STUDENTS GET STIRRED UP

Strife Between Factions for Control of Athletic Association.

PRESIDENT KILGO TAKES A HAND.

Saturday's Election Declared Null and Void—Trustees Will be Asked to Place Control in a Faculty-Student Committee.

There has been no little commotion among the students during the past week and there is still some thought at present it is greatly abated. This has been over the election of officers for the Athletic Association for next year. For sometime past there was a movement on foot among the non-fraternity men of the college to get control of affairs, their position being that the fraternity men had held the honors of the association long enough. To this end a number of caucuses were held and men were agreed upon thereat who were to be put forward at election time. The action of these non-fraternity men got noised abroad and President Kilgo on last Friday morning at chapel, declared, in a speech of considerable length and characteristic emphasis, that neither of the men proposed for baseball manager by the opposing factions would be allowed to serve.

The opposite forces proceeded at once to reorganize and new men were brought forward. The association met in the Y. M. C. A. hall Saturday evening, with between a hundred and fifty and two hundred students present. After being called to order, the question of who was eligible to vote was raised and it was moved and passed by an overwhelming vote, that everybody would be granted the privilege just as had been the case in all former elections of recent years. The voting was close throughout but the election resulted in a victory for the non-fraternity men. The officers elected were as follows: President R. S. Brown; vice-president, J. M. Daniel; secretary-treasurer, Speight Wrenn; manager of baseball team, L. J. Carter, first assistant, E. W. Knight; second assistant, Fred Connelly;

SENIOR ORATORS.

The Four Chosen Last Wednesday Evening—Eight Men Entered the Preliminary. Making the Contest Exciting

The four members of the Senior Class who will deliver orations on Tuesday evening of commencement were chosen at a preliminary which was held on Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. hall. There were eight contestants—five from the Columbian and three from the Hesperian Society. The Hesperian speakers were Messrs. E. O. Cole, Holland Holton, and W. G. Jerome; the Columbian, Messrs. J. W. Hutchison, L. M. Peele, H. E. Spence, W. W. Stedman, and C. Q. Stewart. The committee of judges was composed of Prof. Pegram and Drs. Mims and Cranford. The four orators chosen were: Messrs. Holton, Jerome, Spence and Peele.

Addresses by Dr. Mims.

Dr. Edwin Mims returned yesterday from a several days' speaking tour in the State. On Friday evening he delivered an address at the closing of the Monroe Graded Schools, of which Prof. J. A. Bivins, formerly head master of Trinity Park School, is principal. Sunday and Monday was spent in Charlotte. On Sunday evening he addressed the congregations of Tryon Street and Trinity Methodist churches on "The Religious Aspect of Right Thinking". On Monday evening he spoke before the Pro Re Nata Club on "Some Phases of Southern Literature."

The Spanish Club of Cornell recently presented its first play.

manager of basket ball team, C. R. Claywell. This election was declared null and void by President Kilgo on Monday morning at chapel on the ground that it was not according to the constitution of the Athletic Association. He said that he would recommend to the Trustees that they place the election hereafter of officers of the association in the hands of a committee composed of three members of the faculty and four students. Thus the matter rests at present.

TRINITY'S BEST SEASON.

This Year Has Been the Most Successful of All in Baseball.

SCHEDULE A LONG AND HARD ONE

Almost Every Game Played as Arranged—Sixteen Contests on the Home Diamond—Four Men Go Out This Year.

When everything is considered, the baseball season of 1907 has surely been the most successful Trinity ever had. The schedule was the longest and therefore necessarily the hardest of any season, yet the team came out at the last with two-thirds of the games won. What is a very remarkable occurrence is that only two games which originally appeared on the schedule of twenty-eight were not played. The game with the Presbyterian College of South Carolina was cancelled by the manager of that team and the other—that with Wake Forest in Raleigh on May 6—was not played inasmuch as we had already won four victories over that nine. One game was arranged about the middle of the season which made the whole number played twenty-seven—six more than during any previous season. Sixteen of these were fought out on the local diamond,—nine more than last season—thereby furnishing plenty of excitement for the students and people of Durham. Rain did not prevent a single game though cold weather came mightily near breaking up about three. On an average the attendance at games was very good, considering that the price for most of the games was put at fifty cents instead of the customary twenty-five cents. The result seems to have justified this action, the receipts and expenditures for the season coming out very nearly together.

