MOVE TO INTRODUCE FOOTBALL HERE AGAIN

A FOOTBALL CLUB ORGANIZED

(J. C. III)

A movement seeking to establish football as a legalized sport at Trinity College rose, overflooded, and subsided to its natural channels during the past week.

For several days a number of men engaged in scrimmages on Hanes Athletic field without interruption, until at chapel exercises last Wednesday morning Dean W. I. Cranford, acting executive during the illness of Pres. W. P. Few, made a brief statement giving the history of football at the College and the reasons for its abolition. The Dean stated that he desired no misunderstanding to exist on the point, as he understood there had been some attempts at reviving the sport and said frankly that men could not remain at the College and engage in this form of athletics.

Earlier on the same day numbers of dodgers bearing this question: "Why can't Trinity have football?" had been scattered about the campus and buildings.

Cheers for football were given before the opening of chapel and were repeated in chapel following the Dean's statement and the close of the morning exercises, and at frequent intervals during the day on the campus.

During the afternoon a number of men were out on the athletic field again passing and scrimmaging.

Just after the supper at night, returning students gathered in large numbers before Craven Memorial Hall and were addressed from the steps by several men urging renewed interest in the movement and calling for a parade of the city later in the evening. Those gathering in response to this call created a disturbance sufficient to interrupt the speaker at the weekly Y. M. C. A. meeting and to call Dean Cranford from the hall. The Dean said: "All of you who would not wilfully disobey orders, go to your rooms."

The order was obeyed, but soon afterwards another gathering was effected and a parade of two hundred and fifty students marched up Main street giving repeated yells for football.

A trip was made to the residence of Mr. B. N. Duke, who is quoted as having said: "I have nothing to do with running the affairs of Trinity College, but personally I am not against football."

The crowd then departed for town again and was entertained free by the Arende Theatre.

Thursday morning Dean Cranford made an emphatic statement setting at rest any quibbling as to whether the College regulation applied to interclass football or merely to participation in inter-collegiate contest. Said he: "American football as played in this country, whether five minutes, or ten minutes, or two hours; whether inter-collegiate, inter-class, or intra-class,

WASHINGTON AND LEE TO MEET TRINITY IN DEBATE

CONTEST ARRANGED FOR THE EARLY PART OF NEXT MARCH

W. & L. vs. TULANE SAME NIGHT

Two-Year Contract with First Debate Here if Possible. This is the First of Debating Relations with the Institutions of Virginia

A letter received by the secretary of the Debate Council on Monday night from the debating authorities of Washington and Lee University insures the meeting of teams representing Trinity and Washington and Lee early in March of next spring.

This letter is the result of a correspondence that has been going on between the two institutions for several weeks, and has been the occasion of several meetings of the Debate Council. The terms of the tentative agreement are that there shall be signed by both colleges a two year contract calling for the meeting each year of three-man team on the same terms as have previously been in force in such contests here.

The question to be debated will be submitted by Washington and Lee, Trinity will therefore get choice of sides. There will also be an added interest in the debate in that Washington and Lee will debate against Tulane University on the same night and on the same question. A proposal was made that the three colleges form a triangular league, but this did not go through.

It is hoped that the debate will take place this year in Durham, and Washington and Lee has signified that any date between the first and fourteenth or sixteenth of March will be agreeable to her. It is likely that one of these latter dates will be chosen so as to avoid too close contact with the midyear exams, at both institutions.

This is the first time that Trinity has had debating relations with this university, or indeed with any Virginia College in recent years.

SOPHOMORE SOCIAL HELD BY CLASS OF 1916 LAST WEEK

MANY GUESTS ENJOYED PLEASURES OF THE OCCASION

On Friday evening, the class of 1916, following the custom, set by previous classes, held the annual Sophomore social, at which the men of the class were host to their friends in the college community. The scene of the entertainment was in the reception room on the ground floor of the West Duke Building. The decorations carried out the class color scheme, maroon and gray.

On entering, the sophomores and their guests were served punch by Miss Iris Chappelle. Progressive conversation was the amusement of the evening, and ice cream and cake in class colors were served.

Professor R. N. Wilson was toastmaster for the occasion, and the first to respond was R. W. Adams, on the Class. Next was A. W. Wilson on The Faculty. H. L. Dalton responded on The Co-Eds. Drs. Cranford and Laprade and Professor Wannamaker responded impromptu.

