

PRESIDENT CHARLES W. ELIOT

PRESIDENT ELIOT TOMORROW

Head of America's Foremost University to Speak Tomorrow Evening.

WILL REMAIN ON CAMPUS TWO DAYS.

The Country's Most Distinguished

Private Citizen Honoring the Community by Two Days' Visit—Dinner to Him Friday Evening—Crowds Coming to Hear Him.

From tomorrow, Thursday, the 25th until Saturday, the 27th, president Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard University, will be in this community, and while here he will deliver several speeches and addresses, the principal one of which will be in Craven Memorial Hall tomorrow evening at eight o'clock, to which the public is invited. It will be a great opportunity for all in this section to hear this famous man. Large crowds are expected here from different parts of the State to hear him, and the occasion will be one of the most interesting of any here this year.

The coming of President Eliot to Trinity College, March 25—March 27, is being looked forward to with intense interest by the students and faculty of the college and by the citizens of Durham. Correspondence would indicate that a large number of people from outside the city will come to hear him, especially teachers in schools and colleges. President Eliot will lecture to the teachers of Durham and Durham county on Thursday afternoon, March 25, at 3:30 o'clock at the Durham High School. Teachers of other North Carolina towns are invited to this special lecture to teachers. In the evening at 8:00 o'clock in Craven Memorial Hall, Dr. Eliot will give a public address, to which everybody is cordially invited. It is hoped that many people from all parts of the State will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this distinguished educator. On Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the new Corcoran Hotel in Durham a banquet will be given in honor of President Eliot by the trustees and faculty of Trinity College. Some of the most distinguished men of the State have accepted invitations to be present at this banquet.

It is no wonder that President Eliot's visit to the South has excited such keen interest. Everywhere he has gone he has been greeted with enthusiasm by Harvard clubs, by colleges, universities and communities. The South has long looked for the opportunity to know and hear President Eliot. Now that he is making his visit to this section—the last official act of his administration—the interest in his coming is greatly enhanced. There could be no better indication of the better feeling of the people of the North towards the people of the South than President Eliot's intelligent interest in the Southern people and especially in Southern institutions of learning. Aside from his desire to come in closer touch with Harvard men scattered throughout the Southern States, he has taken this opportunity to study at first hand Southern conditions. In his public utterances he has given abundant evidence of the fact that he holds the same position with regard to Southern problems that all liberal men of this time hold.

The South in turn has much to learn from him. The contemplation of his career and his personality, as emphasized by his present visit, will give Southerners a new idea of this remarkable man. (Continued on Fourth Page.)

PHILADELPHIA WON AGAIN.

Met Trinity Here Last Friday and Took the Game by One Run.

GANTT PITCHED A PHENOMENAL GAME

Fastest Game Ever Played Here Seen by the Largest Crowd—Fine Showing of Team—Neither Side Scored Until Seventh—Spectacular Plays During Contest.

On Friday the Trinity aggregation lined up against the Philadelphia Nationals for the second game this season. Despite the stiff wind, (who cares for the wind when Trinity plays Philadelphia), over a thousand people gathered in the Hanes Athletic Field to see "Big Bob" pitch ball, and Bob pitched ball as he never pitched before. In the eight inning with one man out and two men on bases he struck out two men in succession. His pitching saved the score for when Philadelphia got a man on first base it was no trouble for him to steal the rest of them. There is not another college pitcher in the South who could face some of the world's best ball players and strike out eight men.

Harris in left field made two sensational catches. In the second inning Dooin sent a long drive to the field which looked like a two bagger but Harris got under it and although he fell he was on his feet in a flash and with a long throw to first caught Sheean off the base.

Hanford in left field for Philadelphia made one of the prettiest catches ever seen on this diamond. When the game was over Philadelphia had only one run to her credit and that was not an earned run. Here is how it happened.

FIRST INNING.

Grant fouled to W. West. Knabe hit to left and reached second, Titus walked, Magee struck out and Hanford followed suit.

Suiter drove to third and was thrown out at first. Fitts rolled one down to first and W. West flew to centre. Score Philadelphia 0, Trinity 0.

SECOND INNING.

Bransfield drove a hot one to pitcher but he handled it and threw him out at first. Sheean sent the ball between short and third for a single and Dooin followed with a long drive between left and center. Harris by a hard run pulled it down and threw to first in time to catch Sheean at first.

