A BIBLE STUDY INSTITUTE.

A Three Days Session Held in Raleigh at A. & M. College.

OVER HUNDRED DELEGATES PRESENT.

Talks Were Made On Association Problems by Prominent Men—Convention a Great Success—Trinity Sent Fifteen Men.

The number of delegates attending the North Carolina Y. M. C. A. Bible Institute held at A. & M. College, Raleigh, October 24-27 was slightly larger than was expected. All told there were 120 men representing institutions in this State. The largest delegation was from Wake Forest, whose number was 46. Trinity's delegation number was not as large as was anticipated, it numbering only 15. Eight men were expected from Chapel Hill, but owing to a very exciting game of football between the University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia during the time, there were only two men to represent this institution.

Trinity College's delegation arrived too late for the opening exercises Friday evening which consisted of an address by Dr. D. Clay Lilly, of Winston-Salem, his subject being "Importance of Bible Study." There were several other delegations also unable to take advantage of the first meeting as they were also late in reaching Raleigh.

The first meeting Saturday morning at 9 o'clock was dispensed with, as the speaker slated for the occasion did not arrive in time. However, the hour was very profitably spent in a tour of the grounds and buildings.

At 10 o'clock Prof. J. C. Wooten addressed the convention on "Teaching a Bible Class." All who heard Prof. Wooten's talk state that it was a very practical and profitable one. He was followed by Mr. W. D. Weatherford with a discussion of "The Bible Study Committee" and "Enrollment of Men." Mr. Weatherford is the Traveling Student Secretary of the South. He outlined the way the Bible study work should be conducted, and then called on men from various colleges for methods used in their association work.

After this there was an intermission of ten minutes, during which time college spirit manifested itself in the various delegations, by songs and yells. Mr. R. V. Taylor then conducted the next discussion which was "How to Maintain Attendance." At 2 o'clock, p. m., dinner was served in the college dining hall.

The afternoon session was called at 2:30, half an hour earlier than was first stated, in order that the men might have an opportunity of seeing a match game of football. Mr. G. C. Huntington, Inter-State Secretary of North and South Carolina, spoke on

DR. W. P. FEW'S TRIP.

Returned Yesterday From Several Days Visit to New Bern Schools—Speaks in Highest Terms of Work.

Dr. W. P. Few, on Tuesday morning, returned from Newbern where he had been to visit the Newbern schools, of which Mr. H. B. Craven, '06, is superintendent, Miss Mary L. Hendren, '01, principal, and in which Miss Mable Chadwick, also '01, is one of the most influential teachers. All Trinity College will be glad to learn of the good work being done by the Newbern schools so ably officered by Trinity graduates.

Speaking to a reporter of his recent visit, Dr. Few talked enthusiastically of the work being done by Superintendent Craven and Miss Hendren and Miss Chadwick. He says that "it is the spirit of progress and genuine human service, that animates the entire organization; and in the quality of its teaching, this school is unsurpassed in North Carolina. If the school can be held in the direction in which it is now going, and kept at the rate of progress it is now making, and if the community is wise enough to give it strong support, it will eventually become the equal of the best anywhere. Even a small number of such teachers sent into the great work of secondary education in North Carolina would be in itself a sufficient reason for the existence of any college."

A Public Debate Saturday Night.

On next Saturday night the Trinity-Vanderbilt preliminary debate will come off in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The affair will be public, and the whole college community will be invited. The societies will not meet on this night, and the indications are that there will be a large number present to hear a very good debate. There were fourteen men who handed in their names to compete for the honors, but seven have dropped out.

As previously stated, the question to be discussed is, "Resolved That the present distribution of power between Federal and State governments is not adapted to modern conditions and calls for re-adjustment in the direction of further centralization." Those that will discuss the affirmative side are: J. W. Barbee, L. Herbin, and A. W. Horton; on the negative side, W. W. Carson, Willis Smith, G. M. Daniels and B. L. Phillips.

Trinity will have the affirmative side in the final debate between Trinity and Vanderbilt; but it is not yet known when it will come off. It is thought that the debate will take place in Nashville sometime about December 20.

Mr. William Mordecai, who has been very sick at Blowing Rock during the summer and the fall, is now able to sit up, and is rapidly recovering.

