GAME-COCKS DOWN FARMERS

"Pap" Harris Was an Easy Victim for the Home Players.

BOTH TEAMS PLAYED WITHOUT ERRORS

Webb Allowed Only Two Singles and Fanned Eight Men—Bivins Made a Hit Which Looked Like a Home Run.

The Trinity nine found "Pap" Harris' corkscrews easy to get on to last Saturday. A good crowd was present to see this game between Trinity and A. & M. It was expected that the game would be a pretty close one but Harris was batted all over the field, Trinity getting eleven hits in all. The final wind up showed that Trinity had made five tallies, while the farmers had not touched the rubber plate for a single run. Both teams played an errorless game.

The feature of the game was Chat Bivins' spectacular hit in the ninth inning. One man was on base when Chat came to the bat. After having two strikes called on him, he swatted a ball out just over the first baseman's head, which did not stop till it hit the fence and went into a hole at the fence. One man came in on the home run hit, but Bivins fell just as he left third bag and the time lost in getting started again caused him to miss making the first home run on the diamond this year. Webb did the pitching stunt for Trinity and eight of those who faced him died at home plate. The perfect work of the infield and of Capt. Billy Smith especially caused the others to die at first. In this Puryear's work at first did much to keep A. & M. off the bags. For the visitors Jordan in center played star ball, and his pretty fielding kept Trinity from piling up the score. Two snappy double plays were made by Drake and Fox. Puryear for Trinity also made a double play unassisted. In the ninth inning, when the Farmers were making a desperate effort to score, a hot high ball came his way, which he took as usual and touched the man who was playing off first before he could get back on the bag.

HOW THE RUNS WERE MADE.

Trinity made one run in the third, one in the sixth, and three in the ninth inning. Bivins was the first man up in the third inning and flew out to Jordan in center field. Lane was thrown out on first. Asbury, third man up, went to first on the Big Four route, and stole second. Puryear came up and got a safe hit and "Babe" Asbury crossed the rubber for Trinity's first run. Smith placed a high fly in center which Jordan caught retiring the side.

Puryear was the first up in the sixth and got a single. He later was thrown out at third. Smith got a safe hit and stole second. Wrenn came up and knocked a a one bagger which scored Smith. Wrenn got out trying to steal second, however. Suiter was out at first retiring the side with a score of 2 to 0 in Trinity's favor. In the ninth Smith the first up got a safe hit. Wrenn sacrificed. Suiter got a safe hit and advanced to second. Flowers, next up, got a single off Harris also scoring Smith and Suiter. Webb knocked a hot fly which was caught by short stop. Bivins, the sixth man up in the ninth, swatted out a ball just over the first baseman's head. The right fielder was unable to field it and it stopped when it came in contact with the fence over next to the Park School. Flowers, who was on second, came home on this. It was clearly a home run but just as Bivins left third he slipped and half-way fell. A few seconds were lost and he was thrown out at home. Flowers' run made the score 5 to 0 in favor of the wearers of the Blue and White.

Avera Lectures.

The three lectures which were to be delivered this week by Dean W. F. Tillett, of Vanderbilt, under the auspices of the Avera Department of Biblical Literature, have been postponed till the 9th, 10th, and 11th. Dr. Tillett has been having quite a little trouble with his eyes for sometime and it was on this account that he could not come this week.

A student senate is to be formed at Syracuse to have charge of all celebrations and to endeavor to keep alive all "college customs."

TRINITY 7; DELAWARE 2

Game Rather Ragged on Account of Cold Weather.

THE HITS MADE WERE NINE AND SIX

Suiter Gives the Sphere a Hard Lick and Gets to Third—Several Feature Plays by Both Teams, Taylor and Smith Leadbig.

Easter Monday was more conducive to ice skating than to base ball, but it was none too cold for Trinity's nine to put the "fixins" on the Delaware College team. The final score was 7 to 2 in favor of the home team. The nine hits that the Delaware pitcher allowed and the two errors made tell the story of their defeat. Lane fanned eleven men and allowed but six hits. Three errors were made by Trinity, but none of them amounted to much. Lane had the Delaware College pitcher, Ohl, beat a block. Ohl fanned only five of the forty-three who faced him, and in the fifth inning not until eight of Trinity's men had come to the bat could the side be retired.

