

NOUGHT-SIX CELEBRATES

Informal Reception and Class Banquet Held Last Wednesday.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION THROUGHOUT

Numerous Toasts Responded to in Happy Vein—Those Present—Size of Present Senior Class Is Very Large.

On last Wednesday evening, in the banquet hall of the New Dormitory, the members of the Senior Class held an informal reception and class banquet, and from every standpoint the occasion was thoroughly enjoyable.

The hall was tastefully decorated in the class colors of purple and gold, the chandeliers being especially pretty, and many class and college flags adorned the walls. Around the central post the tables were grouped so as to form a perfect heptagon, and in the subdued light they presented a beautiful appearance. On each of them, at the center, there was a large bowl of luxuriant violets, symbolic of the college colors, arranged in large bunches, each of which was tied with dainty ribbons of the class colors, which stretched away to the plate of each guest. Here were to be found place cards beautifully ornamented with hand-painted violets and containing a fit and witty verse about the respective occupants of the various places. Around the bowls of violets were arranged, star-fashion, the souvenirs of the occasion, which were handsome nought-six pennants.

Places for fifty guests had been provided, this year's Senior Class being the largest in the history of Trinity, and with only a few exceptions the entire class was present. Dr. W. P. Pew, dean of the college, and Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Mims acted as chaperones, and by their presence added much to the enjoyment and pleasure which was, throughout, the order of the evening. After the serving of an elegant repast, Mr. H. G. Foard acted as toastmaster, numerous interesting and appropriate toasts were responded to, Mr. W. M. Smith, president of the class, spoke first, in an enjoyable way, about the class and its work during the year and the spirit shown by it in all that it had done. "Nought-Six" was responded to by Mr. C. J. Harrell in an especially happy vein, followed by Mr. S. B. Underwood, who spoke of The Archive. For THE CHRONICLE Mr. Foard said a few things, and after him Mr. T. M. Stokes responded to the toast, "The Ladies." Miss Katherine Herring, as authoress of the verses on the place cards, then read them collectively, provoking much merriment and good natured comment thereby. The class prophecy was read by Mr. C. B. Markham, and with a masterly hand he settled the fate of its different members, however quite contrary to some of their wishes. After him Drs. Pew and Mims

NO SPECIAL TRAIN.

Mr. Pugh Unable to Obtain One to Richmond for Saturday—Special Rates Secured, However.

On account of the heavy freight traffic at this season it has been impossible for Mr. C. R. Pugh, who has had the matter in hand, to secure a special train to carry students to the Harvard-Trinity game on next Saturday, at Richmond. Of course this will be a great disappointment to many, but it has been through no lack of effort on the part of those interested in getting the train.

The following reduced rates, however, may be secured for those who wish to go anyway: For a party of fifty or more, $4.50 round trip; for any number between ten and fifty, $6.45. All who expect to make this trip will see Mr. Pugh by Wednesday noon at the latest.

spoke felicitously of the class—what it had accomplished, its relation to the college, and what it had yet to accomplish, and brought forth many valuable thoughts. All present then assembled in the reception rooms of the building, where the class song, the words of which were composed by Mr. F. W. O'Bar, was sung and the class and college yells were given. Here ended the fixed program of the evening, the remainder of the time, until departure, being spent most pleasantly.

This is the first occasion of its kind to be given by the classes, and is one which will long linger in the minds of the members of the class of nineteen hundred and six as one of the most pleasantly and profitably spent evenings during their college career.

DAVIDSON, 2; TRINITY, 1

Ten Innings Were Necessary to Decide The Game April 3.

CLEMENT'S FATEFUL ACCIDENTAL BALK

Anderson's Pitching, for Davidson, Superb—Justus Knocks a Three-Bagger and Scores Only Run—The Official Score.

In an exciting ten-inning pitchers' game Trinity was defeated on the home grounds April 3, by the Davidson College nine. The game was characterized by light batting, each twirler holding his opponents down to a few hits. Anderson, for Davidson, got the better of the contest, perhaps, as he allowed but three hits and struck out nine men, passing none to first. He also added to his record one of the five singles secured by his team. Trinity's inability to land on him safely when his meat runs was one of the causes of her defeat.

