Gen. Parker Will Speak At War Day

Brigadier General Edwin P. Parker, Jr., commanding officer of the Field Artillery Regiment, will be the guest speaker at the mammoth War Day rally on May 15. Announcement of General Parker's acceptance of the invitation to address the student rally in the stadium in connection with the War Day celebrations was made this morning by Kemp Jones, president of the men's SGA and general chairman of the student faculty committee in charge of the War Day program.

Major Wallace Wade, Duke's head football coach, now on leave of absence from the university to serve with the field artillery at Fort Bragg, will introduce General Parker to the crowd at the rally. Another distinguished visitor from Fort Bragg, Lieutenant Colonel J. C. Butler, commanding the second regiment of the field artillery, has been invited to attend the rally as a special guest and will be present on the stage with the speakers. President M. F. Flowers will probably preside at the rally.

General Parker, a native of Wallace, Va., served in Panama and commanded the second brigade of the field artillery regiment based at Camp Sherman during the first World War. He had been appointed a second lieutenant from civilian life in 1912. He was one of the collaborators in planning the present ROTC program at Duke. He has been in military training camps since 1912. General Parker was in Europe during the first World War, and was appointed brigadier general on November 6, 1941.

General Parker's speech at a mass student rally in the stadium will last a full day of patriotic programs. He will participate in a number of light and sound activities which will be a religious service at which former Duke men will be present. The program will include a parade of students led by Duke ROTC units, the Army and Navy Bands, and the American Legion; the giant rally in the stadium; a lawn supper; and a dance.

Frosh to Release Inhibitions Sunday

Class to Bar No Holds In Will and Woolly Sing

Freshman men will release their inhibitions on Sunday, May 3, when they will be strained for eight months at the Sing Sunday night.

The singing supports, the affair will be a wild and woolly one, with no holds barred. The freshmen athletic field here, in spite of a widespread rumor to that effect, A. S. Brower, Duke defense activities coordinator, announced today.

The rumor, which originated soon after warstoppers were dropped in Charlotte, N. C., was that the Army Air Corps from Fort Bragg would drop a bomb on the freshmen.

The main act of the evening will be a burlesque of "The Bandwagon" by the freshmen. Hoof and Horn presentation, which is itself a burlesque. A second act will be under the direction of J. Foster Barnes.

Librarily Finally Has Needed Light; Fluorescent Units Now Installed

Seventeen new fluorescent lighting fixtures have been installed in the library, bringing the total to 155. The fixtures were installed in the library study rooms, and the installation was completed by the Duke University Electric Light and Power Company.

The last of the seventeen fixtures were first installed in the library study rooms, and the installation was completed by the Duke University Electric Light and Power Company.

Earliest recognition of the inadequacy of the existing lighting in the library, although particularly in the undergraduate reserve room, came late last November, when a General Electric light, made with a standard electric light fixture, was replaced by four four-watt

White Duchy Taps Monday

Seventeen members of White Duchy, honorary secret order of the women students, will be recognized in the customary ceremony at the Women's Student Government meeting in the Women's College auditorium on Monday.

The honored students, members of the rising Senior class, were tapped by the White Duchy, honorary secret order of the women students, will be recognized in the customary ceremony at the Women's Student Government meeting in the Women's College auditorium on Monday.

White Duchy members for 1941-1942 were Sarah Dabney, Betty Jones, Miriam Kamerer, Elizabeth Beach, Patricia Reid, and Elizabeth Rich.

The tapping will follow the customary formal farewell ceremony of the retiring Senior class, which was written by Dr. Bishop Van Voorst, with words by Eleanor Powell.

No Paratroops To Fall at Duke

Paratroops will not drop on the freshmen, as was rumored. The freshmen athletic field here, in spite of a widespread rumor to that effect, A. S. Brower, Duke defense activities coordinator, announced today.

Engineers Greet SPEG Delegates

School Experts Hurdled Visitors for Convention

As a conclusion of the annual convention of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, the local engineers will play host to an expected hundred faculty members hailing from neighboring colleges and universities.

Tomorrow, at 9:30 a.m., in West Duke Building, President Barnes, Mr. Flowers will officially greet the visiting delegates. Dominating the engineering interest in the convention will be the full session with a discussion of the relation of the defense program on the routine of engineering education, carried on by John W. Huggins, of C. G. State College, and Joseph W. Well, dean of engineering at the University of Tennessee.