TENNIS FINALS COMPLETED.

Men Selected to Represent College in Intercollegiate Games.

TOTAL RESULTS LAST TENNIS FINALS.

Messrs. Briggs, Kilgo and West Become the Men to Represent Trinity in Games With Other Colleges.

The tennis finals, which have been in progress for the last ten days, were completed last Saturday. As a result of these finals, Messrs. West, Kilgo and Briggs become the college representatives. Since these men were formerly members of their respective class teams, the latter undergo some changes. The vacancies left by these men in the class teams will now be filled by Messrs. Sidbury, Cole and Hutchison.

The articles of playing put up during the final tournament was, on the whole, good. Several of the players showed marked improvement. There seems to be an abundance of good material on hand, and there is every reason to believe that Trinity will, in the future, hold her own in this sport.

As stated in last week's Chronicle, the first intercollegiate meet will be that held here Friday and Saturday, of this week with A. & M. college. The matches will consist of doubles and singles to be played on separate days in the order mentioned. On account of the large amount of interest which has been manifested in tennis this year, the Tennis Club is expecting a goodly number to be on hand with their support and encouragement.

In the meantime the college representatives are practicing daily in preparation for the contest. They are open to all challenges, and will hold their position only so long as they remain the best players in college. Any team which is able to defeat this team two out of three days playing is entitled to the representative place. Under these conditions the men who hold their places will have to keep in the best of form continually, and this, of course, will be a continual guarantee that the team Trinity puts out is her best.

In view of the fact that permanent class teams have now been chosen, there need be no delay in having a tournament for the class championship in doubles. This is a matter which the Tennis Club will, no doubt, take up within a few days after the intercollegiate contests.

As the total results of the last tennis finals may be of interest, we give below a summary of the scores.

Bivens vs. Sidbury, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2; Kilgo vs. Perkins, 6-4, 6-0; West vs. Stewart, 6-2, 6-3; Briggs vs. Norment, 6-0, 6-1; Hutchison vs. Stewart, 6-3, 6-2; Kilgo vs. Hutchison, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2; West vs. Perkins, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0; Norment vs. Bivens, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3; Briggs vs. Cole, 6-3, 6-0; West vs. Norment, 6-3, 6-1; West vs. Kilgo, 6-1, 6-2.

PARK SCHOOL NEWS.

Literary Societies Elect Officers—Upper Middle Class Meet and Elect Officers—Other Items of Interest.

Miss Glennie Perry, of Okef, was on the park Sunday visiting Prof. and Mrs. Hornaday.

Mr. W. R. Parsons will be out of school for a few days on account of trouble with his eyes.

Mr. J. W. Love left Monday for his home at Monroe, to be at the bedside of his sister, who is sick with fever.

Mr. J. L. Lockhart had an operation performed for tonsillitis last Thursday.

At the meeting of the Calhoun Literary Society last Friday evening the following officers were elected: L. C. Rhodes, president; R. H. Winchester, vice president; R. N. Crews, recording secretary; F. H. Reels, treasurer, and H. B. Wells, marshal.

Two rooms have recently been fitted up in Branson hall for the use of the Bible Study classes.

Messrs. A. B. Beasley, W. H. Cade, W. G. Sheppard, J. W. Love, V. A. Moore and Grady Harris attended the Bible Study Conference held at the A. & M. last week.

A meeting of the Upper Middle Class was held last week and the following officers were elected: A. B. Beasley, president; M. T. Spear, vice president; Miss Estelle Flowers, secretary and Miss Fannie Kilgo, treasurer.

The Grady Literary Society elected officers for the second quarter last meeting. J. W. Love was elected president; D. W. Bagley, vice president; B. B. Shamberger, recording secretary; J. C. Adams, treasurer, and W. E. Elmore, marshal.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last Wednesday evening. Mr. W. A. Cade was the speaker for the evening and made an exceedingly interesting talk.

The November issue of the Gazette will be out about the first.

Science Club Meeting.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock Prof. J. J. Wolfe will deliver a lecture before the Science Club on "An Outline of Energy in the Living World." The talks delivered by Dr. Wolfe on scientific subjects are always very interesting, and it is hoped that a large number will be present. After he has delivered his lecture several papers will be read by members of the club on scientific subjects that are more or less interesting to the people in general. The lecture will be in the Physics lecture room and the entire college community is invited.