The coldness of the weather, causing numb fingers, made both teams play rather ragged ball. On the whole, however, the game was an interesting one, that held the shivering spectators to their places till the end. The visiting team was not given a single chance to win out in the contest.

The features of the game were Flowers' perfect fielding, Lane's pitching and Suiter's three-bagger. Smith got two hits, and so did Flowers. The stick work of the whole team was good.

For the Northerners, Kelly in center made one or two very fine catches. Fowler's work at short was perfect, and Taylor on third played a good game. He caught one especially difficult foul. Adkins did pretty good work behind the bat.

TRINITY'S SEVEN SCORES.

Trinity made two runs in the fifth and two in the ninth. Puryear, first man up in the game, was thrown out at first. Smith followed with a base hit. He stole second and came home on a passed ball. Wrenn was out on a foul fly to third. Suiter walked and stole second, coming home on a hit by Flowers. Webb was out at first, retiring the side.

Asbury, first man up in the fifth knocked a hot fly to short. Puryear got a safe hit and stole second. Smith was caught out by third baseman. Wrenn next up got a single scoring Puryear. Suiter got a safe hit scoring Wrenn. Flowers was given his base on balls advancing Suiter to second. Webb got to first on an error of second and Flowers and Suiter came home. Bivins died at first retiring the side after eight men had been up and three runs had been made.

Smith, first up in the ninth, got a safe hit. Wrenn sacrificed putting Smith to third. Suiter got a three bag hit, scoring Smith. Flowers made a two-bagger scoring Suiter, but was thrown out at third base on a ball knocked to short by Webb. The right fielder caught a high fly of Bivins retiring the side.

Delaware made her couple of runs, one in the first and one in the eighth innings. McGarvey, second baseman, scored both times. One run was earned.

CORNELL'S COLORS LOWERED

Second Game Was Won by Trinity by Close Score.

LANE GAVE ONLY 4 HITS, FANNING 9

A Magnificent Exhibition of Playing in Which the Boys in Blue Lead—How the Game Was Won—Detailed Score.

In the second and last game of the series with Cornell Trinity took her revenge. The second game was played on Wednesday after the twelve inning game on Tuesday, and the final score was 3 to 2 in Trinity's favor.

From start to finish the Blue and White played fine ball, only once did the Ithacans have a chance of winning out. This was in the latter part of the game, but they could score only two runs. Lane did the twirling stunt for Trinity and he pitched a great game. The batters who faced him were completely at his mercy. Only one man walked to first and nine men fanned. The same old "Rummie" was behind the bat, and he did his work in the usual good fashion. The support that the field, both in and out, gave Lane was good. Asbury, Trinity's little third baseman, again distinguished himself by catching a very high and difficult foul. His other work at and around third was good. Puryear on first made a jumping catch of a fly that would have otherwise been a safe hit. He also did his other work in the usual good way. The outfield was also in prime condition. Flowers and Bivins both caught balls and robbed Cornell of hits. Webb over in right did not have a chance in the field but he won his laurels with the willow wand. In the sixth inning he got a long hit and scored two men making Trinity's score three, while the New Yorkers as yet, had not made a run.

WHY SHOULDN'T TRINITY PLAY CAROLINA?

Time and again the question has been raised: Why do Trinity and the University of North Carolina not meet in athletic contests? In looking around for an answer various reasons have been set forth for maintaining the old estrangement and until recently everybody seems to have been pretty well satisfied that there were good grounds for leaving Carolina out of our list. Prior to this season there has been a general feeling among the students here that Carolina would not meet us even if we were willing to meet her and but few have dared to say that it were not better so; for there was a time when we did meet her and when what should have been a clean game, hard fought in a friendly and sportsmanlike manner, usually culminated in such a brawl as would not have been creditable even to a race of men for a long time removed from the refining influences of civilization. This noxious savagery continued on and on, engendering antagonism and hatred, until at last the faculties of the two institutions quite correctly decided to discontinue athletic relations and their action was strongly supported by the students of both Carolina and Trinity.