Cooper fanned and Flowers did likewise. C. West flew to centre. Score Philadelphia 0, Trinity 0.

THIRD INNING.

Coveleskie popped up in the diamond. Grant bunted beat it out and stole second. Knabe drove to third and died at first. Titus struck to short and failed to get his base.

Kilgo flew to right. Harris sawed the air and Gantt imitated him. Score Philadelphia 0, Trinity 0.

FOURTH INNING.

Magee dished out a hot one to pitcher but "Big Bob" handled it and threw him out. Hanford drove a nice single through short. Bransfield struck to second, was thrown out at first, Hanford advancing to second. Sheen rolled one to third and died at first.

Suiter struck out. Fitts drove to pitcher and died at first. W. West struck to second and was thrown out. Score Philadelphia 0, Trinity 0.

FIFTH INNING.

Dooiin flew to second. Coveleskie bunted to pitcher and died at first. Grant hit to third, and stole second. Knabe struck out.

Cooper sent an easy one to second and failed to get his base. Flowers fouled to catcher. C. West fouled to left fielder. Score Philadelphia 0, Trinity 0.

SIXTH INNING.

Titus flew to short. Magee fanned, Hanford got first on a scratch and stole second. Bransfield struck at the ball three times.

Kilgo sawed the air. Harris sent a grounder to second and died at first. Gantt fouled to catcher. Score Philadelphia 0, Trinity 0.

SEVENTH INNING.

Sheen was thrown out at first. Dooin got his base on Kilgo's error and went to second on passed ball. Coveleskie struck out. Grant sent a long drive over third and got second on an unsuccessful attempt to catch Dooin going home. Knabe flew out to left.

Suiter, Fitts and W. West fanned. Score Philadelphia 1, Trinity 0.

EIGHTH INNING.

Titus hit a nice single between first and second, and stole second. Magee walked. It looked like more scores for Philadelphia but Hanford flew to left and Big Bob retired Bransfield and Sheen with a strike out to their credit.

Cooper flew to left and was robbed of a good hit by Hanford's sensational catch. Flowers fouled to catcher, C. West struck to pitcher and died at first. Score Philadelphia 1, Trinity 0.

NINTH INNING.

Dooiin drove to third and was thrown out at first. Coveleskie struck to second and failed to get his base. Grant rolled an easy one to pitcher and was out at first.

Kilgo drove to first, was out. Harris bunted to pitcher and died at first. Gantt flew to left. Score Philadelphia 1, Trinity 0.

FIRST REGULAR SCHEDULED GAMES.

By the Scores of 7 to 2 and 17 to 0 the Methodists Took Both Games With Ease—Neither Game Marked by Special Plays—Details of Them

Owing to the cloudy weather and the great game of the preceding day, only a small crowd was at the Hanes Athletic Field Saturday to witness the first game of the regular schedule. The Trinity Park School nine opposed them and Coach Adkins directed both teams. Gray was in the box for Trinity and though he was a little nervous and lacked control with another season's training he can develop some mystifying left hand curves. Worley went in the box in the seventh and showed up fine, striking two men and allowing no hits.

Teague did the pitching for the Park School and did creditable work. Trinity made eleven hits but considering that this was the first match game Teague overplayed he did well to hold them down for no more than that.

The game was rather slow and marked by no fancy plays except Foushee's fine catch of Cooper's fly to left field. C. West and W. West each marked up a three bagger to their credit.

When the game concluded, the score stood: Trinity 7, Park School 2. Here is how the scores were made. Neither side had crossed the rubber until the first half of the third inning when Harris for the Park School led off with a strike out. Houston followed him by a nice single through pitcher's box and stole second. S. Turner rapped one out to second but died at first. F. Turner hit a nice drive over third base and Houston scored. Foushee singled through short and Leak struck out.

Hutchinson went to the bat for Trinity and rapped a nice hit to third. He took second on a wild throw to first. Gray hit through short for one base and Hutchinson went to third. Gray stole second. Suiter drove through second for a single and Hutchinson scored. Suiter went to second while they caught Gray going home. Harris followed with a drive to right advancing Suiter to third. He stole second and Suiter stole home plate before the pitcher realized that he had left third. W. West stepped up and lined one out for three bags scoring Harris. Cooper drove the sphere to left and Foushee by a hard try pulled it down but failed to catch the runner going home. Flowers fanned. Score Trinity 4, Park School 1.

