BISHOP KILGO SPEAKS TO SPIRITED ALUMNI

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD HEARS RECITAL OF TRINITY'S GROWTH

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR GYM BEGUN

Alumni Present Immediately Respond to Suggestions to Starting Fund—$1200 Raised Immediately

At an alumni mass meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Hesperian Society Hall, Bishop John C. Kilgo, president-emeritus of the College made a very impressive address taking up the rapid growth of the College within the past quarter of a century, and took definite steps toward the erection of a new gymnasium for the College. The assembling of the large crowd of alumni was for the purpose of drawing up some definite plans for the celebration of twenty-fifth anniversary of the removal of the College to Durham.

Bishop Kilgo recited many evidences of the growth of the College, such as the increase in physical equipment, endowment, and facilities, and the enlargement of the faculty and administration officers and the student body. Twenty-two years ago the College had nine teachers and officers, eight buildings, only 129 students, an endowment of only $20,000, a bonded debt of $40,000, an unimproved campus, and total assets of only $250,000. Today its faculty and officers number 61 and it has 26 buildings, 847 students, an endowment of $1,595,000, no bonded debt, one of the most beautiful campuses to be found anywhere, and total assets of more than $2,546,000. No other Southern college has had such a marvelous growth.

Next, Bishop Kilgo suggested that the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the College in its new home should be marked by the erection, as a gift from the alumni to their Alma Mater, of a modernly equipped gymnasium. To aid in this movement Bishop Kilgo intends giving as much of his time as possible. At the conclusion of the Bishop's talk, Rev. J. C. Wooten, of the class of '98, suggested that subscriptions be taken. As a result more than $1200 was raised immediately.

The plans for the new gymnasium have already been sketched and in architectural style follow those of Craven Memorial Hall, which is the only alumni building on the campus. The new gymnasium promises to be, when completed, one of the handsomest buildings on the campus.

FRESHMEN ELECT

At a meeting of the Freshman class Thursday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. G. Braswell, of Whitakers, president; M. B. Loftin, of Mt. Olive, vice-president; Miss Bernice Ulrich, of North Wilkesboro, secretary; J. L. Hooper, of Winston-Salem, treasurer; and R. G. Groome, of Greensboro, class representative to the Athletic Council.

DR. DILLARD TO SPEAK ON BENEFACTORS' DAY

WELL-KNOWN EDUCATIONALIST TO BE ANNUAL ORATOR OCTOBER 3

COLLEGE WORK TO BE SUSPENDED

List of Donations During the Past Year Will Be Read Out—Col. Bruton and Hon. Webb Last Two Speakers

The annual celebration at the College, Tuesday, October 3, of Benefactor's Day, will be observed as usual by the suspension of all college duties during the day and by an address in the evening in Craven Memorial Hall. The speaker for the occasion is to be Dr. James Hardy Dillard, President of the Jeanes Foundation for education among the negroes, and a director of the John F. Slater Fund, an endowment for the same purpose. Dr. Dillard, who was for many years connected with Tulane University, is one of the most progressive and widely known educators in the South, and his coming to Durham for this occasion will be one of the public lecture attractions of the present academic year at Trinity.

Heretofore large audiences have gathered to hear the addresses of great speakers on these occasions, and it is expected that there will be a still greater throng to witness the address which will be delivered by Dr. Dillard. His theme has not as yet been announced. It is known, however, that his subject will be of material interest and one that is abrogated with the times.

Benefactor's Day is set apart by the action of the Board of Trustees of the College as a holiday, and is observed on October 3 of each year. At the annual exercises a list of all the donations during the preceding year is announced. Members of the alumni and other friends of the College are interested to know just how great each year's donations have been, and these figures are always an inspiration to those who hear them.

The address for the evening of October 3, 1915, was delivered by Colonel John F. Bruton, of Wilson, North Carolina. Colonel Bruton was humorous in his speech, and he proved to be not only an interesting speaker but a talented one as well. On October 3, 1914, the address as delivered by ex-Senator William R. Webb, of principal of the Webb School, Bell Buckle, Tennessee.

EKO-L INITIATES

On Saturday evening in the Woman's Building, Eko-l held its semi-annual initiation. After the customary stunts had been performed in the attic, an informal banquet was served in the dining room.

Those who were initiated were: Misses Ione Bivins, Mary Bynum, Lessie Harwood, Cora Moss, Evelyn Reade, Annie Smith, and Kate Umstead.

