TRINITY DEFEATS HARVARD

Crimson Goes Down in an Exciting
Game Before Wearers of Blue.

SCORE SIX TO FIVE AT END OF CONTEST

Clement Pitches a Great Game—Excellent Work of Wrenn Behind the Bat—Enthusiastic Crowd Present—Summary.

In Richmond, Va., last Saturday afternoon, before a crowd of 2,439 enthusiastic people, many of whom were Trinity students, Trinity lowered the colors of Harvard to the tune of 6 to 5. The game was highly exciting throughout and the Trinity rooters were much in evidence. It was received by plays in Durham, and the interest here was keener, if possible, than in Richmond. Students and friends collected around the places where reports were received and many anxious moments were spent by them during the critical periods of the game. Hopes ran high from the start, and as Harvard began her up-hill fight in the latter part of the game the excitement became ever higher. In the ninth inning, when the score was 6 to 5 in Trinity's favor, two men on bases, two out, and the heaviest batter up, it seemed that the fate of the crowd depended upon the next word. When it finally came, saying that the batter was out, the pent-up enthusiasm broke forth into a tremendous roar. There was no cessation until exhaustion forced the loyal ones home. A car was chartered and the town was reminded that Trinity had won.

In Richmond the majority of the people supported Trinity. Those from Durham who attended were not mild in their celebration after the victory nor in their rooting during the game. Had the players felt as did the THIRD ANNUAL DEBATE.

Durham High School Won From Park School—Ball Team Played at Black Walnut, Va., Yesterday—Items.

BY E. S. MCINTOSH.

The third annual debate between representatives of the Durham High School and the Trinity Park School was held at the Conservatory of Music on last Friday evening. The question discussed was:

"Resolved, That Congress should regulate railroad rates."

The affirmative was upheld by the Park School, with Messrs. C. N. Crawford and P. J. Kiker as speakers. The negative speakers were Messrs. Lee Wiggins and Sterling Carrington. The judges were Messrs. J. C. Biggs, Jones Fuller, and Rev. T. A. Smoot. Judge R. W. Winston presided, with Messrs. J. A. Morgan and W. H. Overton as secretary and time-keeper, respectively. The decision of the committee was given by Mr. Fuller in favor of the negative. This gives Durham High School two of the three debates.

The marshals for this occasion were: From the Park School—Messrs. G. M. Daniel, D. P. Cheatham, J. W. Burgess, and J. C. Fuller; from the Durham High School—Messrs. T. L. Cheek, H. W. Lehrman, J. S. Beaman, and J. A. Spencer. Music was furnished by the Conservatory Orchestra.

The Park School baseball team went up to Black Walnut, Va., yesterday morning to play the team of Cluster Springs Academy. It was accompanied by Prof. Lockhart.

Mr. P. H. Morgan, of Shawboro, visited his son, Joseph, last week.

Mr. Charles E. Brewer, of Wake Forest, visited Mr. B. B. Flora Saturday.

T. P. S.—CLUSTER SPRINGS

Team From Virginia Academy Easily Outclassed by Trinity Park—Final Score 20 to 4—Game Called in Eighth.

Trinity Park completely walked over the Cluster Springs Academy boys last Friday afternoon on the Hanes Athletic Field. The final score was 20 to 4. Nineteen hits were gotten off of Trayhorn, the Cluster Springs pitcher. The work of the visiting boys was poor. A good catch by Payne, the left fielder, and a double play by Thomson and Kreton were the only features of the visiting team's fielding. Their hitting was light, only three hits being gotten off of Broom. The game was called in the eighth to allow the visitors to catch a train.

Following is the line-up:

GAME PLAYED AT ATHENS

Went to the University of Georgia by a Score of 4 to 2.

CLEMENT AND SULLIVAN THE PITCHERS

Clemson Won the Game on Thursday—Heavy Hitting by Both Teams—A Rather Listless Contest—Official Score and Summary.

On Wednesday, the 12th, again was played at Athens with the University of Georgia, which was won by the Georgians by a score of 4 to 2. Clement and Sullivan were the opposing pitchers and it was a battle royal between them. The features of the game were the three-base hit of Franklin and Wrenn's and Hutchison's two hits each out of three and two times at the bat respectively. Trinity made more hits than Georgia, but costly errors more than overbalanced them.

