BASEBALL PRACTICE CONTINUES STEADILY

STRONG CORPS OF PITCHERS EXPECTED OF EIGHT BOX CANDIDATES.

PRACTICE GAME TO BE PLAYED

Strenuous Daily Practice Held by Coach West—Team Promises To Be Especially Strong With Stick.

Baseball practice has continued with most encouraging results in spite of the bad weather. A large squad continues to appear, and there is a hot rivalry for almost every position, with none quite definitely closed. Practice on the Old Hanes Field continues, the new field having been too wet to be worked upon until recently.

Manager Ferrell has just made several interesting announcements. A practice game with the Durham Hosiery Mill is being arranged for Saturday, the 11th, or the 18th. Work has just begun on the new field, and with the use of a steam roller the field should be put into good condition within a short time. It is probable that the grass will be removed for an all-dirt diamond. The assistant managers are now engaged in selling season tickets, and from the team expected and the advertising to be done, it is expected that the attendance this year will exceed that of last year. Ben Muse, of the Smokeshop, has been sold the right to supply refreshments, and he will erect a stand for that purpose. For the Southern trip, a special private car has been leased on the Seaboard.

The practice thus far has been of a strenuous nature. Almost daily from 2:45 to 6 p. m. a squad of thirty men has gone through the routine prescribed by Coach West. A bit of running opens each day's work, and there follows a great deal of batting practice, a five- or six-inning game when the weather permits, and a final stiff infield and outfield practice. This schedule is followed regularly, and the Coach promises more rigid practice as the weather becomes warmer. Signal practice has already been indulged in with great success.

Seven letter men are returned: Captain Durham, Earnhardt, Few, Flythe, Love, Rone, and Powell; and all these men seem to be in a fair way to retain their positions. Around this nucleus, indications are that there will be built up one of the strongest and hardest hitting teams seen here for several years. Every old man is a veteran at his position, and many of the new men have likewise had considerable experience. Of these, Leder, candidate for catcher, played on the Weaver College team for two years and has played on the team at his hometown, Cooleemee. He seems assured of his position, and indications are that he will be a worthy successor of "Frosty" Maddox. Other candidates for this position are Wrenn and Chandler. Beal, who seems to be first choice for the initial bag, has also had two years' experience on the Weaver nine. He is a left-hander and a good hitter. Ellis and Edens are also candidates for

C. S. BUNN ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY OF Y. M. C. A.

LARKIN IS VICE-PRESIDENT—GOBBEL SECRETARY—CARR TREAS.

At the regular annual election of the Young Men's Christian Association last Wednesday evening, the following officers were chosen for the year: President, C. S. Bunn, Bailey; vice-president, L. C. Larkin, Carthage; secretary, L. L. Gobbel, Spencer; and treasurer, W. K. Carr, Charlotte.

The old custom of the Y. M. C. A. of electing officers at the close of the calendar year is this year departed from for the first time, under the new constitution. The original plan was to have the newly elected officers assume their duties immediately upon election, but it was decided Wednesday evening to have the old officers continue until the first of April, the new men in the meantime having an opportunity to familiarize themselves with their duties.

Bunn was secretary of the Association during the past year and in that capacity gained a great amount of information and experience which will be of value to him in his new office. Larkin has received similar experience as chairman of the committee on music. Gobbel and Carr have had no official experience.

this position. Falls, a former Rutherford College player, has shown vast improvement at second base since the beginning of spring practice. Graham is a good alternate at second, third, and outfield, with Carver also playing at second. Captain Durham is at his old position, at third base, Whitener substituting in good style. Love, the only candidate at short, is showing speed and batting ability.

The pitching staff promises to be a strong one. The candidates are Earnhardt, Lamb, Mason, (Continued on Page Three)

"BOB" DOAK TO COACH TRINITY TRACK TEAM

LATE BASKETBALL TRAINER TO REMAIN ON CAMPUS AS TRACK COACH.

INTERCLASS MEET ON MARCH 20

Schedule of Five Meets Announced—Two With A. and M., Two With Wake Forest, and Annual State Meet.

Announcement has just been made to the effect that "Bob" Doak, who for the past basketball season was trainer and coach of the Trinity quint, will remain on the campus this spring as coach of the Trinity track team. Doak began his duties as track coach yesterday, when he started the candidates on a cross-country run.