The team was again coached by Mr. O. H. Stocksdale and it goes without saying that it was done in the best possible manner. He could not remain with the team throughout the whole season—he had to leave it in fact before the schedule was more than a third over with but when he departed the boys were in such shape that they played steadily and enthusiastically. Many teams depend entirely on their coach to direct them in the game and when the coach leaves they go to pieces like babes lost in the woods. Not so with Trinity's team for it never depended entirely on Mr. Stocksdale's direction, using its own headwork, though assisted of course very much by him. That is responsible in a great part for the team's success. It could stand on its own feet.

The annual Southern trip was not taken this season, a schedule through Virginia and on to Washington being tried as an experiment. In every way possible it proved a success and will very likely be repeated in future years. Four men have played their last

FACULTY-SENIOR GAME.

Friday the Day For It to Be Played—The Probable Faculty Line up—Something Will Be Doing.

The faculty and the Senior Class will have their "time at the bat" on Friday afternoon, beginning at the hour of 4 o'clock. The scene of this occasion will be the Hanes Athletic Field. Conclusions will be tried at baseball. As usual the game will have its many features none of which need mentioning. The faculty have had the would-be graduates at their mercy for four long years and the boys are determined to do all they can in the way of revenge. They will no doubt have their hands full in accomplishing this for the professors have been putting in some masterly practice during the recent days when the Seniors were engrossed with other affairs.

The line up of the Seniors will be about the same as in the game with the Juniors. A Chronicle representative has been given the following as the probable positions which the professors will play. There may be some changes but only a few. Headmaster North of the "prep" school, will do the twirling stunt while Capt. Card will be at the receiving end.

On first base will be either Dr. Boyd or Mr. Breedlove, on second Dr. Hendren or Dr. Mims, on third Prof. Webb, at short Registrar Newsom, in left field Dr. Glasson, in center Prof. Wanamaker, and in right Prof. Gill. This will surely make a fierce aggregation to go up against. Some phenomenal performances are looked for.

The local association is planning to send eight or ten men to the Y. M. C. A. Student Conference which meets near Asheville in June. The President and three other men have decided to go and there are some others who may go with them.

President Kilgo was the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening. He made his usual quality of talk—something that was good and did good.

COMMENCEMENT IN DETAIL

Many Events Fill the Last Few Days of the School Year.

COMPLETE PROGRAM OF EXERCISES.

Prominent Speakers, Good Music, and Numerous Social Functions the Leading Features—Many Visitors Are Looked For.

It is now just ten days till the commencement exercises of the Park School and Trinity begin. The indications at this time point to the usual round of enjoyable exercises—addresses by distinguished men, speeches by students, the awarding of prizes and diplomas, and the various events of asocial nature. The attendance of visitors from all parts of the State is expected to be as large as usual and ample preparations are being made to furnish them with accommodations while they are in the city. A special feature of the week will be the annual banquets by the fraternities which will be held on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Another attractive part of the program will be the music by a choir of several score of the best voices in Durham under the direction of Prof. Gilmore Ward Bryant, of the Conservatory of Music. This choir will sing at the service on Sunday evening and again on Tuesday morning. Orchestral music will be given throughout the finals by a band composed of Durham and Greensboro musicians.

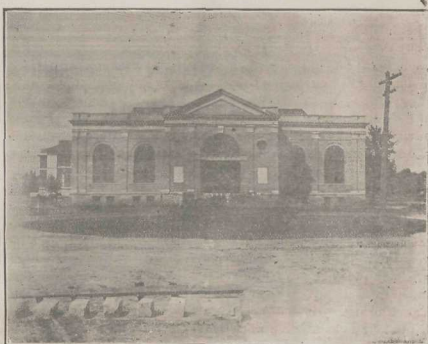

THE DAILY PROGRAM.

The opening event of the commencement occasion on the park will be the class day exercises on Saturday evening, June 1, by members of the Senior Class of Trinity Park School which will be held for the first time in the new auditorium of the school. These will be followed by the annual reception in the Asbury Building. Trinity's commencement will begin with the annual baccalaureate address by President Kilgo in Craven Memorial Hall Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Monday afternoon the Board of

The Old Grey Fox

Oh, he's ancient, and he's crippled,
So he runs a little lame;
But you've got him, Babb, you keep him,
Just the same;
For he's heady as they make 'em,
For he's foxy as his name,
And I'd ask the man who questions,
Is he game?

