Seniors	1	2	.333
Freshmen	0	3	.000

In a very interesting but exceedingly rough and slow game, the sophomores defeated the seniors last night by the score of 27 to 22. The game was marred throughout by intentional roughness of players on both sides. At one time a free-for-all fight was very nearly approached, bruises and gashes were the rule, while blood seemed to be the acknowledged decoration for all participants.

Better basket ball was displayed in the first half than in the second. The seniors were clearly outclassed and Matton broke away for five field goals, his total for the game being 15 points. Pleasants, the mainstay of the senior team, was held scoreless, and the half ended 15 to 7 in favor of the lower classmen.

In the second half the seniors came back with a rush that gave promise of good basket ball. Pleasants played stellar ball and succeeded in getting five field goals, which with his foul goal totaled 14 points. But when the senior team passed the sophomores, the rough tactics were started, and the result was rather a disgrace to basket ball. The redeeming feature, however, was the amount of pep displayed. With the score favoring first one side and then the other, Matton, Ferrel, and Rone shot the field goals that won the game for their class. Hyland played a good game in this half, scoring two field goals.

The teams lined up as follows:

WAKE FOREST IN TENNIS

The undefeated varsity tennis team, composed of Anderson and White, will meet the Wake Forest team on the Trinity courts Friday and Saturday. No morning matches will be played as has formerly been the case. Singles will be played Friday afternoon and doubles Saturday afternoon. Much interest is shown in the match as it is Trinity's first with this institution.

HARE & HOUND RUNNERS ARE SHOWING GOOD FORM

GOFORTH DID GOOD WORK IN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON'S
RACE

Two very interesting races have been run in the hare and hounds series during the past week, and good work for the formation of a track team has been done by the men who have gone out. There will be a continuation of the races all during this month and the track authorities state that the composition of the track team will be largely determined by the showing made during the series.

The last race, which was run yesterday afternoon, was particularly interesting and was featured by a great run by Goforth, who came from far behind and tied the leader after a spectacular sprint and finish at the gymnasium.

All races start at the gymnasium at four twenty, and the next will be held Friday of this week. The score in those already run follows: It will be noted that the system of marking has been changed from that at first announced, so that now the man or class with the highest number of points stands head in credits.

WORK OF DEBATE COUNCIL

The Debate Council met Monday afternoon to close arrangements for the intercollegiate debates of the year. A telegram was read from the authorities at the University of South Carolina stating that the team from that institution will come to Trinity on the Monday following Easter. It seems practically assured that the debate with Washington and Lee will also be held here the date to be about the middle of March.

The arranging of these debates resulted in the impossibility of continuing relations with Swarthmore, a college with which Trinity has had the most pleasant relations she has ever had with any college in intercollegiate contests of any kind. Owing to the expense of the northern trips, however, and also to the fact that having two other contests made it practically impossible to handle another debate for the year, it was not felt wise to make a new contract with Swarthmore.

Preparations for the intersociety debate are being made in both literary societies, and a larger number of men than ever before contested will be out Saturday night in the preliminary contest.

Manager R. T. Lucas spent the week end at his home in Charlotte.

C. C. Foushee, 1912, has been on the campus with friends.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF PRIZE AWARDS

Valuable Scholarship Prizes Again
Given to State High Schools for Work of Senior Year. Given for Alumni's Records in College

The committee in charge of the 9019 declamation contest has about completed the first stage of its work, and is now waiting for replies to the many letters sent out. Over two hundred of these were mailed to high schools in every county of this state and to high schools in Virginia and South Carolina announcing the contest to be held November 28, and inviting them to participate.

Besides the work of the Declamation Contest, the 9019 will continue the prize awards it established last year for the stimulation of scholarship in high schools. The order inaugurated a book prize contest last spring that has become very popular among the different high schools of the state. By the rules of the contest the 9019 selects ten high schools in which to give a set of books as a prize to that member of the senior class in the school who makes the highest scholarship average for the year. These ten schools are chosen on the basis of the scholarship average made during the year preceding the prize award by the students from that high school who attend Trinity College, take the full number of hours work, and are regular undergraduate students of the academic department. If there are no complications, the ten persons making the ten highest averages will win the prizes for their schools. As a

