SUMMER BRINGS STRONG ADDITIONS TO TRINITY

FIVE NEW MEMBERS OF FACULTY SINCE COLLEGE CLOSED IN JUNE

DETAILS OF NEW PROFESSORS

Two Each for Departments of English and Engineering and one for Education Dept.—Two out of the Five are Returned Graduates of Trinity

To all who followed the course of events on the campus during the vacation, the announcement of President Few in regard to the men who had been secured to serve on the Trinity College faculty for the present Academic year was by far the most interesting news of the summer months. Not only the fact of change was of interest, but the bringing to the college at one time of five new men to be in charge of departments of work among undergraduates naturally excited much curiosity among friends of the college. The gratification of this will be a matter of months, but the facts that can be gathered about the past careers of the five may serve to take away the sharpest edge of the hunger for information.

These additions are taken to be sure indications of the advance along all lines of college work that was made possible by the record making benefactions announced at commencement.

DR. C. A. MOORE

who comes to be Assistant Professor of English, is a native of Tipton, Tenn., and a graduate of Harvard University, where he took his A. B. degree in 1901, and his Master's degree in 1902. He then taught English in several schools, and was for a time an assistant in English at Harvard. He has held recently one of the best traveling fellowships in England that the University offers, and in 1913 was awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Harvard. In the words of the official statement, "he is recommended by the Harvard authorities as the very best man of his generation there." Dr. Moore has quarters at the home of Mr. Mabry, on Watts Street, together with

DR. T. S. GRAVES,

Assistant Professor of English, a native of McKinney, Texas, who after two years at the Texas Christian University, entered the University of Chicago. Here he took his A. B. degree in 1901, and later, 1912, the degree of Ph. D. Dr. Graves has done a great deal of work, and has written several valuable articles on English philology. He has taught in the Universities of Washington, Texas, and Minnesota, and is said to be "an experienced teacher and a young scholar of the highest promise."

PROF. JAMES J. DONEGAN

comes to take charge of the engineering department, more commonly known as "C course." He is a native of New Haven, Conn., and was educated at the Boardman Manual Training School and the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University, from which he graduated in 1909. After three years in the city engineer's office at New Haven, Prof. Donegan became Pro-

Y. M. C. A. PROSPECTS AND PLANS FOR THE YEAR

PUBLISHED BEST HANDBOOK SEEN HERE IN SEVERAL YEARS' WORK

ANNUAL RECEPTION ON TUESDAY

Information Bureau Being Conducted—Addresses by President Few and Mr. E. G. Wilson Announced—Two Conferences This Year

Under the effective management of President E. L. Secret, the Young Men's Christian Association of the College has begun a career that promises well for the religious interests of the community during the present session. As an ice-breaker and general get-together meeting the Association reception each year has long held first place in College social circles. On this occasion the Association is the host of every member of the college community, from most recent freshman to most ancient college widow. This event will occur this year on the night of Tuesday, September the sixteenth, as announced in the Y. M. C. A. handbook, and every member of student body and faculty is expected to be on hand. The social committee of the organization has been at work for some time under the direction of the president and arrangements have been made whereby a reception of a somewhat different nature from those of former years will be given. The East Duke Building has been put at the disposal of the committee by President Few, and the large Y. M. C. A. and literary society halls will afford ample space for the festivities.

As a reliable aid to new students an Information Bureau will be conducted in the East Duke Building during most of the present week, and officers of the Y. M. C. A. have already been busy receiving and placing many entrants. At the same room will be found the headquarters of the committee in charge of the reception, and all questions and matters relating to it will be handled there.

Full announcements of all the plans of the Y. M. C. A. are given in the Handbook being distributed today and during the rest of the week to new students. This book is pronounced by those who know to be the best of this kind ever published at the college, and it contains many valuable suggestions and much

ATHLETIC ATMOSPHERE FILLED WITH REPORTS

FALL BASEBALL PRACTICE TO BE HELD ON TWO NEW BALL DIAMONDS

CONTRACT FOR CONCRETE WALL

Relay Race Will Come Earlier With Track on New Field—Interclass and Varsity Basket Ball to Occupy Fall—Brinn Leaves

Athletic news is thick on the campus, and reports, both confirmed and unconfirmed, are heard on every hand. The official statements are full and the matter interesting.

