

Nick Galifianakis And Carl Perkins Win Class Elections

Defeat Lyle, Stride In Union Comeback

By GEORGE BUSWELL

Sweeping the majority of Sophomore class offices, including the presidency of the Junior class, the Union party staged a tidy come-back Tuesday after the recent SGA elections. Nick Galifianakis and Carl Perkins will serve as presidents of next year's Sophomore and Junior classes. Voting took place in regular class meetings Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday evening in Page Auditorium.

In a close vote for Junior class president, Dick Stride defeated Bill Ward by an eight vote margin. Under the preferential ballot system, Bert Lyle automatically assumes the position of class vice-president as the defeated presidential candidate. Bill Maser and John Reese were selected to fill the positions of treasurer and junior athletic representative.

At its annual initiation and banquet Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic freshman honor society, elected Jack Stringer president of the organization for the next school year.

Also elected to posts in the fraternity were Tom Morgan as vice-president, Jack Blackburn as secretary, and Dick Paulsen as treasurer.

Following formal initiation ceremonies, a banquet was given for the initiates in the Union Banquet Hall. After dinner the retiring secretary, Tom Morgan, introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Dr. Waldo Beach of the Divinity School, who spoke on the topic: "What is the Structure and Meaning of Education?"

Out of the total freshman class of 619, Phi Eta Sigma this year initiated 27. Also in this group initiated were several who made the required scholastic average, 2.25, last year or in the period of one summer school session and regular semester. Those initiated were:

C. R. Gossett, B. E. Simmons, N. Galifianakis, J. A. Allen, J. Stringer, E. Boshniak, R. D. Fugle, A. Roth, R. Van Hook, J. Sander, B. L. Nigley, M. A. Smyre, A. J. Marshloff, C. H. Wenter, N. A. Deane, J. Mattox, R. Melton, E. J. Komel, D. A. Premo.

Coke Clock Wrong

Terminating several years of hopes and ambitions for the electric clocks of Hall-Wynne Mortuary and the Coca-Cola Bottling Plant, a Chronicle reporter inquired into the situation this week. His report: "Forget the Coca-Cola clock!"

According to statements by Hall-Wynne representatives, their clock is usually slow, though not by more than five minutes.

Coca-Cola spokesmen were frank about their clock. It stops so many times a day, for a few minutes at a time, that it's always at least ten minutes behind. Sometimes five, but we don't like to get up there and fix it! Everyone at the plant wears a watch.

Freshman Program
Nick Galifianakis, who defeated Dick Stride for the post by the greatest plurality poll, outlined a five-point program for next year. Included in it are an informal spring dance in addition to the annual ball, organization of a class inter-campus council, closer relationship between class and faculty, and cooperation with DOS in orientating and explaining Duke traditions to the freshmen.

Shoe and Slipper Club
Nears Membership Goal
Progress was made toward the realization of hopes to bring new blood to Duke at the meeting of the Shoe and Slipper Club, newly organized as a dance group, Wednesday night. Nearly 500 of the 700 membership pledges needed to put the club into effect, have been received. As soon as these 700 pledges are turned in, the club will begin plans to have a dance here next fall.

Appraisal last week of the Men's SGA and the Dean's Staff of Trinity College made necessary the 700 membership pledges for the club to begin operations. In a special Chronicle interview, Larry Lee, temporary chairman of the club, stated that although progress is slow, that organization is steadily reaching its goal.

Hanks Wins Honor

Nancy Hanks, recently installed WSGA president, was elected president of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments during their thirtieth annual convention at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida, last week.

With "Student Government as a Training Ground for Democracy" as theme of the convention, 93 delegates from 47 colleges in 11 southern states discussed such topics as the extent, rights, and responsibilities of faculty-student government, women in the post-war leadership, and student interest and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Marge Frey, retiring Duke WSGA president, was secretary of the 1947-1948 association.

Duke In Madomobile

On the recommendation of their campus reporters, who visited Duke in March as guest speakers of the NCCPA, MADOMOBILE magazine has chosen Duke as featured college of their August, 1948, college issue.

Miss Sydelle Radin, fashion editor, and Albert Lannhoff, photographer, were on the campus last week taking pictures of the new college fashion magazine is featuring for next season.

