

FIRST BASKET BALL GAME

Played Friday Night Before an Enthusiastic Audience.

WAKE FOREST WINS—SCORE 24 TO 10

Victory Gained by Visitors in First Half—Features of Game—Official Score—Trinity to Play at Wake Forest.

In the Angier Duke Gymnasium, before an enthusiastic audience, Wake Forest College defeated Trinity at basket ball last Friday night by a score of 24 to 10. The game was an unusually clean one from start to finish. Very few fouls were called and roughness was rare.

Trinity's defeat was due largely to the inexperience of the team, this being the first intercollegiate basket ball contest in which she has ever engaged. Lack of confidence on the part of the home team made itself very evident in the first half. In this half Wake Forest practically won the game. In the second, however, Trinity utilized the knowledge gained from the first and held down the visitors, scoring one point more than they.

The star playing of the Wake Forest team was done by Couch at right forward. His swiftness and splendid goal throwing practically won the game for his team. His mates, however, supported him well. Their passing was accurate and clean, and it was very seldom that a Trinity player was left uncovered.

The game began shortly after 8 o'clock, twenty minute halves, with a rest of ten minutes, being the order. Mr. Crozier, coach of the Wake Forest team, as referee and Mr. Foard, of Trinity, as umpire, rendered excellent service, in no place showing partiality.

Another game between the same teams has been arranged to be played at Wake Forest March 16. On that date Trinity expects to put up a good game and feels confident that the contest will be a close one.

The star of the game for Trinity was "Reddy" White as guard. He showed excellent knowledge of the game and played it vigorously. No point was scored on him, though he guarded Couch, Wake Forest's swift forward, in the second half. He showed both swiftness and aggressiveness, a splendid combination. At center Stem did very well. The forwards also played an excellent game, though their work was chiefly on the defensive, and the guards showed up strongly. Grant, who replaced Pugh in the second half, played good ball.

Wake Forest's line-up was as follows:

- Right forward, B. F. Couch (captain).
- Left forward, O. W. Ward.
- Center, K. Elliott.
- Left guard, T. H. Beverly.
- Right guard, E. Gore.

At the beginning of the second half J. Turner took Ward's position.

The line-up of Trinity was as follows:

- Right forward, G. Greever.
  - Left forward, C. R. Claywell.
  - Center, T. G. Stem (captain).
  - Right guard, C. R. Pugh.
  - Left guard, L. G. White.
- During the second half T. M. Grant was put in the game at left guard, White taking right guard. The following is the official score:

- Goals from field by Wake Forest—Couch, 5; Elliott, 3; Beverly, 1; Turner, 1.
- Goals from fouls—Couch, 4.
- Goals from field by Trinity—Claywell, 2; Greever, 1; Grant, 1.
- Goals from fouls—Stem, 4.
- Fouls by Wake Forest—Beverly, 1; Gore, 2; Turner, 4.
- Fouls by Trinity—Greever, 2; Claywell, 2; White, 2; Grant, 1.
- Referee—J. R. Crozier.
- Umpire—H. G. Foard.
- Scorer—Dr. L. L. Hendren.
- Timekeepers—W. J. Justus and M. E. Forrest.

Accompanying the team were the following students from Wake Forest: Mr. B. F. Keith, Jr., manager of the team; and Messrs. P. G. Sawyer and E. M. Morgan. The visitors returned to Wake Forest Saturday on the morning train.

SPOKE TWICE.

Dr. Mims Delivers Two Addresses in Charlotte on "Christian Hymnology" and "The Religious Element in Literature."

Dr. Edwin Mims, of the chair of English Literature, left the park Saturday morning for Charlotte. On Sunday he spoke twice there; in the morning, at eleven o'clock, at Trinity Methodist church, and in the afternoon, at five o'clock, at the Academy of Music.

His subject in the morning was "Christian Hymnology." He was a member of the joint committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which compiled the new hymn book, and he told of the meetings of the committee. Then, instead of delivering a lecture, he read a number of hymns from the new book and commented on them.

The Academy of Music was well filled with people to hear his address before the Young Men's Christian Association. He was introduced by Mr. George Stephens and spoke on "The Religious Element in Literature." Among the many things he said was the following: "Literature has a very important place in the Christian's life. We think of it primarily as a badge of culture, but it is not an intellectual study alone; it administers to the emotions and the will and touches the man at all points. He who leaves literature out of his life loses one of God's greatest means of training the world."

