ANNUAL RELAY RACE IS WON BY JUNIORS

CLASS OF 1916 KEPT THE LEAD
THROUGHOUT, BUT WAS HARD PUSHED

GOOD TIME MADE IN RACE

Freshmen End Second, Seniors Third, Sophomores Last—Roads Somewhat Bad—Goforth and Ruff Star

The fifth annual inter-class relay race was won on Monday by the Junior Class. In the first ten yards, the Juniors gained a lead which they never lost throughout the entire race, though it was seriously threatened at times.

The Juniors had practically the same team in the race, Saturday that they have had ever since the class entered college, but in both the other races in which it has taken part it could do no better than end third. This fact does not show however, that the general speed of the runners is decreasing, but rather that the Juniors have made vast improvements.

Several times during the race, the Junior lead threatened by the Sophomore runners, and once by the Freshmen. The Seniors ended the first mile in third place, but lost the lead in the second mile and stayed behind, until Goforth made an excellent sprint in the last half of the tenth mile. The Freshman runners made a good race, also, ending the first mile in fourth place and the tenth in second. The Sophomore team had some excellent runners, but others were not able to make the run consistent throughout; therefore, this team did more exchanging of places than any other.

In the first mile, Junior Gardner gained a lead at the very beginning and continued to stretch it until at the end of the mile he was a considerable distance ahead of the other runners. The other three runners were pretty well bunched and ended the mile in the following order: Sophomore, Palmer; Senior, Ivey; and Freshman, Merritt. Judge, G. M. Carver.

In the second mile, Sophomore Smith gained slightly on Junior Coman. Freshman Saunders made a good start and passed Senior Anderson, though he did not gain a long lead. The mile ended in this order: Junior, Sophomore, Freshman and Senior, Judge, C. G. Cordle.

The runners in the third mile barely held their own, there being no considerable change in the distances between any two runners except that the Seniors lost slightly. The mile ended as follows: Junior, Taylor; Sophomore, Martin; Freshman Rose and Senior, Brown. Judge A. W. Byrd.

Junior Lilley, running in the place of A. E. Brown, who has been sick, held his lead throughout the fourth mile, while Sophomore Chaffin and Freshman Richardson trailed along in their respective positions without any change. Senior North lost slightly. Judge F. H. Gibbs.

Junior Grigg put up an excellent run in the fifth mile and maintained well the lead which had been given him, possibly adding a little. Sophomore Cunningham made an excellent run on this mile, passing Freshman Poole. Senior Hawfield gained slightly. Judge E. S. Savage.

The feature of the sixth mile was the gain by Sophomore Ruff, who made one of the best runs in the entire race. Junior Matton lost considerably on Ruff, but held his own against the other runners. Freshman Murphy and Senior Carr held their positions with no apparent change. Judge, S. S. Alderman.

Sophomore Scott gained slightly on Junior Hoyle in the seventh mile; and Senior Farrar shortened the distance between himself and Freshman Lewis. Judge W. I. Wooten.

In the eighth mile, Junior Woodward came near losing first place to Sophomore Parker, who made a good run. Senior Bennett made a slight gain on Freshman Small. Order: Junior, Sophomore, Freshman, Senior. Judge, H. M. Ratcliff.

Junior Osborne, on the ninth mile, succeeded in stretching considerably the lead which his team had almost lost. Freshman Westbrook made an excellent run in this mile, passing Sophomore Hartley, who began with a good lead. Senior Barnard made an excellent run here, too, shortening the distance between himself and the men ahead of him. Judge R. N. Wilson.

The tenth mile was in many respects the most interesting of the whole race. At the beginning of the mile, Senior Goforth was a good distance behind Sophomore Bradsher, but gained slightly throughout the mile and in the last hundred yards passed Bradsher. Junior Newton and Freshman Garrison ran their miles well. Judge

SENIORS TAKE FIRST GAME FROM JUNIORS

Class Base Ball Begins With Close and Interesting Game—Final Score 2-0

In the first game of the inter-class base ball series, the seniors struck their winning stride of last season, and won from the Junior aggregation by a score of 2-0.

The game was a decided surprise in that everyone was prepared for a ragged ring-around-a-rosy swat-fest; but the contrary proved to be the case, and the contest was well played throughout.

The seniors were the first to score and they piled up their two counters in the third, when North and Bond doubled to deep left in succession. From then until the end of the game neither side succeeded in pushing a man over the rubber.

