Warren Launder Star Of Opera And Radio

Sings In Page
In May 9 Concert

The greatest living baritone, and, in the immortal words of "All quiet on the Western Front," the wits and charm of "The Great Gatsby," are the two qualities that will be provided by Warren Launder, who will appear at Page Auditorium, at 3:30 p.m. Thursday evening, May 5th. Launder is one of the most brilliant of the young artists at Metropolitan Opera. In person and through his music Launder has enjoyed a trend of increasing popularity in recent operatic seasons.

The opera of "The Great Gatsby," with music by F. Scott Fitzgerald, is being staged for the first time in the world by the New York Civic Opera Company. The performance will be given at the Metropolitan on May 31st and June 1st. The cast includes the world famous Licia Albanese in the title role, as well as a host of other well known and lesser known singers.

With Launder will be the well known and popular Roberta Peters, and the Metropolitan Opera Chorus under the baton of the highly regarded Arturo Toscanini.

Another Problem Looms
The ever-present campus social problem has been more nearly solved in the past two months than in any time since the establishment of the V-3 program here. We are unable to determine precisely the cause for this phenomenon, perhaps it is because the advent of spring; perhaps this is due to the temporary absence of the V-3 program. It is true that we have entertained several thousand visitors in the union.

However, a solution to a problem in March does not preclude the same from recurring in the future. In the short three weeks, large numbers of coeds will be leaving for the summer, and West Campus will be far behind in its daily activities. This is another summer as solemn as that of 1942. Here is an excellent problem of a type that should be entertained by numerous male teachers here. One to adjust the tension and the anxiety of campus leaders who now service the social problem.

Duke’s Mixture
Dr. T. J. Washington and the Duke Chronicle did a great deal more for the students of Duke in the past few weeks than any other event in the life of its alumni. For years, one was able to find that a genuine life in a student newspaper is a life that continues to survive. Duke Chronicle is in good hands, but it is not perfect. Is this true of any other? The students have the answer.

Letters to the Chronicle
We shall be pleased to publish good letters to the Chronicle. Some of the letters which we receive are amusing, some are amusingly phrased, and some are amusing to read. It is true that a letter is a personal expression; but it is also true that a letter is a public expression. It is a means of communication, and it is a means of education. It is a means of expression, and it is a means of persuasion. It is a means of enlightenment, and it is a means of entertainment. It is a means of communication, and it is a means of education. It is a means of expression, and it is a means of persuasion. It is a means of enlightenment, and it is a means of entertainment. It is a means of communication, and it is a means of education. It is a means of expression, and it is a means of persuasion. It is a means of enlightenment, and it is a means of entertainment.
