SENIORS ENJOY THEMSELVES

Have Informal Party in Hesperian Society Hall Thursday Night.

THE HALL BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED.

Progressive Jack Straws—Refreshments—Talks by Young Men—Glee Club Members Sing—All Had Jolly Good Time.

Last Thursday evening, from 8 till 11, in the Hesperian Literary Society hall the Seniors had an informal social gathering. About thirty three or four young men, and twelve young ladies were present, several of the class being absent. Prof. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers were present and acted as chaperones. The hall was very artistically decorated with class pennants and colors, autumn leaves, pine, etc.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing progressive jack straws. There were about twelve tables, each table having as many as four players. For over an hour, the players by close application and skill, endeavored to win stars and advance to the next table in the order of arrangement. Little Misses. Katherine Parker and Margaret Mordecai were the time keepers and also awarded the successful players stars. Miss Mary McCullen and Prof. Flowers received the same number of points, but by some arrangement between the two players the prize was awarded to Miss McCullen. The "booby" prize was awarded to Mr. Frank Lee. It was a "lemon" pig.

After the games were over a waiter filled with four or five different kinds of fruits, peanuts and a box of candy, was placed on each of the tables. While the refreshments were being enjoyed a large number of the young men were called on to make impromptu talks. The most eloquent speakers were not singled out, but they were called from the members of the most timid and reticent ones as well. After about a dozen had spoken those of the class on the Glee Club rendered several snappy songs.

It was very noticeable, both in speech and actions, that every one of the Senior class present had a jolly, good time. References to the party since it occurred have been numerous among the class mates. The memory of the evening will linger with every Naught Eight man for years to come.

Friends throughout our community will be glad to learn of the improved condition of Mr. Julian Bundy, of the Sophomore class, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever at Watts Hospital for several weeks past.

Dr. L. F. Williams, A. B. class '00, A. M. '01, instructor in the A. & M. college, Raleigh, has been a visitor at the park. After leaving college Mr. Williams attended Johns Hopkins University, where he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

TRINITY EASILY WINS.

First Tennis Game of Season Taken From A. & M. College Team—Score 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

Last Friday afternoon the first series of inter-collegiate tennis games began here with A. & M. college, of Raleigh, resulting in a victory for Trinity. The Farmers were represented by H. N. Sumner, of Hertford, who met: M. A. Briggs, of Durham, a member of the Junior class, in singles on the splendid court near Hanes Athletic Field. The court was in excellent condition, the weather favorable, and everything indicated that there was to be a good game. But from the very beginning it was plain that the visiting team was outclassed, and for that reason the game was not as interesting as it would have been had the players been more evenly matched. Despite the fact, however, that the game was one-sided, it was fairly good, and everything considered, a great deal of skill was displayed with the racket.

Sumner, for the visitors, played fairly good tennis, but showed lack of practice and control over some of his returns. His serve was apparently only ordinary, for his opponent exercised but little effort in receiving and returning to advantage. Out of the three sets played Briggs, who played excellent all the way through, allowed his opponent only one game, that being in the second set. The contest was to be played for the best three out of five sets, and at the end of the third set came to a close.

Only a few spectators witnessed the game, a large number of the students being at the football game which took place at the same time down town between Warrenton and Durham High Schools. It was expected that doubles would be played Saturday afternoon, with the same college, but the rain forced the game to be called off, to the disappointment of all who enjoy the popular sport, for it was predicted that the doubles would be a better game than the singles had been.

The score of the game Friday afternoon was as follows: 6-0, 6-1, 6-0. Umpire, Dr. L. L. Hendren; Liners, Mr. J. L. Kilgo, Trinity, and Mr. Wade, A. & M.

Mr. A. G. Moore, class '05, had an interesting article in the Sunday issue of The Charlotte Observer for October 20. Mr. Moore has written a number of articles for The Observer dealing with affairs in the Western states. When Mr. Moore was an undergraduate he was correspondent from the college for The Observer, and was an editor of the Archive.

After leaving college he went to Yuma, Ariz., but he is now located in Los Angeles, California. Readers of The Chronicle will remember the account of his marriage which was published in this paper a few months ago.

REPRESENTATIVES CHOSEN.

Trinity-Vanderbilt Preliminary Puled Off Saturday Night.