Continuing the theme at the luncheon, to be presided over by President Barnes, will be the speaker, chairman of Duke's Electrical Engineering Department, Dean Charles E. Krummel, who will address the engineers on the "Role of Russia in the War."

Room Priority Ends May 15

Reservation deadline for students who wish to retain their present room for the fall semester will be May 15 according to an announcement by W. E. Whitford, head of the rooming office.

After May 15, all unreserved rooms will be open to the general student body for registration. Students desiring to reserve rooms for the fall semester must pay a $25 reservation fee at the time of their request for the room. This fee will be credited toward the room rent account for next fall.

Those students who are certain that their present rooming will not return next year, but who wish to retain their present room, may select their rooming for the fall and both must complete the deadline. After May 15, all double rooms will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.

All fraternities that are contracting all or part of their rooming for the fall must complete the deadline. After May 15, all double rooms will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.

Krummel Says Blackout Violation Unintentional

By JOHN BALDWIN

"I fully approve of the blackout, as a precautionary measure, and never had the slightest intention of interfering with the blackout," stated Charles E. Krummel, professor of physics in the Durham campus, in a statement to the Censorship yesterday.

Charles E. Krummel, a member of the German department of the university for over twenty years, was brought out Wednesday morning at a court hearing. The faculty member was found guilty, but a distant Recorder A. R. Wilson, saying that he found no willful intent to violate the law, announced judgment without payment of fine.

The court, according to the decision, Dr. Krummel said, of German here since 1922, was "Confused on page 42."

Spring Formal Replaces Gala

A war-calm Duke campus will once again celebrate May Day today, but for the first time in many years the traditional gala festivities will be gone in favor of the less expensive, more appropriate Spring Formal to-night.

Sponsored jointly by the Men's and Women's Pan-Hellenic councils, this dance is the first formal WSAB dance of the year, lasting from 9 to 11, with the music by the Duke Ambassadors. Tickets are on sale at the usual WSAB price of $1.25, with a war savings stamp refunded to the purchaser.

Due to WSAB policy of low-cost entertainment, the lavish splendor of former May Day celebrations has been done away with, excepting for the annual selection of the May Queen. Dotie Stivers has been chosen to this year as May Queen and will be presented along with her court at tonight's dance.

The presentation will be done in the same lines as that of the Cool Ball, with the court entering first with their dates, followed by Queen Stivers. The queen and her court will dance one hour with the men, and the presentation will be done in the same lines as that of the Cool Ball, with the court entering first with their dates, followed by Queen Stivers.

In previous years, the May Day celebration was an all-day affair with outdoor dancing, music and socializing. This year, however, the celebration will be a night affair, with the court entering first with their dates, followed by Queen Stivers.

A colorful pageant, the May Day parade, will be held in the afternoon. The parade will be held in the afternoon, with the court entering first with their dates, followed by Queen Stivers.

Fall Registration Set for May 11

All Undergraduates Will Register During Week

Registration for the undergraduate students of the university will begin on May 11, according to a statement released by the administration.

As the schedule stands, rising senior men will register for classes Monday and Tuesday; rising juniors, Wednesday and Thursday; and rising sophomores, Friday and Saturday, May 15, 16, and 17.

The dates for the Women's college were announced yesterday by Mrs. Hazen Smith, associate dean of women. The dates are definite and approximately the same as last year. The pre-opening program has made no change in schedule. The time for the women's registration is from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The change in the dates of the courses is the result of a major major which will also be open to the men.

Stephenson to Give Fifth Lecture Here

Gilbert T. Stephenson, director of the Trust Research Department of the graduate school of banking in the American Bankers Association, will give his fifth annual lecture before the law students at 11 a.m. on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Stephenson is an authority on wills and trusts, and will speak this year on "Trust provisions of wills, and trust agreements."

Union Head Gives Reply to Students

The Union problem appeared several steps nearer solution today with a statement issued by Jim Thompson, head of the University Unions, in which he expressed his willingness to "do everything within his power to remedy some of the things now existing in the Union unsatisfactory to the students."

