ANOTHER CLASS HEARD FROM

The Twenty-Eight Young Men and Women of the Class of 1904.

SCATTERED WIDELY OVER THE COUNTRY

Some of Them Are Preaching, Some Practicing Law, Many Teaching—A Strong Class in Many Respects—Where They Now Live.

The class of 1904 numbered twenty-eight young men and women. In many respects it was a very strong class, composed of men and women known for their qualities of leadership and effective work. Since leaving college they have been scattered here and there over the country, the most of them by this time being in some profession or some line of work. Not a few of them are teaching, and in the list may be found many lawyers and preachers. That Chronicle readers may know of the whereabouts of this class, the following information is given:

Mr. H. B. Adams is practicing law with his father in his home town, Monroe. Mr. Adams was the winner of the Wiley Gray Medal.

Mr. Z. P. Beachboard is in business in the West. His address is 2333 Dwightway, Berkeley, Cal.

Mr. A. B. Bradsher is with the American Tobacco Company, located in Raleigh. Mr. Bradsher will be remembered as the "King of the Southern Diamond" for several years.

Mr. W. P. Budd is with the Chatham Lumber Company in Durham.

Mr. F. W. Bynum is practicing law in his home town, Pittsboro, and is very successful.

Mr. V. C. Baker is principal of the Atlantic High School, Atlantic, N. C.

Mr. Kope Elias, Jr., is engaged in extensive farming near Bryson City.

Mr. A. G. Elliott is engaged in civil engineering work near Roxboro.

Mr. W. T. Finger is with the American Tobacco Company in Durham.

Mr. J. P. Frizzell is practicing law at Snow Hill.

Mr. L. H. Gibbons is studying law in New York City.

Mr. M. S. Giles is teaching being principal of Marion High School. He is also superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. Z. Hinojara is an influential preacher in Japan, his work being at Yamaguchi.

Mr. Edwin Hoover is principal of a high school in Rockwell, Texas.

Mr. E. M. Hoyle is pastor of the Methodist church at Lumberton.

Mr. J. G. Huchabee is floor manager of the Dule Factory, Durham.

Mr. O. J. Jones is teaching at Rutherford College.

Mr. C. H. Livengood is with (Continued on third page.)

DR. CRANFORD SPOKE.

Addressed the Regular Weekly Meeting of the Local Young Men's Christian Association Last Wednesday Evening—"Moral Insanity." Those who were fortunate enough to be present at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening heard one of the most sensible talks made here in some time. Dr. W. I. Cranford, of the department of Philosophy, was the speaker for the evening and his subject was "Moral Insanity." An unusually large number of students and members of the faculty was present and the service was one of the most helpful held under the auspices of the organization this year.

Dr. Cranford declared insanity to be a lack of unity, a lack of connectedness—doing things in a disconnected way. A sane man is he who looks ahead and connects the present, past and future. The farther in the future a man looks, conducting his life now with reference to the far distant, the wiser is he regarded.

Emphasis especially was placed on the importance of college students choosing wisely, sanely, and thoughtfully. The choice is not simply for the present, but for all time and eternity. It is a mistake to wait until age comes; time is too swift for such a foolish decision. "Thoughtfully choose what you ought to do and do it. Don't allow anything to take the place of the chief things. Think clear through, cultivate the main purpose. Follow the best you know, for those who fail make the wrong choice. Keep the main things above the subordinate things. This only will keep you out of the graveyard of your better selves."

Another Chapter.

The county associations of the Trinity College Alumni Association continue to be formed, and real interest in the work of the new movement of Trinity graduates seems to be increasing. The following account of the formation of the Beaufort County Chapter is clipped from the Washington Messenger, of November 12th:

It will perhaps be of interest to the old students of Trinity College residing in Beaufort county to know that there has been formed here a Beaufort County Chapter of the Alumni Association of Trinity College.

A few of the old students of Trinity were called together on yesterday by Dr. A. P. Tyer for this purpose and the association formed.

The purpose of the association is to stir up a working interest in the old students of this fine institution, in order that through their efforts it may grow in the future even more rapidly than it has in the past.

The following officers were elected: H. C. Carter, Jr., president; Capt. Wilcox Farrow, vice-president; Mr. Will Whitley, secretary and treasurer.

MEMBERS OF THE GLEE CLUB.

Those Who Will Compose That Organization This Year Selected.

