NO GAMES WITH LAFAYETTE

The Condition of the Grounds Such That the Teams Could Not Play.

LAFAYETTE'S STREAK OF HARD LUCK

Game Scheduled With Wake Forest for Yesterday Was Also Canceled—Disappointment to Many—Account of Today's Game Next Week.

The two games of base ball which were scheduled for Thursday and Friday of last week with Lafayette College, of Easton, Pa., could not be played on account of the rain, which fell almost continuously during those two days. There was great disappointment among the entire student body that these contests could not be pulled off, for all were anxious to see what Trinity's team would do for the Pennsylvanians. The weather conditions completely monopolized the attention of the students up till Thursday and all hoped against hope almost that the sun would come out and dry off the grounds enough for at least one of the games. But the weather-god was unpropitious, and to have played a game either Thursday or Friday would have required seven-league boots.

The Lafayette boys not only had bad luck here, but it followed in their wake on their entire Southern trip this season. In North Carolina they had six games scheduled and only one could be played and this one on grounds that were in no suitable condition. The first two games were with A. and M. at Raleigh, which were scheduled for Saturday, the 24th, and Monday, the 26th, neither one of which could be played. Tuesday, the 27th, and Wednesday, the 28th, were dates with Carolina. The first of these was played and resulted in a score of five to three in favor of Carolina. This was the only game played within the borders of the State. The Lafayette team left Durham on Friday afternoon for Washington, where on Saturday they were to play Georgetown University.

The game with Wake Forest, which was scheduled to be played here yesterday, was canceled, as Wake Forest does not play under the S. I. A. A. rules. Since Trinity cannot play with teams which do not abide by these rules the game had to be called off, much to the disappointment of lovers of the game.

As we go to press a game is being played with Davidson College on the Hanes Athletic Field. An account of this game cannot be given till next week's issue.

At the coming General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, which will be held at Birmingham, Ala., in May, the various educational institutions of the church will make exhibits. Trinity's exhibit will be through the means of pictures of the college buildings and campus and copies of the various publications, together with other suitable material. The arrangements for this are being looked after by a committee of the faculty.

SPECIAL PROGRAM.

This Will Be Given at Meeting of Historical Society Thursday Evening—Light Refreshments to Be Served.

The regular monthly meeting of the Historical Society will be held Thursday evening in the History Room, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. This will be somewhat of a special meeting, or rather the program will be somewhat unusual. No special subjects have been assigned, but a number of the members have prepared short papers on local celebrities or local historical incidents, and these will be read. Another feature of the meeting will be the serving of light refreshments to the members who are present. The affair will, however, be informal and all the members who attend are promised a very enjoyable time. Only those belonging to the society are invited to the meeting. Each member is requested to be on hand.

BASE BALL MEN DINED.

Coach Stocksdale Gives Enjoyable Dinner to Older Members of Trinity's Team—Names of Those Present.

On last Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Stocksdale, in Durham, an elaborate dinner was given to several of the older members of Trinity's base ball team, and the occasion proved to be, in every respect, thoroughly enjoyable and one long to be remembered. After a substantial repast had been served a portion of the evening was given over to baseball talk, and many pleasant experiences were recalled and related. Memories of Trinity's teams also occupied a share of the conversation, as did her present and future outlook in this line of athletics. Coach Stocksdale in an entertaining way related to his guests several interesting accounts of his varied experiences in league baseball in North Carolina and in other States.

Throughout the evening was spent most pleasantly, and those who were present are lavish with their expressions of appreciation and praise for the host and hostess. The members of the team, guests of the occasion, were: Captain W. M. Smith, Messrs. Paul Webb, W. J. Justus, F. R. Wrenn, and Manager C. B. Arthur.

Last Saturday night the weekly prayer meeting was held at the Woman's Building, the general subject being "The Women of the Bible." Under this head Miss Mitchell Waddill read a very interesting paper on Ruth. Miss Parker presented the life of Hannah and Miss Goodson discussed the life of Esther. These papers were well gotten up and were presented in an interesting manner. The evening proved of much value to all.

Mr. L. A. Niven, of the A. and M. College, of Raleigh, who was on his way to Greensboro, spent Friday afternoon and night with Mr. W. V. McRae.

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL NEWS

Chief Marshal and Chief Manager of Commencement Appoint Aides.

THE SECOND BASEBALL TEAM ORGANIZED

Mr. Z. E. Barnhardt Conducts Wednesday Evening Service of Y. M. C. A.—Two Games Arranged With Cary High School—Quarterly Examinations.