But that was a long time ago and since then times have changed. Now, while we can see the reason why we do remain in the old rut we can not see any good reason why we should do so. The old status was something like this: The faculty and students of Carolina on the one side, the faculty and students of Trinity on the other, a line drawn between and each man knew if he got on the other's ground there would be a fight. In this situation there was only one course to be pursued by dignified institutions and pursuant to that only course Carolina and Trinity ceased to meet in athletics. That was the status then. And for the reason that such was once the relation between the two institutions should we still be debarrd from friendship? We believe in a certain amount of respect and loyalty to those venerable ones who went before us, but we do not believe in doing and feeling as they did and felt because they did and felt that way. The fact that the students of Trinity and Carolina in years gone by could not meet and play a sportsmanlike game of baseball is no reason why those of these latter days can not. All of this talk about hostility and blood-thirst in the present day is so manifestly absurd to those who are willing to look square at the matter that it needs no refutation; it is not only without sound foundation, but is without any foundation at all, with the possible exception of an ancient grudge which both institutions have now outgrown. We are not saying that it was not once that way; it most assuredly was so, but where is the reason why we should in this good day attempt to be as they were back there? If our race had always been so unswervingly loyal and had so hewn to the line of antiquated precedent we should now probably be clothed in the glowing rays of the sun, with perhaps a bear's skin or so for the winter season, instead of the tasteful frills and frocks of modern toggery.

Why not forget the past between these institutions so far as that old animosity is concerned? Who will raise voice to say we should not? We do not insist upon the question lest we should embarrass somebody. It is doubtful in our minds whether any man can give a broad reason why we should not have athletic relations with Carolina. It indeed there be one, certainly it must issue from the ingenuity of the human mind rather than from the actual conditions. There is no reason, eminently none. On the contrary there is everything which goes to make it proper for one institution of learning to engage another in athletics applying, or rather ought to apply to the case of Carolina and Trinity.

In the first place they are similar institutions inasmuch as they teach the same men the same things; they are both working to a common end, and we think that between them there should obtain wholesome rivalry instead of baneful estrangement. In the second place the fundamental cause of the old difference is now removed; the gradual evolution of college baseball has well-nigh eliminated professionalism—at any rate, this is true of Carolina and Trinity. Just there was the seat of the old trouble; both sides played professionals in that day and the game in general was not conducted on as high a plane as it is today. In the third place the game is wanted. The students of Trinity are ready and waiting to play clean ball with their neighbors over on the hill; the students of Carolina are likewise ready and waiting. Furthermore we learn from reliable sources that the president of the university at a recent mass meeting of the student body showed himself perfectly willing to resume athletic relations with Trinity. Yet those relations are not resumed and as it seems can not be, and why? Where lies the impediment, and what for? Well might we raise the question.

OUR NEED OF A GOOD SONG.

From the lively interest which has recently been shown in the field of poetry by those of our people who are of the more imaginative and romantic turn of mind the outlook for a good Trinity song is brightening. This comes in good time. We have been without a song long enough and we are now glad to note that the pressure of this deficiency has borne down with such marvelous power that it, supplemented by an ambition to win the twenty five dollars reward offered by the Archive for the best song submitted, has actually driven some heroic patriots into the presence of the muse.

The editor of the Archive informs us that already several good songs have been turned in. No doubt there are others on the way. Let them continue to come. It is very true everybody is not a poet, but then the majority of us can write poetry of a kind and in a way, so let us all get busy and write a song. If it does not come by inspiration at a time when the soul rises up and says "I feel!" then let it come by the more arduous and less romantic process of "grinding."

It will be a great day for Trinity when "Johnson's Old Gray Mule" and "The Landlady's Daughter" may be put away to rest with an epitaph signifying their long and well spent lives. We should not slight them on account of their age but much rather ought we to hold them always dear to memory. They have indeed served a great purpose and when they shall have been laid asleep let us not forget that both were sung with great effect at the building of the Tower of Babel. Ever since that time every man who ever sang or ever tried to sing has paid his respects to these ancient lays. They have fitted every occasion, being equally appropriate to a corn shucking as to a college base ball rally. This general adaptability is the chief objection to them for our purpose. Universal appropriateness is not the quality of a college song. Let us, therefore, have a song which is peculiarly for Trinity—a song which would suit no other occasion.

