

WILL PLAY AT WAKE FOREST

Second Game of Basket Ball With the Baptist Boys.

CONTEST SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

Trinity's Team Has Been Practicing Hard and Is in Good Trim—Those Who Will Go on the Trip.

Trinity's basket ball team will leave Friday morning for Wake Forest, where it will play that college team Friday afternoon.

The team has been doing hard work each afternoon, practicing for the coming game, and as a whole it is in a fairly good condition. If each man plays up to present expectations, and Wake Forest does not put up a much better game than was the one here, Trinity should hope to win. It will be remembered that Wake Forest won the game played here on the 28th of November by the very narrow margin of 8 to 6.

The following players will represent Trinity: Captain Stem, White, Puryear, Claywell, Kiker, P. J., Baxter, Spence, Lilly, and probably Grant or Kiker, W. B. Most of these men have shown up well in practice and in the different games, and if they play together a good game should be the result. It is expected the team will return home Friday night or on the early train Saturday morning.

How Mr. G. B. Pegram, '95, Finds Lost Radium.

The New York Sun has the following account of how Dr. G. B. Pegram, class of 1895, son of Prof. W. H. Pegram, finds lost radium:

"The peculiar properties of radium enabled George B. Pegram, instructor in Physics at Columbia University, to recover recently $6,000 worth of the substance which Dr. Robert Abbe, of St. Luke's Hospital, believed that he had lost. Dr. Abbe was one day using radium in the treatment of a patient and dropped a tube containing sixty milligrammes of it on the floor. The radium salt spread itself over the carpet and could not be seen. Dr. Abbe applied to Mr. Pegram, who is Columbia's radium expert.

"Mr. Pegram visited the hospital and took with him several photographic plates covered with black paper. These he placed on the floor, where the radium was believed to be. When the plates were developed he was able to see the exact position of the radium. He then had the section of the carpet where the photograph had shown the salt to be taken up and, with the dust under it, carried to his laboratory.

"Mr. Pegram shook all the dust out of the carpet and by a simple chemical treatment recovered something more than sixty milligrammes of a mixture of barium and radium bromide, which he believes contained most of the salt that was lost. The whole amount lost weighed only about a grain."

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

Nearly All the Students Went to Their Homes—Those Who Remained Here Entertained by Dr. Kilgo.

Trinity reopened Thursday, January 3, at 9 o'clock, with nearly all the students present. Nearly everyone spent the holidays at his or her home, or at the home of a friend, and all had the usual pleasant time during the vacation. There were the usual number—about a dozen—who remained on the park the greater portion of the vacation period. The library was open an hour each day and the newspapers, magazines, and books were read considerably.

The most delightful time, however, was spent at the home of President J. C. Kilgo Saturday evening, December 29th, who gave a 6 o'clock dinner complimentary to the students who were on the campus. The hospitality and geniality of the Doctor were very bountiful, and the boys appreciated very much the pleasant moments spent with him. Those present as guests at this dinner were: Messrs. H. C. Doss, R. C. Goldstein, G. G. Greever, R. H. Hasty, U. N. Hoffman, R. C. Kelly, A. M. Proctor, A. L. Wissburg, and B. Yanigita.

All the unmarried members of the faculty also spent the twelve days away from college, at their homes or elsewhere. Prof. C. W. Edwards attended the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which was held at New York from Dec. 27 to Jan. 2.

Two More Works on Law by Prof. Mordecai.

Dean S. F. Mordecai, of the Law Department, has recently completed a pamphlet which will be of great help to the students of his department. It is entitled "North Carolina Notes to Finch's Cases," and gives the North Carolina statutes which apply to the cases cited in Finch's book. Prof. Mordecai is constantly devising means by which he may be able to explain the law more thoroughly, especially the laws of this State, and this recent production accomplishes that end very admirably. The pamphlet, though intended primarily for the student, will also be very valuable to him after he begins his practice.

During the Christmas holidays Prof. Mordecai was hard at work on another book, which is entitled "Mordecai's Law Lectures," being lectures on Blackstone. The volume will contain more than a thousand pages. Mr. Mordecai indexed it during the holidays and it is expected that it will come from the press about the first of February.

Prof. W. H. Pegram attended the meeting of the North Carolina Division American Chemical Society, which met in Raleigh Saturday. At this meeting Prof. Pegram was honored by being elected president of the society for next year.