Clement, who was in the box for Trinity, was up to his usual standard and his record compares very favorably with that of the opposing pitcher. Only five hits were made off him and he struck out eight and walked three. In batting he was much superior, as he got two of the three hits made by Trinity. One of these was for two bases. The third hit, which was a three-bagger, was made by Justus, and it was he alone who scored a run. The stolen-base column of Davidson shows that there was not much "thieving." Wrenn had his wing in shape and did some of the prettiest throwing seen on the diamond this season. Only two attempts were made by the Presbyterians and the runner each time was caught. "Billie" Smith, at short, had very little to do, and he accepted his three chances in his usual way. The team played a fairly good fielding game, there being only two errors made and these were on difficult chances.

HOW THE RUNS CAME.

Trinity scored her only run in the fourth inning, after two men were down. Johnston, who was first up, put a grounder to the first baseman and was out. Smith hit to pitcher and was thrown out at first. Justus then took the stick and swatted the ball nearly to the fence in center field, this netting him three bases. Clement followed with a two-base hit, and Justus scored. Webb was next up, and on the pitcher's delivery Clement attempted to steal third and was caught, and the side was out.

In the same inning Davidson made her first run. Guerrant, the first man up, hit to third and was thrown out; Cooper walked; Boggs hit to center for two bases, Cooper scoring. Faison hit to third and was safe on Hutchinson's error. Boggs was thrown out at home. Reed hit a high foul and Wrenn made a magnificent catch of it. Sherrill hit to second and was thrown out, closing the inning. (Continued on third page.)

THE QUARTERLY.

What the Charlotte Observer Says of the April Number in a Recent Review of the Magazine.

In a recent review of the South Atlantic Quarterly the Charlotte Observer has the following to say of the magazine:

"North Carolinians and Southerners generally do not know as generally as they should what character of magazine is being published at Trinity College, Durham, or it would make more talk among us than it does. The South Atlantic Quarterly for April (No. 2 of Vol. 5) is really a great magazine. It has been constantly improving, and this issue keeps up the progression.

"It is understood that The Quarterly has won unto its own, that it is on a paying basis and is a permanent thing. Any periodical, regardless of location, possessing such high merit, is bound to extend its circulation. The people will, sooner or later, find it out."

PARK SCHOOL NEWS.

Ground Broken for Addition to Asbury Building—Concert on Friday Night of High Order—Good Sum Realized.

BY E. S. MCINTOSH.

The contract for the remodeling of the Asbury Building has been let to Mr. I. G. Lawrence, of Durham. The plans were made by Hook & Rogers, of Charlotte. Work was begun Thursday morning and will be carried through to completion without delay.

The concert which was given at the Conservatory of Music Friday night, under the auspices of the Trinity Park School Athletic Association, was largely attended and a good sum was realized for the benefit of the base ball team. The program was of a high order, some of the best talent in Durham being utilized. The College Orchestra rendered a number of pieces and was heartily encored.

The April Gazette, came from the press last week, with the following table of contents:

Character of Macbeth, by G. M. Daniel.

Forgotten, by C. C. Barbee. A Long Courtship, by Ethel Wayde.

The Avenger (poem), by '06. Arrangements have been made with Mr. Holladay, photographer, to have the class and society pictures made this week.

The ball game with Cluster Springs Academy, which was scheduled for yesterday, was canceled on account of rain.

Miss Tina Dean Stephenson will leave Saturday for Commerce, Ga., to attend the wedding of her sister.

Prof. R. Browning preached at Hillsboro Sunday, filling the pulpit of the Methodist church while the pastor was away.

On Thursday afternoon the Park School will play the Bingham School team, of Asheville, on the Hanes Athletic Field.

TRINITY AND TECH CLASH

Blacksmiths Suffer Stinging Defeat in First Game, But Rally in Second.

10 TO 0 AND 5 TO 1—TWO CONTESTS

Splendid Work of Clement, Justus, and Johnston at the Bat—Wrenn Hurt—Clever Treatment Received in the Gate City.