000000000000000

Did you see the chase they gave him,
While they went the route that kills?
Did you notice that he took it
Like a good kid swallows pills?

Did you see him running even
With the howling shreveport pack?
Did you watch him reach the limit,
Turn around and double back?

When they threw some wild behind him,
In the hurry, and the pinch,
Did you hear him raise a hollow?
Did you see him shirk or flinch?

No, he pitched a little better,
While we looked to see him die;
Then he stole off through the darkness
With a fifteen inning tie.

Then he stole away in darkness,
While the bleachers howled their bliss,
And the Grand Stand will remember
That he left a trail like this:

000000000000000

000000000000000

Yes, he's ancient, and he's crippled,
So he runs a little lame;
But we want him, Babb, we want him,
Just the same;
For he's heady as they make 'em,
For he's foxy as his name,
And he's proved beyond a question
That he's game.

SKETCHES OF THE BOYS

Smith is the best short stop Trinity ever had. He has played here four years in that position and during that time he has been in every one of the eighty-three games played. That is a remarkable record in itself. But for other reasons he has made himself a hero among Trinity students and others. He is conceded by competent judges to be the fastest short stop ever seen on a Southern college nine. He covers an unusually large amount of territory and goes after everything near whether he is sure he can get it or not. He has never failed to take a chance even when he thought he might make an error on it. In this way many a batter has been robbed of a hit. He has a very sunny disposition and never gets in the dumps, even when he sees the game going against him. This same spirit has been imparted to his fellow players in the capacity, for two years, of captain. Besides he has always stood for clean ball or nothing and has done much to keep Trinity's athletic standard high. During his first two years playing his batting was rather light but he has shown much improvement in this line during the last two seasons. This year he led in sacrifice hits and in two baggers, having six of the former and ten of the latter as his portion. He is small in stature, weighing only a hundred and thirty pounds and standing only five feet four and a half inches in height. He is right handed.

When hardly has an equal in the South as a catcher. In fact he has just been put on the all-Southern nine by Coach Heisman. He has caught for Trinity three full years and has done it better than any other man ever has. He holds to everything that the pitcher throws him and goes after and hauls in some hard foul balls. He is especially fast in getting started after them and makes desperate efforts after many that an ordinary catcher would let go without an effort. Perhaps his strongest point, however, is in his easy and accurate throwing to second. Many a runner has been caught in trying to get to that sack. In the beginning of this season his arm was in rather poor shape but it soon got in perfect trim and since then very few steals were made. was only forty. Trinity made a hundred and thirteen off other catchers. Wrenn has also been good in "head work" and in "talking up the game." On numerous occasions he has put ginger in the boys and got a fine quality of playing out of them. In batting, also, he is strong. His record last year when he came out second was 326 and this year he stands among the highest. He has played his last year on Trinity's team. He will be long remembered by the different pitchers whom he caught and the students past and present for his good work behind the bat. He is five feet eleven inches tall and his weight is a hundred and sixty. He is a right-handed batter.

Webb was again at his old position this season—in the pitcher's box—after a year of good service on second. As a twirler he has achieved much renown both at home and abroad. He has a good variety of puzzling curves and plenty of speed in addition. His record in games won does not show his real worth for some of the finest games he pitched were lost on costly errors by his teammates. Especially was this true of the first Lafayette game when the heavy-hitting Pennsylvanians were allowed only three singles. His best game was the one at Wake Forest when only a scratch bunt hit was secured by the Baptists and not a single fair ball was got out of the infield. When not pitching Webb was in right or left field where he did good work. His fielding was next to the best this season. In hitting he has also done some telling work, in several games coming right up with the hit which was necessary to win the game. His weakest point as a player has been his base running, being too large to get around quickly. He has played on five Trinity teams, four years being spent in the box. He is six feet tall and weighs a hundred and seventy-five pounds. He bats right handed.