From the President's office the authoritative announcement is given out that a contract has been let to the Salmon contracting firm for the building of the eight foot concrete and brick wall surrounding the new athletic field. Work on this structure will commence at once, and the field will be ready for permanent diamonds and tracks in the spring. This fall however, two temporary diamonds will be laid off for the purpose of trying out the field and assisting in the locating of the permanent diamond, and on these regular fall baseball practice will start this week. Captain Spence will be in charge of the work, and Manager Gaston is negotiating with parties in Durham who may be induced to work up a team in the city and play a series of games on the campus. The Hanes Field diamond will be put in condition also, and will get some use.

On the new field a track is to be laid off surrounding the whole outer boundary, and here track work will start under Captain Brown and Manager Lucas. Every student should be interested in the statement of the faculty manager, who says that the annual Relay will be held much earlier than usual, the date probably being early in October, but so the preliminary will be some ten days before the final race and it behooves all aspiring runners to start training Thursday. At an early date Prof. Wilson promises to announce a schedule of handicap races and a series of prizes for the winners in these events is being worked up. Cross country running is in the air but has not been fully planned as yet.

The great fall sport will be basket ball. Two outdoor courts are being made on Hanes Field where the preliminary work is to be carried

PROFS PLAY AND PROFIT DURING DULL DOG DAYS

MUCH WORK DONE BY THE COLLEGE MEN IN VACATION TIME

TRIPS OF TRINITY TEACHERS

Many Went North to Libraries and to Yale and Harvard—The Rest were on the Campus or Travelled in This and Other States

The occupations of the Trinity College faculty during the past summer were almost as numerous as the professors themselves. Work and play were mingled in a manner to give the best possible results to the individual in question in every case, and if Cupid played among the ranks he worked only for the best.

President W. P. Few divided his time between work in the College Office, his summer home in the mountains near Ridgecrest, and in traveling and speechmaking at the various summer conferences of the state.

Dean W. I. Cranford and family were at their summer home at Lake Junaluske, where they attended Chautauqua meetings on the Southern Assembly Grounds and climbed mountains. Prof. C. W. Edwards, save for a trip to New York, also spent most of the summer with them.

Prof. R. L. Flowers, as usual, spent the entire time hard at work in the College Office, being in charge of the correspondence and campaign work for new students. In this work Prof. W. H. Wannamaker again assisted, besides teaching in the Trinity Summer School and taking a two week's trip north, visiting Yale and Harvard Universities. While in New Haven he spent some time with Prof. A. M. Webb at his cottage near the University. Prof. Webb, accompanied by his sisters and aunt, spent the vacation working in the Yale Library, and Prof. W. F. Gill was also there for the part of the time he was not at Henderson.

Dr. C. W. Peppeler and wife were the only members of the faculty who went abroad this time; they were last heard from at Monte Carlo. Dr. Frank C. Brown spent the first part of the vacation in a sanatorium in Baltimore, after which he visited at his home in Virginia, and later took a trip through Maryland and the libraries around Baltimore

THE BLANKET ATHLETIC TICKETS AGAIN ON SALE

SAME ADMISSION TICKET TO ALL EVENTS AS USED LAST YEAR

SPECIAL CANVASS TO BE MADE

Tennis Ticket to Be Sold at $2.00 for Season, Regular Admission Ticket for $5.00—Class Tennis Tournaments to Start

At an important meeting of the managers of all the athletic teams of Trinity College which was held at two-thirty yesterday afternoon abundant evidence was given that this year will be the most successful athletic season the College has experienced in its many years of good teams. The managers of the various branches met with Prof. R. N. Wilson, Faculty Manager of Athletics, and after long consideration announced many items of interest to those who will try for the teams and those who will merely fan.

The thing that will occupy first place in the work of the next couple of weeks will be the sale of the blanket tickets adopted last year and sold at bargain prices. These tickets cover admission to and participation in every athletic event of the college year. In addition they entitle the holders to the use of all courts, diamonds, and other athletic fields on the College campus. Without one of these tickets a student of the College will be at a financial loss in attending on or participating in any appreciable number of athletic events. The price will be the same as last year, $5.00 for a season ticket and the regulations are the same as before. No tickets will be sold except for the full amount in cash, and at no time can a ticket be brought for less than the original price.