AN EASTERN TRIP BEING ARRANGED.

Prospects for the Club Again Bright—Has Good Trainer and Some Good Material Has Been Selected.

For some time the prospective members of the Glee Club have been practicing daily. Several days ago Director Cheek and Manager Cole made the selection of those who will be with the club this year and since that time hard systematic practice of these men on new songs, etc., has been going on. They seem to be making much progress and there is no reason why Trinity shall not have a good musical organization this year.

Manager Cole of the organization announces that a trip through the eastern part of the State is being arranged and that this trip will be taken some time between now and the Christmas recess, probably the last week before the beginning of the holidays. This will be the first year in several that the club has gone through this part of the State. Last year it took a western trip, and it was a most successful one. There is a good reason why the trip proposed for the club this year will be successful.

The members of the club this year are as follows:

First Tenor: Sheetz, Brooks, Jones and Bivens.

Second Tenor: Laney, Burgess, Doss, Wrenn and Spach.

Baritone: Howerton, Bennett, McIntosh and Daniel.

Bass: Hurley, Siler, Sheppard and Cole.

To-morrow a Holiday.

Tomorrow will be observed as a holiday. All college exercises will be suspended and several of the students will spend the day away from the city. Some will go to Richmond and Norfolk to witness foot ball games in those cities. College duties will be resumed Friday morning at nine o'clock.

Five women have been appointed to the staff of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research—Miss Nellie Goldthwait as chemistry assistant, Miss Maude L. Menten, Miss Mabel P. Fitzgerald and Miss Wollstein as fellows, and Miss Bertha L. Barker, as scholar of the institute.

Rev. Francis J. McConnell, Ph. D., pastor of the New York Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, of Brooklyn, has accepted a call to the presidency of DePaw University at Greencastle, Ind.

The faculty at Syracuse has decided to excuse all students who attend classes to go on the football excursion to Buffalo, when they meet Carlisle.

PARK SCHOOL NEWS.

Picked up on That Campus by a Reporter—The Gazette for November From the Press—Other Notes of Interest.

The November Park School Gazette, the monthly publication of the Senior class of that institution, came from the press a few days ago. It is a most creditable issue and shows some aggressive literary work. Its table of contents is as follows:

"The Rivals," by H. F. T.

"Be Thankful" (poem), by H. B. Porter.

"False to His Promise," by W. A. C.

"His Mistake," by A. O. E.

"Why I Live" (poem).

"A Negro Sketch," by E. M.

Headmaster H. M. North has been in Asheville for several days attending the nineteenth annual meeting of the Western North Carolina Conference in session there. He returned to the park Monday.

Prof. W. A. Stanbury, of the department of Latin, spent a few days at Greensboro recently.

There has been considerable interest in tennis recent. The courts near Branson Hall are alive with enthusiastic players every day.

Miss Alice Spruill, of Oriental, has been visiting Misses Maude and Nellie McClees.

Mr. C. M. Babbitt, of Bayboro, was on the campus a few days ago.

The Y. M. C. A. continues its work with much interest. Weekly meetings are held and these are largely attended by the students.

Miss Bertha Spruill, of Greensboro, was the guests of Miss Maude McClees Monday.

The quarterly examinations came to a close the 17th.

Rev. J. A. Hornaday and wife, of Roxboro, were here Friday visiting Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Hornaday.

At the Western North Carolina Conference in session at Asheville last week, a Trinity College Alumni Association of that body was formed, the purpose of which is to work through the individual members of the organization to the end of organizing local associations throughout the country. Prof. J. C. Wooten, of this college, was elected president and Rev. P. T. Durham, of Concord, vice-president. Committees were appointed to look into some matters to come before the body from time to time. About forty members were enrolled. The annual meetings of the conference will be great events for this organization, at which time the members will have plans for enthusiastic meetings.

The Department of Journalism of the University of Missouri is issuing a daily paper this year—The University Missourian.

TRINITY DEFEATS GUILFORD.

The Methodists Prove Themselves Better in Tennis Than Quakers.

TAKE BOTH SINGLES AND DOUBLES.

Briggs and Jordan for the Home Team Plainly Outclass Visitors—The First Inter-Collegiate Games of the Season.

