TRINITY—W. & L.

Trinity sprang a surprise on the strong Washington and Lee quint, at Lexington Monday night, holding the Generals 20-18 victory. The game was the first of a schedule of six that the Trinity team will play on the annual Virginia trip.

During the first part of the game the Virginians were easily the favorites. Their consistent and flashy team-work enabled them to amass a good lead on the Methodists at a decidedly early stage of the game. The first half ended with the Washington and Lee basketekers in the lead by the safe count of 13 to 7. At the beginning of the second half the Trinity boys seemed to have regained new life and hope. They went into the second stage of play with such an increased display of determination and with such consistent teamwork that the Generals suddenly found themselves being tagged from behind. The onslaught of the Methodists netted them 9 points while the home team was scoring only one third that number. About midway this half the score stood at a 16-16 tie. The tie was broken and tied again at 18. Two free shots by Young during the last few minutes of scrimmage proved to be the winning points.

Both teams guarded effectively and passed consistently throughout the entire contest. Frequently evident goal shots were thwarted by the clever defensive work of the opposing guards. It was the close and effective defensive by the members of both teams that prohibited the piling up of a very large score. In all, the game was conceded to be one of the cleanest and fastest basketball frays ever seen on the Generals' floor.

For the victorious Virginian quintet Captain Young, Adams, and Engley featured. "Cy" Aomng threw three field goals and six out of ten free chances for a total of 12 points. Adams played an excellent defensive game. Engley threw two goals from the floor and was effective in passing.

Groomer, Ferrell, and Captain Martin did stellar work for the defeated Methodists. Groomer held his opposing center, Graham, to two goals and scored five himself. Although Ferrell succeeded in breaking away from his forward only time enough to score one basket, he was especially fast in handling the ball and in breaking up plays of the Virginians. Martin played a good guarding game and scored 6 points, consisting of one field goal and four fouls.

This game was the tenth straight victory of the season for the Generals and the second defeat for the

PARK SCHOOL QUINT LOSES TO DURHAM HIGH SCHOOL

BY OVERWHELMING SCORE OF
45-18—BASEBALL PRACTICE BEGINS

The Trinity Park School lost its first game of the season last night, losing out to the Durham High School quint by a 45-18 count. From beginning to end the High Schoolers were perceptibly the favorites. At no time of the contest did the "Preps" show any evident signs of overcoming the lead of their strong combatants.

Knight, Carmichael, and Captain White were the feature players for the down-town boys, while the stellar work of Captain Hathaway was the chief asset for the Park School team.

The line-up for each team was as follows: Trinity Park—Conzale, Cox and Carver, forwards; Page, center; Hathaway (Capt.), and Diokens, guards. High School—Holloway and Carmichael forwards; Knight, center; White (Capt.), Teer, and Stephens, guards.

The first meeting of the Trinity Park baseball squad took place on Monday evening. About thirty men were present. The meeting was of a business nature, and much interest was shown. The first regular practice is to be held in the first part of next week. All of the men seem to be very enthusiastic about the prospects, and the team seems to have a good chance of being one of the best "prep" school teams in the State.

TRINITY GRADUATE ARCHITECT ON NEW BUILDING

In the Rotarian Magazine of August last was a cut of the large $250,000 auditorium now being erected near Asheville. This building is for the National Music Festival of America, which is to be held in August of each year. The section capacity is to be twenty thousand, with a stage capacity of two thousand. The architect is Louis H. Asbury, '00, Charlotte, N. C.

J. R. McCrary, A. B. '91, a member of the House of Representatives from Davidson County, has been elected leader of the minority party in the North Carolina legislature. He was the nominee of his party for Speaker of the House.