One new provision is that a tennis ticket, entitling the holder to the use of the tennis courts, but not to admission to any games, will be sold for $1.00 per term, or $2.00 for the entire year. This is for the benefit of those who cannot buy the admission ticket, but desire to use the tennis courts.

A room to room and house to house canvass will be made at once in which all the managers will take part, and every student of the college will be given an opportunity a very pressing opportunity, to avail him or herself of the privilege of purchasing. The per centage that is to go to each team has not as yet been calculated, but will probably be somewhat different from that of last year. Tickets will also be sold in the city of Durham.

The first branch of sport to be put in operation will be tennis. Most of the courts are now in good condition, and all ten will be ready for use by Saturday. A relay rule to govern the use of the courts was adopted that should prove very popular. I order to avoid congestion of the courts those who begin play at two o'clock will be expected to stop at four, and allow others to begin. Also those who play singles will be expected to double up on the arrival of new players provided all the courts are in use at the time. One court, which has not been selected yet, will be reserved for the Varsity players and the contestants on the Varsity tournaments.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10

College year opens with raising of the flag by the Senior Class at 9 o'clock. Chapel exercises will be held in Craven Memorial Hall following flag raising, and at their close announcements will be made by President Few. Every old student and every applicant for admission is expected to attend these exercises.

Immediately after Chapel the Committee on Admission will sit in Room 2D, West Duke Building, to pass on applications. Every candidate for admission must appear as soon as possible before this Committee, which is composed of Professors Flowers, Wannamaker, and Knight. Old students will matriculate in the following order:

Sophomores, 10-11.
Juniors, 11-12.
Seniors, 12-1.

Members of the Faculty will be in their respective rooms for consultation on Wednesday from 10-1. A list of rooms is given in another column of The Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

Chapel exercises at 8:45, Memorial Hall.

Classes for old students begin at 9 o'clock as scheduled in catalogue and on Official Bulletin Board in East Duke Building.

Those admitted to the Freshman Class on Wednesday will matriculate at College Office from 10 to 1 on Thursday, and those admitted later will matriculate as admitted.

Freshman classes will begin according to catalogue and Bulletin Board schedules immediately after matriculation.

Entrance examinations and examinations for the Removal of Conditions will begin at 9 o'clock Thursday and run according to schedules published in another column of The Chronicle.

A CALL TO SERVICE

For all the years of the history of Trinity College the influences have been at work that culminate today in the opening of the present session of the institution. From every section of the country have come men who will aid, each in their own proper sphere, in the building of a college. And each has felt through one channel or another the influences that have operated on all with the same results,—the drawing of many individuals into close communication with each other for the common interest of all. To those who love the college, who feel and know the spirit that has animated the thought of these who have worked and lived that this might be a better place for training young life, such a time as this brings feelings both of hope and of fear. No man can pluck out the thing that underlies a college and holding it in his hand exclaim triumphantly, "Lo, it is here!" for the very act of searching for and dissecting the spirit of a college or a community is as deadly as a deliberate blow at its heart. The spirit is always there, it is felt and known by everyone who comes rightly in touch with the aims and ideals of the institution, and for every heart beat of the pulsing, surging life that sweeps, sometimes in a very torrent of activity through buildings and dormitories, and then moves peacefully through secluded walks, brings with it some change in the ideals, the heart life, and the brain of a man or woman who constitutes an integral part of the whole. The college is one, it is the essence of indivisibility, and only so long as every unit is tuned in harmony with the tone of the college can it be truly said to be performing its work.

The accomplishment of the summa bonum in college life will probably never be any nearer accomplishment than any other abstract

FROM FIRST TO LAST

tion, because just in the degree that former standard is approached, to just that extent does it imperceptibly, but none the less surely, widen and broaden its scope. And if the high and lofty traditions of this Trinity College that all its members love so dearly are to mean anything to the incoming class they will mean that the one absolute need of the college is for men who work, not so much intellectual prodigies as men of sound common sense and strong hands who are animated solely by the desire to serve their day and generation in the sphere that is assigned to them. It will be found on every side, opportunities are lying open for any kind of work the heart can desire, will the men of 1917 seize their chance?

PERSONAL

THE CHRONICLE has one request to make of the readers of this issue, and that is; take it with you when you make your purchases and show his ad. to the man from whom you buy. Tell him you are a college man who appreciates his support of your college paper.

