EVEN BREAK AT CHARLOTTE

Trinity Takes the First Game, While the Second Goes to Clemson.

FIRST CONTEST LASTS 13 INNINGS

Cadets Give Methodists Shut-out in Second Game—Large Crowds Attend the Performances—Tabulated Scores and Summaries.

[Charlotte Observer, 4th.]

It took thirteen innings of the fastest sort of ball for Trinity to demonstrate her superiority over Clemson at the Latta Park grounds yesterday afternoon. The score after two hours and twenty minutes of play was 5 to 4. Webb, Trinity's crack pitcher, scoring the winning run in the thirteenth inning after two men were down. The contest from start to finish was exciting in the extreme. Trinity tallied twice in the second, once in the seventh and again in the eighth. Clemson scored twice in the third and twice in the seventh. No more scoring was done until the winning run was made in the thirteenth inning. Webb's great pitching was the bright particular feature for Trinity, while the work of Robertson at short for Clemson was nothing short of marvelous. The all-around good play on both sides deserves mention. The attendance was not what it should have been, although the grand stand was well filled.

Yesterday's game had been eagerly awaited by the local fans, for they had heard much of the merits of the two teams. The Trinity aggregation arrived early yesterday morning from Durham and registered at the Selwyn. A more manly set of young men, clean-limbed, well-dressed, and well-behaved, never visited Charlotte.

The Clemson team arrived soon after the Trinity club had registered. They made their headquarters at the Buford. During the morning they sat about the lobby and visited the soda fountains. They were typical college men.

HOW THE RUNS WERE MADE.

Promptly at 4 o'clock Dr. Brodie C. Nalle, who had been asked to act as umpire, walked out into the center of the diamond and ordered the game to commence. As the Clemson team rushed out upon the field there was a fluttering of flags and waving of handkerchiefs in the grand stand. Puryear, Trinity's first baseman, was the first to the bat. As he stepped to the plate there was a second round of cheers and another fluttering of colors. The sentiment in the grand stand was very evenly divided. Above the murmur of the crowd the deep basso voice of Capt. Tom Rowland's mouthwork was, in the estimation of the grand stand, one of the most enjoyable features of the game. It is enough to say that he was at his best.

Mr. Herbin Winner of the Prize—The Attendance Very Good—The Question and Speakers.

The annual debate between selected members of the Sophomore class was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall last Friday evening. This contest is always one of interest to the college community, as it usually brings to light some of the men to whom the college must look for its future strength in debate. Previous to this year the speakers have been chosen from a number engaging in a preliminary contest, but this time they were selected by Dr. Mims on the basis of proficiency as seen from papers submitted to him. The supreme honor of the contest is the winning of a set of books given each year by Mr. J. H. Southgate, chairman of the board of trustees.

The query was: "Resolved, That the present tendency to extend the power of the federal government is detrimental to the best interests of the republic." This question was treated as related to child-labor, railroads and trusts, and discussed on the affirmative by Messrs. T. M. Grant, L. G. White, W. T. Brothers, and E. W. Knight; on the negative by Messrs. L. Herbin, R. C. Goldstein, A. J. Templeton, and M. A. Briggs. The judges were: Profs. Pegram and Wannamaker, and Dr. W. I. Cranford. Mr. C. R. Canipe, vice-president of the Sophomore class, presided over the debate.

The speakers had the question well in hand; their speeches were finely worked out and showed signs of diligent effort on the part of each man to do his best. At the conclusion of the discussion the judges retired to make up their decision as to the winning side and also as to whom the prize should belong. They very soon returned and announced their decision of the debate in favor of the negative and awarded the prize to Mr. L. Herbin.

On the whole the debate was of a high class. Each speaker acquitted himself with great credit and any one of them promises good material for future service as a debater.

The attendance was very good, the Y. M. C. A. hall being filled almost to its seating capacity. Everybody present seemed to enjoy the occasion notwithstanding the lengthiness of the debate. While the judges were out the crowd called on Dr. Mims for a speech. He responded with a short comment on the quality of the debate. He expressed himself as highly pleased with it and encouraged to look forward to an even bigger showing from those who had shown up so well in this contest.

Mr. J. H. Southgate made a splendid talk at the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening. There was a good-sized audience out to hear what he had to say.

SOCIETY MEDALS AWARDED

Six Prizes Given for Good Work in Debate and Oratory.

THE YEAR'S WORK HAS BEEN GOOD

Orators' Medals Go to Messrs. Holton and Peele—Every Intersociety Speaker Wins Prize—Finals Saturday Evening.

