THE REVIVAL BEGAN SUNDAY

Dr. Kilgo Commenced Series With Sermon of Great Force.

HELD UNDER AUSPICES OF Y. M. C. A.

Services to Continue Throughout the Week—Meetings Conducted in Association Hall—Monthly Class Meeting at Three O'Clock.

The series of meetings under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, which was announced last week to begin on Wednesday night, January 31, commenced on Sunday morning in the association hall, in the Epworth Building. As mid-year examinations closed only on last Wednesday it was thought best to postpone the beginning of the revival till Sunday.

President Kilgo is again conducting these meetings. No better man could be secured for this purpose, for out of the abundance of his experience with college men and affairs he has obtained an insight into the lives of students and knows how to reach them better than anyone else.

At 11 o'clock Sunday morning the Y. M. C. A. hall, which might in all reverence be called the holy of holies of Trinity College because of the hallowed memories that cluster around it, was entirely filled and a number of chairs had to be provided for the latest comers. The service began with the singing of several familiar hymns. Following this, Dr. Kilgo prayed with great fervor for a gracious outpouring of God's spirit on this meeting. He read as the Scripture lesson the second chapter of Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians, and took as his text the ninth and tenth verses:

"But it is written, Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things that God hath prepared for them that love him.

"But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."

From this text he preached a sermon of great force and power, showing that the perfecting forces of man's life are not things seen or heard, but those of the Spirit of God.

MONTHLY CLASS MEETING.
At 3 o'clock p. m. the class meeting, which is held every month in the afternoon of the first Sunday, was held in the same hall. This meeting marked the close of the first year's existence of the class. The benefits that it has been productive of during this time are incalculable, as the testimonies given verify. Dr. Kilgo is the leader of the class and has often expressed himself as desiring more to be remembered by the students in this capacity than as president of the college. To it belong the majority of the men and women in college.

In addition to this meeting held by Dr. Kilgo there are several divisions of the class, which meet at specified times, being respectively in charge of Drs. Mims and Cranford and Professors Pegram and Gill.

MONDAY'S SERVICES.

Two services were held Monday, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 7:30 at night. Much interest is already being shown. The meetings will continue from day to day, one at 2 o'clock and the other hereafter at 7.

FEBRUARY ARCHIVE.

Historical Number—"Some Old Durham Traditions"—Gen. Slade's Journal.

The February number of the Archive made its appearance last week. In size it is the same as usual, but in respect to contents it is somewhat out of its regular line. It is given over almost entirely to historical papers, in the hope that by so doing it might help the cause of general historical research.

The most interesting of these papers, to the readers among the student body, is entitled "Old Durham Traditions." This is true, as the average individual is glad to learn as much as possible concerning the place where he is to make his home for a number of years. As showing something of what Durham was before its recorded history began, these traditions are of great value. These papers were read before the historical society, but that they might be more generally known, and therefore better preserved, they have been put in print.

"General Slade's Journal of a Trip to Tennessee" is also very readable. This journal gives the impressions of General Jeremiah Slade, of Martin county, while making a trip from Williamson, N. C., to Nashville, Tenn., which he began on the 27th of June, 1819. Though somewhat dry from its having numerous items of expenses and the like recorded in it, it yet contains some passages that are of some literary, as well as historical, value.

Since the appearance of THE CHRONICLE the Archive has discontinued its local department. With this exception it contains its customary departments.

Roughshod.

He: You know someone has said, "If you would make a lasting pair of boots, take for the sole the tongue of a woman?"

She: Yes, and for the upper the cheek of the man who said it.—Boston Transcript.

The education of every individual is largely a work of his own. He may be directed and inspired by contact with others. The best school or college can do no more than to present the student an opportunity. The instruction is for him, but he must take it. The same is true of moral development. Everyone must be chiefly the architect of his own character.—N. C. Christian Advocate.

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL NEWS

Exceedingly Bright Prospects for a Fast Base Ball Team This Year.

CHANGES IN STAFF OF THE GAZETTE

Prof. Hornaday's Condition Improving—Tennis Players Out Again—Handsome Racket Offered—Other Items of Interest on Campus.

