WASHINGTON AND LEE DEFEATED IN DEBATE

TRINITY TRIO TRIUMPHS WITH TWO-TO-ONE DECISION OF JUDGES.

PREPAREDNESS THE QUESTION

W. R. Shelton, H. C. Greenberg, and W. W. Matthews Represent Trinity—Kunfer, Cox, and Falk for W. and L.

Trinity defeated Washington and Lee University in the first debate of a series of two in Craven Memorial Hall Saturday evening by a two-to-one decision. The Trinity team, composed of Henry C. Greenberg and W. R. Shelton, of Durham, and W. W. Matthews, of Vidalia, Ga., upheld the affirmative of the query, "Resolved: That the proposed administration policy of armament increase is demanded by the best interests of the United States;" and the Washington and Lee speakers, Charles Kunfer, a Senior in the law school, of New York, William J. Cox, a Junior, of Maryland, and David A. Falk, a Senior, of Florida, supported the negative.

The debate was attended by perhaps the largest audience ever seen at a debate here; and interest never flagged during the two-hour contest. The arguments of both sides were well prepared and effectively presented. The debate was undoubtedly one of the hottest and closest ever held here.

President William P. Few presided over the contest. Mr. J. W.
Spransy, of Durham, was timekeeper, and the committee of judges was composed of Hon.
Thurston T. Hicks, of Henderson; Dr. Edwin Greenlaw of the faculty of the University of North Carolina; and Mr. W. L. Foushee, of the Durham bar. Members of Tau Kappa Alpha acted as ushers.

An informal smoker, attended by the speakers, the officers and judges of the debate, members of the Debate Council, former Inter-society debaters, the members of Tau Kappa Alpha, and the presidents of the literary societies, was given in the Columbian Hall immediately after the debate.

Dr. W. H. Glasson, of the department of economics, acted as toastmaster and called upon the following: D. A. Falk, of the visiting team; W. W. Matthews, of the Trinity team; Hon. T. T. Hicks, one of the judges; Mr. W. L. Foushee, another judge; Mr. Holland Holton, instructor in debating; Mr. Morris Masinter, coach of the Washington and Lee team; Mr.
J. W. Spransy, timekeeper, of the debate; and President W. P. Few.

Cocoa, salmon salad, satines, and cigars were served by the ladies of the Campus Club.

Following are synopses of the six speeches:

W. R. SHELTON, TRINITY

The affirmative argument was opened by Shelton with a presentation of three possible policies open to the United States: First, absolute disarmament, the heeding of the cry of the pacifist; second, extreme militarism, such as was followed by the nations of Central Europe before the war; third, a moderate policy, suitable to the needs of the United States, such as

TRINITY AGAIN DROPS GAME TO WAKE FOREST

CLEAN, HARD-FOUGHT GAME LOST TO BAPTISTS
40 TO 28.

CHAMPIONSHIP TO WAKE FOREST

Holding and Hall, of Wake Forest, Get Seven Goals Each—Anderson and Martin Star for Trinity.

Last Friday night, for the second time during the past season, Trinity bowed down in defeat to the strong Wake Forest quint on the latter's floor, the score being 40 to 28. Wake Forest now has a clear title to the championship of the State, having played twelve games with North Carolina colleges and won them all.

Although the score indicates that the defeat was decisive one, the Trinity team worked hard and consistently throughout the whole game; and it was not until the referee's whistle blew at the end of the second half that the outclassed Trinity team was willing to relinquish all hope of winning.

Both teams put up a hard-fought struggle from start to finish and, despite the decisive score, the game was most interesting. The game was practically devoid of that roughness which usually characterizes a close and hotly contested combat. Both teams showed ex-

MOTHER OF DEAN MORDECAI DIES HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

WOULD HAVE BEEN 96 IN APRIL
—NO CLASSES HELD MON-DAY MORNING.

After a residence on Trinity Park since the fall of 1904, Mrs.
Ellen Mordecai, aged 95, was suddenly called by death Saturday evening at the home of her son, Dean Samuel F. Mordecai, of the Law School. Her illness was but a few days' duration, and Mrs.
Mordecai was extremely active and interested in all matters until shortly before her death. She would have been 96 on April 12 next.