Last week the corner stone for the Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church South, (which is the church to take the place of Main Street church,) was laid by Rev. T. A. Smoot and Presiding Elder J. B. Hurley. Among the documents placed in the corner stone was a Trinity Archive, October issue.

DR. MIMS ON BOOK OF JOB.

Delivered Lecture Before Y. M. C. A. Bible Institute at A. & M.

JOB ONE OF GREATEST MASTERPIECES.

Speaker Applied Case of Job to Present Day—Was Heard By Large Number of Students and Citizens of Raleigh.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Elwin Mims delivered a lecture before the Bible Study Institute which was in session at the A. & M. college at Raleigh. A large number of students from the A. & M. college and other state institutions were present, also a number of citizens from Raleigh. He spoke in the Library building. His subject was on the Book of Job, and in substance he said:

The Bible instead of being one book is sixty six books, written in widely different periods of history, and by men of various temperaments to meet the practical needs of individuals or national life. The study of the Bible by books is one of the most profitable forms of Bible study, yielding at times far better results than the older methods of quoting texts on certain subjects.

Dr. Mims then outlined a study of the book of Job, and said that it is one of the great masterpieces of the world. In beauty and magnificence of style, in richness of figurative language, in dramatic insight into the deeper questions of human life, and in range and sweep of spiritual life, it is unsurpassed in the Old Testament.

As a panoramic view of nature there is no passage that excels the words that the Almighty speaks out of the whirlwind. While we do not know the author of the book of Job, the commonly accepted view is that he lived during, or just after, the time of the Exile, when Israel was face to face with a new experience of suffering, and when there was need for a more intimate view of the sympathy and love of God. The commonly accepted view of the Jews had been that godliness necessarily led to success and sin to misfortune and immediate punishment. Of this philosophy or theology Job's friends are eloquent defenders. Job himself, before his calamity, held to this conception of God.

Against this view Job insists upon his integrity and innocence and we know from the prologue that the Almighty has substantiated his claim. The supreme interest of the book is the development from an overwhelming despair, and even loathing of life, to a stronger faith. In words, plaintive and pathetic, he expresses his yearning to understand the ways of God. With words that almost seem blasphemous, he challenges God to reason with him.

The need of the Incarnation is poignantly set forth in the strong

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 30, 1907

For the last few weeks there has appeared in the Charlotte Observer, from time to time, a column called "By Reportorial License." This column has attracted a great deal of attention and there has been much speculation and guessing as to the writer.
The Chronicle makes no preten-sions of being an adept in discovering the identity of men who write under a "non de plume," but in this case we think we could guess right "the very first time."
The writer of the column is a close student of human nature, and he knows how to touch the heart of men. He sees deep into the joys and the sorrows of the human soul, sometimes the things we strive to hide from the world about us. The longings, the hopes and the aspirations of men are treated with a delicate touch. The Chronicle hopes "D" will write often, for he has something to say and knows how to say it.

WRITE FOR THE ARCHIVE.

In the initial number of the Archive the editors make an earnest plea for the co-operation of the student body, in their efforts to place the Archive on a higher plane of literary merit.
This plea of the editors, we believe, was not made in vain, yet it is one that cannot be too strongly emphasized. The responsibility of putting out a creditable magazine rests upon the entire student body, yet how often the whole responsibility is shifted upon the editors and they are left to accomplish the thankless and always difficult task.

This is not as it should be.
Each one should shoulder his own responsibility and contribute something to the making of his college magazine. It is, to be sure, a difficult matter to write a good story—one that has originality and style of its own—and good fiction writers are often rare, still there are other fields open for literary endeavor. And after all, variety is what is needed.

The departments of History, Science and Political Economy are too often neglected and the English department is made to furnish too many of the contributions. Besides this we come from widely scattered homes and many of us have material, such as legends, bits of local history, etc., that with care and effort on our part, would contribute greatly to the interest of the magazine.

Lillian Stewart Memorial Hall.

