

IN HONOR OF BENEFACTORS.

Benefactor's Day Observed With Appropriate Exercises at Night.

PRESIDENT KILGO DELIVERS ADDRESS.

Public Exercises Held In Craven Memorial Hall Commemorative of College Benefactors—Property of Institution Increased.

Last Friday was observed here as a holiday, it being 'Benefactor's Day.' All college exercises were suspended, and on Friday evening, in Craven Memorial Hall, appropriate exercises were held, at which time an address was delivered by President John C. Kilgo, on "Some Tendencies of American Democracy." This was the last feature of the exercises, the first being an announcement and report of gifts and donations made to the college during the past year, which was read by Dean W. P. Few. Quite a large number of students and people of the city were present and listened with a great deal of interest to the excellent address of Dr. Kilgo, which was one of the most forceful lectures that have been delivered here in some time. His treatment of some of the tendencies was most logical, and from beginning to finish dealt with some of the most vital problems now before the American people.

The custom of a holiday on the third of October, which was inaugurated here some years ago, has grown now to be an event of much interest and significance. Almost every year since the custom first began, fitting exercises are held in commemoration of those who have made donations to the college during the preceding year. This day is always observed as a holiday, not only in memory of the gifts of Trinity's principal benefactors, but in memory of all those who have given to the college, however small the donation may be.

The announcement and report, read by Dean Few follows:

For some years it has been our custom to give to the general public on Benefactor's Day a statement of the growth of the college during the previous twelve months, especially a statement which shows the increase of the values in the college property and to publish a list of friends who have made donations of any kind to the college. The stock books of the college show that the values of property were increased during the past year $146,226.70. There was donated to the current expenses of the college the sum of $23,810.

The following is a list of friends who added something of worth to the equipment of the college:

B. N. Duke, J. B. Duke, R. L. Flowers, Rev. H. M. Blair, Dred Peacock, Rev. T. N. Ivey, Hon. J. Y. Joyner, Miss Anne Roney, F. B. Slade, W. H. Glasson, John

PARK SCHOOL NEWS.

Senior Class Meet and Elect Officers—Interesting Data Concerning Physical Development of Men—Other Items.

Mr. J. C. Gatlin, of last year's Senior class, came over from the University and spent Sunday with friends on the park.

The tennis courts have recently been improved and a large number of students are seen playing during the afternoons.

Mr. W. F. Rhyme, a former student here, but who is now at the University taking pharmacy, spent Sunday on the park.

Mr. Biggers, of the Senior class, who has been sick at the hospital for sometime has greatly improved during the past week, and is expected to be out in about three weeks.

Mr. Formyduval, of the Senior class, led the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday night. The membership this year has greatly increased and the year promises to be a very successful one in Association work. A large number of the young men have signed up to take courses in devotional, systematic Bible study.

Last Wednesday the Senior class met and elected officers for the year. J. W. Burgess, of Norfolk, Va., was elected president; J. W. Love, of Monroe, vice-president; Miss Josie Byrd, Durham, secretary; Miss Duke, of Durham, treasurer. The Senior class is perhaps the largest one in the history of the school, it numbering sixty nine.

Nothing has been said about the kind of athletics the school will engage in so far, but it is the custom of the Park School to have a basketball team in the fall and winter, and baseball in the Spring. There are a number of students in the school that possess athletic talent, and the figures given above clearly show that some of the men are well qualified to enter athletic sports.

Some interesting figures concerning the physical development of the young men of the school are given below:

The oldest man in the school is twenty-three; the tallest man is Mr. P. E. Farrar, who is 6 feet 1 1/2 inches; Mr. J. C. Small weighs 153 pounds and is therefore the heaviest man in school. Messrs. R. S. Sykes and H. B. Porter have the same measurement with reference to breadth of shoulders, both being 17 inches; chest (girth) is 37.7 inches; and depth of chest 4.9 inches, both measurements relating to Mr. J. G. Small. Mr. L. G. McCotter has the largest arm, it being 12.3 inches. Mr. C. L. Bunn has the greatest grip, it being 143 pounds. The man having the greatest lung capacity is Mr. P. E. Farrar, which is 365 cubic inches, which is considerably greater than the average person.

This evening at 7 o'clock Prof. Merritt will address the Y. M. C. A.