In the return of Puryear to college this year after an absence of several seasons, the team acquired a player who had done star work in former years. Puryear came to Trinity first in the fall of 1900 and the next spring became a member of the team, playing the first two games at short. After that he became an outfielder where he showed himself a fast man. In 1902 he played in center field and the next season in center and on first base. In the latter position he has played in every game this season. Out of 594 chances he made only 11 errors, most of which were on grounders. He dropped but a small number of the balls thrown him, holding some very high and wide ones on numerous occasions. Puryear knows the game exceedingly well and plays it for all he is worth. As a bunter he led, being able to place the ball down third base line just far enough to confound third baseman, catcher and pitcher with the result that he often got to first before either could get the ball up. On bases he is swift, being especially good in running from first to third on a sacrifice hit. He also stole third outright a good number of times. He came in for several three baggers during the season, scoring three runs in one game by one of them. He will not be with the team another year. He is five feet eleven inches in height and tips the scales at a hundred and sixty. He can bat from either side of the plate.

Asbury has the distinction of being the smallest player on the team. Wherever he went he attracted undue attention on account of his stature. The Washington Post called him "Little Statuary". This has been his first year on the team and though his record is not quite up to the average, he plays with vim and promises to show up much better with more experience. The pitcher finds it rather difficult to get the ball across the plate just right for him and as a result he got his base on balls very often.

S. JENKS ASBURY
Third Baseman.

Though his hitting has been light during the whole season, he got his batting eye opened toward the end and smashed out some that were extremely timely. It was his two-bagger which brought in two men in the first Clemson game and thereby won it. As-bury's height is only five feet four inches and he weighs only a hundred and twenty-five pounds. He bats right-handed.

Fred Flowers met with hard luck again this season. Last spring he was out of nearly all of the games on account of getting his arm broke. This year he was the only man who got hurt enough to keep him out of a game. He was injured in the contest with Virginia on the Northern trip. When he was in the game he played in his usual good style. The spectators knew that when a ball went to his hands it was sure of being caught. He has a good arm also and used it in catching men at the plate. His hitting has been heavy throughout the season, and at the close he stood second in this feature of the game. His weight is a hundred and forty and his height five feet nine inches. He bats right handed.

Bivins, who played last season as a substitute, came into prominence early in the season as a fast and sure outfielder and his record

all through has been a fine one. In nearly a half dozen games he made one or more star catches of balls that looked as if they could not be reached. His best work was done in the last game with A. & M. when he captured two very difficult flies. He played left field most of the time but was in center in the three games when Flowers was out. Most of his work was in fielding flies as he made only one assist during the whole season. This was by a beautiful throw to the plate in the first game with Central University. His batting has been good and his base running even better. He stands second in the number of steals with eighteen to his credit. He is five feet three inches in height and weighs one hundred and forty-five pounds. He has another year in college. He is a right handed batter.

In Lane Trinity has a crackling young right hand pitcher. His first year's work has shown him to be made of the stuff that downs the batters. He is at all times perfectly cool and calm in the box, has terrific speed and an ample supply of curves. Sometimes he has lacked control but that will come with more experience. He has pitched some noteworthy contests this season. One was the second game with Cornell when only four hits and two runs were secured off him and another the game with Richmond College when the Spiders were let down with but two hits and no score. Lane is also a good hitter and is the fastest man on bases on the team. He is especially good in beating out infield balls. He was in every game of the season, playing in the field when not in the pitcher's box. His weight is one hundred and forty-five pounds and his height is five feet eight and one-half inches. He bats either right or left-handed.

With the change this season of Webb from second to the pitcher's box, Suiter was moved from first base to second and in that position has made the same fine record which he made at the initial corner. No grounders came too hot for him to handle the opportunity of making first and it was a mighty slow bounce roller that came his way when the runner made first safely. He has been working a great deal, taking Wren's time to second he was always there with the goods. But in addition to this he has led all his teammates in hitting the sphere, in scoring runs, and in stealing bases. At the latter he has been very daring, getting nearly twice as many steals as any one of his fellow players. What is all the more remarkable, also, he got a good percentage of these from second to third. Fortune seemed to be with him in this as he was caught only one time in the act. He has two more years in college. He has been elected captain of the 1908 team. His height is six feet and his weight is a hundred and seventy-five. He bats left-handed.

Henry Smith (better known as "Rasus") was sub-catcher again this season. He catches well but circumstances were such this year that he did not get to show him-make good next season. This was his first attempt in that line. He played in right field during four games. At the bat he showed that he was a good hitter.

Nixon played as utility man. He pitched in two games and played in right field in two. He did his work well as a sub, working hard with the team.