Another year's work in the literary societies is fast drawing to a close. The first step in this direction was the awarding of medals to the members of the respective societies who had made the best records in debate and oratory. The winners of these much-sought-for and highly-coveted prizes were chosen at last Saturday evening's meeting and resulted as follows:

COLUMBIAN SOCIETY.

Orator's Medal to Mr. Luther M. Peele, of Gibson, N. C.
General Debater's Medal to Mr. F. Swindell Love, of Monroe, N. C.

Freshman Debater's Medal to Mr. G. M. Daniel, of Roanoke Rapids, N. C.

The contest for the orator's prize was a very close one between Messrs. H. E. Spence, C. Q. Stewart and Mr. Peele, each having made a splendid race during the year. Mr. Love's closest runner was Mr. E. B. Hobgood, of the Sophomore Class, who was Columbia's representative in the Trinity-Tennessee debate. The Freshman race led in the number of men entering. Of this number Mr. C. N. Crawford was adjudged second best, while honorable mention was given others.

HESPERIAN SOCIETY.

The award in the Hesperian Society was:

Orator's Medal to Mr. Holland Holton, of Durham.
General Debater's Medal to Mr. A. L. Wissburg, of Durham.

Freshman Debater's Medal to Mr. H. C. Doss, of Ada, Oklahoma.

There was a neck-and-neck race for the medal for oratory between Messrs. E. O. Cole, C. C. Barnhardt, and Mr. Holton, and considerable time was spent before the winner could be finally selected. Mr. Wissburg's rival for the general orator's medal was Mr. A. W. Horton, who was the Trinity-Tennessee debater. Mr. Doss had no especially hard man to contend with, though there were a good number who had aspirations in that direction.

It is a very remarkable fact that every man who spoke this year in the intersociety debate received a medal for proficiency in debating in his respective society. Such a happening is never known to have occurred here before.

On next Saturday evening the societies will hold their final regular meeting of the year, at which time officers for the first quarter of next session will be elected and

NEW STAFF ELECTED.

Mr. Sanders Will Be Editor-in-Chief With Mr. White as Business Manager—Messrs. Knight and Horne Associates.

The Governing Board of The Chronicle has elected the editor-in-chief, associate editors, and business manager of the paper for next year. Mr. W. H. Sanders, '08, was chosen editor-in-chief and Mr. E. W. Knight, '09, and Mr. J. L. Horne, Jr., '09, were elected associate editors. Mr. L. G. White, who has made an efficient assistant this year, was unanimously chosen as business manager. The other members of the staff are appointed and will be announced later.

In addition to the election of the above officers, the Board passed an amendment to the by-laws by which the paper is conducted regarding any profit which may be made from the publication. It will be divided as follows: forty per cent to the business manager, forty per cent to the editor-in-chief, and ten per cent to each of the two literary societies.

Glee Club Concert Friday Evening.

The Glee Club and Orchestra will give its final concert of the year in the Academy of Music in Durham Friday evening. The Club has taken only one trip this year, this being the one just before Christmas, but has certainly done a large amount of practicing and should be and is in good shape to give the students and the Durham people something good in the way of college melody. It will be worth while for everybody to attend—in fact all the students should, as the musical organization deserves and should receive as much support as any other organization.

Final Meeting of Science Club.

The last meeting of the Science Club for this year was held Monday in the Crowell Science Hall. Officers were elected for next year as follows: President, Robert S. Brown; secretary and treasurer, W. A. Stanbury, Prof. W. H. Pegram was the speaker for the meeting. He talked on "Coal-Tar Dyestuffs," giving a very interesting presentation of that subject.

Delivers Address at Duke.

On last Saturday evening Prof. A. H. Merritt delivered an address at the closing exercises of the graded school of Duke. The superintendent of this school is Mr. E. O. Smithdeal, an alumnus of Trinity. Prof. Merritt spoke on "The Unseen World" and was heard by a large audience.

installed. After this has taken place the Seniors will be given an opportunity to make farewell talks. Both societies have had a most prosperous year and feel that much good work has been accomplished.

TRINITY 10; WAKE FOREST 2

The Baptists Defeated for the Fourth Time This Season.

FLOWERS DOES GREAT STICK WORK

Sixteen Hits Made off Gay—Lane Fans Eleven Men But is a Little Wild—Trinity Makes One Error. Score in Detail.