SOUTH ATLANTIC QUARTERLY.

October Issue Notable for Wide Range of Subjects.

LEADING ARTICLE ON THE RAILROADS.

Some of the Leading Universities of America Represented in Table of Contents—Two Articles of Literary Nature.

The October number of the South Atlantic Quarterly is especially notable for the wide range of subjects and contributors. Some of the leading universities of America are represented in the table of contents—an evidence of the national character of this magazine. It has a wide circulation and has as subscribers, readers and contributors, an extended public to minister to. This national influence has been noted in recent leading newspapers and periodicals of the country.

The leading feature of the October number is a discussion of the present railroad situation as pertains to North Carolina. Mr. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, formerly a member of the Industrial Commission, writes on "The Real Grievances Against the Railroads," and Ex-Judge Robert W. Winston, of Durham, gives a succinct history of the passenger rate controversy from the standpoint of the State.

Prof. David Y. Thomas, of the University of Arkansas, discusses in a philosophical way the relation of the Declaration of Independence with its magic words, Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, to Modern Society. An article of especial interest is contributed by M. de-Joya, a native of the Philippine Islands, and recently a student of the University of Chicago and of Yale University, on "The Political and Social Conditions in the Philippine Islands."

There are two articles of a literary nature: Prof. Otto Guerlac, of Cornell University, on "Ferdinand Brunetiere," and Prof. Robert A. Law, of the University of Texas, on "Some Recent Studies of Shakspeare."

Prof. Edward G. Elliott, of Princeton University, writes concisely and informing article on "The Preceptorial System at Princeton." Prof. Dutcher, of Wesleyan University, begins in this number a series of articles on French colonies in South Africa, which will be of special value in view of recent international developments. Prof. William K. Boyd, of Trinity College, in a review of Dunning's History of Reconstruction, comments on some phases of reconstruction history. The editors recite some especially noteworthy incidents in recent educational history in the South.

There are book reviews by Professors Bruner, of the University of North Carolina, and Cranford, Wanamaker and Glasson, of Trinity College.

AT SOUTHGATE'S CABIN.

Young Men and Co-eds of College Spend Benefactor's Day On a Picnic in Country Near Here.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity took advantage of the holiday on Benefactor's Day and gave a very delightful outing to Southgate's cabin, the beautiful summer home of Mr. J. H. Southgate, the mecca of hundreds of visitors during the year. "Marse Jim" was himself the host and entertained the congenial and merry party in his usual delightful manner. The trip was made through the country, the party leaving the campus in one long procession of buggies and traps, and was not void of the usual exciting incidents common to such journeys. The party, however, arrived at the cabin in good time, and after the usual jokes and stories were sprung on some of the unlucky members of the party, all were set to a delicious and palatable spread furnished by the thoughtful young ladies. After spending a very pleasant afternoon, the party disbanded amid kind words and yells for the hospitable host, "Marse Jim."

There were seventeen couples to enjoy the occasion and were as follows:

J. J. Lane with Miss Jene Venable, T. B. Snitser with Miss Christine McIntosh, J. R. Woodard with Miss Ethel Carr, L. A. Tomlinson with Miss Louise Carr, A. S. Berghauser with Miss Mary Cole, J. E. Pegram with Miss Elise Mims, D. F. Cheatham with Miss Fannie Markham, T. D. Chatham with Miss Ruth Green, Gilmer Korner with Miss Nancy Renna, S. J. Asbury with Miss Mabel Isley, L. G. White with Miss Irma Boyce, R. D. Korner with Miss Isabelle Pinnix, D. E. Perry with Miss Katharine Turrentine, Emsley Armfield with Miss Mattie Lehman, C. D. Gray with Miss Cecelia Henry, R. A. Whitaker with Miss Loula Tuttle. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Smoot, chaperones.

Important Athletic Movement In North Carolina.

A plan is now on foot to form a North Carolina Field and Track Association. For this purpose there will be a meeting of representatives from all colleges in the State just after the present football season. This meeting will be held in Raleigh, and its object will be to formulate plans for a Spring meet. As a result of this meet men will be chosen to represent the State in a grand interstate meet which will be held later. This is the most important athletic movement ever launched in North Carolina and promises to arouse much interest in college athletics.