Mr. M. R. Long, who has been sick with a bad case of grip, is able to be out again. He left for his home at Roxboro Friday afternoon.

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL NEWS

The Grady Society Victorious in the Debate With the Calhouns.

THE CONTEST WAS VERY SPIRITED

Base Ball Schedule Is Announced—Contents of March Gazette—Committee to Select Class Pin for the Seniors—Personals.

BY E. S. MCINTOSH.

The debate between the Calhoun and Grady Literary Societies, announcement of which was made in last week's issue, came off Friday evening. Although the basket ball game between Trinity and Wake Forest took a good part of the crowd that would otherwise have attended the debate, the chapel where the debate was held was as full of people as it would comfortably hold. Besides the members of the college and Park School community there was quite a number of the people of Durham present—especially students of the graded school.

The debate was presided over by Mr. T. G. Vickers, of the Calhoun Society, with Mr. Joseph Burgess, of the Grady, as secretary. The committee of judges was composed of Prof. J. E. Pegram, principal of the West Durham Graded School; Rev. J. H. McCracken, pastor of the West Durham Methodist church; and Dr. E. C. Patterson, of West Durham. The question read: "Resolved, That labor unions have been and are beneficial to the laboring class of people."

The speakers on both sides had the question well in hand, and the contest was spirited from start to finish. The young men not only showed that they had put a great deal of hard work on their speeches, but also proved themselves capable of thinking on their feet, by their brilliant rejoinders. The decision of the judges, both as to the question and the speakers who are to go against the Durham High School, was rendered in favor of the Grady Society, whose representatives were Messrs. P. J. Kiker and C. N. Crawford, on the negative side of the question. The affirmative speakers, who were from the Calhoun Society, were Messrs. G. M. Daniel and J. E. Williams.

Immediately after the exercises in the chapel were over, a smoker was given in the New Dormitory, in suite 15, by the Calhoun Society, and refreshments and cigars were served. Here the loyal Calhouns gathered and enjoyed themselves very much for several hours.

The base ball schedule thus far arranged by the Park School team is as follows:

- March 16—Trinity, at Durham.
- March 19—A. and M., at Raleigh.
- March 22—Sharpe Institute, at Durham.
- April 6—Danville Military Institute, at Durham.
- April 9—Cluster Springs Academy, at Durham.

April 12—Bingham School, of Asheville, at Durham.

This schedule is in no wise complete, as the manager intends to get a number of additional games.

The March Gazette is out with the following table of contents:

- University Life in the Middle Ages, by Y.
- Fortune's Smiles, by Paul Kiker.
- Katie Mine (poem), by W. C. J.
- The Power of Woman, by ex-'06.
- Neighborhood Sketches, by Saul.
- Mr. Numa Crews went over to his home at Oxford Friday to visit relatives.
- During the first part of last week Prof. Aldridge was confined to his home with a severe cold which came near terminating in a case of grip. He has entirely recovered now.
- Mr. Greenway went to his home at Henderson Friday.
- Mr. Percy Dawson, who recently made a visit to his home at Littleton, has returned to school.
- Messrs. Perkins and Lyon were sick several days last week.

The Senior Class met last Wednesday and appointed a committee to select a design for a class pin. At the same meeting Mr. William Lilly was elected vice-president and Miss Mary Freeman secretary, to fill the vacancies that were made by the persons holding these offices leaving school.

IN NEW YORK.

Dr. Few Attends the Meeting of the Trinity College Alumni Association of New York City.

Dr. W. P. Few left Friday morning for New York City to attend the meeting of the Trinity College Alumni Association of that city, which was held on Saturday evening. This association was formed only last year, and this is the first meeting since its organization. There are quite a number of Trinity alumni in and around New York who belong to the association. It was the intention of President Kilgo to attend this meeting, but on account of sickness he was kept away. An account of this meeting will be given next week.

ARCHIVE'S STANDARD HIGH

It Takes an Eminent Place Among Southern College Magazines.

THE MARCH NUMBER REVIEWED

Cover Neat and Attractive—The Short Stories Original and Interesting—Poems Are Not Quite Up to the Fiction.