BORTON AND HERBIN WERE SELECTED

Speakers Showed Excellent Preparation in States' Rights Question—Good Crowd Present—Debate to Be Held in Nashville.

The Trinity-Vanderbilt preliminary debate took place in the Y. M. C. A. hall last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Despite the fact that there were other things to attract their attention quite a large number of students and members of the faculty were present to hear those who contested for places on the debate which is to take place in Nashville, Tenn., sometime near the twentieth of December. Dr. W. K. Boyd, of the department of History, presided. Mr. J. A. Morgan, of the graduate department acted as time-keeper, and Professors W. H. Glasson, W. I. Cranford and H. M. North, of the Trinity Park School, served as the committee on decision.

The question discussed was "Resolved, That the present distribution of power between State and Federal Government is not adapted to modern conditions, and calls for a redistribution in the direction of further centralization." The affirmative side was represented by Messrs. J. W. Barbee, L. Herbin, and A. W. Horton, while the negative was defended by Messrs. G. M. Daniels, Willis Smith, W. W. Carson and L. L. Phillips. The speeches presented were good and were up to the usual high standard of inter-collegiate preliminary debating, and showed that a great deal of hard study and investigation had been done by the speakers.

At the conclusion of the debate the committee retired to make up their decision as to who should represent Trinity against Vanderbilt, and returned with the result that A. W. Horton, of West Durham, and L. Herbin, of the same town, with W. W. Carson, of Spartanburg, S. C. as alternate, were adjudged those who were entitled to the honors. While the committee was out Prof. R. L. Flowers, and Dr. Mims were called on and spoke very enthusiastically concerning the work in debating at Trinity, speaking of her past record and the indications that point in the direction of greater progress along the line of inter-collegiate debating. Dr. Mims called the attention of those in the habit of debating, however, to the mistake of entering and then coming out of such preliminaries, showing how such mistakes are calculated to work injury to debating in general here. In this the speaker was eminently correct, and instead of there being seven men to speak last Saturday evening there should have been fourteen, the original number entering. Some, perhaps all, of those who withdrew, however, have good reasons for doing so, but it is a policy against which all men who debate should guard.

The debate for which men were selected Saturday night is the first of a second series of three debates with Vanderbilt University. The first debate of the first series was held in Nashville, and resulted in a victory for Trinity. Last December the second debate was held here with the same result, which closed the first series.

Meeting of Association of Colleges and High Schools.

Dr. W. P. Few and Prof. E. C. Brooks have gone to Birmingham, Ala., to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Southern States which will be held in the new High School building in that city, November 7 and 8. This meeting was to have been held in Athens, Ga., but it was found necessary to change to Birmingham. The program of the first day will be largely given up to a consideration of high school progress in Southern States. Reports of recent legislation will be made by a number of Professors of Education from various States, and special papers will be presented on vital points by Dr. Bruce R. Payne (class A. B. '01, A. M. '02 Trinity,) of the University of Virginia, and Prof. P. P. Claxton, of the University of Tennessee. Thursday evening will be given up to the address of the President, Mr. C. B. Wallace, of the University School, Nashville, Tenn.

The session Friday morning will be devoted to two important topics, one a study of the entrance requirements of colleges and universities belonging to the association, and the other a study of the work of the Southern preparatory schools, by Prof. F. W. Moore, of Vanderbilt University. These two papers will be in a way supplementary of each other, and both look to the possibility of a change in the by-laws of the association, effecting an elevation of standards. Prof. E. C. Brooks, of Trinity, will read a paper on "Problems of Southern Colleges."

The officers of the association are: President, C. B. Wallace, of the University School, Nashville, Tenn.; Secretary, Chancellor James H. Kirkland, of Vanderbilt University.

Trinity is the only college in this State belonging to the association, having been one of the charter members at its organization at Atlanta, Ga. in 1895.

The object of the association is to consider the qualifications of candidates for admission to colleges, the methods of admission, the character of the preparatory schools, the courses of study to be pursued in the colleges and schools, including their order, number, etc., as well as such other subjects as tend to the promotion of interests common to colleges and preparatory schools.

LITTLETON TEAM DEFEATED.

The First Game of Basket Ball Played Friday Night.

OVERWHELMING SCORE OF 42 TO 10

P. J. Kiker's Work Feature of the Game—Littleton Men Considerably Smaller Than Trinity Men—Next Game With Wake Forest.

Trinity's basket team scored its first victory of the season Friday night by 42 to 10 over Littleton High School. The crowd was not as large as is usually present at games of this kind, due perhaps to the fact that the game was not widely enough advertised.

