OFF-SEASON FOOTBALL

Taking over while the boys are away, and putting one little thought after another—why don't the fellows who spend their time in between football seasons messing around with the grid rules leave well enough alone? Every year sees a few changes made in the regulations of the sport, and no one complains very much a month ago when the committee who takes care of that sort of thing brought out a few new ones for the books. But now they've come out with a brand new rule, and we don't like it one bit. The item under discussion is stated as follows: "A kicked ball touched first by the kicking team on the opposition's 10-yard line is to be classified as a touchback. The ball thus will be set on the 20-yard line. Well, if the purpose of the men who think up such rules is to make the game more exciting, as we can see, the making the above rule is going to do it out to the sending of the ball ends down under a punt and take some of the thrill away from football. And if you don't believe there is a thrill in covering a long punt, remember the way Bill Bailey and Dan Hill used to charge down the line in the 1938 season? One instance came out in particular. We don't recall just what game it was—it might have been the Pittsburgh one, but at any rate, Pugsley got off one of his tremendous punts and carried way down the line and started to bound toward the goal line. No safety man was there to pick the ball up, and everyone stood around and watched the pigskin roll closer and closer to the end zone. Finally, Hill stretched out full length on the goal line, reached out his arm, and let the ball roll up to it. When it was all over, the ball was resting on the incline. And if you don't think it was a thrill to watch that brief drama and quick thinking, then you and this sagged copy-

Duke Cagers To Clash With Tar Heels

On Friday

Freshman Quintets Meet In Preliminary To Varsity Contest

On Friday evening Coach Herschel Caldwell will send his Duke freshman basketball squad into action against a highly-rated yearling quintet from the University of North Carolina in a contest to be played in Woolen gymnasium as a curtain raiser to the varsity tilt with the Tar Heels.

On last Saturday evening the Blue Imps turned in their seventh straight win against no less a foe than the Tar Heels, a determined Duke Junior Varsity five, 35-21. In 42-7 minutes the first game of the season. The Freshies have failed to score in the last 11 minutes of the game, but the Blue Devils encounter with George Washington.

Before the curtain was turned back by North Carolina State featuring the Coach Caldwell, the charges of Coach McIntyre, "Bones" McKee, who along with Bob Gant and Garland and Cedric Lyle, played on the championship Durham High school court squad of last season.

Through Saturday's game the Blue Imps had turned in the remarkable record of averaging well over fifty points per game. Blue Imps had played up to a total of 116 points, with Bob Gant, star forward, taking the Coach's cagers by scoring almost 20 points for game.

Gridders Report For Spring Drills

Sixty-one candidates for the 1941 varsity grid outfit reported to Coach Wade Saturday afternoon for the 12th annual Southern conference. Indoor games which will be held in Chapel Hill, February 22.

Most of the events in this largest indoor athletic event in the South will be staged in the Woolen Gym. A 10-lap-around-the-windmill track will be installed there as well as straight-away sprint and hurdle lanes. Several of the field events will be held in the "Tia Cas."

Competition will be divided into four divisions—Southern conference, non-conference, freshman, and scholastic. Eleven events are slated in the conference division, six in the non-conference, and five in each of the other two divisions.

Carolina captured last year's meet which featured the setting of world's hurdle record by Bill Carpenter of U.R.C. and Frank Fuller of Virginia.

The outstanding events in this year's meet will probably be the shot put and 100-yard dash. The world's record holder from Georgetown, will clash with Ed Heinfield of Navy in the non-

Blue Devils Drop 46-32 Contest To Pitt Cagers

Led by two sharpshooters who could sink baskets from all over the court, the University of Pittsburgh's cage team defeated Duke in the latter's indoor stadium last night, 46-32. Coach Brown, who scored 13 points, and Stralokin, who notched 10, were the Panthers to whom the credit for the victory went.