There was no more scoring then until the sixth when White got his base for being hit by pitcher. Gonzalez rapped the (Continued on third page.)

DR. ELIOT TOMORROW.

The coming of President Charles W. Eliot to this community tomorrow is being looked forward to with much interest, and his visit here will mean much to the college and city. While here he has engagements to speak on three or more occasions--to the teachers of the city and county,
to the public in Craven Memorial Hall, and at a dinner given by Trinity College complimentary to him Friday evening at the new Cocoran Hotel down town.

The privilege which his address to the public tomorrow evening will afford is a rare one, and large crowds of people will be here to hear this distinguished man. It is an opportunity which no one can afford to miss. Dr.
Eliot's utterances on most questions carry more weight of authority than the utterances of perhaps any other private citizen in the country. Trinity students are to be congratulated on being able to hear him, as is also the entire community most fortunate in having him spend two days
in its midst.

NOISY HALL.

It should not be necessary to have to say anything at all about the noise in Duke Building at certain hours of the day when recitations and lectures are being carried on in the various recitation rooms in that building. We refer especially to the noise in the dormitories of that building, which sometimes gets so annoying that it is almost impossible for a class to be heard. An ordinary amount of consideration on the part of a student who has rooms near a recitation room, would prevent him from keeping noise that would disturb classes.
It may be due largely to thought-lessness, and certainly in cannot be done intentionally. In either case, however, the attention of some of the students in that building needs to be called to the sit-(again with no result).

uation, and we do it in the hope that more care will be exercised while classes are being held in the recitation rooms in Duke Building.

VINCENT S. IVEY.

The announcement of the death
of Mr. Vincent S. Ivey, of Lenoir, who was formerly a member of the class of 1910, came to this community yesterday morning as a great shock, though to some of his intimate friends it was not much of a surprise. Mr. Ivey was a student here for nearly two years, but his health was such last fall that his physician advised him to stay out of college at present. Since that time he had been in hospitals in this and other states. His death occurred at his home yesterday.

Mr. Ivey was a strong student,
a representative man of his class,
and his prospects for a brilliant career were very bright. He had many friends in college who are greatly grieved that he is dead.
A more faithful student and one who enjoyed a larger esteem and admiration in the college has not been here, and his sad death causes universal grief in the community.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas; It has pleased God,
in his infinite wisdom, to take from his earthly home our classmate and friend V. S. Ivey, and whereas, the class and college have lost one of their strongest and most faithful members, be it resolved;

Resolved; 1st, that the Jenior class of Trinity College, deeply feel the loss of this noble young man whose exemplary character was a great influence for good over all who knew him.

Resolved; 2nd, that we extend our heart-felt sympathy to his grief stricken parents and friends and commend them to the great comforter who does all things wisely.

Resolved; 3rd, that a copy of these resolutions be printed in The Trinity Chronicle and a copy sent to his parents.

Small Fire.

Last Thursday morning between six and seven o'clock there was a great deal of excitement at Prof. A. H. Merritt's residence on Faculty Avenue, caused by the roof catching fire from sparks falling from the chimney. Prof.
Merritt saw the danger soon after the fire started and turned in the alarm at once. Both fire companies responded and in a short while the blaze had been extinguished before any serious damage was done. The roof was burned in a small place, and there was no other damage at all except a little done in removing the furniture. The members of the community were aroused and were on hand on short notice and rendered great assistance in protecting the building.

ball to third and went to second on West's wild throw to first while White scored. Teague was given his base. Harris went to first on fielder's choice, Gonzalez being caught at third. Houston got to first on fielder's choice Teague being caught at third. S. Turner drove to pitcher and was out at first. Score Trinity 4, Park School 2.

In the seventh Worley went in the box and Park School failed to get another hit. For Trinity Suiter led off with a base on balls, stole second and then acted the thief again to get third. Harris struck out. W. West singled to right and Suiter scored. Cooper drove to second and was thrown out at first. West going to second. Flowers then walked to the bat but W. West could not wait for a hit to advance him but stole third and home plate. Flowers fanned.