As a mark of respect to this friend of the College, classes were suspended Monday morning, and the flag floated at half-mast.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Christ Church, Raleigh, of which Mrs.
Mordecai had for years been a communicant. The local pallbearers to the morning train were:
Professors W. S. Lockhart and H.
G. Hedrick; Mr. R. M. Gannt, of the Durham bar; and S. S. Alderman, A. W. Byrd, F. H. Gibbs, W. L. Johnson, and I. R. Strayhorn, of the Senior Law Class. Interment was at Oakwood Cemetery, Raleigh. The pall-bearers were: Mayor James I. Johnson, Dr. J. S. McKee, Mr. W. B.
Grimes, Mr. Edgar Haywood, Mr.
B. G. Cowper, Mr. Chas. McKimmon, Mr. Chas. Root, and Mr.
Marshall Del. Haywood.

Mrs. Mordecai was born in Raleigh, April 12, 1820, the daughter of Moses and Margaret Lane Mordecai. For a short while after her marriage to her cousin, S. F. Mordecai, she resided away from Ra-

TRINITY AND A. AND M. DIVIDE TWO CONTESTS

TRINITY WINS HERE, 31-22, BUT LOSES IN RALEIGH BY 27-23 SCORE.

LAST GAME WAS HARD-FOUGHT

A. and M. Easily Outclassed Wednesday—Final Contest Among Best in Season—Ferrell Stars in Both Games.

Trinity and A. and M. divided basketball honors evenly during last week, Trinity winning here Wednesday night, 31 to 22, and A. and M. winning in Raleigh Saturday night, 27 to 25.

FIRST GAME

The Aggies showed superior ability in passing, but found it difficult to find the basket. The local team, however, was somewhat better than usual in shooting from the field and insisted on taking long shots rather than passing.

The first half was rather slow and uninteresting, the visitors not being able to get warmed up; and when the gun was fired, the score stood 18 to 9 in favor of Trinity.
In the final period, however, A. and M. showed much better form in every respect and scored the same number of points as the locals—thirteen.

Captain Martin led the scoring of the locals with two field goals and nine foul goals out of thirteen chances, and held his opponent, Sullivan, to two goals. Ferrell, however, was undoubtedly the most effective offensive player of the Trinity five. During the first half he had extremely hard luck, several times having the ball roll around the basket only finally to roll off capriciously. Twice, however, he pocketed the ball during this half, and during the last half he was accredited with three goals.
Patton held the fast Aggie forward, Temple, to one field goal and shot one himself. Under the close guarding of Captain Mason, Anderson was able to get but one field goal, but several times did effective passing. Bunting pocketed the ball twice and held his opponent to one field goal.

Lindsay, center, led the A. and M. scoring with one field goal and eight foul goals out of fifteen.

ALL-STATE QUINTET

Coach "Bo" Doak yesterday announced his choice of an All-State basketball quintet as follows: Forwards, Long, of Carolina, W. Holding, of Wake Forest, and Anderson, of Trinity, substitute; center, Franks, of Wake Forest, with Bunting, of Trinity, as substitute; and guards, Captain Martin, of Trinity, and Johnson, of Carolina, with Captain Mason, of A. and M., as substitute.
Honorable mention was given Ferrell, of Trinity, and Hall, of Wake Forest, forwards; Lindsay, of A. and M., and Tandy, of Carolina, centers; and Beam, of Wake Forest, and Reese, of Davidson, guards.

Next week THE CHRONICLE will carry a full story of an All-State quintet to be announced next Sunday by Sporting Editor W. C.
Dowd, Jr., of the Charlotte News, on the basis of letters from all coaches in the State.

SEASON CLOSES WITH WIN OVER GUILFORD

QUAKERS OVERWHELMED HERE
LAST NIGHT BY SCORE
OF 61 TO 23.

CAPT. MARTIN SCORES 33 POINTS

Visitors Unable to Make Things Interesting for Locals—Ferrell and Lilley Show Good Form.

Trinity closed the basketball season here last night by overwhelming Guilford by a score of 61 to 23. As indicated by the one-sided score, the game was slow and uninteresting and failed to arouse much enthusiasm on the side-lines. The visitors were completely outclassed and at no stage of the game even so much as made things interesting for the local five.

The one redeeming feature of the game was the stellar work of Captain Martin, who scored a total of thirty-three points. Ferrell, at right forward, was in the game at all times and safely pocketed six field goals before he was taken from the game at the beginning of the second period. Lilley played an unusually good defensive game besides securing two goals from the floor. In fact the whole Trinity team showed up exceptionally well both in offense and defense.