BY E. S. MCINTOSH.

The chief marshal and chief manager of commencement, who were elected by the Calhoun and Grady Literary Societies a few weeks ago have made their appointments of assistants. Chief Manager H. M. Poe, of the Calhoun Society, has appointed the following sub-managers: Messrs. D. V. Sessoms, B. S. Hurley, N. M. Thornton, E. S. McIntosh, Willis Perkins, and W. O. Broom.

The sub-marshals who have been appointed by Mr. Clyde N. Crawford, chief marshal, of the Grady Society, are: Messrs. J. C. Fuller, L. E. Whaley, J. W. Ward, Jas. L. Lockhart, Paul J. Kiker, and H. W. Tuttle.

The condition of Mr. D. V. Sessoms, who was taken to Watts Hospital several weeks ago with a severe case of pneumonia, is no longer critical. He is recovering as fast as could be expected and will, in a short time, be able to be out again.

The meeting of the Park School Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening was conducted by Mr. Z. E. Barnhardt, of the college. His talk was greatly enjoyed by those who heard him.

Two games of base ball have been arranged by Manager Murph with Cary High School. The first will be played at Cary on April 21st, and the second at Durham on the 28th. Both of these games will doubtless be close and interesting and a large crowd should be out to see the one on the home grounds.

Mr. J. E. Williams is back from his home at Dunn, where he has been spending a week, attending the marriage of his sister.

The third quarterly examinations began yesterday and will continue through this week.

The second base ball team of the Park School was organized last week, and Mr. Phillip Arrow-smith was elected captain.

SENIOR RECEPTION.

To Be Held in Banquet Hall of New Dormitory Tomorrow Evening.

Tomorrow evening, beginning at eight o'clock sharp, the Senior Class will hold an informal reception in the banquet hall of the New Dormitory, and, from what can be learned, it promises to be a thoroughly enjoyable occasion. This is perhaps the first affair of this nature given by any of the classes and, it is hoped, will be highly profitable in every way. The committee in charge of all arrangements requests that Seniors be present by the time above named.

INVITED TO SPEAK.

Dr. Kilgo Will Deliver a Commencement Address at Vanderbilt and Dr. Mims at Elizabeth College.

President Kilgo has been invited by Vanderbilt University, of Nashville, Tenn., to be one of the speakers for this year's commencement. He will preach the commencement sermon.

Dr. Mims has also received an invitation to deliver the annual literary address before the students of Elizabeth College, of Charlotte, on the evening of May 22d. Both of these invitations have been accepted.

The commencement address for Vanderbilt will be delivered by Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, of New York. It will be remembered that he is also to make the literary address at commencement here this year.

SOPHOMORES MEET.

Mr. W. R. Grant Elected Captain of Class Base Ball Team—To Organize Basketball Team Also.

The Sophomore Class met Saturday at 12 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. hall and transacted quite a little business at this meeting. The most important thing, perhaps, was the election of a captain for the class base ball team for this spring. Mr. W. R. Grant was chosen to fill this position, and he will at once proceed to form a team to represent the class. There was also a committee appointed, consisting of Messrs. Stanbury, Aiken, and R. M. Gantt, to organize a basketball team.

There was some discussion at this meeting, also, in regard to the class pin, but nothing definite was the outcome. It is probable that the pin, however, will be changed, as the design which was adopted last year is not satisfactory to all the members.

Tomorrow morning the class will have its picture made by the new photographers of the city, Messrs. Whitted and Boddie, if the weather is suitable.

THE TEAM'S SOUTHERN TRIP

Number of Games to Be Played in Other States.

WHAT COACH STOCKSDALE SAYS OF IT

Team Will Be Gone Till the 17th—Stocksdale's Coaching Record—Has Put Out Five Winning Teams—Account of Games to Be Given.

On next Thursday the base ball team will start on its Southern trip and will be away from Durham until April 17. All of this time, however, will not be spent in States south of North Carolina, for the team will go direct to Richmond to play Harvard, on the 14th, after the game with Clemson College, at Calhoun, S. C., on the 12th.

The first game of the trip will be played in Atlanta with the Georgia Tech. team, on Friday, and the second contest will be with the same team on the day following. On the 9th and 10th games will be played with Mercer University at Macon, Ga., and the next day the team will play the University of Georgia at Athens. Next in order Clemson will be played, then Harvard, as stated above, the team finally returning to Durham by way of Raleigh, where a game with the A. and M. College will be played on the 16th. A look at this trip readily convinces one that the team will have to work hard to make a creditable showing for the teams to be played are some of the best in the South. The Georgia Tech. team last year put up an especially strong game against the home team.