Rev. W. E. Towson, a returning missionary from Japan, has been on the park for several days raising funds for the erection of a building in Japan to be called the
"Lillian Stewart Memorial Hall."
The building is to be used by Palmore Gakuin, an English night school, located in Kobe, Japan.
The student body is composed of employees of banks, business houses, teachers and students from the government schools. It is stated that the annual enrollment for the past several years has been more than five hundred, the average nightly attendance being about one hundred and fifty. The school meets five evenings a week and teaches nothing except English.
One fourth of the time is given to the study of the English Bible.

It is proposed that this memorial building cost six thousand dollars. The Board of Missions, of the Southern Methodist church,
has the matter in hand, and it states that the need for this building is immediate and very great.
Rev. Towson came from Littleton here, at which place he raised between five and six hundred dollars. He has also been successful in his subscription work here, though it is not known what amount he has raised.

Mrs. Stewart was a student at Trinity College and had been in Japan only about a year when she died. Her husband, Mr. S. A.
Stewart, class '00, is in charge of this school.

Dr. Kilgo's Trip to Washing- ton.

President Kilgo, while in Washington recently, preached four sermons for the old Mount Vernon church. This church is raising $75,000 of the $275,000 which is being raised by the Methodist Episcopal Church South, for the purpose of building a representative church in the city of Washington to take the place of the old Mount Vernon church. Two hundred thousand dollars of the amount is to be contributed by the Methodist churches throughout the South.

One of the best sites in the city has been selected for the church.
It will be placed at the point where Massachusetts avenue crosses Seventh street, opposite the Carnegie Public Library. A large collection was taken on the Sabbath while Dr. Kilgo was there.
This movement originated at the last session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which met in Birmingham, Ala. in May, 1906.

Miss Mary Reamey Thomas,
class '06, is teaching this year in Chicora College, Greenville, S. C., one of the leading female colleges of the state. While here Miss Thomas was very popular and took a high stand as a student.
She spent last year at Columbia University where she received her
A. M. degree.

DR. MIMS ON BOOK OF JOB.

and earnest words of Job. One feels that in his suffering, as in that of the prophets, there is a yearning for a deeper knowledge of God's attitude to the world, afterwards revealed in Gethsemane and on Calvary. When the voice speaks out of the whirlwind, there is no answer to the questions that have been proposed, for the answer could not at that time be given.

By way of conclusion Dr. Mims applied the case of Job to present-day life. Have you heard and seen God? he asks. Have you a faith of your own, or have you a faith that someone else gave you?
The earnestness and faith of Job
are good for the present day.
One cannot afford to neglect the thoughtful study of the Bible. It yields new life and beauty and visions with every reading.

The First Year Man.

When I see a youth with his pants turned up and his beautiful socks on view,
And over one eye perched a little round hat with a ribbon of marve or blue,
And the fourteen rings and the seven pins that he got at his dear prep school,
Why it strikes a chord, and I say:
"Oh, Lord, was I ever that big
a fool?"

When I see a youth with his gloves turned and a cigarette
stuck in his face,
And a loud check coat and a horse-cloth vest and a half-an-inch wide shoelace,
And a bunch of hair that hides
his ears and a line of senseless
drool,
Then I paw the sward as I say:
"Oh, Lord, was I ever that big
a fool?"

of Ph. D. He also has a position as assistant in this department.

Mr. G. H. Smith, '04, has returned to the Union Theological Seminary, New York, after spending last year at Vanderbilt and

"ANGEL IN THE CLOUD."

Popular Collection of Poems by Edwin W. Fuller, North Carolina Poet, Reprinted—Original Edition Exhausted.

It is of interest to all who are interested in North Carolina literature to know that a new edition of "The Angel in the Cloud," a collection of poems by Edwin W. Fuller, the North Carolina poet, who died in Louisburg, N. C., April 22d, 1876, has been reprinted.

It is of special interest to Trinity men, because of the interest that has always been manifested by it in his work. In the North Carolina literature number of the Archive, published in March, 1896—an issue which attracted very widespread attention—there appeared an appreciative article on his life and works, written by Prof. R. L. Flowers. In addition to this one of the most valued gifts to the college is a large portrait of the author, presented to the library by the Methodist Sunday School, of Louisburg Station. This portrait occupies a prominent place in the collection to be seen on the walls of the historical museum. Through the kindness of Mrs. J. E. Malone, of Louisburg, a sister of Mr. Fuller, a number of his manuscripts are in the possession of the historical museum, and may be seen in a glass case in the rooms of this association in the library. Through her kindness, a manuscript story, "The Cat and the Corps," was first published in the April and May issues of the Archive for the year 1896.

