and Robert Nichols who also appeared in the same play. Miss Morse is cast as The Hunter who is much interested in Widow Quinn, a desperate man-hunter who is much interested in the Playboy.

Directed by Kenneth Reardon, the play will be staged arena-style in Branson Hall. Victor Michalak is technical director for the production.

Hailed by critics as one of the finest examples of the twentieth century revival of Celtic playwriting, the drama slyly pokes fun at the well-known foibles and weakness of the Irish people but Synge handles his tools of satire with a deep understanding and love of his subject.

Treasurer Reports On MSGA Finances

A report of the financial condition of the Men's Student Government Association was released recently by Herb Bennett, treasurer of that organization.

According to the report, the cash income to date for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1954 was $2,410. The cash income to date for fiscal year beginning April 1, 1954 was $2,571.23, making a total of $4,981.23 for the year. Expenses for the year to date were $1,366.36 leaving a cash balance in the bank of $3,314.87.

The budget for the fiscal year is $2,894.75, with expenses for the year to date already deducted, this leaves a balance in the budget of $1,478.39. Deducting this amount from the balance in the bank, a working fund of $1,935.48 is left.

Chronicle Photo by Mike Pierry

JUDY LEFEVER prepares to lower the boom on John Guthman in this scene from the Duke Players' coming production, "Playboy of the Western World." Looking on are Robert Butts (far left) and Sally Morse. The play, a comedy by John Millington Synge, opens for a four day run on Wednesday in Branson Hall's arena style theatre.

President Edens Gives Founders' Day Speech

Duke University will observe its 30th anniversary with traditional Founders' Day exercises this Saturday, Dec. 10 at 10:20 a.m. in Page Auditorium.

A change in plans has resulted in the presentation of the Founders' Day address by President A. Hollis Edens rather than the former French Premier Camille Chateaux. Chateaux will be honored instead at a Student-faculty dinner on Saturday night to be followed by an open forum conducted by him.

This year will mark the first time that the Duke chief executive has appeared as principal speaker on the annual program. He will address students, alumni and friends of the University at the exercises in Page Auditorium.

The morning exercises will include the annual tree presentation ceremony by senior classes of Trinity College the Woman's College and College of Engineering. Bill Ragsdale, engineering student president, will make the presentation this year on behalf of all three classes.

Student carillonneur Roman Le Patrick will provide music before the program. Harold Andrews will lead the Concert Band, and the Duke Men's Glee Club will perform under the direction of J. Foster Barnes.

The 1954 Founders' Day marks the 30th anniversary of the establishment of Duke University on Dec. 11, 1924 when James B. Duke created the Duke Endowment.

Exam Schedule

Beginning Jan. 18, exams for the fall semester will be held each day as follows:

Tuesday, Jan. 18: 9-12 a.m.—MWF 1st; 2-5 p.m., 7-10 p.m.—Botany 1

Wednesday, Jan. 19: 9-12 p.m.—MWF 2nd; 2-5—Eng. 1, 2; 7-10—Ec. 57

Thursday, Jan. 20: 9-12 a.m.—MWF 3rd; 2-5—Soc. 91; 7-10—Fr. 1, Sp. 1

Friday, Jan. 21: 9-12 a.m.—MWF 4th; 2-5—Chem. 1; 7-10—Ec. 51

Saturday, Jan. 22: 9-12 a.m.—TTS 6th; 2-5—MWF 5th; 7-10 Naval Sc.

Monday, Jan. 24: 9-12 a.m.—MWF 6th; 2-5—7-10—Air Sc.

Tuesday, Jan. 25: 9-12 a.m.—TTS 1st; 2-5—Math 1, 5; 7-10—Pol. Sci. 61

Wednesday, Jan. 26: 9-12 a.m.—TTS 2nd; 2-5—Rel. 1, 51; 7-10—Math 6, 52

Thursday, Jan. 27: 9-12—TTS 3rd; 2-5—Fr. 3, Sp. 3

Friday, Jan. 28: 9-12—TTS 4th; 2-5—Physics 1, 51

The Duke Chronicle

FOUNDED IN 1905

The Tower of Campus Thought and Action

Published every Tuesday and Friday of the University year by the students of Duke University, Durham, North Carolina. Entered as second class matter at the Post office at Durham, N. C., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Delivered by mail, $3.00 for the University year, $15.00 per semester; cost of postage to enrolled undergraduates not in residence on the campus. Subscriptions should be mailed to Box 4096, Duke Station.

