Seniors	1,000
Sophomores	1,000
Juniors	000
Freshmen	000

The above percentages stand the same as last week. The seniors and sophomores remain undefeated and each of these classes has defeated each other class once. It looks as if the championship will be fought out between these two classes but as each class is to play every other class twice, there is still plenty of time for something unexpected to turn up. Much interest is being manifested in the inter-class basketball, large crowds turning out for each game.

SENIORS VS. JUNIORS

A fluke pass in the last minute of play and the failure of the juniors to throw fouls lost for them the basketball game with the seniors last Friday night at Angier Duke gymnasium by a score of 15 to 14.

The game was a record breaker for roughness. Most of it was a wild scramble for the ball. Two men were laid out during the game. C. W. White, the senior forward, suffered a severely sprained ankle in the first minute of play which put him out of the game, and Warlick was laid out for a few minutes but recuperated sufficiently to return.

The game was unusually exciting. The result was in the balance until the last moment. The victory was only made sure for the seniors when Pleasants, the junior guard, passed the ball by mistake to Warlick, the opposing forward, who was waiting uncovered under his goal. The juniors could have won the game at any time if they had been able to throw fouls. Out of ten chances only four were made good. The seniors were surer on fouls, Warlick throwing seven out of eleven.

Features of the game were the universal roughness, the playing of Warlick for the seniors, who scored 14 of the 15 points, and the playing of Murray for the juniors, who threw two goals.

SOPHOMORES VS. FRESHMEN

In the best game thus far in the inter-class series the sophomores defeated the freshmen Tuesday night by superior team work and some brilliant individual work by a score of 31 to 18.

The freshmen played the better game during the first half which ended with the score 12 to 11 in their favor. Their playing was considerably in advance of what it has been. They played together and were very fast. The forwards were particularly hard to stop. It looked as if the cent would go to the younger class.

In the second half, however, the sophomores came back with a large addition of ginger. They are heavier than the freshmen and after they had got down to team work they piled up the score with ruthless speed. The team as a whole worked better than any one has ever done so far in the series. In the latter half showing a very creditable specimen of basketball. As has been the case with all the previous games, many opportunities for scoring were lost by both sides through failure to throw foul goals.

The stars for the sophomores were the forwards, Siler and Carver. Siler was in excellent form, throwing seven field goals and one foul goal. In the last of the game it seemed almost impossible to stop him and he made several unusual and difficult shots. Carver also played a brilliant game. In the last few minutes of play he was particularly elusive and was effective with the ball making some of the most remarkable shots of the game. In all he threw four field goals and two fouls. Thorne at right guard also played aggressive ball and did some good guarding and passing.

For the freshmen Ferrell and Matton played the best games, the former especially featuring. Ferrell is the smallest basket ballist in college but one of the most active. He is as hard to hold as an eel, sliding around between the legs and under the arms of his opponent and making his get-away. He made the one most brilliant goal shot of the game, and besides threw six out of eight attempts at foul goal. Matton played a very good game, throwing two goals and two fouls, but he missed several chances at foul throws. Pierce, a new man for the freshmen, threw one goal but was relieved in the last half by Pope.

GLEE CLUB IS SELECTED AND IS HARD AT WORK

MANAGER KIRKMAN OPTIMISTIC—
PROSPECTS FOR A GOOD CLUB.

MEMBERS OF CLUB AND QUARTET

Director Overton Resigns—Mrs. Venable to Train Club—Club Is to Be Assisted by R. E. Piper—Quartet Is Promising—Alderman May Go.

After several weeks of preliminary trying-out and licking into shape, the Glee Club and Quartette are now practically picked, the music is selected and at hand, the program has been arranged, and hard practice is to immediately be begun on the concert as it is to be given on the fall trip, which will begin about December 9.

Up to now no work has been done on the final program. A process of elimination has been carried through in the bi-weekly practices until the personnel of the Club as it will appear on the trip has been definitely decided on.

Manager Kirkman is enthusiastic over the prospects of the Club. He thinks that it will be the best all-around club which has left the college during the last four years. Eight of the veterans are back and there has been a wealth of material among the freshmen aspirants, which has been very encouraging. The different parts are better balanced than has been the case in the past few years and everything points to a most successful club. The club will be assisted by Mr. R. E. Piper, the well-known Durham basso, who will make a quite valuable addition to the program.