THE CHRONICLE joins with the many friends of Prof. E. C. Brooks in wishing him a pleasant and profitable year's work in his chosen field. Together with the host of students, both in and out of college, who have come under his influence and his countless friends in the educational world of the state which he has done so much to build up, THE CHRONICLE regrets that Trinity College and North Carolina will lose even for one year the presence among us of one whom all honor and respect.

S. S. Alderman, '13, Editor of THE CHRONICLE during the last college year, is now located at Raleigh, where he holds the office of Assistant Secretary-Treasurer of the North Carolina Teachers Assembly and Assistant Editor of "North Carolina Education," with his headquarters in the State Educational Department.

Dr. George S. Sexton, of Dallas, Texas, arrived in Durham Sunday to enter his son as a member of the freshman class. Dr. Sexton is well known as being in charge of the work of the Southern Methodist Church in building a Representative Church in Washington, D. C. ried on, and candidates will assemble there, to meet Captain Siler. Manager Brown expects to repeat the same scheme for the Varsity schedule as was used last year, a trip before Christmas, another into Virginia after the holidays, and the intervals to be filled with games with state colleges and one with the University of Virginia at some point in the state.

The regular interclass basketball schedule will be given out as soon as the classes elect their captains and the candidates come out for work. The series will run until the Christmas holidays as heretofore.

Mr. J. E. Brinn, who coached the basket ball team last season, will not be in Durham this winter, so that some man from the city may possibly be secured to take charge of the basketball work.

All in all things point to a most successful year for the athletic interests that are so dear to the undergraduate heart, and there is every reason to believe that all the college sports will be highly successful.

PROF. FORSYTHE RESIGNS

Wires President Few He Will Not Return This Year

On Monday morning of the present week a telegram was received by President Few from Professor L. A. Forsythe, assistant in French and German during the year of 1912-1913, stating that unavoidable circumstances will make it impossible for him to return to the College before Christmas, or perhaps at all. As nothing had been heard from Prof. Forsythe indicating that he would not be back, the news was quite unexpected and necessitated the immediate securing of a competent man to assist in Modern Languages. Every effort is being made to get the best possible man for the place, and it is certain that before long announcement will be made of the name of the one selected. The authorities are already in touch with several very promising candidates for the place.

For the present it is announced that the work carried by Prof. Forsythe will continue as usual, other men in the two departments in which he worked having arranged to fill in temporarily. Mr. C. M. Hatchins, of the class of 1911, who had already been selected as an instructor in German, will have some extra work for a while.

information that should prove of inestimable value to freshmen. Among other things are announcements of two addresses in the very near future that should be largely attended. On next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock there will be a mass meeting in the Association hall addressed by President W. P. Few; it is taken for granted that every man in college will be present. Then on next Wednesday night Mr. E. G. Wilson, interstate secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will address the first regular meeting of the Association, and a membership campaign and rally will be held immediately following.

Still further facts of interest in the line of work of the Association are the announcements made in regard to two conferences to be held at the college during the year; one of these, the Student Volunteer conference for North Carolina colleges, is announced in the handbook for February 27 to March 1, while the other has just been secured by the officers of the Association and will come to the college October 1 to 5. President Seeger states that he is making a strong effort to combine the two meetings and get both to come in October, but that the final agreement has not yet been reached.

OFFICIAL SCHEDULES AND NOTICES

EXTENSIVE CHANGES IN DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

One New Course by Dr. Moore—Shakespeare Course by Dr. Few

The practical rebuilding of the Department of English has resulted in a great many changes in the work offered by the Department this year, both as to lecture work, and the men who will give the various courses. In all, there are practically seven elective offered, as the regular freshman and sophomore courses will remain at present and be equally divided among those of the Department.

One absolutely new course in English prose-composition will be given by Dr. C. A. Moore, who has done a great deal of advanced work in this line. The official statement of the course reads, "Various forms of composition will be studied. The course is not intended exclusively for students of journalism, but special attention will be given to editorials, short stories, and other departments of contemporary newspapers and magazines." It is contemplated that the best and most complete set of books on the subject of journalism in the south will be placed in the library during the year to aid in the work of the course. Those who take it will also, it is planned, be given an opportunity to see their work in print, through the medium of the various college publications.