The game was called at 8 o'clock by Referee Hendren. Littleton won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. The first half was characterized by the fouls on the part of the visitors. Trinity scored during this part of the game 22 points, and Littleton 7.

In the second half the Littleton boys settled down to hard work and kept Trinity from scoring as many points as made in the first half. The college team has not yet been fully selected, so the players who were not given a chance on the first go round, came in the latter part of the game for a trial. Elias, D. S. at right guard did good defensive work. He was relieved by Smith during the middle of the half, who also made a very good showing. Gantt, in the center, did good work, but was relieved by Armfield after ten minutes play. Kiker, P. J., as usual, played star ball, and his goal throwing was the feature of the game. Messrs. Baxter and Tuttle played well together, both scoring difficult goals from the field, which added snap to the game. Beachboard, for Littleton, played all round ball and did considerable effective work for his team. Mr. Bridges was also up to his job.

The Littleton team men are considerably smaller than Trinity's men; and are also behind in practice work; and it was for these reasons that Trinity scored so heavily over her opponent.

The line up was as follows:

Trinity.	Littleton.
Baxter, O. D. l. f.	West, F.
Kiker, P. J.	Beachboard.
Tuttle, r. f.	Bridges.
Scott,
Kiker, P. J.	c. Bridges, H.
Gantt	Harmo
Armfield
Kiker, W. B. r. g.	Hughes, H.
Elias, D. S.	Smith.
Flowers, C. l. g.	Schlifer.
Lilly.	Dickens.

Summary:—Goals from field: Baxter, 1; Tuttle, 1; Kiker, 14; Bridges, H., 1; Bridges, C., 1; Hughes, 1. Goals on fouls: Tuttle, 2; Kiker, P. J., 7; Beachboard, 3; Bridges, H., 1. Fouls: Trinity 13; Littleton, 15. Umpire Greener; Referee Dr. L. L. Hendren; Scorer, W. W. Card; Time keepers, F. H. Lee and H. C. Hood. The next game of basket ball will be with Wake Forest here November 18th.

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 6, 1907

We are always glad to publish letters from members of the faculty and students on subjects of general interest to the community.

If you do not get your Chronicle regularly we ask you to inform the business manager. He will always be glad to supply missing numbers.

Elsewhere we print a letter from one of the students in which complaint is made against a number of the Freshman class for keeping unnecessary noise in the dormitories at night. We believe that a mere mention of the trouble will mean its discontinuance. The young men accused have perhaps acted thoughtlessly, not realizing how distasteful to the more studious ones of our number such an offense is. It always takes some time for the new students to become adjusted to their new environments, and it is not our intention to take a pessimistic view of the situation.

While it is early in the season to begin what is known as boosting, we will state in behalf of the managements, that the way in which the students "turned out" to the two athletic events last week was very gratifying, and though in neither instance was the attendance very large, yet it very clearly brought out the fact that we have this year a student body that will support the athletic side of college life. We have indeed made an excellent start and what we hope for is a continuance of same. Let every man come out—every time. Every team of the college needs your presence and the managements need the price.

The drive from the main building to the gate, which has undergone a very radical change within the past several weeks, is beginning to prevent a more decided appearance, and the students are now able to conjecture as to where their untrod path will lie.

Items of Interest From Trin- ity Park School.

Headmaster H. M. North has been called to the bedside of his brother in Laurinburg.

Mr. Joe McClees has returned to his work here. He was summoned home a few days ago on account of the death of his brother.
Miss Laura Wescott, class '05, who has been living in the White Building, has taken charge of a country school near Durham.

Prof. F. S. Aldridge, who has been ill the past few days is up and has taken up his work again.

Mr. J. T. Larkin, who has been out of school for the past few days, has returned to his work.

The November number of the Park School Gazette is just from the press and in mechanical appearance it is an improvement on former editions. The table of contents is as follows: "Loy and Lui-se," by W. G. S. Poem.
"Only a Smile," by O. D. "The Pilot," by A. D. Jones. "The Big Oak of Brunswick County," by K. C. L. Then comes the various departments which make up a very creditable issue.

Rev. J. A. Hornaday visited his son, Prof. C. L. Hornaday, last week.