LITERARY PRIZE IS AGAIN GIVEN

Third Year of Offer. Will be Given for Best Short-Story Work by Undergraduate. Refreshments Following Exercises Friday Night

Last Friday night the Fortnightly Club of Trinity College became a member of the literary organization known as Sigma Upsilon, which has affiliated a chain of literary clubs in a number of southern colleges and universities.

The change was effected at a joint meeting of the Fortnightly Club and Odd Numbers club of the University of North Carolina, which has been a member of Sigma Upsilon for a number of years. Eight members of the University organization came over to the exercises, which were somewhat delayed by an automobile accident to the visiting party, but which were finally started at nine o'clock. The charter signifying membership was delivered to Prof. W. H. Wannamaker, President of the Fortnightly Club, and the short ceremonies of installation were quickly completed.

At the close of the official program the new and old members of Sigma Upsilon were entertained at an informal luncheon furnished by the Fortnightly Club, and several of the faculty ladies. A delightful salad course was served, together with other light refreshments, and a tour of the East Duke Building completed the evening's entertainment.

At a business session preceding these incidents, the Fortnightly Club decided to offer again the prize is has been giving for the last two years for undergraduate literary work. The terms of the award this year are that a committee of the Club shall make the award to the undergraduate who does the best work in short-story writing during

Y. M. C. A. HEARD ADDRESS WED. BY BISHOP J. C. KILGO

EXPRESSED STRONG OPPOSITION TO FOOTBALL AS A SPORT

A large number of students attended the last regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association which was addressed last Wednesday night by Bishop Kilgo. Rev. A. J. Parker rendered a solo which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Bishop Kilgo said in part: "Doubts continually condemned are pretensions of faith. We are trying to shape ourselves into some kind of unchristly followers of followers of Christ,—to form some kind of useless religion."

"How near are we Christy Christians? If we are Christy Christians then we have a relation to God. The fundamental in the life of Christ, in his teachings, in all he did was the sovereignty of God. Throughout his ministry his one great thought was to do the will of his Father."

Christianity means more than an admiration for Christ. Christianity is more than a compound of virtues that makes what we call a beautiful, manly, wholesome and ideal life.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE SET FOR DECEMBER 18

ANNUAL CONTEST BETWEEN COLUMBIA AND HESPERIA

WILL DEBATE NAVAL QUESTION

Query is: "Resolved that the U. S. Should Spend More Money than at Present on Naval Armaments." Perhaps Intercollegiate Preliminary

Practically all of the preliminary arrangements for the annual inter-society debate have been made. The contest will take place on Thursday night, December 18, which is the last night before the Christmas holidays. The Hesperian Society will defend the negative side of the larger navy question, leaving the Columbians to uphold the affirmative. The preliminaries in both societies will be held Saturday, November 22, when three men from each organization will be chosen to form their respective society teams.

This will be the opening gun in the college debating world. Following the successful precedent established last year the debate is held thus early for several reasons. It serves to stimulate an early healthy interest in society work; it comes at a period of the year not crowded by other college activities; and it serves to get a line on possible future material for the inter-collegiate teams.

The exact wording of the question is: "Resolved: That the United States should spend more money than at present on naval armaments. In view of the perennial agitation for peace, and the more recent movement for a naval holiday, the discussion promises to be of unusual interest."

It is quite likely that this query in some form will be used in one of the inter-collegiate debates to be held next spring. With this in view it is probable that the inter-society debate will serve as a preliminary to select one or more members of the team to represent Trinity in the HEADMASTER W. W. PEELE IN MEMORIAL HALL SERMON SUN.

DELIVERED AN ABLE SERMON IN MONTHLY SERIES

The second College sermon was preached Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in Craven Memorial Hall by Headmaster W. W. Peele of Trinity Park School. His text was found in Matthew, 9:36-38.

The speaker said in this world there were three characteristics of good; the power to see clearly the condition of society; the heart to feel keenly, and the will to dare valiantly. People ought to see clearly and distinguish the real from the false in the garb of the real. People make their God that in which the chief attribute is what they most desire. They ought to discriminate carefully. A disease in society cannot be treated until the origin is found. To eliminate the evil is to magnify the good. To magnify the evil is pessimism, and to magnify the good too much is to unfit one for doing away with evil. Christ saw both what did and what might exist. Moses must have felt deeply and keenly when he asked God to blot out his name rather than keep the

SOPHS-JUNIORS DEFEAT FRESHMEN AND SENIORS

DOUBLE HEADER OF TWO FAST AND SNAPPY CONTESTS

MAT, MOUNT, CARVER THE STARS

Sophs Won from Freshmen 21-12. Juniors Defeated Seniors 15-10. All Four Teams Seen in Action Together. Close Guarding