Clarence Royden Pugh, of Elizabeth City, class of '06, is the nominee of the Republican Party for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

LOCAL SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY SETS RECORD FOR NEW INITIATES

MOTLEY NOISES PERVADE CAMPUS

Candidates Favor Inhabitants of "Fraushack" With Different Doings—Feed Given New Men

The annual initiation of the 9019, the local scholarship society, was held on last Monday evening. Five seniors and thirteen juniors were given the customary "rough-stuff" about the campus, and were then admitted into the mysteries of the society.

The initiates and old men were assembled near the Stag Pavilion at about seven o'clock, where the candidates were hoodwinked, placed in the line, and started on their dark and difficult journey. The old familiar yell, "Peanut Butter, Hit Me Harder" was repeatedly heard, while "The Star Strangled Banana" and "We'll Be Black and Blue with Bruises" were being discordantly sung. The not infrequent application of sundry paddles interrupted these various songs and diverse yells.

According to tradition, the "Fraushack" was favored with a visit from this joyous party. The numerous "co-eds" who had assembled on the porch were entertained at some length by the initiates, whose chief performances were the debating of the important question, "Resolved, That Co-Education Should Be Abolished from Trinity College," and a love scene from "Romeo and Juliet." Several solos were sung, and with the

SENIORS TRIUMPH OVER FRESHMEN IN FIRST GAME

TEAM REPRESENTING 1917 WINS OPENING CLASS GAME 4-2

Monday afternoon, on the old Hanes athletic field, the Seniors defeated the Freshmen in the first class game of the season by a score of 4 to 2.

As the score indicates, the game was full of "pep" from start to finish. The Freshmen secured the lead by scoring two runs in the second, and things began to look bad for the Seniors until the sixth frame. In this stage of the game Roth and Newbury succeeded in scoring on an error. In the seventh with Harper on first and Anderson on third, Roth nailed out a hot one to left field for three sacks, scoring Harper and Anderson.

The Freshmen put up a hard fight in the first of the ninth, but were held without a score.

The features of the game were: for the Seniors the batting of Harper and Roth; for the Freshmen, the hitting of Teague and the pitching of Durant.

The score by innings was as follows:

Seniors ..... 000 002 20x 4 6 1
Freshmen ..... 020 000 000 2 8 4
Batteries: LeGrand and West, Umstead; Durant and Moore.
Umpires, Laffer and Falls.

FAMOUS EDUCATIONAL GROUP TO MEET HERE

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE AND PREP. SCHOOL MEN HERE NOVEMBER 16-17

ELABORATE PROGRAM ARRANGED

Southern Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools is Name of Body—Officers

Trinity considers herself extremely fortunate in being the meeting place this year of the Southern Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools. The Association will meet here November 16 and 17, and an elaborate program will be carried out during its session.

The object of this association "shall be to consider the qualifications of candidates for admission to colleges, the methods of admission to colleges, the character of the preparatory schools, the courses of study to be pursued in the colleges and schools, including their order, number, etc., as well as such other subjects as tend to the promotion of interests common to colleges and preparatory schools."

The officers of the Association, who will be in attendance upon its approaching assembling here, are as follows. President, Dr. Bert R. Young, of Vanderbilt University; Vice-Presidents, J. T. Wright, of the University Military School, Mobile, and A. L. Bondurant, of the University of Mississippi; Secretary and Treasurer, Dean Walter Hüllihen, of Sewanee. The executive committee consists of J. Carter Walker, of Woodbury Forest, Virginia; J. L. Henderson, of the University of Texas; Miss A. E. Colton, of Meredith College, Raleigh; and Charles G. Maplis, of the University of Virginia. Professor E. C. Brooks, of Trinity and Superintendent E. D. Pusey, of the Durham Schools, representatives from North Carolina, are on the Commission for Crediting Schools.

E. L. Secret, class of '14, who has been intercollegiate Y. M. C. A. secretary at Charleston, S. C., has resigned his position to do post-graduate work in Yale University during the coming year.

Mr. John C. Gibbs, class of '97, was married July 19th to Miss Janie Dorothy Howard of Danville, Va.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL MEETS

On last Thursday night the first regular meeting of the Athletic Council was held for the purpose of reorganizing and of transacting some important business.

Among the important matters of business taken up was that of securing a coach for baseball and a coach for basketball. Although no contracts have as yet been signed, negotiations are under way for both a basketball and a baseball coach. E. C. Few was elected track manager.