Girls chosen to model were Barbara Anderson, Mary Ann Atkins, Mary Lou Branton, Buffy Brewster, Jo Patches, Jean Jensen, Barry Lipscomb, Love Lindsey, Maria Norcross, Mitze Seares, and Mary Jo Strout.

Blue Stockings' Tap 11

Eleven aspiring creative writers were tapped into Chi Delta Phi, national literary society, at the Women's College, by Lucille McLean, president. These girls were chosen on their interest and ability in creative writing.

Those tapped are Doris Chazler, Polly Povisall, Marilyn Skinner, Pam Baskin, Edna Cox, Ella McGrovey, Phyllis Finner, Cynthia Huxley, and Phyllis Bishop, and Leslie Bial.

Freshmen Vote For May Queen

Freshmen will select a Freshman from beauty queen to reign at the forthcoming dance May 1, voting to take place in class assembly next Tuesday. The semi-formal dance will be presented from 6:30-12 p.m. in the Woman's Gymnasium.

The freshmen coeds have been nominated by classmates on East campus as candidates for the title, announced class president Nick Galifianakis, adding that the candidates will be present at the Tuesday class assembly on West for the balloting. Results of the voting will remain secret until intermission at the dance, when the queen will be presented with an appropriate flower crown and a cup in a special coronation ceremony.

Formal Dance
Class officers announced that invitations to the prom may be secured next week on both campus upon payment of class dues, approximately 80 bids being available for East campus class members. Galifianakis announced that the dance will be semi-formal. There will be no coragess, as is customary at University dances. Music for the Freshman Prom will be furnished by Bill Webster and his orchestra.

The ten candidates for Freshman Beauty Queen, selected last week, are as follows: Lil Granger, Diana Lee, Pat McAllister, Mary Jo Strout, Jan Ross, Love Lindsey, Joan Hansen, Jean Barnett, Marian Chapman, and Ruth Ann Innes.

Decorations for the Freshman Prom will follow a May motif, complete with flowers, may-poles, and arbutus.

From now until the end of this semester, FAC will conduct an extensive drive to select for its membership those men who have high standards of personality, mentality, and leadership qualify them to act as true big brothers to next year's freshmen.

Parkerson, chosen from a list of three candidates by the selection board, has been outstanding in his activities at Duke.

Hoof 'n' Horn Rings Bell With "Nuthin' Like It" Musical Runs Again In Page Auditorium Tonight

Written and produced by students, the show started at 8:00 p.m. Forehand and Bill Whalen in the dancing leads, with Rosalie Prince and Tony Reed singing the ballads. Al Suparman and Vernon Jeter carried the comic roles, without incident. And included in the vast company were singing choruses, Modern Dances and Ballet groups, and a line of eight evildoing dancing girls called Blue Stockings, a freshman, wrote the book and many of the lyrics. Bill Whalen directed the show. Peggy Forehand, the choreography, and Jack Fieldston, Musical Director, wrote and arranged much of the music, and was in large part responsible for the remarkable coordination of muscle and action. Ballet Outstanding

The high degree of talent, combined with an abundance of interesting ideas and the Director's mature sense of timing, gave the show a professional air long lacking in student musical productions. Unexpected treats were the nice simulation of Jack Mont, Cheryl Phillips and Betty Mont's ballet dancing in the act of dancing the can-can, the dramatic and Paris scenes, and the stirring atmosphere of the American Tourney.

Particularly entertaining highlights of the evening were the comedy sequence by Al Suparman as Pierre, the mad malor who created the New Look, and the hilarious dance by Jean

She communicated her enthusiasm perfectly, and her stage presence was only equaled by that of Whalen, who seems amazingly at home on the stage, dancing or otherwise.

Definite Improvement

Friday, April 23, 1948

Ten new editors and business managers for three of the University's four publications will take over the major posts of the Chronicle, Chanticleer, and Duke 'n' Duches following the Pub Board elections last week.

Heading the Chronicle for 1948-49, Clay S. Felker defeated Art Polter for the editorship of the paper. Felker, a rising senior, is a Phi Delta from Webster Groves, Missouri. He is a Navy veteran, handling public relations work while in the service. Having had experience in writing for the Sporting News, the national baseball weekly, Felker first entered Duke in 1943 and New Jersey, was elected editor of the Chronicle during that year. He was managing editor of the paper last year, and he served as associate editor this year.