	WON	LOST	P. C.
Juniors	2	0	1,000
Seniors	1	1	.500
Sophomores	1	1	.500
Freshmen	0	2	.000

A good crowd was out to see the double-header basketball contest played last night in the gymnasium. The first game was between the sophomores and freshmen and resulted in a victory for the former by the score of 21-12. The freshmen started off with a rush and scored three field goals in quick succession; the sophomores then settled down to work and allowed no more scoring during the remainder of the half, while they succeeded, by consistent work, in getting three field goals and adding two foul goals out of two chances. Martin for the freshmen missed his three chances and the half ended 8 to 6 in favor of the sophomores.

The second half ran for twenty minutes and was started by a change in the line up. Matton took Bunting's place at center, Rone playing his former. This proved to be a stronger combination and Matton became the bright particular star of both contests by getting four field goals and one foul during the half, having already scored three goals in the first. Martin was put on Ferrell and played brilliant ball, getting two field goals and holding his opponent scoreless.

The freshman stars were Martin and Anderson. The former was off on his foul shooting, but he more than compensated for this by his steady guarding and good floor work. Anderson was out of his position and played a plucky game at guard. For the sophomores, Matton was the unquestioned and shining star while Ferrell was to be commended for his speed and work in opposition to close guarding.

The line up was as follows:

Lindsay (4) r. f.; Le Grand, Capt (2) l. f.; Smith (2) c.; Anderson r. g.; Martin (4) l. g.

SOPHOMORES
Matton (15), Rone (2) l. f.; Ferrell, Capt. (4) r. f.; Bunting c.; Patton r. g.; Mills l. g.

Time of halves, 15 min., 20 min. Referee, Cherry, Scorekeeper, Bagley. Time keeper, Stack.

SECOND GAME
In a closely contested game, the juniors defeated the seniors in the second contest by the score of 15 to 10. The first half was unusually close. Each side got one field goal, each side committed two fouls, and all the points were made by Carver for the juniors and Pleasants for the seniors. Carver threw both of his fouls while Pleasants missed one, thus the half ended 4 to 3.

The second half was characterized by better passing and speedier playing. Pleasants shifted to a guard and played the star game of the two teams. His work was free from unnecessary roughness and his

CALM AFTER STORM

"There is a proper means for striving for every end."

As applied to the football situation this "proper means," as THE CHRONICLE conceives it, that adopted by the Football Association at and since its organization last week. Tumult, uproar, and mobocracy do absolutely no constructive work and gain still less consideration. Sane and practical counsel and untiring energy are the only successful means of removing obstacles and obtaining a goal.

THE CHRONICLE is certain that at present a large majority of the student body desires to see football introduced here; it is equally certain that this sentiment is not unanimous.

So then, gentlemen of the Football Association, the word of THE CHRONICLE to you is this: Make your fight—make the strongest, cleanest, bravest, and most manly fight of which you are capable. Conduct your campaign openly, with frankness and sincerity, giving to others the same measure of consideration, the same credit for good intentions and unbiased motives as you expect and claim for yourselves. You are entitled to your opinions—so are others entitled to theirs. Conduct your work on the lines that you have mapped out since your formal organization and there can be no cause to criticize you.

Frankly and without desire to discourage anyone, THE CHRONICLE does not believe the movement will be successful—should that be the case, then accept your defeat like the gentlemen you are. Should the prediction be wrong, however, you will have a harder task—that of conduct in victory, and hardest of all—that of proving the truth and merit of your claims.

As a legitimate student interest you will receive from THE CHRONICLE just exactly that measure of publicity that it—and it alone—in its own judgment considers is your proportion.

THE CHRONICLE, from its observation of football at north and distant colleges, is not sufficiently convinced of the efficacy of the game as a cure-all for athletic ills to make of itself a football organ, but of course it does not oppose the introduction of the game nor any legitimate effort to secure its establishment—despite the inexplicably widespread assumption that THE CHRONICLE opposes the plan.

HOWEVER

THE CHRONICLE has no sympathy and no support for most of the events attendant on the recent agitation previous to its crystallization into the Football Association. On this point it is not open to argument, namely,—that most of these events were not such as to benefit either the college or the movement for football or to reflect credit upon either. The least that can be said is that they were unfortunate. THE CHRONICLE does not hesitate to be specific. The occurrence in Craven Memorial Hall following the first statement of the Dean, was not up to the standard set by both this and previous bodies of Trinity students.