The March number of The Archive, which appeared promptly on the 1st, serves to call attention to the high place this magazine is taking among the college magazines of the South. This is recognized not only by those at home who are acquainted with other similar publications, but is noticed also by the exchanges which it receives. Nearly all of these speak of it in commendatory terms and designate it as a magazine that comes near toward approaching the ideal magazine of college journalism. Of course it has its defects and shortcomings, as all other things in this old universe do, but what with these it yet is of a high standard of excellence.

Especially true is this of the current issue. In the very first place it is attractive from the outside, and that alone covers a multitude of failings. In fact, it is the first impression that counts most, and if the reader gets this in a wrong way from the mechanical make-up he is more likely than less to judge the contents by the same standard, even if it should not be so judged. The cover is pleasing without any gaudy adornment; simple, neat, clean. On it is printed that masterful and delicate tribute of Avery's to the violet.

In the literary department the first article is a review of "Idle Comments," done with originality and with a true insight into the author's life and book—done, indeed, in a style not unworthy of a more experienced hand.

Anticipating quite a little, let us look at the exchange editor's criticisms and judge his own magazine, in respect to its short stories, in that light. He says that "interest should be sustained," and he also laments "the tendency among college writers" to use conventional, worn out plots—in both of which views we must agree. But going back it is found that with, perhaps, a single exception the four stories meet these requirements. The probable exception is "James Arnold's Blunder," as it ends as most love stories do (and why shouldn't they so end?)—"Jack gets Jill and naught goes ill." Each of the four is well written and is a credit to the writer.

The poems fall down as a whole when compared with the fiction, though they are above the par of most college verse. The versification, rhythm and so forth is all right and the little detraction comes from what seems to be a premature effect of the spring weather, when a young man's fancy, etc. (see Tenneyson).

GIVE THEM THE "T."

At one time the Athletic Association of Trinity College did not make any provision for "Ts" to be given athletes gaining distinction in different branches of athletic sports, but since the matter was taken in hand by this organization its ruling has been adequate and has given satisfaction generally. There is one point, however, which this ruling does not cover, and which has been too long neglected. This refers to managers of teams. Some institutions give to managers their letters, along with the members of the teams, and it should be so everywhere.

The winning of a "T" by a student is an honor to be sought for as much as the winning of distinction in any other phase of college life. In any institution it stamps a man as a representative of his college or university and the world at large looks upon him in that light. To the athlete this honor is granted as a reward for his hard work, his sacrifices, and his earnest efforts to advance, as he can, the best interests of his alma mater. Then why not too grant to the managers of teams this same honor? Does not the manager have as much, if not more, work to do than the individual members of the teams? To be sure, his is not work of the same nature, but it is work, nevertheless, and toward the same end.
The work of a base ball player, say, is to be done at a stated season of the year, but the work of the manager of a base ball team extends through the entire collegiate year, no less at one season than another. He must arrange a good schedule and attend to the hundreds of details incident to managing a team, and he must handle the money entrusted to his care judiciously and conservatively.
If these things are not well done, or if unfavorable or adverse circumstances work against a successful managership, the manager must bear all of the censure which may follow.

Does he not also sacrifice as much as any member of a team?

And is there anyone else who, as a general thing, has the interest of the team any more at heart, and in this way the interests of his college, than the manager? His very success depends largely upon the success of the team which he is managing.

So the managers of teams, as well as the individual members of teams, bend their energies to the unbuilding and advancing of the interests of their college and their work, and sacrifices and responsibilities should also receive recognition in this way. The Athletic Association would do well to take this matter up and give it due consideration.

THE GAME.

The basket ball game last Friday night was, from all standpoints, probably as satisfactory as any athletic contest which Trinity has engaged in since the beginning of this collegiate year.
Throughout, the game was characterized by clean play, fairness and gentlemanliness of conduct, yet withal it was a fast and spirited contest. This is the first trial for the home team since its organization, and it showed conclusively that it can put up a strong game.
The play in the second half, especially, illustrated this point, for the scores made by the respective teams during this period of the game show that the visitors were outplayed.

In the first half, however, Wake Forest easily outclassed Trinity and gave a splendid exhibition of strong team and individual work.
The interest manifested by the players and the spectators argues well for a continuation of the game in future years and predicts a permanent place for it in college athletics in the State.

The second contest of the series is to be played at Wake Forest, and Trinity's team is anxious to again try its mettle against the visitors.

