WAKE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Trinity College Alumni Hold Their Annual Gathering in Raleigh.

BANQUET FEBRUARY TWENTY-SECOND

The Wake County Alumni Association of Trinity College Holds Its Annual Meeting in the Rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at Raleigh.

A few days ago in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at Raleigh, was held the annual session of the Wake County Alumni Association of Trinity College. Those present were Dr. Albert Anderson, President; J. M. Templeton, Jr., Secretary; Rev. T. N. Ivey, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate; Rev. J. O. Guthrie; Rev. J. H. Buffalo, pastor of Jenkins Memorial church; Mr. B. C. Beckwith; Mr. C. P. Franklin; Mr. Jas. G. Brown; and Rev. E. R. Welch, of Holy Springs.

After transacting much routine business, enthusiastic and stirring talks on allegiance to their alma mater and enlarging the usefulness of the organization, were made by several of the members. A committee was appointed to arrange for the next meeting which will be held on February the twenty-second. At this time the annual banquet will be held.

The association had planned to have a representative from the college present at their meeting but circumstances which could not be foreseen, prevented the plan from being carried out.

The meeting was quite enthusiastic and altogether helpful to those present. The work of this association has been very successful and such meetings as these auger well for the future.

Y. M. C. A. Notice.

Last Wednesday the program for the Young Men's Christian Association was varied by turning it into a students meeting. Short routine talks were made by several of the members. This program was given that the new men might have an opportunity to speak, to say whether they were interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. or not and many responded. The meeting was an altogether helpful one and it is hoped that such meetings will be held often. The prospects for a fine year work in the Y. M. C. A. are bright and those who have the matter in hand will try to arrange the programs so as to prevent the warning of interest. The meeting last Wednesday indicates that now is the time to begin to try to make the Y. M. C. A. the most potent force in college life.

To-night, Hon. W. J. Brogden will address the Y. M. C. A. at seven thirty. Mr. Brogden is one of Durham's best lawyers and is a forceful speaker and best of all a consecrated christian. It will be worth while to hear him.

The Glee Club Quartette will sing.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Dr. Laprade Reads Interesting Paper.

The regular meeting of the Historical Society was held last Monday evening in the History Room, Dr. W. K. Boyd, presiding. Messrs. Miller, Fisher and London were accepted as new members of the Society.

Dr. Boyd announced the presentation of many books, pamphlets, old deeds and land grants to the Society. Among the papers were some very interesting articles. There were old land grants containing the old fashioned wax seal of the state, some shares of stock in the Western North Carolina Railroad and many other interesting papers. Perhaps the most valuable gift to the museum received lately was forty volumes of old books presented by Mrs. Slade of Rockingham county. Among the most interesting of these books were some bound volumes of a Farmer's Journal published at Bath, (N. C.) and which throws a great deal of light on the early history of agriculture in North Carolina, another was a manual of Palimentary Usage for the Senate by Thomas Jefferson and published in 1801. Among the manuscripts presented, the most interesting perhaps was one dealing with the early history of Front Street Methodist church in Wilmington, showing that it was originally founded by the negroes.

Dr. Laprade was present and read a most interesting paper on the Status of the Slave Trade in the District of Columbia. Dr. Laprade has spent a great deal of time in searching the records, at Washington, concerning this subject and brought out many interesting facts showing how the abolitionists falsely spread the report that the District of Columbia was the general market for these slaves sold far south. He brought out the fact that the abolitionists had claimed that in the District of Columbia the trader made it a custom to kidnap and sell free negroes and proved by facts obtained through a diligent search of the records that this was not the case and that the slave traders of that place were in fact most humane in their traffic. Dr. Laprade has done some valuable work in his research and should be congratulated on having set history aright on this point.

The meeting was well attended, every seat in the room being taken and the discussion was most interesting. The interest in the Historical Society is growing and it is doing some valuable work in gathering material for North Carolina History.