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION OF FRESHMEN

Director W. W. Card, has recently completed the physical examination of the Freshmen, and declares that the class of 1917 is one of the best, physically, that has ever entered Trinity. The average age of the class is 18 years 6 months; the average height, 5 ft. 8 inches; and the average weight, 132 pounds. The tallest man is J. B. Holloway, who measures 6 ft. 4 inches in his socks; while H. Greenberg, with a height of 5 ft. 1 inch, is the shortest. G. S. Sexton, weight 232 lbs., is the heaviest man, and J. A. Brame, who weighs only 87 lbs, the lightest. B. F. Boone and J. H. Stroud can boast of the largest necks, both being capable of filling a number 16 collar; Stroud also has the broadest shoulders. G. S. Sexton has the largest and also the greatest depth of chest; while Boone and Sexton are the possessors of the largest arms. H. C. Kearns has the greatest chest expansion, while G. H. Britt measures the largest ninth rib expansion. G. H. Ferguson has best lung capacity this hefty youngster having forced the machine to register 335 cubic inches.

The last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was addressed by students. H. B. Hill spoke on "Individual Work," J. R. Davis on "The Value of Ideal," and James Cannon on "Constructive Service."

REVIEW OF MR. SPENCE'S BOOK IN CUP CONTEST

REVERIES IN RHYME IN THE
PATTERSON CUP
COMPETITION

In the award of the Patterson cup, which will be made Friday at the meeting of the State Literary and Historical Society, the committee will have passed upon Prof. Spence's volume of poems, Reveries in Rhyme, a review of which is here given.

Many of these poems are already familiar to the readers of newspapers and Trinity College publications, who will all be glad to see them collected under one cover.

The book contains four divisions: Poems of Childhood and Country Life, Songs of the Seasons, Love Lyrics, and Odds and Ends. "Home Again" and "Country Life" are true and enticing pictures of rural existence, and almost equal the efforts of John Charles McNeil in this same field. "Paper Folks," "Thy Hyacinth," "The Old Hobby" and "The Old Pear Tree" are all true to life poems of youth, with the powerful undernote of sadness which is so essential to the nature of reminiscence poetry, and which ever since the melancholy poems of our Saxon forebears, has never failed to impress the English reader.

As an exponent of negro and illiterate white dialect, Mr. Spence is also quite successful. Most of his dialect poems are humorous. Perhaps the best of them are "Jim Ray," "To William (alias Bill)," "Jack-o'-Lantern," "Onliest Chune," and "De Fust Sin". Many of the poet's friends consider these, together with such college satires as "Abou Ben Adhem" and "The College Hero," his best productions so far.

Notwithstanding his humorous tendencies, however, and his capacity for witty parodies Mr. Spence

GYMNASIUM WORK

In order to stimulate work in the gymnasium and to encourage more men to enter this form of athletics, physical director W. W. Card has devised a scheme which he thinks will make it more popular. He recommends that a block T, something like the present basket-ball T, be awarded for proficiency in gymnasium work. There are several men in college who merit some sort of distinction for their ability, and it is felt that a gymnasium T would be a very fitting award.

However, Cap, says that the letter will be hard to win and that there is probably no student in college who merits it at present. The rules and regulations governing the awarding of the T have not been drawn up.

The engagement is announced of Miss Aimee Horan of this city and Mr. William Steele Lowdermilk of Rockingham.

Mr. Lowdermilk is one of Rockingham's most popular young men. He is a graduate of Trinity College and a member of the well-known law firm of Lowdermilk & Dockery.

The wedding will take place sometime in January.

—Charlotte Observer.

The last legislature authorized the establishment of a criminal court in Richmond county and Mr. Lowdermilk has been elected judge of the court. Since leaving college he has been engaged in the practice of law at Rockingham.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY MEN OF FOOTBALL CLUB

LETTER TO STATE PRESS IN DEFENSE OF THEIR POSITION

TO CLEAR UP MISUNDERSTANDING

Lengthy Explanation of Attitude in Fight for Football and Reasons for Making Stand Taken in Effort to Get the Sport

The officers of the football club are mailing the following letter to the press of the state.

Trinity College, Durham, N. C.,
November 13, 1913.

