

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

Distinguished Speakers and Writers to Deliver Different Addresses.

DR. SHAW, OF NEW YORK, TO SPEAK

Commencement Sermon by Dr. MacArthur—Dr. Bruce Payne to Speak to Alumni Association—Sketches of Speakers.

The commencement program has been completed and the college considers itself extremely fortunate in being able to secure the services of the speakers who are to be present on this occasion.

The program is as follows: Sunday, June 3, 11 a. m., Baccalaureate Address—President John C. Kilgo.

Monday, June 4, 5 p. m., Meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Tuesday, June 5, 11 a. m., Commencement Sermon—Rev. Robert Stuart MacArthur, D. D., LL. D., New York City.

Tuesday, June 5, 9 p. m., Graduating Orations.

Wednesday, June 6, 10:30 a. m., Literary Address—Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of Review of Reviews, New York City.

Monday, June 6, 1:30 p. m., Alumni Dinner and Address before the Alumni Association by Dr. Bruce R. Payne, of the University of Virginia.

DR. MACARTHUR.

Dr. R. S. MacArthur was born in Dalesville, Quebec, Canada, of ancient Highland stock. When only sixteen he was accustomed to conduct religious meetings and speak to the people with the intelligence and force which foreshadowed the coming divine. He graduated at the University of Rochester, N. Y., in 1867. He was especially distinguished for his oratorical powers. His theological training was received in the Rochester Theological Seminary, from which he was graduated in 1870. He won distinction here as a thinker and writer.

On February 25, 1870, he received the unanimous call to the Calvary Baptist church of New York City, and immediately upon his graduation he began his pastoral labors there, and from that time to the present he has labored without cessation. In addition to his ever-widening pastoral duties he has written extensively for many magazines and religious journals. He has also acquired a wide reputation as a public lecturer, being asked for in every part of the country. In New York City he is constantly sought after to deliver addresses at dinners, before literary societies, and patriotic clubs. He has taken an active part in municipal, State, and national politics and is widely known as an intense American, although he is only a naturalized citizen. Dr. MacArthur is also an extensive author.

As a preacher his sermons are characterized by gracefulness of diction, clearness of expression, directness of appeal, and forcible-ness of argument. His voice is well-modulated, strong, deep, and sympathetic. He is always fresh and suggestive and speaks with the eloquence which never fails to awaken the attention and arouse the enthusiasm of his hearers. He gathers and holds his congregations without sensational methods and is widely known as one of the most eminent and popular divines of the American pulpit.

DR. SHAW.

Dr. Albert Shaw is a native of Ohio. He was educated at the Iowa College, where he was graduated in 1879. He took a course in history and political science at Johns Hopkins and there received the degree of Ph. D. in 1884. For many years he has been an editorial writer for the Minneapolis Tribune and in 1891 he established the American Review of Reviews, which he has conducted ever since. Dr. Shaw is a member of many learned societies and social clubs and has been a frequent lecturer at universities and colleges. He has written many articles for the magazines on social and political questions, being particularly well known for his discussion of municipal problems. He has written quite a number of books, the best known of them being his "Municipal Government in Continental Europe," and "Municipal Government in Great Britain."

DR. PAYNE.

Dr. Payne is a member of the class of 1896. After graduating he was for two years Principal of the Morganton Male Academy. He was then elected to a position in the Durham City Schools, and during this time he took graduate work in Trinity College, receiving the A. M. degree in 1902.

After receiving this degree he entered Columbia University, New York City, and there took the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

He was then elected Professor of Pedagogy in William and Mary College, Virginia.

Upon the establishment of the Curry School of Education, founded at the University of Virginia by John D. Rockefeller, Dr. Payne was elected one of the two professors in this department.

Dr. Payne is an interesting and forceful speaker and one of the most loyal alumni of his alma mater.

LEGES POETICARUM.

The great and universal law for verse

Says: Keep to rhyme and feet, and make thoughts terse; Thus always making sense run smooth and fleet.

Hexameters be sure in epics use; The lyrics fold in fours, and threes, and twos;

Now this takes all except Satanic verse—

Than which in rhyme there is none worse—

And it is best set forth in daimeters,

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL NEWS

Athletic Association Meets and Elects Mr. C. N. Crawford.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE SOON TO BE HELD

Prof. Aldridge Addresses Y. M. C. A.—Representatives Selected to Attend Students' International Convention—Contents of The Gazette.