For the fourth consecutive time this season Wake Forest went down in defeat before the magnificent playing of the Methodist boys, the game being played at the fair grounds at Raleigh last Wednesday. The score at the end of the skirmish was 10 to 2. At no stage of the performance did the Baptists have a ghost of a chance of winning out. In the first inning enough runs were scored by Trinity to take the contest had no more been made during the remaining eight sessions. Gay, who had pitched the game with Trinity at Wake Forest the day before, was again on the firing line and was walloped for a grand total of sixteen hits, two of which were two-baggers. Lane pitched for the Gamecocks and allowed only a two-bagger and three singles, fanning eleven of the thirty-six men who faced him, no one of whom was able to get a ball out of the infield. In the sixth inning he lost his control allowing two singles and hitting three batters, forcing in one run. After that he settled down to steady work again and allowed no more runs to be made. In the ninth "Hungry" Frank Turner, the first man up, got a two-bagger but on second corner he roosted permanently as Morgan flew out on a foul to Asbury, Gregory on a star catch by Sauter, and Gay fanned.

Trinity's first five runs came in on a combination of a base on balls, two singles, a sacrifice, a hit batter, five stolen bases and several errors. In the next inning four singles with a base on balls and three steals brought four more tallies, three of the runs being earned. After that inning numerous scattered hits were made but there was no scoring except in the eighth inning when Lane singled, was advanced to second on an error, and scored on Puryear's single.

The Baptists made four errors against Trinity's one. The work of Fred Flowers at the bat was the one particular feature of the conflict. Four clean singles were made by him at four successive times at the bat while on his fifth time he went out on a long fly to left field. Lane came in also for honors in batting, putting out a two-bagger and two singles in six times at the bat.

DURHAM, N. C., May 8, 1907

From time to time we have noticed in the State papers that certain baseball team have been spoken of as rivals for the State championship and that one more game would decide the matter. To be frank about this championship business, we cannot see how there is any single team in North Carolina that can rightly lay claim to it. In fact every year this mooted question comes up and gets considerable space in the columns of newspapers but so far as there is any real championship team, it is all talk. There are six male institutions in the State which put out good baseball teams but during neither this season nor any other season in the immediate past has any one team of the half-dozen played the other five, and how can there be any championship for the State till such has been done? Then, again, take the matter of percentage of games won as a base for claim to State championship. This is just as big a farce also as one could think of. One team may win, let us say, all the games it plays in a season but notwithstanding this it cannot claim to be the best college team in the State for half of the games may have been played with "prep" schools, a fourth of them with teams outside the State, and the other fourth with two or three of the other five colleges. The truth of the business is, as any fair-minded person can readily see, there can be no team in the Commonwealth which can rightly claim to be the banner team till all the six institutions in the State come to some common agreement in regard to eligibility rules and then each plays the other five a series of three games. Then the team with the highest percentage of games won can rightly be said to be the championship nine, and until that good day all this talk about State championship is pure and unadulterated bosh.

Webb for Trinity and Farmer for Clemson. There was nothing doing the first inning, the sides being retired in short order.

Flowers for Trinity was the first man up in the second inning. He went out on a deep fly to center. Webb hit safe over second, taking first. Bivins, the next man up, hit to short and Webb was thrown out at second. Bivins stole second and went to third on Lane's safe hit to left.

In the melee Lane passed on to second. With two men on bases and two out, Asbury, Charlotte's contribution to the Trinity team, hit beautifully past third and both Bivins and Lane scored. Puryear retired the side by flying out to centre. Clemson delayed scoring until later in the game.

THE SOUTH CAROLINIANS TAKE A HAND.

The South Carolinians did in the second half of the third inning just what Trinity did in the first half of the second. She made two runs, thereby tying the score. Cole, first man up for Clemson, took first on safe hit to centre. Farmer advanced him by drawing a base on balls. Brown sacrificed to first, thereby advancing the runners one bag each. Thinking that he saw a chance to steal home, Cole rushed up the line from third and was caught between the bases. As luck would have it, Wrenn and Asbury, in playing the runner, unfortunately hit him on the shoulder and was safe at home. Farmer took third while the scramble was in progress. Lee hit to second and was out at first, Farmer scoring. Robertson struck out but was safe at first on a fumbled ball. Lykes hit to second and was out at first. The net result of the inning was two runs for the Farmers.

Trinity added one run to her score in the seventh and another in the eighth, Bivins and Wrenn carrying the blue and white across the plate, in the order named.