Statement following the presentation of a list of suggestions for improvement of the Union by a special committee formed to investigate student dissatisfaction with the Union, Thompson stated that he would do everything within his power to remedy some of the things now existing in the Union unsatisfactory to the students.

The committee, which was formed last year, had submitted Monday's uprising, urged in the list of suggestions "better planning of the annual dance, a meat dish or in turn good vegetable support, and never both meat and a substantial meal, and committees recommended 'better cooks or better supervising staffs'."

Stated Thompson in reply, "We have good cooks, and a closer supervision of the Union by the students. Consistency in the quality of meals will be improved. The quality of food which may be served. In support of his statement, he quoted figures showing that the Union had paid for many of the major items used have doubled in amount during the past year. For example, he said that whereas the Union paid 7 to 9 cents per pound for lamb in 1941, it must now pay over 16 cents per pound; flour in 1941 was $3.75 to $4.00 per barrel, in 1942 it is $7.50 to $7.75 per barrel; and has doubled in price to over $15.00 per barrel. Many other similar cases were cited by Mr. Thompson.

Thompson emphasized that higher prices today put a definite limit on the quality of food which may be served. In support of his statement, he quoted figures showing that the Union had paid for many of the major items used have doubled in amount during the past year. For example, he said that whereas the Union paid 7 to 9 cents per pound for lamb in 1941, it must now pay over 16 cents per pound; flour in 1941 was $3.75 to $4.00 per barrel, in 1942 it is $7.50 to $7.75 per barrel; and has doubled in price to over $15.00 per barrel. ## Charles Blanchard Elected to Head Beta Omega Sigma

Charles Blanchard, Kappa Alpha from Raleigh, was elected president of Beta Omega Sigma, an honorary sophomore leadership fraternity at a meeting of the group Tuesday. He defeated Bud Chockley and Dick Sanborn for the office.

The following were elected to assist him next year: Sam Gantt, Phi Delta Theta from Durham, vice-president; Bob Lips, Kappa Alpha from Albemarle, secretary; Ken Gable, Phi Delta Theta from Webster Groves, Mass., treasurer; and Bill Lamb, Alpha Tau Omega from Asheville, sergeant-at-arms.

Gantt defeated Bill Lambeth, Life defeated Al Rountree, and Harris Proctor; Gable overcame Chockley and Sanborn, and Lambeth won out over Chockley and Sanborn, Proctor, and Rountree.

Blanchard spoke briefly about his plans for the year, and announced the next meeting for Tuesday, May 5.

Hoof 'n Horn Secures Messenkov As Ambassadors Refuse Services

Leaders of the Hoof 'n Horn club today announced the signing of Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Alpha, and Alpha Tau Omega to the Blue States to play for the annual H. N. H. show. "The Hoof 'n Horn club," which was organized last year and Friday, after what they termed "a last-minute refusal to cooperate with the club," was on the part of the Duke Ambassadors' Orchestra, other campus dance band.

Since last year's production, featured the Ambassadors' aggregation, then under the direction of Vince Courtney, a member of the H. N. H. board of directors, now in the army. It was expected that the ex-Courtney group would play for this year's show, Lou Frecher, president, said. "We couldn't pay the fee required by the H. N. H. entirely non-profit organization," Frecher explained.

The music director, Joe Pael of the H. N. H. and ex-Pan-Hellenic and WSAB-head Carl Creamer also condemned the Ambassadors' aggregation. (Continued on page 4)

Black Will Speak At Annual Institute

Dr. Guy Black, Methodist chairman from Nashville, will head the annual Institute in Evangelism, sponsored by the committee on evangelism of the thirty school student body here on May 4 and 5.

In The Spotlight

By GEORGE HELLER

Priorities ratings and rules from the big-wigs in the capital city have hit home to the American populace who are in the habit of sitting on the sidelines and enjoying the greatest all-year sport that a country has ever been known to develop.

Fines of sporting equipment have skyrocketed and prohibited many from obtaining what they think necessary for participation in the sporting pastimes they have grown used to.

Regulations prohibiting the sale or manufacture of tennis balls, golf balls, shoes, etc. have caused a fair amount of panic because the people don't like to have their recreation tampered with.

There have also been complaints that the government has made a desire to have sports continue as before, they have voiced it impossible to get the equipment with which to play the games.