HOW THE RUNS WERE MADE.

Georgia took the bat, with McWhorter up. He singled to center field. Ginsburg followed him and put the ball to the pitcher, who threw wild to first, McWhorter going to third, and Ginsburg to second. Sullivan fanned. Hodgson hit to third and McWhorter was caught at the plate, Ginsburg taking third and Hodgson first on the play. Franklin put out a triple and two men trotted across the rubber.

In the fifth inning two more runs were scored by Georgia. Erwin hit to second and was safe at first on Webb's error. Derrick went out on a foul. Brown hit to right field, and on an error Erwin goes to third and Brown to second. A single by McWhorter does the work, and the score stands: Georgia, 4; Trinity, 0.

Trinity's two runs came in the sixth and ninth. Hutchison, first up, singled to left field. Johnston hit to short stop and Hutchison is forced out at second. Smith hit to first and Johnston died at second. Justus put out a single and on the throw-in goes to second and Smith to third. On a passed ball Smith scored.

In the ninth Clement hit to infield and on a passed ball took second. Webb dies, third to first. Suiter flew out to center field. Wrenn hit to first and on an error

A GREAT GAME.

The All-Around Scrubs Play—Yannigans Defeated by Yahoos by a Score of 9 to 8—Official Score.

On last Saturday morning the annual Easter game of base ball, between teams composed of all around scrubs, was played on the Athletic Field, and it was the greatest thing that has been seen here this season. Anyone who had ever played ball was ruled out as ineligible, and of course it was to be expected that more errors than anything else would be made, and this was true. It was great fun to the spectators—and there were about twenty-five out—to see the players miff the easiest sort of flies and let the grounders go through their legs a-clipping.

The names of the teams were the Yannigans and the Yahoos, and at the end of the game the score stood 9 to 8 in favor of the latter. Star plays were so numerous that they could not be kept up with, though the swift base running of McRae, Sidbury's perfect work on third, and Phillips' catching of Peele's great benders must not be left unnoticed.

The following is the score in part:

YANNIGANS.

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT ON SIDE LINES

Game Slow and Abounding in Errors for Both Sides—Heavy Hitting of Captain Smith—Line-up of the Two Teams.

In a slow, yet fairly interesting game Trinity defeated the A. and M. College on the fair grounds at Raleigh Monday. Besides the many errors on both sides, only one thing can be said to the detriment of the game, and that was the disgraceful conduct of the men on the side lines. This feature will unquestionably ruin base ball in the eyes of those who want base ball and not an example of rowdiness. It is to be regretted that such was the case Monday. Had the management been proper the affair would not have happened.

The News and Observer has the following account, in part, of the innings in which scores were made:

With Umpire Noble, of the University, in charge, the Trinity men, who have as their coach Mr. O. H. Stockdale, once of Raleigh's professional team and a splendid ball player, took the first turn at the bat. Johnson armed, and Smith swatted out a triplet, scoring on a passed ball. Justus walked, went to third on a wild pitch, and was left there, as Clement fanned and Webb flew out to pitcher.

A. and M. began the game sky-rocket in going up, but came down with a dull thud, as Eskridge led off with a clean home run, lambasting the ball in deep right, but that was A. and M.'s only run. Harris out, sec-

DURHAM, N. C., April 17, 1906

THE TEAM OF 1906.

The Southern trip of the base ball team is now a thing of the past, and although some of the games which Trinity expected to win most easily went to opposing teams, these several losses are more than retrieved for now and forgotten in the light of its superb climax, of which all Trinity is justly proud. We can do nothing less than extend, in behalf of the college community, our heartiest congratulations to the team for the splendid way in which it pulled itself together after a series of defeats and won out against one of the strongest university teams in the United States, and immediately after this defeating, yesterday afternoon, one of the strongest of the North Carolina college teams. Of this record The News and Observer says in its editorial columns:

"The Trinity boys have a right to be proud. Defeating Harvard and the A. and M. team both in two days is a record well worth celebrating."

