LECTURES TO BE HELD ON APRIL 8-9-10 IN MEMO-

LIST OF FORMER LECTURES

REV. THORNTON WHALING, PRES-IDENT COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, COLUMBIA, S. C.

THE EIGHTH AVERA LECTURE

Teacher, Preacher, Scholar, and Lecturer of Power.—Was Professor of Philosophy and Economics at Southwestern and of Theology at Columbia.

The Avera Bible Lectures are announced this year for April 8th, 9th and 10th, and will be delivered by Rev. Thornton Whaling, of the Columbia Theological Seminary, S. C., a scholar, teacher, preacher, and author, and a lecturer of great power.

The Avera lectures constitute a series of biennial lectures which were established at Trinity College in 1897 under the auspices of the department of Biblical Literature.
This series was made possible by the fund given to establish the Avera School of Biblical Literature in honor of the late Mr.
W. H. Avera by his wife.

Lectures in this series have been delivered as follows: 1899 by Bishop William Wallace Duncan, Spartanburg, S. C.; 1901 by Bishop Warren A. Chandler, Atlanta, Ga.; 1903 by Chancellor James H. Kirkland of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; 1905 by Bishop Alpheus W. Wilson, Baltimore, Md.; 1907 by Bishop Charles B. Galloway, Jackson, Miss.; 1909 by Dean Wilbur F. Tillett, Nashville, Tenn.

In 1911 the Avera Lectures were given by Rev. F. N. Parker then of New Orleans, La., who was soon after elected to the chair of Biblical Literature in Trinity College, which he has filled for two years.

The college considers herself fortunate in securing for the lectures this year the services of President Whaling of the Columbia Theological Seminary. Mr.
Whaling has had a career of very varied activity in the fields of the ministry, journalism, and the academic profession, and is widely known as a speaker of force and high ability.

Mr. Whaling was first educated at Davidson College, N. C., received his A. B. degree from Roanoke College, Va., and graduated from the Union Theological Seminary, S. C. He received the degree of D. D. from Roanoke and Austin Colleges, and that of LL. D. from Southwestern Presbyterian.

He was for several years professor of philosophy and economics at

PROVIDENCE LEAGUERS AFFORDING SPECTACLE

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE TEAM TRAINING ON HANES
FIELD

HIGH-CLASS BALL TO BE SEEN

College Fans Much Interested in Work of "Big Boys Under 'Wild Bill' Donovan"—Chiefly Recruits But Are Putting Up Some Very Fast Practice.

Manager Warlick is staging a continuous show on Hanes Athletic Field these days and the lovers of baseball among the students find their classes a serious hindrance to their following closely all the activities that are taking place. On Monday Morning the muchheralded Providence leaguers put in their appearance on the local diamond, and since then they have been getting in some good practice twice daily, once in the morning and again in the afternoon until 3 o'clock, when the Trinity aggregation has the flattering satisfaction of being able to have the celebrities abdicate in their favor.

The "big boys" have created quite a raffle in the community, and the field is thronged daily with students and fans from the city. Indeed it is a very liberal education to bask a squint at such far-famed wonders of the baseball world as "Wild Bill" Donovan, the Onslow brothers—Jack and Eddie—Kotcher, Lafitte, and others. The Providence players seem very much pleased with the grounds and local conditions.

The players are taking it easy for the first few days so as not to contract any cases of "charlie-horse" and injure their salary-earners, for Monday marked their initial appearance on the diamond this season. In a week or two they will be in good trim, and no doubt the local cranks will be shown some real baseball then. Many of the men are recruits and among them are several college players, who are being given a try-out.

Those who have been on the grounds up to date are: Trainer Clough; pitcher, Manager Donovan, Jensen, and Sline; catchers, Jack Onslow, B. Kotcher, and D. Fitzgerald; first base, Edward Onslow; infielders, J. Ens, Oliver O'Moara, Morariffy, McDermott, and Shean; outfielders, Platte, Johnson, Doyle, Duggan. Among those who will report later is Harry Moran, the former Washington and Lee star, who has pitched several memorable contests on the Trinity diamond.

Track Meet

This afternoon as the CHRON-ICLE goes to press the third annual interclass track meet is being held on Hanes Athletic Field and the circles. The fight seems to be between the junior and freshman classes, the seniors not having entered a man. Preliminary events have been held during the week for the choice of class teams, and most of the events have the full number of entries. A full account of scores, results, etc., will appear next week.