So if you have not yet tried your powers as a poet, don't wait but make the experiment immediately. It may be that you will do no more than write the song which will win the prize or, however improbable, you might possibly add a little to the great volume of truth and gain for your name an immortal place in the list of the world's singers.

First Wake Forest Game Today.

This afternoon Trinity and Wake Forest cross bats on the Hanes Athletic Field in their first game of the season. Though not expected to be the best game of the year on the home grounds, it is one that is always looked forward to with great expectation owing to the good-natured rivalry of long standing which exists between the institutions.

The second game with the A. & M. boys is scheduled for Friday to be played at Raleigh. On the following day Wake Forest will be met for the second game on her own grounds. The home boys will meet V. P. I. here on next Tuesday.

Cornell, the students were mirthful and noisy. In display of their hilarity they built a great bonfire and proceeded to give full vent to the result of a winning team. This bon fire had probably been in the hearts of the students as a celebration of success over Lafayette but the fatal eighth inning intervened each time and with its grim hand postponed the fiery display.

As the flames leaped towards the stars the joyous student throng was near by with yells in profusion for the ball team and with songs to the glory of the floating blue.

Yahoos Defeated Yannigans in Spectacular Contest—Game Featured by Hoffman's Fielding and Campbell's Batting.

Saturday morning, on the Athletic grounds, the Yahoos and Yannigans, strictly non-professional teams, played their annual Easter game of baseball. The game was exceedingly fast from the start, being played in only two hours and a half. Templeton, Grant and White all betrayed their failure to comply with the eligibility code by playing good ball, Templeton striking out nine men and White making a home run in the eighth by a long fly to right field.

The feature of the game was Hoffman's playing for the Yannigans, he making five beautiful errors out of a total of six chances. Brown made a spectacular miff of an easy fly in right field, as did Spence also in center, while Campbell led the batting list with no hits out of five times at the bat. Peele, Knight, and Self played an errorless game, which was all the more remarkable in the case of Knight and Self, as they received no chances. The great crowd that turned out to see the game was by no means disappointed. Altogether it was a remarkable exhibition of ball playing. The score speaks for itself:

Starts Friday to Resume His Old Position with Memphis Team—May Not Be Back Here Next Season.

It is a cause of regret on the part of the students and everyone else in this community that Captain Otis H. Stocksdale, Trinity's baseball coach, must leave Friday to resume his work on the Memphis team of the Southern league as one of the pitchers of that club.

Mr. Stocksdale has, during his six year's work here, endeared himself to every one of the students with whom he has come in contact. Every man who has aspired to a position on the base ball nine has been given a square deal by him and he has worked hard with each one to develop in him every bit of latent ability which he possessed. To Mr. Stocksdale preeminently has been due the excellent teams which Trinity has sent forth for the past half-dozen seasons. He has had but little material from which to pick yet in spite of this difficulty he has been able to put out teams that have won the big end of the schedule every year. There is no better coach in the South, no one who knows better how to handle men, how to train them and marshal them into an aggregation which has gone forth to conquer. There is a possibility that Mr. Stocksdale may give up the baseball profession after this season and in this case he will not be again with Trinity in the capacity of coach. This will be a great loss as it will be hard to find a man to take his place.

Though it is a great hardship for the students to part with Mr. Stocksdale, it is an equal difficulty for him to leave them. When seen by a Chronicle reporter he said that he left with much regret. "During the six seasons I have been here," he said, "I have received none but the very best treatment from the students and the faculty. My work here has been very pleasant indeed." Speaking of the teams which he has put out, he said that the one this year is by far the best one, considered from every point of view, that he has ever sent to the diamond to meet an opponent.

Mr. Stocksdale will leave Friday evening over the Seaboard for Memphis with whom he will pitch again the coming season. This will be his fourth season with that club. Before joining the Memphis aggregation he was with Montgomery, of the same league, for one season. His record has been a good one with each club as he stands high among the pitchers of the Southern League.

Tennessee Debate Friday at Knoxville.

Trinity's two debaters, Messrs. A. W. Horton and E. B. Hobbard, will leave Thursday evening for Knoxville, Tenn., where on the following evening they will meet the representatives of the University of Tennessee in debate. Trinity's representatives were chosen more than two months ago and have been at earnest work on the question ever since, and have it well in hand. They intend to give the Tennesseans a fierce struggle and are expecting to bring their colors back high in victory. The best wishes of every one in college go with them.