BY E. S. MCINTOSH.

Mr. J. L. Grissom and Miss Bessie Grissom, the father and sister of Mr. Hyatt Grissom, who is in school here, visited the school last week. Mr. and Miss Grissom are from Greensboro, and they were accompanied by Miss Hyatt, of Hartford, Conn.

Last week Mr. Ishikawa, of Kioto, Japan, enrolled in the school. He entered the Junior Class and wishes to make English a specialty. He has spent the past eighteen months in Brooklyn, N. Y., and is well enough acquainted with the English language to understand most of what is said to him.

Prof. Aldridge went to Oriental last Saturday on account of the death of his brother's child.

The Senior Class met last Friday and elected Miss Anna Branson and Mr. W. H. Poe as editors of the Here and There department which has recently been added to The Gazette. This department consists of puns and funny mistakes heard at school and taken from exchanges.

Mr. L. J. Ashbury was also elected to supply the place of Mr. W. M. Bridges in the In and About School department.

Prof. Hornaday has been confined to his bed for several days with a case of gripe. His friends are glad to know that he is better now though, and hope he will be able to meet his classes in a day or two.

The Park School Gazette will be out about next Saturday.

In spite of the bad weather interest in base ball continues to increase. Every moment of available time is taken up in practice, and it begins to look as if the Park School is going to have a fast team this year. There is no reason why the team should not be even better than last year's team was, for the material is all right, and with Mr. Stockdale as coach and Prof. Murph to manage the financial end the prospect seems exceedingly bright. Then there is the redoubtable Mr. Poe, President of the Athletic Association, who is pushing things with a vim. With this trio behind the base ball team its success is assured.

The tennis players are coming out again. The fact is, tennis playing has never stopped for more than a few days at a time during the winter. Another tournament, similar to the one held last fall, will be held as soon as the weather is favorable, a fine tennis racket being given to the best competing player. It is hoped that the tennis club will arrange to meet some other preparatory school in a tennis tournament this spring. The Park School is developing some good players and there is no reason why we should not easily beat the ordinary preparatory school team.

TRAINING FOR SENIORS.

Prof. Pegram to Give a Course in Elocution—A Department May Be Established—Proposition Favored.

On Saturday night a very important matter was laid before the members of the literary societies by Prof. Pegram. As chairman of the committee on public speaking Prof. Pegram has had charge of the training of men who are each year chosen as speakers to represent the Senior Class at commencement, and he has come to realize that too little time has been given to the training of these men. The consequence is that they do not do themselves, their class, nor the institution justice when they appear on the public platform.

On his own initiative Prof. Pegram has taken upon himself the task of giving, at first to the Seniors, and later to the Juniors, perhaps, a course in elocution. His proposition is being received with favor by all of those who are interested and it may lead to the establishment of a department or a semi-department of elocution here by the college authorities. The plans of the course have not been made out in detail, but shortly after the close of the series of meetings Prof. Pegram will meet with all the Seniors who want to be trained and complete arrangements will then be made.

SOCIAL DEBATE.

One to Be Held in a Few Weeks—Freshmen the Speakers.

Arrangements are being made by the Columbian and Hesperian Literary Societies for another social debate, to be held some time within the course of a few weeks. The speakers will be from the Freshman Class, probably four from each society. They will be so arranged on the two sides of the question as to eliminate society rivalry.

THE GLEE CLUB.

Glee Club and Orchestra Will Take Trip on 14th.

Manager Pugh announces that on the 14th the Glee Club and Orchestra will take its first trip. As the schedule stands at present the Club and Orchestra will leave here on the morning of the 14th and give a concert in Newbern that night. On Thursday following, a matinee will be given in the afternoon at Beaufort and a concert that night at Morehead City. A very enjoyable trip is promised for the members of the two organizations, and many of them who live at a distance from the ocean will doubtless find many novel objects there to claim their attention.

Other dates are now being arranged to extend the trip.

A GYMNASIUM EXHIBITION

Second Entertaining of This Kind to Be Given at an Early Date.

WORK SATISFACTORY, SAYS DIRECTOR

First Regularly Organized Gymnasium Team—Purpose of its Organization—Trophy to Be Given to the Best Gymnast in College.

