FORMER GOV. FOLK FOR COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

FORMER GOV. OF MISSOURI AND EMINENT LAWYER TO SPEAK HERE.

SERMON BY DR. J. H. RANDALL

Bishop Kilgo to Deliver Baccalaureate Address and Fred Harper, '91, is Alumni Speaker.

The program announced yesterday for the seventy-eighth Trinity commencement exercises is as follows:

Sunday, June 4, 8:30 p. m.—Baccalaureate Address, Bishop John Carlisle Kilgo, D. D., LL. D., President Emeritus of the College.

Tuesday, June 6, 11 a. m.—Baccalaureate Sermon, The Reverend John Herman Randall, D. D., New York City.

Tuesday, June 6, 1 p. m.—Alumni Dinner, address by Fred Harper, Esquire, '91, of Lynchburg, Va.

Tuesday, June 6, 8:30 p. m.—Graduating orations by four members of the Class.

Wednesday, June 7, 10:30 a. m.—Commencement Address, The Honorable Joseph Wingeat Folk, Former Governor of Missouri, followed by graduating exercises.

Former Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, who is to deliver the commencement address, is a native of Tennessee. He was graduated from the Law School at Vanderbilt University with the degree of LL. B. in 1890. He practiced at Brownsville, Tennessee, during the next four years, at the end of which time he removed to Saint Louis. He was circuit attorney of the City of Saint Louis from 1900 to 1904, and during his term he made a wide reputation by exposing political corruption and prosecuting bribery cases. He was elected governor of Missouri in 1905 for a term of four years. He was mentioned for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1912. In 1913 he was appointed solicitor for the United States Department of Labor by President Wilson, and since March, 1914, he has been chief counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission. He has the LL. D. degree from the University of Missouri, William Jewell College, Drury College, and Southwestern Baptist University. He was the author of the Missouri anti-lobby law, the state-wide primary law, the initiative and referendum law, the two-cent railroad fare law, the child-labor law, the compulsory education law, and many others.

The Reverend Dr. John Herman Randall, of New York City, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, is pastor of the Morris Street Baptist Church in New York and an able and forceful speaker.

Fred Harper, Esquire, of Lynchburg, Va., who will deliver the principal address at the Alumni Dinner, was graduated from Trinity in the Class of 1891, studied law here in 1891-2, and received the degree of LL. B. from the University of Virginia later. He married the daughter of the late Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, and was a law partner

GEORGIA WINS FIRST GAME; SECOND A TIE

EARNHARDT AND PHILPOT ARE STARS OF BOTH GAMES LAST WEEK.

SECOND GAME BEST OF YEAR

Flythe Hits Triple In Second Game—Durham Gets Three Hits Out of Four Times at Bat—Few Makes Great Catch.

Trinity was defeated by the University of Georgia by the score of 5 to 1 at the League Park Easter Monday; and the score of the second game, played Tuesday on Hanes Field, stood 6 to 6 after thirteen innings had been played. The Trinity pitchers went well in both contests, but errors and the inability of the team to hit left-handed pitchers prevented victory.

THE FIRST GAME

The outstanding feature of the game was the work of both pitchers, George Earnhardt for Trinity, and Philpot for Georgia. Earnhardt struck out six men and held the visitors to three hits until the ninth inning, when he yielded three more. Philpot held Trinity to four hits and fanned eleven men.

Lefler found his batting eye after going through many games without a hit and rapped out a single and a double out of three times at the plate. Featuring at the bat for Georgia were Wooten, who hit a long triple to right field in the third inning, and Rawson, the catcher, who got two hits and of Senator Daniel until the death of the latter. Mr. Harper is a successful lawyer and an attractive and forceful speaker.

TRINITY BREAKS EVEN IN TWO CLEMSON GAMES

FIRST GAME LOST, 16 TO 6, BY ERRORS—FAST GAME WON, 5 TO 4.