GLEE CLUB SCORES HIT IN DURHAM CONCERT

VOCAL AND VIOLIN SOLOS AND

GOOD

MANAGEMENT TO PAY DIVIDEND

Program Shows More Catchy Features and Typically College Songs and Stunts Than Ever Before.—An Unusually Large Crowd
Well Pleased.

The best concert by the best Glee club before the best crowd in the memory of at least the present generation of Trinity students tells the story of the performance of the Trinity Glee Club last night at the Conservatory of Music. The work done by the club was of such a high order as to convince its home friends that the stories coming back from the foreign territory of the successes of the members were not in the least exaggerated.

In spite of the many reverses and apparently fatal disasters that visited the club in the early part of the year, a high class performance has been developed by the steady persistent efforts of those in charge, Manager Kirkman and his assistants. A fact as worthy of remark as the excellence of the performance is the fact that the club paid all expenses, and with the amount taken in from the good house last night will be able to declare a dividend. This is the first time that such has been the case in the history of the organization, and is of the same character as the rejuvenation that has attended so many of the student enterprises this season.

From a program so full of good pieces it is hard to pick out any as the stars, for practically every number on the program was encored one or more times, and most of the encores were as good as the regular numbers. The concert work of the whole club, the quartet, the violin and vocal solos, and the reading, were all good. Those tak-

PEARY TO NAPLES

Man Who Will Deliver Commencement Address Sailed March 15.

In connection with the announcement of last week that Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary of the U. S.
Navy, and discoverer of the North Pole, will deliver the commencement address at the college this year, it is of interest to note the news that he sailed March 15 for Naples where he is to attend the International Geographical Congress.

He stated on leaving that he would make no more polar expeditions.
"I am too old," he said, "to stand the hardships and exposure. The work will have to be done by younger men. The United States should send an expedition to the antarctic."

Admiral Peary stated that the principle topic of discussion at the meeting at Naples would likely be the Scott Expedition.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB HAS ENTERED SIGMA UPSILON

ACCEPTED CHARTER IN NATIONAL GREEK LETTER LITERARY

STILL RETAINS INDIVIDUALITY

Fortnightly Will Have Advantage of Membership in National Organization with Chapters Throat the South.—History of Club.— Its Members.

The Fortnightly Club, the local literary Verein of the college has been granted and has accepted a charter in the National literary fraternity Sigma Upsilon and has affiliated with that order under the name of the Fortnightly Club of Sigma Upsilon. The Fortnightly Club which has long been a factor in the literary life of the college, will not in any way lose its individuality. It will continue in its old character but with the added advantage of association with the national Greek Letter fraternity.

Sigma Upsilon is a national fran-ternity for the encouragement of creative literary work with chapters chiefly throught the South. It was founded at Randolph Macon College and has had a very successful career. The invitation which was tendered the Fortnightly Club came directly from the Odd Number Club of Sigma Upsilon of Chapel Hill.
The Fortnightly Club was founded by Prof. Edwin Minus when he was professor of English in this college. At first it was composed chiefly of college literati and was rather in the nature of a bohemian club.
Gradually it took in members who were interested in literature from a critical standpoint as well and now the club holds regular meetings in which papers are read and discussions are held on various literary topics.

A feature of the membership in Sigma Upsilon is the privilege of entering the yearly contests which are carried on within this order.
This year a prose fiction contest is to be held and each chapter is allowed to submit two manuscripts.

The members of the Fortnightly Club as it enters Sigma Upsilon are: Professors F. C. Brown, W. H. Wannamaker, H. E. Spence, L. A. Forsythe, A. M. Webb, F. N.
Parker, W. T. Laprade; and Messrs. Alderman, Bagley, Cannon, Murray, Sheppard, Taylor, Wilson, Warlick, Holton, and White.

Classical Club

At the regular meeting of the Classical Club, Prof. W. F. Gill, the club's president, announced that Prof. Kirby Smith, a very prominent member of the faculty of Johns Hopkins University, has been secured to lecture to the public under the auspices of the club.
The lecture will be given about the second week in May. Prof.
Smith is known as a classical and humorous lecturer.

The literary program of the meeting was a paper by Prof. Gill on the subject, "A New Hero in Roman Literature." The paper dealt with the life of the great Roman general, Lucullus, and showed how he was the forerunner of the work done later by Cæsar and Pompey in extending the Roman empire in the East.