Mr. Fred Flowers, whose left arm was injured some time ago, will probably be in shape to accompany the team, at his old position in center field, and the remaining positions will be played by those who have occupied them in former games. Coach Stocksdale will have charge of the team, as usual, and will be with it throughout the entire trip.

THE BOOTBLACKS.

Among the many necessities of civilization the bootblack has his place and in all well-ordered communities has rendered himself well-nigh indispensable through the nature of his services. In such communities, however, the attempt is always made to keep him within his proper sphere and to regulate by law when and where he shall ply his trade.

No less on the college campus than in other places have college authorities had to deal with this problem and prohibit bootblacks from wandering promiscuously through the dormitories. At Trinity this has been well attended to and no trouble is experienced from this source during the greater part of the week. The janitors of the several dormitories, when they are in the building, have kept them, on the whole, clear of the little artists of the box and brush. On Sundays, however, when the former are absent, the halls often fairly swarm with them, and from seven o'clock in the morning until the morning meal is over, students going to breakfast are vigorously set upon with cries of "Shine!" "Shine!" by the eager troop, of all sizes and shades, which ever expectantly awaits a victim.

When this is over, in a business-like way each bootblack starts and knocks assiduously upon every door in the building in turn, in an endeavor to find someone who has perchance been neglected.

Thus it happens that during the space of one hour some two dozen or more of these young denizens belabor a single door, to the great annoyance of the occupant of the room. If he be not in, the door is, in many cases, opened without hesitation, the desire for booty overcoming all others in the small mind of the energetic young shoe-shiner. If it happens that one of these does not know fully the graveness of the wrong committed in removing anything from a room, it is possible that articles may be lost and the janitors unjustly held responsible for them.

In order to avoid this, and to keep them from becoming nuisances, students rooming in the various buildings should allow all bootblacks to frequent only the piazzas and adjacent grounds of the dormitories, and thus do away with the motley little band which loafs noisily in the halls of the dormitories on each Sunday morning.

PARK SCHOOL CONCERT.

On next Friday evening, as was before announced, at the Conservatory of Music, there will be a concert given for the benefit of the Trinity Park School Athletic Association, and much enjoyment and a very pleasant evening is promised all who expect to be present.

Here is an excellent opportunity for all to lend their aid to a worthy cause and help out materially the management of the Park School base ball team. All of the members of the college community realize that to a greater or less degree the Park School games are overshadowed by Trinity's contests with other colleges, and hence there is not always a large enough crowd out to the former games to make them profitable from a financial standpoint. This season new outfit for the entire team has been provided, and to offset this additional expense the management is forced to make many extra efforts.

Everyone should patronize this entertainment and do all possible to save the management of the Park School team from coming out behind at the end of this season.

From present indications it seems that the number of base ball games to be played on the home diamond will be smaller this year than for several years preceding. The management might have scheduled more games, but weather conditions and other unforeseen forces have caused the original schedule to be changed to such an extent that it bears at present but little resemblance to the one first given out. In very few years before, however, has the student body taken a more active interest in the team, nor has the team had a better opportunity for making a good record. If possible, there should be more than five more games played on the home grounds before the season closes.

The action recently taken by the University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia for purifying their athletics cannot be too highly commended and appreciated by other colleges which are striving toward this end in the South. To take a stand of this kind any institution has to sacrifice much at first, yet it augurs much for the future of college athletics and speaks well for the two universities.

WITH THE COLLEGES.

Dressed in caps and gowns the class of 1906, of Emory College, of Oxford, Ga., celebrated Arbor Day Thursday by planting a class tree. The class numbers thirty-two.

The trustees of Johns Hopkins University are planning to move the University from its present location in the heart of Baltimore to its new site in the suburbs of that city. The sum of $1,000,000 will be borrowed to erect such buildings as are absolutely necessary, and others will be added as funds become available.

At the annual meeting of the Harvard Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, which will occur the day following commencement day, President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton, will deliver the oration. The poet will be George Cabot Lodge, class of 1895 of Harvard.

Diplomas will be given to fifty-one new graduates of the Princeton Theological Seminary on May 8th.

Yale University now has a total number of 171 instructors of all kinds.

At the University of Michigan the annual oratorical contest was won for the first time by a Japanese student.

The Georgetown and Annapolis Naval Academy crews will meet each other on the Severn River Saturday.

Princeton has suggested that a rifle association be formed among the larger universities of the North.