Miss Genevive Wood, of Redwood, has recently entered school.

The Genesis of Genius.

In a paper on the "Genesis of Genius," read before the recent International Congress on Psychiatry at Amsterdam, Doctor Louise G. Rabinovitch, of New York, called attention to the remarkable fact that comparatively few geniuses have been the first-born of their parents. In a study of seventy-four biographies of great men and women—poets, writers, politicians, painters and musicians—she found but ten firstborn. Among forty-two writers and poets but six were the eldest children, among seventeen painters but one was the firstborn of his mother (he was a natural child,) among fifteen musicians there were only two firstborn.

Not only were these men of genius not the first born, in a very large number of cases they were the youngest or next to the youngest of the family. Thus Coleridge was the last of thirteen children. James Penimore Cooper was the eleventh of twelve children. Washington Irving was the last of eleven. Balzac the last of three, George Elliott the last of four, Napoleon was the eighth, and probably last; Daniel Webster the last of seven; Benjamin Franklin was the last of seventeen; Rembrandt was the last of six children, Rubens the last of seven, Sir Edwin Leedser the fifth of seven children; Joshua Reynolds was the seventh child of his parents; Carl Maria Weber the ninth, Richard Wagner the last of seven, Mozart the last of seven, Schumann the last of five, Schubert the thirteenth of fourteen.— Medical Record.

The Yale musical club, contrary to the usual custom of the last few years, will during the Christmas holidays, make a tour of the South rather than the West. They will go South as far as New Orleans and West to Houston, Texas. The itinerary will include fifteen concerts. On Christmas day they will appear in Birmingham, Ala.

Unnecessary Noise in Dormi- tories.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I would not intrude on your valuable time, but recently I have noticed an unnecessary amount of noise in one of the dormitories.
Usually this disturbance is in the form of singing, yelling, scuffling and running in the hallways, and takes place, as a rule, at night.
Now, if to sing were as easy as to disturb an entire dormitory in the attempt, there would be enough available material in the Freshman class to equip a half score glee clubs. But hideous noises between supper and bed-time, when those who really have something to do are at work, does not merely indicate that great musical talent has been discovered, but it is proof positive that the youngster who perpetrates such is not only unthoughtful, but absolutely disregards his neighbor's feelings.
It is sometimes unfortunate to have apartments in some of the buildings. Rehearsals of would-be glee clubs, and acrobatic "stunts" of those who would make athletic teams, combine to add to the discomfort of quite a number of those who are at work.

Those who suffer we pity; that's their misfortune. If they have Freshmen among their neighbors who think they have a right to be, and insist on being, fresh, let them think so; that's their privilege. But if they are called to task for exercising their inalienable prerogatives, they need not blame the proctor; that's his duty.
Of course it is the privilege of every Freshman to be fresh, that's his vocation; but there is a reasonable limit to some kinds of freshness, and when a man enters college it is nearing the time when he should "put away childish things." STUDENT.

Wake Forest Glee Club.

Saturday afternoon the Wake Forest Glee Club, under the auspices of the Second Baptist Sunday School, gave a very pleasing program before a medium sized audience at the Academy of Music.

The selections by the Glee Club were very creditably rendered and were with the proper spirit and snap. The first number of the orchestra was rather faulty, but the succeeding numbers were better rendered and the adjustment of instruments more pleasing.

Through the courtesy of Wake Forest men, Trinity Glee Club members occupied box seats and constituted a very responsive part of the audience. After the program they gave the visitors a "smoker" at Trakas. A number of extempore speeches were made by men of both glee clubs, college yells and cheers given, and a general good social time indulged in.

The Wake Forest men spent the night in Durham, and the quartette appeared in several selections at the Second Baptist Sunday School next morning. They returned to Raleigh Sunday morning on the 11:42 train.

Messrs. B. Elias and J. B. Sid-bury, of the Senior class, left Monday for Jamestown.

Boys don't forget to drop in at the Royal Theatre when down town. Program changed daily.
Hours, 3 to 6 and 7 to 11 p. m.

SCIENCE CLUB MEETING.

Held in Science Hall Monday Night—Several Papers Read Dr. Wolfe on "An Outline of Energy in Living World."