C. B. HICKS. Hicks was not in a full game, playing only in parts of three in right field. He was at the bat five times and got one hit and scored one run.

MANAGER'S THANKS.

To our subscribers and advertisers:

With this issue closes the first full year's history of The Chronicle, and before severing our connection with our college weekly in the capacity of Business Manager
I wish to thank heartily all those who have in any way contributed financially to the support of the publication.

We assumed the management of the paper determined to make
of it as much of a financial success as we knew the editor would make of his department, and,
thanks to the students and the business men of this and other cities, we can safely say that the paper is on a firm basis.

To our advertisers, especially,
we wish to tender our thanks with the hope that the student body has given them in return for their favors more than value received.
We trust that they have found that it pays to show the students that they appreciate their trade, and in return for the same are willing to contribute to the support of our college publications.

For our advertisers we can say that in our dealings with them
we have found them to be the most obliging, upright, honest, conscientious, business-like men to be found. There is not one man on our list whom we cannot recommend to our friends and fellow students for honorable business dealings.

Our subscribers, on the whole,
have "come up with the lucre" in a way that has delighted our hearts. There are a few, however, yet in arrears. These we would most earnestly urge to "delight
our hearts" by coming up with their parts, so that at the close we can turn over our books to the coming Manager with clean records.

For the new staff I bespeak

your hearty support, and predict
a bright future for The Chronicle
if you will do your part.

"COPY ALL IN."

With this issue The Chronicle closes its second volume and our connection with the paper comes to an end. Though this is with a great deal of regret, it is with much pleasure also for we have found during our experience of more than a year and a half on a college weekly that keeping it going is no easy task. Many have been the thorns that have filled our cushion, many the hours of anxiety as to where enough
"copy" was to come from. We have received many kind words
of thanks and commendation—
for which we were unutterably thankful—and a rather bountiful amount of "cussin." We have been informed, indirectly, that we were very pessimistic in our editorial views though no one ever came to us and told us so much as we asked in our first issue last fall of those who wanted to cuss us out.
Perhaps we have been pessimistic
—we don't deny the charge—but our pessimism arose from the circumstances. We saw things going on which we believed to be detrimental to the best interests of the student body and, following that well-known advice "think every man for himself," we thought a little and printed it. We made mistakes, of course—rank mistakes no doubt—for which we, of course, are sorry; but we are glad to say that we believe some good and not an infinite amount of evil has resulted from our course of action. In all our work our prime motive has ever been to do the right as we were able to see it; nothing more, nothing less.

We have had no ax of our own to grind nor have we let any individual or body of individuals, so far as we know, use this paper to grind theirs. We have tried to be moderate in our expressions,
we have tried to be non-partizan
in our views, we have tried to conduct a representative and true college paper and to that end
have not spared time nor effort, even at times to neglect of other duties whether we have succeeded or failed we are unable to say.
The student body has given us its heartiest co-operation; our staff associates have, on the whole, assisted us largely; and so has the faculty to a certain extent—for all of which we give due thanks.
We do not think, however, that we were given as square a deal as some other organizations received in several matters, but, now that we have pulled through, we are not in a mood to complain. With no favor bestowed on us, we could act freely and speak in the same manner, and perhaps after all that was best.

To those who have shown kindness to this year's staff we appeal

for a continuation of that policy to our successors. To those who have not so done, we also appeal on their behalf. They are all men well-suited to their respective positions, we believe, and will do their part nobly, but your co-operation is a necessary factor if success is to crown their efforts. Give them your words of encouragement and advice, and give them your

TRACK TEAM AND TENNIS

Two Branches of Sport That Have Amounted to Nothing
Practically this Year—Neither Has a Record to Print.

Several months ago The Chronicle was led to rejoice by the assurance that a track team would be put out at Trinity this spring.
But a search warrant has been unable to find what "record" that track team has to go in this athletic number. The greatest run the team seems to have made was into the ground and even the hole into which it withdrew has been so securely covered that no trace of it is left. The "team" was seen out on the ground once or twice getting its wind and sinews into shape, but it must have become winded very early as no
visions of the white pantaloons have been seen recently. From what was said regarding the "team," some first class meets were looked for but vigilant search has failed to bring any to light.
The "record," therefore, must go down as a blank. No mention would have been made of this sport, since it no longer has a place in the college's athletic list,
but for the fact that an explanation was due out-of-town readers
as to why accounts of meets,
field days, and so on were not given from time to time.