BY E. S. MCINTOSH.

The Athletic Association met last week and had reports from the Manager and Treasurer. Mr. Clyde N. Crawford, who had been temporarily elected captain of the ball team, was re-elected.

Miss Anna Branson went to Greensboro last Wednesday and returned the first of this week.

Messrs. Eilers, Jones, Satterthwaite, Purnell, Foy, Best, Hood, and Ricks were sick last week. Although such a large number is unusual for the sick list, none were seriously ill and are nearly all able to be on class again.

On account of the bad weather the ball team had to practice in the gymnasium during the past week.

Miss Lessie L. Holloway, of this city, enrolled in school on the 6th, and entered the Upper Middle Class.

There will be a public inter-society debate in the Park School chapel on the night of March 2d. The question to be debated is: Resolved, That labor unions have been, and are, beneficial to the laboring classes of people. The speakers on the affirmative are Messrs. Daniels and Williams, of the Calhoun Literary Society, and those on the negative are Messrs. Kiker and Crawford, of the Grady.

Prof. Hornaday, who has been confined to his room with grippe for the past week, is better and hopes to meet his classes this week.

The Y. M. C. A. held its usual weekly meeting last Wednesday night after chapel. The exercises were led by Prof. Aldridge. Mr. C. A. Campbell was elected president, Mr. A. Ferguson vice-president, Mr. John Lockhart secretary, and Mr. W. E. Dale treasurer. Messrs. James Lockhart and W. E. Dale were selected as representatives to attend the Students' International Convention at Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. John Lockhart went to his home, near Chapel Hill last Friday to spend Sunday.

On account of examinations and other extra work the January number of The Gazette did not come out until last week. However, it is one of the best—if not the best—issue of the year. The table of contents is: The Wesleys in America, by G. M. Daniel; If We Know (poem), by W. C. Johnson; The Prodigal Son (story) by T. G. Vickers, '06; A Coat Tale (story), by E. S. McIntosh; Autumn (poem), by W. L. T.; My First Love Affair (story), by X. Y. Z.; Editorial, Y. M. C. A., Exchange Departments, and In and About the School.

REVIVAL CLOSES.

The Meeting Sunday Night the Last of Series—A Number of Powerful Sermons Preached by Dr. Kilgo.

The series of meetings, conducted under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, which was begun on Sunday morning of the fourth, came to a close last Sunday night. During the entire past week two services were held each day by Dr. Kilgo, one at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 7 at night. On Sunday there were three, these being conducted at 11, 3, and 7:30 o'clock respectively.

At the Sunday morning service Dr. Kilgo preached a sermon of extraordinary depth and strength. His text was from the 15th chapter of the gospel of St. Luke, the discourse being on the father's reception of the returned prodigal son. All the preaching during the week was based on this parable, as recorded by Luke in the 15th chapter, 11th to 32d verses, of his gospel. A more remarkable series of sermons, on a single subject, was perhaps never heard here before.

In fact the entire meeting, from a number of standpoints, has been a very remarkable one. Unlike most revivals, in which very great good is accomplished, it has been characterized by an unmistakable spirit of meditation and inward searchings more than anything else. Every service has been well attended and the utterances of the speaker closely heeded. Many students have seen, felt and realized the power of Truth and responded to this power. In contrast to the wonderful meetings last spring, which were similarly conducted, outward demonstrations have been fewer, but in a quiet, but none the less sure, way faiths have been renewed, strengthened, and built up. The large number of rich testimonies that were given at the afternoon meeting Sunday are undeniable witnesses of this fact. In respect to its character the meeting was graciously fruitful and successful. Its close leaves the student body and the college community much benefited, and it is truly felt that in many ways it was very successfully accomplished its purpose.

Mr. R. M. Odell, of Concord, after graduating from Trinity in 1903, entered the Senior Class of Harvard without examination and received an A. B. degree in one year. He is now in the cotton mill business with his father at Concord.

Rev. Plato T. Durham, class of 1895, will deliver the address of welcome before the North Carolina Sunday School Association, which will meet in Charlotte April 3-5.