TED ZIEGLER
EditorBILL GRAY
Business Manager

EDITORIAL

Or No-Existence

We have been heartened by the increasing evidences of a determined effort on the part of the President to preserve this planet from the ravages of hydrogen warfare. Despite the blatant muscle-flexing of Red China in imprisoning 13 Americans on trumped up charges, the U. S. seems dead set on preserving the peace, short of outright aggression.

We regret what we feel are the irresponsible statements of Senator Knowland of California when he talks of the impossibility of co-existence. If co-existence is indeed impossible, life itself is impossible. According to the reports from the Atomic Energy Commission, current models of the H-Bomb are so powerful that they cannot safely be tested. The earth is not big enough.

Russia also seems to have realized that the cold war cannot go on indefinitely. Perhaps they have realized, as Carolina's Daily Tar Heel pointed out, the truth of Adlai Stevenson's words: "co-existence or no-existence."

Letters To The Editor

Editor The Chronicle:

Just by way or suggestion, it strikes me that perhaps it is not in keeping with the best in journalistic tradition to insert comments after letters to the editor, with any twinge of sarcasm whatever. True, many newspapers parenthetically reply to "editor's letters", but generally the reply is informative rather than retaliatory. I feel that a change in the editorial policy of the Chronicle, as to this matter, is called for.

NAME WITHHELD

(Maybe we have been mistaken in what we thought was pointed brevity. We are not trying to realize if a reader takes issue with us. We are merely trying to answer as best we can a question asked in a fairly formal, guarded way. We have the considerable advantage of having the last word; we hope we haven't abused our advantage. And in writing this, we have resisted the temptation to answer simply: "no comment."—Ed.)

Editor The Chronicle:

Why have a bowl game at all if one ticket is all a student is allowed to buy? A lot of good that does when he has hopes of taking his dad or his hometown girl to see his school team play in one of its rare bowl games—one of the country's biggest football games of the year. The 49,000 tickets sold in Miami were sold two to a customer, yet the students of the schools represented who actually have the most interest in the game are to be allowed only one ticket—great.

NAME WITHHELD

(Because of alumni demand and commitments to offer some 200 tickets to each ACC school, the 10,700 tickets which the DUAA has to dispose of are being carefully allocated. It does seem rather unfortunate that only one ticket per student is available here, but you have other sources of supply. Each Duke footballer will probably have two tickets and, if you wish, you can probably secure tickets through any Miami hotel, some of which offer tickets to customers for $4. Perhaps they can be persuaded to part with some for the established price of $6.25. If this fails, you tune in the game on CBS-TV and probably enjoy a better view of the spectacle, anyway.—Ed.)

WE HAVE

MORE

NICKEL

CHRISTMAS

CARDS

THAN

AUSTRALIA

HAS

KANGAROOS!

(A jump ahead, pal, a jump ahead!)

THE INTIMATE
BOOKSHOP

205 E. Franklin St.

Chapel Hill

Open Evenings

46 Seniors Make '55 'Who's Who' In U. S. Colleges

Chosen to take their places along with hundreds of others students in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, 46 seniors have been recognized for their outstanding work in extracurricular and scholastic activities.

Those selected this year are: Jerry Barger, Si Brewer, Pete Burkholder, Dave DeWitt, Carl Edwards, Rhett George, Banks Godfrey, Bill Gray, Lyle Harper, Jerry Haupt, John Horan, Bill Huntley, Harold Kadis, Dick Killen, Pete Landau.

John Larsen, Worth Lutz, Ray Olds, John Parkerson, Herman Postma, Reynolds Price, Grady Price, Rudy Ruda, Rube Schargies, Dave Schimmel, Chuck Seager, George Sherrerd Lisk Wychoff, Ted Ziegler, and Bill Zollars.

Rounding out the list are the sixteen women from East Campus. Who are: Julia Allen, Jackie Barger, Dial Boyle, Betsy Brittain, Trish Brown, Jo Duncan, Kathy Dykes, Jane Greene, Marian McSurely, Nell Newell, Kitty Plummer, Nancy Saunders, Sue Smith, Cathy Styron, Brooke Tucker and Carol Walker.

Scholastic Honorary

In initiation ceremonies tonight, 47 Duke students will be formally tapped into Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary fraternity, Duke chapter secretary Dr. James Cannon announced last weekend.