Tennis has not seen quite so lamentable a fate as the tennis club was frank enough last fall to announce that it would not hold an intercollegiate tournament. In the fall there was considerable interest in the game but it slowly dwindled away, leaving the racket mostly to the "love" set players.
A proposed interclass tournament was inaugurated in the fall but was never concluded. Interclass tennis championship is as mooted
a question, therefore, as is the North Carolina baseball championship. The only difference is that the former has no claimants.

Work has been stopped on the new Alumni athletic field at Cornell, owing to lack of funds.

On Tuesday the college finals get into full swing, the day being crowded with events. At 11 o'clock in the morning will be the commencement sermon by Rev. Donald Sage MacKay, D. D., of New York, in Memorial Hall. At 1 p. m. the annual dinner of the Alumni Association will be held, probably in the Gymnasium, the address being by Hon. Jerome Dowd, of Charlotte. This will be an affair of more elaborateness and importance than heretofore, great preparations being made now in that direction. Dr. W. T. Bradshaw, of High Point, is president of the association, and Mr. J. E. Pegram, of Durham, is chairman of the executive committee which has charge of arrangements. All Trinity graduates and former students in the city and out-of-town who expect to attend the dinner are asked to send their names at once to Mr. Pegram.

SPEAKING BY SENIORS

The four fraternities will hold their annual banquets on Monday and Tuesday evenings after the other exercises are over. The Kappa Alphas will hold forth on Monday evening in the New Dormitory banquet hall, the Durham Catering Co. being the caterer. On the same evening the Kappa Sigmas will hold their banquet at Fairview, the home of the late Mr. Washington Duke, the caterer being Dugli. On Tuesday evening the Alpha Tau Omegas have their festivities, the New Dormitory banquet hall being the place and Dugli, of Raleigh, the caterer.

RECORD IN BASKET BALL

Three of the Five Games Played Were Won by Trinity.

A Total of 131 Points Made to Opponents' 80—What Each Individual Player Did—Many Fouls Made.

The basket ball team for this year was the second Trinity ever put out. The sport was first introduced here in February 1906 and the first game was played on March 2 of that year with Wake Forest. The team showed its rawness and lack of experience in every game but there was promise of something better for the future when time and experience had done their work. This year's team showed a marked improvement though it cannot be said that it was a very successful one.

Four members of the 1906 team returned to college and responded to the first call for practice early in the fall. These were Greever, Stem, White and Claywell. Greever played in the first game only, however, being debarred thereafter by the S. I. A. A. rules. The other three men were in most of the other contests and played fine ball. White distinguished himself just as he had done during the former season, as a very pugnacious guard. He did not carry the ball to Trinity's goal, choosing rather as he should to keep his opponent from scoring. "Big" Kiker played at center and scored more than twice as many goals as any other player on the team. In several games, however, his opponent caught him napping and got several goals he was not entitled to, but on the whole his work was satisfactory. Puryear, who took Greever's position, came out as a fast man with an accurate throwing of field goals. Claywell also was good in finding the basket and made but two fouls. Baxter, though small, was quick and safe in his playing. He was the only player who had no fouls charged against him. Spence played during only one whole game but showed himself up well, blocking every move of his opponent. Captain Stem made a very efficient guard, his work in each game being of fast quality.

The following were the games played:

Nov. 28—Trinity 6, Wake Forest 8, at Durham.
Dec. 6—Trinity 62, Littleton High School 1, at Durham.
Dec. 18—Trinity 38, Trinity Park School 6, at Durham.
Jan. 31—Trinity 20, Guilford 1, at Durham.

Feb. 7—Trinity 5, Wake Forest 22, at Wake Forest.

This gives the team a record of three games won and two lost. It scored 131 points to the 30 of its opponents.

THE PLAYERS' RECORDS.

The record for each player during the season is as follows:

Garland Greever, left forward—Height 5 ft. 8 in.; weight 146; goals thrown from field, 1; goals missed from fouls, 4; fouls 2.