At an early date the second gymnasium exhibition of the collegiate year will probably be given. The exact date has not been fixed upon as yet, but will be announced later. The exhibition given in the fall was much enjoyed by all who attended it, and many expressed a desire that a second entertainment of the kind be given.

Director Card reports that the work in the gymnasium during the past few months has been very gratifying and names a number of new men who have proved very apt and proficient in this work. He says, further, that just now there is an especial need of active interest and development of hard workers in this phase of college athletics, for some of the best gymnasts in school are members of the present Senior Class and the task of keeping this work alive next year will devolve as largely on the members of the Freshman Class as upon the members of the other classes.

Not until this year has a regularly organized gymnasium team taken any prominent part in the exhibitions, nor has a gymnasium team, as a team, heretofore existed in college. In the early fall, however, such a team was formed and a captain elected, with the purpose of making it one of the permanent college teams, any member of the student body being eligible to it upon acquiring certain marked skill as a gymnast. In this way it was thought that there might be created that spirit of healthy rivalry, which is so manifest in applicants to the base ball team, among the men interested in this, and that the cause of gymnasium work could be helped by additional team training and getting men in the habit of more regularly attending the gymnasium classes. Thus in every way the work would be made more pleasant, and less a drudgery, as some men are at present disposed to view it.

Director Card has announced that some time within the next few months a trophy, either a cup or a medal, will be awarded to the best all-round gymnast in college, the contest being open to everyone. It stands without saying that this trophy is well worth making an effort for, as conferring distinction on the fortunate winner, and it is hoped that many will enter the contest.

With the acquisition of basket ball the gymnasium should enjoy an increased popularity during the coming months and be a source of much real pleasure and benefit to the student body.

THE ARCHIVE.

Just now is the opportunity for all who can, to get to work and make the March issue of the Archive as interesting as was the February issue, only in another way. Fill it full of good, bright, wholesome stories. Then you will have done your part, and it is assured that the editors of the different departments will have their work up to their usual standard.

Not every one can write a good short story, but many who can have never tried. No one can ever estimate exactly what one can do without trying. So do not let the idea become prevalent that the staff of the Archive alone can get out the magazine; it can not. To be of credit to the college, and representative of the student body, it must have your co-operation and support. It has given general satisfaction during the past few months, and it remains with you as to whether or not the editor can maintain, during the coming months, its former high standard.

SHALL THEY NOT GO?

During the past football season a number of lives were lost by students on account of playing the game. Throughout the land there arose a cry that which was the means of causing the death of students must be abolished. The first institution of the country to respond to this urgent demand of public sentiment was Columbia University of New York. Since that time other institutions have fallen in line with Columbia, and football as it has hitherto been played in America is going.

But football is not the only thing in college life that is endangering lives, as the following extract from a dispatch sent out from New York by the Associated Press, January 27, shows: "William Van Reypen, Jr., a law student of Columbia University, . . . killed himself today. The coroner found a note in the room addressed to the young man's mother. . . . A member of young Reypen's family informed the Associated Press tonight that the young man had been worrying over the approaching mid-year examination, and over-study is thought to have affected his mind temporarily."

If football must go because of its dire effects on college students, what must become of examinations, which are productive of like results? SHALL THEY NOT GO, TOO? H.

If the dismissal of members of the first-year class at Annapolis continues much longer that institution will in a short time be without a class to graduate this year. But an institution with a senior class and the kind of hazing that has been going on there is not to be desired as much as an institution without both the senior class and the hazing.

Some of those persistent chapel-cutters have decided that they now like to go to morning prayers. Sometimes a mule that will not be coaxed can be made to go with a little "persuasion." This is also true of some other animals, as in this case.

It is up to the various college base ball teams to kill that pesky "ground-hog." He goes and spoils the good practice weather nearly every year. He ought to be made to believe that others like sunshine if he doesn't.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

The newest newspaper enterprise in the State is THE TRINITY CHRONICLE, a weekly newspaper recently started by the student body of Trinity College, at Durham. THE CHRONICLE is a neat-looking paper, exceedingly well gotten up, both from a typographical and literary standpoint. It is a five-column folio, with an attractive head and attractive headlines, and is a newsy sheet. Mr. H. G. Foard is editor-in-chief, with seven associates, and Messrs. W. J. Justus and T. G. Stem are business managers.