Football agitation at the University of Wisconsin has reduced athletics there to almost nothing. The base ball team practically does not exist and the track team is unorganized.

There is a movement on foot now to introduce the game of Rugby football into New York State. Among those interested is Gordon Brown, the former Yale football captain, and member of the All-American team for several years. It is possible that Columbia University may put out a team next fall.

Latest statistics show that the preceptorial system at Princeton is meeting with much success.

On March 30, at New Haven, Conn., Harvard was victorious in the Yale-Harvard debate. This victory gives Harvard nine of the thirteen decisions since the contest was established. Rev. Robert Stuart MacArthur, who is to speak here at commencement, was one of the judges of the debate.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Dr. Ernest T. Bynum, 1892, is Professor of History at the University of North Carolina.

Mr. S. J. Durham, 1892, is in the cotton mill business at Bessemer City, N. C.

Rev. T. A. Smoot, 1895, is pastor of Main Street Church of Durham.

Mr. J. C. Gibbs, 1897, has recently begun the practice of law in town.

Mr. W. F. Howland, a former Trinity student, is superintendent of the Durham Ice Co. While in college he was well known in base ball circles as one of Trinity's best catchers.

Mr. A. B. Duke, 1905, has recently been elected a director of the Durham and Southern Railroad, and of the Fidelity Bank of Durham.

Rev. G. T. Rowe, 1895, who is now stationed at Asheville as a member of the Western North Carolina Conference, is to deliver the annual sermon at the commencement of Rutherford College on May 22.

Mr. Jack Gibbons, '98, is not with the Standard Oil Co., as was stated in these columns before. He is now in the brokerage business at Hamlet, N. C.

Mr. C. L. Hornaday, 1902, is professor of English in Trinity Park School.

Mr. B. B. Nicholson, '90, has a large legal practice at Washington, N. C. He is a member of the board of trustees.

Mr. V. C. Matthews, ex-'08, is in business at Bradley's Store, N. C.

The Commons Dining Hall at Yale, which is now feeding 1,050 students, gives employment to 28 students, who in minor branches of service partly earn their way through college.

The North Carolina Christian Advocate says that Trinity High School, conducted at Old Trinity, Randolph county, is prospering under Headmaster J. T. Henry. They now have one hundred and seventy-five students, the largest number since the college was moved.

The Baltimore and Richmond Christian Advocate has the following to say about a former Trinity student:

Rev. W. B. Lee, 1891, is President of Granberry College, Brazil.

Mr. W. A. Bivins, '02, is teaching at Spencer.

Mr. R. B. Crawford, '95, is a successful hardware dealer in Winston.

Mr. Plummer Stewart, class of 1894, is practicing law in Charlotte.

Dr. John F. Crowell, formerly President of Trinity College and for a number of years a resident of North Carolina, who has been actively identified during the past five or six years with the official, scientific and educational life of the national capital, has announced his withdrawal from connections here to return to New York to join the editorial staff of The Wall Street Journal. In the capacity of commercial expert Dr. Crowell prepared for the Industrial Commission the sixth in its series of nineteen volumes on the Marketing and Distribution of Farm Products (1900), which has since been a standard work of reference on the subject. As internal commerce expert in the Bureau of Statistics, Treasury (later Commerce and Labor) Department, he organized and developed the present system of collecting domestic trade statistics.—News and Observer.

chance to win a majority of the games on the trip?" he was asked during an interview with a member of THE CHRONICLE staff.

"I see no reason why we should not," he replied. "Every indication points that way. Of course, we have a difficult trip and will go up against some strong teams, but we are better fitted for the work this year, perhaps, than last year.

CAPT. W. M. SMITH.

Taken collectively, the team is better balanced in every way than any team we have had and plays good, steady ball. In fielding it is equally as good and in base running is much better than the team of last season. At the bat the improvement is noticeable; and, so far, the stick work has been much stronger all around. The very inclement weather has prevented as full a development of team work as might have been, but with several practices this work can be accomplished.

"Behind the bat the catchers are in better shape than last year. The pitching on the average will be as good. The infield is faster and is playing more satisfactory ball. In the outfield, however, we are not quite as strong. Still, as I said above, with the team as it is now, we have every reason to believe that it will make a splendid record on its Southern trip."