TO HOLD LEE CELEBRATION

Trinity Will Honor the Memory of the Great and Good Man.

DR. KILGO WILL DELIVER AN ADDRESS

The 100th Anniversary of the Birth of Gen. R. E. Lee to Be Celebrated With Appropriate Exercises.

On Saturday evening, Jan. 19, at 8 o'clock, exercises will be held in the Craven Memorial Hall commemorative of the centennial of the birth of General Robert E. Lee, the greatest and best beloved man that the South has ever produced. At this time President J. C. Kilgo will deliver an address on the life and character of Gen. Lee.

The exercises will be public, and it is certain that there will be a large attendance, both of students and citizens of the city. All over the Southland similar exercises will be held the same day, and the highest honor and homage will be done to him who was the most perfect flower of Southern life. Year by year Lee has been growing into the hearts of the people, both North and South, and on the 100th anniversary of his natal day there will be thousands who will join in exercises commemorating his noble life. In these exercises Trinity will unite and pay tribute to his memory.

Noteworthy Articles in Forthcoming South Atlantic Quarterly.

The editors announce that the January issue of the South Atlantic Quarterly, which will be the first number of the sixth volume, will be out about January 19, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Gen. Robert E. Lee. The leading article will be an article by Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, entitled "Lee in Defeat." A contribution from such a writer of note, who was a student under Lee at Washington and Jefferson University, is very noteworthy, not only from its timeliness, but also from the fact that it will be the first article in which Mr. Page has ever made a serious study of the man to whom he has referred quite often in his writings.

Dr. Kilgo Resumes His Work.

Dr. Kilgo resumed his work as president on Monday morning, after a vacation of about two months. His health is greatly improved after his rest and he will be able to continue his work in his usual manner the remainder of the year, in all probability. The students are much gratified that he has regained his strength and is again seen in the office. During his vacation Dean W. P. Few acted as President and managed the affairs of the college in an entirely satisfactory manner.

Mr. J. A. Pitts, of Littleton, spent about a week on the park during the holidays.

CLASS OF 1891.

Twelve Men Graduated, Who Are Now Scattered Far and Wide—Leaders in Their Line of Work.

One of the best known classes that ever graduated from Trinity was the class of 1891. The class graduated only twelve men, but it is noticeable that the majority of these are leaders in their line of work. The dozen are scattered from the restless Atlantic on the east to the sun-kissed Pacific on the west, and from the Old Dominion on the north to Brazil on the south. The men, with their addresses and occupations, are as follows:

W. I. Cranford occupies the Carr Chair of Philosophy in Trinity.

T. C. Daniels is a mail carrier in New Bern, N. C., and is also Commander of the Naval Reserves of North Carolina. Mr. Daniels was a champion football player in his day, being a member of Trinity's famous championship team of 1890-91.

D. R. Davis is now a successful druggist in New Bern, N. C.

R. L. Durham is a cotton broker in Charlotte, N. C.

Fred Harper is a very successful lawyer in Lynchburg, Va.

D. A. Houston is clerk of the Superior Court of Union county and lives at Monroe, N. C.

W. H. Jones is a music teacher in Norfolk, Va., and is also organist for one of the Presbyterian churches of that city.

W. H. Lee is a missionary to Brazil and is president of Granberry College, a mission college in that Republic.

L. S. Massey preached at Louisville during the past year.

C. E. McCannless is now teaching school at Ramsen, N. C.

J. R. McCarty is a prominent lawyer at Lexington, N. C.

W. T. McDowell is professor of Mathematics in Pacific Methodist College, Santa Rosa, Cal.

President's Class Meeting Held

Dr. J. C. Kilgo held his first monthly class meeting of this calendar year last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. Quite a large number of students and members of the faculty were present and enjoyed a very interesting and helpful service. These meetings are held once every month, usually on the first Sunday, and are always conducted by President Kilgo himself. They are regarded as wonderful exponents of the spiritual life of the college community.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting Tonight.

The first regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held this evening at 7 o'clock. Dr. J. C. Kilgo will be present to speak, and for those who attend there is in store a rare treat of good things. Everybody is cordially invited to be present, and it is hoped that a large crowd will come out. Song service will begin promptly at the hour named above.

TOUR WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Glee Club and Orchestra Pleased Its Audiences at Every Town.