Miss Knight is Hostess to Senior "Co-Eds" Tuesday

The Valentine idea was carried out in the decorations and in the tally cards. Progressive Rook was the diversion of the afternoon. After the game Miss Knight, assisted by Mrs. Knight and Miss Pattie Knight, served a salad course, tea, and candy. Miss Knight's guests were: Miss Goldie Copley, Margarette Martin, Grace Holton, Mary Wilson, Annie Smith, Ina Young, Etelle Young, Lucille Womble, Blanch Mann, Edna Taylor, Katie Gill, Margaret Durham, and Adelaide Lyons.

tor of Methodist hopes for the first time, arrived in the city from his home in southern Georgia early last week. He managed the Rome team of the Georgia-Alabama League last season and, at the close of the unusually short season of that league, assumed control of the Durham Bulls. He has been chosen as Bull pilot again this year, but will in no wise allow his managerial office to interfere with his coaching duties. He has had considerable other baseball experience and is thoroughly capable of directing the Methodist team of 1917.

Bad weather prevented Coach Manush from calling for candidates until Wednesday. On that morning he posted the call, and that afternoon came the first light practice. On account of the wet, soggy condition of the New Hanes Field, practice was held on the Old Hanes Field, where it will continue to be held until the new field is put into good condition.

Only light mild practice has yet been indulged in and for that reason Coach Manush has not yet been able to get a line on any of the

PROFESSOR IN KENTUCKY COLLEGE URGES STUDENTS TO ATTEND

Dr. J. Watt Raine, of Berea College, Kentucky, who has for many years been a leader and speaker in the Southern Student Conference, Blue Ridge, North Carolina, has the following to say of the annual gathering:

"Blue Ridge Conference is not a place where abnormally pious fellows go to soak themselves in an atmosphere dripping with religion. If you are that sort of Righteous Willie, you will not feel at home there. They would probably drop you into the swimming pool for the sheer pleasure of hearing your holy tones come gurgling up through the water.

"You might justly infer that Blue Ridge is not permeated by a severe classic formality. It is a gathering of friends; four hundred young men, and a few older men, enjoying themselves together for ten delightful days. There is nothing greater than friendship, and any possible chance to enter this Blue Ridge group should be eagerly seized. This is not a summer resort where you scrape a shallow acquaintance and painfully converse about the weather or the table.

"Have you wished that you could have some of the deeper experiences of sane and healthy men? Have you wished that you could get down to something solid in religion? Have you wished you could take time to investigate some things that you have heard vaguely mentioned, or touched upon occasionally but never really explained? Would you like to ask questions of somebody that really knows—somebody that is not afraid to dig into the very heart of things—where you will not shock some good old soul and be called an infidel just because you want to examine the evidence and make sure? Would you like to find out what method of Bible study and praying busy and practical men have found juicy and helpful? Would you like to do something for your bunch at college, or still more, for your younger brother's bunch, to keep them from making fools of themselves and going to the dogs?

To Members of Science Club on "Potash Salts"

"Potash Salts" was the subject of the address delivered by Professor R. N. Wilson before the meeting of the Science Club last Monday evening. On account of the present demand now for these salts the subject was naturally of much interest. In the course of his lecture, Professor Wilson told where the salts are found, their relative amounts, and the way they are mined. He stated that there were enough potash salts in Germany now to supply the world for the next six hundred thousand years.

Following the address, an informal "feed," consisting of cream, cakes, and cigars, was served.

ANNUAL REVIVAL ENDS WITH SUNDAY SERVICES

Y. M. C. A. MEETINGS COME TO END WITH LECTURES
SUNDAY

MEETINGS MARKED BY SUCCESS

An Unusually Large and Interesting Crowd of Students at Meetings Evidences Their Success

The annual mid-year revival meetings, held under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. and conducted this year by Rev. M. Bradshaw, '78, of Raleigh, closed Sunday night. The fact that these meetings had larger attendances than any heretofore is proof enough that the recent services were extraordinarily successful. A brief account of each lecture from Wednesday till the final meeting Sunday night follows:

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7

At the morning service Wednesday, Rev. Bradshaw used as his subject, "Preparation," reading as a lesson the parable of the ten virgins. He told the congregation that men ought to be prepared for the emergencies of life; for it is the times of emergency in the spiritual life of a man that puts him to the supreme test. "When the emergency comes, it is too late to prepare."