After being defeated by Clemson College here last Thursday, 16 to 6, Trinity came back on Friday and defeated the South Carolinians in a fast game by the score of 5 to 4. This game was the first victory for Trinity since the Davidson game of April 13.

FIRST GAME

Piling up eleven errors behind Earnhardt, Trinity went down in defeat before Clemson College last Friday, 16 to 6. The local twirler pitched fairly good ball until the seventh inning, when a combination of errors caused him to go to pieces. Minshew next essayed to officiate on the mound, but he, too, was unable to check the fierce onslaught of the visitors. Lambie, then entered the box and managed to finish out the game.

Although Clemson secured but ten hits throughout the game, numerous errors, mixed with timely bingles, gave them an early lead. Until the eighth inning it looked as if Trinity was doomed for a shut-out, but in this inning the locals jumped on Anderson, the visiting pitcher, and drove him from the mound. Chapman succeeded him, but fared equally as

COLLEGE CELEBRATES SHAKESPEARE'S DEATH

DR. FEW EULOGIZES DRAMATIST—SCHOOLS GIVE MASQUE OF LOVERS.

COBURN PLAYERS HERE AGAIN

"The Tempest." "The Taming of the Shrew." and "Hamlet" Are The Repertoire for This Year.

A most interesting and widely varied celebration of the three-hundredth anniversary of the death of William Shakespeare was held on the Trinity campus during the last week. Commencing last Friday afternoon with songs, a flower pageant, and addresses on the great poet, the commemorative exercises were continued Friday evening with "The Masque of Lovers" and Morris dances, and concluded Monday and yesterday with the presentation of The Tempest, The Taming of the Shrew, and Hamlet by the Coburn Players. The whole celebration was held on the Woodland Stage.

The program for Friday afternoon was centered around a learned appreciation by President W. P. Few of the poetry of Shakespeare in its relation to human life and world development. Dr. F. C. Brown presided during the afternoon, and introduced Mayor B. S. Skinner for a brief address. Mrs. N. T. Yancey rendered a beautiful solo, one of Shakespeare's sonnets set to music.

The address of Dr. Few, which followed, as Mrs. James H. Southgate later said, called the heart out of the poet for the audience and presented him as he was, the greatest master of the English language. Dr. Few sees in the works of Shakespeare great lessons for the modern world and for America. "If along with our American turn for practical affairs, our Anglo-Saxon stability and sobriety of judgment, and our perfected twentieth-century social and educational mechanism, we could put into our national character these three great lessons of life that Shakespeare teaches, implicitly to be sure, but with irresistible conviction and power—these three, a high conception of the dignity and essential greatness of man's life, a finer perception of the beauty and glory and poetry of the old world we inhabit, and a deeper sense of the inscrutable mystery of all things—we should yet have in this country of ours the completest, the richest, and the sweetest life ever lived in the world."

After a solo by Miss Lucile Rush, Mr. James H. Southgate delivered a general address in the form of a layman's appreciation of the preceding speaker and of the great poet himself. "The

TRINITY AGAIN LOSES TO STRONG TECH TEAM

WEATHERS ALLOWS BUT SIX HITS AND STRIKES OUT SEVENTEEN MEN.

POWELL PITCHES A GOOD GAME

Beal and Durham Hit Well—Only Trinity Run Forced—Sullivan Hits Long Triple and Scores Two Men.

Southpaw Weathers had things going his way throughout the second A. and M. game on Hanes Field Saturday, April 22, and as a result, the Techs were again victorious by a score of 5 to 1. The big A. and M. pitcher held Trinity to six hits and fanned seventeen men. Powell pitched almost equally as well for Trinity, but the game was lost by four errors and the tendency of the Trinity team to strike at high balls.

The features of the game for Trinity were the pitching of Powell who yielded only eight hits and kept them scattered to one an inning except in the sixth when three were allowed, the fast fielding of Langley in center, and the timely hitting of Beal and Durham, each of whom got two hits.