President Few will for one more year give the very popular course in Shakespeare, known as English III, which he has had for a number of years. This announcement will be of interest to many who were uncertain at the end of last year concerning the future of the course.

The three general historical courses in English Literature will be given by Drs. Brown, Graves, and Moore, Dr. Graves having English 10, covering the period from 1550 to 1660, Dr. Moore, English II, 1660-1798, and Dr. Brown, English 5, 1798-1900. Besides these courses, Dr. Brown will have English 7, a course in Old English, and Dr. Graves will have English 6, a course in Chaucer. This each of these three will have two general elective courses besides the required work.

Consultation on the work in English may be had in Room, 3F, West Duke Building.

SCHEDULE OF ENTRANCE EXAMINATION

Wednesday, September 10
2 P. M. English (Room 3H).
4 P. M. Latin (Room 3A).

Thursday, September 11
9 A. M. History (Room 31)

FACULTY MEETING

At the first tolling of Marse Jack for the Academic year the Trinity College faculty for 1913-14, or at least a corporal's guard of it, assembled in the Faculty Room in the East Duke Building for the first official meeting. Owing to the absence of those still on vacation only necessary matters pertaining to opening schedules and arrangements were taken up, and the regular faculty committees for the year will not be appointed until the next meeting on Thursday.

ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT NOTICE

Change of Class Room and Announcement of Courses

Course in the Economics Department is intended primarily for Juniors. Sophomores desiring to take this course must secure special permission at once from the Department. Course 2 is intended primarily for Seniors. It is open to Juniors who have completed Course 1 satisfactorily and to other Juniors who secure special permission from the Department. Course 3 is intended for Seniors and Graduates. Special permission to take this course may be granted to Juniors who have passed Course 1 with distinction. All of the above courses are to be given at the hours scheduled in the catalogue.

Course 4 will be given this year instead of course 5 as announced in the catalogue. This course is open to Seniors, Graduates, and Juniors by special permission. The hour at which this course will be given has not been definitely fixed. All those who have elected the course should notify the department at once, and a definite hour will be arranged.

Dr. Glasston will be in his office in the East Duke Building on Wednesday from 10 to 1 o'clock to consult with all students who desire information regarding the Economics courses. The Economics classes will meet this year in the large class room across the hall from Dr. Glasston's office.

COURSE CARDS PART DUE

Regulations Governing Future Consideration

The following statement given out for publication from the college office, and relating to regulations governing course cards, is of interest to all old students, particularly those who have not yet deposited cards, or for any reason contemplate changes in cards already submitted.

"Any student of Senior, Junior, or Sophomore classes who for any reason has not deposited his course card in the office of the Executive Committee should do so immediately. Failure to do this will cause serious inconvenience. The cards were due last May.

"A special written petition to the faculty must be made and granted by it before any change may be made in a course card already approved. Unless made at once, such petition will not be considered."

ELECTIVE COURSES IN ENGINEERING

The addition of two instructors in Engineering to the teaching force of the college has made possible the offering of two senior electives not given in the catalogue.

Mr. Donegan will offer a course to seniors on the engineering of Highways and Pavements. This course deals with the construction of city and country roadways and all problems relating thereto.

Mr. Egerton will offer a senior elective in electrical engineering dealing with the problems of illumination, transmission of power, and other advanced questions.

FACULTY CONSULTATION HOURS

For the benefit of those who are in doubt as to their work for the year and desire advice from the heads of departments, the following schedule of consultation places and hours was announced at the first faculty meeting Saturday morning:

"The members of the faculty will be in their respective recitation rooms on Wednesday morning from 10-1."

NOTICE REGARDING INCANDESCENT ELECTRIC LAMPS

In the future the College will not furnish incandescent lamp globes to students.

This year, for the convenience of students, each room will be supplied with new Mazda lamps of proper voltage and of a life sufficient to last throughout the year with proper usage. Any student desiring to furnish his own lamps should return those found in his room immediately and receive their value. No other globe will be furnished by the College throughout the year. Lamps may be purchased any time either in town or at the College office. The only type of lamp that will be permitted in any dormitory is the Mazda 25 watt 110 volt Edison base.