This is the first time in Trinity's track history that there has been an outside coach and trainer of the numerous candidates who try out for the squad each season. Ever since the beginning of track athletics here the captain of the team usually served as coach and trainer. With the securing of an outside coach, track athletics here will doubtless receive a forward boost, and in all probability the team this year will make a better showing with the other teams of the state than it ever made before.

Manager Arendell has announced a schedule of five meets for the coming season as follows: April 1—A. and M., at Raleigh; April 8—A. and M., at Trinity; April 14—Wake Forest, at Wake Forest; April 18—Wake Forest, at Trinity; April 29—State Meet, at Chapel Hill.

Captain Matton reports that the squad, which during the past week has been increased to thirty-five to forty men, has been divided up for regular daily practicing. The squad has been divided up into several divisions, each of which has a certain hour to report on the (Continued on Page Three)

CAPT. MARTIN GETS PLACE ON ALL-STATE QUINTET

ANDERSON, FORWARD, BUNTING, CENTER, GET HONORABLE MENTION.

Sporting Editor W. C. Dowd, Jr., of the Charlotte News, announced on Sunday the result of his unique scheme of choosing an All-State basketball quintet on the basis of the choices of the coaches in the State. The team chosen was as follows: Forwards, Holding, of Wake Forest, and Long, of Carolina, with Hall, of Wake Forest, as substitute; center, Franks, of Wake Forest, with Lindsay, of A. and M., as substitute; and guards, Captain Martin, of Trinity, Captain Mason, of A. and M., Captain Johnson, of Carolina, and Beam, of Wake Forest, all of whom got the same number of votes.

Several days ago Mr. Dowd wrote all of the seven coaches in the State to make their choice of the best eight players on the various college teams, and it was on the basis of six of these that the above team was chosen, the Elon coach failing to pick a team.

All six coaches agreed that Captain "Bill" Holding, of Wake Forest, and "Meb" Long, of Carolina, were superior to every other forward in the State and the place of substitute-forward went to "Alec" Hall, the running mate of Holding. Anderson, of Trinity, being the only other man considered for a place on the offensive end of the team, got honorable mention.

Franks, of Wake Forest, received the unanimous vote of the coaches for center, and Lindsay, of A. and M., running a close second, was awarded the place as substitute. Bunting, of Trinity, was the only other center in the State to receive mention, and thereby was given honorable mention.

One of the coaches said, "There are so many good guards in the State that this position will fall to

FACULTY HOUSES TO BE REMOVED THIS SUMMER

WIDENING OF GUESS STREET NECESSITATES REMOVAL OF LANDMARKS.

BUILT TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

After Having Seen Long Progress of College, Houses Give Way to New Order—Avenue to Be Closed.

The five residences on Faculty Avenue, which have come to be regarded very much as landmarks, are to be removed, and the Avenue abandoned during the coming summer, according to an announcement made by the College authorities a few days ago. The houses will be given to the professors by whose families they are now occupied to be removed to other lots off the campus. The removal of the houses was necessitated by the widening of Guess Street.

The College is to give a broad strip of land just back of these houses in order that Guess Street may be widened, and on account of this fact, the new granite wall is being built very close to the houses. The entrance to the campus just below the house formerly occupied by Professor Wannamaker has been closed, and when the houses are removed, Faculty Avenue will be discontinued. The entrance at the end of Trinity Avenue will be just back of Professor Gill's house.

These houses were built in 1821 just after the College was removed to Durham, and their removal will mark the passing of the last vestige of the Trinity of the old days. The Old Washington Duke Building was destroyed by fire in 1911 and has been replaced by the handsome East and West Duke Buildings. The Inn has been transformed into a modern dormitory; and the appearance of even Cap's ancient gym, was entirely changed two years ago by a coat of white paint. The quaint, classic faculty houses have seen twenty-five years' progress of the College; and now they are to follow the other old landmarks in giving way to a new order.

lottery in any case." No less than eight men were suggested for the three defensive positions, and four of these received the same number of votes. For this reason, four men, Captain Martin, of Trinity, Captain Mason, of A. and M., Captain Johnson, of Carolina, and Beam, of Wake Forest, all stand equal, each having received three votes. Tennant, of Carolina, Walsor, of Guilford, Captain "Al" Reese, of Davidson, and Johnson, of A. and M., received honorable mention.