A committee has been appointed to arrange for the publication of the papers of the Society. Each year a volume of important documents is published. These are free to the members.

NEWS FROM PARK SCHOOL

Some Important Changes Made in Management of Study Period.

DR. CRANFORD ADDRESSED Y. M. C. A.

Items of Interest Picked up by Park School Reporter--Tables and Lights Installed in New Study Hall.

One of the best plans inaugurated for the general development of the school, good results of which are already very prominent, is the study hall. All boarding students are studying every night except Friday night, when the literary societies meet, in a large hall in Asbury Building, under the direction of a professor. Large tables have been installed and comfortable arm chairs provided for the students in this hall. The hall is well lighted, covered lights being arranged on all the tables, and the building is well heated, so that the hall presents a very attractive appearance, and everything possible is done to make conditions conducive to correct habits of study. The experience of the school has been that too much cannot be done to encourage and stimulate thorough and correct habits of study among its students. And at great expense the school has made arrangements for the study hall. A teacher presides over the hall at night, from 7:30 until 10:00 o'clock, and everything possible is done to help the students with the preparation of their work for the following day. It is one of the best plans the school has ever adopted and beneficial results were noticed immediately. The order of work done on recitation is far above that of previous years; the students are very orderly; and general conditions in the community are unusually satisfactory. Everything possible is being done to help the students in their work, and the study hall promises great service in the purpose of the institution.

Next Friday evening the Calhoun and Grady Literary Societies will give a reception complimentary to the new students, and the occasion will be the first social event of the school year. In former years this event has been very successful, and served a good purpose in the spirit of the students. Arrangements are being made for a pleasant time among the students, and they are looking forward with much pleasure and satisfaction to the event.

The literary societies are doing splendid work. Both of the organizations have most excellent halls on the second floor of Asbury Building and genuine work goes on there every Friday night. A little later a debate will be arranged between the two organizations; and it is possible that a debate with some other preparatory school will be arranged soon. Headmaster North preached at the Methodist church in East Durham last Sunday.

A PRIZE OF $100.00.

For Best Essay on International Arbitration.

The Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration offers a prize of one hundred dollars for the best essay on "International Arbitration," by an undergraduate student of any American college or university. Mr. Chester Dewitt Pugsley of peckskill, N. Y. a last years graduate of Harvard University and a member of the conference is the donor of the prize. The Judges of the contest are Hon. Richard Bartholdi, M. C. President of the Interparliamentary union, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, President of American Association for International Conciliations and Dr. George Grafton Wilson, of Brown University, lectures on International Law and member of International Naval Conference of London, 1908.

For the purposes of this contest the term "International Arbitration" may be held to include any subject specifically treated in the "Convention for the Pacific Settlement of International Disputes" adopted by the first and second Hague Conferences on International Peace in the "Draft Convention Relative to the Creation of a Judicial Arbitration Court" agreed to at the second Hague Conference.

The term "under-graduate student" applies only to one who, in a college or scientific school, is doing the work prescribed for the degree of bachelor, or its technical equivalent.

Essays must not exceed 5,000 words (a length of 3,000 words is suggested as desirable) and must be written, preferably in type written, on one side only of plain paper of ordinary letter size (8 x 10 inches), with a margin of at least 1/4 inches. Manuscripts not easily legible will not be considered.

The name of the writer must not appear on the essay, which should be accompanied by a letter given the writer's name, class, college and home address, and sent to H. C. Phillips, Secretary Lake Mohonk Conference, Mohonk Lake, N. Y., to reach him not later than March 15, 1910. Essays should be mailed flat (not rolled.)

The award of the prize will be made at the meeting of Mohonk Conference, in May 1910, to which the winner will receive an invitation.

For additional information, references, etc., address the Secretary of the conference.