First Game of Season Shows Good Material But Need of Practice.—Also Cinched.

Trinity's team appeared yesterday afternoon in the roll of a blushing debutante in the society of 1913 base ball when it defeated the Elon team in a somewhat tame but well played game by the score of 4 to 2.

The batting of the home team was a little disappointing. They secured only six hits as against the nine of the visitors. Fans hope this was not a fair sample of what they can do and that the batting of the team will show a remarkable pickup before the end of this hard week.

This game was really the third on the schedule but the consistant rains of last week broke up the game with Trinity Park School, scheduled for Thursday and that with Atlantic Christian College, for Saturday, leaving the Elon game the first to be played.

On the whole Elon played the better game. They made the first score and seemed in a fair way to cinch a lead but lucky hitting in the right time by the Trinity men netted them a double score and the game. One of the prettiest plays of the game came right on top of the poorest. Anderson had singled.
Elon's catcher let a pitched ball thru him and, losing his head, failed to go after it, whereupon Anderson raced to third. Spence at the bat hit a long fly to deep center.
Anderson tagged up and chased for home but was nailed at the plate by a most beautiful peg by the center fielder, Joyner.

Baird, the Trinity recruit third baseman, showed the proper spirit and ability in twice hitting at the right time. In the sixth with Thompson on second after a single and a stolen sack, and Edgerton on first hit by the pitcher, freshman Baird drove out a pretty single and scored Thompson. Again in the eighth Siler walked and stole second and was scored by Baird with another single.

Fitzgerald for the college pitched a good game of ball but did not hold his men down so well as the opposing pitcher. He was replaced in the seventh inning by Godfrey who failed to strike out any of the Elon basemen but allowed only one hit and no score. McLean did the receiving while Fitzgerald was in the box, holding him down in pro-
man empire in the East.

TRINITY WINS FIRST GAME FROM ELON

(Continued from page one) per style and lining out a pretty hit. Maddox went in as catcher with Godfrey and showed good form and an excellent wing. He did not have a chance at the bat. The struggle between these two men for the regular catcher's position is still being waged in deadly earnest.

Atkinson for the Elon team served us a good game, striking out six men as against four by Fitzgerald. His speed was very good and he mystified several of the locals who are yet used to looking the balls in the eye. He was a shade wild, walking four men, whereas no man was given a free pass by a Trinity pitcher.

Patterson, the crack first baseman of the college, had to leave the game after the sixth inning on account of a badly sprained ankle and was replaced by Siler who covered the position very well.

Thompson and Baird did the premier hitting for the locals each cracking out two singles. Thompson's two were the old-style, right-on-the-nose variety which fill the bleachers with confidence that this champion slugger will continue in his old habits. He has long been the batting mainstay of the team. Spence, on a crippled ankle, beat out an infield hit in great shape and McLean drove out one of his old-time long ones.

Newman, the Elon third baseman, played the fastest game for the visitors covering his position well and driving out two clean hits. Burrus also secured two singles. Bruce, the short-stop, hit a long one for three bases in the seventh inning, and Johnson, Joyner, Ingle, and Atkinson each secured one hit, most of them, however, of the scratch type.

Trinity has a hard schedule for the rest of the week. Tomorrow morning the team goes to Greensboro to play Princeton University, returning that night to Durham where they play Penn. State Friday. They go to Winston Friday night and play the Winston League team the next day. On Easter Monday morning they play the Philadelphia Nationals, for the first time in four years.

Hesperian Open Meeting

The last meeting of the Hesperian Literary Society was in the form of an open house debate after the manner of a regular legislative body. The meeting was open to the public, the society resolving itself into a mock legislature of North Carolina and debating a compulsory education law presented as a congressional bill. The debate was very close and interesting, the affirmative being led by D. C. Lewis and the negative by R. L. Brown. On roll call the bill was defeated. It is probable that a number of the future meetings of the society will be in this form and in fact one has already been arranged for the meeting three weeks off.

The society recently elected officers as follows: President, H. M. Ratcliff; Vice-President, G. A. Warlick; Critic, C. C. Hatley; Secretary, D. C. Lewis; Treasurer, W. B. Sharp; Chairman Executive Committee, B. W. Ruark; Marshall, R. L. Brown; Chaplain, H. B. Hill.