For the visitors, Captain Sea-

JOHN C. BOGGS ELECTED MANAGER OF CHRONICLE

SUCCEEDS T. J. SWAIN, RESIGN-ED—P. L. SAMPLE NEW ASSISTANT

John C. Boggs, of Lynchburg, Va., a member of the Junior Class, was Monday night elected business manager of THE CHRONI-CLE to succeed Thomas J. Swain, who had resigned.

Swain had been connected with the business end of the paper for more than two years. He served as assistant manager during most of his Sophomore year and all of his Junior year and was last spring elected manager for the present year. He has made a success of the managership thus far, but, upon finding it necessary to leave College, he last Friday tendered his resignation to the Governing Board.

The Governing Board last Friday afternoon elected T. R. Summers manager for the remainder of the year, but he was unable to accept on account of other work.

The Board met Monday night in the room of Chairman Wallace and elected Boggs to the manager-ship. Although the new manager was never before connected with THE CHRONICLE, he was last fall elected to an assistant managership of the Archive, in which position he has done good work and has received training and experience which will be valuable to him in his work as manager of the weekly.

Assistant Manager Farmer and Jordan yesterday tendered their resignations to Manager Boggs.
No other men will be appointed as assistant managers from the Junior Class this year, but Manager Boggs has appointed Paul L.
Sample, of the Sophomore Class, an assistant.

TEN GAMES WON AND TEN LOST IN SEASON

LOCALS SCORE TOTAL OF 641 POINTS TO 554 FOR ALL OPPONENTS.

MARTIN RE-ELECTED CAPTAIN

Anderson Scores 65 Field Goals, Leading Team—Martin Scores 237 Points—Full Record
of Season.

Ten games won and ten games lost tells the story of one of the most successful basketball seasons that Trinity has ever had. In the games played Trinity team scored 641 points against its opponents 554, Trinity being eighty-seven points in the lead. It is a significant fact to notice that the record made by the team this year exactly equals the one made by last season's team from the standpoint of games won and lost.

In the number of field goals scored by the team during the past season Anderson, Trinity's left forward, leads by a good margin, having sixty-five field goals to his credit. Both second in the number of field goals scored and foremost in the number of points scored, Captain Martin, left guard, is in the lead of his team-mates. He has to his credit for the entire season fifty-four field goals and one hundred and forty-one foul goals.
Ferrell and Bunting follow closely Captain Martin's record, the former with fifty-one field goals to his credit, the latter forty-eight.
Swan, comes next with nine goals.
Lilley and Patton each are accredited with six goals. Matton, Mayes and Richardson bring up the rear with four, two, and one goals, respectively.

The honor of having scored the largest number of points in a single game goes to Captain Martin, who in the final game of the season with Guilford threw thirteen field goals, and seven foul goals for a total of forty-three points. Anderson comes second with twelve field goals in the first game with Guilford. The largest score amassed by Trinity against her opponents during the past season was sixty-one points, the total number scored against Guilford in the final game of the season. The worst defeat administered to Trinity by her opponents was at the hands of the Cardinal Athletic Club, of Lynchburg, which piled up a total of forty-five points to Trinity's twenty-eight. It is a noteworthy fact that Trinity held down this season the University of Virginia, at whose hands she received her worst defeat last year, to a thirty-four-thirty-one victory.

A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Although the Trinity basketball team has not had a particularly brilliant season in point of games won and has failed to win the State championship, the team has had on the whole a successful season.

When practice began early in October, there were two "T" men, and a boy of hopeful interclass players, some good, some mediocre and some bad, out of which to make a team. It looked like a hopeless task. The captain went to work, however, as cheerfully as if he had a whole gym, full of "Jenny" Brims and Beal Silers and "Shag" Thornes and—well, it's no use to go further—; "Bob" Doak came down and went to work; and, what's more, all those hopefuls went to work.

The result of this work has been that Trinity put out more than an average team and won half the games. Great credit should be given Captain Martin for the record which the team has made, and his re-election last night to the captaincy was a fitting recognition of the hard and faithful work he has done. Every student in College recognizes the inestimable value which Coach Doak has been to the team. Under his pilotage practically raw material has been developed into a first-class team. It is to be hoped that the Athletic Council will take full cognizance of this fact and see to it immediately that Doak is retained for next year.