THE CHRONICLE does not believe that the interruption of the Y. M. C. A. meeting was intentional, but the occurrence was certainly unfortunate for the movement with which it was connected and to which it must be charged.

As to the parade itself—well, accepting the statement of its leaders that its purpose was to gain publicity, THE CHRONICLE maintains unalterably that such publicity is notoriety not calculated to be creditable. In nearly every press dispatch concerning the matter that THE CHRONICLE has seen there has been a statement to the effect that "400 Trinity students invaded the uptown districts yelling like madmen and creating a furor in the business section."

Of even less desirability was the widespread publication of the determination of the "T" men to play no more games unless class football was allowed. The fact that so childish and petulant an action should be featured as the backbone of the football movement. THE CHRONICLE maintains is unfortunate, and while it is under no delusions as to the cause of the action it wishes to commend heartily the action of the mass meeting in voting down the resolution.

These points THE CHRONICLE makes in no spirit of harshness as its firm convictions regarding the much-sought-after publicity—dearly bought even considering only the opposition aroused on the part of those already opposed to the movement.

THEREFORE

Men—and women too—of Trinity College; you are on exhibition, under inspection; what will you do about it? The right to ask for more athletics rests on the use of the athletic opportunities already offered. The spirit that can carry a torch and make a speech should be able to support a basketball, baseball, or track team. Every team knows whether it is being supported, regardless of whether it wins or loses, regardless of financial success or failures. THE CHRONICLE challenges every man of you to rival it in service for

THE GREATER TRINITY

And this must after all be the final test of college loyalty—does it conserve and construct, does it destroy? How many of you, one week ago tonight, put your hearts into that cheer for T-R-I-N-I-T-Y, and with how many was it merely lip service? The work that is done the rest of this college year, football or no football, alone can answer.

A college paper is a publication to which 10 per cent of the students subscribe, and which 90 per cent criticize.—Yale Record.

This fellow sufferer might almost have been through a football agitation.

THE CHRONICLE regrets that spectators at the class basketball games should feel under necessity of repeated calls to the opposing teams to "rough it up." The sport cannot be properly maintained by rough playing or rough encouragement.

THE CHRONICLE has received several sets of resolutions for publication. As space is all too short this week, mention is made of all in the accounts if their adoption. Should their publication still be desired they will be given space as it can be found and in the order of their receipt.

OPPOSES FOOTBALL

Editor of the Chronicle:

The sentiment of the students of Trinity College is not unanimously in favor of football. In the excitement of the recent agitation it probably seemed that there was no discordant note among the students in regard to this movement, but that is a mistake. There is opposition, and it is not confined to one or two or three persons, nor is it confined within the bounds of one class.

The writer has played enough football to know what it is, and there is no more rabid admirer of the game in college than he is. But football as a game and football for Trinity are two different propositions.

This is not an attempt to present arguments against bringing football here, nor is it an attempt to criticize adversely any move that may have been made, is being made, or will be made to produce that result. It is an attempt to let it be known that this sentiment is not universal.

In movements of this kind the opposition is usually too disinterested to make itself known, for it is of no material difference to those who are opposed which way the scales may turn. Although such has been the character of the opposition to this movement up to the present time, it is barely possible that it will not continue so indefinitely.

Sincerely,

B. W. BARNARD.

GANNOT-ILEY

Of much interest to the many friends of the bride and groom here was the marriage of Miss Mabel Iley to Mr. Sam J. Gannot, which took place in the Methodist Church at Burlington last Wednesday evening.

Both the bride and groom were formerly students here. The bride graduated in 1910. Since that time she has been teaching in the Burlington Schools. The groom was a member of the Class of 1913. He was pitcher on the Varsity baseball team and a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is now engaged in the mercantile business at Beaumont, California.

Miss Juliette Iley, Miss Fannie Kilgo, H. G. Iley, H. E. Lee, and N. M. Patton attended the wedding.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS

The engineering students met in the Physics room of the Crowell Science Hall on last Monday night for the purpose of organizing an Engineer's Club. Professor J. J. Donagan, W. D. Hyland, and F. W. Elliott were selected by the President pro tem, Professor C. W. Edwards, to draw up the constitution and by-laws, to prepare a program, and to select a suitable time for the next meeting when the officers will be elected.

goal shooting was very creditable. He scored every point made by his team. The work of the team as a whole, however, showed marked improvement. Carver was the star for the juniors, scoring 11 out of the 15 points made. Hawfield, a new man at guard for the juniors played a good game holding his opponent scoreless and breaking away for a field goal.