These words express exactly what Trinity's students feel about these victories. The first will long be remembered here in the history of athletics. It is no small achievement for any base ball team, chosen from among thirty or forty applicants at most, to defeat another team, on which at least twenty-five men were playing for positions in the pitcher's box and a proportionate number likewise playing for the other positions. By this victory alone the team of the season of 1906 has already made a lasting reputation for itself and fixed itself in the opinion of the student body.

A number of games are ahead of it yet, however, and, while victory is always more pleasant than defeat, whether Trinity wins or loses all of them are for the team straight through. To us it will always be the team that defeated Harvard; nothing less in any way. So we wish for the continued success of, and again extend our heartiest congratulations to, the team of 1906, the team that defeated Harvard,

THE MERCER GAME.

The Score Was 5 to 3 in Mercer's Favor—How the Game Was Lost—The Hitting Was Light.

Of the game of ball which Trinity played with Mercer University at Macon, Ga., last Tuesday, the Macon Telegraph had the following account:

In a game replete with interest from beginning to end, with spectacular base-running and spectacular fielding, which was neither side's game till the last man was down and out in the last inning, the Mercer boys neatly trimmed the boys from Trinity yesterday afternoon.

It was a game that could be enjoyed by any lover of base ball. It was hard-fought throughout. The men worked in earnest, and the foot-work was extremely fast.

In every department of play the boys from Mercer showed themselves proficient, and in no department did the Trinity team, which is considered one of the fastest college aggregations of slogging and slug artists in this section of the country, show themselves superior.

Not a single man succeeded in getting two hits but Suiter, first baseman for Trinity, and both were beauties. Altogether, there were nine hits corralled, five off Gantt and four off Smith. The game, therefore, lacked a great deal of being a slug-fest.

Gantt succeeded Clement in the fourth. Clements pitched good, steady ball. Although three of the five hits were made off his delivery, these netted only one run, while the two hits off Gantt netted four, the seven bases on balls setting forth the "why" very clearly.

Gantt and Clement fanned nine men, Smith six. The decided feature of the game was the afore-said catch of McCathern. Webb, in the second paragraph, tried off what looked like as pretty and clear a three-bagger as could be hit. McCathern made a long run, and with his back turned, thrust his gloved hand high into the air, and when he pulled it down the sphere was safely anchored therein. Kendrick's catch was not quite as spectacular, but was a magnificent piece of work, nevertheless.

The following is a partial box score of the game:

The Clemson Game.

The game with Clemson College was a fierce slug-fest, in which the hits were about evenly divided, though Clemson scored 13 runs to Trinity's 4. The total hits were: Clemson, 11; Trinity, 10. For Clemson, Robertson and Waldrop knocked home runs, and for Trinity Clement did the same stunt. Justus also had on his batting clothes again and landed three singles and a double in five times at the bat. With the exception of these features the game was a poor exhibition of ball playing. The representatives of the blue were tired and sore after their games in Georgia and put up a listless contest. Webb, who had not pitched in a single game this season, was put in the box and was hit so freely that Gantt replaced him with no better success. In the sixth Ogburn took the slab and in the remaining four innings only one hit was made by Clemson, this being a home run.

on to first, Farmer with a fly in right and Shuford second to first ended the inning.

In Trinity's second Suiter fanned, Wrenn batted to Eskridge at short and Fox at first let the ball get away as he and the runner collided. As Wrenn tried to steal second catcher Thompson threw wild in that direction, the ball went on, center fielder Shuford didn't stop it, so Wrenn kept on running and scored, with three errors giving this score. Flowers went out on a fly and Hutchison was put out by Fox at first unassisted.

In its half A. and M. with three men up failed, Thompson fanning, Knox flying out to short and Fox dying on a foul fly to the catcher.

In the fourth A. and M. piled up errors. For Trinity Clement was safe on Eskridge's wild throw to first, and went to second on a passed ball. Webb bunted, but was safe, pitcher McCathern failing to catch Clement at third. Suiter batted to the pitcher, who caught Clement off third. Wrenn was out, second to first. Flowers batted to Staples and a wild throw put him safe on second, two men scoring. Hutchison was out, pitcher to first.