The game was a beautiful pitchers' battle for three innings. Weathers allowing two hits and Powell yielding three while neither side scored, but in the fourth inning after two Tech batsmen had been walked, Sullivan hit a long triple to right field, driving Evans and Thrash across the plate.

In the sixth inning Johnson reached second on error of Falls, Thrash singled to left, and a single to center by Sullivan sent Johnson across the plate, Thrash scoring on the throw-in. Sullivan advanced

DAVIDSON IS DEFEATED IN LOCAL TRACK MEET

TRINITY WINS BY LARGE SCORE—DAVIDSON CAPTURES BUT THREE FIRSTS.

Friday afternoon, April 21st, Trinity met Davidson in a track meet on the home grounds and carried off the contest by the score of 81 to 36. Of the thirteen events, Davidson captured only three first places and five seconds. The Presbyterians were outclassed in practically every department and presented no single individual star.

For the Trinity team, Ruff starred with three firsts, in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, and broad jump. Matton and J. H. Price both made two firsts and the other points were variously divided among the other members of the squad. No new college letters were won.

All of the records made were fairly good, though there were no exceptional ones. Trinity's greatest strength appeared to be the weight of entries and ability to capture second or third places as well as first. This track meet was the final one of the individual meets before the State Meet at Carolina last week.

The list of events with the winners and their records follow:

TRINITY WINS THIRD PLACE IN STATE MEET

CAROLINA WINS FIRST PLACE, A. AND M. SECOND, WAKE FOREST, FOURTH.

MILWEE, A. & M., BREAKS RECORD

MacDougal, of A. and M., Leads Individual Scoring With 20 Points—Matton Leads in Trinity Scoring.

The Trinity track team, with 29 points, won third place in the annual State Track Meet, which was held on the new Emerson Athletic Field at the University of North Carolina last Wednesday afternoon. Carolina was the victor in the meet with the unusually large score of 74½ points. A. and M. nosed Trinity out of second place by the narrow margin of four and one-half points, their total count being 33½ points. Wake Forest brought up the rear with 14 points. Elon and Davidson did not enter.

Before the meet began and during the first few events a cold drizzling rain fell, and it was doubtless due to this fact that the records of the winners of the various events were but ordinary. Only one state record was broken. This honor went to Captain Milwee, of A. and M., who came out first in the mile run with the exceptional time of four minutes and thirty-one seconds. Captain Matton, of TWO Trinity, would in all probability have taken first honors in the pole vault had it not been for a sprained muscle in his leg.

MacDougal, of the A. and M. team was the largest individual point-getter. Taking first place in the high hurdles, high jump, and the pole vault, second place in the discus throw, and third place in the 100-yard dash, he was accredited with a total of twenty points. Homewood, of Carolina, with eleven points, came second in scoring. Matton, of Trinity, was next with ten points. Matton and Ruff were the only Trinity men to capture first places, the former winning first honors in the broad jump and the latter ending ahead in the 100-yard dash.

The list of events with winners and their records follow:

100-yard dash—Ruff, Trinity; Johnson, Carolina; Harris, Wake Forest; MacDougal, A. and M. Time, 10.4.

Mile—Milwee, A. and M.; Upchurch, Carolina; Rand, Carolina; Scott, A. and M. Time, 4:31.

140-yard dash—Patterson, Carolina; Jordan, Wake Forest; Jewett, Carolina; McCord, A. and M. Time, 54 seconds.

High hurdles—MacDougal, A. and M.; Hoyle, Trinity. Other two men disqualified. Time, 17.6 seconds.

220-yard dash—Farthing, Carolina; Harris, Wake Forest; Ruff, Trinity; McPaul, A. and M. Time, 24 seconds.

Low hurdles—Blue, Carolina; Price, Trinity; Powell, Wake Forest; Homewood, A. and M. Time, 28.2 seconds.

Half mile—Webb, Carolina; Ransom, Carolina; Lewis, Trinity; Dowell, Wake Forest. Time, 2 minutes, 6.4 seconds.