The fact that the juniors have defeated their two strongest rivals seems to point to the fact that they will repeat their performance of last year, when they came through with a clean record. None of the games, however, have been walk-overs, and the larger part of the schedule is still to be played.

How much of this Greek Paganism, thought do we find in Church books, in the present day preaching even in theology! Christianity at heart is the eternal son of God in all the essence of his being, and yet conscious of his Father's will.

Christianity is weak if God is not its authority,—if he is not reckoned to be the greatest being in the Universe. A vast number of people profess Christ to-day who have never taken the time to have their sins forgiven.

The Bishop concluded by saying: "To be a Christian means to be reconciled to Jesus Christ. Don't get tangled up in skepticism that looks like, but which is not. Look to Christ and you will be saved."

During the course of his address the Bishop was interrupted by the noise of football enthusiasts on the outside organizing a street parade, and paused long enough to express in no uncertain terms his opposition to the sport.

CLASS MEETINGS

At a meeting of the senior class the following motion was passed: "Resolved that the senior class endorse the work and organization of the Football Association of Trinity College to date." A committee was appointed to draw up a statement of the reasons of the class in supporting the organization of the club.

The junior class met last Saturday afternoon and appointed P. N. Neal, S. G. Gullledge, and N. M. Patton to draw up resolutions expressing the sentiment of the class regarding football.

MOVE TO INTRODUCE

is prohibited at this institution. Any man, whether one, or two, or one hundred and two, or two hundred,—playing this kind of game will be immediately expelled."

During the day quiet prevailed, as several men were in conference with the president.

Official praisation was granted to hold a mass meeting for the organization of a club to undertake a systematic effort to secure official consent to football playing.

One of the most largely attended and enthusiastic mass meetings held at the College took part in the organization of the Football Club of Trinity College.

B. H. Siler presided over the meeting, opening with the statement: "Our object is not to defy anybody but to get football; to direct all this pep we have developed along the right plan. The worst thing we can do is to go on defying the administration, which has shown a very reasonable spirit."

W. G. Sheppard then spoke, saying: "We must have a change of policy and a logical plan." He proposed the organization of a football club to submit to the trustees a petition to grant football and the establishment of an athletic fee as part of the matriculation fee.

In the ensuing election of officers B. H. Siler was unanimously chosen President; F. B. Brown, V-Pres; and W. G. Sheppard, Sec.-Treas. It was voted that an executive committee of three men from each class be appointed to serve with the officers of the club.

Addressing the club W. G. Sheppard said: "Let us curb down this enthusiasm now and have another burst some other time. We had quite some time in the president's office this morning, I tell you." Said Pres. Siler: "Since the faculty have come across to some extent we mustn't take any radical steps." He submitted to the vote of the meeting the suggestion agreed to by all "men to the effect that there should be no more class or college games, unless the mass meeting voted unanimously to rescind this action. The meeting so voted.

Manager F. B. Brown explained the indefinite postponement of the Senior-Junior basketball game as the result of this resolution. A collection was taken then and the sum of twenty dollars realized.

It was voted that a great cheer for Trinity be given at the close of the meeting, and this was accordingly done.

In conclusion the president urged the men not to insist on the return of their money for Blanket Tickets, a plan proposed by some, and also stated, "When we go away let's keep up the pep but let's keep it up in the right way. That's what all this hullabaloo has been about—to find out how the student body stood."

The executive committee as appointed is: McKinnon, Warlick, Cherry, Nelson, Starnes, Anderson, Wooten, Thorne, Lee, Matton, Wallace, Ruff, Crawford, and Larkin. This is divided into committees on Membership, Correspondence, Press, Commercial Club and Merchant's Assn., Durham Citizens, and Faculty. Meetings are to be held every Monday night and literature sent out to give reasons for football, clear up misunderstandings, and so forth aid.

The following petition is being circulated: "We, the undersigned, in the interest we have in the growth and welfare of Trinity College, do hereby petition those in authority to withdraw the ban on football existing here."

ATHENA

The Athena Literary Society held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon. Several new members were taken in, making a total of twelve new members for the year. The literary program was a debate "Resolved: That attendance upon college recitations should not be compulsory." The affirmative was represented by Miss Annie Reade and Miss Catherine Thomas. The negative side of the question was upheld by Miss Lizzie May Smith and Miss Marion Holloway. Elite and interesting discussion of this question took place. The decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative.

BAND MEETING

The twenty men who are trying for the College Band met Thursday evening with Director J. J. Scott in Memorial Hall. Music was given out to the men who have horns. Four horns and two drums were ordered.