"Owing to a misapprehension which has arisen over the state concerning the students' motives in their efforts to secure football at Trinity College, the officers of the Football Club made public the following statement to day:

"In behalf of the students of this institution and the friends of the college who desire to see football reinstated here we feel it our duty to make this statement. We want football at Trinity, if it can be secured by any legitimate method. We do not, however, favor nor countenance any defiant attempt at securing the game, for we know that if football is reinstated here it must come through the Board of Trustees, and that if that action is taken by the Board, it must be done by a preponderance of sound reasoning for the game by those interested in football. And we shall attempt to establish this between now and June when the Board assembles to transact its official business.

"We have been misunderstood and severely criticised for attempting to reestablish the game here. Trinity has been for a long time without football and without any fall sport. The students have felt the need of some sport in the fall, and seeing football in almost every college and university in the land, have wondered why it is that we can't have it here. This spirit has been smoldering in the student body practically ever since football was barred from this institution, and only this year has it taken occasion to express itself. If we could sit by and have the student needs of this college brought to the attention of the Faculty or Board of Trustees, without any effort on our part, we would have had no occasion to make such an attempt. But those who are familiar with colleges know that such movements must have expression, or they will not be felt. We have long remained silent 'hugging the delusive phantom of hope,' thinking that football might some day be voluntarily granted to this college, but realizing that if it comes we must show those in authority that we really want the game, we have attempted to take a stand as a unit for football, and to let our desires be known to the world at large. We have done this with no defiant attitude to those in authority here, for they have accorded us great consideration, informing us that the permit must come through the Board of Trustees, and that they would submit our petition to the Board. The idea seems to have spread abroad, however, that we are a mob of 'hoodlums' led on by a few fanatics, got together to put football in Trinity in a whirlwind of disorder. Now all men in this

THE COMMON TIE

To you of Carolina who cheered the name of Trinity at the recent Carolina-Wake Forest game in Durham, THE CHRONICLE expresses in permanent form the appreciation that Trinity men endeavored to voice in their transitory answering cheers.

On East Durham field last Saturday were numbers of students from three state colleges, and between those three separate bodies there existed a binding tie of common sympathy, common ambition, and to a large extent—common training and environment. Men of similar interest and occupation when they meet are naturally drawn to each other by the very fact of their mutual appreciation of certain standards and their acceptance of certain fundamental conceptions. This, which is the binding tie of the personal friendships that last through the storm and stress of differences, of misunderstandings, of years, and of changes, is also the tie that binds communal interests in harmonious endeavor.

Men in the mass are not greatly different from each other in anything save the extent of their labors—for in a rough and general sense most men are alike, and on a certain scale may be said to attain an average of manhood. But from this average they differ just in so far as they seize upon and turn to advantage chances that come largely to all alike. The difference is not so much, then, in that much-vaunted native ability, as in that more-to-be-boasted capacity for hard work and concentration of energy upon the task in hand.

General conceptions of life are entertained in large measure by most college men, who, above any other class, and far more largely than is often supposed, are given to introspection and self-analysis. Tastes and training of mind and similarity of environment give to groups of college men in personal contact with each other a fellowship and a friendliness not found otherwise or elsewhere. In whatever may be said as to varying merits of various colleges, the fact remains that college men as a class feel for each other a binding fellowship and a mutual sympathy, and the incidents of Saturday served to illustrate concretely this prevailing trait of the type.

WHAT THE RECENT SOCIALS WERE NOT LIKE

FOR CLEAN SPORT

Basket ball is not a child's game, but it is a gentleman's game, and should be kept such in spite of temptations to make it a prize fight. There has never before been seen at this college a game between classes of the college itself, of men who are in daily contact with each other, in which blows were passed by members of opposing teams at three separate and distinct intervals of the forty minutes of play, yet this actually happened last night at the Senior-Sophomore contest. THE CHRONICLE does not make charges—it merely states facts that any onlooker at the game could not avoid seeing, yet not a single player on either side was removed by the officials, despite the fact that some of the players took part in more than one of the melees that marred the game. Better no game at all than such exhibitions as that of last night.

It was equally obvious that members of the Sophomore team were largely the aggressors in the intentional roughness. The Senior team has often been charged with playing a rough game, yet not intentionally so, and it was certainly the case that most of the bad spirit shown last night did not originate with that team. Neither did all the members of the Sophomore team have a hand in the roughness—one man in particular for that side playing not only the cleanest, but also the most successful game of the evening. It is significant also that the man who played the best game for the other side, was not involved in any disagreement, the logical deduction being that clean playing has its reward or it it that good playing needs no rough work to add to its success?