Grabbing an early lead, the Panthers were ahead, 24-13, at the half and were never headed. The Blue Devils, who inaugurated a scoring spree last week that they took the hardwood twice—against Carolina and Navy on Friday and Saturday nights, respectively—made but one attempt to get back into the ball game. That was late in the second half.

Trailing by a 35-17 count, the Duke counted with four baskets and a foul shot to narrow the margin to ten points. But an inability to sink anything more than a few feet from the basket, plus the fact that they missed eight free throws sealed defeat for Coach Cameron's cagers.

Glenn Price, captain of the Duke, led his team with nine points. Sammy Rothbaum, center-

State Matmen Throw Devils

Duke's wrestlers dropped their third straight match of the current season to North Carolina State's varsity matmen last Friday when they fell before the State grapplers, 20-6, in the new gym. Previous to this match the Blue Devils had been set down by Navy and North Carolina. In a preliminary match, the Duke freshmen were defeated by the State yearlings, 23-9.

The varsity matmen do not go into action again until February 23 when they face Maryland in a match at College Park. The varsity results after State were as follows: 121 pounds: Collins, State, defeated White by decision; 128 pounds: Miller, State, defeated Jackson by decision; 136 pounds: State, defeated New Jersey by decision; 145 pounds: Jamieson, Duke, defeated Rehbert by decision; 155 pounds: Trotter, State, defeated Berts by decision; 160 pounds: Camp, State, defeated Huffum, Duke, by decision; 175 pounds: State, defeated Schuman by decision; 185 pounds: State, defeated McLaughlin by decision.

The freshman results were: 121 pounds: Huchabee, Duke, defeated Changaris by decision; 128 pounds: Smart, Duke, defeated Phillips by decision; 136 pounds: Richardson, Duke, defeated Brown by decision; 145 pounds: Stallings, State, pinned Davis, 132; 155 pounds: Warren, State, won by forfeit; 160 pounds: Stross, State, defeated Morgenthau by decision; 175 pounds: Rhoadner, State, pinned Munster, 2:30.

High scoring local boys, who have sparked the Blue Imps so far this year, were competing against their brothers who have stepped into their shoes and are leading the Red and White through a successful season.

Blue Imp Five Defeats Durham For Eighth Win

The Duke freshman basketball squad staving off a late drive by a determined Durham High school quintet won their eighth straight contest of the current campaign by the score of 44-31 before an over-thrilled crowd in Duke gymnasium last night.

The battle which featured three ex-Durham High players against their former teammates who helped them to carry the Bulldogs to national honors in the past two seasons was also an intra-family contest. The

Blue Devils Invade Chapel Hill For Game

Duke's varsity and freshman swimming teams will make their second home appearance of the season when they meet N. C. State's varsity and freshman aqua-squads at 8 p.m. tomorrow. By comparative scores the State meet should be the closest of the season for the Blue Devils, for State defeated VMI by only three points last night.

The varsity will leave Thursday afternoon to face the U. of Virginia at Charlottesville, Friday, and William and Mary at Williamsburg, Saturday. Duke is favored over Virginia, but will receive stiff competition from Clarke, one of the best sprinters in the South, and the Indians will go into their meet about an even chance.

Coach Person's team suffered a severe blow Saturday when Will Dickie, 1940 Southern conference and 1939 Carolina AAU diving champion, was ruled ineligible for further varsity competition.

The varsity won its first meet of the season Friday afternoon, defeating Virginia Military Institute's swimmers, 44-31; but the freshmen lost their opener Saturday to Carolina, 44-22.

Stangle Stars

Harry Stangle, VMI star, walked off with scoring honors for the varsity meet with fifteen points, taking first places in the 100, 200, and 440-yard free style events. Bayard Read and Bill Marshall led the Blue Devil scorers with six points each.

