Two Informal Dances Head Swinging Frosh Social Life

Freshman students will have an opportunity to enter into social life here soon by attending two informal dances to be held in the next two weeks.

To get the school year off to a good start, the YWCA and YMCA are sponsoring a dance Saturday, September 20. An annual event of the fall season, the Y dance with the theme "Contemporary Capers" will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in the East Campus gym.

The new students will dance to the music of the Duke Ambassadors, who play for many school functions during the year. Tickets may be purchased from Y-men on West. They will cost men who are Y members one dollar and non-members two dollars.

Another yearly event is the BOS-Sandals dance, "Old Cape Cod," which this year is to be held Saturday, September 27 from 9 to 12 p.m. It will take place in the East Campus gym where the decorating committee has completely reconstructed Cape Cod.

Jack Victor's orchestra will provide the music for the occasion.

Tickets can be bought for $2.25 from members of Sandals at three prominent places on West.

The whole student body is invited to come.

Walz Begins 'Y' Membership Drive With Kick-Off Speech To Y-FAC's

The annual YMCA membership drive gets underway tonight when chairman Ken Walz, YMCA treasurer, will instruct Y-FAC men on drive details.

Walz said the 'Y' has set a goal of 85% of the freshman class for the membership drive. In promoting the 'Y,' Walz said, "We feel that the YMCA is the foremost organization that serves the community, the university and the individual."

Memberships will be sold by the Y-FAC men and will also be on sale in the 'Y' office, 101 Flowers. Walz said, "We expect the Y-FAC men to carry the brunt of the load because of their closer contact with the freshmen."

Walz explained the 'Y' office would be open from 9 to 12 in the morning, and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon through September 18. Thereafter the office will be open from 2 to 5 in the afternoon through the twentieth.

The money received from membership fees finances such projects as Dad's Day, Orientation Week and the Y-FAC program, and contributions are made to Edgemont Community Center, and to Wright's Refuge.

Memberships sell for $5 and can be purchased throughout the year. Approximately 83% of last year's freshman class responded to the YMCA membership drive.

The YWCA on East has its membership drive scheduled for Monday and Wednesday evenings, September 22 and 24.

Each dorm will have a separate drive under the direction of the house fellowship leader. She will work with five 'Y' members in her house and visit each coed in her room.

Sign-up for the various committees will also be taken care of at this time instead of scheduling another meeting for the purpose.

Freshmen Take Gander At Activities Tomorrow

Freshmen will get a preview of campus extra-curricular organizations during Student Activities Night beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Starting off the evening's program in Page Auditorium, MSGA President Bob Torray will welcome the freshman class and explain University student governing procedure.

Dave Sims, YMCA president, Carlyle Windley, chairman of the Student Union Board of Governors, and Steve

'Anne Frank' Play Here Called Off

The Diary of Anne Frank will not open its road tour here as previously slated because of a schedule conflict with an Arts Council performance.

Arrangements had been made for the troupe to use Page Auditorium for rehearsals for the week prior to the opening performance on September 26. The Arts Council had a recital planned for the twenty-fifth.

Originally the director felt it would be possible for the cast to appear despite the rehearsal interruption. He later decided that it would take too much work to take the sets down for one night. "It would take over 200 man-hours," said Bill Griffith, director of Student Union. It was also felt that the rehearsal time could not be lost.

Hammer, Chronicle editor, will address the assembly encouraging freshmen to find some outlet for their ability in activities and, at the same time, warn them of the dangers of over-participation.

Each freshman will receive a schedule of all organizations with a sentence statement concerning their function and the location of their meetings which will follow.

After the group assembly each freshman will adjourn for an hour and a half to individual meetings of the activities which he chooses. No limit will be placed on the number of meetings each freshman can attend.

All twenty organizations participating in the program will hold open-houses in Flowers Building and Page Auditorium. Most groups will later schedule interviews and additional meetings since the Tuesday night sessions will primarily be question and answer periods.

Organizations will meet in the following locations:

Government—MSGA, Room 205; Interfraternity Council, Room 201.

Drama—Hoof 'n' Horn, Page Stage; Duke Players, Page Stage. Service Groups—Alpha Phi Omega, Room 207; YMCA, Room 101; Pep Band, Room 208.

Music—Arts Council, Room 208; Men's Glee Club, Room 207.

Entertainment—Shoe 'n' Slipper Club, Room 208; Student Union, Room 102; WDBS Radio, Room 208.

Publications—Chronicle, Room 304, Chanticleer, Room 308; Archive, Room 301; Peer, Room 303; Playbill, Room 302.

Others—Debate Council, Room 208, Town Men's Club, Town Men's Lounge; Young Republicans Club, Room 208.

★ ★ ★ OR COULD BE

This Story's Yours

These could be your words. Whether you be on East or West, engineer or P. E. major, you could easily be writing this story.