L. G. White, left guard—Height, 5 ft. 6 in.; weight, 135; goals from field 0; fouls, 12.

H. E. Spence, left guard—Height 5 ft. 10 in.; weight 152; goals from field, 1; fouls 2.

T. G. Stem, right guard—Height 5 ft. 11 1-2 in.; weight, 175; goals from field, 1; goals from fouls 5; goals missed from fouls, 9; fouls, 4.

Average height of team, 5 ft. 9 4-5 in.

Average weight of team, 157 5-9 lbs.

Mr. Stem was again captain of the team. Mr. Lilly has been elected to that position for next year. The team was coached by Dr. L. L. Hendren and Director W. W. Card. Mr. K. B. Nixon was the time keeper of the games.

BASEBALL SCORES, '97-'07

During This Time 106 Games Were Won and 59 Lost.

First Team Was Put Out in 1896—Its Record Not Preserved—That for 1898 Not Complete.

Baseball as an intercollegiate sport at Trinity had a secondary part until the session of 1895-'96, which may practically be said to have been its first year. Football had up to that time overshadowed all other forms of athletic sport. The first few years after it was tabooed by the trustees and faculty, the students did not show much interest in athletic lines, but the course of a few years saw the return of the old spirit and, when the students turned their attention to baseball, it was to put out teams that took as high a stand as the football elevens had previously taken. Unfortunately the records of the first few years are nowhere preserved in full, so far as The Chronicle has been able to find after diligent search and inquiry. The Archive said editorially that the team of 1896 had made a good enough record—better than was expected of it—but failed to give the scores of the games played. The record of the following year was found and is given below, but for 1898 nothing is known except concerning four games, and the score of one of these was not found. The only mention made of this game was that it was played at Chapel Hill and won by Carolina. The other three scores are given below in their proper place.

The list given herewith shows that in the eleven years from 1897 to 1907, inclusive, of the scores, Trinity has won 106 games, lost 59 and tied 3. The Chronicle does not know how this compares with the record of other teams of the State, but ventures to say that it will show up favorably with that of any other one of the six leading male institutions.

TO HAVE STRONG TEAM.

Capt. Smith Says a Few Words in Parting.

The Team That Is Game The One That Wins—The Calanthy Prefector Usually Left in The Lurch.

As I think of the fact that my college days are over, and my baseball playing has come to a close, a good many things occur to me with regard to my five years' stay in college.

I have played on four college teams, and behind some as good college pitchers as are in the business. But I have observed that the strength of a college team cannot lie in one or two strong, extra-good men. For a college team to be successful there must be team work. I mean by team work the working together in every sense of the word, of every man on the team—not only in the actual mechanical playing of the game, but in spirit to the highest degree. Give me a team of fellows that are willing to work and will work steadily under coaching; a team of fellows who don't know how to quit, and under almost any circumstances I will show you a good, winning college team.

Some old baseball player has said that a good motto for a young player is "know the game, play the game, and be game." I would put the last of these requisites first, and lay most of my stress upon it. I say this because I know that if a bunch of fellows will really be game to the core, these other two requisites will come through hard practice and study. I have seen game after game lost by college teams because they lacked team work. Many times these teams have had individual men on them far superior to men on the opposing team, but because they lacked that team work which shows a fighting spirit they were beaten. And again I have seen college games lost before they were begun because the fellows on one of the teams did not believe they would win. In baseball language they had "cold feet." And right here is where you can use your Psychology in baseball. If you can get a ball team to really believe they will win; and, if they will keep on believing they will win till the last man is out, you will see that team win when the odds are against them. And this same spirit can make good in the student body.

If even now the students here begin to get blue about the prospects for a team next year simply because four old men will not be back, will it in any way whatever help Trinity to put out a strong team in 1908? And right here let me say that my experience has been that the fellows who forecast a bum team a year in advance are usually off their base, and the real state of affairs that confronts them when the next season comes on catches them napping. And right here is where the student body can use its power to advantage. If you will, you can do a great deal towards making a team next spring by your talk and action this commencement, and all through next fall. Say you will have a strong team, believe you will have a strong team, and when the season of 1908 rolls around you will have a strong team and a winning team, because a game student body will put out nothing but a game team, and the game team is the winning team in every sense of the word.

Believe in your new men and they will work so hard they will surprise themselves as well as you. Don't go around and talk blue because some old man is not going to be back—for the chances are that he is blue enough over the fact for both of you—but bank on the new men that are coming on, the one time scrub and class team man. And my experience for it, if you don't have as good a team in 1908 as you have had in 1907, it will be your own fault and not that of the four fellows going out this year.