FOUR PERFORMANCES WERE GIVEN

At Each Place the Twenty-Three Members Were Entertained Royally in the Best Homes—Details of the Trip.

With the engagement at Monroe on Saturday night, December 22, there ended the most pleasant and enjoyable trip in the history of the Trinity Musical organization. Four entertainments in all were given—at Dunn, Laurinburg, Rockingham, and Monroe—the engagement at Fayetteville being canceled on account of rain, and big hits were scored at each place, as was plainly shown by the hearty and vigorous applause given to every number on the program, which included the most varied selections yet presented.

At each town visited the members were royally entertained at private home, and were shown every courtesy and consideration by the townspeople—and it should be noted that the finest homes in the town were the ones secured for the boys. The manager took occasion to thank the people for their kind and genial hospitality from the stage after each performance and assured them of his desire to fill a return date at some future time.

The Glee Club and Orchestra, composed of twenty-three talented men, started on its fifth annual tour on Tuesday, the 18th, and traveled by the Durham and Southern to Dunn, arriving there at dusk and just in time for supper.

There the first entertainment was given, and it was decidedly the best one of the trip. The management experienced a little trouble in locating a lost dress-suit case containing the entire lot of orchestra music, and consequently the curtain did not rise till 9 o'clock. The audience, however, was made aware of the circumstances, and enthusiastically applauded when it became known that the music had been found. The very first number caught the ardor of the audience, and encore after encore had to be responded to by both Glee Club and Orchestra. The program was excellently rendered, and evidence of appreciation was greatly manifested by the audience. After the entertainment the members were given a grand reception at the home of Misses Emma and Mattie Young, who provided a host of pretty and charming young ladies for the occasion—and a mirthful and jolly occasion it was.

On the next day, the 19th, the organization met its first reverse in the form of delayed trains, but succeeded in getting to Fayetteville, the second advertised point,

Announcement.

Believing that a proper amount of competition is a great incentive to good work, the Governing Board of The Chronicle has endeavored to introduce a competitive system into the work of the paper. The plan is to have two associate editors, who, under the direction of the editor-in-chief, shall handle the news events of the college, and the story of that one who handles any event in the better manner will be the one that will be published. On these two men the editor will rely, but at the same time any student of the college, whether a member of the staff or not, will be allowed to turn in to the editor-in-chief any news matter, and from the total contributed the best shall be printed. Accurate account of the amount each student succeeds in getting into print shall be kept and the Governing Board shall be informed of such amount before its election of an editor-in-chief at the end of each year. This is nothing more than a system of merit and is one that is used in the selection of the staffs of a large number of college newspapers, and it is believed that it will insure the best possible weekly at Trinity. No man will be debared from the contest, and none given any preference by the editor-in-chief, but each article shall be printed solely on account of its merit. The Governing Board will then, at the end of each year, be able to select more easily than at present the editor-in-chief, having before it for consideration the full list of men in college who have shown most ability and interest in the paper, and are therefore best fitted for the position.

An amendment to the rules which govern the paper was necessary to make this change, and this amendment was as follows: "Two associate editors shall be elected to assist the editor-in-chief in handling the news events of the college. They shall hand all their write-ups to the editor, who shall, to the best of his ability and judgment, print in each case what is best suited for publication, and at the end of the year he shall instruct the Governing Board as to the amount each one has succeeded in getting printed, and consideration shall be taken of this fact by the said Governing Board in its selection of the editor-in-chief for the following year. Any member of the entire student body shall have the privilege of contributing news articles to the paper, through the editor-in-chief, and the Governing Board shall be furnished with a record of the amount each and every one may get printed, and consideration shall also be taken of such in the selection of the editor-in-chief."

In addition to the above, the following amendments have been adopted by the Governing Board:

"To amend article XI of the Constitution of the paper by adding: Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the chairman of the Governing Board, in addition to the duties usually pertaining to his office, to give each member six hours' notice of any meeting; and in event any member is out of town or otherwise cannot provide for a proxy, the acting president of his society shall appoint one."

"To amend article XII by adding: Sec. 2. The position of editor-in-chief shall alternate between the two literary societies, unless the society whose right it is for any given year shall waive it."

A TRINITY SONG.