Bishop J. C. Kilgo, of Charlotte, spent several days on the campus last week.

LITERARY SOCIETIES INITIATE NEW MEN

HESPERIA AND COLUMBIA TAKE IN UNUSUALLY MANY NEW MEMBERS

LATTER LEADS WITH FIFTY-TWO

Both Orders Have Interesting Programs—Several Impressive Talks—Much Promising Material

At the regular weekly meetings of the Hesperia and Columbian Literary Societies last Saturday evening, the program of each was carried out as follows:

HESPERIA

A regular debate was the main feature of Hesperia's program at its second meeting on last Saturday evening. The query debated was "Resolved, That Woodrow Wilson should be re-elected." D. Brady and W. K. Carr upheld the affirmative side of the question, while W. W. Matthews and J. H. Small, Jr. represented the Negative. As suggested by the query, the debate was intensely interesting as well as instructive throughout. An abundance of "pep" was manifested in all the speeches.

Just preceding the debate a series of orations were delivered. R. H. Shelton spoke on "A Modern Hero," while "Humanity and Peace" was the subject chosen by H. C. Greenberg.

Immediately after the close of the debate a short recess was given after which the old members and those among the new men who wished to ally themselves with Hesperia were summoned back to the hall. Here followed the formal initiation, the result of which was the addition of twenty-eight names to the roll. Judging from the speeches of the new men Hesperia has some very promising material.

COLUMBIA

The second regular meeting of the Columbian Literary Society held on last Saturday night was the most successful of its kind in the history of the society, there being fifty-two new men taken into full membership. The program consisting of a debate and short talks by old members of the society was short and interesting.

The subject of the debate was "Resolved, That boards of arbitration with compulsory powers should be established to settle disputes between employers and wage-earners." The debaters frequently grew eloquent and at no time failed to hold the attention of their hearers.

EDITORIAL

The seniors cannot be said to be boggish anyway. They were so generous as to let the freshmen have two runs, the first two at that.

We don't wonder that the junior law class didn't elect a vice-president. There isn't supposed to be any vice in the department of the Law.

The German word which signifies the comparative degree of emptiness is pronounced just like the word which means teacher. We do not suspect that the words are related in any other respect.

We understand that women authors now days are objecting to being termed as actresses. They insist on being known as authors, and actors. On account of the growing sympathy in the suffrage issue, we are trembling in anticipation that our women students here at Trinity will in time rise up in rebellion against our affectionately terming them as "co-eds."

SPIRIT OF LOYALTY

Nothing speaks in more eloquent terms of the loyalty and affection which Trinity alumni bear toward their Alma Mater than the enthusiasm manifested by those who were in attendance upon the recent mass meeting called by Bishop Kilgo.

The Bishop, who initiated the movement for a new gymnasium for the College made a spirited address setting forth the recent growth of the College, with particular reference to Trinity's need of the new gymnasium.

That his patriotic remarks to his hearers is proved by the fact that over $1200 was subscribed in a few minutes toward the erection of the new gymnasium.

FREDDIE FRESHMAN

Alumni all over the country are responding favorably to the proposition. Their manifestations of wholeheartedness in Trinity's behalf is to be highly commended. It is certainly to be hoped that every one will cooperate in bringing to materialization the proposition which Bishop Kilgo has fathered.

UNDUE CRITICISM

It has for the past year or two been the tendency of a local paper to view with rank criticism an annual custom indulged in by certain students of this college. This critical attitude is provoked by street manifestations in the initiation of new men into the local organization known as the Tombs.

The Chronicle is inclined to believe that a reasonable amount of public "monkey business" at the expense of new initiates is harmful neither to the college nor to the town. A short while of marching, jestic acting, and laughing from jolly onlookers constitutes the whole of the annual affair. Traffic remains unblocked; no one is in danger of being injured.

What grounds there are for putting an end to these occasional college-boy pranks the Chronicle cannot see.

QUILL CLUB

The local organization known as the Quill Club can be made to do a great deal of good for this institution. The purpose of the Quill is primarily to promote an interest among students in newspaper work. If a great number of students would feel patriotic enough to take an active interest in the Club, much benefit would be derived for the College in the line of publicity.

The Chronicle takes this opportunity to urge all men interested in any publication work to become members of the Club and aid in its efforts to help the College.