There may be something to all this whining and there is certainly no small amount of inconvenience caused to the sports world by the war effort moves of Washington.

On the other hand, there are more important things to think about than baseball games and priorities ratings on hockey pucks.

The American people—and college communities are included—are spoiled when it comes to opportunity to engage in or to buy admission to athletic contests. The United States populace plays more than any other nation and is more used to being amused than any other country.

Few stop to realize that it is a very fortunate nation that has the opportunity today to have any sports at all, or even to think of anything but the war and the armament program.

Think of these things the next time you want to kick because you're able to take a baseball back into the game. Think of them when you can't get a new set of golf clubs this year. Think of them when you read the headlines and imagine the kind of games that a good many young American athletes are playing on foreign soil.

Crowd Urges Kohler On

The crowd at last Tuesday's diamond match with Davidson got a thrill and they showed their appreciation.

Erv Kohler, the Devil's ace left fielder, who isn't connected with the ball, but he beat out the infield hit that resulted.

The fans, who apparently were not used to Kohler's behavior.

ing in the vicinity of first base, petting him with all sorts of advice on how to make himself at home on the base line.

They began to point out the way to second, thinking that he might not know it; and they suggested that he put the second bag in his pocket on the way around just for a souvenir.

One of Erv's throws from out-field to second in a recent game with the Wildcats was one of the best pops seen in Combs Park this season.

Net Team Meets Roanoke in Last Match of Trip

Varsity tennis team wins up its five-day jaunt through Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Virginia tomorrow, meeting the Roanoke County Club team at Roanoke, Virginia.

The Roanoke team is composed of a group of several ex-collegiate net ace, and is expected to provide the Blue Devils with plenty in the way of competition. Coach Fogleman has been a professional at Roanoke in the summer for several years past.

The twice-defeated Blue Devils met the powerful Navy squad Wednesday afternoon in the first of the four-game trip.

The squad arrived at Navy Tuesday night, spending Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Academy.

Yesterday the Blue Devils played the Maryland team at College Park, ruling as heavy favorites to turn in the team's fourth win over Maryland since tennis relations started.

Today the Georgetown team met at Washington, D. C., where the Blue Devils were the opponent of an unknown quantity. Tomorrow night most of the team will take the train from Washington for Durham.

The team's 8-1 defeat by Carolina on Monday was not included as the score indicated, several of the matches going in the opponent's favor.

Nash carried their opponents this year, only losing in the final set to lose.

Harris Everett again proved himself the class of Southern collegiate netters as he dusted off Harold Soule 6-0 in the first set. However, Soule made a fight of it in the second set, bowing 6-3.

The northern trip practically winds up the team's regular season, the coming Southern intercollegiate tour at Durham being the remaining highlight of the season.

Cindermen Run Twice In Maryland

In the next two weeks the Blue Devil tracksters will make two invasions of Maryland.

One path, first to run against the University's Old Liners tomorrow, and again next Saturday, when the Middlemen of the Naval Academy furnish the opposition.

The Old Liners are said to be in top shape for their forthcoming duel with Bob Chambers' charges, who last year scored an overwhelming 90.4-35.3 victory.

The Blue Devils will not show again on the local cinder runs until the running of the annual Southern conference meet which is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16 in the Duke stadium.

In the only true test of the respective power of the two squads this season, the Duke-Carolina dual meet of a month ago, the Tar Heels took home a hair-line victory. It was not until the final event that the meet was decided, and Carolina did not triumph in that until Mott Storer, ace Blue Devil runner, won the mile race, which was won by the Duke's own Storer.

Today the Georgetown team met at Washington, D. C., where the Blue Devils were the opponent of an unknown quantity. Tomorrow night most of the team will take the train from Washington for Durham.

Golf Team Hands NCU Big Defeat

Duke's powerful golf team fresh from an impressive 21-0 win over Carolina on Wednesday afternoon, meets the Duke team this afternoon in another home match.

Dewitt Nunn, sophomore ace, burned up the Hope Valley links Wednesday, shooting a brilliant 67. Teammed up with Bill Goldthrop, who shot a 75, higher than his usual average, he accounted for many of Duke's points.

Duke's DeWitt and Groves, Southern intercollegiate champion, picked up four points between them as Groves, playing his usual fine game, chalked up a 70.