BETTER ATTITUDE SHOWN

The Trinity-Washington and Lee debate Saturday night was attended by a larger audience perhaps than any intercollegiate debate ever held here before, and there was a wider interest in the outcome of the debate than usual. For this fact the students deserve commendation, although they did nothing more than was due the debaters.

Debating and all other forms of public speaking have for many years been rather neglected by the students in general, for few have taken an active part and few have been willing to give proper support to those who have taken a part. Debating just as much deserves the support of the students as does athletics or any other form of student activity. Trinity has not lost a series of debates in six years. Certainly that is a record which cannot be equalled by any of the various forms of athletics.

As was pointed out above, however, this condition of affairs seemed to have improved Saturday evening, and there is no reason why it should not improve further. For the success of intercollegiate debating here during the last few years much credit should go to Mr. Holton, instructor of debating and coach of the intercollegiate teams. Since he took up this work, Trinity has lost but two debates out of seven.

MANAGER BOOGS

With pleasure THE CHRONICLE announces the election of J. C. Boggs as business manager to succeed T. J. Swain, resigned.

Swain has been a pleasant, interested, and hard-working colleague in the work of conducting the paper, and it is with regret that his services are parted with.

Boggs has served as assistant manager of the Archive during the present year and has done efficient work in that capacity. Pledging a hearty co-operation, THE CHRONICLE wishes him success in the work and welcomes him to the managership.

Members of the Sophomore and Senior Class and law and graduate students are invited to a tea to be given in the parlors of the East Duke Building by the Campus Club, Friday afternoon.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Historical Society was held Monday evening in the Economics Room. J. K. Turner read a paper on "Baptists in Edgecombe County."

Dr. Boyd reported an interesting exhibit for the annual and presented the exhibits. Among these were a part of the machinery used in the first cotton mill in North Carolina; a file of the South Atlantic Quarterly, presented by Dr. J. S. Bassett to replace the numbers lost in the Main Building fire; a lump of pitch from the Teach Hole on the Carolina coast; a rare collection of Revolutionary money; a large Porto Rican medal struck in honor of Ponce de Leon; and a copy of the first printed set of baseball rules.

KAPPA DELTA INITIATION

On last Friday evening, preliminary to the annual initiation of new members into the local chapter of the Kappa Delta sorority, four young ladies were the victims of the torturous and the stuffy-horse-play characteristic of such initiations. The following night at the home of Miss Mary White Cranford the four candidates were put through the serious part of the initiatory ceremonies.

Immediately following the ritualistic ceremonies the initiates, Misses Doris Overton, of Greenville, Myrtle Humble, of Kinston, and Nannie Karnes and Gertrude Fallon, both of Durham, were guests of honor at a delightful five-course dinner. Between the courses Miss Ella Tuttle, acting as toastmistress, called upon the following young ladies for short talks: Miss Estelle Flowers, "The Alumnae;" Miss Mary Erwin, "Sigma Delta Chapter;" and Miss Gertrude Fallon, "The Goats."

There were present to enjoy the occasion Mrs. W. T. Laprade, Mrs. F. C. Brown, and Mrs. C. W. Edwards, honorary members; Miss Estelle Flowers, of the alumnae; Misses Doris Overton, Myrtle Humble, Nannie Karnes, and Gertrude Fallon, initiates; and Misses Mary Erwin, Ella Tuttle, Kathleen Bain, and Mary White Cranford.

ARTICLE BY DR. MOORE

"The First of the Militants in English Literature" is the title of a valuable and interesting article by Dr. C. A. Moore, of the department of English here, which The Nation featured in a recent issue. The article has attracted wide attention for its scholarly character as well as for its interesting appropriateness at this time. Dr. Moore had two purposes in preparing the study: First, to explain the modern radicalism shown by the anonymous author of two book on woman's rights (1739, 1740); and second, to prove that the author plagiarized freely from the work of a French feminist of the seventeenth century. In both of these Dr. Moore succeeded admirably well.