THE CHRONICLE, even in its youth, is one of the best-looking and most readable college newspapers in the South, having an alumni' department, squibs, comments, society column, etc. It is a credit to the young men getting it out and to the college.—Charlotte Observer.

The Archive welcomes heartily THE TRINITY CHRONICLE, which made its first appearance just before the Christmas holidays, and will be issued weekly. This is something that Trinity has needed a long time, and we hope and believe that it will succeed. It has a distinct place to fill in college life, and from present indications, will fill it most admirably. The few numbers which have been published reflect great credit upon the board of editors. They have worked hard and unceasingly upon their venture, and the result of their labors is a paper which is really valuable. They deserve and should receive the support of every student and friend of Trinity College. Give them your hearty co-operation.—Trinity Archive.

THE TRINITY CHRONICLE is a newspaper published by the students of Trinity College. We have received the first number, and it is an interesting, well-printed paper, which will do great good to the institution. The staff of the paper is as follows: H. G. Foard, editor-in-chief; U. N. Hoffman, associate editor; B. S. Womble, law and alumni; T. M. Stokes, locals; E. B. Cooper, athletics; C. R. Pugh, society and Y. M. C. A.; H. E. Spence, squibs; Miss Mary R. Thomas, comments. Managers, T. G. Stem and W. J. Justus.—Raleigh Christian Advocate.

The Recorder extends THE TRINITY CHRONICLE a hearty welcome to the field of journalism in Durham and wishes for its clever editors and managers the success which they merit. May they have the substantial support of the college community and citizens of Durham that will make it a success.—Durham Recorder.

COL. CREECY COMMENTS.

Nestor of North Carolina Journalism Writes About Dr. Bassett's Work—Many Valuable Books Sold.

The following clipping is from the Daily Economist, of Elizabeth City, and is from the pen of the venerable R. B. Creecy, who is by common consent called the "Nestor of North Carolina Journalism." Col. Creecy is ninety-two years of age and is perhaps the oldest active editor in the world, certainly in this country. He has had a long and active career, extending over the most interesting period of the State's history. His observations on the men and measures of the present time and of remoter days have always attracted attention. His editorial comment reads thus:

"Dr. J. S. Bassett, professor of history in Trinity College and president of the Historical Society of that institution, is doing valuable work in the collection of the disjecta membra of North Carolina's history. He has the patience of an antiquary, with the energy of an explorer. We have delved somewhat in that mine and have been more rewarded in attending book sales at auctions than anywhere else. There are frequently found in such sales books of inestimable value, which have lain unnoticed in some old garret for years. Many books that are worth their weight in gold are there found; some are entirely forgotten and some fast passing from memory. Dr. Bassett should have an intelligent agent at every such sale. We have in our mind's eye several such books, which are to be found nowhere else, and are not now for sale in any book seller's shop."

Messrs. W. M. Jones and W. W. Watson, of the Junior and Freshman Classes respectively, went up to Greensboro Friday afternoon. They returned early Saturday morning.

A very peculiar misfortune happened Friday night to one of the mules owned by the college. In some entirely unaccountable manner his tongue was mangled to such an extent that it became necessary to cut nearly half of it off.

Mary Ethel Stocksdale, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Stocksdale, died last Friday morning, after an illness of several weeks. The members of the college community extend to them their most sincere sympathy and condolence in this sad bereavement.

SCIENCE CLUB MEETS.

Talk on Panama Canal by Dr. Hendren — Explanation of Graphophone by Prof. Edwards—Successful Meeting.

The meeting of the Science Club on Wednesday afternoon of last week drew a large crowd, notwithstanding the fact that there were a number of counter attractions. The physics lecture room in the Crowell Science Hall was not able to seat all that were present, a good number being compelled to stand during the exercises.