Wednesday night Rev. Bradshaw's talk was on "Repentance." He used the life of Simon Peter as an illustration and his confession to Christ as a scripture lesson. Rev. Bradshaw said that Peter was probably the most human like character in the New Testament. He referred to the denial of Christ and then the later repentance. The power to repent, he said, brings some of the most valuable experiences of a man's life. "Others may not need to repent, but I cannot do without repentance in my life."

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8

For his text Thursday morning Rev. Bradshaw used part of St. John 4; 49: "Come down ere my child die." He showed how the rich ruler had turned to Christ in his dire need seeking to preserve his dearest treasure, his child. Even as this man turned to Christ in his anxiety, so do we turn to Him in our afflictions. We need religion to keep the treasures which we cherish. We are driven to religion by the instinct of self-preservation. There always has been a primitive man. We go to religion because we want life. Our religion has Jesus Christ, and it is to Him that we should go. In answering the question why we should turn to Christ, Rev. Bradshaw pointed out that Christ is always accessible, that He is never too busy to come to our rescue, and that He is the only one who has authority in this realm. He concluded by saying, "There is no death where Jesus is."

The text for the evening sermon was taken from St. John 21; 25: "And there are also many other things which Jesus did." Rev. Bradshaw pointed out that this passage suggested the inexhaustible resources of Jesus Christ. The New Testament is filled to the

From measles to whooping cough to—What? Croup, perhaps.

The runaway chaps who enrolled at the Park School are surely to be admired for their ambition to get an education.

"Diplomatic relations between A. and M. and Wake Forest College have been resumed," says the Old Gold and Black. That's athletics.

One victory out of two games with such strong teams as Washington and Lee and V. M. I. is not a bad start on the Virginia trip.

BENEFICIAL FACTOR

Last Sunday night's revival meeting marked the close of another loyal attempt of the Trinity Y. M. C. A. and of our Christian College to touch the religious side of the hearts of the students.

The lectures this year are to be judged favorably successful. An unusually large crowd of students was present at the meeting and apparently lent their hearty co-operation to this uplifting factor by their attendance. The messages which the conductor of the meetings so forcibly and so earnestly brought to his hearers doubtless had telling effects. Numbers of straying students openly joined hands with the worthy minister in implication of their determination to start again on the right and the only road to ultimate success. Others heard and will heed the divine messages which were communicated to them. All who heard the pastor's talks ought never to forget the high and ennobling things which this annual institution seeks to set forth for our mutual benefit.

To Rev. M. Bradshaw whose loyal and devoted spirit moved him to impress us so profoundly with his appealing and elevating words, the whole community extends its warmest thanks. To the local organization under whose auspices the recent meetings were held, we all express our deepest appreciation and gratitude.

The Y. M. C. A. unquestionably deserves an increased interest and co-operation on the part of the whole student body in its constructive labors in our behalf.

COLLEGE PHYSICIAN

Occasional, perhaps frequent, spells of sickness among Trinity students rightly demands the formation by the authorities of a better system of looking into their physical conditions. For a special physician to make student examinations once in a while, the Chronicle thinks, would not be an untimely or an out-of-the-way suggestion.

The indisposition of students may be one of two kinds, real or pretended. The College physician would be useful in curing both. In his occasional rounds to the rooms of the students he might find some who were really sick and who actually needed his attention. In this capacity and in that of curing pretended sickness he would be a help to the College office. A certificate by him would save the executive committee many such questions as "Were you sick?" and certain students of such falsehoods as "I was." It is not to be doubted that the College physician would be well worth his pay in both respects.

Then a college physician would save many students various amounts of money. Some students now get sick, call in doctor several times, and in the end have to bear the burden of paying his fee. Then occasional advice from the College physician would doubtless cause the students to take better care of themselves physically.