In the eighth Trinity scored again. C. West started it by a single too hot for the pitcher to handle. He went to second on a passed ball and got third in the same way. Kilgo fouled out. Hutchinson lined the sphere out to third but died at first. C. West scoring on the play. Worley singled to short and Suiter thrown out second to first. This ended the run getting. Score Trinity 7, Park School 2.

On Monday the second game of ball on the regular schedule was pulled off on the Fanes Athletic Field. Big Bob Gantt was in the box for the locals and let Bingham (Mebane) down with only four hits to their credit. Bingham wanted to pitch their Richmond League star Howard but Trinity authorities rightly objected and they put Campbell in the box and Campbell is the pitcher who held U. N. C. down to three hits. He couldn't mystify Trinity with his curves and was batted all over the lot yielding twelve hits in all, two of them being for three bags.

Bingham played good ball for three innings but went to pieces in the fourth and after that Trinity had what is base ball language is called "a merry-go-round." There was nothing very exciting in the game except the largeness of the score and Carroll's nice catch of a fly to left field. The team was clearly outclassed and the realization of this fact seemed to discourage them. In the eighth inning Long went in the box for the visitors and pitched fairly good ball.

Mr. E. B. Hobgood, ex-'09, is with the Durham and Southern Railway Company, Durham. While in college Mr. Hobgood was an excellent speaker, and represented Trinity in a debate with the University of Tennessee in his sophomore year.

PARK SCHOOL NEWS.

Items of Interest on That Campus-Inter-Society Reception Friday Evening-Dr. Few Spoke-Other Items.

Last Friday evening in the auditorium of Asbury Building took place the annual inter-society reception, given by the Calhoun and Grady literary societies. The occasion was a most enjoyable one from all standpoints, and a large number of guests, in addition to the members of the two organizations, were present and participated in the evenings entertainment.

Dean William P. Few, of Trinity College, was present and delivered the address of the evening.

He spoke at the beginning of the exercises, and his address was listened to with great delight by all present. It was filled with words of wisdom from the speaker's own experience, and was a sane utterance, full of "saving common sense," which is characteristic of a man of wide reading and profound thinking.

The success of the occasion owed much also to Mrs. W. W. Card and Miss Pearl Brinson, who furnished some excellent music for the evening. Miss Brinson sang twice to the delight of all who heard her, Mrs. Card playing the accompaniment. At the end of the exercises refreshments were served, it and was growing late when the crowd broke up. The occasion was a magnificent success in every detail, and will be remembered long by those who were fortunate enough to be there. Mr. T. W. Lee, of the Senior class, a member the Grady society, presided.

The inter-society debated, an event which carries with it no little interest, will take place in the auditorium of Asbury Building next Friday night. The occasion promises to be one of much interest, and enthusiasm is running high already.

Mr. A. M. Proctor, a student at the College, delivered an address before the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening.

Mr. W. A. Cade, of the Senior class, spent Saturday and Sunday in Raleigh.

Mr. A. S. Aldridge, of Oriental, is here visiting his son, Prof. F. S. Aldridge.

Miss Bernice Hornaday, of Roxboro, is here the guest of her brother, Prof. C. L. Hornaday.

Miss Ethel Haskin, of the faculty of Peace Institute, is the guest of Mrs. W. B. North.

Alumni Notes.

Solicitor Bunyan S. Womble, who was elected by the board of aldermen last night to prosecute cases in the recorder's court, was present this morning for the first time and began his duties. He had a stormy time for his initial appearance as the docket was crowded with important cases that were difficult to try. He conducted the prosecutions most efficiently, however, and presided over the trial of the cases with ease and dignity, and the tedious docket was completed within an hour and a half after it was started.—Winston Sentinel.

Mr. Womble is an alumnus of this college, and his friends are glad to know of his success.

Dr. W. I. Crawford spoke to the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening.

MR. IVEY DEAD.

A Former Member of the Junior Class Finally Succumbs After Long Illness.—Gave up His College Work Last Fall.

News reached here yesterday morning that Mr. V. S. Ivey, of Lenoir, who was for two years a student in this college, a member of the present Junior class, was dead. The telegram came to Mr. Phil J. Johnson, a townsman of Mr. Ivey's and former room-mate. Mr. Johnson left on the morning train for Lenoir where the burial takes place this afternoon.