Daughter: Mother, could I love two men at the same time?
Mother: Not if one of them gets wise.—Princeton Tiger.

The total of bound volumes is 1678 and the total number of pamphlets is 1194.

During the past week Mr. A. K. Hibbard, representing the firm of Underwood & Underwood, stereographers and photographers, of New York City, spent several days on the campus, working in the interest of this company. Messrs. Underwood & Underwood are the official photographers of President Roosevelt and many students will recall having seen one of the members of this firm take several snap-shots of the President while he was speaking to Trinity students last October in front of the college campus. A member of The CHRONICLE staff was shown one of these photographs of the President, with the students in the background, from the photographer's point of view. Mr. Hibbard left Durham Friday afternoon.

Mr. S. L. Mims, ex-'01, having graduated with great distinction at Yale, is now an instructor at that university.

HOT WATER.

We can understand how a defective plant may cause trouble with the lights, and how a lack of funds can prevent the purchase of modern machinery, but we confess our inability to solve the hot water question. There is a boiler at the laundry for the purpose of heating water, and there are spigots in the bath rooms marked "Hot." Furthermore, a pipe connects said boiler and spigots called "Hot." Strange to say, however, when the spigot is turned the water which issues therefrom is not only not hot—it is cold, so cold, in fact, that nothing but a polar bear would dare plunge into its icy depths. Not being polar bears, students who are addicted to the habit of bathing naturally suffer.

Now, cold water can be borne —by polar bears—and even in the entire absence of the precious fluid a fellow can knock along somehow, but men of flesh and blood are liable to say things when they see icicles hanging from a pipe marked "H-O-T."—The Crimson-White.

Students rooming in the New Dormitory can sympathize heartily with our friends of the University of Alabama.

PROFANITY.

Profanity on the base ball field is both unpleasant and degrading.
It often creates dislikes among the different members of a team and is highly disagreeable to the ear of any gentlemanly base ball player. No college can have a large base ball squad in which there are men who are addicted to this habit, because it is easily acquired, and numbers of men do not care to become members of a squad in which they would be close companions of fellows of this type.

No college base ball team whose members belong to this class can expect the hearty support of a manly student body, for men will not frequent a base ball field where the atmosphere is thoroughly uninviting to them.
It is in this way that interest is frequently lost in the work that a team is doing, and college spirit suffers in consequence.

This is one of the things, too, that bring athletics into disrepute and cause many anti-athletic fanatics to assert that the predomi-nating tendency of athletics is to lower a man; to make him less man and more animal; and to make him lose his keen sensibility of right and wrong, by placing him in an environment where the greatest laxity of morality and honor is unprotestingly tolerated.
Others claim that the besetting sin and great evil of athletics is that they breed a crowd of "toughs." Now, as we said before, profanity on the base ball field is one of the things which are responsible, to some extent, for charges of this kind, and it is a thing to be frowned upon by all upright players. Eliminate it from a base ball or football squad and the coach of the team, if he be a fit man to coach a college team, feels in a better position to do his work, and the captain can better perform his duties as a captain.

Just now the base ball squad is beginning to be out every afternoon practicing, and it may be well for it to think over a few of these things. Last spring the athletic field was a good place to go to and watch the squad at work, and many students who could not themselves be players were out every afternoon showing an active interest in what was being done. The team of the season of 1905 left a history of which, in this way and in other ways, we are all proud. We can only anticipate the record of the team of 1906, which at present looks very promising.

THE LIBRARY.

Reading over the librarian's report for the year just completed it is found that a large number of books and pamphlets have been added to those which were in the possession of the library and that this important part of our college is constantly growing in value and size. In short, it is now in a very prosperous condition. This ought to be very gratifying to the student body and to all of those interested in the growth of the library, for it is nearly always true that where a good library is to be found in a college or university there also is to be found a good college or university.

It is noticeable that an increasing number of students are taking advantage of the many superior benefits to be derived from a frequent use of it, and it is to be hoped that more of them will get into the habit of spending at least a small portion of each day there.