It will be of interest to the college community to know that Dr. Garland Greever, who received his master of arts degree from Trinity in 1906 and the degree of doctor of philosophy in English from Harvard University a year ago, is meeting with success in his work. He is now a member of the faculty of English in Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia. After leaving Trinity, Dr. Greever was instructor of English in the Durham High School, later going to Harvard, where he made an enviable record. Just before going to his present position he held a traveling fellowship from Harvard and spent a year or more in Europe. Dr. Greever is a writer and author of unusual ability. A volume of his on Bowles' Correspondence is expected from the press during the coming spring months.

Miss Kathleen Bain, a member of the Sophomore Class, returned Saturday from her home in Fayetteville, where she has been convalescing from an operation.

mans, although allowing his opponent, Martin, to get away from him many times, probably played the best game and led the scoring with a total of ten points. Worth, at right guard, scored seven points for his team besides holding his opponent, Anderson, to one field goal. Smith at times showed up fairly well, but none of the visitors really played first-class ball.

WASHINGTON AND LEE DEFEATED IN DEBATE (Continued from Page One)

the administration approved and the affirmative advocated. The theme of his speech was "moderate preparateness against reasonable possible attack." He quoted figures to show the inadequacy of the present defenses of the country and proposed to round out and fill up the gaps.

CHAS. KUPFER, W. AND L.

In opening the negative argument, Kupfer stated that at this critical hour in the world's history when Europe is ablaze with war, some men draw but one lesson, namely, that America should follow the example of other nations and arm for war on a scale unprecedented in size. Such men hold that any program which does not consider the perversity of human nature is doomed to failure. So reasoned the philosophers of Europe in the past, and the present war is proof of the fallacy of the theory. If the United States prepares, suspicion will be bred and other nations will be incited to rivalry. At the close of this war, European nations will seek a saner doctrine. Shall we extend to them the warm hand of friendship, or hold before their eyes the mailed fist?

H. C. GREENBERG, TRINITY

The second speaker on the affirmative, Greenberg, began with a summary of the argument of his predecessor. He then proceeded to show that the policy advocated by the affirmative was a moderate preparateness for defense only. He showed how our geographical advantage made extreme preparateness unnecessary although some preparateness is essential. He pointed out in history that wars are not things of the past, and that the United States is not immune from war. We are endangered by the conflicting interests of other nations and on account of the Monroe Doctrine and our commercial supremacy.

W. J. COX, W. AND L.

The second negative speaker maintained that the adoption of the proposed policy of armament increase was unnecessary, in view of conditions which will undoubtedly exist at the close of the European war. Preparateness for entrance into the war was not to be considered. Taking up the three foreign powers which could at be considered as possible enemies of the United States, Cox showed that Japan was saddled with an enormous debt from the war with Russia which would render her powerless for years to come, that Germany had respected our wishes in the past when our desires had been in conflict, and would not wish to attack an equal in naval strength at the close of the present war, and that Great Britain was too closely bound to us by ties of blood and common welfare to be considered as an actual enemy.

W. W. MATTHEWS, TRINITY

The closing affirmative argument, presented by W. W. Matthews, was that the policy of preparedness was reasonable because it is clear in principle, because it takes into consideration dangers arising from the present lack of preparedness and seeks to remedy them and because it binds the country for only five years. The policy is moderate because it is a medium between two extremes and because it does not tend toward militarism. The policy is adequate because it provides sufficient protection for our coasts and our commerce because it is sufficient to con-

SOPHOMORE DEBATE QUERY

The English Department has definitely decided upon the following question for the Sophomore Debate: "Granted the right under the Constitution, should Congress pass a bill prohibiting all producers, manufacturers, dealers, and companies whatsoever from employing in labor, for profit, any child under fourteen years of age?"

The Sophomore Debate is an annual debate in which all who take Sophomore composition participate. All who take this course are required to hand in debates and the ten who do best work contest in Craven Memorial Hall sometime in April for the prize, a complete set of Shakespeare offered by Mr. James H. Southgate, of Durham. These debates have taken place for several years and usually arouse great interest among the second-year men. The prize was won last year by H.
C. West.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

The report of Mr. J. P. Broad-love, college librarian, to the faculty committee on publications for the year ending February 1, 1916, shows that 7,164 cards have been made and filed in the catalogues of the library and that 3,353 continuations and additional copies of books have been entered on the catalogue cards. The total number of books catalogued and shelved during the year was 5,144, and the total number of accessions to the Library for the year was 1,696.
The Library now contains about 50,000 bound volumes.