SHAKESPEARE AND THE TERCENTENARY CELEBRATION

William Shakespeare, who is generally recognized to be the greatest of English poets, died three hundred years ago; and it is eminently fitting that the people of his race are holding celebrations of the three-hundredth anniversary of his death.

It is to be hoped that from the tercentenary celebrations will result a wider study and a greater appreciation of the works of Shakespeare. As the Vaudeville, which appeared in the last number of the Archives, says, "Many people rhapsodize over the beauties of Shakespeare" and grow eloquent over the "myriad-minded" singer of Avon merely because it is a tradition to do so," not because they really know anything of Shakespeare or have any genuine appreciation for his plays.

To the CHRONICLE it appears that the chief reason that Shakespeare's plays have lived and the chief value of their study is in the fact that the characters experience and express almost every feeling and mood that any man ever experienced and expressed—it is the universality of what he wrote. And in speaking of this, the CHRONICLE makes no claim of originality.

Ben Jonson, a contemporary of Shakespeare, said, "He was not of an age, but for all time;" and a writer a few days ago said that the reason for the wide appreciation of Shakespeare was that he was an ordinary man and his characters were ordinary men, arousing the sympathies of ordinary men. What Ben Jonson said appears to be true. Had it not been true, it is doubtful if three hundred years after his day Shakespeare could draw the whole English-speaking people to his shrine. What the other writer referred to above said is true, but more is true. Shakespeare was an ordinary man, but he was an extraorinary man; he arouses the sympathies of ordinary men, but his plays appeal to all men. George Bernard Shaw finds fault with Shakespeare for not having a definite philosophical program to work out. Certainly Shakespeare appears to have had no such program. He was, after all, seeking to write something for which he could find a market. It is probable that Elizabethan theatre-goers were not greatly different from theatre-goers of other ages, and what was written for them likewise appeals to people of other times. Shakespeare seldom had a moral to work out, but devoted his attention to the art of the portrayal of actual human characters. The very fact that he had no moral is undoubtedly in many cases one explanation of the universal popularity of his plays. Somehow plays which present real human characters, such as the rollicking Sir John Falstaff, live longer and find the public reader to appreciate them than plays which try to solve social problems and to rectify wrongs. A contrast of the popularity of the two types may be found between the celebrations which are at present being held of the death of a writer of plays of the former sort with the probability of a celebration three centuries hence of George Bernard Shaw, who is a dramatist of the opposite type.

COL. WADE H. HARRIS ADDRESSES MEETING OF MEDICAL SOCIETY

Colonel Wade H. Harris, editor of the Charlotte Observer, addressed the North Carolina Medical Society at the final session of its sixty-third annual convention held in Craven Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, April 19, on "The Newspaper and Public Health."

The newspapers and the doctors largely have in their keeping the health of the people of North Carolina, said Colonel Harris, and they have handled their task well in the past. The support of the newspapers to the importance of the registration of births and deaths, the "swat-the-fly" campaigns, the battle against alcohol, and the campaigns against typhoid fever were pointed out as examples of the work which the papers have done toward the improvement of health conditions in the State.

The fight, however, has only begun. "There should be no reason why we could not have a state clear of diseases of a preventable nature. But we should not be content to stop there. The newspaper and the physician should set the higher mark of giving North Carolina the finest health record of any state in the Union."

At the close of the session the Society was entertained at a reception given by the Faculty.

world is but a huge organ," said Mr. Southgate, "and every poet is an organist. But Shakespeare is the greatest of them all, for he touched every key in human life, and his was the master's touch."

There next followed the planting of the memorial tree by representatives of the various organizations under the auspices of which the celebration was held. A sturdy magnolia was planted just to the rear of the Woodland Stage.

In the flower pageant, children of the city schools appeared on the stage each carrying a flower and each repeating lines from the plays which mention the flower carried, and, while the orchestra played dream music, placed the flower about the bust of Shakespeare and themselves formed a great living nosegay about the figure.