The Columbian Society on the same night elected as President, W. M. Edens; Vice-President, M. L. Stuart; Secretary, E. S. Savage; Treasurer, M. B. Andrews; Chairman Tribunal B. F. Dalton; Marshall, P. E. Green.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting

The Y. M. C. A. meeting was last Wednesday given over to an illustrated lecture by Rev. A. D. Betts, of Louisville, Ky., on the Holy Land. The lecturer gave several vocal selections in addition to his lecture. The slides used in illustrations were made by the seaker himself on a tour of the Holy Land several years ago.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. another speaker addressed a small number of students at two o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. committee room. This was Mr. E. B. Carter, of Princeton and the Union Theological Seminary, returned missionary from Hawaii, now connected with the Bible Training School in New York City. The talk was in the nature of an appeal to students to study the Bible with a real desire to understand the meaning of the text.

MRS. FEW ENTERTAINS

St. Patrick's Day Party to Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

On last Monday Mrs. W. P. Few charmingly entertained the members of the local chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and several of their co-ed friends, at her beautiful home on the campus. St. Patrick's day was duly observed; the tastefully arranged decorations were entirely of green and "Erin go bragh" toasts were the order of the evening.

On being ushered into the drawing-room, each guest was provided with a telegram blank and was invited to write out a ten word message, the initial letter of each word being included in the words "Kappa Alpha," in the order in which they appear. The composition of these messages so as to make sense proved to be more difficult than at first thought and the reading of them created a great deal of amusement.

Later in the evening the guests were ushered into the dining-room where a most delicious luncheon was served, the color scheme of green being adhered to as closely as practicable. Upon the extinction of the "tasties," each of those present was called upon to relate an Irish joke, and the time-honored Pat and Mike were paraded forth in all their glory, with their trials and tribulations and their ludicrous deeds and misdeeds.

At 11:30 the happy gathering dispersed, proclaiming Mrs. Few a most gracious hostess and feeling that one of the most delightful social events of the year had just come to a close.

Those present were: Miss Fannie Kilgo with J. A. Rand; Miss Estelle Flowers with R. L. Jones; Miss Mildred Sinclair with P. B. Trigg; Miss Katie Lee McKinnon with C. A. Godfrey; Miss Catherine Thomas with C. B. Brinn; Miss Mildred Koonce with D. C. Lewis; Miss Mary Berry with A. W. Wilson; Miss Irma Tapp with R. T. Lucas; and C. R. Bagley, A. R. Anderson, and B. F. Few.

ing best with the crowd were the readings by A. T. Knott and the "Wal, I Swan" sung by G. C. Kimball and the Glee Club. Both of these were humorous and catchy, and deserve all the compliments they receive.

The violin solo by S. S. Alderman was fine and received much applause, the encore number being equally as good. Messrs R. E. Piper and R. H. Johnson, base and tenor assisted the club, both appearing in solo numbers that were excellent.

The quartet, Kirkman, Johnson, Piper, and Freeman, gave some of the most popular among the numbers, and had some good stunts for their encores. In fact the management had put some interest into making the concert more typically a student's program than is usually the case, and this no doubt accounts for much of the club's success. Of the club songs, "Poor Little Tommee," "But They Didn't," the encores "Dear Old Girl," "Absent," and a Medley, were above the ordinary.

The club owes much to the work of the director, Prof. W. H. Overton, and Mrs. Venable was also of much assistance. The club appeared especially strong in bass voices. The performance in detail was: Song, "Kentucky Babe," Glee Club; Piano Solo, "To a Water Lily," V. W. Kimball; "Poor Little Tommee," Glee Club; Violin Solo, "Romance," Op. 26, S. S. Alderman; "Hard Times Come No More," Quartet: "De Coppah Moon," Glee Club; Bass Solo, "Life," R. E. Piper; Cello Solo, "Largo," J. G. McAdams; Song, "Wal, I Swan," G. C. Kimball and Glee Club; Reading, "Woman Suffrage vs. Love," A. T. Knott; Tenor Solo, "Queen of the Earth," R. H. Johnson; "But They Didn't," Glee Club; "Lullaby," Quartet; "Trinity," Glee Club.

The club is composed of, Constant, Parker, Sledge, and McAdams, first tenors; Freeman, Courtney, Richardson, and Hurley, second tenors; Kimball, Wallace, Patten, Kirkman, first bases; Morse, Trigg, Alexander, and Edmiston, second bases.