Trinity won her first victory for the season in tennis last Friday when Messrs. M. A. Briggs, of Durham, and A. M. Jordan, of Sunbury, defeated Messrs. Hine and Vance of Guilford College. Three sets were played and the local team took all of them. The game was more or less one-sided, yet it was witnessed by quite a number of students and others of the community.

The weather was a bit threatening in the early part of the afternoon, and it seemed at one time that the tournament would be called off. The game was called, however, at three o'clock and it took only a comparatively short time to finish it. It was evident that, although the visiting team was fairly strong, the locals were better acquainted with the use of the racket, and there was better team work demonstrated by the Methodists. Both Hine and Vance played steady tennis, however. The result of the doubles was 6-0, 6-1.

Saturday singles were played, the contests being between Briggs and Hine and Claude West and Vance. The singles were more interesting than the doubles and some good playing was witnessed by the crowd of students present, even though it was again easy for the local teams to win over the visitors. Briggs succeeded in taking his sets by a score of 6-3, 6-2, and 6-1. West found his opponent more easy, defeating him by a score of 6-0, 6-1, and 6-2. These contests, however, were not without interest.

It is not now known when other tournaments will be played. Trinity has challenged Wake Forest and other institutions, but has been unable to get any response to some of her challenges. The local team is very anxious to meet other colleges this season. The management thinks other games will be played in the near future on the local grounds.

Prof. E. C. Brooks, of the department of Education, has returned from Snow Hill where he went a few days ago to organize a county teachers association. Prof. L. B. Pendergraph, of the class of 1907, who is principal of the Snow Hill High School, was elected president of the organization.

The freshmen and sophomores at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in St. Louis had a class fight on the roof of a three story building recently, but the fight was interrupted by the interference of the faculty.

THE PLEDGE.

No more commendable step was ever taken by the students of this institution than when, three years ago, they decided as one man to abolish hazing and to do all possible against the hazing spirit. The results of that step are well known to all in this community and to many away from here. Since that time there has been a continual constant growth of a most wholesome sentiment among the students and what it has meant, not only to the students themselves, but to the college as an institution, is inestimable. It has attached dignity to the life of the college and has given the students finer sen-sibilities and more intelligent sympathies.

We should regard it an irreparable error on our part if we were to seriously misinterpret any situation or underrate or discredit the status of affairs in the community. We would not do such a thing if we knew it. There has recently been noticed, however, something of a spirit of restlessness in the atmosphere. As to what cause this spirit is due we are neither willing nor ready to commit ourselves just now. Whether some of the things which seem to be indicative of a restlessness indicate also a form of mere fun and youthful exurbance, or whether they indicate something even more serious, it is impossible for us to say. It would be hard to come to a just conclusion with so few facts.

It is not our place to denounce all forms of friendly class rivalry, especially so long as that rivalry is confined closely to the upper classes and is not allowed to threaten the supposedly amicable relations of the two lower classes.
Neither is it our business to define hazing here. But it is our business, as it is the business of every student in this community, to use all the influence at our command to smother any spirit which can in any way be regarded dangerous.

Every student in this college has pledged his honor not only not to engage in hazing of any sort, but to do all in his power to suppress it, and to reveal all forms of it which might come under his observation. These men are honor bound to that pledge; it is as binding as any other. And it would, of course, be a gross injustice to any man to say that he would treat such a pledge lightly. It would be nothing less than acknowledging him to be both a knave and a tool, for the penalty for the violation of such a pledge is well known. At this time, however, a little warning as to the real meaning of it may be considered apropos. If there are any here who are so foolish and so thoughtless as to violate the confidence and the trust placed in them, they might as well learn just now that there is another and a stronger sentiment here than theirs. They have been here a long time not to have learned that in this college it was decided years ago that hazing of any form was cowardly and a veritable relic of barbarism;
that the decision is now backed up by the sentiment of the entire community; that however a comparatively harmless form hazing may take, it is difficult to perceive wherein it is at all educative; and that, above all, the duty of disciplining freshmen does not properly devolve on their companions, and that the aims of education are not served in any conceivable manner by such violent assumptions.

Every word of this ought to be out of place, and we hope it is,
and that there is really no occasion for such expression of opinion.
But it is dangerous to take risks and chances, and well enough always to be qui vive.

ENOUGH OF IT.