In its half A. and M. failed, though Knox reached first on a wild throw by pitcher Clement. In the seventh for Trinity Hutchison started in with a hit, Johnston fanned, Smith landed Hutchison and himself by a home run, Justus fanned, Clement hit in right and Webb went out, pitcher to first.

For A. and M. Staples fanned, McCathern and Ethridge went out, short to first.

In the ninth, for Trinity, Smith was out, pitcher to first, and Justus reached first on Eskridge's error, went to second on a passed ball; Clement was out, second to first and Justus scored on Webb's hit in left, while Webb was caught at second.

In A. and M.'s half Knox reached first on Short's error and was retired at second when Fox batted to short. Staples fanned and McCathern was out, second to first.

rooters the game would have resulted differently. The telegrams received often said, "The crowd is wild." The majority of those present returned Sunday morning.

The Trinity team arrived in Richmond Friday afternoon. Sore and tired, as the result of their trip in the South, they settled down to get a much needed rest. Saturday morning, feeling fresh and much better in every way, they went out for a little practice. They then rested until time for the contest.

GAME CALLED.

The game was called at 3:30 p. m. by Umpire Hicks. The batters were: Trinity, Clement and Wrenn; Harvard, Hartford and Stephenson. Trinity was first at bat. Johnson struck out. Smith hit to third and was thrown out. Justus and Clement walked. Webb was up and landed one into deep right, which netted him two bases and scored Justus and Clement. Suiter hit a safe one to left, scoring Webb. Wrenn came up and after having two strikes against him hit a long one to left, which was muffed, and Suiter scored. Flowers hit to third and Wrenn was forced at second. Score: Trinity, 4; Harvard, 0. Harvard did nothing in her half of the first. Leonard hit safely and stole second, and reached third on an out, but he got no farther. Trinity, in her half of the second, passed up a goose-egg. Harvard scored her first in her half. McCarty secured a three-bagger. Hellman hit to second base and was out at first. Currier hit to right field and was thrown out at first. McCarty scoring on the play, Hartford waited for four balls and got his base. A moment later he was caught off his bag and the side retired. Score: Trinity, 4; Harvard, 1. Trinity scored her next runs in the fourth. Flowers walked. Hutchison hit to pitcher and was out, Flowers going to second. Johnston hit to third and that baseman threw wild over first. Flowers scored and Johnston reached third before the ball was recovered. Smith hit a high fly to center and Johnston scored on the catch. Justus hit a high foul and was caught out, closing the inning and Trinity's scoring. In Harvard's half of the fourth nothing was doing. In the first of the fifth Trinity came near shoving another run over. Suiter, with two out, was safe on an error of left fielder. Wrenn came up and swatted one on a line away back against the fence, which netted him two bases. Suiter advanced to third on this hit. Flowers came up and hit to second and was thrown out at first, closing the inning. Harvard, in her half, did better. Stephenson, the first up, hit to short and was out. McCarty hit to left and his fly was muffed, Stephenson going to third and McCarty to second. Stephenson came home on a passed ball. Dexter hit safely to right, scoring McCarty. A moment later he was caught stealing second, closing the inning. Trinity could do nothing more in the scoring line. In the seventh Harvard added another run, making the score: Trinity, 6; Harvard, 4. Green, who succeeded Hartford in the box, was first up. He hit to first and was out. Leonard was hit and given his base. He stole second, and Stephenson came up, hit for two bases and scored Leonard. McCarty came up, hit to pitcher and was thrown out, retiring the side. In the eighth Harvard again scored. Dexter came up and hit to short, taking two bases on the wild throw resulting. McCarty hit to first and was out. Hellman hit for three bases, scoring Dexter. Currier struck out and Green followed suit. The score was: Trinity, 6; Harvard, 5. The ninth opened with Justus at the bat. He struck out and Clement came up. He hit one on the nose to right and took second on it. Webb hit to second, advancing Clement, but going out at first himself. Suiter came up with the shouts of the crowd in his ears and struck out, closing Trinity's part of the game. Harvard came in for her half, and it shall never be forgotten by those who saw it. Harvey was first up. He hit a high foul and was caught out by Wrenn. Leonard hit to short, going out on the play. Stephenson came up and hit for one base. McCarty is safe on error of third baseman. Stephenson on second, McCarty on first, and Dexter, who had already gotten two hits, was up. He hit to short and McCarty was forced at second and the game was over. Score: Trinity, 6; Harvard, 5.