Mr. Charles H. Ireland, of Greensboro, a leading business man of the State, was an appreciated visitor at the college during the present week.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

Qualifying Examination to Be Held at Chapel Hill in January.

ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP WORTH $1,500.

Requirements for Selection—Those Intending to Take Examination Must Inform President Venable of University.

The next qualifying examination for scholars in North Carolina under the Cecil Rhodes bequest will be held at the University of North Carolina sometime in January. The successful candidate will be notified of appointment sometime before March, following the examination, and will take up his residence in Oxford University, England, in October.

The scholarships are of the value of about $1,500 a year, and are tenable for three years. One scholar will be chosen from each State and territory to which scholarships are assigned.

The following regulations in the matter govern: Candidates must be unmarried and must be citizens of the United States. Candidates are eligible who have passed their 19th birthday, but have not passed their 25th birthday on October 1. of the year in which they are elected. Applicants may elect whether they will apply for the scholarship of the State or territory in which they have acquired a large part of their educational qualification, or for the State or territory in which they their ordinary private domicile, home or residence. They may pass the qualifying examination at any center, but they must be prepared to present themselves before election to the committee in the State or territory which they select. No candidate may compete in more than one State or territory, either in the same year or successive years.

Candidates will be examined on the following subjects: Arithmetic; either the elements of algebra or the elements of geometry, the geometry to cover the first three books; Greek grammar; Latin grammar; translations from English into Latin; and translations from Greek and Latin.

In accordance with the wish of Mr. Rhodes, in the election of a student to a scholarship, regard shall be had (1) to his literary and scholastic attainments; (2) his fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like; (3) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship; and (4) his exhibition during school days of moral force of character, and of instincts to lead and take an interest in his schoolmates.

The examinations are, hence, not competitive, and the Rhodes

WORK OF ATHLETIC COUNCIL.

The creation by the Board of Trustees at their last annual session of an Athletic Council, marks, we believe, the beginning of a new era in athletics here. The council has already organized and taken up part of the work that has been placed into its hands, namely, the election of the managers for the base ball and basket ball teams for the coming season.

But this is not all the work that this organization has to do, nor does it mean that this will be the most difficult. Neither is it in the changing of the mode of electing these managers that we see so much of significance. Heretofore, one man appointed by the athletic association had in his charge all the affairs of the base ball team, or whatever team he managed, and for the success or failure of such team he was commended or criticised. Now the council as a permanent organization has complete control of all athletic interests of whatever nature, and through it has to be transacted in a business-like manner all business pertaining to athletics. Besides all officers to be found in an organization, the council has an auditing committee, a part of whose duty it will be to audit the books of the treasurer, and to perform such other functions as belong to a committee of such character.

Although this is practically an experiment here we believe that the results will be most gratifying, and it is the duty of every student to aid in every possible the movement now on foot to put athletics on a firmer basis, promoting its interests in all lines, and cultivating that spirit of fellowship that should characterize a community like ours. PARK SCHOOL GAZETTE.

Magazine Has Just Closed Sixth Year-The Mechanical Make-up an Improvement-Contents of October Number.

The first issue of the Park School Gazette made its appearance the latter part of last week. The magazine is just entering upon its seventh year. It is edited by Mr. W. G. Sheppard, and Mr. Joseph W. Burgess is the business manager. The mechanical arrangement of the publication is somewhat improved, though the reading matter is about on a par with former issues. The leading story is "Ned's First Experience at School," by Irving Glasgow. The story is well written and holds the closest attention, but it has a rather abrupt ending. The Y. M. C. A. department contains a number of things of interest connected with its line of work. "Facts and Fancies" is a good department and gives a number of humorous incidents connected with school life. The magazine compares favorably with the small college publications of the State. The business manager has a very fine line of ads. Contents for the October number are:

"Ned's First Experience at School," Irvin Glasgow.
"A Dream of Youth," (poem) E. S. B.

"A Camping Trip in the Blue Ridge," R. H. W., '08.

"For the Unfortunate," (poem) W. G. S.

Glee Club Holds Interesting Meeting.

A rally meeting in behalf of the Glee Club was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall Friday evening. Stirring talks were made by Prof. R. L. Flowers, Manager A. W. Horton, and Mr. Glimmer Kerner. Quite a number of both old and new men were present, and much genuine enthusiasm was manifested.