BRAIN AND EYE

HOW EYE-STRAIN RETARDS STUDY

Many students possessing superior minds oftentimes fancy themselves dull because they fail in their studies.

The reason simply this: They are afflicted with so much eye-strain that it requires nearly all the nerve force they possess to fix the eye upon their books, thereby exhausting the energy of the brain.

Many students unwittingly sacrifice their health in attaining an education, because of the large amount of brain-strain sustained in the close use of their eyes, though their vision seems excellent. This form of brain-strain is easily detected by an expert and most always remedied by glasses properly adjusted.

If you break your glasses don't send them away for repair, taking the chances of delay and mistakes. Just bring the pieces to my office and I will do the rest.

Bivins, and Webb all got hits. Cornell's pitchers were weak Wednesday as compared with Lovejoy, of Tuesday's game. Deshon and Gable were in the box for the visitors and both were batted about at will. Only the errorless work of the fielders kept Trinity from piling up the score. Hastings's work at the other end of the battery was equally as good as in the first game. Cornell played a good game of ball, but were far out classed in the pitcher's box by Trinity. That tells the story of the game.

HOW TRINITY SCORED THREE RUNS

Trinity made her first run in the second inning. Flowers, the first man up, got a safe hit and landed on first bag. Webb sacrificed advancing Flowers to second. Bivins made first on an error, and Flowers went to third. Lane hit to second base and Flowers came home. Lane being thrown out at first. Asbury fanned retiring side. The remaining couple of runs were made in the sixth inning. Smith the first man up in this inning, was thrown out at first. Wrenn knocked a high foul which was caught by the catcher. Suiter the next man was given his base. Flowers with a single advanced him to second. He stole third and Flowers second while the pitcher held the ball in his hand. Webb the next man up got a beautiful hit behind the third base scoring Flowers and Suiter. This made Trinity's score three. She was unable to make any more runs. Bivins got a hit, but Lane was out at first, retiring the side.

HOW CORNELL SCORED.

Cornell was unable to cross the rubber plate till the eighth inning. Reiber, the first man up, fanned. Hastings got hit on the head. Gable fanned. Heilman, third man up, placed the ball in deep center and made first, Hastings scoring, and Heilman going to third when the ball went through center. Ebeling made first on error of third, advancing Heilman across the plate. Brown was given a base on balls. Bigelow went out on a fly to Bivins, retiring the side. In the ninth inning Lane fanned two men and the third was out on a pop fly to Wrenn.

SOME SPECKS OF DIAMOND DUST.

An errorless game—that is playing ball that is worth seeing. The Cornell boys are the nicest lot of fellows that have come down from the North to play Trinity in many a moon. They are good ball players and all around gentlemen, every one of them.

A. & M. put it on Lafayette the only time she was defeated in this State when Harris was in the box but he was as easy a victim as Trinity wants—eleven clear hits and only two strike-outs.

The Game-cocks are getting into shape now as was shown by the games with Cornell and A. & M.

Asbury is right much of a mid-get in size but a Titan when it comes to picking up the sizzling grounders and the flies that try so hard to go beyond his reach.

There is no player that has appeared on this diamond this season who plays over more ground than Captain Billy Smith. It was just like balm to a deep wound to see him scoop up everything in his vicinity in the A. & M. game.

"Boogy" is coming to his own in the hitting line now. And the way he robs the visitors of hits is a downright shame. He goes 'way up in the air after the liners and they stop short never to go again—till he says they can.

Chat Bivins is a wonder in left field. His judgment of flies is perfect and his ability to stick to them is just as good. And at the bat he is something fierce. What a pity it was that he failed to get his home run after putting the ball to the fence and into that hole in right field in the game with the Farmers!

What magnificent pitching it was that Webb did in the game Saturday! Just think of allowing the Agriculturists, who boast of their heavy hitters, to get only two singles. And Lane is Webb's equal, too. How those Ithacans did fan the air when they faced him! Only four singles were what they got off his delivery.

Mr. T. M. Stokes, '06, is now with the American Tobacco Company in Durham.