The feature of the game was the steady, heady pitching of Clement and the catching of Wrenn. Clement's steady pitching in the ninth, especially, saved the game. Had he lost his nerve the score would probably have been against Trinity. Wrenn worked hard and took everything that came his way. He secured three hits out of four times up. Hutchison in third played good ball, though one error is marked against him. His hitting was a feature, two out of three times up being his record. The whole team batted well. Eleven clean hits were swatted out altogether, and two of them were for extra bases. The game was played in a high wind and clouds of dust, and many of the errors may be attributed to this and the wet condition of the grounds, from rain, from the seventh inning on.

The team came home Sunday morning, seeking rest before they went into the game at Raleigh yesterday.

The official score is as follows:

HARVARD.

GERMAN STUDENT LIFE.

Talk on This Subject at the Y. M. C. A. by Prof. Wannamaker—Customs Very Different From Ours.

In a very pleasing talk before the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening Prof. W. H. Wannamaker told some things regarding German student life that were highly instructive to his hearers. This was Prof. Wannamaker's first talk to the Y. M. C. A., and it goes without saying that his address was greatly appreciated.

The religious phase of the life of the German student was the main feature of his discourse, but incidentally he spoke of a number of things that are unheard of in American institutions. The church being a branch of the state, every person must come into the church. Religion is taught in the gymnasium—the preparatory school for the universities—and at the age of about fourteen the students must pass a rigid examination, whereupon he is confirmed and given a certificate. A great many are little interested in the church and become members as a matter of obedience. And there is much unbelief also, for instruction is given by scientifically-minded teachers in the philosophical, historical, and doctrinal phases of Christianity.

At the age of about sixteen or eighteen the student enters the university. Here he is thrown upon his own responsibility and can do absolutely as he pleases, without the least restraint. Any course may be selected that is desired, and chosen recitations may be cut at will. On class no questions are asked, lectures being given entirely. With this unlimited freedom the student is naturally in great danger. But he is

OUR CLOTHING TALKS!

The excellence of our Clothing speaks for itself.

This picture shows the sort of Suit about which you're asked, "Who made it for you?"

The wide lapels, the shapely lines, the just-right length, and its whole aristocratic bearing, put it in a class by itself.

We regard it as one of the snappiest of the many handsome Suits we're showing this season.

much more matured than the American boy and works hard, as a general rule, for very rigid examinations must be passed at the end of three years.

There is no Y. M. C. A., except at Berlin, where it is beginning, and where, unfortunately, it is in the hands of a class of students who are looked at askance by the other students. Then there are no intercollegiate sports and for amusement the fellows go to restaurants and there sing and drink beer, with much carousing; all of which is unnoticed by the professors. In the place of athletics are the duels. These are not fought from any insult, but simply as a sport. The students fight and bleed and mutilate each other in a manner that seems to us horrible. But they say that it teaches manliness and bravery. The duel is forbidden by the government, but the police are afraid of the students and never interfere with them.

Trinity students and alumni generally will be especially interested in the following invitation, which was received here during the past week:

Rockingham, North Carolina
Until within the past two years Mr. Durham was numbered among the college faculty, and during his stay here, as student and professor, was identified closely with all Trinity's varied interests. Since taking up pastorate work he has made a notable reputation for himself in his chosen field. Miss Cole has lived in Durham for a number of years and has a large circle of friends here.

Miss Mamie Best, a member of the Sophomore Class of Greensboro Female College, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Breedlove Sunday and Monday.

BINGHAM WINS OUT.

Asheville Team Makes Winning Run in Thirteenth Inning—A Pitcher's Battle—Best Game So Far—Score.