The Blue Devil's third four some, using Frank Garrett and Bud Chapman, piled up the remainder of the top-sided margin of victory.

Batters Face Knitters In Contest Tomorrow

By ART JAFFE

In their seventeenth game of the current season the Duke batmen travel to Winston-Salem tomorrow to face the Hanes Knitters in a non-conference tilt for the Blue Devils.

Coech Jack Coombs has indicated that Bob (Lefty) Weaver will probably take the mound for the Devils and the likely pitching voice for the Knitters will be their ace singer "Cocky" Levan.

The Coombsmen face one of their toughest assignments tomorrow in battling the Hanes batmen, as the boys from Winston-Salem are the best semi pro ball club in the state and have already beaten the University of North Carolina in a game earlier this season.

Most of the players with the Knitters are ex-college stars of years gone by. Most of whom hail from North Carolina.

"Cocky" Levan, the pitcher who will probably face the Devils, is looked upon as the top semi-pro hurler in the state.

Varsity swimming: B. B. Baileus, W. A. Brooks, H. T. Galt, J. T. Geary, John Hale, L. J. Hest, Jr., P. K. Ingalls, S. A. Johnson, L. E. Jones, J. C. Kurtz, W. C. Marshall, B. T. Read, R. D. Resner, E. S. Schumann, Allen Shepard, and Alex McVay, student manager.

Freshman basketball: Gordon Carver, Dixon, W. W. Friel, Sam Gantt, Richard Gilbert, Hal Landsberg, Sidney Larkin, A. H. Laver, Shuler, Lottis, R. J. Metzler, Robert Parry, R. A. Pettit, Glenn Stough, Ed Wolfe, and Charles Young.

-Krummel-

born in Nokomis, Illinois, as were his father and mother. He received his Ph.B. degree at Central Wisconsin college, his Ph.D. at Syracuse university, and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Wisconsin. He also attended Chicago university, Ohio State university, and Marburg university in Germany.

Dr. Krummel concluded his statement by saying, "Incidentally, I am sorry that my name is still spelled in the original German way, and that there is the possibility that this case may be some quarters, have cast a faint shadow on the department with which I am identified at Duke university. But I assure you that every member of this department is as thoroughly American and as much a hundred per cent loyal to all our national ideals and undertakings
as I am."

Previous to his arrival here,
he taught ten years at Ohio Western university, and also at the University of Wisconsin which broke an off-campus engagement to play for the show at a lower price than that asked by the Ambassadors, according to their statement. "Nessenkopf's hand went out of its way to cooperate when our budget did not allow us to meet the exorbitant Ambassadors' price," Page said.

Meanwhile, dress rehearsals
for the production begin Monday afternoon in Page auditorium, with tickets going on sale
the first of next week. Helene Mulligan has returned to the cast after temporary indispositude.

-Thompson States-

of sugar in April of this year the two Unions used only 9,000 pounds. Now, however, the sugar rationing board has ruled that only 6,130 pounds will be allocated to all three of the Unions,
the men's, women's, and Southgate, for the two months of May and June.

In answer to other recommendations of the committee Thompson stated that he would strive to improve the condition of glasses,
silver, dishes, and all equipment,
and that he would demand that both full-time and student help improve their personal appearance.

An immediate raising of the price of Union meal tickets at this time was not considered advisable by administration representatives, because such action would constitute a breach of the "moral contract" existing between the university and the students, and would work a hardship on many unable to pay the higher price. Contrary to widespread campus belief, it was further emphasized that the Union is not being operated at a large profit, but has been run at a loss for the past five months and will probably continue to do so if present conditions prevail.

Seniors Will Hear
Brown on Tuesday

Dr. Frank Brown of the English department will address a class meeting of the Senior class in Page auditorium Tuesday at 12:30 p.m.
Dr. Brown, who is in charge of plans for senior graduation, will discuss with the class the plans for the streamlined graduation ceremonies being instituted this year in the interests of the speed up program of the university.
Clay Rohrbach, president of the class, will announce to the class the decision of the executive committee concerning a class gift. The gift suggested by the committee may take the form of some kind of scholarship if accepted by a vote of the class. Rohrbach stated today in addition, Rohrbach will discuss plans for the graduation ceremonies with the class and give them additional information concerning plans already made for the program.