"Sea Gift," the only novel that Edwin W. Fuller ever published, has long been popular among Trinity students. There is a copy in the library, but the book is out of print and copies are very rare. A few years ago there was a movement among some men connected with the college to get out another edition of this novel, but it was not carried into effect. "The Angel in the Cloud" contains some poems of undisputed merit.

In the preface of the new edition there appears the following note: "First published more than thirty-five years ago, in the lifetime of the poet." "The Angel in the Cloud" has long since passed not only out of print but out of the memory of most living men. Of the copies of the original edition, only few are known to exist. Upon his surviving family is imposed the obligation, and to them comes the privilege of rescuing from the realm of forgotten things these evidences of a graceful and genuine poetic gift in one whose memory they revere and whose genius they are unwilling to have die. It is therefore with the sense of performing a grateful duty that they have caused to be printed this new edition of Edwin Fuller's poems, in the hope and belief that others, like themselves, will value it, both as friends of the gentle poet and as disinterested lovers of good literature."

WHEREABOUTS CLASS '02.

All in This State Except Two—Six Are Teaching—Various Other Occupations—Will Make Gift to Trinity.

With the exception of two, all the members of the class of '02 are scattered throughout this State. The class numbered eighteen, five of whom were ladies from the city of Durham. Seven of the number are now married, two ladies and five young men. Six are in the teaching profession; there is one minister; one in the insurance business; one lawyer; two merchants; one editor; one in the tobacco business and one in the cotton mill business.

The members and their whereabouts is as follows:

W. A. Bivins is principal of the North Durham Graded School, Durham.

W. H. Brown is a minister and is now residing at Mantco. He is married.

Miss Nellie McClees is teaching in the Durham graded schools.

Miss Lila B. Markham is teaching in the city schools of Durham.

Miss Kate Johnson is at her home in Durham.

Mrs. J. Crawford Biggs, (nee Miss Marjorie Jordan,) is living in Durham.

Horace Flowers has a position with the American Tobacco Co., at Durham.

C. L. Hornaday is professor of modern languages in Trinity Park School, this city. He was married several years ago.

George March is in the hardware business at his home in Mobile, Ala.

E. O. Smithdeal is principal of the graded school at Randleman. This is his first year at that place.

J. W. Ormond is a merchant at Ormondsville. He has recently been recommended for admission into the North Carolina Conference.

Mrs. L. B. Ring, (nee Miss Maude Lamb,) is now living in Greensboro. She will spend the winter with her parents in this city.

James Scroggs is practicing law at Winston.

James Norman is principal of a co-educational school at Smithfield, Va. He was married about two years ago.

P. C. Odell is in the insurance business in Greensboro. He is married.

Henry Dwire is editor of the Winston Sentinel, at Winston-Salem.

Hardy Robinson is a book keeper in Wilson.

E. P. Yarbrough is connected with the Erwin Cotton Mill at Duke and is doing well. He is one of the number who is married.

Loyalty to their alma mater still exists, and at an early date the class expects to make some kind of valuable and useful gift to the college.

Prof. Jerome Dowd, who is teaching sociology in the University of Oklahoma, located at Norman, is enjoying his stay in that section of the West. He is studying the Indians at close range from a sociological standpoint.

"Bible Study for Spiritual Growth." "Bible Study as a Means of Evangelization" was the next subject to be discussed, but owing to the time running short, and the topic having been practically covered by Prof. J. C. Wooten, it was thought best to omit this.

Mr. Weatherford used the remainder of the afternoon and spoke on "The Normal Bible Class," and "Literature," such as is necessary for student Bible classes. The conference then adjourned for the foot ball game.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock Mr. R. V. Taylor, Assistant Student Secretary for the South, spoke on "Missions." He made a very strong and practical talk. About all the members of the various delegations were present, and there was evidence that the meeting was a good one. After this the meeting adjourned and the young men worshipped with the churches of Raleigh. Dinner was served in the college dining hall at 2 o'clock, p. m.