We are extremely gratified to learn that our esteemed contemporary, the Archive, has found such a liberal friend as it has—namely, the good friend through whose kindness it is able to offer a prize for a good Trinity song. As the Archive says, "The need of such a song has long been felt and the absence of it is deplored by all lovers of Trinity". Last spring we took occasion to call for a college song but never received even one, but that was probably due to the fact that we had no prize to offer. Yet there ought to be some graduate or undergraduate who has enough burning enthusiasm and loyalty for his alma mater to write the song needed. It is not for lack of ability, by no means, for we have had some poems published, during the last few years, in the Archive that have been much above the usual run of college doggerel. With the ability, therefore, and the tempting prize of twenty-five plunks of gold coin there ought to be enough poems contributed from which can be picked at least one that will be brimful of Trinity life, Trinity spirit, Trinity enthusiasm,—a poem that will hereafter burn itself into the hearts of all Trinity men and women, that shall ring around the campus "down the ringing grooves of change."

The contest will close March the first and all poems to be submitted should be in the hands of the Archive before that date. "Get busy, all ye disciples of poetry."

We take pleasure in announcing that Messrs. S. A. Richardson and

W. H. Sanders have been elected associate editors of The Chronicle, both of whom, we feel sure, will fill their positions well.

Marriages of Trinity Men.

Mr. J. P. Frizzelle, '04, who finished law here last year and received his license in August, was married at Snow Hill N. C., Wednesday, Dec. 26, to Miss Nannie Warner Frizzelle, of Washington, N. C., Rev. J. M. Benson, pastor of the Snow Hill Circuit, M. E. Church, South, officiating. The bride and groom are distantly related. They will make their home at Snow Hill, where Mr. Frizzelle has entered upon the practice of his profession. News was recently received here that Mr. Frizzelle is meeting with much success, having been employed in several cases in the Superior Court of Green county.

Mr. W. L. Rexford, 1906, was married to Miss Mattie Futrell, of Wilmington, N. C., Wednesday, Dec. 19, 1906. Revs. Mike Bradshaw and A. J. Parker performed the ceremony, which took place in Market Street M. E. Church, of which Mr. Rexford is pastor.

Thursday, Dec. 27, 1906, at Union Methodist church, Weaverville, N. C., Mr. S. B. Underwood, '06, was united in marriage to Miss Bedie Eloise Lister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Lister, of Weaverville. Mr. J. A. Morgan and Rev. L. T. Singleton, of the same class, were best man and groomsmen, respectively. Rev. W. E. Hocutt performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. W. F. Jones. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom left for Sutherland, Fla., where Mr. Underwood is professor of English Literature in Southern College.

Colonel Thomas Stringfield, of Waynesville, a former Trinity student, has been appointed inspector-general of the North Carolina National Guard, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Col. T. H. Bain, of Goldsboro. Col. Stringfield has for some time been assistant inspector-general and was the ranking officer of the department. Mr. Stringfield was an exceedingly popular student while in college. He took great interest in athletics and other college activities. The appointment he has received was a well merited one.

ALUMNI NOTES.

[Items for this Department are Solicited by the Editors from all Students and Graduates of Trinity.]

Rev. E. M. Hoyle, class '04, has completed his third year as pastor of Mangum Street Methodist church, in Durham, and has been returned to this charge for another year. In connection with his church work he has been taking graduate work at Trinity. It is in no sense an exaggeration to say that he has done a wonderful work at Mangum Street. A small church was built at the intersection of Mangum and Cleveland streets, several years ago, as a mission church, and a Sunday school was conducted there. Rev. R. Hibberd and other church workers did much good at this place. No society was organized until Mr. Hoyle was appointed to this work, when still an undergraduate. As soon as he took up the work a society was organized. Mr. Hoyle was highly successful in his work. Soon a larger church was needed, and it was built. The congregations and the membership increased until today there is a large, active, and vigorous church where a few years ago there was a small mission. Mr. Hoyle has proved himself to be a great leader and organizer, and an interesting, forceful preacher. He knows how to bring things to pass. Few men of his age in the ministry have done a greater work than he.

Rev. J. H. McCracken, a former Trinity student, and now pastor of West Durham Methodist church, has been returned to his present work. Under his leadership the church has had a remarkable growth, and has increased its influence and usefulness. Mr. McCracken is a born leader and organizer. He is a strong and vigorous preacher. He knows how to get things done. His influence is felt in whatever community he labors. He is a tireless worker, a popular pastor, and an active supporter of every good cause.