The Trinity College base ball squad, thirteen strong, left Durham last Thursday afternoon on its annual Southern tour. Quite a large number of the students went to the station with the boys and bade them good-bye with yells and songs. The team went over the Southern to Raleigh, where it took the Seaboard for Atlanta. The following is the personnel of the squad: Captain W. M. Smith, Frank R. Wrenn, J. Frank Clement, Robert M. Gantt, T. B. Suiter, Paul Webb, John W. Hutchinson, L. M. Johnston, Fred Flowers, W. J. Justus, Frank A. Ogburn, Henry L. Smith, and C. E. Bivins, with Coach Otis H. Stocksdale and Manager Cecil B. Arthur. The only student that went along was Mr. Buchanan Lyon.

After a very pleasant trip, with a good night's rest, the team arrived at Atlanta at 8:40 Friday morning and took up headquarters at Hotel Aragon. At 9:30 the boys went out to the Georgia Tech ball grounds and went through a light but snappy practice. Chesbro, the great slapper of the New York American League club, who invented the spit ball, was out with them and showed the fellows a few things about ball.

THE GAME BEGINS.

In the afternoon, after both Tech and Trinity had put up a fast practice game, the game was called at 4 o'clock, central time. Tech took the field, with Day, who pitched the game against Trinity last season, in the box. Johnston, first up, singled. Billy Smith followed him at the bat, and he was sent to first by the Big Four route. Then Justus took up the willow and began to take revenge on Pitcher Day, which he had cherished in his heart for a twelvemonth, this being on account of the fact that last year every one of his teammates had connected safely with Day's delivery except himself. "Way back over center field's head he swatted the horsehide and took three bases easily, Johnston and Smith scoring. This clinched the game, for had no other scores been made these would have been sufficient. Clement was up next after Justus and he got a single, on which Justus trotted across the home plate. There was nothing else doing for either team and the score stood at the end of the first inning: Trinity, 3; Techs, 0.

In the third inning two more tallies were added through the punching of the sphere. Johnston repeated his good work of (Continued on second page.)

DURHAM, N. C., April 3, 1906

THE TRIP.

The team's record so far on the Southern trip has been very satisfactory, and if it continues as it has started out Trinity may well be proud of the team which is this year representing her. For gaining such an overwhelming victory over the Techs alone is enough to make everyone feel good about it for the remainder of the season. It is a particularly noticeable fact that the Atlanta papers barely mentioned the game in which the latter was defeated and devoted some little space to her victory. Nothing is quite so exasperating as to look for news in a newspaper and not find it.

The game scheduled for yesterday with Mercer was prevented by rain.

On account of the comparatively large number of interesting base ball games this week we give over the remainder of our editorial space to accounts of them.

TRINITY AND TECH CLASH

(Continued from first page.) the first inning; Smith did likewise; and on a long fly to center by Justus, both scored. In the fifth the score was further increased by three runs, and in the eighth by two more. During all this time the Blacksmiths had been doing nothing with the benders of Clement. At no stage of the game did they have any prospects of winning, the whole bunch being at Trinity's young southpaw's mercy. Eleven men beat the air in vain, and the whole nine innings brought only a single hit, which was secured by Stiles, the big first baseman of the Techs.

For Trinity, there were a number of features. At first, Suiter played a great game, making some spectacular pick-ups at different stages. Webb made a beauty catch by pulling down a hot liner over second. Smith, at short, was there with the goods at all times, and Wrenn splendidly redeemed his record of last year by holding the few men, who were able to reach first, on that bag.

The seventeen hits that were made by the Methodist boys were as follows: Justus, one three-bagger, one two-bagger, and two singles, out of five times up; Johnston, two singles; Smith, one single; Clement, one three-bagger, one two-bagger, and one single; Webb, two singles; Flowers, one two-base hit and a single; Suiter, two singles; Wrenn, one single.

The line-up of the two teams was:

Two-Base Hits—Justus, 1;

Clement, 1; Flowers, 1.