A similar prize of $50. offered during the year 1908-09, brought out fifty essays from colleges in all parts of the country. Mr. L. B. Bobbitt, a sophomore in Johns Hopkins University, won the prize which was presented to him at the 1909 meeting of the conference. His essay is published in the 1909 report of the conference. Honorable mention was made of Mr. George E. Timpson of Columbia University, Mr. George H. Hinchley of Dartmouth, Mr. Paul L. Kirby of Amherst, Mr. George E. Dewey of the University of Illinois and Mr. Madison Richardson of Wofford College.

CLASS OF NINETEEN-EIGHT.

Notes of Interest Concerning Those Who Graduated in Class of 1906.

ENGAGED IN VARIOUS OCCUPATIONS.

What the Members of the Class of 1908 Are Doing and Their Whereabouts--Many Are Teaching.

The class of 1908 was the largest class ever graduated here, there being forty-six members of the class. Many of them have already entered upon their life profession and are proving themselves eminently fitted for the calling which they have entered. More of the class have become school teachers than any other profession but as there are many strong men in the class there is no doubt but that they will be a benefit to the community in which they reside no matter what profession they have chosen to enter.

The whereabouts of several of the members could not be obtained before this issue went to press. A partial list follows:

Mrs. Florence Pentagraph (nee Bailey) is in Portsmouth, Va., where her husband is principal of the Portsmouth Grammar School.

Rev. C. C. Barnhardt was married shortly after graduating and moved to Oklahoma. He is pastor of the Methodist church at Ada.

Miss Sallie Beavers is teaching in the Durham county public schools. Her home is in Durham.

R. S. Berghauer has a position as professor in Chicora College in South Carolina.

C. M. Bivens is teaching in the public school at Criglersville, Va.

Luke Brothers is principal of the Graded school at Griffin.

R. H. Brown is in business with the Brown Book Store at Asheville.

L. J. Carter has entered the field of journalism. He is city reporter for the Virginia-Pilot at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Rosa Cole is teaching in the public schools of Durham county.

Rev. J. M. Daniels is pastor of the Methodist church at Duke.

Bernard Elias has entered the Mercantile business at Asheville.

D. S. Elias is in the newspaper world, having a position on the staff of the Asheville Citizen, at Asheville.

Fred Flowers is with the American Tobacco Company at Mullen, S. C.

Mrs. Wilson (nee Miss Alice Franklin) has made her home at Winston.

J. G. Gillespie is professor of German in the Butler School at Huntsville, Ala.

B. N. Hawks is in Baltimore engaged in the real estate business.

A. W. Horton is again professor of English in the Wofford Fitting School at Spartanburg. (Continued on third page.)

WAKE COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

We are glad to hear the good news of the enthusiastic meeting of the Wake County Alumni Association. We wish that all the county associations would meet often and thus keep nourished that spirit of loyalty and faithfulness to the college which has given them a lift along the journey of life.

Every college has to depend, to a great extent, upon the recommendation and endorsement which it receives from those who go out of its portals year by year. It is through their influence that many new students are led to take up their career with that particular college. Its good name and reputation lies entirely within their hands. It is therefore a good thing that those who leave college and are thrown in the same community, should band themselves into an association for the promotion of the interests and welfare of their alma mater and to foster a spirit of brotherhood among themselves.

During the past few years many of these county associations have been organized and the large increase in the enrollment of new men for the past two years is no doubt to a great extent due to their influence. We would like to see many more of them organized. The columns of this paper are open to their use and we are always glad to publish any news concerning the alumni for their Trinity men are enabled to keep in touch with each other and can learn of the progress and prosperity of the good old college.

There is a distinctive tie binding men who have attended the same college, a feeling of brotherhood almost equal to a blood relationship and it is proper that this should exist. It should be maintained. The management of this paper will be glad to assist in forwarding any movement looking toward the organization or maintaining of these alumni associations. We invite you to use our columns at any time.

THE SECOND PUGSLEY PRIZE.

With this issue we are publishing the announcement of the offer of the second Pugsley prize made by the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration. Last year the offer was for $50 and was won by a Sophomore in John Hopkins University. The second prize has been increased to $100 which is indeed worth trying to win.