The last speaker for the negative stated that he was arguing for more efficiency, not for the simple expenditure of more money. He showed that the chief ill of our navy are not the lack of submarine and dreadnaughts, but inadequate numbers of men, inferior gunnery, deficient strategy, pork-barrel navy yards, and slow ships. He stated that the army was short-handed by 10,000 because the conditions of army life are obnoxious. In closing, he urged this dilemma: If the United States is to be in no danger of war, then the adoption of the administration plan is unwise and unnecessary. If the United States is to be in danger of attack, then the administration policy is puny, insufficient, and hopeless.

chances. Captain Mason held Anderson to a single field goal and scored three himself. Sullivan was effective in passing, but was not accurate in goal-shooting and showed some tendency toward toughness.

SECOND GAME

The A. and M. quint evened with Trinity in the Auditorium at Raleigh Saturday evening by capturing a fast and rough contest by one field goal in the last minute of play. The final score was 27 to 25 and indicates well the balance of the two teams. At no point in the game was either team four point ahead. Both teams played aggressively throughout, and Trinity lost only through its ineffective goal-shooting. The passing was of a high order, but on a floor larger than the one accustomed to, Trinity repeatedly lost the ball on long passes or failed on difficult field goals. In defense Trinity was considered to have put up the best exhibition seen in Raleigh this year.

This game marked the close of the A. and M. season. The entire Aggie team played consistent ball throughout. Captain Mason, at left guard, and Lindsay, at center, were easily the stars of the A. and M. aggregation. Sullivan and Temple were inaccurate in the forward positions. Lilley and Martin allowed the Aggie forwards on one field goal apiece. Ferrell caged three field goals, and for his fast offensive work deserves credit as the star of the game, although he tried too many long shots, many of which were unsuccessful.
Martin also was good, particularly in his offensive work. He pocketed two field goals and five free goals.

Line-up: Trinity—Ferrell, r. f.
(6); Anderson, l. f. (4); Bunting, c. (6); Lilley, r. g.; Capt.
Martin, l. g. (9).

A. and M.—Sullivan, r. f. (2); leigh, but returned shortly, on the death of her husband. In the fall of 1904 she came to Durham to live with her son, who at that time became dean of the Law School.

Besides her son, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Morel, of Savannah, Ga., and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Mordecai was no ordinary woman. In intellectual endowments and literary acquirements she had few equals. She was a thorough French scholar and was well acquainted with the masterpieces of that language, as well as the best English and American literature. Age did not dim her intellect or her interest in present-day affairs. In her domestic relations, she had drawn her family and friends close to her by her gentle sweetness of disposition and beauty of character.

WORK OF EDUCATION DEPT.

The Department of Education of the College has just set on foot plans which have for their purpose strengthening the teaching service of the high schools of Durham County and adjusting the work of the schools more effectively to the needs of the county.

The high schools are now being inspected with a view to assisting the teacher in the planning and teaching of the high school subjects. For several years Professor E. C. Brooks has directed the professional training of the teachers in the county, but attention has been largely confined to those in the grammar grades and primary grades. The recent plans of the work complete the scheme for training all the teachers in the county in a specific manner. The high school work is under the direction of Professor Brooks and Dr. Edgar W. Knight, and the work of the grammar grades and the primary grades is under the supervision of Professor Brooks, who is assisted by Mrs. James A. Robinson, supervisor of the primary grades of the City Schools.

H. L. Wilson, '13, is now assistant auditor of the DuPont Powder Company at Hopewell, Va.

cellent team work, and the passing was at times spectacular, but both teams seemed to have much difficulty in finding the basket.

For Wake Forest, Captain Holding, Hall, and Beam were the outstanding stars. W. Holding led his team in scoring with seven field goals and two out of four chances at foul goals. Hall also threw seven field goals. Beam the Baptists' husky right forward, held Anderson to four field goals and threw five himself.

Anderson, Captain Martin, Ferrell, and Bunting did the best work for Trinity. Anderson was in his old-time form in passing and had four field goals accredited him. Martin led Trinity's scoring with two field goals and six out of eleven free goal shots. Ferrell was in the game every minute and pocketed the ball three times. Bunting held Franks, Wake Forest's fast center, scoreless and scored one field goal himself.

Line-up: Trinity—Ferrell, r. f. (6); Anderson, l. f. (8); Bunting, c. (2); Patton, r. g. (2); Captain Martin, l. g. (10).