Few did the tossing for the seniors, and he succeeded in escaping with only three hits piled up against him, but the juniors have all unanimously decided that it will never happen again. Ring appeared on the mound for the juniors and he pitched a very creditable game, being either especially good in the pinches or exceptionally lucky.

All in all, the game was above the average of the class series; and with a little practice, the class teams could present a very creditable exhibition of how the old game ought to be played.

Batteries: Seniors, Few-Bond; Juniors, Ring-Rone.

1915 CHANTICLEER STAFF BEGINS WORK

EDITOR OF ANNUAL HOLDS IN-FORMAL MEETING TO CON-SIDER PLANS

WILL OFFER PRIZE FOR STORY

Annual to be Given for Best Contributed Article—Financial Status to be Unusually Good

Preliminary steps looking towards the publication of the 1915 Chanticleer were taken last night when Editor E. S. Savage called a meeting of his staff to consult with him. This meeting was the first meeting of the staff, and was held for the purpose of talking over the prospects and getting organized.

A great many questions concerning the make-up of the new annual were brought up, and ways and means of putting out the best edition yet of the Chanticleer were discussed.

Financially, the publication this year will be on firmer ground than ever before, probably. Although W. F. Starnes, the manager of the annual last year, has not yet delivered any formal report of the standing of the management, it is believed that no loss accompanied the publication of the book last year. This year practically all of the organizations have already signified their intention to stand behind the annual again for the coming year. Manager Hinton is certain that little difficulty will be found in coming through the year without financial embarrassment.

One new feature introduced by the editor of the Chanticleer this year is the offering of one volume of the publication to the contributor of the best short story, the best poem, or the best essay. This will lead, no doubt, to the contribution of a large number of good literary productions by the student of the college, and should result in an excellent literary department for the annual. This is another long step in the right direction.

In regard to the general character of the book this year, but few points are now definitely known. The contracts for the engraving and printing have not yet been awarded; but this will be done some time this month or during the early part of next month. The Chanticleer this year will follow the same general type as that of last year, and will be divided into books, or departments, under the direction of the members of the editorial staff. A flexible binding will probably be used this year; and the edition will contain about two hundred and fifty pages of matter, exclusive of advertisements.

Keeping directly in line with its policy of "do it now," the management of the Chanticleer has announced that all pictures must be made before Christmas if possible. It is desired to have all material in before Christmas if possible, in order to facilitate the publication of the edition. One difficulty here tofore in getting the proper financial support has been that the annual has invariably been rather late in getting to press, and consequently rather late in being put on sale. The management this year hopes to obviate this difficulty.

The same plan will be followed this year that was followed last year in regard to the photographic work for the book. Hitchcock's Studio will furnish all of the group pictures, while the individual pictures will be furnished by the Holladay Studio.

The staff of the annual this year consists of the following members: Associate Editors: G. W. H. Britt and B. F. Few.

Business Manager: W. W. Hutton.

Assistant Business Manager: R. M. Johnston.

Humor Department: J. W. Sexton, Jr.

Athletic Department: J. W. Lambeth, Jr., and Raymond Smith.

Department of Organization: E. R. Sykes and R. A. Stamey.

Literary Department: G. W. H. Britt, Banks Arendell.

Co-ed Department: Catherine Thomas and Fannie Vann.

Art Department: J. H. Burrus.

9019 COMMITTEE GETS FAVORABLE REPLIES

CHRONICLE SUBSCRIPTIONS TO TAKE PLACE OF BOOK
PRIZES

During the past week, the 9019 committee on arrangements for the high school declamation contest, which is to take place on November 27, sent out about fifty additional letters to high schools inviting them to send representatives to the contest. In all, about three hundred schools have been invited to take part in this contest.

The committee has already received from various schools which have been invited a number of letters expressing an intention to send representatives.

As was announced in last week's Chronicle, the 9019 has decided to discontinue the ten book prizes which it formerly offered to the ten high schools in North Carolina whose representatives in Trinity College made the highest scholarship records during the preceding year, and has subscribed for The Chronicle to be sent to the reading rooms of thirty-three of the leading high schools in the State as a substitute.

C. L. Bivens, '09, who has taught ever since graduation, has recently gone into business in Monroe.

H. C. Doss, '09, who taught for several years in Trinity Park School, is Teller in one of the leading banks of Oklahoma City.

HANDICAP RACE TO BE RUN OCTOBER 22

NOVEL PLAN INTRODUCED BY CAPTAIN MATTON OF
"VARSITY TRACK"

RACE IS OPEN TO EVERYONE

"T" Men Will Not be Ruled Out in Coming Track Event—All Entries Irrespective of Classes

Track athletics at Trinity will receive an additional forward impulse on October 22, when a handicap track meet will be held. In this race, men from all classes may enter, and new men will be given the advantage over varsity men in a handicap. The object of this meet is to get a line on the new material, and to encourage new men to come out for the various events.