A damper was thrown over the work of the club during the past week by the resignation of Director Overton, who was compelled to give up the work on account of press of business. For a time the management of the Glee Club was left altogether in the air, but arrangements have now been practically completed whereby the assistance of Mrs. Venable can be procured in training the club. Mrs. Venable is well known in the city for her musical ability and if she will consent to take the hard task of director we are assured of a well trained troupe.

The list of the members as finally selected and passed on by the faculty is as follows: First tenors: A. S. Parker, M. G. McAdams, F. R. Richardson, and Johnson; second tenors: L. B. Hurley, C. W. White, R. B. Courtney, J. D. Freeman; baritone: B. H. Si.

PRESIDENT FEW AWAY

Goes to Spartanburg to Attend Meeting of College and School Association.

President W. P. Few left today for Spartanburg, South Carolina, to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Southern States. The Association meets this year as the guest of Wofford College and Converse College. This Association was organized in 1895 and Trinity College was one of the charter members. The object of the Association is to consider the qualifications of the candidates for admission to colleges, the methods of admission, the character of preparatory schools, the courses of study to be pursued in the colleges and schools, including their order, number, etc., as well as such other subjects as tend to the promotion of the interests of the colleges and preparatory schools.

Professor E. C. Brooks, who is a member of the Executive Committee, was unable to attend. He is chairman of a committee to prepare a uniform blank for admission to college, the other members of the committee being President F. H. Gaines of Agnes-Scott and Professor L. L. Friend of the University of West Virginia. This committee has prepared a report which will be submitted to the Association. Professor Brooks and Professor N. W. Walker, State Inspector of High Schools for North Carolina, were appointed a committee on accredited schools. This committee met at Trinity College Monday to examine all applications of schools in North Carolina that desired to be placed on the list of accredited schools for the Southern States. The results of the investigations of this committee will be submitted to the Association for final action. The officers of the Association are: President, Chancellor James H. Kirkland of Vanderbilt University; secretary, Prof. B. E. Young, Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. F. N. Parker went to Newbern last Saturday where he addressed the Methodist church Sunday morning, on the subject of education.

Bishop J. C. Kilgo has been away from home for some days tending to the duties of his episcopal office. He attended the meeting of the College of Bishops which was held in Greenwood, South Carolina. He also presided over the Methodist Conference which met November 7.

PROSPECTS FOR VARSITY BASKET BALL SPLENDID

BRINN, CHERRY AND SILER ONLY ONES WITH PLACES
CINCHED

HEDRICK AND BIG BRINN EACH

Several Places to Be Filled—C. W. White Likely Floor—Brown, Wooten, Pleasants, Thorne For Guard Fighting Hard—Carver Sub Forward

The selection of the team that will represent Trinity on the basketball floor this season is going to be a more difficult task than in many seasons past. Heretofore the men that would compose the team have been more generally known from the very start of practice, but this year there are only three men who are given places on the team by the local college dopesters, thus leaving two regular places and three sub places to be filled.

However, this does not mean that we are not to have a good team, but quite the opposite. The uncertainty of the team and the knowledge of the aspirants for places that they will have to work and work hard if they are successful, tends to give the practice games a great deal more "pep" and enthusiasm than under ordinary conditions; and it is generally understood that a team made up under the circumstances that now exist is always far more successful than the one of which the players have their places cinched, for the latter, as a pretty general rule, always lacks the proper training and the hard, grueling pre-season practice, and is generally more or less over-confident.

Let it not be understood that there is any lack of material, good material, in the college this year. Never before in the history of basketball here has there been so much and such promising material as there is at present, waiting to be developed and given an opportunity to show its mettle. The three men who are most likely to make the varsity team are Capt. Brinn, Cherry, and Siler, and a fourth might also be added in the person of C. W. White. Cherry will doubtless fill his old position at center, where he proved his worth last season, his first year on the varsity. Siler, who entered college too late last year to play, has developed into one of the speediest and headiest players and one of the surest goal-shots that has ever appeared on the local floor, and he gives promise of being one of the sars in the basketball world in the coming season. He will very probably hold down the position of left forward. Capt. Brinn is the third man who appears to have a place on the team cinched. His playing needs no introduction to the followers of the game here, he being a star of the past two seasons. His playing this year is much improved, and he is getting his dribble down fine. It is undecided whether he is to play forward or guard, being equally good at either. If he plays at guard White will most probably play one forwards, his record in the class games of his and the past three years and his playing as a sub