Mr. Ivey spent one year here and returned last fall to take up his work with his class. Just before Christmas his health began to decline, and his physicians advised him to leave college for a while and try to regain his strength. From that time until death, with the exception of a few weeks, he was in hospitals in this and other States. He grew but little better, and after being brought from a distant State where he received the attention of one of the best surgeons of the country, he lived but a short while, dying at his home in Lenoir yesterday morning.

The community is very much saddened at the death of one who was so much liked at this place. He was a very popular student, and very faithful. He held a large place in the confidence of his teachers and fellow students. He was a steady student, and showed signs of success. Though of a rather quiet disposition, he built up a large circle of friends and admirers in the community, and he grew in popularity all the time. He will be missed here by all who knew him as a member of the community.

As soon as the announcement was received here yesterday the flag in front of Craven Memorial Hall was placed at half mast where it remained throughout the day in honor of one who was so greatly esteemed here.

There was a mass meeting of the students in the Y. M. C. A. hall in Epworth Building last night. The purpose of the gathering was to arouse interest and enthusiasm in baseball. Mr. J. W. Bagby, of the Senior class, was elected chief rooter, and from now on he will be seen in front of the bleachers directing the rooting. Mr. E. S. McIntosh, of the Junior class, presided at the meeting and many stirring speeches were made by baseball enthusiasts.

Thomas Weldon Stanford of Australia, has recently endowed Stanford University with twelve million dollars. He intends to send a number of Australians to Stanford every year on the Rhodes scholarship plan.

who for forty years has been president of Harvard, and for twenty years has been recognized as the prime minister of our educational realm. Not because of his seniority of service, not because he has been the president of America's greatest university, but because he, by reason of his untiring energy, his remarkable patience and his mature wisdom, has done more than any other man to reconstruct our educational system from top to bottom, he is universally admired and esteemed. His supremacy as an educator has been recognized at all notable academic celebrations for the past few years. Seldom has it been given to any man in history to see such far reaching results flow from his work, or to reap the reward of such universal recognition.

He is a man of marked executive ability and an educational expert. To all problems of education he has brought the wisdom that comes from a combination of common sense and a study of the best ideas and plans of other institutions and other nations. Joined with this expert knowledge of education, he has had extraordinary patience. He has had to wait years—sometimes even as many as twenty—for the reforms he has inaugurated. He has had to do his work in the face of outspoken criticism and opposition; and yet in the midst of criticism and opposition he has been patient in waiting for his cause to triumph. With tireless energy, he has wrought out the changes in administration and curriculum. While he has revitalized Harvard in every department, he has also recognized his obligations to all other institutions of the country. As chairman of a committee of ten, appointed by the National Educational Association, and later as president of the association, he has touched in a vital way every problem of secondary and higher education in the country. This book on "Education Reform" may be said to be epoch making.

But President Eliot is noted not only for his services in so largely reconstructing America's educational system. In recent years he has been recognized as one of the greatest private citizens of the country. His words on social, economic and political questions have had more weight than those of any other man not engaged in public life. The recognition of his representative character is seen in the suggestion that he may be appointed ambassador to England as the worthy successor of James Russell Lowell and John Hay.

Eight hundred students at the University of Washington have organized a club and have leased a house where the members will live. One of the rules of the house is that no member will be allowed to eat the flesh of any animal while there.

The basket ball team of the University of Missouri refused to play against Nebraska until they substituted another player for their regular forward, who is a negro.

The game of baseball scheduled to be played this afternoon with Elon College was called off.

University of Virginia

Department of Medicine

Charlottesville, - - - Virginia

EDWIN A. ALDERMAN, D. C. L., LL. D., President.

Organized in 1825 and in continuous operation except one year since that date, this department offers thorough medical instruction in the environment of an old and famous University.

The Entrance Requirements are the completion of a three-year high school course or its equivalent, and good college courses in Physics, Inorganic Chemistry, and General Biology.

The prominent features of the course are extensive laboratory instruction in all the fundamental medical sciences; and abundant clinical training in the practical branches in the Dispensary and in the University Hospital, which contains accommodations for 110 patients, and is the property of the University.