Mr. J. A. Pitts, '06, has recently become a member of the faculty of Littleton High School, of which Mr. Z. P. Beachboard, '04, is superintendent.

Mr. Ernest F. Hines, class of 1900, died very suddenly Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 19, at his home at Florence, S. C. From the best information obtainable it seems that inflammatory rheumatism, from which he had suffered for some time, was the cause of his death. His remains were buried at Rocky Mount, N. C. Mr. Hines was living at Florence, S. C., where he was clerk in the leading hotel. He was married on November 25 to a young lady of Kinston, who, with others, survive him.

Mr. W. W. Peele, class of 1903, has recently been elected president of Rutherford College, of this State. Another Trinity man, Mr. O. J. Jones, is a member of the faculty of the same institution.

Mr. Thos. W. Taylor, class of 1879, is now manager of the largest tobacco farm in Georgia. Some will recall that the culture of tobacco in Georgia is in its experimental stage at present. Mr. Taylor is a charter member of the Trinity Chapter of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

in time to give a performance, only to be met by a hard down-pour of rain, which lasted throughout the night. The members repaired to the opera house through the storm, but the manager wisely canceled the date, as only a very few people had ventured to come out. But for this ill-luck the management would no doubt have realized handsomely on the undertaking.

The next morning at 4 o'clock the boys caught the train to Laurinburg, the third place scheduled for a performance, arriving at that town at 9 o'clock. They spent the day in feasting and smiling at the pretty girls. That night the entertainment began on time and was well rendered considering the condition that the members had to undergo in the shape of contracted colds and coughs, due to the wet weather. The opera house was filled to its full seating capacity, and all present gave expressions of thorough satisfaction and enjoyment.

Next morning, the fourth day out, the organization left Laurinburg for Rockingham, and were delayed three hours at Hamlet on account of late trains. But the time was not passed unpleasantly, for there were many college girls enroute delayed on the same account, and of course the boys availed themselves of the opportunity for enjoyment. Rockingham, however, was reached in time for dinner, and several minutes were consumed by the members in shaking hands with genial Steele Lowdermilk, an academic and law graduate of Trinity and a promising young lawyer of that town. The entertainment was given at the Court House before the largest and most enthusiastic audience to meet the boys. Everybody gave evidence of pleasure, and expressions of good will and wishes were made for Trinity. After the concert the members were invited to an entertainment given in their honor by the young ladies, and they attended en masse and en grande tenue. All had a delightful time.

Next morning, the fifth and last day out, all left for Monroe, arriving there also in time for dinner. The entertainment was given in the Opera House, and a fair audience was present, not as many as there would have been had it not been Saturday night, the busiest time for the young people. "Reddy" Williams deserves especial mention here for his clever imitations and songs, he having the audience under perfect control. At the conclusion it was found that the Seaboard train had been delayed and would not arrive until 11 o'clock. So the manager and several members took advantage of the opportunity and caught the train for home, instead of waiting until Sunday morning, as was originally planned.

To Manager McPhail is due the successful outcome of the trip, and the boys, with one accord, have expressed their congratulations at his excellent management. He was always in harmony with their wishes and ever ready to receive suggestions from them. Manager McPhail, when seen by a Chronicle reporter, was in the

BRAIN AND EYE

HOW EYE-STRAIN RETARDS STUDY

Many students possessing superior minds oftentimes fancy themselves dull because they fail in their studies. The reason is simply this: They are afflicted with so much eye-strain that it requires nearly all the nerve force they possess to fix the eye upon their books, thereby exhausting the energy of the brain.

Many students unwittingly sacrifice their health in attaining an education, because of the large amount of brain-strain sustained in the close use of their eyes, though their vision seems excellent. This form of brain-strain is easily detected by an expert and most always remedied by glasses properly adjusted. If you break your glasses don't send them away for repair, taking the chances of delay and mistakes. Just bring the pieces to my office and I will do the rest.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Minor Happenings About the Campus
With a Record of People Coming and Going.

Mr. J. T. Jerome, ex-'07, was a visitor here the first of last week.

Mr. Archie Jenkins, of Gastonia, is visiting Mr. George A. Gray, Jr.

The preliminary debate set for Jan. 12 has been postponed to Feb. 2.