Now just a word as to the backing the students have given the team this year at the games. You have had the best leader I have seen in the business, and the rooting as a whole is far ahead of any thing we saw on any of our trips this year. You rooted strong when we were ahead, and stronger when we were behind, and best of all you rooted together. For this solid backing the team as a whole thank you very heartily, and assure you that we appreciate your work to the fullest extent.

ALL-SOUTHERN NINE.

Coach Heisman, of Tech., Picks a Team From Southern Colleges—Wrenn the Only Man From North Carolina.

Coach J. W. Heisman, of the Georgia School of Technology, one of the best authorities in the South on baseball, each year picks a team of the best players from Southern colleges. His team for this year was announced in Sunday's Atlanta Constitution. Wrenn is given the place of backstop, being the only man from North Carolina who who gets a position on the nine. In selecting a catcher Heisman says: "Wrenn, of Trinity, and Brown, of Georgia, are easily in the lead, and of these I slightly prefer the former. Brown has improved greatly in all departments, especially in batting and throwing. There is little to choose between them even in point of experience and some may prefer Brown. Either would suit me. Wrenn is somewhat heavier and could stand the wear and tear better, besides being a shade better thrower."

Two other Trinity players are referred to by Heisman in making up the team. In speaking of "other pitchers who have done better than merely passing work" Webb is mentioned. Also in speaking of first basemen Heisman says, "Trinity has a pretty fair man."

The full team as picked by Heisman is as follows:

Catcher—Wrenn, of Trinity.

Pitchers—Lafitte, of Tech. captain; Weems, of Auburn; Love, of Vanderbilt.

First Base—Noojin, of Alabama.

Second Base—Kendricks, of Mercer.

Short Stop—Martin, of Georgia.

Third Base—Jones, of Alabama.

Center Field—Costen, of Vanderbilt.

Right Field—Alexander, of Auburn.

Utility Man—Barksdale, of Clemson.

GYMNASIUM EXHIBITION.

The Gymnasts Will Give a Display of Their Training Next Tuesday Evening—Some of the Stunts to be Done.

On next Tuesday evening Director Card will give his annual gymnasium exhibition. This will be the first opportunity the athletes of the college have had this year to show themselves to the public. Usually more than one exhibition is given during the year but other forms of athletics this session have made such impossible. In fact the apparatus has been out of place nearly all the year on account of basket ball practice. A few weeks ago it was replaced and since that time the gymnasts have been getting in shape to appear before the public and something good is promised next Tuesday evening. The performance will begin about eight o'clock and all students and people of the town are invited to attend. No admission fee will be charged. The following are some of the performances that will occupy the evening:

Free work and wand drill.
German horse stunts.
Fancy punching of the bag.
Parallel bar exhibitions.
Hair-raising tumbling.
Difficult maneuvers on the flying rings.
Swinging of Indian clubs.
Various stunts on the horizontal bars.
Boxing and fencing.

Japanese Student Starts for Home.

Mr. Bungo Yanagita, the Japanese student who has been here this year, left Monday for Jamestown on his way back to the "Land of the Rising Sun". Mr. Yanagita will remain at the Exposition sometime in a Japanese pavilion, selling Japanese curios, after which he sails to his native land. He will not return to Trinity next session. His father died a few months ago, leaving him to support the family and it was on this account that he left Trinity. Mr. Yanagita made a large number of friends here during his one year's course, being a man of friendly disposition. He will enter the newspaper work on arriving at home, his principal business being the interviewing of prominent foreigners and securing from them their opinion in regard to Japan.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Announcement has been made of the marriage in a short time, of two prominent Trinity alumni. The ceremony will take place on June 25 at Wilmington, bringing to a culmination a romance which had its beginning in college. The contracting parties in this happy event will be Mr. John Paul Lucas, ex-'05, and Miss Alice Charles Craft, '05. Mr. Lucas was formerly connected with the Charlotte Observer but is at present editor of the Winston-Salem Journal. Miss Craft is one of Wilmington's most accomplished and attractive young women and has a host of friends throughout the State.

Mr. L. C. Nicholson, class of 1899, is now with the Westinghouse Electric Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. His address is 518 Fidelity Building.