This whitewashing of the Heisman boys was an almost unbelievable surprise to the most sanguine, for heretofore the Tech team has been an exceedingly tough proposition, and it was expected that our victory would be by a very narrow margin at the best. But the above record shows that our boys worked together in perfect harmony and "did the stunt" for the Georgia players. That one hit tells the tale, silently but eloquently, of Clement's work in the box. Of him the Atlanta Constitution said: "Clement showed up in splendid form and gives promise of equaling the record made by Bradsher, the star twirler of the South last year, who won many a game for the Trinity team by his magnificent twirling."

THE SECOND GAME.

The second game with the Tech team was played Saturday afternoon on the same grounds, being called at 3:30 o'clock. This went to the Georgia players by a score of 5 to 1. It was lost because of the fact that at critical times hits could not be made by Trinity, though a total of seven were secured, whereas the Techs got only five off Gantt, who was in the box against them. At three stages of the contest there was every indication that the Methodist boys would pile up a number of scores and repeat their performance of the previous day, but Lafitte, who was the slab artist of the Georgians, could not be touched just in the right way.

TECH SCORES IN SIXTH.

The game went along, snappy and abounding in some magnificent work for both teams, without any scoring till the sixth inning. In her half Trinity came very near putting a man or two across the plate, but three men went out with nothing accomplished. Then Tech took the bat. Butler faced Gantt first, and he got a single. Knight followed him and was given his base, this being the only base on balls that Gantt allowed. Hamilton bunted, and on a fumble by Gantt was safe at first, filling the bases. Next in order came Roberts, and on a grounder he went out at first, but Butler scored. McMillan followed at the bat and put one to first. Suiter threw to home plate, to catch Knight, but he went back to third, and McMillan was safe, the bases again being full. Lafitte came along then and turned loose a two-bagger, which scored three men. That ended the runs for that inning.

In the next Trinity again looked as if she would make things warm for the Blacksmiths. With only one man down Gantt rapped out a hot one, and on the failure of anyone to handle it, was safe at first. Johnston hit safely, and it looked as if some scores would be made, but on a double play the side was retired.

Tech's additional run was made in the seventh and Trinity's one run came in the ninth in this way. Flowers singled; Suiter flew out; Henry Smith, who had taken Wrenn's place behind the bat in the eighth, struck out; Gantt got to first on McMillan's error, Flowers going to third on the play. Johnston got another hit, which scored Flowers. Billy Smith struck out and the game was over.

In this game, as in the one the day before, Smith at short did most of his characteristic playing. At one stage he made a beautiful one-hand stab into mid-air and brought down the ball safely. Suiter also made some great stops of difficult chances. Johnston got three hits out of four times at the bat, and "Hittin' Jus," out of the same number of times, landed a two-base hit and a single. In the eighth Wrenn had a finger hurt so badly that he had to retire from the game. "Rastus" Smith put on the mask and

OFF FOR MERCER.

The team left Atlanta Sunday morning at 8 o'clock for Macon, to play two games with Mercer University. A letter from a member of the squad says that the boys received excellent treatment in the Gate City and that they enjoyed themselves very much. The team, with the exception of Wrenn, left in perfect shape, and though luck was against them Saturday, they felt confident of winning most of the remaining games and even giving Harvard a bigger dose than many are expecting they would do. Clement's pitching of Friday brought him volumes of praise and, like the one whom he has succeeded, he is considered a wonder by the Atlantans.

The friends of Mr. N. C. English, who was in college here last year, will read with interest the following:

"Mr. and Mrs. John M. Fairley invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter Effie Christian to

Mr. Nereus Clarkson English, Jr. on Wednesday evening, the twenty-fifth of April nineteen hundred and six at half after eight o'clock at their home Monroe, North Carolina."

played a good article of ball.

The score by innings and summary follows:

TRINITY DEFEATS A. & M.

Score Five to Two at the End of an Interesting Contest.

Both Clement and Johnston Scored Three-Baggers—Game Marked by Heavy Hitting—Captain Smith Plays Star Ball.