How? The Chronicle has numerous openings for freshmen in almost any field you could name—East, Hanes or West Campus news, sports writing, photography, cartooning, headline writing, business and advertising work.

Requirements: Experience not needed, just a willingness to work and have a good time while you're doing it.

Be sure to drop by the Chronicle office—in 304 Flowers—after Student Activities assembly tomorrow night. You'll at least get some punch and cookies out of it.

To see the power of the press in operation, come by anytime Wednesday afternoon. You might end up trying your hand at a story for the next paper.

Meetings of interested freshmen are scheduled for Thursday evening, 6:30 in the music room of the East Duke Building for women; 7:30 in the Chronicle office, 304 Flowers, for men.

Don't wait for a meeting. Drop by to see us anytime. We'll be in.

Rattlesnake Tougher Than Orientation

One freshman finally found a valid excuse for playing hooky from Orientation Week activities. He got bitten by a rattlesnake.

William York Moores from Maitland, Florida has notified Administration officials that he is still convalescing from a snake bite wound suffered in June and cannot be on campus for Orientation Week.

Tomorrow At 8:30 a.m.

Freshman Registration Scheduled To Begin In Indoor Stadium, Woman's Gymnasium

Registration for freshmen begins tomorrow in the Indoor Stadium and the Woman's College Gymnasium.

Picnic, Movie Head Wednesday Program

The annual Exchange Picnic for freshmen will be held on the East Campus lawn in front of the Union Wednesday evening at 5:15.

Coads will be given tickets numbered according to dorms, e.g., Brown 1, Brown 2, Aycock 1. Men on West will buy identical tickets for one dollar and match them on East. Students will then eat in FAC groups according to dorms.

Following the picnic, The Detective with Alec Guinness will be shown free to freshmen and their advisors at the Quad. There will be only one showing at 7 p.m.

From 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. tomorrow, class sectioning of all Trinity and Engineering College freshmen will be done by alphabetical groups which will report at one-half hour intervals.

Old students returning (O.S.R.'s are old students who have left school and are returning) and transfers will begin class sectioning at 9:30 tomorrow morning.

Class sectioning of all Woman's College freshmen, transfers, and O.S.R.'s and also School of Nursing freshmen will take place tomorrow from 2 until 5 p.m. in the Woman's College Gymnasium.

All pre-enrolled students in Trinity College, the College of Engineering, the Graduate School, and those making course changes in the Woman's College will register Wednesday, September 17, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in the Indoor Stadium.

Classes will begin on Thursday, September 18, at 8:10 a.m.

WARM WELCOME—President and Mrs. Edens extend a warm greeting to Alspaugh freshman Jean Fell of Decatur, Georgia. She and the rest of the class of 1962 met the Administration at the Edens' home yesterday afternoon.

In Pursuit of What?

Tomorrow evening the various non-fraternal organizations on West will conduct their own rush functions, the total of which is called Activities Night. This is pretty much as it should be, hand shaking, Tanner's punch, smiles and all. The reference to rush was purely superficial.

What is not just as it should be is the emphasis born of faulty values which is apt to be attached to activities in the process. That is not to say that activities do not have an important place on campus. They do; in addition to the services they perform and the luxuries they render there is the intangible value of their contribution to the education of the whole man.

But often we do not run activities; they run us. Unfortunately this is an age of specialization. So, in far too many cases the freshman, following the example of upperclassmen everywhere, looks forward to four years of specialization in college. He may specialize in drinking, learn to hold his liquor well and wind up an admired member of his club after college. Or he may spend four years in the library to emerge with a Phi Beta key and a rather hollow summa cum laude. Or he may devote himself to seeking the laurels and acclaim accorded the Big Man on Campus.

These pursuits, each of them, seen in perspective as part of a whole are indispensable directly or indirectly to the education of the whole man. The product of any one alone is a warped man.

When the emphasis on activities obscures the fact that we are here for an education, then they are a detriment to the University and college becomes a farce. So the man who said that the BMOC is wasting his time is partly right. At least it is often the case. But it need not be so. It will not be so for the man who seeks education for its own sake and sees in activities a satisfying spare time outlet for his creative energies, another form of education and a channel through which to use and develop his talents for the profit of the student body and the University as a whole.

Otherwise he leaves Duke with nothing but a diploma, a bunch of keys and some Chronicle clippings.

A Talk With Dean Brinkley

By MARY RHAMSTINE

An hour's conversation with Roberta Florence Brinkley reveals that she is an author, teacher, administrator, traveler, amateur gardener—and a tremendously busy woman. A poised, well-groomed dean, who feels sack dresses are "very unbecoming and make figures look humped over," Miss Brinkley works in an air-conditioned office in East Duke, lives alone in a white frame house in back of Giles House, and vacations one month of the year preferably in England.