Monday evening from seven till eight the Science Club held its regular monthly meeting. The Physics lecture room was nearly filled and the meeting was, as usual, a very good one. A question box was established, and any one may hand in scientific questions at one meeting and have them answered at the next meeting. Several very interesting papers were read concerning subjects of more or less interest. Mr. C. K. Proctor submitted a paper on "Oxidation of Nitrogen in the Atmosphere"; Mr. C. C. Barnhardt on "Some of the Peculiarities of the White Ants," and Prof. C. L. Hornaday on "Algae Pollutions of City Reservoirs." Dr. J. J. Wolfe, as is customary with him, gave an interesting and instructive discussion of his subject. His theme was an "Outline of Energy in the Living World," and in substance he said:

Matter appears to be merely the vehicle for the transportation of energy through organic nature. The atoms are combined by the green pigment in plants, mediated by light, into complex molecules. The process is constructive, and involves the conversion of radiant into chemical energy. Starch is the first substance thus constructed, and the fundamental food of the plant and animal world, all others being derived from it, either by substitution or addition.

Now known as food, such materials are taken into the animal body rendered soluble by digestion, absorbed into the blood, and distributed by means of the circulatory system. They pass from the blood into the individual tissue cells and are there united with the living substance, themselves becoming participants in the phenomena which we term living. In other words, lifeless food has become living protoplasm. Here the constructive process begun in the green plant is carried further, the molecule being raised to a higher potential.

This is advantageous, first in that when the molecule is disrupted, as it is in all forms of activity, a greater quantity of energy is liberated than could have been obtained from a vastly greater number of starch molecules; in the second place, in that the molecule is thus rendered capable of being easily disrupted under the conditions that obtain in the body.

This disruption, or explosion as it is more commonly called, renders latent energy available. The component atoms, when freed from their previous unions, suddenly unite into such simple compounds as carbonic acid, water, urea, etc., evolving a tremendous output of energy. Such molecules may fittingly be compared to nitroglycerine, both as to quantity of energy evolved, and as to the ease with which it is rendered available.

We hold these three things to be established. First, wherever vital activity occurs there we find these explosive molecules developed to a high degree. Second, the blood going to such regions as surcharged with food substances out of which they may be constructed.

Third, blood leaving them is loaded with the products of their decomposition. It seems clear, therefore, that chemical energy brought into the body is in this way the source of all vital phenomena.

The methods of conversion, however, is not so clear. Take for example muscular contraction, to account for which many theories have been advanced. Among these may be mentioned, Englemann's thermodynamic theory which depends upon the principle of the conversion of chemical energy into heat. The muscle is constructed of substances which, when subject to heat, expand at right angles to their length. This involves a decrease in length, which is the phenomenon of contraction. The atoms which entered the animal body surcharged with energy, having thus been divested of this and exerted as of no further value, are again caught up by green plants and, with the aid of sunlight, re-endowed with energy and started again on their journey through organic nature.

Hallow'een at the Woman's Building.

It was "hence loathed melancholy" at the Woman's Building last Thursday evening when the young ladies gave a most successful Hallow'een party. The room was profusely decorated with autumn leaves, artistically hung over windows and doors, and forming attractive bowers in the corners, and lighted with jack o' lanterns. One of the most beautiful young ladies told the fortunes and read palms in an alcove hung with Japanese lanterns and oriental draperies. Gradually the "spooks" assembled, and even the Archangel of the bottomless pit was seen mingling in their midst, and from time to time summoning up the most weird apparitions from the unknown.

Refreshments, consisting of apples, oranges, bananas, grapes, salted peanuts, and bon bons, were served to the merry guests from waiters covered with autumn leaves and trailing vines. Pretty souvenirs were given the departing guests who consisted of the Woman's Building ladies, except the Seniors who were attending the entertainment at the Hesperi Hall. This occasion was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held by the co-eds.

EXCHANGES.

Lives of football men remind us,
That they shed each others' blood;
And departing, leave behind them
Half their number in the mud.
Intelligent Junior, (picking up Caesar), "Oh, say, Latin is easy. I wish I had taken it. Look here," (pointing to several passages).
"Porte dux in aro"—Forty ducks in a row.
"Passus sum jam"—Pass us some jam.
"Bonu leges Caesaris"—The bony legs of Caesar.
"Caesar sic dicat de cur egressi letam"—Caesar sicked the cat on the cur. I guess he licked him.

ALUMNI NOTES.

[Items for this Department are Solicited by the Editor from all Students and Graduates of Trinity.]