There should be several men in Trinity to enter the contest and they stand as good a chance to win as any one. The sum of one hundred dollars is no mean incentive to effort but that is not after all the most valuable result to be obtained from making a trial. The effort put forth and the knowledge gained by the preparation of the trial essay would be we dare say as valuable to the contestant as any one course of his regular college work.

Then too, should he be successful, not only would he attract national notice to himself but would bring honor to his college which in itself should be a most worthy ambition and one to which all loyal students should aspire. If you can possibly find the time, whether you be a Freshman, Sophomore, Junior or Senior, we urge you to enter the contest. We hope to see several men begin at once to prepare for the contest and remember that last year the prize winning essay was written by a sophomore.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Every man in college no doubt, time and time again has had held up to him the importance of physical culture, both from the standpoint of health and of symmetrical development. We have been told and have found out from experience that the man who does not take the proper amount of exercise will eventually break down his health and become a physical wreck. If he does not take the proper kind of exercise he is apt to develop abnormally.

Colleges recognizing this danger have gone to the expenses of equipping gymnasiums and employing trained men to direct the physical work of their students. Trinity College has at a great expense placed at the disposal of its students a gymnasium equipped with modern machinery and has placed in charge a well trained director. Still it has been necessary to make attendance compulsory. A thoughtful man should have more care of his body, the temple of his soul and the storehouse of intellect, than to carelessly let it go to wreck.

However, these warnings have been so often repeated that men have grown accustomed to them and no longer give them heed. But there is another reason we can find to attend the classes in physical training. We are informed that recently there have been several calls for men from the college to take charge of gymnasiums. These offers carried with them in some cases a salary of one thousand dollars per year to start on. What an opportunity for some man who is struggling to earn his way through college! Very few graduates can secure so lucrative a position as teacher or in any other profession. Yet the physical director tells us that if there had been a man who had been interested enough in his physical being to have gone to the gymnasium regularly and learned the drills given there he could have stepped into a position which would have enabled him perhaps in a year's time to accumulate enough to defray his expenses during the remainder of his college career.

The Ideal Man.

It is against the policy of the paper to publish any article which comes to it anonymously but for this time that policy will be overruled and the following article inserted. This is done because the matter should be one of general interest to the entire community. It is not known from what source the article came but it arrived at the editor's desk a few Sundays ago and it might be that some sharp detective might find in it a clue to its origin.

The article bore no title but from it contents it might be called the "co-eds" ideal of the "ed". Her ideal is as follows: He should be six feet tall, have big brown almond eyes, a good head of wavy brown hair, be thirty two inches in circumference, weigh about one hundred and forty-five pounds, no moustache, even clean teeth, a number six foot, be temperate, must not love M's Franklin's other girls, must keep nails clean, be dignified and serious, must come to the point at once, be an accomplished musician, not shy or timid, and money out of the question. The following prayer was attached. I hope to see you "Face to Face." "Love me and the world is mine."

If there is any man who fills the description he is welcome to the information herein contained and if he is so inclined may investigate further.

Teachers Correspondents.

The department of education has added a new course—a correspondents course for teachers—that has grown steadily since it was begun at the opening of college. This course was begun by Professor E. C. Brooks, primarily for the Durham County teachers. It includes school methods based on the daily work of teachers, home geography based on the local conditions in the district of the school and literature based on the work in the upper grammar school grades and the high schools.

All the Durham county teachers are enrolled in this course and teachers from about forty other schools, making in all about a hundred teachers taking the course. Teachers receive instruction weekly by correspondence. They make up weekly reports including answers to the questions based on the courses and observations of school room work, and these reports are sent in monthly.

The teachers reading course sent out from the state superintendents office and conducted by Professor J. A. Bivens, uses the questions on "Recitation" that Professor Brooks prepares for the Durham County teachers.

Class in Biology Takes Excursion.