Captain Matton is introducing this meet for the first time in track athletics at Trinity, and is satisfied that it will give an opportunity to get a good line on the new men. All of the events which are run in ordinary intercollegiate meets will be run, including the high and broad jump, the pole vault, the 100 yard dash, the 220, the 440, the half mile, the quarter mile, the mile, the two mile, the shot put and the hammer throw. The high and low hurdles will not be included in this meet, since it will be impossible to get hurdles sufficient at that time.

The running track on the New Athletic Field is now in better condition than ever before, and has developed into one of the fastest tracks in the state. There is a straight run for the hundred yards. The whole track has been worked over again recently, and put into excellent condition.

October 22 has been set for the date of this handicap race, since that seems to be the most logical time. It will give time to relieve the men who have been in training in preparation for the interclass relay race, so that they can begin at once to train for whatever events they choose to enter in the meet. It will also come off before basketball has time to claim the attention of the athletes who would otherwise run.

The meet is to be run irrespective of class, and "T" men will not be ruled out of the races. Anyone may enter any race he chooses by merely giving his name to the captain of the class team. All men who intend entering the races are requested to give in their names as soon as possible, in order that final arrangements can be made in the order of events.

The officials for this meet have not yet been selected, but the meet will be conducted just as any intercollegiate or interclass meet is conducted. The winning of a first place in any event, as in other track meets, will count five points. Second place means a score of three points; and third place means a score of one point.

The captains of the various class teams are as follows: Seniors, R. C. Goforth; Juniors, J. H. Coman; Sophomores, J. H. Ruff; Freshmen, Roy Giles. The list of entries from the various classes will be made up through these men.

EDITORIAL

It is peculiar how a man will pay out his good money—or rather his father's good money—for the avowed purpose of getting an education, and yet will welcome every opportunity of getting out of work. Yet, it seems, this is human nature, and holidays are duly appreciated. The holiday which came last Thursday came as a welcome surprise to everyone, and I was the rejoicing when Dean Cranford announced in chapel that there would be no further school that day. The occasion was the Durham Fair.

The Chanticleer has at last stretched his wings, and is arousing himself. The management of that publication has the right idea and has adopted the policy of "do it now." We wish our contemporary success, and hope that the 1915 Chanticleer will be the best yet.

Cap Card is working all his men on outdoor games, and proposes to do so until cold weather drives him back into the "Bleak House." Cap is determined to make athletics a success as far as general training is concerned.

The Quill Club last Monday night re-opened its rather spasmodic existence. It is hoped that this year the Quill Club will receive more earnest attention from the newspaper workers of Trinity College, and will develop into a real power. It has possibilities as a means of co-operation for correspondents, and can be made a valuable institution.

"I have often noticed," says Josh Billings, "that the man who would have done such great things if he had been there, never gets there." That sentence contains a world of truth. Did anyone ever hear of a man who played the hero by the absent treatment? Did you ever hear of a man who could do work without getting on the job?

Just here comes an application of this principle. The contest for positions on the staff of the CHRONICLE is now in progress, and last Thursday a meeting was to have been held of those men contesting. At this meeting, only one out of the dozen or more contestants showed up.

Needless to say, the meeting was not successful in the highest degree. And also needless to say, the hopes of no one of the candidates could possibly receive any upward stimulus from the remarks that flew about the editorial office concerning the staff in general. But that is a thing of the past; and, incidentally, so is the competition. A list of the four winners will be made out from the work already done by the various contestants, and these names will appear in the next issue of the CHRONICLE, or in the issue following. Until these names are announced, the regular meeting of the staff and contestants will not be held.

OLD MEN BACK ON CAMPUS

Several old men who graduated here in past years have been on the campus during the past week for a day or two. Among them was James Cannon, Jr., who last year edited THE CHRONICLE. Cannon is now connected with the Richmond-Virginian.

T. J. Gill, Jr., now teaching at Goldsboro, was here to do a little research work in the library in connection with his duties as a professor. R. B. Anderson spent Sunday with friends on the campus. W. I. Bost passed through on his way to the western part of the state, where he is to accept a position with the Southern Utilities Company.

ARCHIVE OUT SOON

Editor Wooten, of the Trinity Archive, will probably have the first issue of the publication of which he is in charge off the press this week. The book has been delayed by several unavoidable accidents, and the number now on the press is the number for October.