Wednesday afternoon, on the Hanes Athletic Field, Trinity defeated the A. and M. College team, of Raleigh, in an interesting game of base ball, by the score of 5 to 2, sharp, fast fielding and long hitting being the order of the contest. For the home team Gantt was in the box, and he made a splendid showing, letting the visitors down with five hits and two scores. Throughout his pitching was of the shut-out class, notwithstanding the fact that A. and M. scored one earned run. He had an abundance of speed and good control and used his drop curve very effectively. In each inning, except the third, he struck out one man, bringing his total number of strike-outs up to eight.

Eskridge, for the A. and M., pitched fairly good ball. He struck out six men and allowed eleven hits. Some of them were long ones, however, and all, with a single exception, were clean. Both Clement and Johnston secured three-baggers, the latter's being a beautiful drive, hit hard, to the right-field fence at a most opportune moment. Wrenn likewise rapped out a clean two-bagger. On the whole, the hitting was heavy and bunched. At short, Capt. Smith, for Trinity, played a beautiful game, accepting all sorts of impossible chances, and robbing the visitors of several apparently safe hits. Justus came in for a fast piece of work also. Thompson hit a scorcher to right, which was fielded so fast that he was thrown out at first. This is the second time within two successive games that Justus, by extraordinarily fast work, has cut off a hit. With the stick he likewise featured, having gotten three hits out of five times up.

At first, Suiter's playing was noticeable, his fielding being errorless and his hitting near the 700 mark.

The Farmers were seemingly shy of Wrenn in base-stealing, and hence no stolen bases are credited to them.

Clement did good work at third, although this was his initial appearance at this position.

Trinity scored first, showing two runs over in the second. Clement was safe on error of short stop. Webb singled to center, Clement going to third. A moment later he scored on a passed ball. Flowers hit a high foul and was out. Suiter duplicated Flowers' act. Wrenn hit hard to left for two bases, scoring Webb. In the sixth another runner crossed the rubber. Justus singled and Clement hit to right center for three bases, scoring Justus. Webb flew out to left. Flowers struck out. Suiter was hit by pitcher and was out at third for interfering with the throw of that baseman. This closed the inning. No further scoring was done by Trinity until the ninth. By bunting hits two more runs were scored. Suiter singled to right. Wrenn advanced him to second by a sacrifice. Gantt was thrown out at first by second baseman. Johnston hit a beauty to right for three bases, scoring Suiter. Smith singled to left, scoring Johnston. Justus singled, advancing Smith to third. Clement struck out, closing the inning.

A. and M. scored her first in the fifth. Staples struck out. Jordan was thrown out by third baseman. McCathran reached first on the error of center fielder. Eskridge walked and McCathran advanced to second. Farmer singled, scoring McCathran. Knox flew out to short stop, closing the inning. The last run came in the sixth. Shuford singled. Justus robbed Thompson of a single. Fox hit to pitcher and was thrown out. Staples singled, advancing Shuford to third. Jordan singled, scoring Shuford. McCathran struck out, closing the inning, and A. and M.'s run-getting.

FROM MR. KUGIMIYA.

Letter Received a Few Days Ago From Far East—The Writer's Appreciation—His Valuable Work.

The following letter, which was received a few days ago by Mr. S. B. Underwood, will be read with much interest by the many friends of Mr. T. Kugimiya, here and elsewhere. Since leaving Trinity this earnest man and untiring Christian laborer has been doing a work the importance of which few have been able to estimate, and the sacrifice involved in which hardly any have fully appreciated. A number of the students have regularly contributed to a fund for the aid of this work in the far East, and this letter should be very gratifying to them. Just as it comes from the writer's pen, in his own characteristic style, it is published:

HIROSHIMA, JAPAN, }
 March 3, 1906. }

Mr. S. B. Underwood and Other Friends, Y. M. C. A.

MY DEAR FRIENDS: I received your kind letter some time ago and I waited the money which you sent to me. But it came very late indeed. I received the money —twenty-six dollars, only three days ago. It was unusual, so I wrote letters to the central office of the foreign money order at Tokyo, and asked to find out it. Finally it was found and sent to me, and mentioned that the address of the payee was not written, for it was delayed to deliver. I know you are thinking why I do not write about for a long time. I ought to write you any way before this time. But I thought it will be better to write after I received your kind present. Please explain this matter to the friends who have interest in me.