Mr. K. C. Sidbury, of the State University, was over Sunday to see his brother, Mr. J. B. Sidbury, of the Junior Class.

Mr. E. L. Egerton, of Louisburg, brother of Mr. Frank Egerton, is on the campus, and has entered the Freshman class.

Mr. Fred Page, of Aberdeen, has been a visitor on the campus for a few days, the guest of his brother, Mr. H. A. Page, Jr.

Mr. C. C. Dunn, ex-'09, of Morven, was a visitor on the campus last week, on his way to Atlanta, Ga., to re-enter Georgia School of Technology.

Rev. J. R. Moose, of the class of '92, now a missionary to Korea, was a visitor here last week and conducted worship at chapel, Thursday morning.

Among the students who did not return to school after the holidays are the following: Messrs. J. A. Hartsell, P. H. Johnston, V. C. Matthews.

Mr. H. R. Spence is supplying the pulpit of Epworth M. E. church in Raleigh now. He went down to that city Saturday and returned Monday.

Mr. J. Frank Clement, of Mocksville, last year's crack pitcher of the ball team, was on the park for a few days this week visiting his many friends.

Messrs. F. A. Ogburn and J. W. Hutchison attended the general meeting of the A. T. O. fraternity, which was held in Birmingham, Ala., during the holidays.

Mr. La Roque, of Kinston, visited Mr. D. E. Perry for a few days at the opening of school, on his way to Raleigh, where he is a student at the A. and M. College.

Messrs. Ferdie Whittaker and Joe Mann were visitors on the park at the opening of school, on their way to Chapel Hill to resume their studies at the State University.

Mr. Stuart Mims, a former Trinity student, who is now a member of the faculty of Yale University, was a guest of his brother, Dr. Edwin Mims, during the Christmas vacation.

Mr. J. Mack Holland left for his home, at Gastonia, Monday, where he intends studying the textile business. His many friends will regret to learn that he will not be in college this spring.

Mr. C. R. Pugh, '06, was a welcome visitor on the campus for a few days last week, on his way to the State Legislature at Raleigh. He was elected, at the last election, representative from Dare county.

Mr. Chas. A. Leider, a distinguished athlete of Cornell University, visited Director W. W. Card just before the holidays. Mr. Leider played football four years and was a member of the crew for three years. He is now connected with the athletic department of Cornell.

Dr. J. S. Bassett, who was called here several months ago on account of the illness of his little daughter, Margaret, returned to Smith College, Northampton, Mass., on the 2d instant, accompanied by his son, Richard. The remainder of the family will leave in a few days and will make their home at Northampton in the future.

"NEW SOURCES OF LIGHT."

Prof. Edwards to Discuss This Subject at Meeting of Science Club to Be Held Friday Evening.

The Science Club will meet Friday evening at 7:30 in the Physics lecture room. At this time Prof. C. W. Edwards will begin a series of two lectures on the subject, "New Sources of Light." The first lecture will be an elementary discussion of sources of light now in common use, with experimental illustrations. The second lecture will be given at the February meeting and will deal experimentally with the latest discoveries in this field—discoveries that promise to revolutionize the industry of lighting. The first lecture will be merely introductory to the second. The meeting Friday evening will be brief, on account of the near approach of examinations. The public in general is given a cordial invitation to attend the meeting.

Dr. Mims Writes of Lee's Place in History for The Outlook.

The January magazine number of The Outlook, New York, gives a considerable amount of space to articles on Gen. Robert E. Lee, with portraits of him. Among the articles about the great general is one by Dr. Edwin Mims, of this college, entitled "Lee's Place in History." Dr. Mims has previously written of Lee for The Outlook and his articles have produced most favorable comment. This last article was copied in the Charlotte Observer for December 24, 1906.

Election of Columbian Officers.

At the first regular meeting of the Columbian Literary Society, held last Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the present quarter: C. Q. Stewart, President; Frank Culbreth, Vice-President; Edgar Knight, Recording Secretary; N. M. Wright, Marshall; A. J. Templeton, Censor; W. A. Bryan, Chaplain; J. B. Sidbury, Corresponding Secretary.

Mr. W. H. Pegram, Jr., '06, spent a few days during the Christmas holidays with his parents here. Mr. Pegram is with the S. A. L. surveying corps and at present is located at Savannah, Ga.