You freshmen are not quite on to etiquette yet,—meaning you who were above the balcony during the basketball game Tuesday night. You have yet to learn that it is considered anything but comme il faut to hoot when the opposing team is trying to throw foul goals. The rule is that if a man is interfered with in any way by noise or what not when trying for foul goal he shall have another shot. The only right thing as well as the only courteous thing to do is to maintain a severe silence in such a case. Your class spirit is admirable and to be encouraged. It means a great deal to your success in every line of collegiate activity, but remember there is a time and place for everything, though there is very seldom a time for outright hissing. A much more effective and more generous method of applause and encouragement is just as easy.

HOW ABOUT A BAND?

For many years the community has cherished the fond hope of working up a brass band. Everybody knows that there is nothing that so adds to the picturesque of the athletic battlefield, that so adds to the aggressive enthusiasm of the crowd, and that so furnishes a moral aid to victory, as a brass band. It may be ever so bad, ever so blaringly out of tune, ever no nerve-rackingly unmelodious, but just so it makes a fuss and can spread to the winds a sort of martial and enthusiastic fanfare it will perform a very real and very important service.

Several times our local vocal wind artists have tried to talk up the idea and to get the students interested in it but so far they have not been able to direct that wind through cornets and trombones. To speak it with brutal bluntness, we haven't had sufficient material. But now it is said that there are on the campus at least ten men who can wind a horn or pound a drum, several of whom have had some experience in professional or semi-professional band work. Now with such being the case we venture the profound assertion that somebody is to blame if we don't have a brass band next spring. The fact that most of these men are freshmen should not deter them from working even if they have to show a little initiative. Go ahead and show your by-gundest to work up a band. It may take a little brass to start the movement but, begging your pardon for the suggestion, that is not unnatural. Get to work and you may be sure that you will receive encouragement and support. The CHRONICLE intends to direct periodical editorial uppers at this question until it is floored and brought to submission.

A MASCOT ABUSED

For some time the campus has been persistently and sedulously haunted by a certain unknown black and white dog,—a dog without a name, it is true, but one with a well-defined English Bull personality. Just as the sparks are born to fly upward, and as a man is born to trouble, so this dog was created with an infinite capacity to fetch something chunked, and has no other purpose in life than to carry out that instinct which throws him on a tense qui vive whenever he sees an arm drawn back. He will fetch a stick from anywhere within the bounds of reason, will ferret it out of a bank of earth, will pursue it through tangles of underbrush, and will even climb trees and walls to haul it down. If you don't throw something for him to chase after, he will find something himself, bring it to you, and stand there beseeching you with pleading expression to throw it, until you are compelled to take notice of him. His disposition is genial, his will indefatigable, and his devotion to his divinely appointed task of fetching is unwavering.

But, as is often the case with the zealot in this world, people have been unsympathetic and have not taken in the proper spirit his intense seriousness and devotion to duty. When he has asked for a nice, comfortable, soft stick to chase and fondle in his fangs, a hard-hearted world has given him a stone. His sense of the eternal purposes of existence has not allowed him to make distinctions, so he has fetched and carried flint rocks and iron chunks, granite slabs and brickbats. But in the process his ivory-white, pointed, canine teeth have been worn down to dull and flattened grinders. His mouth has been lacerated and at times mashed to a bloody pulp, and his shoulders and head slashed by tearing through briars. Still, however, his noble spirit is undaunted. Still he will hold up a rock and plead with his eloquent eyes for you to throw it. And still the world is cruel.

ARE YOU EDUCATED?