Echelman of The Rabbits took freshman scoring honors with victories in the 50 and 100 yard free style events. Gene Schuman led the Imps scorers with a victory in the 220 and a very close second in the 100-yard free style event. Surprises of the freshman meet were Joe Geary's victory in the 100-yard breast stroke, 2:25, and Ernest Ingalls' fine showing in the 220-yard free style and 100-yard back stroke.

Results of the varsity meet: 100-yard medley relay—Duke (Nourse, Moins, and West), 3:25.1. 220-yard free style—Stangle (VMI), first; Brooks (Duke), second, Johnston (VMI), third, 2:28.5.

50-yard free style—Read (Duke), first; Marshall (Duke), second, Wilkins (VMI), third, 1:19. 100-yard free style—Stangle (VMI), first; Marshall (Duke), second, Read (Duke), third, 2:17. 150-yard back stroke—Johnston (VMI), first; Perkins (VMI), second; Brooks (Duke), third, 1:51.7. 200-yard breast stroke—Moins (Duke), first; Frost (VMI), second.

Duke Quintet Rallies Underdogs in Clash With Traditional Foes

This Friday night Duke's varsity basketball team will travel to Chapel Hill for the season's first encounter with the fast-jumping Carolina cagers. Defensively rated the underdogs by comparative statistics, Coach Cameron's Blue Devils are nevertheless expected to go "all out" against their traditional foes in an attempt to turn the tide of a thus far mediocre season.

The game with the Tar Heels will have double importance for Duke. Not only is it a notch in the Big Five records, but, most important of all, it is a Southern conference tilt. Duke is among the leading eight of the conference teams at present, but a victory over Carolina is needed to keep them in the running for an invitation to the tournament in Raleigh at the end of this month.

Dickie led the big gun in Friday's contest will be significant. Coach Cameron has been burning up the courts this season. He has sparked the Tar team's victory from his pivot position and is their main scoring threat. He does, however, get reliable assistance from Gensert, Howard, Severin, Pessar, and Company.

Duke is expected to rely on its usual starting line-up of Price, Mack, Holley, Shokes, and Valasek. This quintet has seen the major portion of action in the past, and is supported by Rothbaum, McMahon, Brown, and Connolly.

Duke took to the courts four times this week, but last set down in this page. In that quartet of games, the Devils were victorious three times, defeating George Washington, 44-37; Clemson, 45-45; and Maryland, 45-17. The single loss was sustained at the hands of N. C. State in a game that could have gone either way right up to the final gun. The score was 39-35.

400-yard relay—Duke (West, Kurtz, Marshall, Read), 3:39.1.

Dwive, New Vice-President, Was Well Known Journalist

Besides His Many Official Duties He Finds Time To Edit Several Publications and Make Speeches

Henry R. Dwive, Director of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs, last Wednesday was elected Vice-President in the business division of Duke University by the Board of Trustees to replace Dr. Robert L. Flowers, who was elected president of the University as successor to the late Dr. William Preston Few, Editor and Publisher.

Mr. Dwive's background as an editor and publisher has been of great service to the university. Before he joined the administration of his alma mater in 1930 he had served as editor and publisher of the Winston-Salem Sentinel for some years. He was also director of the Duke Press, managing editor of The South Atlantic Quarterly, and editor of the university historical and literary journal, The Duke University Review. He is also the editor of the Alumni Register, and he also has charge of the university publications and other publications.

In addition to his connection with the university publications, Mr. Dwive is secretary of the Athletic council, a member of the University Board of Trustees, secretary of the Alumni Association and the Alumni Council, and a member of various committees.

Mr. Dwive is a Duke graduate. Mr. Dwive was assistant in English as a senior student, and was afterward was a member of the faculty of the University of Virginia. For the next 22 years he was with the The Washington Post and for the last eight years of that period was co-publisher.

Duke Enrollment

Shows 75 Percent Increase in Decade

Greatest Expansion Occurred in Special Graduate Divisions

During the past decade the enrollment of Duke university has increased 75 per cent, as fast as its home city of Durham has been growing. While the enrollment of North Carolina has increased 12.7 percent and the population of Durham has increased 18.7 percent, according to the last 1940 census figures, the enrollment of the university has increased 75 percent, a statistical minded record.