Other Chronicle Posts
Bill Hrouck, rising senior and a Sigma Chi from Roanoke, Virginia, defeated Julius Gwynn for Chronicle's business manager. Polly Povisall, rising junior Tri-labian, and George Hinkle, Ohio, will serve as co-editor, defeating Betty Brown and Gene general, FAC will conduct an extensive drive to select for its membership those men who have high standards of personality, mentality, and leadership qualify them to act as true big brothers to next year's freshmen.

Tau Beta Pi, St. Pat Recognize Initiates At Engineers' Ball

Two honorary engineering societies tapped twenty-five students and two faculty members in ceremonies held last week and recognized these men at the intermission of Saturday's Engineers Ball. The order of St. Patrick and Tau Beta Pi thus acknowledged these men for excellence in scholarship and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Requirements for the Order of St. Patrick include wide breadth of interest both inside and outside the field of engineering, integrity, versatility, and unselfish participation in extra-curricular activities. Founded at Duke in 1945, the Order is one of many such local societies which the Duke group hopes to consolidate into a national association, president Bill Olive stated.

St. Pat Initiates

New members of the Order include Bob Bowles, Al Gooden, Charles Orsley, Harvey Grise, Murray Hinton, Tom Ladshaw, Harlan Turner, Fred Goodman, Torger Torgerson and Ed Larnier. John B. Lewis, instructor in electrical engineering was the faculty member initiated with the ceremony conducted Wednesday night in the engineering building.

Initiated in January of this year, the Duke chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary, replaced a local fraternity, Delta Epsilon Sigma, and proposes to "mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in engineering, or by their attainment as alumni in the field of engineering, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering colleges of America."

Hold Ceremonies

Initiation ceremonies were held Saturday afternoon, and a banquet honored the new initiates following this at which Dr. Herman G. Batty, a chairman member of the extinct UNC chapter, was the guest speaker. Lloyd L. Brown read his poem pledge essay at this banquet.

Professor Walter J. Seelye, chairman of the department of electrical engineering was initiated at the ceremony and students initiated included Lloyd Brown, Richard Bugg, Lindell Davidson, John Hanner, Robert Holland, Hudie Keith, Harold Jackson, Phillip Jackson, George Lipscomb, Phillip Moore, Billy Olive, Michael Rudisill, Wallace Salter, Paul Stottlemeyer and Joseph Wells.

Sigma Chi Leads IM Volleyball Loop

Spring sports in the Duke Intramural Program are in various stages of progression with the coming volleyball championships heading the list.

Winners of the various divisions are:
Division I—Sigma Chi (A).
Division II—Sigma Chi (C).
Division III—Kappa Alpha (C).
Division IV—Kappa Alpha (C).

Division V—Sigma Chi (H). According to Ted Villanueva, Senior Intramural Manager, the Sigma Chi (A) team is the squad to watch in the coming contests. The softball tournament is still wide open, though the Beta's and Kappa Sigas seem to be leading the pack.

The badminton and golf tournaments which started last week also offer an open field to the many hopefuls participating. Bob Taylor (Sigma), last year's winner, is picked by many to repeat in the badminton tangle; but Bill Berkeley, Rex Neely, and Bob Shockett are expected to provide stiff competition for the defending champion. Top golf teams in the program are the Kappa Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon teams.

Featured in the spring intramurals is tennis, with Jim Baynes (KA) leading the pack in singles and Brandt and Elias (SAE) in doubles.

Scholarship Committees To Select Annual Award Winners Tomorrow

Interviewing candidates tomorrow afternoon, April 24, from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Zeta Tau Alpha room of the Panchelonic building, the Alice M. Baldwin Scholarship Committee and the Women's Panchelonic Scholarship Committee will select this year's winners of their scholarship awards on East. Winners will be announced May 1.

Fourteen highly recommended candidates have applied for the three annual Alice M. Baldwin awards of $250. With Miss Mary Pevet of the English department as chairman, the Alice M. Baldwin Scholarship committee is composed of Miss Louise Hall of the Art department, Dr. W. A. Brownell, of the Education department, faculty members; Mrs. Martha Nicholson Henry, Mrs. M. A. McCracken, alumnae members; and Helen Gordon and Miss WGA, president.

