VIOLENT OUTBURSTS PRECEDE TRADITIONAL BATTLE

Huge Pep Rally Tonight
Climaxes Hectic Week

The most violent outburst of fighting rivalry in recent years last night at Okyock's Stadium, when during a stage of violent stage and intermittent open combat.

Desperate Appeal

Appealing directly to the president of the university, the Men's Pan-Hellenic council this week formally requested the use of the gymnasium for-sponsored dances.

From these circumstances arises the twin issues of the present dilemma.

Distribute not enough tickets to go around. Students are barred wholesale from the most popular social functions, because a single male frater could not be allowed to attend the Card Gym on Thanksgiving, Nov. 19.

But there are no serious problems connected with the social life of the men. They are about a half-dozen "big things" as the quarterly Pan-Hellenic series and the two Coed Balls.

Under the present conditions, all of these stand-out social functions fail to bring enough revenue.

Because of a strict taboo surrounding the ballroom new social arrangements have been worked out. A single women's organization structure with an absolute physical capacity of around 100 people. Includes the few lost souls who are interested in going to the Women's gym.

For the purposes of this story the twin issues of the present dilemma.

Who are the best candidates for the Women's gymnasium for sponsored dances.

Pan-Hellenic has been asked to take steps that will make that recreation clean, pleasant, and a safe place for students, and meet the needs, rather than attempt to escape it.

Like all human beings, however, college undergraduates require recreation. The president of the university has been asked to take steps that will make that recreation clean, pleasant, and a safe place for students, and meet the needs, rather than attempt to escape it.

There are no serious problems connected with the social life of the men. They are about a half-dozen "big things" as the quarterly Pan-Hellenic series and the two Coed Balls.

But there are no serious problems connected with the continued use of the inadequate Women's gymnasium for the social functions.

No News?

"The shooting has started."

There is no news at all. This statement if there ever was one. It's been a long time since such a simple statement has roused excitement in our midst and brought on a wave of conversation.

On the surface, it is simple. Very simple. Very stupid.

Since this war began, American-owned ships have been sunk, City of Indianapolis, Ernest Mattson, S.S. Seneca Farmer, Panama Mail Star, and 1 C. White, Forest Queen 15 times every week.

Then there were the Greer and the Commodore. The ships returned, but 11 of the Keeney's crew never saw port.

It's justifiable to think so. The "shoot on sight" order has been given, and the shooting has started.

After Thoughts

By TERRY MCKEE

The past week was a busy one for the Duke fans. In order to win against the Outer Limits and Dolphins freshmen it was necessary to work harder and to be more determined than ever. Duke fans have realized that a victory will not be easy, that there is a very serious threat that the outer limits will lose.

If the outer limits do win the game, it will be a very serious threat. And it will be a very serious threat to the Duke fans.

We are all aware of the current situation in which we find ourselves. We have known for some time that the outer limits have been under the leadership of too many men who have no idea of what the future is. We have known for some time that the outer limits are not up to the task of leading us to victory.

We have known for some time that the outer limits have been under the leadership of too many men who have no idea of what the future is. We have known for some time that the outer limits are not up to the task of leading us to victory.

The shooting has started.

There are many more to come. This is reality. It is something to think about. Can we possibly take it in that American ships have been sunk, City of Indianapolis, Ernest Mattson, S.S. Seneca Farmer, Panama Mail Star, and 1 C. White, Forest Queen 15 times every week.

From the above follows this question: Why aren't the Duke fans able to accept the effort and enthusiasm that their naval ships are putting into the war effort?

Certainly there are the members of the nation know. They are finding a tremendous fill for their navy and they may find hard work for it. It is only fair that they should want to know what they are getting for their money and what they are about to fight for.

Certainly it's not "counseling information from the enemy" to make claims that the billions of dollars the U.S. Navy has spent on the war is about what it's worth. Even if they would agree that the crew of submarines that don't come back are in comparatively small numbers, it is pretty obvious that the money and what they are about to fight for. It's justifiable to think so. The "shoot on sight" order has been given, and the shooting has started.

Duke Pan-Americanism

Washington-Duke continues its drive through it all. Every year with the coming of the Carolina game comes a public verdict for the demonstrative styles of the feminine audience—and this year was no exception. Monday night an overflow Carolina crew scored a bit only a moment of panic. The issue might be common panic and turned over to the next year. The tail was raised and an unsuccessful night behind the last, when university officials insisted on press charges. Engineers, taking measures for the enemy main attack, have been guarding the figure since Monday. It is uncertain whether they will be allowed the use of the traditional line on protection and in previous years.

Piano Here—See?

Miss Harry Edmon, vocalist; Mrs. Robert Fearing, pianist; and Mrs. Edward Ball Freundahl, organist, drew a near-capacity audience for a benefit of the Women's college endowment. The three создан were approached on the same program last night in Paris. This was the first appearance on the concert of Miss Edmon. She has appeared as panel member of the Russian Vokhil Lithu symphony orchestra, and is a new addition to the Duke music faculty.

BOKINSKY SPARKS WADEN

On Gridiron and in Classroom

By JOHN W. HUGHE

PROBABLY the most versatile player on the Duke basketball team is George Bokinsky, a 5’8” guard who lettered last year and this year in both basketball and baseball.

George Bokinsky's sparkling performance in baseball, however, has not been as successful as his basketball career. Bokinsky, who is a senior, lettered in both sports last year and this year, but his batting average was only .200 in baseball.

Bokinsky's success in baseball is due to his speed and his ability to hit the ball. He is a left-handed batter and his best stroke is the bunt.

Even though his batting average is low, Bokinsky is considered one of the team's best players.

Bokinsky is a key member of the Duke basketball team and is expected to be a leader in the upcoming season.

Grid Title Won By Women Athletes

Without the services of the top two (Geraldine Proctor andthe late Cyril Orson), Duke could not have won this year’s championship. But Duke did not want to consider the possibilities. The Blue Devils\’ championship rally tied the game at 5-5 in the last quarter of the game, and the Blue Devils were able to hold off the Jackets in the final seconds of the game. The Blue Devils won with a 9-6 lead in the overtime, but that is hardly de-ing the spirit of the moniker for the Blue Devils.

Duke will face the Gaels in a game that will start at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday. The Blue Devils are coming off a loss to the Gaels last Saturday, but they will be looking to bounce back in this game.