Election to the fraternity is based on outstanding academic work.

Dr. B. U. Ratcliff, president of the Duke chapter, will conduct the initiations at 8 p.m. Tuesday in University House.

Dr. Taylor Cole, James B. Duke Professor of Political Science, will speak on "Neo-Fascism in Western Germany and Italy."

"Unbeatable comedy"

—Crowther, N. Y. Times

"Excellent! Comedy of the purest sort!"

—Winston, N. Y. Post

"Wryly amusing . . . salty, crusty, hilarious!"

—Cook, World Tel. & Sun

Who says Scotch and water don't mix?

starring PAUL DOUGLAS

A MICHAEL BALCON-LEUNG STUDIOS PRODUCTION

A J. ARTHUR BARK ORGANIZATION PRESENTATION

A UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL RELEASE

TODAY

and

WEDNESDAY

VARSITY
THEATRE

Chapel Hill, N. C.

We make larger loans on typewriters, watches, guns, clothing, jewelry, musical instruments, radios, cameras, and golf sets.

Five Points Loan Co.

339 W. Main St.
At Five Points
Durham, N. C.

CHRISTMAS CARDS ON SALE

Stationery — Books — Greeting Cards — Gifts
Esterbrook Pens — Picture Framing

Thomas BOOK STORE

Cor. Corcoran & Chapel Hill Sts. Phone J-2331

Shaeffer Pens — Kodaks & Supplies — Desk Lamps
Office Supplies & Equipment — Desk Pads

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOC

A few weeks ago I discussed fashions for coeds. I pointed out then that any girl who really wanted to go places on campus had to be bold and ingenious when it came to clothes. This is no less true for the male student.

Believe me, men, you'll never get anywhere if you keep skulking about in those old plus-fours. You need some style, some verve, some inventiveness in your apparel. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry sabre, or a gold derby.

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry sabre. This is too much.

Wear a dagger instead, or, for informal occasions, a Bowie knife.

(Speaking of Bowie knives, I wonder how many of you know what a great debt this country—indeed, the whole world—owes to the West Point class of 1836? You all know, of course, that Colonel James Bowie of the Class of 1836 invented the Bowie knife, but do you know of the many other important contributions to cutlery that were made by classmates of Colonel Bowie's? Are you aware, for example, that Colonel Harry Clapp invented the Clapp knife? Or that Colonel Harry Jack invented the Jack knife? Or that Colonel Harry Putty invented the Putty knife? Or that Colonel Harry Cannon invented the trowel?

By a curious coincidence, every member of the graduating class at the U. S. Military Academy in 1836 was named Harry, save for Colonel James Bowie. This coincidence is believed unique in the history of American education, though, of course, quite common in Europe.)

But I digress. We were talking about men's campus fashions. Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember the "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know, because I was wearing it. Ah, 1941! Well do I remember that melancholy year. I was an undergraduate then and in love—hopelessly in love, caught in the riptide of a reckless romance with a beautiful statistics major named Miss Sinafoos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry though she was far too expensive a girl for me. She liked to eat at fancy restaurants and dance at costly ballrooms and ride in high priced cars. But worst of all, she was mad for wishing wells. It was not unusual for her to drop coins into a wishing well for two or three hours on end. My coins.

But I'll let I sold off my belongings to pursue this insane courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit." One night I came calling for her in this garment. "What is that?" she gasped, her lip curling in horror.

"That is a 'suit,'" I mumbled, averting my eyes. "Well, I can't be seen around campus with you in that," said she. "Please, Harry," I begged, "it's all I've got."

"I'm sorry," she said firmly and slammed the door.

I slunk home and lit a Philip Morris and sat down to think. I always light a Philip Morris when I sit down to think, for their mild vintage tobacco is a great aid to cerebration. I always light Philip Morris when I don't sit down to think too, because Philip Morris is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours too once you try that crazy vintage tobacco.

Well sir, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in the campus newspaper. "WIN A COMPLETE WARD-ROBE!" said the ad. "Tough's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best dressed man on campus. The winner of the contest will receive, absolutely free, a blue hound's tooth jacket, a yellow button-down shirt, a black knit tie, a tattersall vest, gray flannel trousers, argyle socks, and white buck shoes with two inch crepe soles."