Marge Frey, senior members.

Started in 1943

Initiated by the CHS of 1943, the Alice M. Baldwin Scholarship fund now totals $10,444. A donation of $100 by the present Seniors on East recently raised the fund past the $10,000 mark. Past recipients of the scholarship were Peggy Peterson in 1946, and Polly Ligon in 1947. Outgoing Panchelonic president Jane Bruce and scholarship chairman Betty Gwallary, aided by the Alice M. Baldwin Scholarship committee, will make the annual Panchelonic award of

Syndor Honored

Dr. Charles S. Syndor, professor of history, was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters from Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia.

A frequent contributor to historical journals and publications, Dr. Syndor is the author of "Slavery in Mississippi" (1931), "A Gentleman of the Natchez Region" (1938), and "The Development of Southern Sectionalism" to be published next month.

$100. Previously awarded to the rising senior coed with the highest scholastic average, the scholarship will be given this year on a basis of leadership and character in addition to scholarship. Three rising senior coeds have applied. Last year's winner of this scholarship was Jane Wigdasky.

NCSLA Convention

Charles Cooper, Duke junior, was elected president of the Northern Council, of the North Carolina State Legislative Assembly during their eleventh annual convention last week. There are twenty members from twenty schools now acting on the Council, which was formed to carry over the work of the assembly to next year.

Legislation considered by the assembly varied from a bill to pave all highways used by school buses in the state to a bill authorizing a provision for graduate schools for Negroes within the greater University of N. C. One bill abolished the state sales tax, but retained a graduated income luxury tax rider for all purchases over $100. Another greatly increased teachers' salaries, while still another passed by the House states that when a Negro is involved in a criminal court case, at least one-third of the jury shall be Negroes. The Senate passed a bill which approved offering courses on world government in all high schools and state colleges in the state.

Dunagene Jamboree

The YMCA will present the "Y" Dunagene Jamboree at Crabtree Park on Sunday, May 2. The Jamboree, to be conducted in cabin party style, is open to all students.

Plans for the Jamboree include an egg-throwing contest, a three-legged race, swimming, softball, and a picnic dinner. Bus transportation will be provided from East Campus. In order to attend, students must sign the list on the "Y" bulletin board as early as possible. Admission will be 50 cents per person.

Tap Coed Athletes

Delta Phi Rho Alpha, women's honorary athletic fraternity, recently announced new members for 1948-1949. The following women were chosen: Happy Allen, Marilyn Bailey, Jocelyn Bird, Jane Cliver, Jo Davis, Eugenia Eichman, Carolyn Ferguson, Lois Hobbs, Ann Rankin, Ann Reid, and Schmidt, Mary Jane Smith, and Lynn Smith.

Elected officers for next year were Peggy Merrill, Southgate, president; and Fay Reifsnider, Jarvis, secretary.

IRC Seeks Members

The International Relations Club, originally the Policy Club, began in 1937, has issued an invitation for membership to all Duke students, graduate students, and professors. Promising a non-partisan discussion of international affairs, the IRC is to be distinguished from other campus groups who already have formed opinions as to world problems.

Bi-monthly meetings are held with nonmembers to be collected; keys are to be given out to deserving members each January and May. Officers for the new year will be appointed next week by the appointment board consisting of Dean Robert Cox, Dr. John Hallowell, Dr. Richard Waggoner, and Nathaniel Wilson. Anyone is eligible for office; all interested persons may contact International Relations Club, Box 4447, Duke Station.

Religious Activities

Afternoon on the Student Religious Council will sponsor a Leadership Training Institute to which all students of Duke University are invited. Classes will be held in the Women's Gym and Carr Building, followed by a picnic and vespers, on East Campus. Courses offered include: Creative Group Leadership, Program Planning, International Community and Campus Projects, Recreational Community and Campus Projects, Recreational Leadership, and Vacation Church Schools. Discussion leaders will be the following: Mr. Claude Shaps, general secretary of the Chapel Hill YMCA; Mrs. Delbert Byrum, director of Children's Work, of Central Methodist Church, Winston-Salem; and the Rev. R. G. Hutchinson, George Workman, and James H. Overton, and Mr. Harold Hippie, all of Duke.