Coach Stockdale knows the game thoroughly, having been prominently connected with base ball in some of the largest leagues in the country, and from these remarks those who take an interest in the team may form an idea of what it will do. This is the fifth year that Mr. Stockdale has acted in this capacity here, and by his earnest work and thoroughly meritorious manner of handling Trinity's teams has won for himself the unbounded confidence and respect of the student body. Be it said to his credit, that during this time Trinity has each year put forth a winning team, which has won, on the average, four-fifths of the games played. After returning from the trip with the team Coach Stockdale will be in Durham until about May 1. Then he will, in all probability, go to Memphis, Tenn., where he will pitch, during the coming summer months, on the Southern League baseball team of that city.

The team goes forth this year under the efficient management of Mr. C. B. Arthur, with Mr. W. M. Smith as its able captain.

It is not definitely known as yet whether any of the students will go along with it or not. THE CHRONICLE will be represented, however, and a full report of all the games will be published.

TO SUPPORT HINOHARA.

Hay Street Church of Fayetteville Will Raise the Three Hundred Dollars Required for This Purpose.

The following clipping from the Fayetteville Observer of recent date will be of interest to Trinity students and alumni:

"On yesterday Rev. Mr. Tuttle presented the matter of supporting a native missionary in Japan. Three hundred dollars are required to support one. Two hundred and ten dollars of the amount has been secured. The balance will be forthcoming. Mr. Tuttle has decided to notify Dr. Lambeth, Nashville, Tenn., that Hay Street church will support Rev. Z. Hinohara, the young man who visited Hay Street church two weeks ago."

MUCH IMPROVED.

Marked Improvement in the Condition of Miss Oldham, Who Is Now at the Watts Hospital.

The many friends of Miss Mattie Oldham, of the Sophomore Class, will learn with pleasure that at last reports before going to press her condition is much improved. Dr. R. H. Battle, of Raleigh, however, remained in the city last night, in order to be present if she should suffer a relapse.

During the past week Miss Oldham has been in a very critical condition, as the result of an operation performed by Dr. Battle, nose and throat specialist, the previous week. Her condition has been such that she was removed to Watts Hospital.

Mr. Alexander Oldham, of Caribontion, N. C., who has been here for several days at the bedside of his daughter, on account of her marked improvement, left for his home yesterday.

"LEX SCRIPTA."

A Small Volume, With This Title, Has Been Published by Prof. Mordecai for His Law Students.

The following clipping from the April South Atlantic Quarterly will be noted with much interest by our readers:

"Dean Samuel Mordecai, of the Trinity College School of Law, has published a handy little volume entitled 'Lex Scripta,' and intended as a pocket manual for the law students of Trinity College. It is a condensed summary of the most important acts of Parliament governing the subjects treated of in First and Second Blackstone, with reference to the statutes of North Carolina covering the same ground.

"This handy volume of condensed legal information will undoubtedly be of much service in the field it covers to practicing attorneys, as well as to students of the law."

THE LEGAL PROFESSION.

Prof. McIntosh, of the Law School, Speaks on This Subject at the Y. M. C. A.—Prof. Green Tomorrow.

The subject of Prof. A. C. McIntosh's address before the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening of last week was the opening in the legal profession for college men. The attendance was not as large as it probably would have been if announcement of his subject had been made.

He read a portion of the 22d chapter of Proverbs, emphasizing especially this verse: "Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men." The prospects of a man's success in the legal profession—or in any other profession, for that matter—depends, he said, on himself. He must actively, earnestly and zealously enter into his work, with diligence for his watchword, and then the promise of his success in law will be good.

After referring to the fact that it is said that the legal profession is crowded (a fact which cannot be denied), he said that the question as to whether a man succeeded or not depended on which of two ways he looked at the profession. In the first place, if he learned only enough to pass the Supreme Court examination, with this narrow view, he might expect to fail. But if, on the other hand, he studied the law to know the law; studied it to make it a science, and not a trade, then there was no reason why he should fail. And the range of the study is unlimited, for so long as there are human wrongs to redress the lawyer has "fresh fields and pastures new." There is always room at the top.

A wrong conception is often got from some men who are in the profession, and it is said sometimes that a man cannot be a lawyer and be a Christian. It is true, he acknowledged, that there are tricks and technicalities in the profession, but certain men are responsible for these, and not the profession itself. It should not be judged by its most unworthy men.

The law is a profession of great power and trust. The lawyer is intimate with all phases of life, and he is continually being called to positions of ability and trust. The majority of our Presidents, Senators, Congressmen, and various other public men, have been lawyers.