My mouth watered at the thought of such a splendid wardrobe, but how could anybody possibly pick me as the best dressed man on campus—me in my "suit"? Suddenly an inspiration struck me. I seized pen in hand and wrote a letter to the editor of the campus newspaper:

"Dear Sir, I see by the paper that Tough's Toggery is going to give a complete wardrobe to the student picked as the best dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes. And if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe?"

"Tough's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a crow in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has cancelled my subscription."

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, in short, a vote for the American way."

With a flourish, I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe. And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.

©Max Shulman, 1954

This column is brought to you by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS who think you would enjoy their cigarette.

Teacher's Pet

and friend to pupils, too, when better classroom lighting promotes

Protected eyesight

Closer attention to work.

An improved achievement record.

A friendlier, more cooperative atmosphere.

DUKE
POWER COMPANY
Serving the Piedmont Carolinas

BETWEEN THE HALVES

With HERB LODDER

Tonight the Blue Devils are at College Park, Maryland where they battle the ever strong Terrapins in their second conference engagement. The Terrapins ended up second in the conference on the basis of regular season play last year and would like to gain the number slot over top-seeded N. C. State and Duke.

MARYLAND WITHOUT SHUE

Minus the services of Gene Shue, their All-Conference record-breaker, Maryland is going to have a rough time, if they expect to equal their 7-2 record of last season. They have five returning lettermen to bolster the squad, but only two, Bob Everett and Bob Kessler were even fairly outstanding last year, scoring about 10 points a game each.

Saturday night Maryland beat Georgetown 60-53 as they inaugurated the '54-'55 season on the right foot. The low score, traditional with Maryland, and the possession type of ball which they employ, will face an acid test tonight, as the high-scoring Blue Devils will be out to continue their record-breaking spree of last Friday evening. However, this game doesn't figure to be that much of a run away. We see Duke winning by at least ten points.

As we think back about that 115-54 rout of Clemson, we can't help but recall the fine play turned in by Ronnie Mayer and Joe Belmont. The two juniors completely dominated play while they were in the game, which was only slightly over 2 1/2 quarters, and led the scoring column. Mayer hit for 31 points to lead both teams, and Belmont drove for 17, second high for Duke.

CLEMSON GAME NO CONTEST

Although the Tigers fought hard the whole game, it was clearly no contest within five minutes of the starting whistle. Such a game is hardly anything to judge the Blue Devils by for the year, but one couldn't help but notice how classy the ball-handling was on the starting five, and how "wide awake" they all seemed to be. They were constant on loose balls, and ready for rebounds. The quintet played together very well, but indicated that bench strength was weak.

SOPHS GAIN EXPERIENCE

Coach Bradley rested the starting five for a good share of the game, and allowed his sophomores to pick up some valuable game experience. As expected, the new men were nervous and they didn't look as well as they will in the future. However, Dick Rosenthal, who had the honor of dunking the record-breaking points, and Jack Kalbfus both turned in fine games for Duke.

Acting captain, Hal Turner came through in fine style as he scored 12 points. Deadly from the outside, teamed with Mayer, he is going to give the Blue and White a valuable inside and outside scoring punch. "Junior Morgan and Don Tobin rebounding in fine offensive play demonstrated the all-around potential of the starting team.

As for the other ACC teams, Carolina couldn't break the century mark against Clemson Saturday night, and State had a rough time with Temple, only beating them at the foul line. No matter how the season ends, Duke has given notice that they are out to get the championship trophy which they felt rightfully belonged to them last season.

NSA Regional Draws 21 Southeast Colleges

Students from 21 colleges in Virginia and the two Carolinas met here last weekend for the Regional Convention of the National Student Association.

With president Joel Fleishman, of UNC, leading the business sessions, the delegates came together for three days of panels, workshops and commission meetings.

The interracial conference discussed academic freedom, problems of student government and integration possibilities. Travel programs were also interspersed throughout the weekend.

A banquet, held Friday night, featured A. Hollis Edens as guest speaker. After the final meetings, a reception was held for the delegates in the Washington Duke Hotel.

The chief item of business conducted was the amending of the constitution to change the name of the Region to Carolinas-Virginia in order to appear higher on the national roll-call.

Tutoring Sponsored By Coordinate Board

The tutoring system set up on East Campus by the Coordinate Board now offers a number of authorized tutors whose services are available to students on both campuses.

For those interested in using this service, the WSGA office will be open from 1-2 p.m. Monday-Friday. There is a file in the office with the names of the tutors, their hours and rates. The rates average between $1 and $3 a hour.