The evening performance consisted solely of "The Masque of Lovers," composed of love scenes from many of Shakespeare's principal plays. A number of songs with their original airs was sung. The costumes which were used in the "Masque" and in the Morris dances, which were given in connection with it, were elaborate and true to the periods which they represented.

THE COBURN PLAYERS

The Tercentenary Celebration was brought to a fit ending on Monday and yesterday by the appearance on the Woodland Stage of the Coburn Players. The three performances of these actors by no means fell short of the expectations of the half-thousand or more persons who were fortunate enough to witness one or all of the three plays: The Tempest, The Taming of the Shrew, and Hamlet.

The first of the plays, The Tempest, was given on Monday night. The play itself was vividly accurate throughout, and the experienced performers were entirely up to their former standard. Mr. and Mrs. Coburn respectively as Stephano, the drunken butler, and Miranda, daughter to Prospero, displayed their usual dramatic ability and personality. Mr. J. C. Hickey as Caliban, a savage and deformed slave, although bearing heavily upon the human feelings of the audience, yet played his role to an extraordinary standard of excellence.

The Taming of the Shrew, the second play, was performed on yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Coburn as Katherine, the Shrew, was perhaps the brightest star of the play. Her change from the ever-irritated, stubborn, and quarrelsome woman to the mild and concisive wife of Petruchio, in the person of Mr. Coburn, is best told of by herself when she advises Bianca to cherish for her husband "love, fair looks, and true obedience." The long-winded laughing of Gremio, whose part was played by Mr. George Currie, all but inspired the whole audience with an outburst.

As a suitable climax came Hamlet, played last night. The tragedy, as played by the Coburns, was full of the deeply emotional incidents and scenes which differentiate tragedy from comedy. To relieve the tension of the audience, several comic dissertations were indulged. Laertes and Hamlet, the two youthful heroes of the tragedy, in life Mr. Reginald Goode and Mr. Coburn respectively, were fit personages to represent the tragic element. Mrs. Coburn as Ophelia, daughter of Polonius, played her part impressively. The conversation of old Polonius, the role assumed by Mr. Hickey, was usually witty and served to release at intervals the tension of tragedy.

A. H. GWYN WINS PRIZE IN SOPHOMORE DEBATE

FIVE MEN SPEAK ON CHILD- LABOR QUESTION WED- NESDAY NIGHT.

Allan H. Gwyn, of Yanceyville, was the winner of the Southgate Prize in the annual Sophomore Debate held in Craven Memorial Hall last Wednesday evening. The query debated was: "Granted the right under the Constitution, should Congress pass a bill prohibiting all dealers, manufacturers, and companies whatsoever from hiring in labor for profit any child under fourteen years of age?"

Those appearing on the affirmative were A. H. Gwyn, P. L. Sample, and C. A. Poole; and C. P. Coffman and John Oline supported the negative.

The debate was presided over by Dr. F. C. Brown; and the judges were Professors H. G. Hedrick and W. F. Gill and Captain S. C. Chambers.

The prize was, as usual, a complete set of Shakespeare's Works, given by Mr. James H. Southgate, of Durham, president of the Board of Trustees.

ENGLISH NOTICE

The Department of English has been requested by students to offer next year a course in American literature. This course would be substituted for English XII—the history of the novel. The change will be made only on condition that those students who expected to register for English XII are willing to have it omitted. All interested in the matter should report at once to Dr. Moore.

ARCHIVE FORFEITS GAME TO THE CHRONICLE TEAM

Archive Players Grow Hungry After Chronicle Baiting Rally— Boggs and Best Feature.

The baseball classic is on! The team representing the Archive forfeited the first game of the Publication Series to the CHRONICLE team Monday afternoon, thereby giving the team representing the weekly a 9 to 0 victory.

The teams had agreed to play seven innings, with the provision that a decision was to be reached if the score were a tie at the end of the seventh. At the beginning of the last half of the seventh the score stood 9 to 6 in favor of the Archive but the CHRONICLE staged a rally and tied the score. The Archive players grew suddenly hungry and withdrew from the field, ostensibly for supper, but apparently more probably on account of fear of defeat. The game was declared forfeited to the CHRONICLE.