I am so thankful for your sympathy to me and my work here. It encourages me a great deal whenever I recall it. I think Mr. Hinohara stated about my work and told you how I am busy. I am very busy indeed, because all not-Christian people are entirely ignored of the Christianity. So our way of evangelization is very much differ from that of your country. We must find out a person who has interest in a religious life. Then we visit him at his home often and try to draw him to the meeting and give special study of the Bible. This is very important part of our work. So we must spend much time for visiting. For instance, two weeks ago, I was unusually busy, and I could not find a time to take a dinner three days. But these busy work show you that the time of harvest is coming now. I am so thankful that the hearts of the people are turning to the God's light. This is the time which needs hard workers. Mr. Hinohara will join us from this summer. I am very glad that he will be a strong force in the Kingdom of God.

I baptized five persons last Sunday. One of them was a pharmacist who did not believe any gods. But he never has satisfaction in heart. He was not a bad person, but he was very cold and gloomy man. I visited many times during last two years. Finally he touched a new light which brought by the Holy Ghost. He found his heavenly Father—which has a sweet meaning. I baptized him and his wife. This was very happy time to me. I am sure that "there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." Please remember me and my work in your prayer. I expect to write you every month, so I will write you some time soon. Give my best wishes to my friends of the Y. M. C. A. I am,

Yours truly,

 ning. Score: Trinity, 1; Davidson, 1.

No further scoring was done until the tenth. Frequently, however, men were on bases, but the clever work of the pitchers kept them there. Davidson's score in the fateful tenth was made on a balk. Sherrill, first up, hit to right center for two bases. Elliott hit to first, and Clement, covering the bag, put him out, Sherrill going to third on this play. While Anderson was at the bat, Clement balked and Sherrill scored the winning run. This unfortunate accident was due to Clement's hand striking his leg in an attempt to throw his underhand ball. He recovered himself and made a second delivery, thus making a balk. The following is the official score:

ALUMNI NOTES.

The following clipping from the News and Observer notes the enterprise of one of Trinity's last year's students:

"Mr. P. H. Elkins has purchased the Siler City Grit and will edit it, succeeding Mr. W. E. Lawson, who has made it a good exponent of Western Chatham."

While in college Mr. Elkins gained many friends for himself, and it was with much regret that they learned that he would not be back again this year. During his stay at Trinity he did newspaper work with the Durham papers, and since then has been engaged in similar work at Elon College, N. C. THE CHRONICLE and his many other friends wish him much success with his new venture.

Notice to Freshmen.

Mr. Holladay says that he will let us have the regular $1.00 pictures for 75c, provided each member of the class will take a picture and justify his cut rates.

LOCAL.

Mr. E. O. Cole preached twice in Cary Sunday.

Mr. R. A. Goolsby was sick the latter part of the past week.

Mr. J. B. Aiken made a short visit to his home at Oxford Friday.

The Sophomore Class had its picture made last Wednesday morning.

Mr. Cesar Milch, of Germany, visited Mr. Gilmer Koerner, Jr., last week.

Mr. T. G. Stem left for his home at Stem, N. C., Friday for a short visit.

Miss Mary Duke returned Sunday morning from a few days' visit to New York.

Little Elizabeth Card has been quite ill, though she has not been in a dangerous condition.

President Kilgo was able to be in the office Saturday for the first time in more than a month.

Mr. W. A. Lucas, a former Trinity student, who is a lawyer at Wilson, was among last week's visitors.

Mr. C. W. Tillett, Jr., of the University of North Carolina, was the guest of Mr. W. F. Tillett Sunday.

Rev. L. P. Howard, of Edenton, has returned to his work, after having spent a few days on the park.

Rev. J. V. Williams visited his son, J. Leon, last week while he was attending the Durham District Conference.