Plans for the coming year were fully discussed, and those present went away with a better conception of the workings of the club. The manager has thrown his whole heart into the work, and arrangements for an extended trip have been about completed. The older members of the organization are quite enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful year, and if those among the new men, who have talent along musical lines, will give them their hearty co-operation, the success of the club is assured.

Mr. L. C. Tyler, who will train the men this season, will be on park in a few days in the interest of the organization and weekly practice will begin shortly. Mr. Tyler comes highly recommended and the club is to be congratulated in securing his services.

Mr. Charles Scarlett, class '04, who received his license to practice law a year ago has located in Durham for the practice of his profession. Mr. Scarlett is a native of Orange County. He is a man of high character and of ability. He was very popular in College, and possessed the confidence and esteem of all.

scholar will be appointed from the candidates who have successfully passed the qualifying examination. Last year only one candidate entered the contest. His name is Mr. Benjamin Lacy, of Davidson College.

Students intending to take the next examination, in January, in this State, should inform Dr. F. P. Venable, President, U. N. C., Chapel Hill, N. C. of their intention before December 1st.

State Fair.

The State Fair this year will be opened by Governor Glenn on Tuesday, October 14th. It has been the custom here to give one day to the students to take in the fair, the day being generally on Thursday. This year Thursday is the "Big Day," being the time that William Jennings Bryan speaks.

It is reported in Durham that Mr. L. H. Gibbons, class '04, who has for some time been connected with the British-American Tobacco Company and stationed in China, is on his way to this country.

Being the creature of benefactions, Trinity College is under obligation to bestow benefactions. This college enjoys the great distinction of being the largest monument to the spirit of benevolence within our State, and its constant aim should be to encourage the development of this virtue in our people. During the past year 171 students were aided out of the special funds of the college. Besides scholarships, loans of money to the amount of $2,597 were made to students. The entire income from endowments, amounting to more than $44,000, is an annual gift of the college to the educational work of the State.

The classes which year by year go forth from Trinity College engage at once in some line of work through which they may render their service to the general welfare. Of the 41 who graduated in June, 18 are teaching, 15 in the State; 13 have entered business; 1 is preaching and 6 are pursuing graduate courses of study.

There are the best reasons to believe that Trinity College is doing its full share of service to society. Its graduates are filling large places in public confidence and of public responsibilities. In all lines of honorable work they are showing themselves faithful and highly efficient. And it is to their credit, as it is an honor to their college, that they are sober-minded and statesmanlike in their conduct. They have a lively interest in all matters of public concern, but they well know that social welfare can be promoted only by the patient application of sound principles.

During the past year there has been gratifying progress in all the things that should engage the attention and the efforts of the college. It has steadily maintained its reputation for high standards of entrance and of study; it has labored earnestly to promote the progress of education; it has widened its influence in the nation; it has grown in the courtesies which should mark the fellowships of youth; it has held up its good record for fair, honorable and pure athletic sports; and deepened its life in the confidence of the public.

It, therefore, behooves all who have part in its labors and its destiny to work diligently to make Trinity College fill the highest place possible for a Southern college. They should seek to promote the essential things, not to serve the merely incidental things of education. In correct thinking, sound standards of work, lofty example of refined conduct, sober and patient search for truth, due regard for the rights of the fellowmen, a sane individualism, deep convictions of truth and patriotic fidelity they should be inspiring examples. And in these things I believe they show themselves worthy of confidence and esteem.

WITH THE COLLEGES.

The literary society and athletic association of Albert College, Belleville, Ontario, are now departments of the College Young Men's Christian Association.

At Commencement of last June, the campus gates at Rutgers, erected by the class of '82, were formally presented to the college.

Union College has the distinction of being the mother of the first Greek letter fraternity. This is the first un denominational college founded in our country.

The Sophomores of Wellesley at the end of their year celebrate "The Cremation of T. Physics." A procession, with an effigy of T. Physics, parades the streets, headed by "His Majesty, the Devil." After suitable rites have been performed, the ceremony ends with the burning of the funeral pyre.

Considerable interest is shown over a bequest of $400,000 to Yale University, made by Mr. Archibald H. Blount, of London. Mr. Blount is described as very eccentric, never having spent a penny outside of necessities and having a particular objection to Americans. There is no knowledge of his ever having had any connection whatever with the University.