Classes for this institute will be held tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 in the Women's College Gymnasium, and tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4:30 in Carr Building. Friday night following classes there will be recreation from 9:30 until 10:00, and the whole Seminar will end with a picnic and vespers, Saturday afternoon, on Hanes Field, from 4:30 to 6:00.

Room Registration

Students that reservations for rooms for the fall semester are far from the final schedule at the present time. C. A. Brown, director of the following, Mr. Claude Shaps, general secretary of the Chapel Hill YMCA; Mrs. Delbert Byrum, director of Children's Work, of Central Methodist Church, Winston-Salem; and the Rev. R. G. Hutchinson, George Workman, and James H. Overton, and Mr. Harold Hippie, all of Duke.

St. Pat To Conduct New Building Tour

Officers of the Order of Saint Patrick, honorary Duke University College of Engineering leadership, are today announcing plans for conducting guided tours through the College of Engineering building. The building, final construction of which was completed during January of this year, will be opened for its first general public inspection on Sunday afternoon, April 25. Senior members of the engineering college student body will guide visitors through the various laboratories, libraries, drawing rooms, classrooms, and offices of the building.

"Visitors to the building will be able to view at first hand a type of construction and appearance which is representative of the application of ideas most advanced in this field of construction," declared Bill Oliver, St. Pat's president. "The most lasting impression to the visitor will undoubtedly be the attraction offered throughout the building by the scheme of painting."

Other new officers include: Gene Richardson, Vice-President; Mary Hendricks, Secretary; and Virginia Jones, Treasurer.

EGADSI! THEY'RE EITHER NEARLY NAKED OR DOWNRIGHT DEMURE

What would great Gaudin say about the new bathing suits? He'd be shocked, all right, but we bet he'd give out with a long, low whistle. Some bare as much as they dare, like the French suits introduced at the Riviera last year. Others are sweet, lady-like darlings. Both styles are exciting fashion news. We're exciting beach coats, too.

'48 SGA Officers Assume Positions At Banquet May 5

Newly elected Men's SGA officers and representatives will assume positions at a banquet meeting Wednesday, May 5, at 8:00 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. Dashes of office will be administered to incoming officers, and outgoing legislature president Gordon Smith will deliver a farewell address. The banquet will be held in X-204, Union at 8:00 p.m.

President Gordon Smith announced that all outgoing and incoming members of the SGA are cordially invited to attend the banquet, adding that there would be no further meeting until the 8th of May.

At Sharpe, vice-president of the organization was recently appointed to serve as head of the freshman board of review for the coming year, in connection with the observance of freshman traditions passed earlier this semester. Under provisions of the University next fall must know school yell and cheer, must wear distinctive hats, and must not sit on the chapel steps.

Annual IM Track Meet To Be Held Next Week

It was announced at the intramural office this week that the annual Spring Track and Field games will be held next Thursday afternoon, April 23rd, at 2:30 p.m. Ted Villanueva, intramural boss, says that all entries are due on Tuesday, April 27th, at 3 p.m. and, to be eligible for participation, they cannot be postmarked any later.

Featured in this season's meet will be the large gold cup which will be given to the fraternity which fields the winning team and, as heart balm for the individual winners, gold and silver medals will be awarded to those who win or place.

Although last year's winners, those big, bad boys, are gunning for another title, the dark horse seems to be the Sigma Chi's. The KA's are sporting several bearers from last spring in Bob Frye and Tom Hughes, but Art Palumbo, Tom Powers, and Jim Austin all say nay.

Devil Baseballers Break Even In Games Last Week

Lacrosse Squad Downs Generals; Plays Yale Tomorrow On Tour

Big 4 Monogram Clubs Plan Games

The "D" Club of Duke University announced this week that plans are being completed for a Big Four softball tournament between the monogram clubs of Duke, State, Carolina, and Wake Forest, the date being set tentatively for May 14th.

As a result of a meeting between representatives of the Big Four which included football stalwarts Hartley, Reese, and Perkinson of Duke; Lall of Wake Forest; and Pritchard of Carolina, the monogram clubs of these schools have decided to hold a "letter" relations extravaganza which will include, not to mention the softball game, a barbecue feed after the final game followed by a dance that night. Because of the convention location the feed will probably be held here at Duke, but if the plans for a "name band" put out the site will possibly be shifted to Chapel Hill. The Duke campus has the facilities available, and it is hoped by the committee that the tourney will be held here.