Some time ago a lecturer in the University Club of Chicago handed out to the audience typewritten sheets containing a list of questions. He said that whoever could answer half of them correctly could consider himself educated, otherwise he had better go over his undergraduate course again. Not a man answered them all, and only a few answered half of them right. Here they are. See what you can do with them:

1. Name the Vice-President of the United States.
2. Name the Treasurer of the United States.

3. Name the conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra.
4. Name the leader of Tammany Hall.
5. Name your Congressman.
6. Who is Hugo Munsterberg?
7. Who was Sir Christopher Wren?
8. Who is Ali Baba?
9. What is the Pentateuch?
10. What is a seismograph?
11. What is a cleft?
12. What is the number of justices on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States?
13. Where is the "Land of Windmills"?
14. Who said, "The child is father of the man"?
15. Who said, "The groves were God's first temples"?
16. Who said, "Once more into the breach, dear friends, once more"?
17. Who was Mommson?
18. Who is president of the Lake Shore Railroad?
19. What is the fourth city in size in the United States?
20. What is a preposition?

"NORTH CAROLINA POETRY" OUT

Prof. Brooks' Collection of Tar Heel Authors Ready for Delivery.

"North Carolina Poetry," the new collection of Tar Heel poems which is the work of Prof. Brooks of the department of education, and a review of which was published in the CHRONICLE some back, has now come from the press and may be secured by addressing orders to the North Carolina Education, Raleigh.

This little book is intended mainly for class room use in the public schools and hence the suitability of the poems for such use has guided the editor in making his selections, causing him to leave out dialect and love poems. Aside from this fact the volume contains the best products of the poetic muse which our state boasts.

This book is of special interest to Trinity men from the fact that the works of some Trinity men appear between its covers. Prof. H. E. Spence has in it A Christmas Prayer, Paper Folks, and Beauty or Power. From the various poems written by Rev. Plato Durham are included, The Bells of Trinity, The Dream of Lee and Lincoln, North Carolina to Charles Brantley Aycock, and The Garden of Death.

Only the paper binding of the book is out yet, but the cloth edition is expected by the last of the week. The paper binding sells for 40 cents and the cloth for 75 cents.

Just twenty years ago the Rev. S. T. Moyle left Trinity College. In September last he entered two of his sons in college—a good record. But the Rev. J. W. Hoyle goes him one better—he left there seventeen years ago—and in September he entered a son there. If the Trinity men follow this rule the college will have to put up more buildings still.—Rev. J. N. Cole in Raleigh Christian Advocate.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

Professor Wannamaker Gives Talk On German Lyric Poetry.

German Lyric Poetry was the subject of a talk delivered by Prof. W. H. Wannamaker before the Fortnightly Club at its regular bi-weekly meeting last Friday night in the committee room of Hesperian Literary Society hall.

Prof. Wannamaker talked informally and at random about matters appertaining to the German lyrics and their authors, reading selections both in the original and in translation to illustrate his points.

He took as a starting point a criticism of college men's attempts at poetry, the main fault of which is, he said, the fact that they are not absolutely sincere, picturing experiences which are not real.

The Germans, he said, are a very lyric people, full of sentiment, which often, however, runs into sentimentality. Schiller often runs away with himself thus, especially when he attempts to picture the stronger emotions. Storm is a man full of sentiment but he usually succeeds in stopping himself before he goes too far. Goethe, according to Professor Wannamaker, is the greatest of all the lyric poets.

One of the most striking points about the German lyric is its simplicity. The best of them show an artistic restraint. The German lyric poem is one of the best means of insight into the spirit of the people. Heine, the speaker said, is the superior of all others in form, but Goethe, is far in advance as far as spirit goes.

Professor Wannamaker then a running sketch of the history of the lyric in Germany from the time of the introduction of the folk element by Herder, to the latest times, illustrating with selections from the different authors.

Columbians Elect

The Columbian Literary Society, at its regular meeting last Saturday evening installed officers for the new quarter, who had been elected the week before. The men chosen to serve the Society for the next term were: President, A. W. Byrd, of Mount Olive, N. C.; Vice-President, J. P. Wynn, of Enfield, N. C.; Secretary, F. B. Brown, of Raleigh, N. C.; Marshal, C. G. Gaston, of Rockingham, N. C.

Mr. Henry M. Ware, of Greensboro, who was in college last year has returned and resumed his work.