Dr. Edwin Mims, in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, spoke on "A Plea for Bible Study." The hall was filled, and the speaker, as usual, delivered a very good talk. An outline of his talk is given elsewhere in this issue. This was the only meeting during the afternoon. A large number then took walks and passed the time in various ways.

The Institute came to a close Sunday night with an address by Mr. W. V. D. Weatherford, whose theme was "Objectivity of Deeds." Mr. Weatherford delivered several talks during the sessions and all the young men were highly pleased with them, they being plain, simple and to the point.

The local Y. M. C. A. of the A. & M. and the citizens of Raleigh were very kind and thoughtful to all the delegations from the various schools and colleges. All of the Trinity delegation speak in a laudatory way of the trip and the good derived therefrom.

Election of Officers—Columbian Society.

On last Saturday evening the Columbian Literary Society dispensed with all literary duties and went into the election and installation of officers for the second quarter of the year. J. B. Sidbury was elected president; F. S. Love, vice president; C. C. Cunningham, recording secretary; R. C. Goldstein, treasurer; K. W. Parham, chairman of executive committee, and Nathan Wright, marshal.

Mr. Willis Bruce Dowd, class '80, who has been a practicing lawyer of New York city for some time, has been nominated by the Democratic party for the position of Judge of the municipal court of the Ninth district. Mr. Dowd is president of the New York Trinity College Alumni Association. He delivered the alumni address at Trinity in 1891. He is a brother of Prof. Jerome Dowd, who was professor of Political Economy at Trinity for a number of years.

Here's a Clean-cut Looking Fellow

THIS remark is often made concerning the young man wearing our Handsome Suits.

The young man of today demands the very newest fashions—the very latest innovations. No stubby coats, no narrow lapels, no bag-hanging garments for him this season. We select certain lines of suits from tailoring houses that are specialists in young men's clothes—whose styles are patterned after what one sees on the college campus—dashingly daring, but not to the extreme.

$15 or $18.60 or $20 or $25

But reserve your opinion until you have seen the suits.

The Cut of the Coat

Tells the taste of the tailor. The garment that strikes your fancy may not be the one that you should wear. In the mirror of the retail clothier you cannot see yourself as others see you. Is it safe to trust your appearance to the judgment of the ready-made salesman; biased by the necessity of fitting you to the clothing rather than the clothing to you? Individuality and character are subtly expressed in every garment I make. Years of experience in serving the best dressers guarantee that clothing made by me is perfect in style and finish, and is of the color and cut best suited to the wearers' complexion.

Minor Happenings About The Campus.
With a Record of People Coming and Going.

The Athletic Council will hold a meeting Thursday evening.

Prof. E. C. Brooks returned Friday evening from Goldsboro.

Mr. J. P. Reid Steele, representing D. L. Auld & Co., fraternity jewelers, spent Sunday on the park.

Mr. S. B. Bundy, of Monroe, was on the park Saturday. He came to attend the bedside of his son, Julian.

Mr. B. C. Jurney went to Greensboro Saturday to visit friends. He returned to the college Monday.

Miss Julia Minn, class '07, is instructor of Latin and French at the Baptist University for women, at Raleigh.

The Seniors will give a party tomorrow night in the New Dormitory banquet hall. It will be from 8:30 to 11 o'clock.

Messrs. T. L. Simmons and "Duck" Dixon, of the University of North Carolina, were the guests of Mr. R. M. Gantt last week.

Mr. S. H. Lyle, of the University of North Carolina, spent Friday night with Mr. D. S. Elias. He was on his way to Richmond.

A committee has been appointed to investigate the kind of donation the Senior class will give to the college next commencement.

There is considerable discussion among the Seniors about wearing caps and gowns next commencement. The majority seem to favor this innovation.

The Glee Club is now meeting three times a week for the purpose of practice. It hopes to be in good shape by the holidays, at which time a tour will be made.

Last Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. all the talks were made by the students. The meeting was out of the ordinary, and was considered a very good one.

The article by Mr. E. R. Franklin, in the October issue of the Archives on "Henry Clay's Visit to Raleigh," has been re-printed in the Fayetteville Observer and the News and Observer.