Of Captain Martin the News says, "Martin is a 'good offensive guard and strong on defense' and 'perhaps the strongest man who has been chosen as guard when both offensive and defensive work are considered.'"

Last year Mr. Dowd personally selected an All-State team without consulting any of the coaches; and three Trinity men were given places—Siler, forward, and Captain Thorne and Wooten, guards.

EDITORIAL

The Young Men's Christian Association is to be congratulated upon the corps of officers elected last Wednesday. The officers, however, are to be little felicitated, unless there is a great improvement in the interest of the students in the work of the Association, for during the last several years Y. M. C. A. officers have had hard and thankless jobs.

The Y. M. C. A. has always been of great value to those students who were sufficiently interested to attend the meetings and is capable of being of infinitely greater value to the community if more students can be induced to take an interest. It is to be hoped that during the administration of the officers just elected there will be a better spirit shown by the members of the Association, for, as the Dean pointed out Wednesday night, the officers can accomplish almost nothing unless they are supported by the students.

When a student of the College is buying a drink at a fountain and another student enters the drug store, he is invited to drink. He replies that he "just came in to something," thanks the man who invited him, and buys his own drink.

When a student invests in cakes at one of the "eat-shops" on the campus, he is expected to pass them around to all the loiterers who happen to be present.

Why not follow the same idea in the "eat-shops" as in the drug stores? Each time a person satisfies his own hunger with a dime's worth of "Fig Newtons," he should not be expected to feed ten or fifteen other men.

Edwin L. Jones, '12, of Charlotte, was a visitor on the campus last Thursday. Mr. Jones was manager of THE CHRONICLE in his Senior year.

ADDRESS FRIDAY EVENING

Announcement has just been made that the Reverend Stuart L. Roussel, B. A., B. Sr., B. D., of Paris, will make an address here on Friday evening, March 10. Rev. Roussel is a delegate of the Old Huguenot Churches of France and was present at the bombardment of Rheims. The members of the College community are cordially invited to attend this address, which will doubtless be both interesting and instructive.

DR. GLASSON TO DELIVER LECTURE AT PRINCETON

Dr. William H. Glasson, of the department of Economics, has been invited to lecture at Princeton University under the auspices of the Princeton Department of Economics at a date to be selected during the month of April. This lecture will be one of a course annually given by non-resident specialists in the various fields of economics and finance. While these lectures are primarily for students of economics, they are open to the general public. The lecturer also meets the graduate students in economics for an informal conference on his topic at the Graduate College. Dr. Glasson will take as his topic "American Experience with Military Pensions." The present European War has given an especial timeliness to this subject in view of the very heavy burden for military pensions that will have to be borne by the contending nations after the war. Recent reports from England indicate that the problem is already receiving much attention there.

Other recent lecturers in this non-resident course at Princeton have been Professor Franklin H. Giddings, of Columbia University; Professor Edward A. Ross, of the University of Wisconsin; Albert Atwood, Financial Editor of Harper's Weekly; and Pierre Jay, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

CAMPUS CLUB ENTERTAINS

On last Friday afternoon the Campus Club delightfully entertained members of the Sophomore and Senior Classes and students in the graduate and law schools. Delicious refreshments, consisting of coffee, sandwiches, and candies, were served under the direction of several of the Frau-Shackers in the parlors of the East Duke Building. Those in attendance were members of the Sophomore and Senior Classes students of the graduate and law schools, and members of the Campus Club and the faculty. The occasion proved enjoyable to all present.

Those in the receiving line were: Professor and Mrs. R. N. Wilson, Mrs. W. P. Few, Mrs. W. I. Cranford, Mrs. A. M. Webb, Mrs. A. M. Gates, Mrs. J. J. Wolfe, Mrs. F. C. Brown, Mrs. C. W. Pepper, Mrs. R. L. Flowers, and Mrs. W. H. Wannamaker.

SIGMA Upsilon MEETS

Jack W. Wallace, of the Senior Class, read a very interesting original short-story before the regular fortnightly meeting of Sigma Upsilon last Friday night. The title of Wallace's short-story was "A Man in Black."

The story consisted of a sketch of the life history of a quaint and weird old artist, Anton Bergsoe, told by the one to the other of two colleagues. This eccentric figure was once acquitted in the courts on account of supposed insanity from the charge of having murdered his wife. The real fact of the case was, as Bergsoe afterward confessed, that the acquitted artist had really killed his wife to preserve her beauty for himself, for he saw that she was rapidly losing her beauty with age.