Mr. J. P. Breedlove was ill Sunday and Monday and was unable to be at his work in the library yesterday.

Miss Mary Thomas was ill for several days last week, but her friends will be glad to learn that she has recovered.

Mr. Charles Gibbons was on the campus Friday and Saturday of last week shaking hands with his many friends here.

Miss Hallie Mays, of the Senior Class, Greensboro Female College, was the guest of Miss Lucile Aiken on Thursday.

Mr. F. W. Obarr, of the Senior Class, had a poem in Sunday's Charlotte Observer. It is entitled "An Appreciation, To I. E. A."

Rev. E. M. Snipes, of Burlington, who attended the Durham District Conference, visited his nephew, Mr. B. H. Lamb, last week.

While the first team is on its Southern tour the class base ball teams are putting in every afternoon getting ready for some contests later on.

Miss Mattie Oldham was taken to Raleigh Sunday afternoon by Dr. Battle, by whom she will be treated. Her condition is but little improved, if any.

While Mr. W. M. Smith, W. A. Slater Co.'s college representative, is away with the base ball team, college students will be served by Mr. Burch at this store.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting on Wednesday evening of last week was addressed by Prof. E. J. Green, principal of the Edgemont Graded School. The meeting tomorrow evening will be addressed by Prof. W. H. Wannamaker.

The following young men who are students here, were recommended for admission to the North Carolina Conference by the Durham District Conference: J. W. Autry, H. E. Lance, and W. L. Rexford. Mr. Luke Brothers was granted license to preach.

The Review of Reviews for this month contains extracts from a recent article in the South Atlantic Quarterly by Dr. Mims, and a cut of him.

AN ENJOYABLE MEETING.

Special Program Given and Refreshments Served at the Meeting of the Historical Society Thursday Evening.

On last Thursday evening the Historical Society held its regular monthly meeting in the dining hall of the Epworth Building. This meeting was different, in several respects, from all others that have been held. In the first place, only those who are members of the society were invited to be present, the public in general being at all other times cordially invited. The program had not been previously arranged, but the one that was given was perhaps as good as has been given this year. Three short papers were read, these being by Messrs. Gilmer Koerner, Jr., J. M. Templeton, Jr., and W. A. Bryan, each on some bit of unwritten local history. In addition to these, Dr. J. S. Bassett told, in his characteristic style, several things that drew laughter and applause.

During the rendering of the above program cafe noir and ham sandwiches were served, with pickles, and several kinds of fruit were added after this course. As an excellent sauce, Mr. C. Milch, who was the only guest of the occasion, sang Schiller's "Lorelei" in the original German. He made a fine hit and was roundly applauded. The meeting was not so well attended as was anticipated, but those who were present were amply rewarded.

The program which was given at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday evening was very interesting. The subject was Bible Study. Papers were read by Misses Shotwell, Wrenn, Godwin, and Herring. Dr. Mims will address the next meeting.

Messrs. W. G. Jerome, L. Herbin, A. L. Wissburg, and P. S. Love went over to Chapel Hill Friday afternoon to hear the Carolina-Georgia debate that evening. Mr. Love's brother was one of the speakers. Dean S. F. Mordecai was one of the judges. Carolina won the debate.

Yesterday afternoon a snappy game of basket ball was played between the Junior and Freshman teams, the Juniors winning by a score of 24 to 23. Those who played on the Junior team were: Messrs. Campbell, McGhee, Cole, Phillips, Spence, Bledsoe, and Stewart; and for the Freshmen: Messrs. Grant, Templeton, Franklin, Lewis, Ferguson, and C. Smith. Two more games will be played between these teams soon.

In the New York News Letter for March and April there appears a very interesting article about Trinity College. There are also five cuts of buildings, these being of the Main Building, the Memorial Hall, the Library, the New Dormitory, and the Epworth Building. This number of the News Letter is a special North Carolina issue and contains a large number of articles and views of the State.

While you are at leisure, why not spend the time at Brown's Skating Rink, where you can get good, healthful exercise, excellent floor and special attention? On Tuesday and Friday afternoons and evenings special programs will be rendered.