The seventh, like the third, was a fortunate one for Clemson. Bissell gained first or a safe hit. Barksdale, the next man up, struck out. Wylie hit hard to Smith at short, who fumbled. Bissell taking second and Wylie landing safe on first. Cole hit to first and Wylie was thrown out at second, Bissell going on to third. With two men out, Farmer hit between second and short, an easy out if either Smith or Snider had gone after it. Both started and then halted, the one giving way to the other. The result was that the ball dropped between the two, Bissell and Cole both scoring. Brown flew out to left, thereby ending the agony.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES TO SCORE.

There was no more scoring until after the ninth inning. Trinity and Clemson both had several chances but failed.

In the eleventh Lee, first man up for Clemson, hit through right and took three bags. The signal was given to Robertson, next man up, to bunt the ball. As the sphere left the pitcher's hand, Lee bolted for home, anticipating a bunt. Aware of the intent of the runner, Webb, Trinity's twirler, threw a wide out which Robertson could not reach. Lee was caught between the bases and run down by Wrenn. The plate so far as the South Carolinians were concerned, might just as well have been at the North Pole, for they never again were in striking distance of it.

Webb, who had pitched a masterly game throughout, won his own game in the thirteenth by hitting safe to left and scoring on Robertson's wild throw to first. Clemson were out in one, two, three order in their half of thirteenth, the game being over.

Webb's work yesterday was as well executed as ever seen on the local grounds. The contest this afternoon promises to be equally as exciting as that of yesterday.

Charlotte fans have seldom seen much faster playing than that yesterday of Smith, at short, and Bivins, in left for Trinity, and Robertson, at short, and Bissell, at third for Clemson. Bissell's handling of bunts was great. The official score is as follows:

CLEMSON WINS SECOND GAME.

The second game which was played on Saturday before a large crowd went to Clemson by a score of 3 to 0. The game was good and highly enjoyed and was won by the Cadets by timely and consistent batting and good fielding. The pitching of Robertson was the feature of the contest. The stars for Trinity were Wrenn, Lane, Puryear, and Flowers while for Clemson Wylie, Robertson, Lee and Barksdale did good work. Both teams had many sympathizers on the grounds though the lassies who wore the Trinity blue considerably outnumbered those who squealed for the Sandlappers. The red-headed battery of the South Carolinians was too fierce for the Tar Heel boys and they hoodooed them into a shut-out game.

Clemson scored first in the fifth inning when Lee laced one out over Smith's head and raced around for three bags and scored after Webb had caught Robertson's fly. In the third Brown added another by being hit by the ball thrown by Asbury to Puryear. He was advanced on Lee's out, Lane to Puryear. Robertson flew out to right field and on Lykes' liner between second and first Brown counted. In the fourth Kirby hit over second for two bags, went to third on a wild pitch, and chased home after Bivins' catch of Barksdale's fly. He could have been easily caught at the plate but Bivins, thinking two men were out, when only one was, tossed the ball leisurely up to Smith, without trying a throw to the home pot.

Trinity's only chance to tally came in the sixth inning when three men got on bases. Lane, first up, was retired, pitcher to first. Asbury waited for four balls. Puryear then lined out one to right field which gave him a pass to second and sent Asbury on to third. Smith fanned, Wrenn traveled to first on the Big Four caravan, filling the bags. The supporters of the Methodists yelled right lustily then but had their hopes crushed as Suiter popped out to the second

Mr. Thompson is well known to a large number of the students, and it is hoped that a large audience will avail itself of the opportunity of hearing him. Let everybody be on time.

"Self Education."

One of the most significant statements that has appeared of late in any college paper, or elsewhere, concerning college experience, is an editorial in the current issue of The Trinity Chronicle, the newspaper of Trinity College and Trinity Park School, at Durham, in which "self education" is discussed. The Chronicle, after investigation, says that approximately 25 per cent of the students of Trinity College earn their way through college without help from parents or any other source, except from the loan fund of the institution. A large number in addition to these receive only partial support from home, depending upon their own efforts for a part of their expenses. The men who are working their way through college engage in 30 or more different occupations, in the college community and in the city of Durham.

The significance of these facts, as pointed out by The Chronicle, is that any man nowadays of sufficient intelligence and grit to take, or be benefited by, a course in college can get it, for practically the same conditions prevail in institutions all over the country as prevail at Trinity. And it may be remarked incidentally that the men who do have to work two or three years before going to college and who then have to apply themselves to make ends meet, are very apt to make good after they leave college. They realize more fully the real value of a college education and they are better equipped for battling with the world after they leave college for the reason that they have already done considerable "battling." We'll tie to the man who "get's there" regardless.—Winston-Salem Journal.