THE CHRONICLE feels however, that there are remedies for this sort of thing apart even from the attitude of the players themselves—the first of which is a sentiment among spectators that would condemn rough playing instead of encouraging it with cheers, and the second of which is the prompt removal from the game of any player taking part in personal encounters.

COMMUNICATIONS

THE CHRONICLE has received the following resolutions for publication:

Whereas the soul of every great college lies not in building and endowment, but in the loyalty of the students to their alma mater, making it necessary in order to foster the spirit of loyalty that their wishes be considered to some extent in the conduct of purely student affairs, and

Whereas the students of Trinity College have, by an overwhelming majority, expressed themselves as favoring the establishment of football as a branch of their class and inter-collegiate athletics, and, whereas we feel that the institution has suffered greatly by reason of its failure to recognize this great American College game in the past—

Therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Junior Class of Trinity College, do hereby most heartily endorse the action of the Trinity College Football Association and do most earnestly petition the trustees of this institution to accede to the practically unanimous wish of both students and alumni in this matter.

FRESHMEN WERE GAME BUT LOST TO JUNIORS

JENKINS, L'GRAND, MARTIN AND BROWN DID BEST WORK FOR TEAMS

SCORE 16 TO 13 FOR JUNIORS

One of Best Games in the Inter-Class Series Friday Night. Jenkins Chief Cause of Junior's Victory. Team Work and Few Fouls

In a hotly contested game last Friday night that featured by the spectacular goal shooting of Jenkins, for the juniors, and the skillful guarding and all round playing of Martin and Legrand for the freshmen, the junior team defeated the first year men by the score of 16 to 13. Brown also did pretty scoring for the juniors in the first half. Both teams had hard luck on close shots.

The game was the greatest surprise of the season for it had been freely predicted that the juniors would at least double the score. The freshmen showed their best form thus far in the series, and had it not been for the sensational work of Jenkins at the opening of the second half, they would have won easily. Anderson, J., also did stellar work for the freshmen, guarding his man to a standstill and registering a pretty goal from the field. Besides the work of Jenkins, Frank Brown featured for the juniors; he securing two field goals and not allowing his man any. The juniors committed five fouls, three of which Martin made count for his team. Carver failed to basket any of the four freshman fouls.

The teams presented their usual line-up with the exception of Mayes at center for the freshmen. Soon after the game opened, a foul was called on Jenkins for running with the ball. Martin promptly threw the goal. From then on the score was nip and tuck between the two teams. Lindsay and Brown each got two field goals, while Martin and Jenkins, scored one each. A pretty shot by Anderson, J., from the corner of the court ended the half: Freshmen 8, Juniors 6.

At the opening of the second half the juniors played with a vengeance. Jenkins threw two goals in quick succession. At this point Smith replaced Mayes at center for the freshmen. Jenkins immediately shot another goal. This set the juniors on their feet again so that the freshmen never regained the lead. Martin then threw his third foul: field goals were shot by Carver, Jenkins, and Smith in the order named, and the game was over. Score: Juniors 16, Freshmen 13.

haunted topic of Love. The blitheness of love is found in a liting poem like "Adopt," its calm devotion in poems like "A Prayer" and "Constant" (with its touch of Longfellow), its dignity in poems like "Faithful" and "Pictures of Memory," its determination in "Defiance," and its daring in "The Goody-Goody Man." "Renunciation" expresses love's disappointment, and numerous other lyrics, some of them perhaps a trifle fervid to a staid imagination, express its care-free and epicurean enjoyment. "Faithful" is perhaps the most dignified and economically expressed of all his love poems and it is also the best.

The leaf hangs in the old warehouse for over 2 years—gradually changing from green to mellow—then you get the smooth, full flavored, good tasting smoke that the southern planters themselves like. Never a bite in such tobacco. Velvet! Don't forget!

COLUMBIAN MEETING

"The students' side of the recent agitation for football" was the subject of an oration delivered in the Columbian Society last Saturday night by W. F. Starnes. The subject of an oration by M. B. Andrews was "Woman and Progress." The query for debate was "Resolved, That life imprisonment with restricted power of pardon on the part of the executive, should be substituted for Capital punishment in North Carolina." The affirmative was upheld by J. R. Davis, T. B. Roberts and Banks Arendell. The speakers for the negative were L. B. Smith and P. G. Farrar.