Lajoie's Guide.

Napoleon Lajoie's Official Base Ball Guide for 1906 is the first Guide on the market this spring, and a copy has just been received at this office. Fandom has been awaiting the publication of this Guide with considerable interest, because it has been a matter of general curiosity as to just what kind of a publication the much talked of Lajoie Guide would be, inasmuch as this is the first time that a player actively engaged in the game has ever essayed the publication of a Guide. If there have been any doubters about the merits of this Guide they are going to be very agreeably surprised, as it is everything that has been promised for it and is sure to make a favorable impression with the great army of base ball fans. It is less technical than other publications of this character which have appeared in the past, but it contains everything of a technical nature that the average fan cares for, and besides this, it is teeming with interesting features which are noticeably absent in other base ball guides. The illustrations alone are well worth the price of the Lajoie Guide, because in addition to the regular stereotyped pictures which are always to be found in a base ball guide, this book is full of action pictures of the famous players of the present day, and there is a special group of pictures of the World's Series between the New York Giants and the Athletics which were taken especially for the Lajoie Guide. Besides illustrated articles on batting, bunting, pitching, and base running, the Guide contains the revised rules for 1906. It is for sale at all news stands. H.

"INSANITY OF SIN."

Dr. Cranford Uses This Subject at the Y. M. C. A.—Missionary Meeting Tomorrow Night—Rev. Mr. Leyburn to Speak.

In addressing the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening of last week Dr. Cranford, of the chair of Philosophy, spoke on the "Insanity of Sin." He read the fifth chapter of Mark, which is a picture of a truly insane man—a man whose dwelling was among the tombs, who could not be bound with chains or fetters, but who was wild. He spoke of the actions of this fellow, which were entirely disconnected, whereas we live in a world that is made up of connected things.

In a much truer and more vital sense is sin insanity. The sinner does things as strange as this man whom Mark speaks of, for sinning is acting here and now, the speaker said, as if the here and now was the only time, spending time as if it was isolated, connecting it with neither the past nor the future. There is no reason for sin, except in the sinner himself, and if he is forced to he will confess that it is foolish. The explanation of sin is a defect of some sort in the sinner.
Just as this insane man found himself wandering among the tombs, so will the sinner find himself a wreck, wandering in the midst of his own best, buried self, dwelling among the tombs of his lost opportunities. All sinners sooner or later come to this. Then his ambition will become dead; his hopes buried; he will lose respect for himself, and the respect of his fellows for him will be dead. As the insane man cut himself with stones, so the man who has gone wrong is cutting himself with the inevitable stones of remorse and rejection.
He is the only discordant note in the world; all other men will and must succeed. He is butting against the whole universe.

Dr. Cranford is a deep thinker and a man of strong, simple faith, and always makes a deep impression whenever he speaks before the Y. M. C. A.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The services tomorrow night will be in charge of Rev. E. R.
Leyburn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Durham.
This will be a missionary meeting. The delegates who went to Nashville will probably give a short account of the conference which they attended.

WITH THE COLLEGES.

students shall be eligible to university teams has been adopted recently by Yale, Princeton, and holders of a degree advanced

On Saturday night, March 10, at Atlanta, the first meeting of basket ball teams of the University of Georgia and the Georgia Tech ever held will take place.

Wofford College is to have a fine $25,000 library building.
Ten thousand of this sum has been received from a bequest of Miss Julia Smith, which she gave in memory of her father, who was for many years a member of the Wofford faculty. The remaining sum will be raised by beneficent friends of the college.

When Trinity's base ball team goes to Atlanta this spring to play the Tech team it will find that the base ball diamond of the Techs has been switched around some fifteen feet toward third base. This is one of the improvements that are being made on the diamond. Coach Heisman sees bright prospects for his ball team for this season, as he has some twenty-five men working for positions.

The spring training of the Washington American Base Ball Club will be made at the University of Virginia.

On last Saturday fencing meets were held between Cornell University and the Naval Academy, and between Columbia University and West Point. The Navy and West Point were the winners, the score in each meet being six bouts to three.

Physical Director Meylan has definitely taken up the scheme of forming a Rugby football team for Columbia University to fill up the gap in Columbia's sporting season which has been made by the abolition of the American game of football.

MR. FLOWERS HURT.

Arm Fractured While at Practice on the Ball Field—A Drawback to the Work of the Team.