To the CHRONICLE team must go the distinction of playing the better game in every respect, and the weekly would doubtless have made a better showing but for the wildness of the twirlers in the seventh-inning. The CHRONICLE team was accredited with nine hits off the delivery of Pitcher Lambeth; while the Archive secured but six scattered safeties off of Boggs. The CHRONICLE committed but five errors; eight were charged up against the Archive. And all this is true despite the fact that two "ringers" appeared in the Archive line-up.

In the seventh inning Boggs, CHRONICLE pitcher, became wild and, after he had walked several batsmen, went to shortstop, Arendell taking up the pitching job. Arendell and Johnston, who followed him, too, were wild, and Boggs returned to the mound. He rattled down again to his former form, and when the game was forfeited, eight Archive batsmen had gone down by the strike-out route.

Featuring at the bat for the CHRONICLE were Fisher, Gobel, Arendell, Towe, and Johnston. The three former were each accredited with two hits, and the latter two drove in runs with hits in the MONTHLY MAGAZINE FALLS TO COMPETENT HANDS FOR COMING YEAR.

H. Carson West, of Durham, and C. Settle Bunn, of Bailey, were on Monday elected by the Junior Class to the editorship and business management respectively of the Archive.

West was winner of the Southgate Prize in the Sophomore Debate last year, has been many times a contributor to the magazine, has always ranked high in scholarship, and will doubtless be a successful editor. Bunn has served as assistant manager of the publication this year, was recently elected president of the Y. M. C. A., and is well able to take care of the business end of the magazine.

BASEBALL "PEP" MEETING

The quadrangle between Aycock and Jarvis Halls was the scene of an enthusiastic mass meeting last Thursday night when practically every student, both male and female, congregated about a great bonfire and pledged their support to the baseball team, which in the afternoon had lost its sixth straight game at the hands of visiting teams. Enough "pep" was injected into the students to enable them to make sufficient noise Friday afternoon to help the team to break its losing streak.

Practically every member of the team was called upon for a speech, and each expressed his appreciation for the support the students were giving a losing team. Coach West, also, expressed his appreciation. Professor Wannamaker was the representative of the Faculty, and his remarks showed the interest which the Administration has in Trinity athletics.

The meeting was fittingly closed with some "rag-time" music which was furnished by two negro musicians who happened to be passing through the campus.

Miss Willie Lee Umstead, ex-'15, of Durham, was married on April 19 to J. A. Albright, of Durham.

TRINITY HOLDS DURHAM BULLS TO CLOSE SCORE

Ellis Allows But Five Hits—Graham, Lefler, and Beal Hit For Extra Bases.

The Trinity team made a good showing against the Durham club of the North Carolina League at the League Park on Easter Monday after the game with the University of Georgia, the game being lost by Trinity by the close score of 7 to 6, and the Trinity team out-hitting the leaguers by two hits.

George Ellis, of the Freshman Class, made his initial appearance on the mound, held the Bulls to five hits, and never permitted more than one hit in an inning.

The Trinity team got seven hits off Pitcher Hawkins, three of these coming in the eighth. After Beal had sent two men across the plate with a long triple and scored himself on a squeeze play, Hawkins was replaced by Forbes, who showed better form. Doubles were hit by Lefler and Graham.

Making nine errors in eight innings, the Trinity team made a much poorer showing in the field than at bat.

There was a slight change in the Trinity line-up, Rone catching for two innings after Lefler's finger was injured, and Durham taking the place of Falls at second in the fourth inning.

QUAKERS KNOCK OUT TWO PITCHERS AND WIN, 9-4

VISITORS UNABLE TO GET HIT OFF OF BILL POWELL IN SIX INNINGS.