The lecture as a whole was a splendid manifestation of the legal profession as presented by a man whose every utterance was backed by his own career. Whoever failed to hear it—and especially those who are looking to law as a profession—were unfortunate. The above synopsis, though giving some of his ideas, is very incomplete and does not do Prof. McIntosh's address justice. In fact, a proper appreciation required the careful hearing of what he said in full.

PROF. GREEN TOMORROW.

The address tomorrow evening will be given by Prof. E. J. Green, principal of the Edgemont Graded School. Mr. Green is a graduate of Trinity and is a good speaker. He should be heard by a full house.

Tribunal—J. A. Pitts, chairman; L. B. Pendergraph, D. B. Phillips, and S. A. Richardson, clerk.

The others were installed at the previous meeting.

Mr. Z. A. Rochelle, a member of the Senior Class, has accepted a position with Swift & Company, of Chicago, the great meat packers. He will begin at the bottom of the business and work himself up. This position will not, however, prevent Mr. Rochelle from graduating, as he will not enter upon his duties till June 15.

LOCAL.

See W. A. Slater Co. for your Panama hats.

Mr. Will Minor, of Oxford, visited Miss Julia Minor last night.

The April South Atlantic Quarterly came from the press yesterday.

Mrs. D. W. Newsom has been visiting at her old home at Whiteaker's.

Mr. J. G. Koener, of Kernersville, visited his son, Mr. G. Koener, Sunday.

Prof. W. F. Gill was unable to meet his classes last Friday on account of illness.

Mr. A. B. Stainback, of the Senior Class, was sick with grippé for several days last week.

Mr. Z. E. Barnhardt filled the pulpit of Carr Methodist church, of East Durham, Sunday morning.

Mr. W. B. Love, of Chapel Hill, paid a visit to his brother, Mr. F. S. Love, on Thursday of last week.

The Archive did not appear yesterday, as was expected, there being some delay by the printers in getting it out.

Mr. Cyrus Q. Stewart, who has been spending some time at his home in Union county, returned to college Saturday of last week.

Mrs. A. A. Glasson, of Troy, New York, has arrived on the park for a visit to her son, Dr. W. H. Glasson. She will spend the spring with him.

Mr. R. G. Baldwin, of the Senior Class, leaves tomorrow morning for New York City, in company with Mr. A. B. Duke. He expects to be away about a week.

Mr. C. E. Phillips did not return directly from the Y. M. C. A. Convention, which he attended, at Charleston, but stopped over for a number of days at his home near Salisbury.

Mr. Luke Brothers, of the Junior Class, who underwent an operation at Watts Hospital several weeks ago, left the hospital last Thursday, having almost entirely recovered.

The regular meeting of the President's Class Meeting was held Sunday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. President Kilgo was unable to be present, but Dr. Mims read a letter from him.

Mr. L. T. Singleton spoke on Monday evening of last week at the young people's meeting of the First Baptist church, and on Sunday evening preached at Carr Methodist church, East Durham.

Mr. Earle W. Webb, who was a student here from 1897 till 1901, and who is now practicing law in New York City, visited his brother, Mr. Paul Webb, yesterday. He left today on the morning train for Morehead City, where he will spend some time.

Mr. L. P. Howard, of Edenton, arrived on the campus yesterday and expects to be here for several days. His many friends are glad to know that Mr. Howard has been meeting with much success in his field since taking up postgraduate work in the North Carolina Conference.

Mr. F. S. Love, of the Sophomore Class, mention of whose illness was made in last week's issue, was taken to the hospital last Tuesday, but was able to leave there on Friday. Though able to be at his work again, he is still very weak from the attack of malaria which he had. In consequence of this he will not be able to compete in the Sophomore debate and he has resigned his place thereon. Mr. Love regrets very much that such a step had to be taken, but it was done at the advice of his physician. Mr. C. C. Barnhardt has been appointed to fill his place on the debate.

MOOT COURT MEETS.

April Session of Supreme Court of College—Mr. J. C. Biggs Present—Meeting Tonight to Clear the Docket.

The Supreme Court of the college convened last night and a number of the cases on docket were disposed of. Dean Mordecai presided as Chief Justice and Professors McIntosh and Reade and Mr. J. C. Biggs sat as associate judges. Decisions were handed down in nearly all of the cases argued.

Tonight at 7:30 the Court will again meet in the faculty room and the remaining cases on docket will be disposed of.

Is often neglected by those who ought to heed it. We know a few things about and they are to the point. As we have made it our specialty for so many years, it must be admitted that we are well posted on buying because we never receive complaints about anything purchased here. That's pretty good proof, we think, that people get their money's worth. Be wise and take a walk to our establishment.