POST OFFICE HOURS

Returning students note among the first changes on the campus the absence of Jesse Bristow from the College Post Office. The station has been in charge of W. E. Giles, of Durham, since the first of July, who will attend college as a member of the sophomore class. The hours at which the window will be open are: 8-10, 12-2, and 4:30-6:30, except on Friday, when the morning hour will end at 9. There will be no Sunday mail.

Bristow is connected with the city office; his many friends regret his departure.

WONDERFUL ALTERATIONS IN COLLEGE BUILDING

ASTONISHED STUDENTS GREETED BY STRANGE AND UNKNOWN STRUCTURE

No one can spend any length of time away from Trinity College and expect when he returns to find the campus just as he left it. This feature of the college has been so often remarked upon as to need no reception, but not in the wildest vaporings of the most excitable freshman or fatuous coed, has there ever been predicted what has actually taken place during the past summer. Old students stated when they came back one year to find the West Duke building newly risen from the ground; the addition of Aycock, East Duke, and Jarvis in rapid succession was at least worthy of passing comment, but to return and see with the certainty of reality that which has now come to pass is something that no man of past generations ever remotely conceived. For the Gym has been painted white, an oppressive, dazzling, haunting, ghostlike white that will not escape the sight in any part of its immediate neighborhood. Students returning to college by night have been seen making off at a rapid gait towards West Durham when the first sense of the staring whiteness has struck their eye; those passing on the train have craned their necks at perilous angles to view the uninvited spectacle, and no one need suspect of homesickness any lone freshman who may be seen in its vicinity with awe in their eyes and large lumps in their throats—they are merely thunderstruck. And no group of old students standing in close conclave before Memorial Hall or Alspaugh need longer be suspected of harboring murderous intentions toward said stricken freshmen, for they are merely discussing with bated breath the dire things this phenomenon portends.

Other changes have been made; the outside decorations of Alspaugh Hall have all been repainted, and every college building has been thoroughly overhauled. Under the fostering care of Dean Hunt great beds of canna and other flowers greet the eye at every prominent spot, while bright borders line the walks and the sides of Aycock. The plaza before West Duke is perhaps the prettiest single bed on the campus, the Annie Roney Garden having been moved from their old position, and the walk that formerly led from Main Street being now covered with beautiful sod. All the unsightly stretch of red clay that oppressed the eye last May is now hidden under the soft green that makes a solid lawn and two beautiful terraces before the imposing front of the Washington Duke Building, and on the great brick retaining wall between West Duke and Jarvis is a profusion of fine green vines. All these changes delight, but the ghostly Gym appalls.

YELL, AND WIN A FREE YEARLY SUBSCRIPTION

CHRONICLE OFFERS FREE PA-PER FOR NEW, ORIGINAL
 CLASS YELLS

In order to fill a need that has been none the less pressing because hitherto unpressed, the management of THE CHRONICLE announces that it will give a free subscription for one year's issue of the paper for an official class yell adopted by any class of the Academic department.
 The person who writes such yell and has it adopted by a regular meeting of the class will be sent the paper for one year, or may have it sent to any address in the United States.

The only restrictions made are that the yell must be absolutely new, must be adopted by the class as its official yell, and that the person who writes the yell must be a member of the class by which it is adopted. The offer holds good for two weeks from the date of this paper, and in the issue of THE CHRONICLE on that day will be published the winning yells and the persons to whom the free subscriptions go. The Editor and Manager of THE CHRONICLE reserve final rights of decision on all questions that may arise, in case of doubt will decide whether a yell submitted is new at this or other places, and will make regulations governing any points not already provided for.

Every class president will be requested to make an announcement and explanation of the offer at the first meeting of his class, and all inquiries will be answered at the editorial office of THE CHRONICLE.

PROF. BROOKS LEAVES

Goes to Columbia for Year's Absence

Prof. E. C. Brooks, who has been Professor of Education ever since the establishment of that Department at the College, left Durham yesterday for New York City, where he will spend the coming winter working in Columbia University on a new book which he expects to publish next spring and summer. A statement has already been given out to the effect that "he will continue to have supervision of the Department of Education and will keep direct charge of a good deal of the work even during his absence. His address in New York will be 417 West 120th Street.