Blue Devil Harriers Visit Penn Relays

Yesterday afternoon, an eight man squad left Durham to represent Duke University in the classic Penn Relays which were scheduled for today and tomorrow.

The Duke harriers will participate in the Championship of America Midget Sprint and in the Class B Championship of America Midget Mile. The team of sprinters will consist of Young, Scoggin, Davis, and Neighbour, while the milers are Young, Scoggin, Grissom, and Neighbour.

Jim O'Leary will participate in the Shot Put and Discus Throwing for the Blue Devils, and Bowles and Covin will be entered in the Pole Vault.

The boys from Methodist Plains will be facing some tough competition in Philadelphia, meeting such stellar squads as NYU, alma mater of record half-miler Reginald Piersman.

Meet Army And Navy During Seven Day Trip

Fresh from a 10-4 victory over Washington and Lee, the Blue Devil lacrosse team travels to Yale for a tilt with the Bulldogs tomorrow afternoon.

This will be the first stop on the seven-day northern trip for the Duke stickmen—a trip which includes contact with Yale, the Cadets from Army, and the Navy Midshipmen.

The Ellik tick squad has not seen too impressive so far this season as it has dropped most of its games—the latest was to Navy by a ten point margin. Although they are not lacking in reserves, the New Haven team seem to be very inexperienced in many phases and fundamentals of the game.

Coach Persons charges, on the other hand, seem to be settling down to some really good lacrosse, as displayed throughout the Maryland game and in spots of the fracas with the Generals of W. and L. In the latter tilt the Duke were out-batted for most of the ball game, but when the chips were down in the waning minutes, the Devils came through with some well-executed plays which resulted in tallies.

Big man for the home cause was Red Boyce with four markers, and following him was Lee Hoshall with two. One of Hoshall's goals came on the backhand shot for which he is famous. Other Duke goal-getters were Howdy Kates, Fred Rosenbrandy, Ray Fraz, and Don Claussen, with one each. Gene Corrigan led for five of the ten Duke tallies, and Bill Strout assisted two others.

Outstanding on the defense were "Casual David" Taithe, Charley Giffault, and Garret Billmire. Although W. and L.'s great crossman Tommy Tongue was a thorn in the side of the Duke defense all afternoon, Tubbs, Giffault, and Billmire managed to clear the ball consistently, and also helped to steady the team in times of trouble.

Commenting on the forthcoming trip, Coach Persons said, "This Army club will really be tough. They have been extremely aggressive this year, and in the North West Washington game they controlled the ball."

John Hancock, who is currently batting .600 in Big Four play, leads the conference in that department.

Coed Corner

By MARY ROBINSON

Duke women will entertain twelve other Carolina colleges in a Spring Play Day tomorrow, as the coeds compete for honors in swimming, archery, tennis, and softball. WAA Board members are in charge of the activities, with Suzanne Thompson chairman of the committee. At though it will be strictly a women's day on Haines Field, West campus students are invited to come out and watch the fun.

Balls have been flying thick and fast on East campus recently, just two days before the State encounter, was quite a different story. Brown Hoses blasted Alapah by the score of 23-6, and then went on to defeat Aycock. In a one lining hitting spree, Baskett knocked out Giles, 30-15, while Jarvis had little trouble winning over the Town Girls Club. The final game to be played of the end of this week.

Commenting on the forthcoming trip, Coach Persons said, "This Army club will really be tough. They have been extremely aggressive this year, and in the North West Washington game they controlled the ball."

Al Curtis Pitches First Full Game For Duke Baseball Team

By WENDY PULLMAN

Going even Stephen on the two games of last week, the Duke diamond aggregation enters the home stretch and now for the Big Four crown with a record of nine wins and six setbacks. The Countdowns are clipping along at an unimpressive 333 in the Big Four, having trounced State and giving way to the same Raleigh contingent and the highly-regarded Deacons of Wake Forest.

Big Al Curtis pitched the Duke to an easy win over the same team which jolted our diamondmen for 24 bingles and an 10-14 victory just one week earlier, taming the Wolfpack with only seven safes. The freshman sensation from Gaffney, S. C., went the route and looked good in the clubhouse. Incidentally, Curtis is the first Duke moundman to go the full nine on the mound since 1914.