Prof. E. C. Brooks spent Sunday in Greensboro. He accompanied Mrs. Brooks and the children who were on their way to Kernersville to visit relatives, after a visit to Prof. Brooks' parents at Grifton.

Mr. L. P. Pendergraph, '07, who has been very sick this fall with typhoid fever, is now able to be up, and expects to be able to return to his work in the East Durham graded school about the middle of November.

Several of the boys went to Richmond, Va. Saturday to witness a football game between the University of Virginia and the University of North Carolina. They went over on a special train which was run from Chapel Hill.

Mr. J. L. Horne, Jr., who has been at Davidson College for the past few weeks with his sick brother, returned to Trinity Sunday night. Mr. Horne's brother sufficiently recovered to enable him to return to his home at Rocky Mount.

The Y. M. C. A. tonight will be addressed by Rev. W. E. Townson. He has spent seventeen years of his life as missionary in Japan, and will likely give a great deal of interesting information concerning the people in the distant land where he has spent a large part of his time. A large crowd is expected.

On November 2nd the Wake Forest Glee Club and Orchestra will give an entertainment in the Academy of Music in this city. The Wake Forest musical organization is usually very strong, and has for the past few years given some very successful entertainments in Durham.

The committee on public lectures has arranged several good lectures during the fall. Dr. Boyd will deliver the first one of these lectures, though his subject and the date are not now known. Mr. J. V. Joyner, state superintendent of public instruction, will also deliver a lecture here this fall.

Prof. J. C. Wooten, after speaking at the A. & M. Conference, went to Kinston where he had an engagement to preach Sunday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wooten. They returned Monday afternoon.

Prof. Wooten states that the Methodist church at Kinston is now constructing a very fine edifice, which will favorably compare with all the churches in Eastern Carolina.

We are glad to report the condition of Rev. G. H. Detwiler, D. D., is especially encouraging. He is now able to sit up a good part of the time and has actually gained fifteen pounds in weight since he was taken sick. He hopes to be in shape by Conference. This will be good news to his friends throughout our borders.—N. C. Christian Advocate.

This news will be gladly received by Dr. Detwiler's friends here. Dr. Kilgo filled his pulpit last Sunday morning and evening.

Members of the Glee Club Selected.

During the past two weeks the musical talent of the college has been tested by the leaders of the Glee Club, and those who are trying for places in that organization have been practicing under the leadership of Mr. Tyler, who has been engaged to train the club for this season. A few days ago, after much testing and practicing of the old, as well as the new material, the following men were selected to compose the Glee Club this year: First tenor, A. L. Lee, K. W. Parham, S. Sheetz, C. K. Proctor, A. W. Horton. Second tenor, A. S. Berghausen, C. R. Canipe, P. Wyche, C. S. Warren, Bass, G. Siler, R. T. Howerton, Jr., C. Gray, L. G. White. Baritone, B. W. Hawks, Ned McIntosh, J. C. Winslow, L. J. Carter. Regular practice has already begun under the direction of the instructor, Mr. Tyler, and the training of the excellent voices which this season compose the musical organization of the college will be pushed as rapidly as possible, with a view to taking a trip before the Christmas holidays. Mr. A. W. Horton, of the Senior class is manager of the organization this year and has arranged some splendid trips for his club. Mr. B. W. Hawks, of the Senior class, is leader of the club.

The Yale academic seniors have discarded the honor system, as tried in the classroom and at examinations and have voted to return to the old faculty monitor system.

According to students the honor system is impracticable at New Haven because of the size of the classes and the lack of provision for dealing with offenders. They also contend that there is no spare time in recitations and examinations for private detective work.—The Cornell Daily Sun.

Full House.

Oh, once there was a Matron, who lived in a shoe. She had so many 'daughters,' she didn't know what to do. And on a rainy Sunday night so many callers came, They filled the whole house up until it really was a shame.

She put 'em in the parlor, she put 'em in the hall, And some sat on the stair steps and some stood 'gainst the wall; And such a buzz and chatter they say you never heard.

'Twas like a pack of parrots, or some such noisy bird;

And when the callers all were gone and there was peace once more.

The Matron sighed and still she sighed and locked the front hall door,

"I really think next time it rains,"

so wearily she said,

"I'll scold each maiden early and send her off to bed!"