On last Monday afternoon Dr. J. J. Wolfe took his class in Biology for a short excursion in the country. They took the car to Lakewood Park and tramped from there about half a mile out the Orange county road coming back to town through the country. A study of several species of flowers, plants and plant growth was made. It was quite an instructive and pleasant trip and the class hopes that Dr. Wolfe will arrange for these trips often. They left the city about four and returned tired and hungry at six-thirty.

Rev. B. T. Hurley of the Junior class spent Sunday in Graham. While there Mr. Hurley filled the pulpit of Methodist church.

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly club was postponed and will be held Friday night at seven-thirty o'clock. Pros. Webb will have charge of the meeting as previously arranged.

Mr. James Southgate of Durham has presented to the college library a large framed engraving "The meeting of Burns and Scott. The gift is a most appreciative one.

At a recent meeting of the Glee Club and Orchestra Association, Mr. G. M. Daniels presiding the following officers were elected. Mr. C. K. Proctor, Manager of the Glee Club, Mr. R. G. Lanley, assistant Manager.

Rev. M. Shepherd, pastor of the Presbyterian church at constable, New York, passed through here last week on his way to visit his parents at Asheville. Mr. Shepherd graduated in 1892 and afterwards studied at the Union Theological Seminary.

Mr. Griffith, head man of the John Griffith Company which played Macbeth at the academy of music Saturday night, gave a short lecture on Shakspeare in the Craven Memorial Hall Saturday morning. In the introduction to his lecture he said the audience had come to hear a pretty good actor make a pretty bad speech and he told a half truth perhaps—the last half.

A well known business man attended his daughter's commencement exercises at an eastern college. He had been greatly pleased with the beauty and dignity of the exercises and was discoursing to his wife upon the refining influences of college life. Suddenly his impressive monologue was cut short, a girl in cap and gown came dashing down the steps of the main hall waving her diploma and shouting "Educated by Gosh!"—Ladies Home Journal.

With the Colleges.

The Athletic Association at Vanderbilt University this year offers season tickets to students for the small sum of five dollars. The tickets admit to all athletic contests held on Dudley Field during the scholastic year.

From the columns of the University Missourian comes the statement which advances the belief that the name of Smith is legion. There are twenty-seven varieties of this name in the University of Missouri, all from Missouri. The oldest Smith is forty-three years old and the youngest is eighteen years old.

Preparatory steps have been taken at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology toward the establishment of a course in aeronautics. The faculty has decided that such a step would be in accordance with the tendencies of the times, and that "Tech" should lead in the work. In preparation for this course the architectural department has assigned as a problem in design the plan of a grandstand for an aerodrome. The students are also working on the design of a museum for the exhibition of the most recent models of dirigible balloons and aeroplanes.

The University of Chicago has organized a course in public speaking to meet every day in the week. A major's credit is given for this course.

At the University of Pennsylvania, so many candidates for the rowing team have reported that there are not enough boats to go around. Eight men are to be chosen and one hundred and fifty are contesting.

Steps preliminary to the establishment of wireless telegraph stations connecting Columbia, Cornell, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania were taken on October the fourth at a meeting of the electrical and mechanical engineering students at the University of Pennsylvania.

"No rats, puffs, transformations, switches, curls, or bangs may be worn by Bernard College Freshmen," by order of the Sophomores. This is the edict that has caused a monumental consternation among the ranks of the Bernard College Freshmen girls.

The Sophomores, anxious to invent a new method of refined and ingenious torture for the entering Freshies, have hit upon the above idea, which is expected to revolutionize the society of the college. Only an unusually well developed imagination can conceive of the probable appearance of the Freshmen class when this order goes into effect.

The Freshmen angrily attribute the order to the fact that the Sophomores are trying to destroy competition in the heart line. They fear the effect on their admirers when their actual head measurements are revealed to the rude gaze of the public.

The following comes from the University of Chicago: Members of the Freshman class will assume their proper head gear next Wednesday, when President James Dymond of the Sophomore class will receive a stock of green caps for distribution among the yearlings.