GARNER HITS LONG TRIPLE

Driving Earnhardt and Mason from the mound in the third inning, Guilford defeated the Trinity nine on New Hanes Park by the score of 9 to 4 Thursday afternoon, April 20th. The first game with Guilford this season was won by them by the close score of 2-1.

Powell's hitless pitching for Trinity and the lightning double play by the visitors were the only outstanding features of the contest. Barring these features, the game was slow and uninteresting. Langley, Flythe, and Love for Trinity and Gardner and Zachary for the Quakers starred with the stick, each securing two safe blows.

The Quakers found Earnhardt's delivery in the second inning for two two-baggers and a single, which, coupled with a base on balls and an error, netted them three runs. In the next frame the delivery of Earnhardt was completely discovered and he and his successor, Mason, were driven from the mound, the Quakers scoring six runs. Powell, who relieved Mason in this inning, went the rest of the way without allowing a hit.

Trinity's scoring began in the fourth when Lefler reached first on Reddick's error, was advanced to third by Love's two-bagger, both runners scoring on Beal's double to deep center. A base on balls, a fielder's choice, and a single by Flythe added another run in the fifth. The final run was secured in the eighth on Langley and Flythe's singles, followed by a fielder's choice by Lefler.

TRINITY DROPS THIRD CONTEST TO DAVIDSON

LOCALS HIT THE BALL HARD FOR SCATTERED HITS,
BUT ERRORS LOSE.

MASON PITCHES FINE GAME

Although outhitting Davidson more than two-to-one, Trinity lost a seven-inning affray on Hanes Field to the Presbyterians last Wednesday by the score of 7 to 0. This was the third game of the season the two teams have played, the Presbyterians winning two and Trinity, one.

Allowing but three hits, Mason pitched steady ball throughout the entire seven frames, but six costly errors by his teammates sealed his doom and caused the loss of the game. Lawson, of the visitors, yielded seven hits, but these were kept well scattered. Trinity runners reached third on two occasions, but the Davidson twirler tightened up and refused to allow the needed hit.

In addition to the gilt-edged mound work of Mason, the hitting of Langley and Love were the outstanding features for the home team. The former secured three singles out of four times up, while the latter hit safely three times out of as many trips to the plate.

Catcher Alford did stellar work for the visitors. Besides catching a good game, he secured a double and a single out of four times up. The fielding of the entire Davidson team was commendable, not a single miscue being charged against them.

An unusual feature about Wednesday's game was the fact that a same situation occurred three different times. In the third, fifth, and seventh innings while Rome was on second and Langley on first after two men were out, Flythe retired the side by going out, second to first.

GRAHAM WINS FIRST PLACE IN HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET

High Schools of East Central Division Hold Track Meet Here—Vault Record Broken.

Graham High School won first place, and thereby the Bugg Loving Cup, in the sixth annual track meet of the East Central division of the North Carolina High School Association, held on Hanes Field on Friday afternoon, April 21. The Graham team won six first places in a total of eight events and a total of 29 points. Friendship High School, which won first place in the State high school meet at Chapel Hill sometime ago, came second with 22 points; and Chapel Hill High School and Hillsboro High School won third and fourth places with 6 and 5 points respectively.

Besides the E. I. Bugg Loving Cup, awarded annually for the custody of one year to the team winning first place and permanently to the team winning first place in three successive meets, a number of other prizes and medals were awarded to teams and individuals.

Browning, a representative of Hillsboro High School, vaulted 9 feet, 11 inches, thereby breaking the State high school record, which was formerly held by R. W. Giles, of the Sophomore Class here.

H. G. Isley, '15, of Burlington, was a visitor on the campus last week.

badly, for hits and errors enabled the locals to register five runs. A base on balls, a steal, and a timely hit gave Trinity another run in the ninth.

The hitting of Anderson, Harris, and Martin and the fielding of James were the features of the game on the part of the visitors. For the locals the only real feature was a wonderful one-hand stab of a line drive by Few in the third inning.