The Duke freshman lost to the Paris Island Marines 98-91 in the preliminary game Friday night. Paul Smythe got 24, Bobby Joe Harris 21 and Jim Newcome 20 to lead the Blue Imps.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Formally opening the Christmas season on East Campus, the YWCA will sponsor a progressive carol sing, beginning at Brown House and ending at Bassett, Tuesday night at 6:30 p.m.

As the carollers arrive at each dormitory, the coeds in the house will display a decoration to signify that the Christmas spirit has entered. All women are to join the group when it leaves for the next dormitory.

At 7:15 p.m. the singers will retire to the Ark where the Reverend Barney L. Jones will speak. Cocoa and donuts will be served afterwards.

The fourth meeting of the Independent Dormitory Council was called to order last Wednesday in the Social Room of FF. Among principal business conducted was the arrangements for an IDC social at 2 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 11 in the Union Ballroom. Although it was originally scheduled to be a bridge party sponsored by the Social Committee, the affair has been enlarged to include dancing and other entertainment.

"Christmas Around the World" will be the theme tonight at the 7:00 p.m. meeting of the Student Missions Fellowship in the lobby of the Men's Graduate Center.

Students from several foreign countries will give a sample of Christmas customs and songs in their respective lands.

THE ORIENTAL Chinese and American Restaurant —ORDERS TO TAKE OUT— 160 EAST PARRISH STREET

Buy & Sell Your Used Books

AT

DUKE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Union Bldg. West Campus

Before the Chimes Ring Think of Your Old Man!

Consider your old man. He may seem like a stuffed goose to you, take our word for it, there's a spark of intellectual life behind that imposing facade.

Take our advice, pal. Cross out that celluloid collar you've been giving him all these years. Surprise him with something lively. Like these books, for instance:

The Saturday Evening Post Treasury—You'll be surprised how these rare gems—chosen from 200 years of publishing history—will delight your most recent ancestor. How he'll gloat over it, how he'll show it off to his cronies—providing he can get Mom's nose out of it!$7.50

American Science and Invention, a pictorial history, by Mitchell Wilson. The fabulous story of how American dreamers, wizards, and inspired tinkers converted a wilderness into the wonder of the world. You'll want to read this, too, so busy it early.$10.00

The Youth's Companion—Edited by Lovell Thompson. Here are the highlights from the magazine your old man loved best when he was a kid. He'll get a chuckle, a touch of nostalgia, and a lot of good talking points from this one.$6.00

The Blue Continent, by Falco Quilici. The exciting and true story of the exploration of the vast depths of the Red Sea. With 26 full color photographs. A swell gift.$5.00

The Taste Makers, by Russell Lynes. A lively story of the events and the people who have shaped our taste for the last dozen decades. You'll remember some of them, your old man will remember others, and the whole family will have one gay old time with this one!$5.00

Animals, Men, and Myths, by Richard Lewinsohn. There are wit, dramatic incident and human interest on every page of this authentic story of man and his relationships with the animals through the aeons. Top-notch reading!$5.00

The Story of Man, by Carleton S. Coon. The ever-fascinating story of man on his journey from ape-man to the atomic age.$6.75

Profile of America, edited by Emily Davie. The biography of the U.S.A., told largely in the words of the Americans who lived it. Wonderful illustrations.$8.50

Abraham Lincoln, by Carl Sandburg. North Carolina's outstanding author has distilled the essence of his monumental six-volume biography for this new definitive one-volume work. Here's a gift to enjoy through the years.$7.50

North Carolina, by UNC's own Leffer and Newsome. Here's an important book any North Carolinian would be proud to own. An outstanding Christmas gift.$7.50

Ready to Hang, by Robert Talant. This collection of seven juicy New Orleans murders will make wonderful bed-time reading for Pop. (And they're easy on his son's budget, besides!)$1.49

Rare Books — A well-chosen book from our Rare Book Corner makes the most impressive gift of all!

At Christmas Time It's Always Fun in

THE INTIMATE BOOKSHOP

205 E. FRANKLIN ST.

CHAPEL HILL

A Southern Christmas Classic
HOW COME CHRISTMAS
by Ruark Bradford
Only $1.00
at
The Intimate Bookshop
205 E. Franklin St.
Chapel Hill

WILBUR JUST WOKE UP TO THE FACT THAT HE'S IN CLASS!