BAND MEETING

The regular meeting of the Trinity College Band was held last Thursday night in Memorial Hall. For the first time, Trinity students heard the strains of their own band music floating across the campus. Music has been ordered for the band, and the members of that organization are now taking regular practice under the direction of Mr. Scott, of East Durham. It is thought that the instruments which have been ordered, together with the music, will be here in a few days, and that the band will b in position to hold forth at the first of the varsity basketball games in December.

college know that is impossible. The sole purpose of the parade, which has been reported in the papers both correctly and incorrectly, was to show the college spirit here for football, it being thought by some that there were only a few who really wanted football. But that showed that practically the entire student body not only wanted football, but were not ashamed to let it be known. Nor is the parading the streets of the city a feat peculiar to the students of this college. All men who know about colleges and universities know that where there is a good college spirit that such demonstrations are not uncommon. Nor is this the first we have ever had in this college. Those who have had any connection with Trinity know that car rides bon-fires parades etc., were frequent methods of celebrating a big baseball success. And everyone remembers the torch-light parade which occurred when our President was inaugurated into the head office of this institution, when we went all over the city, visited the homes of several of the prominent residents of Durham, and as a reward for this feat were given a holiday the following day. It was not then thought of as "mobocracy," and we believe that the public will not now regard it so. We are not fighting against anybody, nor trying to tantalize anybody; we are fighting for football, because we believe it to be for the best interest of Trinity College.

"This will be followed by statements in support of the game for this institution.

The Foot-Ball Club of Trinity College.

FRESHMAN GRADES

In order to let the new men see just how they are progressing, the College requires each Instructor to prepare a monthly report of grades of all members of the Freshman Class in his department. This statement is handed in to the College office and kept there for inspection. For the welfare of the Freshmen it has been the custom for several years to divide the class into groups of five or six, and to place in charge of each group a Faculty and Senior advisor. The purpose of these advisors is to aid and encourage the men under their supervision in every way possible. By consulting these men on the fifteenth day of each month the members of the Freshman class may obtain their grades.

RED PRIAR INITIATION

Last Monday night the Red Friar order initiated into membership C. A. Burruss of the Senior Class. This ribbon society was founded last year, its membership being confined to the senior class. At present its composition is as follows: W. F. Starnes, J. L. Nelson, E. L. Secrest, James Cannon, F. A. Ellis, R. B. Anderson, and C. A. Burruss, —with F. R. Ray and D. R. Kirkman as alumni members.

Considerable attention was attracted by the initiation costume worn during the day by the candidates in whose honor an informal supper was given Monday night at the Royal Cafe.

CLASSICAL CLUB

The classical club met last Thursday evening in their rooms in the library. Prof. Townsend read a highly interesting paper on The Amphitryon Legend in The modern Drama.

Prof. Townsend is preparing his thesis on this same subject and this extract was instructive as well as entertaining.

Dr. Gates led the discussion.

200 IN Y. M. C. A. CLASSES

Banner to Group With Best Attendance Record

After having two meetings, there is every indication that the Y. M. C. A. Bible Classes will be more successful this year than ever before. All records for enrollment have been broken, there being two hundred or more men on the rolls. The book being used is Fosdick's "The Manhood of the Master," which contains work for twelve weeks. A group of the Class meets in every section of the dormitories on every Wednesday night just before the Y. M. C. A. meeting. The work of each group is directed by a teacher, who is, in most cases, a Senior. On every Tuesday night Dr. F. N. Parker, holds a Normal Class, made up of the teachers of the groups.

When the twelve weeks work is finished, a banner will be awarded to the group with the best record for attendance.

You fellows know what that means!
We've been very successful in this regard with Fatima Cigarettes. By the way, these cigarettes were first sold in the college towns—and you agreed with us that they were good.

Then we put out for the big race,
to make Fatimas of nation-wide reputation, and today more are sold than any other cigarette in this country.

No purer, or more carefully chosen tobacco grows than that in Fatimas.
We purposely put them in a plain inexpensive wrapper—in this way we can afford quality tobacco, and twenty of the smokes for 15 cents.

Now your college crew is of utmost importance to you—so is a good cigarette, and it's your aim in life to keep Fatimas in the lead—right up to their good quality—right up to where you first found them, and will always find them.

Success fellows! You started this cigarette on its successful career—and you pull a strong oar all over this country.