SECOND GAME

The Trinity nine broke the long line of defeats which had followed them for more than two weeks and defeated the aggregation from Clemson College by a 5 to 4 score last Friday afternoon. The game was doubtful throughout, but was keenly contested and fairly won. The exhibition of ball put up by the locals was of a high order and much encouraged the rooters as to the outcome of the Southern trip.

Though the Trinity team was out-hit as to number, it produced its eight safeties when they were most needed and succeeded in driving five runs across the plate. All of Trinity's scoring was done in the third and fourth innings. In the third, two bases on balls, a sacrifice, and a two-base hit, produced two tallies; in the fourth, another base, two singles and a double added three more, or enough to win the game. The visitors made two runs each in the second and seventh, but Powell kept their remaining hits well scattered and no other runs resulted.

Langley and Love continued their good work with the stick, and Langley in his new position, at short, made some phenomenal stops, accepting nine chances without an error. Flythe's exhibition in the field was also worthy of note. Both Anderson and Jordan robbed Trinity of what seemed to be long extra-base hits. The entire fielding of the South Carolinians was practically without error.

scored two runs out of four times up.

The only Trinity run came in the third inning when Beal walked to second on an infield out was pushed to third by Rone's infield single, and scored on the throw-in.

Georgia scored first in the second inning. Floyd, first up, singled to center, and went to second on error of Falls, Gillis going to first. Both men advanced a base on Rawson's single and both scored on the throw-in, Rawson going to third. Rawson stole home while Spurluck, who had reached first on a Cincinnati base hit, was being chased between first and second. In the ninth inning Gillis singled to left, was advanced to second by Rawson's single, went to third on Love's error and scored on Love's wild throw Rawson going to second. Rawson scored later on Johnson's single.

THE SECOND GAME

The second game abounded in errors, principally made by Trinity, in the first six innings, but during the remaining seven innings of the tie contest, both teams played excellent ball, the game from this point being one of the best of the season.

Mason, who began pitching for Trinity, showed only fair form and was replaced in the sixth inning by Bennett. Minshew relieved Bennett in the same inning after the latter had hit the first man who faced him. The first man up in the seventh singled, and Earnhardt, who had pitched the day before, was trotted out to succeed Minshew. Earnhardt perhaps showed the best form he has shown in any game. During the six and two-third innings that he pitched he allowed but one single and struck out six men.

Westbrook, a right-hander, began the game for Georgia, but after he had allowed four hits and three bases on balls in two innings, he was replaced by Philpot, who, like Earnhardt, had pitched the day before, and who allowed but five hits during the eleven innings that he pitched.

Flythe and Durham starred at the bat for Trinity. The former got two singles and a triple out of six times up and drove in four of the Trinity runs, and Durham got three singles out of four times at bat. Getting a double and a single out of five times up, Rawson again featured in batting for Georgia.

In the first inning Rone, first up, walked. Graham was likewise given a base on balls. Rone scored from second on Flythe's single, Graham going to third. Graham scored on Love's single, Flythe going to third, and Flythe scored a moment later on Rawson's passed ball. Durham, first up in the third, was hit by pitched ball, advanced to second when Mason was walked, and scored on Flythe's single. Two more runs came in the sixth when Minshew reached first on a fielder's choice, went to second when Rone was given a base on balls, and both counted when Flythe tripled.

Johnson, of Georgia, reached first on a fielder's choice in the third inning, went to second on error of Falls, went to third on Wooten's single, and scored on Floyd's single. Wooten, having stolen second, counted on Floyd's single. Floyd was hit by a pitched ball in the fifth inning, and went to third on Love's error, Ervin reaching first. Floyd scored and Ervin went to second Mason's wild pitch. Wooten advanced to third on Love's passed ball, and stole home. David received a base on balls in the sixth inning stole second, and scored on Wooten's single. Johnson, who had also been walked, going to second. Floyd was hit by Bennett's pitched ball, and with the bases full, Minshew, who took up the pitching job, walked Ervin, and Johnson was forced home.