The first issue of the Archive contains some stories of unusually high order, and contains, as usual, the text of the winning Braxton-Craven Oration of last year. E. Lester Culbreth and others have contributed to the success of the publication from the standpoint of poetry. A complete review of the issue will be carried by THE CHRONICLE as soon as the issue comes from the press, probably next week.

W. A. Cade, a well known figure on the Trinity campus, is in Durham. He came here Tuesday and this morning was married to Miss Ellis, of Durham. Cade is now a member of the North Carolina Conference.

R. B. Sharbrough, a graduate of Millsaps College in Mississippi, entered College on last Thursday as a candidate for the A. M. degree.

LETTERS FROM A FRESHMAN

DEAR FATHER:

A holiday! Yes, what do you know about that? And to see the fair! Several guys told me they had a hunch something of the sort was on the docket, but I figured it was just about as likely to happen as an excursion to a Carolina-A. & M. football game; but we did get a holiday and we all agree that they can do it next year if they want to.

The fair was very good considering; and I've heard several fellows say that we were going to have an exhibit next year. There are several objects on the campus that would take first place at any exposition in the way of antiques. Why that gymnasium would shine anywhere. Its one of those old English models, built on square colonial lines, with everything absolutely plain. It's a dream! Almost a nightmare!

We fall rather short in the live stock line, but figuratively speaking, we have asses galore. There's the guy who wears the latest dun-dun hat. Oh! but you should see the out of the tronsers. Owing to the war, cloth has gone up so that they are taking it out on the trousers—or maybe its just to keep a pace with the feminine fashions. But I'll bet that they'll have a "tue staying with the ladies" styles this season when they begin wearing those fluffy-duffy, all-the-way-cotton outfits. If they do, there will have to be some extensive insertions. Trusting that my pet calf is doing well, I remain

Your affectionate son,
J. W.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

During the past week, the student's Conference of the Y. M. C. A. has been in progress at Elon College. It will be remembered that Trinity was the host of this Conference last year, when the representatives from practically all of the colleges and minor schools of the state were here.

Trinity sent a good representation consisting of eleven men up to Elon College for the meeting. These men were Dalton, H. L., Few, E. C., Blanchard, Boggs, Sercrest, Wooten, Green, Harley, Hamilton, G., Adams, and Hurley.

While at Elon, the representatives from Trinity one night met the representatives from Guilford in an impromptu game of basketball, in which Trinity came out the victor by a score of 9-6.

Love: Result of a full moon on two people, slightly sentimental. Sometimes lasts. Spasmodically recurrent — generally during spring months.

THE DIXIAD

When Homer's masterpiece needed a name, the name of Iliad was given to it; when Virgil needed a title for his wonderful epic, he chose the title of Aeneid; and when E. Lester Culbreth, of the class of '17, produced a volume which should and must have a name, the name chosen was The Dixiad.

The Dixiad takes the name of the leading poem of the volume. It is a collection of the masterpieces of E. Lester Culbreth, poet, otherwise known as "Monk," and has been placed on sale at Trinity for the insignificant sum of twenty-five cents. Besides the Dixiad, the volume contains four other poems, called An Allegory, An Ode to David, Ecstasy of Pen-nance, and a Toast. It also contains an extra page filled with remarkable bits of wisdom done into verse.

No attempt will be made to criticize this deep and impressively intellectual volume. Its fine points are too deep for the comprehension of ordinary man. To discover and search out its fine points, it would take a Mathew Arnold, a Ruskin, a Carlyle—or possibly—a Sherlock Holmes.

QUILL CLUB HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

Newspaper Correspondents Meet for Purpose of Reorganizing—R. A. Stamey, President

The Quill Club, an organization for the purpose of promotion of co-operation among the newspaper correspondents of Trinity College, met for the first time this year Monday night.

The first business of the meeting was to elect new officers for the coming year. The new officers are as follows: President, R. A. Stamey, of Greensboro; vice-president J. W. Wallace, of Statesville; secretary-treasurer, J. W. Lambeth, of Thomasville; and chairman of the Executive Committee, Professor R. L. Flowers.

After the election of officers, Professor Flowers proceeded to explain the purpose of the club and give some suggestions for the club's betterment.

He asserted that there was no other one factor which helped the college more than this newspaper corresponding. Men who are preparing for college will naturally be interested in reading news of the different colleges; consequently to push forward the work of newspaper corresponding would be to better Trinity's chances for getting great numbers of new men.