One of the common complaints to be heard from professors is, that students do not read the newspapers enough, and hence have only a very limited knowledge of current events. It is surprising, also, to know how very few good, substantial books many students read. Yet, to be just to all, let it be said that some students are so placed that it is next to impossible to get any use of the library under the present regulations. Some of them must work downtown in the afternoon, and others must spend some of their time on the athletic field, if Trinity is to have a base ball team. These men are thus prohibited from using the library at all in the afternoon, for it is closed every day at about half-past five o'clock.

Then the question presents itself, would it not be worth while to keep the library open at night?
Of course we are not in a position to know exactly how much extra expense this would entail, but we know that there must be very good reasons why it has not been open at night heretofore. It was suggested to us that if the library was open at night there would not be so much loafing in the different rooms of the dormitories and in halls by students; that anyone having a less amount of work to do one night than another could spend a portion of this time very profitably in the library. We do not think it would take anyone from his studies, for at times many have found that they could study best, with fewer interruptions, in just this place.

So there might be advanced countless reasons why the library should be opened at night or why it should not. At present, however, it is our conviction that if it should, the student body would derive much real benefit and pleasure from it, and that a larger number of students could enjoy its privileges than do now.

The "bears" among the student body are still making strenuous efforts to reduce the excessive prices on all books sold on the campus, but as the market is practically cornered, monopolistic prices continue on all articles of this kind, and they at present bid fair to suffer defeat.

THE CHRONICLE now has quite a number of subscribers among the alumni outside of North Carolina, and it does our heart good to know that so many graduates and former students are interested in matters that transpire on the campus. It is read as far east as Japan, as far west as Arizona, and as far south as Mexico. In fact, the sun never sets on Trinity's loyal alumni.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, who was born in 1809. Although his early life was spent among very rude surroundings, and he labored under serious educational disadvantages, few American citizens have attained to a nobler place in the national life than he.
On the 22d the nation celebrates the birthday of another of her great men, George Washington, who was also born in February.

FEBRUARY 22.

On the evening of February 22, as was before announced in THE Chronicle, Rev. J. E. White, D. D., of Atlanta, will deliver an address to the college community in the Craven Memorial Hall.

The particulars of the program have not been announced, but besides Dr. White's address, Rev.
T. A. Smoot, of Durham, will read Henry Lee's Oration on Washington. Other features have been arranged, which will be announced next week. A large attendance at the exercises is expected.

coach their ball team this spring Cornell's base ball team will come South for six games this year. Three will be with Vanderbilt University, one with Kentucky University, and the others with professional teams. Trinity has played games with Cornell several seasons.

Over at the University of Wisconsin the students are wearing bands of crepe on their arms in manifestation of grief at the proposed action of the faculty in attempting to do away with foot-

Beginning with next year the University of North Carolina will have recitations and lectures on Saturday.

Amherst College was the first institution in America to train its students physically as well as mentally. This was begun in 1859.

Andrew Carnegie has given $20,000 to the Randolph-Macon Woman's College on condition that the college raise a like amount. This will be done, and an additional dormitory and a large science hall will be built.
With these the college will then be one of the five largest female colleges of grade A in the United States.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Lexington, Feb. 7.—The many friends of the groom here and of the bride and groom in Newton, their home town, were taken quite by surprise when it was known within the past few days that Mr. Geo. F. Cochran, of The Dispatch, and Miss Lisette E. Yount, of Newton, were married on Dec. 26, 1905. Cupid in this case was not the "garrulous god" he generally is and the secret wedding was generally unknown to the public. Not until Saturday, when Mr. Cochran stated that he was going to Newton for his bride, were his friends here made wise. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran will make their home here. Mrs. Cochran is the daughter of the late Sheriff S. L. Yount, of Newton, and a most charming young woman. While he has been here comparatively a short time, Mr. Cochran is already well known and has made a large circle of friends. As news editor of The Dispatch he is that paper's latest and best acquisition. There is not a more promising young journalist in the State.—Charlotte Observer.

Mr. Cochran will be remembered by many as a frequent contributor to The Archive while he was in college here, and his productions were of such a nature that they invariably called forth comment. After completing the Sophomore year with the class of 1906 Mr. Cochran was connected with the Catawba News, on which paper he served until quite recently, when he became news editor of the Lexington Dispatch. So far as is known, at the present date, he is the first member of the class of 1906 to enter upon a matrimonial career. Their many friends wish for Mr. and Mrs. Cochran a happy and prosperous married life.