Stu Erickson, who is banging the ball all over the lot, came through with another booming round-tripper. Stu's 340-foot circuit clout came with one duck on the pond and in itself accounted for the winning margin. Jack Hancock again was right up there with Stu in the sweating department, collecting a pair of bingles in four trips to the plate.

Saturday's 5-1 triumph over State re-established the possibility of the Blue Devils retaining the Big Four crown which they capped last season. The club looked strong on the defense and fouted some mean willows.

The contest against Wake Forest, just two days before the State encounter, was quite a different story. Brown Hoses blasted Alapah by the score of 23-6, and then went on to defeat Aycock. In a one lining hitting spree, Baskett knocked out Giles, 30-15, while Jarvis had little trouble winning over the Town Girls Club. The final game to be played of the end of this week.

At Duke Park the Frosh diamonders split in their two games against Carolina and State. Topping the former, 8-5, the youngsters showed that they could wallop that sphere as well as their varsity brothers. Herschel Caldwell's and Baskett Palmer's forces reassured their followers that the club had plenty of strength and a well-formed defense. Dick Foley turned in a commendable hurling performance, exhibiting plenty of stuff and control.

A week from tomorrow, the University will play host to several high school swimming teams from all over the state.

TIME OUT

By JACK FOSTER

With the annual Big Four race in full swing, we're happy to see the Duke diamonders holding their own individually and collectively. Early this week, the Devils were rated third in the loop, but individual performances of members of the Duke squad more than make up for this somewhat slow start in conference play.

John Hancock, Freshman first sacker, is leading the Big Four with a big .600. It's interesting to note that Hancock has more "at bats" to his credit than any other man in the league and still possesses this imposing record. Also up there in the batting are Henry Smith—close behind team-mate Hancock with .600—and Ed Perini, veteran ball player who is hitting at .500.

Al Curtis, another Freshman, represents the Blue and White in a three way tie for pitching honors in the Tar Heel League. Curtis, Harry Nicholas of Wake Forest, and Frank Robinson of Carolina have one win apiece in conference play.

East Campus' Pegasus Club put on a pretty fair show for the horse set on Saturday, with Barbara Tinsley coping honors as usual. We thought the square dance and Gymkana stunts particularly enjoyable, adding a novel touch to an otherwise staid "walk, trot, enter" affair. Congratulations, girls.

Jack Persons' boys came back in fine style to down the Generals 10 to 6. Tomorrow, they take on the "Yalies" for the first game of a seven day northern trip. Barring loss of men through administrative pressure, the lacrosse squad should prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that, win or lose, we know how to play the game in the sunny south just about as well as our Maryland cousins.

A week from tomorrow, the University will play host to several high school swimming teams from all over the state.

"My future's in the telephone business"

"I've been in the telephone business a little more than two years."

"And what busy years they've been!"

"The Bell System has added more than 6,000,000 new telephones, erected some 1200 buildings, buried thousands of miles of cable and made great strides in extending and improving telephone service in rural areas."

"Telephone service has been extended to automobiles, trucks and trains, and a new system for transmitting telephone conversations as television programs by microwaves put in operation."

"At Bell Telephone Laboratories they're working on new electronic devices which will bring still wider horizons of electrical communications within view."

"I've had a part in this post-war progress."

There's a future in telephony.

Concerts By Duke Symphony, Band, Madrigal Singers Begin

Band Plays Sunday; Symphony Friday

Concerts by the Duke Symphony, Concert Band, and Madrigal Singers will highlight the amateur musical season which starts next week under the direction of Alan Hadley Bone and Eugenia C. Saville.

Directed by Mr. Bone, the Duke Concert Band will present its first lawn concert on Sunday afternoon from 5 to 6 p.m. The concert will be held on the lawn of East Duke building on East campus. A second lawn concert will follow on May 9.

Sunday's program will feature modern and semi-classical numbers and will open with "March: Gloria" by Loevy, "Light Cavalry Overture" by von Suppe, and "Pavane Anglaise" by Franck. A trumpet trio composed of Robert Silbert, Donald Droughbaugh, and John Elliot will play "The Three Jacks" by Harold Walters.

Yvonne Williams' Pops Song Suite will include "Seventeen Come Sunday" and "Folk Songs from Connecticut." The program will continue with Litwag's "March Inevitably" and "Procession of the Nobles from Mada" by Rimsky-Korsakov.

