Dr. Kilgo is the leader of the second chapter of Paul's first majority of the men and women as the testimonies given verify.

The number of the Archive made its appearance last week. In size it is the same as usual, but in content it is somewhat outside of its regular line. It is given over almost entirely to historical papers, in the hope that by so doing it might help the general historical research.

The most interesting of these papers, to the readers among the student body, is entitled "Old Durham Traditions." This is true, as the average individual is glad to learn as much as possible concerning the place where he is making his home for a number of years. As something of what Durham was before its reorganized historical background traces are of great value. These papers were read before the historical society, but that they might be more generally known, and therefore preserved, a copy has been put in the "General Slade's Journal of Trip to Tennessee." This is also very readable. The journal gives impressions of General Jeremiah Slade, of Martin county, while on a trip of about 2000 miles in 1869. Due to the ages of the manuscripts and the like recorded in it, it yet contains some paragraphs that are of some literary, as well as historical, value.

Since the appearance of the Carolina colonies the Archive has discontinued its local department. With the exception it contains county customary department.

The education of every individual is largely a work of his own, and the student himself can do more than the best of the instructors to put himself in the path of success. But the teacher must be the architect of his own character. —N. C. Christian Advocate.

Prof. Pegram gives to a Course in Eloquence—A Department May Be Established—Prospensity Favor!

On Saturday night a very important matter was laid before the members of the literary societies by Prof. Pegram. Announcing the committee on public speaking Prof. Pegram has had charge of the training of men who are to be chosen to represent the Senior Class at commencement, and he has come to realize that Orchestra will take its first trip to the training of these men. The consequence is that they do not have any information, their own institution when they appear on the public platform.

On his own initiative Prof. Pegram has taken upon himself the task of giving, at first to the Senior and later to the Junior Class, perhaps, a course in elocution. His proposition is being received with much interest by all those who are interested and it may lead to the establishment of a department of this kind which is here by the college authorities. The plans of the course have not been made out in detail, but shortly after the close of the series of meetings Prof. Pegram will meet with all the Seniors who want to be trained and complete arrangements will then be made.

SOCIAL DEBATE.

One to be Held in a Few Weeks—Freshmen the Speakers.

Social debate will be held under the auspices of the college. The plan is exceedingly bright. Then the Freshman class will probably be held before the members of the literary societies by Prof. Pegram. Announcing the committee on public speaking Prof. Pegram has had charge of the training of men who are to be chosen to represent the Senior Class at commencement, and he has come to realize that Orchestra will take its first trip to the training of these men. THE GLEE CLUB.

Glee Club and Orchestra Will Take Trip on 14th.

Manager Pegram announces that on the 14th the Glee Club and Orchestra will take a trip to Newborn. As the schedule stands at present the Glee Club and Orchestra will leave here in the morning of the 14th and give a concert in Newborn that night. On Thursday following the excursion will be given at 3 o'clock, and the orchestra will begin at 4.

There is of course a great deal to be done in the way of giving a concert, but there is no reason why the trip should not be another of the successful.