Mr. J. R. McCrary, of Lexington, N. C., a member of the class of 1891, was an appreciated visitor at the College on Wednesday. Mr. McCrary is a prominent lawyer in Lexington, and is this year the candidate for Attorney General of North Carolina on the ticket of the Progressive Party. During his college career he was identified with student activities, and a leader in the work of his literary society. He won several medals offered by his society.

Trinity Tennis Team Wins By Lobbying
Game—Shows Team-work—White

Latter Victorious

Having gone into the country of the enemy and defeated Guilford again in doubles and broken even in singles, the Trinity tennis team, N. I. White and A. R. Anderson, returned from Greensboro Saturday with another victory recorded to their credit.

Trinity won in doubles Friday afternoon with a score of 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. In this contest the Methodist team showed up even better than it did at home, and played an excellent game of tennis against Hartman and Chappell, the latter of whom replaced Brown, the man who played here.

White and Anderson have for several weeks been practicing a lobbing-and-running-up game, which was very effective in the tournament, the sets being practically won by the smashes at the net. The Guilford tandem played a good steady game but were surpassed in brilliance and team work.

The singles were played Saturday. White played in the morning and left his team-mate to the mercies of the Quakers that afternoon while he visited friends at the Gate City.

White defeated Chappell in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1. He, as the first man of the Trinity team, had had the best of the day in defeating the Greensboro team at Guilford.

A much closer struggle was pulled off in the afternoon between Anderson and the Guilford champion, Hartman. Anderson took the first set 9-7, a score which is sufficient to show how close the contest was. In the next game Anderson had his opponent 5-3 and within one point of the set, but he threw this point away and Hartman fought up until he finally won the set 10-8. Either disheartened or played down, Anderson dropped the last set 6-0.

This was the second meet between Trinity and Guilford this fall. The other was played week before last week on the Trinity grounds and in it the home team was victorious in every set, taking three straight sets in doubles, and each man taking three straight in singles. Thus in sixteen sets Trinity won all but two which Hartman, the Guilford champ took from Anderson Saturday.

PROSPECTS FOR VARSITY BASKET BALL SPLENDID

last year entitling him to such a position.

For sub-center, Jenkins, Neal, Adams and Murray, all good men and skillful players, are fighting it out fiercely among themselves. Aspirants for guard are Brown, Wooten, Pleasants, and Thorne, a bunch of excellent material that only needs developing and polishing. Carver seems to be the only available man of worth for the position of sub-forward, that is if Brinn plays guard.

"Bull" Hedrick and "Big Jennie" Brinn, two old Trinity stars, have been secured to coach the team this season, something that a Trinity team has never known before; and they have taken the team in charge and are putting them through some hard practices. By the time of the first game with the Durham Y. M. C. A., about the first of December, they will have rounded out one of the best teams that has represented Trinity on the basketball floor in many a year.

GLEE CLUB SELECTED AND HARD AT WORK

ler, G. C. Kimball, Jack Wallace, N. M. Patton; bass: Morse, W. R. Ivey, D. R. Kirkman, Edminton. The quartet will be taken from the following five men: Johnson, White, Kimball, Siler, and Piper. The prospects are that the quartet will be the best in the memory of of any one now in college. It is very probable, too, that Alderman, who has been with the club for three years, will go on part of the trip and will assist to the extent of his fiddling ability.

Manager Kirkman has not definitely made the engagements for the trip but it will probably take some such course as High Point, Lexington, Winston-Salem, two nights in Greensboro, Burlington, and Durham. It is hoped that a concert can be given in Memorial Hall for the benefit of the college students who do not usually have a chance to hear the club in concert.

Dr. Parker Speaks to Association on Personal Sacrifice.

Dr. F. N. Parker addressed the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday evening on the general subject of personal sacrifice. The text of the talk was, "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service." The first thing of importance in the sacrifice, the speaker said, was to beseech God. The sacrifice demanded, however, is not a dead, but a living body. In making it there are two essentials: first, the sacrifice must be entire. There can be no reservation. Second, the sacrifice must be holy, meaning that it must be both separate from sin and dedicated to God. These elements of the sacrifice constitute only a reasonable service, and those whose surrender has been made without reservation recognize it as such. The call of such a sacrifice comes in various forms for various works, the ministry, the foreign field, and like opportunities. A sacrifice so made is acceptable to God, and is witnessed to by the resulting peace of the soul.