Next, the band will play Harold Walters' "Bobby-Sox Suite," "Slavonic Rhapsody" by Friedmann, "Hallelujah" from Vincent Youmans' musical of the same name and will end the program with "March: Thunder and Blazes" by Fuchs-Laurenson.

A concert by the Duke Symphony auditorium will feature William Klenz as soloist. The program will include "Overture and Allegro" from La-Ruine Suite by Copland; Beethoven's Symphony No. 8, the Concerto in D major for solo and orchestra by Haydn, and "Suite Provencale" by Milhaud.

Mrs. Saville will direct the Madrigal Singers in an East Duke concert on Tuesday evening, May 4. The program will include a number of madrigals, as well as two choruses from Handel's "L'Allegro," a Southern mountain song, a white spiritual, and two choruses from Benjamin Britten's opera "Peter Grimes."

Next, the band will play Harold Walters' "Bobby-Sox Suite," "Slavonic Rhapsody" by Friedmann, "Hallelujah" from Vincent Youmans' musical of the same name and will end the program with "March: Thunder and Blazes" by Fuchs-Laurenson.

Duke Symphony Officers

Ward Plugs Show In Long Underwear

In red tights, white dress shirt and baseball cap, Bill Ward, Hoof 'n' Horns Publicity Director, rode a bicycle around Main Quadrangle last Monday morning between second and third periods. He was pursued by a city motorcycle cop, sirens and all. Dick Landis, H 'n' H Business Manager, announced the production "Nuthin' Like It" from the Chapel steps.

Tuesday, nine time, place, and underwear, plus jacket and the Ward again appeared with a policeman. In pursuit, but the cop was on the bike and Ward had a white Police car. The copper finally collapsed. Landis again announced. The enterprising Ward staged a jolty parade Wednesday night, followed by several dressing gowns on unshaven male students. The parade covered both campuses.

these was the fire effect in the Devil Dance by the Modern Dance Group. And Joan Reynolds, in charge of costumes, turned out a whirl of color without unnecessarily covering a single leg.

The awkward point of this musical was the lack of continuity from comedy to ballet to comedy. Night mask in the middle of a rollicking musical isn't the easiest spot from which to put over a romantic ballad. Hallelujah Prince and Tony Reed did a fine job with the songs but had little else to bat look interested in one another. It would have been more effective with smoother transitions and with the romance conducted in long underwear.

Heading the list of elected officers was Hu Burnett, who received the most votes. He was followed by John Anderson in the position of president. Next year's vice-president will be retiring secretary-treasurer Howard A. Scarrow, and James Crook was elected to replace him. Claude "Hoof" Shankle was appointed director. J. Foster Barnes as business manager. Other appointees include John S. Mickey as student director, replacing George Clark, and Joe Wells who succeeds himself as publicity manager. Guy Spann will continue as glee club accompanist.

Six seniors received keys for their work with the glee club this and previous seasons. They included Clark Nelson, retiring business manager, Rembert Rogers, this year's vice-president, Robert Styers, John Bechtel, Grimes Slaughter and James Matthews.

Next year's officers will be elected at the annual meeting of the Women's Glee Club at the Sunday Sing of May 9.

Glee Club Schedules Final Tour; Elects Burnett As President

Preparing for their last major tour of the season to Western North Carolina next week end, the Men's Glee Club elected officers for next year and awarded keys for particular service.

Next week's tour will start on Thursday with a concert in Fayetteville. From here the club will continue in their chartered bus to Gastonia for a concert on Friday night. On Saturday, the group will sing in Asheville, where they will remain to sing at a local church service on Sunday morning.

Two other appearances will wind up the season's activities: a concert in Pinehurst on May 5 and a joint appearance with the Women's Glee Club at the Sunday Sing of May 9.

Heading the list of elected officers was Hu Burnett, who rethe average cost to the student for a series of dances and concerts was about $8.00. The Shoe and Slipper proposes to give the same series for five or six dollars. The lower cost is possible because the club will operate with a large number of members and a large working capital.

Tobacco netting will be used to correct the acoustic faults in the Indoor Stadium. The net will be hung over the dance floor by the University under the direction of Grounds Supervisor W. E. Whitford.