Immediately following a general discussion of the story, the members of the chapter partook of an informal "feed."

Roanoke College has laid claim to the basket ball championship of Virginia, although the claim is based on comparative scores, since the University of Virginia has defeated the same teams that lost to Roanoke, and Roanoke did not play Virginia. The Roanoke team closed a season of nine games without a defeat.

FACULTY HOUSES TO BE REMOVED DURING SUMMER (Continued from Page One)

The first house, now occupied by Professor Gill, was first lived in by Dr. J. R. Stedman, professor of biology, and when he went to the University of Kansas, the house became the residence of Professor B. C. Hindle, of the department of physics. After the death of Professor Hindle, the house was occupied for one year by Professor Olin Boggess, of the department of Greek. Dean Cranford lived in the house for a number of years, and it was later occupied by Professor Wannamaker.

Professor J. L. Armstrong, of the department of English, first occupied the second house, in which Professor Webb now lives. After Professor Armstrong went to Randolph-Macon Woman's College, the house became the residence of Professor A. H. Merritt, of the department of Greek, for one year, and it was then occupied for several years by Dr. J. S. Bassett, of the history department. When Dr. Bassett went to Smith College, the house became the home of Dr. Glasson. Dr. F. N. Parker lived in the house for one year.

The third house in the row was built as a home for President J. F. Crowell and was occupied by him until he left the College in 1894, and it then became the home of President Kilgo until the President's Residence was built on the western part of the campus. Dr. Edwin Mims, of the department of English lived in the house for many years, and it was later occupied by Dr. Brown. Dr. Glasson now lives in the house.

The fourth house has been the home of Professor Pegram ever since the College was removed to Durham.

The last house was first the home of Professor J. M. Bandy, of the department of mathematics. Professor J. L. Weber, of the department of English, lived in the house for a short while, and it later became the home of Professor Jerome Dowd, now of the University of Oklahoma. Professor A. H. Merritt then lived in this house until his death in 1912, and after this time it was the home of Professor Wannamaker until he removed to his new residence last fall.

Powell, Minshew, Ellis, Bennett, and Stackhouse, the first four perhaps holding the preference, although Minshew and Ellis are likewise doing well.

The four men who apparently have the best chances at the outfield are Few, Flythe, Langley, and Rone. Langley, the only new candidate for an outfield position, is a fast fielder and a fair hitter. Other likely outfield candidates are Harden, Holloway, Huntley, Mayes, Thompson, and Whitener.

That a hard hitting team will be developed is now a certainty. In this department the whole squad shows up well.

STEFFAN TO QUILL CLUB

Talks on Public Nature of Newspaper Monday Night.

In an address before the Quill Club Monday night Mr. Roger Steffan, editor of the Durham Sun, declared that the future of the newspaper depended upon the amount of interest taken in the profession of journalism by the colleges of the country.

Mr. Steffan first pointed out the fact that newspapers were more thoroughly public utilities than street-cars and water systems in that they concern the public more vitally.

The speaker next traced the progress of the American newspaper during the last few years. Newspapers are coming to devote themselves not merely to the telling of news, but to be of infinite good to their communities by agitating public questions.

Newspaper work is not so grossly underpaid as it is sometimes represented, said Mr. Steffan. A young man of ability has the same opportunities for moneymaking in newspaper work as in any other profession. The satisfaction which a newspaper man gets from his work and its effects is a factor to be considered.

PROF. BROOKS HONORED

The National Institute of Moral Instruction, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., has announced the appointment of Professor E. C. Brooks, head of the department of Education, as the North Carolina representative to compete for a five-thousand-dollar prize which has been offered by an American business man for the best among seventy codes of morals suitable for the use by teachers and parents in moral or character education in America. The contest began February 22, 1916, and will close one year from that date.

The purpose of this contest is to determine the representative public opinion of the United States as to what ideas relative to moral and character training should be inculcated in American school children. At least one code will be submitted from each state, and all codes submitted will become the property of the Institute for use in textbooks and morality codes which they will publish.

In addition to Professor Brooks, sixty-nine other code writers have been named, representing every state in the Union, including the District of Columbia and Alaska. Professor Brooks was nominated by H. P. Harding, superintendent of the city schools of Charlotte, who is a member of the co-operating board of the Institute.