Asking about free time brought the smiling retort, "there isn't any—unless you call my semi-social professional life spare time."

Her time at home is taken up by gardening, especially roses, a five or six year old Persian cat named Fluffy, reading modern poetry and by research on the 17th century, her special field of study. Miss Brinkley said she often reads in the library and mentioned subscribing to The Atlantic Monthly, Holiday, London Times Literary Supplement, The Yale Review, Renaissance, and many a professional periodicals.

LOVES ENGLAND

Research and writing are two main endeavors for the head of the Woman's College. Her one month vacation in the summer is usually spent reasonably near a library and the author of five books has her own desk in the rare book room of the British Museum. She flew over to London this summer and finds "just being there" is relaxing. She added "I am quite fond of England and its people."

"I love to teach and keep my hand in it so to speak," stated the dean about another major interest. English 217 is being offered this year with Professor Brinkley as instructor.

The switch from faculty to administration was cushioned by a position she held at Goucher as head of the English department. Miss Brinkley noted that "administration seemed like the next step" after teaching, for it is a "broader field with more opportunities." The dean added with a hint of pride that she is the second dean of East Campus following only Alice Baldwin.

CONDEMNES EXPANSION
Asserting that as dean her "most important interest is with the students," Miss Brinkley praised the faculty highly and condemned expansion of enrollment. She expressed herself positively that "the University is just about the right size. . . . It wouldn't be the same college if it (the enrollment) went any higher." She is most concerned for the students "with something of a problem of carrying through responsibility assumed."

DEAN BRINKLEY

"The almost wild cutting which has developed" is a sign of irresponsibility. Miss Brinkley added that cutting deprives the student of "the stimulus of class discussion, mind reacting on mind over what the book says."

About working with President Hollis Edens, Miss Brinkley noted, "I do consult him, of course, but not a lot." Major issues are handled via the President and Board of Trustees. Ideas that Miss Brinkley is concerned with now are improvements of facilities on East, including an annex for the gymnasium, increased infirmary space and a new fine arts building.

Five Musical Groups Hold Auditions Next Two Days

Auditions for five campus musical organizations will take place tomorrow and Wednesday. Glee Club auditions will be continued tomorrow and Wednesday for those students interested in membership.

Auditions will be held tomorrow morning from 10:45 to 11:15 and tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 3:30. On Wednesday auditions will be held in the morning from 9 to 10:30 and in the afternoon from 2 to 3:30. Interested students should go to the Glee Club office in Flowers Building or call 6225 for an appointment. From 100 to 120 new members will be selected on the basis of the auditions.

Chet Mottershead, president of the Glee Club, stated that members will be selected on the bases of: 1. quality of voice and 2. sight reading ability. He added that "any boy with interest in singing should be able to get in the Glee Club."

The Madrigal Singers will have auditions on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. in Room 110 Asbury Building on East Campus.

The group, directed by Gene Saville of the Music Department, is comprised of about twenty mixed voices of undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty members. During the year the group studies and performs chamber music from the Renaissance and presents madrigals, motets, cantatas, and chamber opera.

Also on Tuesday and Wednesday auditions for the Concert Band, piano students, and the Symphony Orchestra will be held from 2 to 5 p.m.

Paul R. Bryan will hold auditions for the Concert Band in 208 Asbury Building. For piano students, Loren R. Withers will hear auditions in Room 105 Asbury Building. The auditions for the Symphony Orchestra will be held in 208 Asbury Building by Allan H. Bone.

YWCA Holds Mixers Tomorrow, Wednesday; APO Holds Reception

All women freshmen are invited to the YWCA "Punch Bunches" to be held in the Ark on East Campus Tuesday and Wednesday from 3 to 5.

The open houses are being held to introduce the freshmen girls to the aims and purposes of the freshman Y.

(By the Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy with Check.")

ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH

Today begins my fifth year of writing this column, and what an eventful five years it has been! What things have these old eyes not seen! What great discoveries have rocked the world—the anti-proton, for instance, and the anti-neutron, and high-low split, and Brigitte Bardot!

In these five years it has also been discovered that American smokers like two kinds of cigarettes—filter and non-filter. The Philip Morris Company makes both kinds. I mention the Philip Morris Company because they pay me to mention the Philip Morris Company. They sponsor this column. I write it and then they give me money. Then I take the money and pay my grocer, my butcher, my gardener, and my four madrigal singers. In this way full employment is maintained and we avoid a repetition of the Panic of 1873 when bread riots killed over 98 million people in Muncie, Indiana, and millions of others were reduced to ghost-writing Ph. D. theses to keep body and soul together.