The first thing on the program was a lecture by Dr. L. L. Hendren on the Panama Canal. In a way that was interesting to all he talked of the work that is being done to connect the Atlantic with the Pacific Ocean. The entire history of the project was gone over, how the French people first undertook the task of digging this "ditch," how this effort ended in failure; how it was taken in hand by a new company, and the work that was done by it; and, finally, how the United States took over this enormous undertaking.

By the aid of a map which he had drawn he showed the route that the canal will take across the isthmus and the difficulties that will have to be surmounted in making a sea-level or a lock canal. By the use of a model he illustrated and made very clear just what the character of a lock canal is. He also gave the advantages and the disadvantages of the two kinds of canals which are being advocated, the sea-level and the lock.

When he undertook to give some stereoscopic views of the work a mishap occurred by which the light in the room could not be shut out, and this part of the exercises had to be dispensed with.

Following Dr. Hendren, Prof. C. W. Edwards told very briefly how sound is recorded and reproduced by the graphophone; and then Prof. J. A. Bivins, of the Trinity Park School, played a number of selections on the Edison and Victor machines. On the Edison a record was made.

Mr. W. M. Crook played "Keep a Little, Cosy Corner in Your Heart for Me" on the cornet, and in less than a minute's time it was reproduced perfectly by the machine, much to the enjoyment of the audience, as was attested by the applause given.

Prof. Bivins has a very fine Victor graphophone and a large number of carefully selected records, and with these he entertained the crowd for some time.

Those who attended were exceedingly pleased with the program that was rendered and felt that they had been well paid in being present. All that was done and all that was talked about was of such a nature that the student who had never heard of science was not in the dark concerning it.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Mr. Charles M. Bivins, ex-'06, has a position teaching school at Cary.

Mr. Buford D. Carl, who spent one year in college here as a member of the class of 1906, will soon locate at Concord as a dentist.

Mr. B. G. Allen, class of 1900, is a physician at Asheville. After graduating he went to the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, and was afterward an assistant in Lincoln Hospital of that city.

Mr. J. R. Cowan, class of 1900, has a position on the editorial staff of the Chattanooga Times and is making for himself quite a record as a journalist.

Dr. John C. Ransmeier, who was connected for two years with the department of German during the leave of absence of Prof. Wamnamaker, is now in Berlin, Germany. He has a traveling fellowship from Harvard University.

After making a fine record at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York City and holding a position in Lincoln Hospital of the same city, Mr. L. W. Elias, class of 1899, has located in Asheville for the practice of his profession.

Mrs. V. L. Jones (nee Miss Isabel Elias), class of 1899, is residing at Fairbault, Minn. She was the first woman to receive the A. B. degree from Trinity, and in presenting her diploma, President Kilgo said: "By the high record you have made you have produced a profound impression upon the college of the ability of young womanhood. You are the only $100,000 girl in a North Carolina college, because you are the first lady graduate who has taken a diploma since the college was given $100,000 on the condition that it be opened to women."

REQUIREMENTS OF S.I.A.A.

Eligibility Rules Governing Athletes Playing on Teams of Colleges Which Belong to the Association.

As there have been many erroneous impressions formed among students and the general public as to what are the requirements of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, for eligibility of athletes playing on any team a member of this association, a copy of its eligibility requirements are given below. They are as follows:

1. No person shall be eligible to take part as a contestant who is not a bona fide student of the college on whose team he plays—matriculated or enrolled for the current college year within thirty days after the beginning of said college year (not counting the opening day) in which such contests take place, and regularly pursuing a course in said college that requires five hours of lectures, recitations, or equivalent, per week for professional or post-graduate students, and ten hours of lectures or recitations per week for undergraduates.

2. No college official of higher grade than Instructor shall be eligible, but a low-grade Instructor or who is also a bona fide student, and who has not held his position for more than two years, may play, provided he is not, or has not been, an Instructor in Gymnastics or Athletics.

3. No student is eligible who is a regular or special post-graduate of more than two years' standing as such at any college.

4. No professional athlete shall be eligible. A professional athlete is one who has at any time received, directly or indirectly, any money or other consideration for athletic services of any kind, or who has competed for a money prize or portion of the gate receipts, or who has competed for any prize against a professional.