CHRONICLE APPOINTMENTS

As a result of the competitive system of selecting associate editors and reporterial staffmen for the Chronicle, the editor announces the appointment of the following men: associate editors, R. L. Fisher, H. W. Kendall, and K. C. Towe; members of the reporterial staff, C. C. Alexander, C. B. Cooper, A. J. Hobbs, Jr., L. C. Matton, and D. H. Peeler.

The winning contestants have shown a marked ability to write such material as the Chronicle deems fit to use, and their election to the editorial staff of this paper is based thereupon. These men will be expected to meet with the editor in the editorial rooms every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Chronicle is at all times ready to rejoice in the success of its former editors. This time we congratulate former editor Ural N. Hoffman, '07, upon his election to the headship of the department of Journalism of Leland Stanford, Junior, University, California.

Professor Hoffman was one of the founders and second editor of The Chronicle, and its was more or less due to his able administration that the paper secured a permanent footing in the regular College life.

singing of "Good Night, Ladies," the ceremony was brought to a conclusion.

The procession marched to the West Duke Building where the candidates were initiated into the secrets of the order. Immediately following the ritualistic ceremonies the newly initiated members were hosts at an informal feed.

Those initiated were: Edwin Burge, of Hendersonville; G. B. Canthen, of Durham; F. C. Caviness, of Coleridge; John Cline, of Lincolnton; E. F. Dundon, of Elizabeth City; E. C. Few, of Griers, S. C.; R. L. Fisher, of Gatesville; L. L. Gobel, of Spencer; A. H. Gwyn, of Yanceyville; E. G. Harris, of Festus, Mo.; H. W. Kendall, of Shelby; R. E. Parker, of Lasker; A. Poole, of Jackson Springs; P. L. Sample, of Elizabeth City; J. R. Smith, of Mount Airy; K. C. Towe of Roanoke Rapids; and F. R. Yarbrough, of Cary.

The 1919 is an honor order of the Junior and Senior Classes which devotes itself to the promotion of scholarship and the fostering of a true college spirit. This order is the founder of The South Atlantic Quarterly, a publication which is edited by President Few and Dr. W. H. Glasson, and which has a high place among southern magazines. Under its auspices a Civic Celebration on Washington's Birthday and an annual high school contest is held.

Baby whimpered for a drink; Willie filled her up with ink. Mother, laughing at the lad, Fed the babe on blotting pad.

"Do you know why the little chickens come out of the eggs, dear?" "Course I do. They know they'd get boiled if they stayed in."

Park School Notes

The number of students enrolled in the Park School already presents a considerable increase over last year's enrollment. Five new students entered Monday morning, and several others are expected to enter during the week. All the students have been organized and supplied with books and are now down to real work.

Both literary societies held unusually interesting meetings last Friday night. From the program rendered, it appears that renewed interest is going to be taken this year in literary society work. Prof. A. R. Anderson has been chosen sponsor for the societies, and as an incentive to greater work, Prof. Anderson will this year give a course in argumentation and debating in connection with his other classes.

Plans have been submitted to contractors for bids for the remodeling of Branson Dormitory. These bids will be received at once and actual work will begin as soon as possible. As matters now stand, there is room in the dormitories for only three more students, but with the remodeling of Branson Dormitory accommodations will be furnished for forty more.

Prof. I. B. McCay has been elected professor to succeed Prof. F. S. Aldridge who served in that capacity for twelve years. Prof. Aldridge was only recently chosen headmaster, and for that reason the election of another man to the position was necessary.

One of the most interesting and instructive things which has been introduced into the Park School this year is the old-fashioned spelling-bee held every Friday afternoon with the Senior class lined up against the rest of the school. The match always affords manifold fun and at the same time gives much practical instruction.

"Do mind yez don't git hurt, Pat," said Bridget. "It's dangerous a-working in that quarry."

"That's aht right, Biddy," said Pat. "O'fve borrowed two dollars frim th' foreman, and he don't let me do any dangerous work any more."—Onward.

Timely remarks to the visitors were made by President E. C. Few, who impressed upon all present the danger of growing into the habit of neglecting society work and the fact that the time for decision was at hand. At the close of his remarks the society adjourned to convene again in a short while for the purpose of taking in new members.

Shortly after the intermission old Columbians were made to rejoice. When the marshal was asked to conduct the candidates to the chair to be received into membership, fifty-two men arose and crowded around the chair. While the president was receiving them, the old men joined in singing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow" and a stanza of "Bringing in the Sheaves."