Until recently it was hardly noticed that there were in this community even a few students who felt that it was their inalienable right and indefeasible prerogative to pester the others. If they were here they had made their presence known very infrequently. But recently there has been good reason to believe that there was a very small number of students a bit inclined to make it more or less unpleasant for the others. The form that this inclination seems to take is the practice of depositing in the different dormitories at night, when the occupants are trying to work, certain acids, the chemical action of which makes it not a little unpleasant and even irritating to the olfactory organs. So far was this practice carried a few nights ago that it was almost impossible for some men to remain in their apartments, and it is not strange that they were extremely nettled and disconcerted over the situation.

Of course the affair cannot be carried on without the guilty ones being called to task. It is generally known that there are only a few who are guilty and it is reasonable to suppose that the others rightly consider such conduct an imposition. We believe that there is a sentiment here that will not allow such a thing to thrive but a short while, and a continuation of such a troublesome thing will cause that sentiment to take some actual form.

A word to the wise we believe is sufficient to stop such pusilanimous puerilities.

If those few students who came here in September and some few others who came before that time, have not yet learned that the campus with all its appurtenances is not theirs "to have and to hold," and to do as they please with, it is high time they were getting that information. The habit some of them have of taking from the mail after it has been delivered in Duke Building the daily papers, to the confusion of the subscribers, is one of the most odious nuisances here. It has increased recently until one hardly knows whether he is going to get his paper or not. Especially is this true on Sundays, when the mail arrives just before dinner time.
The comic sections of the Sunday paper seems to have a peculiar fascination for Freshmen who will take and destroy a whole paper in order to read about Buster Brown and Tige. If you are compelled to see the funny pictures be considerate enough to leave the other portion of the paper for your neighbor. He will in all probability be very grateful to you for your thought

WITH THE COLLEGES.

What is Going on at Some of the Other Colleges and Universities as Shown by Our Exchanges.

The "tank scrap" at Purdue was won by the sophomores.

The Freshmen won the annual tie-up at the University of Washington.

The freshmen won the recent pushball contest against the sophomores at Drake University.

The flag rush at Rush Medical College provided material for the upperclass clinics. Several of the students were badly injured.

The underclassmen of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, in St. Louis, held a class scrap on the roof of a three-story building.

Because oxalic acid was poured on the banner used in the rush at the University of Indiana, the sophomores fight was declared a draw.

The cane rush at the University of Washington has been abolished because of the roughness of the sophomores and freshmen when it came to raising cane.

All hazing at Amherst has been abolished, even though the sophomores say hazing is not for their enjoyment but for the freshmen's good. The flag rush will be allowed if the students conduct themselves like gentlemen.

Many of the freshmen of Indiana University have their locks of hair hanging in the rooms of sophomores as souvenirs, for hair-cutting is now in vogue at Bloomington. The faculty and freshmen do not like such a barbarian system of "scalping."

Miss Ethel Jenney has just been admitted to practice law in the United States Circuit Court in Boston. She is a graduate of Radcliffe College and of the Michigan State University Law School. She has practiced law in the Federal Courts of Michigan and is now connected with a law firm in Boston.

Prof. David Gordon Lyon, Hollis professor of divinity and curator of the Semitic Museum at Harvard University, has returned from an archeological expedition to Samaria, and reports the finding of specimens of Greek and Roman pottery in what is supposed to have been a temple erected by Herod the Great.

Professor Case of the zoological department of Ann Arbor University has returned from an expedition to the desert region of Texas with one of the most valuable collections of reptiles and amphibious fossil remains in existence. He brought back with him over 900 pounds of the bones of antediluvian reptiles.

Prof. Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago told a class in archeology several days ago that baseball was not a modern game. He said that the mound-builders were the original ball-players, and that he had discovered their diamonds and found a ball used by them. He said he had been able to trace their ball fields in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio.

In the observatory of Columbia University is one of the most accurate clocks in the world. It has run for several months with a mean error of only fifteen-thousandths of a second and a maximum error of thirty-thousandths of a second per day. That means that it does not vary more than half a second a month, or six seconds a year.

Prof. Trevor Kincaid, head of the department of zoology at the University of Washington, who recently refused an offer to accompany Owen Bryan, a millionaire of Boston, on a specimen collecting trip to Borneo, has received an even more flattering offer, which he may accept.

If Dr. James Curtis Hepburn, of Orange, N. J., attended commencement at Princeton next June he will celebrate the seventy six anniversary of his graduation from college. He received his diploma in 1832.