Professor Flowers, in speaking of ways that the club could be pushed forward, explained that the executive committee could be a big help in this way by making a list of all newspapers and getting men to correspond for the papers in their respective counties. He said that later on, when the club has been increased in numbers, it might be possible to get some of the successful newspaper men of the state to come and give the club talks about the newspaper business.

President Few has returned to the campus after an absence of almost a week.

PROSPECTS SEEM GOOD IN CLASS BASKET BALL

Some 'Varsity Material in Evidence
Among New Men—Freshman Team Strong

As the basket-ball season draws nearer and the old men are beginning to train for the strenuous winter sport, the prospects for a successful season are growing daily brighter.

The team received a signal loss in the absence of Cherry and McKinnon, last year's center and forward respectively; but the presence of likely new material is somewhat of a consolation.

Cochran, a freshman from Vermont, matriculated during the past week, and though there has been no official basketball practice as yet, from his appearance on the field he appears to be at home on the court. Other new men who are to some degree experienced on the floor are Scholar, of Wilmington, and Marr, of Charlotte. Whether these men prove themselves to be up to the varsity standard or not, it is apparent that the freshmen team will be unusually strong.

The sophomore team will have to rely upon its last year's men as a nucleus. Martin, who played a consistent and aggressive game at guard during the past year, will be back at his old position and Le Grand, the other guard, will no doubt be on hand. Anderson, McKinnon, Smith and Mayes, of last year's squad, are all back on the campus, and with one year's experience the sophomores should be formidable contestants.

The personnel of the junior team will appear no doubt practically the same as during the past two seasons, with Ferrell, Matton, Wallace, Patton, Bunting, Lillie and A. E. Brown to pick from.

The line-up of the senior aggregation, with the exception of probably one position, will very likely be the same as last season's, with Anderson, Downey and Carr on the two forwards, with "Big" Lee Hawfield at center, and Mills, a former junior guard, as one of the guards.

The race for class championship will without doubt prove a very exciting struggle, at least highly entertaining to the spectators; for if the present season doesn't differ very materially from the past, there will be numerous exhibitions of the "hard-boy" variety of game.

The object of the class series is to develop material for the varsity, and it is to be hoped that every man who is capable will take advantage of this opportunity.

RUTHERFORD COLLEGE CLUB

The Rutherford College Club held its first meeting for the year 1913-'14 last Tuesday night. Nearly all of the old members were present, and to their number they added the following new men: W. F. Hendley, L. H. McNeely, H. B. Teeter, L. Frazier, H. G. Love, R. W. Giles, John Cline, R. E. Jordan, G. N. Earnhardt, and D. E. Earnhardt.

Just as heretofore, the Club decided to assume the responsibility of one unit in the publication of the Annual for this year.

D. C. Lewis, President of the Y. M. C. A. of the college, and also manager of the Tombs band, is back on the campus again, and will resume his work with the senior class. He has been unable to attend school up to this time on account of illness. R. H. Bennett, who was a freshman here last year, has also returned to college.

ANNUAL RELAY RACE IS WON BY JUNIORS (Continued from Page One)

Prof. R. N. Wilson.

The time of the race was not so good as it has been in former years, but this loss in time may be attributed to the bad condition of a great part of the road over which the course lay. The Junior ran the ten miles in 56:25; the Freshmen, in 56:50; the Seniors, in 57:28; and the Sophomores in 57:30. The fastest time last year was 55:27.

At the end of the race, President Few awarded the Snider-Wilcox-Fletcher loving cup to Captain Osborne, of the Junior team, and read the following messages which had been carried through the course by the runners of the various classes:

1915: "Twas ours to do our best. The issue rested with the Gods." President B. H. Siler.

1916: "We have run a good race." President R. M. Johnston.

1917: "Trinity and '17 forever." President Roderick A. Stamey.

1918: "We did our best. Who can do more?" President J. E. Bennett.

although the meet will not be run as an interclass meet. It is supposed to be a free-for-all affair, open to any man who wishes to try himself out in track work. It is primarily for the purpose of finding out the new material, and not for the purpose of showing off the fine qualities of the old men in the different events.

Although absolutely untried heretofore, this handicap meet will, thinks Captain Matton, mean a great deal to track athletics at Trinity. It will give the best possible opportunity to get a line on the freshmen class, and to see what new material has developed in the higher classes. The handicap feature will bring out many men who would be unwilling to pit themselves against the more experienced men—who may possibly prove to be stars, but who had never tried any track work before and do not know their own abilities in such work.