While practicing on the athletic field last Friday afternoon Mr.
Fred Flowers sustained a painful injury. In running back in center field to catch a long drive he jumped and, losing his balance, fell, fracturing the small bones of his left forearm. Mr. Flowers is known to many as Trinity's crack center fielder on last year's base ball team. Although it was his first year in college, he easily made the team and made an enviable reputation as a center fielder. His work at the bat was also exceptional.

This accident comes at a particularly unfortunate time, the weather just now being at its best for base ball practice, and is to be deplored, since Mr. Flowers, within the last few weeks, has been working hard at his position. It is hoped that the injury will not be of such a nature that he will be kept out of any of the games.

Health Not Impaired by Exercise.

Dr. William G. Anderson, director of the Yale gymnasium, has obtained the data to prove that the health of a student after graduation is not impaired by his collegiate athletic training. Records were collected of 761 athletes who competed in intercollegiate events and won their "Y's" on the eleven, the nine, the crew, and the track team between 1855 and 1904. We quote from his report: "These investigations show that the athlete possesses, as part of his equipment at graduation, the probability of better health and a longer life than the man who does not realize the priceless worth of a sound mind in a sound body."—College Top-

FRESHMAN DEBATE.

To Be Held March 24 on the Prohibition Question in North Carolina.

In addition to the Sophomore Debate, which will come off some time in April this spring, there is to be a contest between members of the Freshman Class in this line of work. The date for this debate has been set for March 24. The query that is to be discussed is as follows:

"Resolved, That the prohibition of the sale or manufacture of intoxicating beverages (except for medicinal purpose) in the State of North Carolina by a constitutional amendment is preferable to the method of allowing each county or community to vote upon the question of prohibition."

Four speakers have been appointed from each of the two literary societies, and they have been arranged on the question as follows:

Affirmative.	Negative.
Kilpatrick (C.), White (H.), Kiker (H.), Briggs (C.), Templeton (C.) Herbin (H.), Livingston (H.) Hobgood (C.),

On the first speech each man will be allowed eight minutes, and on the rejoinder four. The Y. M. C. A. hall is the place where the debate will be held.

Several Made in the Base Ball Games as Last Given—Team to Play at Charlotte and Concord.

As it was announced when the base ball schedule for this season was first given, several changes have been made in it. The revised list contains twenty-two games. The changes that have been made are as follows:

The first game with the A. and M. at Durham will be April 4th, instead of the 30th.

The game with the Kentucky State University, scheduled for the 23d, will not be played.

The second game with Clemson will be at Charlotte, instead of Winston-Salem. The game here will not be played.

A second game with Davidson will be played at Concord on the 5th of May, this being the last of the season.

With these changes the total number of exhibitions on the home diamond is only eleven.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Met Thursday Evening—Papers Read by Bryan and Templeton—Refreshments to Be Served.

The Historical Society met at its usual time on last Thursday evening in the history recitation room in the Duke Building, the president, Dr. Bassett, presiding. Before the regular program was entered upon a very important matter was brought up and acted upon by the society. This was in regard to the society's having somewhat of a banquet. It was decided that at the next regular meeting on the first Thursday evening in April light refreshments be served to the members of the society. The meeting will be held at the usual place and no sort of formalities will be observed on the occasion. The literary part of the program will consist of quite a number of short papers by different members on local historical incidents and celebrities of their respective home communities. A committee on arrangements was appointed composed of Prof. W. S. Lockhart and Messrs. Gilmer, Korner, Jr., and J. M. Templeton, Jr., who will have charge of preparations.

After the transaction of this business two papers were read. The first was by Mr. W. A. Bryan, of the Junior Class, on the great awakening of religion in America, which started at Northampton, Mass., in 1734, through the preaching of Jonathan Edwards. Mr. J. M. Templeton, Jr., then traced at some length the career of early Methodism in North Carolina. Both of these papers were well prepared and showed a careful study of the respective subjects.

After the reading was ended Dr. Bassett presented the relics and curios which he had received for the museum since last meeting. A partial list of these has already been given in THE CHRONICLE. One, however, not before mentioned that is worthy of note is an invitation to the Trinity College "Commencement Party" given complimentary to the class of 1887. The invitation is quite fancy in comparison with the kind now sent out, and shows how customs and tastes change.