Mr. A. A. McLean, of the Sophomore class, went to Gastonia this afternoon where he will spend Thanksgiving with his people.

Rev. J. M. Rhodes, president of Littleton Female College, was a visitor here yesterday. He conducted chapel exercises in the morning.

Miss Mabel Isley, of the Sophomore class, left this afternoon for her home in Burlington where she will spend tomorrow with her parents.

There was an important meeting of the Senior class this morning in Craven Memorial Hall immediately after the conclusion of chapel exercises.

Miss Pearl Brinson, of the Senior class, left today for her home in Goldsboro to spend Thanksgiving. She will return to the college Friday.

Prof. Charles W. Edwards, of the department of Physics, left last night for Washington City where he will spend a few days. He will return to the college Friday.

There was a meeting of the Junior class in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall last Wednesday evening. Some business matters were brought before the class and acted upon.

Dr. W. I. Cranford, of the department of Philosophy, went to Greensboro last Friday afternoon where he delivered an address in the evening. He returned to the college Saturday morning.

Prof. J. C. Wooten, of the department of Biblical Literature, who represented the college at the nineteenth annual meeting of the Western North Carolina Conference, in session at Asheville during the past week, has returned to the college.

Rev. E. M. Hoyle, of the class of 1904, now pastor of the Methodist church in Lumberton, is conducting a series of revival services in Mangum Street Methodist church, this city, of which Rev. H. E. Spence, of the class of 1907, is pastor. He has been here for several days and the revival has been a great success. Rev. Mr. Hoyle was pastor of Mangum Street church for four years.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Held a Very Interesting and Valuable Meeting in History Lecture Room Last Monday Evening—Good Attendance.

In the lecture room of the department of History last Monday evening a most interesting and valuable meeting of the Trinity College Historical Society was held. It was attended by many students and members of the faculty who have more or less interest in the work of the organization.

One of the leading features of the evening's meeting was the announcing and presenting to the society some very valuable curios and relics. In them was a loan of some very interesting old newspapers, which is the property of Mrs. Whitaker, of Raleigh. One of them gives an account of Trinity's first commencement. It shows that the sermon was preached by a Mr. Reid. The orations which consisted of twelve in number, were delivered in Latin and Greek.

A program of not a little interest was carried out at the meeting also, the leading papers being: "Legal Aspects of Slavery," by Mr. C. E. Phillips, of the graduate department, and "Interstate Controversy," by Dr. William K. Boyd, of the department of History.

There is every reason to believe that the organization will have a most successful year. Its meetings are always most interesting and valuable and it is doing a good service in the collection of valuable relics.

Fortnightly Club.

Last Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock there was a meeting of the Fortnightly Club, and the evening was one of much profit and pleasure to all the members present. As usual a most interesting and instructive program was carried out.

In the early part of the evening several excellent poems, from the pen of Mr. H. E. Spence, a member of the club, and one who is fast proving to the community his ability to write verse, were read by Dr. Edwin Mims. They showed much poetic inspiration, and there seems to be little local doubt that Mr. Spence is fast on the way to an almost enviable reputation as a poet. The poetic muse is evidently a boon companion of his now and the rare quality of his verse is beyond question.

Prof. W. H. Wannamaker, of the department of German, entertained the members in a most highly profitable manner with a valuable discussion of some points concerning Goethe's "Faust." The subject was such an enormous one that Mr. Wannamaker only attempted in the limited time at his disposal to speak briefly on and give some idea of its meaning. His treatment of the great work, even in this manner, however, was intensely interesting, and was listened to with much pleasure and profit.

It is possible that the next meeting of the club, which will take place Friday evening, December 4th, will be public, though this has not been definitely decided yet. A definite decision regarding this will be announced later.

Department of Medicine
Charlottesville, = = = Virginia

EDWIN A. ALDERMAN, D. C. L., LL. D., President.

Organized in 1825 and in continuous operation except one year since that date, this department offers thorough medical instruction in the environment of an old and famous University.

The Entrance Requirements are the completion of a three-year high school course or its equivalent, and good college courses in Physics, Inorganic Chemistry, and General Biology.

The prominent features of the course are extensive laboratory instruction in all the fundamental medical sciences; and abundant clinical training in the practical branches in the Dispensary and in the University Hospital, which contains accommodations for 110 patients, and is the property of the University.