The many friends of Mr. Angier Duke will be glad to learn that he has rapidly recovered his strength since going to New York.

Dr. Paul Anderson, '97, has recently accepted the position of physician at the Morganton asylum. After graduation he taught in the Trinity Park School, then took a course in medicine at the University of Virginia, and since then has been doing hospital work in Philadelphia.

The Trinity Alumni in and near New York will give their annual banquet early in the spring. Dr. Kilgo is planning to be with them.

Mr. J. D. Batte, ex-'05, is now teaching in a preparatory school at Cornersville, Tenn.

Mr. R. T. Proctor, who was here in college during the collegiate year 1903-'04, is now teaching at the Webb School, at Bell Buckle, Tenn.

Mr. A. J. Bynum, ex-'05, is now proprietor of the Durham Skating Rink.

Mr. R. T. Howerton, Jr., ex-'07, is now in the undertaking business with his father in Durham. He is junior member of the firm of R. T. Howerton & Son.

Mr. T. H. Broome, ex-'06, is a successful farmer at Centerville, Tenn.

Mr. L. S. Daniels, ex-'06, is now deputy collector of customs at Manteo, N. C.

Mr. Ama R. McPhail, who was in college for a short time last fall as a member of the class of 1907, is at present teaching school at Clinton.

GOES TO COLUMBIA.

Mr. Julian Blanchard, who graduated last spring with the class of 1905, and who since that time has been instructor in drawing here, has resigned that position and has accepted the position of assistant instructor in drawing at Columbia University. In that capacity he will be an assistant to Dr. G. B. Pegram, son of Prof. W. H. Pegram, head of the department of chemistry here. In addition to his regular work Mr. Blanchard will take up the study of electrical engineering, which study he intends to pursue until he has completed the course offered at Columbia. During his college career Mr. Blanchard made an enviable reputation for himself and enjoyed the confidence and respect of all his fellow students. It is with regret that his many friends here see him leave, but they wish him great success in his new field of work. Mr. Blanchard left Thursday morning for his home in Hertford, where he spent Friday with his parents. From there he went direct to New York to enter upon his new duties.

PRINTING ALL THE NEWS.

A country exchange has this to say about printing all the news: "A man stopped us on the street the other day and said we did not publish all the news. We should say not. In the first place, there is someone else depending on us for a living. If we published all that happened we would be with the angels. In order to please the people we must print only the nice things said of them and leave the rest to gossip. Yes, it is a fact, we don't print all the news. If we did, wouldn't it be spicy reading! But it would be for one week only. The next week you would read our obituary and there would be a new face in heaven. All the news is all right when it is about the other fellow."—New York Tribune.

OLD RESOLUTIONS.

As it is always interesting to look into the past and see the happenings and life of those who lived then, a copy of resolutions passed by the Columbian Literary Society in 1863 will serve to give some small insight into the everyday life of the Trinity College community at that time.

Through the kindness of Miss M. E. Tuttle this time-stained scrap of paper came into the possession of THE CHRONICLE. It reads as follows:

TRINITY COLLEGE, COLUMBIAN }
HALL, May 26, 1863. }

At a meeting of the Columbian L. Society, held May 23d, the death of John W. Lee being announced, the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

Whereas, with feelings of the deepest sorrow, the Columbian L. Society has heard of the untimely death of one of her cherished members, Jno. W. Lee, of Fayetteville, N. C., who breathed his last on the bloody field of Chancellorsville, whilst battling for his country's rights; therefore,

Resolved, That by his death we have lost a worthy and zealous friend, the community of which he was a member deprived of a kind and benevolent citizen, and his relatives have sustained an irreparable loss.

Resolved, That while we would not intrude upon the sacredness of domestic grief, we tender our heartfelt sympathies to his bereaved family and would point them to that eternal source from which alone the wounded and bleeding heart can derive consolation.

Resolved, That we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and to the Fayetteville Observer, with a request for publication.

JAMES A. ARTHUR,
GEO. W. WOODWARD,
JOHN R. WEBSTER,