But enough of gloom. Let us get back to cheerful subjects, like the products of the Philip Morris Company. For those of you who wish filter cigarettes there is Marlboro, which now, more than ever, gives you a lot to like—a brand new improved filter and a wonderful flavor that comes breezing right through. For those of you who wish non-filter cigarettes, there is Philip Morris, a mild natural blend, flavorful, fresh, and thoroughly agreeable. For those of you who can't decide between filters or non-filters but have an affinity for packages, I should like to point out that both Marlboro and Philip Morris come in both the crushproof Flip-Top Box and the good old-fashioned Soft Pack, and you will surely want several of each for your collection.

Speaking for myself, I smoke both Marlboro and Philip Morris in both packs. What I do is make kind of a fun thing out of it. In my bedroom I have four signs, one on each wall, which say in turn: "PHILIP MORRIS—SOFT PACK," "PHILIP MORRIS—FLIP-TOP," "MARLBORO—SOFT PACK" and "MARLBORO—FLIP-TOP." When I get up in the morning I put on a blindfold and then my faithful cat Rover spins me around six times and then, with many a laugh and cheer, I walk forward with my finger outstretched and the first sign I touch is the cigarette I smoke that day!

This little game has been a great source of merriment...

As you can imagine, this little game has been a great source of merriment to Rover and me, except for one untoward incident one morning. I was stumbling around in my blindfold and fell out the window right on top of a man named Fred R. Timken, a census taker, and broke all his lead pencils. He was cross as a bear, and though I offered him both Philip Morris and Marlboro in both the Flip-Top Box and Soft Pack, he refused to be mollified. In fact, he refused to put my name down in the census, so when you read population figures of the United States, will you please add one!

But I digress. We were speaking of Philip Morris and Marlboro who will bring you this column throughout the school year. In this space I will take up vital aspects of undergraduate life, like high-low split and Brigitte Bardot, and it is my fondest hope that the column will be half as much fun for you as it is for me.

© 1958, Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris welcome you to another year of fun and games from Old Max, and another year of good smoking from us. Filter or non-filter, pick what you please—and what you pick will please you.

Balance Expected From Large Crop Of Harriers

A bumper crop of eight returning lettermen plus a fine group of sophomores head the cast for Al Buehler's 1958, cross country team which goes into stiff training this week for the tough schedule ahead.

Buehler is optimistic about his charges and with good cause. Not only will he have numbers to work with, but quality as well.

"We should have balance this year," remarked the youthful coach. "We've got some top runners and what I call pushers behind them." The pushers are the men who keep pressure on the top runners for spots on the varsity causing them to put out with everything they've got.

A real battle should develop for the eight spots on the team. Approximately twenty men will be competing for varsity uniforms.

As Buehler puts it, "We're built." With two consecutive freshman teams of excellent calibre produced in the last two years, Buehler appears to have built himself a strong aggregation for the coming season. In his first year here, Buehler found nothing to work with. His first recruits turned in a good season and his second frosh squad was the scourge of the Big Four last spring. Now Buehler feels the team has reached maturity and balance with several outstanding performers in the bunch.

Cary Weisiger, a sparkler as a sophomore last season, heads the list of lettermen. Along with him will be Tom Bazemore, Tom Menaker, Fred Hurd, Bill Schaaf, Mal Shields, Bud Scott and Tom Maloot from the 1957 Devil runners.

Topping the sophs in the battle for a place on the team is Jerry Nourse, the amazing runner who led the frosh team last season. Jack Merryman, Dave Jones, Keith Van Epps, and Jim Eberdt are also back for a varsity shot. All these men have a good chance of crashing the lineup.

A welcome addition to the 1958 harriers is Dave Pickethly, a medical school student from VMI who has one year of eligibility left. Pickethly was the Southern Conference champ for the past two seasons. The newcomer may be Buehler's secret weapon.

The schedule has the Blue Devils facing all seven conference teams plus outsider William and Mary.

Juniors, Sophomores Head '58 Soccermen

Coach Jim Bly will be counting on his juniors and sophomores to take up the slack left by the losses from last season as he heads into the 1958 soccer campaign.

The biggest holes left in the Devil lineup are at goalie and center forward where All-Americans Gordie Lang and Ed Gauld operated. Gauld led the ACC in scoring last year with 12 goals and will be sorely missed.

The captain of this year's team is fullback John D'Angelo. Other returning lettermen are Bruce Connor, Kevin Cunningham, Ralph Hines, Claude Jack, Dave Kreidler, Jim Mattson, Bary Power, Gunnar Schull and Dick Stacey.

Other men on whom Coach Bly is counting are Pete Moeller, Stan Boothby, Ken Walz, Wally Kaufman, John Bullock, Jim Aston, John Birmingham, Don and Phil Little and Ted Humphrey.

The soccer season will open on October 1 when the Blue Devils face Navy here on their home field.