At the end of the school year 1929-30, the enrollment of the university was 2,106, and at the end of 1939-40, the total enrollment was 3,685. This is a gain of 75 per cent. In the last decade alone is greater than the total enrollment in the institution in 1929. The increase includes all of the professional schools during the regular academic year, but not the summer session.

The undergraduate student body of the university has increased 75 per cent in the last decade. The women's college constitutes nearly three-fourths of the total enrollment. The increase in the number of women is from 1,000 to 2,000. Eight percent of the enrollment is in the Graduate School, Law, Medicine, and Forestry.

The city of Durham last had 278 students at Duke. These were divided very much as the rest of the students, except that the percentage of women was 80 per cent in number, and a percentage of 13 per cent—women.

The different groups in the student body have varied considerably. The percentage of women has increased 82 percent, while the undergraduate percentage of the women's college has increased 82 percent, growing 128 percent. This makes an average growth of 58 percent for the undergraduate colleges.

The graduate school has grown at the same rate as the undergraduate school, namely, 50 percent. The percentage of women in the graduate school is 82 percent, the same as in the undergraduate school. ## Bradway Praised

By Chief Justice For Long Service

Hughes Chief Faculty Member for Developing Legal Aid Service

Dr. John S. Bradway, professor in the university law school and director of the Legal Aid Service, received a tribute from Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, in an open letter published in the January 1941 issue of the Legal Aid Review, official publication of the Legal Aid Society of New York City.

Professor Bradway, who has served as head of the clinic since he came here from the University of Southern California in 1931, received this recognition for his service as Secretary of the National Association of Legal Education, Inc., which capacity he has served since the association was founded in 1923, upon announcement of his resignation as secretary at the 1940 meeting of the group.

Chief Justice of the United States in his letter commented upon the retiring secretary, "indefatigable service to the cause of legal education, stating that 'his gratifying development has been largely project of the law school and its law school's meeting."

Professor Bradway is now serving as president of the organization, and was elected to the office in 1939.

Dietitian Comments:

'Never a Dull Moment'

With the crash of breaking dishes as background music, Miss Elizabeth Freeland, dietitian at the university, announced today that she was "grace about Duke" and that she liked her work as one of the feeding hands of some two thousand finicky males.

Miss Freeland came to Duke from the University of North Carolina, where she was a member of the Consumer's Cooperative Cafeteria in New York City. She actually is a much closer to the institution than that. She graduated from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and is a native of Greensboro, N. C.

Miss Freeland replaces Miss Nell Dooley who is now in High and hospital in Asheville recovering from a nervous breakdown. When Miss Freeland was asked her opinion of Duke and her only remark was, "We get along nicely." She says the system for serving food in the Union is "excellent" and the system for serving food in the Union is "excellent" and the system for serving food in the Union is "excellent."

Her menus are used in the Union dining hall and in the Coffee Shop and the biggest rush periods come on football week-ends. According to Miss Freeland her job among Duke students is a "never-a-dull-moment occupation." She never really knows what to expect, she says.

presented other considerations, which minimize big city elections is not what we need here on the campus. If balloting were done in assembly, everybody would be encouraged to vote. Thus the one elected would be more representative of the whole student body."

Halter continued, "with the whole body of students taking part in the election would be the best. I have elected the one whom they considered best for the office, they would take much more interest in the affairs of the SGA."

One of the amendments changes the wording of the constitution so that Southgate will again be included in the election of the SGA. Concerning the Personnel Department, Dr. Flowers is president of the Engineers' club and has nothing to say to the matter.

Of the new voting procedure, Perinovich said, "I can see no material gain to be made from this system. It is true that there would be more votes cast, but they would be 'half-baked.' Those who