Gwyn, of Yanceyville, was chosen as successor to President Flythe. Mr. Gwyn, took the floor, and after a few introductory remarks by him, the following officers were elected: vice-president, C. A. The Quill Club, which has for its purpose the fostering of a greater interest in journalism among the College students, held its first meeting of the year in the Economics room of the East Duke Building on last Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

In the absence of Mr. Jack W. Wallace, of the class of '10, president of the organization, the meeting was called to order by vice-president, Banks Arendell, of Raleigh. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Banks Arendell; vice-president, J. H. Small, Jr., of Washington; secretary-treasurer, H. W. Kendall, of Shelby. Interesting talks were made by both Prof. R. L. Flowers, and Dr. Edgar W. Knight. A committee consisting of Dr. E. W. Knight, J. H. Small, Jr., R. L. Fisher, and R. H. Shelton, was appointed to make a list of all the weekly newspapers of the State in order that the Club may arrange to get correspondents for as many of the papers as possible. Messrs. A. J. Hobbs, Jr., H. W. Kendall, and J. H. Small, Jr., were appointed as a committee to devise ways and means by which important news of the college may be sent to the weekly papers with the quickest dispatch, and at the least possible cost.

It was decided to invite Mr. Tom Bost, the Raleigh correspondent of the Greensboro Daily News, to make an address before the club some time soon.

BOOK BY HENDRIX

"If I Had Not Come," or "Things Taught Only by Christ," is the title of a recent book by Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which will be of interest to Trinity College students for the reason that the lectures contained in the volume were first given at Trinity College under the auspices of the Avera Foundation. At the time they were delivered in April of this year, attracted wide attention. The book is published by a Chicago publishing company.

The foundation under which these lectures of Bishop Hendrix's were given was established in 1897 and lectures under it are given every two years. Prominent men are always secured to give the lectures, but Bishop Hendrix is the second to publish the lectures later in book form. The first lecturer to do this was Dr. Thomson Whaling, of Columbia, South Carolina, who delivered the lectures at Trinity College in 1913.

Ural N. Hoffman, '07, has just been elected to the headship of the department of journalism of Leeland Stanford, Junior, University, California. He was called to this signal position of teacher and moulder of newspapermen from the position of city editor and feature writer of the Tacoma (Washington) Daily Ledger.

Together with H. G. Foard, '10, of Wilmington, Hoffman founded the Trinity Chronicle in 1905. Hoffman was associate editor of the Chronicle during the first year of the paper's existence and was editor-in-chief the second year. Immediately after leaving College, Hoffman became state news editor of the Charlotte Observer.

Sam C. Dellinger, class of '15, who has for the last year been professor in Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., has been awarded a scholarship at Columbia University and granted a year's leave of absence from Hendrix College.

Richard M. Crawford, ex-'94, who has been for a number of years professor in William and Mary College, of Virginia, has been granted one year's leave of absence to take post-graduate work in Columbia University.

Hon. Frank A. Linney, ex-'95, of Boone, is the Republican nominee for governor in the coming election. Hon. Linney was the Republican nominee for Congress from his district in a recent campaign.

D. E. Elias, '08, of Asheville, has been elected chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for the Tenth Congressional District.

A little boy went to Sunday school for the first time. His mother gave him a nickel to put in the collection box. When he returned, he had a stick of candy. "Where did you get that candy?" asked his mother. "From the stand around the corner." "But what did you buy it with?"

"With the nickel you gave me." "But that was for Sunday school." "Well," replied the boy, "I didn't need it. The minister met me at the door and got me in free." —The Christian Herald.

AT THE PARIS

Bluebird Photoplays, Inc., in fulfilling their purpose to make the play indeed "the thing," have selected "Love's Lariat" for presentation at the Paris theatre on Wednesday, with Harry Carey at one end of the lariat and Olive Fuller Golden at the other, Dan Cupid doing some fancy stunts in "roping and throwing" his subjects. There is an immensely humorous series of incidents, showing the transition of a bunch of cowboys from the open prairies to the confines of a Fifth Avenue mansion, with eight clever interpreters of western characters employed in the fun-making. But the abrupt twist of the story to sensationalism and romance, keeps the photoplay from being broad farce, and turns it, with amazing abruptness, into a gripping drama that will awaken the emotions of all classes of "picture fans."