KEEP ALERT FOR A BETTER POINT AVERAGE!

Don't let that "drowsy feeling" cramp your style in class... or when you're "hitting the books". Take a NoDoz Awakener! In a few minutes, you'll be your normal best... wide awake... alert! Your doctor will tell you—NoDoz Awakeners are safe as coffee. Keep a pack handy!

15 TABLETS, 35c

"Phil-Beta" pack 35 tablets in handy tin 69c

noDōz AWAKENERS

When you pause...make it count...have a Coke

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

Durham Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

"Coke" is a registered trade mark.

© 1954, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Resources Meeting Enters Second Week

The National Resources Council moved into its second week of sessions at Duke University Monday with more than 250 officers and civilians participating. These men have gathered here for classes and for study on such subjects as geo-politics and manpower mobilization.

Apart from some top brass including three generals and two admirals, who are on the council's permanent staff, the servicemen are reserve officers who are analyzing the current international problems. All armed services are represented; 81 from the Army, 79 from the Navy, 47 from the Air Force, and seven from the Marines. The few civilians scattered among this crowd of uniforms include the Mayor of Durham, the editor of the Durham Sun, and several of the University's deans.

The official purpose of the conference is to examine the multitude of problems that arise with respect to industry in times of war.

Style Notes

For A Man's Christmas

Oxford Shirts

Any man would like these smartly tailored oxford weave shirts in tan, blue, maize, and helio. Three collar styles—round eyelet, round button down, or regular button down.

4.50

Silk Repps

Silk repp ties are the kind smart men welcome to their wardrobe. See our new and interesting collection of regimental stripes.

2.50

van Schaaten's

118 W. MAIN

Doctors to Hear Rhine

Dr. J. B. Rhine, Duke parapsychologist, will address the regional meeting of the American College of Physicians here, Dec. 9.

More than 100 physicians and their wives from throughout the State are expected to attend the scientific meeting, which will be concluded with Dr. Rhine's lecture-discussion at a dinner meeting at the Hope Valley Club.

A NORTH CAROLINA
BEST SELLER

GOOD MORNING MISS DOVE

by North Carolina's own
FRANCES GRAY PATTON

A delight to read, and a boon for Christmas giving.$2.75

You can be sure of finding it in the big stock of

The Intimate Bookshop

205 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill

'Y' Discussions Planned

'Y'-sponsored discussion groups consisting of one upper-classman and all interested freshmen will meet in the freshmen dorms Thursday at 11 p.m.

DUKE FOOTBALL FANS — TAKE NOTICE!

We are in the Bowl! That problem is solved. But there are others. What will you give for Christmas? An elegant, interesting, informing and inexpensive gift is I REMEMBER by Professor H. E. Spence, for more than fifty years intimately associated with the University.

Amusing episodes, interesting incidents, pen-pictures of prominent personalities, presidents, professors, coaches and others. Read about the bowl games, other thrilling athletic contests, outstanding athletes from the famous Triple-no-hit-one-year Bob Gantt to the fabulous Double-sport-All-American-in-one-year Dick Great. Learn of your Alma Mater's traditions, ideals and prospects.

Attractively bound in University colors. Buy immediately, read promptly, send to Dad at once. He may get so interested in Duke athletics that he will give you a trip to Miami. University Book Store. Price $3.00.

Congratulations Blue Devils

ALUMNI HEADQUARTERS
FOR THE ORANGE BOWL GAME

HOTEL URMEY

34 S. E. Second Avenue
In the Heart of Downtown Miami

Cocktail Lounge
Dining Room

Registration Desk
For Alumni

CLAUGHTON HOTELS, INC.
Ed Cloughton, Jr.
Duke Alumnus

TYPING BUREAU

Now Located At
04 Allan Building

MIMEOGRAPHING
MIMEOSCOPYING
MANUSCRIPTS

TERM PAPERS
THESES
THEMES

Hours 9:00-5:00
Saturday 9:00-1:00

Tel. 352

In the Stocking—under the Tree—

CHESTERFIELD for a Happy Holiday

They Satisfy!

The Most Popular 2-Way Cigarette

(Regular & King Size)
for every smoker on your list!

"HOME FOR CHRISTMAS"—Gift package of the season—colorful—attractive—designed by the famous artist, Stevan Dohanos. Remember all your smoking friends with the gift that really satisfies—Chesterfields. Best to give—best to smoke.