Before leaving, Prof. Brooks talked of the books he now has in mind, the first of which, The Story of Corn, will shortly come from the press. This is a sequel to the book, The Story of Cotton, which Prof. Brooks wrote a short while ago, which has been adopted in the state schools in North and South Carolina, Florida, Texas, Utah, Arkansas, Missouri, Michigan, and New York, and of which fifty thousand volumes have already been sold. The story of corn will show the influence of the corn growing industry on the development of the middle western states. The culture of cotton and corn have been of parallel effect in the two sections, and these books are the first successful attempt to tell the economic history of the United States to grammar grade pupils.

At Columbia, Prof. Brooks will devote much time to work on his book, "The Influence of Education on the Institutional Life of the People; how has it attempted to adjust the Individual to the life around Him?" The histories of education with theory and not with what actually existed in the educational world.

During the summer months, Dr. W. K. Boyd, of the Department of History, has had published a Syllabus of Southern and North Carolina History for use in the course given as History VI. The book will be used in this course during the present year, and has also been adopted for use in similar courses at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C., and at the State Female Normal College at Greensboro.

The work on the volume was done jointly by Dr. Boyd and Dr. J. G. DeKontae Hamilton of the State University.

While her boarders were enjoying the delights of home fare, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, who has conducted a very popular boarding house on 3rd Street for some years, was preparing for their comfort during the winter months. Her one story cottage was entirely rebuilt into a large two story residence, finely furnished, and with a large lobby and dining room capable of accommodating a large number of boarders.

Mr. P. E. King, an alumnus of Trinity, and now in business at Samsou, Turkey, has been on the campus recently. Mr. King was married in Turkey on the first of August and is now on his wedding trip. He brought with him from Turkey a Greek who is a Turkish subject and who has entered college as a member of the freshman class.

and Washington. Dr. A. M. Gates put in the time at Johns Hopkins University preparing his Dr.'s thesis for publication.

Dr. W. H. Glasson left Durham in July and took a trip to the Boston Public Library, whence he went into the Berkshire Hills and later to the Catskill Mountains, returning by way of the New York Public Library. Dr. F. N. Parker spent the vacation in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where Mrs. Parker was successfully operated on for appendicitis early in the summer. Prof. R. N. Wilson and Prof. W. H. Pegram did some important work in experimental chemistry in the college laboratories, Prof. Pegram leaving only last Saturday for a short visit to his old home Trinity.

Prof. Lionel G. Forsythe departed during commencement week for the wilds of Nova Scotia, whence no rumors of him have returned. Dr. W. K. Boyd was around Durham most of the time, taking trips to the mountains and about the state. Dr. J. J. Wolfe again had charge of the United States Government work in the laboratories at Beaufort, N. C. and Prof. E. C. Brooks has been in Durham preparing for his departure for Columbia University.

Registrar and Treasurer D. W. Newsom directed the work of the Office and campus, being ably assisted by Prof. C. B. Markham, who also enlivened proceeding with a jaunt to New York. Prof. Holland Holton was at home in Durham, while Captain W. W. Card practiced the giant swing and the magic whirl in the Harvard Gym.

In another column is given an account of the marriage of Dr. W. T. Laprade, who spent his honeymoon near Washington, D. C.

Dean S. F. Mordecai, of the Law School, gave some extra work to his first year law class the first three weeks in June, and during the rest of the vacation coached some of his prospective students and worked on his new book, "Mordecai's Law Notes," which will appear in December. Prof. W. L. Lockhart worked in the college library and Prof. W. P. Reade attended to his large practice in the city.

Misses Mary and Lucile Gorham, '12, of Fayetteville, are here for the opening of the College as the guests of Miss Estelle Flowers, on Watts Street. During the coming session they will both teach in the Fayetteville High School.

THREE CHAMPIONSHIPS AND ATHLETIC PENNANTS

Won by the Y. M. C. A. Delegates in Basket Ball and Tennis

That the Trinity College Y. M. C. A. is strong physically as well as in other respects is abundantly testified by the record made by the delegates of the Association who attended the summer conference of the Southern states held at Blue Ridge Camp Grounds during the early part of June. The delegates from Trinity were E. I. Secrest, J. P. Wynne, J. W. Lambeth, P. B. Trigg, Shafer, and A. R. Anderson—six in all, but these six annexed three of the athletic championships of the conference, having captured the tennis singles championship through the work of A. R. Anderson, a Varsity tennis man and manager of the team for this year. The tennis doubles championships were won by Anderson and Lambeth, while Secrest, Wynne, Trigg, Lambeth and Anderson composed a team that walked away with the basket ball championship in a style that reminds one of the regular Varsity team's record in this state last year.