In a fast thirteen-inning game Bingham, of Asheville, defeated Trinity Park School Thursday afternoon on the Hanes Athletic Field by the score of 5 to 4. At first it looked like a walk-over for the Park School boys, but the Bingham team settled down and began a slow pull for the long end of the score. The work of their pitcher, Short, was exceptionally good. With the exception of the first inning nothing was secured off him, and in this inning only one single was registered. A base on balls and an error, coupled with this single, netted Trinity Park three runs. After that very few of the home boys saw the initial bag. His work was about equal to that of Lane, Trinity's Park's slabsman. More hits were gotten off of Lane, however, but he struck out seventeen men and gave one base on balls, while the youngster from Asheville struck out fourteen men and also gave one base on balls. It was a pitcher's battle, with honors as near even as possible, and it took thirteen innings to decide which should have it. Each pitcher had the opposing batters hitting them in the air. The hits were scattered and the score, with errorless fielding, would have been a shut-out for each team.

Carraway, who was behind the bat for Bingham, caught a good game, although his throwing was very weak. Trinity Park has fewer stolen bases to her credit, but this was caused by the small number who had a chance to steal. Angier succeeded Justus behind the bat for Trinity Park in the sixth, and his first appearance was strong in every respect. He threw well, and stopped them all. This young fellow will make a good catcher, with a little more experience. Hornaker, at short for Bingham, was exceedingly fast and sure. Frequently he would go over behind third and second and take a difficult chance at one, not always getting them, but stopping them in a sensational way. This player at short and Honor, at third, make a fast pair. Perkins, of Trinity Park, and Phillips, of Bingham, covered first base in fine style. Both made difficult stops and hit well. The game was one of the best played here this season, decidedly the best Prep game.

Trinity Park scored three runs in the first. Bru walked and Crawford singled, Bru going to third on the hit. Justus hit to pitcher and was out at first. Perkins hit a liner to right field, and on the error of that fielder he crossed the plate, sending two runs before him. Bingham sent one run across the rubber in the first. Hornaker singled and stole second and scored on the error of catcher, who threw wild to catch him in his attempt to steal third. The others were easy outs. The next run was scored by Bingham in the third. Hornaker got two bases on error of right fielder and scored on a passed ball. The succeeding batters struck out. In the fourth Bingham scored again. By a bunch of errors Miller reached first and completed the circuit.

In the sixth each team sent one across. Crawford, for Trinity Park, was safe on error of first baseman. Perkins hit for two bases and scored Crawford. The rest were easy outs. Bingham evened up in her half. The first two men up went out in one, two, three order. Carraway walked, and stole second. Miller singled and scored Carraway. Carr hit to first and closed the inning. The score was even, and nothing else happened in the scoring line until the thirteenth. The pitchers frequently pulled themselves out of hard places, Lane doing this the majority of times. In the thirteenth Honor hit to left field and was out. Short hit safe and stole second. Carraway struck out. Miller singled and Short scored. Carr hit to pitcher and was out. Trinity Park could do nothing in her half. Fisher reached first, but was thrown out at second. Bru hit to short stop, as did Crawford, and the game was over.

An exceedingly pleasant Easter Sunday was spent by a party from Durham at "Loch Lilly," about six miles from Roxboro, yesterday. Those composing the party were: Misses Jessie Glover and Bessie Height, of Rome, Ga.; Maude Satterfield, of Roxboro; Inez Angier and Maud Angier, and Messrs. M. E. Newsom, Jr., W. D. Finger, D. S. Murph, E. M. Stokes, and J. A. Long, Jr. and Preston Satterfield, of Roxboro. Trinity students present were: Misses Emeth Tuttle, Nan Goodson, Mitchell Waddill, Julia Minor, and Alice Franklin, and Messrs. T. M. Stokes, B. S. Womble, J. R. Woodward, Jr., H. G. Foard, L. G. Daniels, and M. R. Long. Mrs. Teague and Mrs. H. C. Satterfield were the chaperones of the occasion. The members of the party were guests of Mr. J. A. Long, Jr., while in Roxboro, and very many thanks are his for a most thoroughly enjoyable holiday outing.

The second basketball game between the teams of the Junior and Freshman Classes was played last Wednesday afternoon. The Juniors being again victors. The score was 20 to 12. Since the Juniors have already won two of the series the third game will not be played.