The Senior class of Mercer University are to make another effort to secure immunity from final exams, provided a certain average for class work is kept up. The Senior class of last year made a petition to the faculty to give them exemption from exams, but owing to the petition being presented so near the close of college, the request was not granted.

The Senior class of this year, in order to remove that objection, has selected a committee to confer with the faculty at once.

Several of the other institutions of Georgia have adopted this plan, and it meets with success wherever it has been tried. The Technological school requires a grade of 75 for class work, and any student making above that is exempted from examinations. The faculty at Mercer has always been progressive along any line deserving improvement, and it is highly probable that the Senior class at Mercer from now on will be exempt from final exams, provided, of course, that the class mark is satisfactory.—Ex.

Miss Mamie Jenkins, class '06, of Raleigh, is teaching in Grenada, College, Grenada, Miss. After leaving college Miss Jenkins attended Columbia University, New York, and then was elected to a position in Martha Washington College, Virginia, where she taught for some years. She taught last year in the city schools, of Wilmington, N. C.

She has been very successful in her work.

They Are Given the Glad Hand Now.

A constant and faithful reader of The Observer, who is a recent college graduate and knows what he is talking about, evidently, says he differs with Col. Fred A. Olds in his statement in last Sunday's Observer that "A new student at a college certainly has a hard time." That might have been the case," said the speaker, "a few years ago—and doubtless was at some institutions—but there has been decided change in the last few years regarding the treatment accorded by the upper classmen to the freshman—Hazing has been blotted out almost entirely and the students—or at least a big majority of them—do give the 'glad hand' to a man just entering. Of course, every freshman is not welcomed personally by every old student, but I would venture the assertion that every man does receive the glad hand from a goodly number of men, who are not members of the Y. M. C. A., either. I believe that others will bear me out in this, too"—U. N. H.—Charlotte Observer.

ALUMNI NOTES.

[Items for this Department are Solicited by the Editor from all Students and Graduates of Trinity.]

Mr. K. B. Nixon has accepted a position in Washington City where he will be during the winter, having been appointed private secretary to Congressman E. Y. Webb. While in Washington Mr. Nixon will take advanced work in law at George Washington University leading to his doctor's degree. His many friends here and at the University of North Carolina, of which institution he is an alumnus, will be glad to hear of his success.

Mr. J. E. Pegram, class, '00, who received license for the practice of law in August after taking the law course at Trinity, has located in Durham for the practice of his profession. After graduating from Trinity, he was for four years superintendent of the graded schools of West Durham, and in this work achieved very great success. He resigned this position to take up the study of law.

He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association and also a member of the Athletic Council at Trinity.

Mr. James M. Wadsworth, of Charlotte, a former Trinity student, since the college was moved to Durham, has been elected mayor pro tem. of the city of Charlotte. This is a great compliment to be bestowed on Mr. Wadsworth. Since leaving college he has been engaged in business in Charlotte and has been closely identified with the industrial up-building of that city. He has been most successful in business, and at the same time a public spirited and patriotic citizen. The honor bestowed upon him is but a public recognition of the high esteem in which he is held by the people of his city. His career has been a credit to himself and to the institution where he received his education.

Miss Ellen Mordecai of Raleigh, spent a few days on the park last week. She went from here to Blowing Rock.

Here's a Clean-cut Locking Fellow.....

THIS remark is often made concerning the young man wearing our Handsome Suits.

The young man of today demands the very newest fashions—the very latest innovations. No stubby coats, no narrow lapels, no bag-hanging garments for him this season. We select certain lines of suits from tailoring houses that are specialists in young men's clothes—whose styles are patterned after what one sees on the college campus—dashingly daring, but not to the extreme.

The Cut of the Coat

Tells the taste of the tailor. The garment that strikes your fancy may not be the one that you should wear. In the mirror of the retail clothier you cannot see yourself as others see you. Is it safe to trust your appearance to the judgment of the ready-made salesman; biased by the necessity of fitting you to the clothing rather than the clothing to you? Individuality and character are subtly expressed in every garment I make. Years of experience in serving the best dressers guarantee that clothing made by me is perfect in style and finish, and is of the color and cut best suited to the wearers' complexion.