A student who has played on a summer base ball team prior to 1904 and has received no compensation whatever except transportation, board and lodging is eligible. But no student who, during 1904, or thereafter, has played on a base ball team which is a member of a base ball league shall be eligible; and no student who has played on any team (except that representing the town where he has been a resident for at least one year and is still a resident) shall be eligible if he has received any compensation whatever—even board and transportation. If he plays on his home team (as above defined) he may receive his necessary expense for board, lodging and transportation, provided said team be not a member of any league.

5. A student is ineligible if he receives directly or indirectly any money, or gain or emolument, or position of profit, in order to render it possible for him to participate in intercollegiate athletics at the college he is attending.

6. No student is eligible who has participated for more than five years in intercollegiate contests.

7. A student who has participated in intercollegiate athletics at one institution shall be ineligible to participate in any intercollegiate contest whatever of another institution until he has been a student there for one collegiate year.

8. No student who has played on the Savannah or Charleston Athletic Club teams or on the Augusta Y. M. C. A. team shall be eligible until his case has been submitted to the Executive Committee of the S. I. A. A. and passed upon favorably by them.

9. No team of this Association (S. I. A. A.) shall play any other college team whatsoever unless each member of the latter team shall be eligible according to the above rules to play; and a certificate to that effect signed by the president or secretary of the college represented by such team, shall be presented to the manager of the team within this Association, which certificate shall be forwarded to the president of this Association immediately after the contest.

Before he shall participate in any contest each member of the team must answer the following questions:

Have you ever at any time competed for a money prize, or against a professional for any kind of prize?

Have you ever received money or any other compensation or concession for your athletic services either as player or in any other capacity?

How many hours of recitations and lectures are you attending per week?

How long have you been a student at Trinity College?

Did you ever receive any inducement or concession to attend Trinity College?

Have you ever participated in intercollegiate contests as a member of a Trinity College team? If so, state what team or teams, and when.

Have you ever taken part in any intercollegiate contest as a member of the team of any college or university other than Trinity College? If so, state what institution you represented, on what team or teams, and when?

Have you ever played base ball on a summer team? If so, what team or teams, and when?

VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT.

To Hold Its Fifth Convention at Nashville—What It Offers to Students—Delegates from Trinity.

The one great movement now in progress most interesting to the college student is the Student Volunteer Movement, which is to hold its fifth international convention at Nashville, Tenn., from February 28 to March 5.

These conventions are held but once every four years and constitute the largest, most representative, and most fruitful gatherings of students in North America. As the name of the convention indicates, there will be, besides representatives from colleges and universities all over the United States, many delegates present from Canada and also many from Europe.

The prime purpose of the convention is to quicken the religious life of the country and, through its far-reaching effects, of the world. It serves as an important factor for binding more closely together the students of the country, and giving them a fuller view of the needs of Christianity in the world. Mr. Robert E. Speer, in an article entitled

"Why Send Delegates to Nashville," says: "No student who can possibly come into contact with this great humanizing and expansive influence should lose the opportunity." He says, further in the same discussion: "This is an opportunity for inter-university acquaintance, for the establishment of friendship, for that enlargement of life which comes from the broadest contact with one's fellows."

Arthur J. Brown, D. D., secretary of the convention, says: "I believe that it is doing more than any agency, perhaps more than all other agencies combined, to present the claims of Christ's service persuasively and yet commandingly to the educated young men of our own and other lands."

The railroads are offering rates which will put this opportunity within the reach of all and, as much of the entertainment is being provided by the citizens of Nashville, the convention will no doubt be largely attended. As an educational center Nashville is one of the most prominent in the South. It has 38 educational institutions, with 800 teachers and a student population of about 9,000. Among its institutions are Vanderbilt University, Peabody College, six schools for girls and young women, six colleges for colored people, three colleges of medicine, the Tennessee School for the Blind, and the Tennessee Industrial School. Besides these it has nineteen public schools.

Former conventions have been held at Cleveland, O., and Toronto, Canada. Those expecting to attend the Nashville convention from Trinity are: Messrs. K. W. Parham, E. W. Knight, and F. S. Love. Prof. R. Browning, of the Trinity Park School faculty, will also be a delegate.