Mr. C. R. Warren, '06, is teaching at Chatham, Va.

Mr. L. B. Gibson, ex-'06, is practicing law at his home in Gibson.

Mr. E. F. Lee, class '05, is taking second year work in Union Theological Seminary, New York. Mr. Lee also has a very good charge in Brooklyn.

Mr. E. L. Turnage, ex-'07, and who also took some work with the present Senior class, is now in the mercantile business with his father and brother in Ayden.

Mr. R. E. Sessions, A. M. '04, is now principal of the graded school at Covington, Ga. Mr. Sessions took work in Harvard last year and had a valuable scholarship in the department of Education at that University.

Mr. John W. Townsend, who was formerly a student at Trinity, is now Assistant Clerk of the Court of Union county, and is living at Monroe. Mr. Townsend graduated with the class of 1866, there being only two other men to graduate that year.

An announcement has just been made by Mrs. Freeman Crosby, of Boston, Mass., of the engagement of her daughter, May Whitmore, to Mr. Louis H. Asbury, class '00. Miss Crosby is the daughter of the late Freeman M. Crosby, who was one of the best known business men of Boston. The Boston papers say that "She is one of the most charming debutantes of the season and is very beautiful." Mr. Asbury was a very popular student at Trinity. He was a fine student and showed a great deal of artistic talent. During his vacation he did work in architecture, and as soon as he graduated he went to Boston and entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to study architecture. Later he was with a firm of architects in Boston. He went to Europe to continue the study of his profession. He is now an architect in New York City, and is meeting with great success in his work. The record he has made is a credit to himself and to his alma mater. His friends are gratified at his career.

Athletic Council Holds Important Meeting.

The Athletic Council held a meeting Thursday evening. The committee appointed to communicate with the executive committee of the Board of Trustees to secure the constitution under which the council is to act made its report, and the constitution submitted was adopted. According to the provisions of this constitution, officers were elected, as follows: President, W. W. Flowers, class '04; vice president, T. B. Suiter, '09; Secretary, J. B. Warren, Jr., '08; Treasurer, J. E. Pegram. Prof. R. L. Flowers was elected chairman of the executive committee. The other members of the committee are J. E. Pegram and J. B. Warren, Jr.

After the transaction of some routine business, and the appointment of committees the council adjourned to meet Thursday evening, November 7th, at 7 o'clock.

Here's a Clean-cut Looking Fellow

THIS remark is often made concerning the young man wearing our Handsome Suits.

The young man of today demands the very newest fashions—the very latest innovations. No stubby coats, no narrow lapels, no bag-hanging garments for him this season. We select certain lines of suits from tailoring houses that are specialists in young men's clothes—whose styles are patterned after what one sees on the college campus—dashingly daring, but not to the extreme.

$15 or $18.60 or $20 or $25

But reserve your opinion until you have seen the suits.

The Cut of the Coat

Tells the taste of the tailor. The garment that strikes your fancy may not be the one that you should wear. In the mirror of the retail clothier you cannot see yourself as others see you. Is it safe to trust your appearance to the judgment of the ready-made salesman; biased by the necessity of fitting you to the clothing rather than the clothing to you? Individuality and character are subtly expressed in every garment I make. Years of experience in serving the best dressers guarantee that clothing made by me is perfect in style and finish, and is of the color and cut best suited to the wearers' complexion.

He reports that the party had a most enjoyable trip. He is treasurer of the Durham & Southern railroad, and has resumed his work.

Committee to Visit the Sick.

To guard against the possibility of a student being ill for sometime without having the proper attention, the faculty at a recent meeting, appointed a committee consisting of Prof. J. C. Wooten from the faculty, L. J. Carter, of the Senior class, Gilmer Siler, of the Junior class and W. B. Lilly from the Sophomore class, to act with a like committee from the Y. M. C. A. to devise means of securing information in regard to all cases of sickness and to take the proper steps to see that such cases receive the necessary attention. The committee from the Y. M. C. A. consists of K. W. Parham, L. Herbin, C. N. Crawford and E. R. Stephenson. Students are requested to report all cases of sickness to members of this joint committee, so that the members may be enabled to see that no case fails to receive prompt attention. Students who live off the campus are requested to send word to this committee in case they are sick. The Watts Hospital affords the most excellent opportunity for students to have the best attention. The members of this committee should have the most hearty co-operation of every member of the college community.