For each championship there was awarded a very large banner which will be hung in the Y. M. C. A. rooms along with the basket ball pennant won by delegates to the conference several years ago. All the banners are handsome and well worth the struggle they cost.

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL ITEMS

The dormitories have recently been overhauled and renovated and everything made as sanitary as possible for the reception of the students. About all the available room has been taken.

The entire graduating class of 1913 will enter college. As was the case last year, all save one of them will enter Trinity College. This is very gratifying to the school, where especial emphasis has been laid on the need of further work in higher institutions of learning.

During the past few days Headmaster W. W. Peele has been assisting Rev. W. P. Constable in a series of meetings at Fletcher's Chapel on the Durham Circuit.

The first faculty meeting of the year was held Monday evening with all the teachers present. They returned from vacations spent in various places with renewed energies and look forward to successful work.

Prof. I. B. McKay who did efficient work in the Summer School has recently spent some days resting in the eastern part of the state.

Prof. C. B. West returns from a visit to his home at Weaverville.

Prof. F. S. Aldridge spent part of the summer on the campus and then visited relatives at Oriental, N. C.

Professor of Mathematics in the New Jersey Military Academy, from which place he came to Trinity "highly recommended by the Yale authorities." An item of interest to the undergraduate is the fact that Prof. Donegan played left field on the freshman baseball team of Yale with the famous Ted Coy.

DR. E. W. KNIGHT

Assistant Professor of Education, is a graduate of Trinity. His home is at Orlando, Bertia County, N. C. In 1905 Dr. Knight graduated from the Trinity Park School, and from Trinity College in 1909. From 1909 to '11 he was Professor of History at the Park School, and in the latter year took his Master's degree at Trinity. The past two years have been spent at Columbia University, from which he holds the degree of Ph. D. Dr. Knight's thesis, entitled, "The Influence of Reconstruction on Education in the South," is now being published by Columbia University. While in college Dr. Knight, aided by G. M. Daniels, defeated the University of Tenn., in an intercollegiate debate (1908), was Assistant Editor of THE CHRONICLE as a junior, and Editor as a Senior. He is now living at the Beverly Apartments.

FRANK N. EDGERTON,

"an A. B. of Trinity and A. M. graduate of Columbia University, will serve as instructor in electrical engineering. Mr. Edgerton made a brilliant record as an undergraduate at Trinity College and later as a graduate student for two years in Columbia University."

Thus on the strength of records and past performances it appears that Trinity is merely entering a period when the enlargement of the faculty will make the college more fully able than it has been before to offer the very best training that can be secured.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Conducted by R. L. Brown for Benefit of Students—List of Boarding Houses

An employment Agency operated by R. L. Brown under the auspices of the Greater Trinity Club evidences the interest taken in aiding worthy students by all Trinity men. During the last few weeks this agency has been instrumental in affording opportunities to a number of new students who were in need of some extra financial resources for the college year, and many places have been secured and men assigned to them through the working of the agency. Another useful work of this same agent has been the making up of a list of college boarding houses and their various representatives among the students. In order that new men may have a permanent source of reference THE CHRONICLE prints the list as prepared.

DR. LAPRADE MARRIES

On June 11th a wedding of much interest to the college community was celebrated at the home of the bride near Pulaski, Virginia. The parties were Dr. W. T. Laprade, Assistant Professor of History, and Miss Calfee, of Buena Vista, Va. The wedding was a very quiet one and was attended only by the family of the bride and one or two intimate friends of the groom. The bride was dressed in white, and the groom in conventional wedding garb. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride and the couple later left for a short tour of Virginia. They spent the summer at Washington, where Dr. Laprade worked in the libraries, and reached Durham Monday night.

GYM. EXAMINATIONS

Director Card states that the physical examinations held every year for the examination of new men will be held as early as possible so that the men may get to work in the gymnasium and on the field sports. The schedule of examinations will be published as soon as all students have matriculated and as soon as measurements, etc., can be recorded the schedule of gymnasium classes will be arranged.