Toward the salary of the physician all students might be required to contribute. An additional dollar or so to the matriculation fee would net a fair sum which with financial help from the College could procure at least a sufficient amount of the physician's time. Or better than that possibly, one half of the present matriculation fee might be used in hiring an physician and some other agreement arrived at between the College and Watts Hospital. Then the remainder needed for the physician's salary might be provided for by a slight addition to the matriculation fee. A very small percentage of the students ever derive any benefit from the Hospital fee, whereas all of them would be getting something for their money in the services of a College physician. A final possible method might be simply for the College to make an arrangement with Watts Hospital whereby an additional amount should be paid them in return for the occasional services of one of their physicians in the capacity of a College physician.

SYMPATHY

The entire community regrets that Dean Crawford is being confined to his home with a troublesome but not serious attack of the whooping cough.

We all miss Dr. Crawford and sincerely hope that his numerous vacant places will soon be filled by him again.

Friends will be sorry to hear of the recent death of W. G. Parker, '03, who at the time of his death was dean of Trinity Cathedral, Little Rock, Arkansas.

brim with things He said and did, yet half is not told. He has not exhausted all His sympathy, His love, and His power in times past. He has something left for us. He is still doing the wonderful things He did long ago. He still says to the sinner, "Go in peace." "His arm is as strong as ever, His quiver as full as ever, His love as fresh as ever. He has something left over for us."

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9

Rev. Bradshaw, in this morning service, used as a text the verse from Luke 19: 10: "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which is lost." He saw some of the fruits of his labors during the week for the Master. Using the story of Zaccheus, he preached such a telling sermon on the mission of Jesus in the world, and made his hearers feel so plainly their need of the Christ, that when he asked all who wished to confess Him and pledge themselves to better lives, to come out frankly and do so, scores of students came forward and shook the preacher by the hand as a token of this step. It was an impressive service and one which clearly did much good.

Rev. Bradshaw's text for the evening was taken from Habakkuk 2: 20: "But the Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him." This sermon brought men out again publicly confessing their sins and seeking the influence and guidance of the Saviour in their lives. As Mr. Bradshaw preached with his characteristic earnestness the presence of God always as the Ruler of the universe, he strikingly illustrated the words of his text by an impressive incident in connection with the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. When the United States stood aghast at this catastrophe and trembled for what might become of the nation, James A. Garfield rose before a turbulent mass in New York City and gave a balm to their troubled spirits with the quiet stately words, "God is in His Heaven, and the government at Washington is still running." And the minister said he liked to think, in these troubled hours of confusion and suffering because of an appalling world war, that "God is still in His Heaven, and the government at Washington is still running." Again, when he gave the invitation scores of students came forward signifying their desire to accept Jesus Christ, many of them coming to pledge a renewed allegiance to a Christian life.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10

Saturday morning Rev. Bradshaw preached a powerful sermon on the tenth verse of the nineteenth chapter of St. Luke: "For the son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." In a forceful manner Rev. Bradshaw portrayed the all-saving love of Jesus Christ. He said that only Jesus Christ can save sinners and He never despaired of anyone. He never lost faith in humanity. He saw in each one an immortal soul when looked down on the Publican or vilest sinner. No man can stand without the Gospel and the love of Christ. In conclusion, Dr. Bradshaw said, "No matter how great the darkness of sin, Jesus Christ can light it all up and bring us back home."

Dr. Bradshaw, in the evening service, lectured on the necessity of our holding up the divine standard of living set by Jesus Christ before we can accomplish anything worth-while. We are all helpless in the world if we do not class ourselves by looking to high things with the Christ-like. If we look to Him in reverence and in confession, He can and will save us.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 11

Rev. Bradshaw took the text for his morning lecture from Hebrews, 12: 22, 24: "But ye are come unto Mount Zion and unto the city of the living God, and to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant." Sunday morning saw the largest congregation of the week gather in the Trinity Y. M. C. A. auditorium to hear Rev. Bradshaw, as the special series of services, which had been going on for a week, drew toward a close. There were present many visitors from Durham and vicinity. The ministers hearers listened reverently and attentively to him as he preached on Jesus Christ as the Mediator between God and man. The hearty congregational singing was again a very effective part of the service.

In the closing service Rev. Bradshaw read his text from John 11: 16: "Then said Thomas unto his fellow disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with Him." Rev. Bradshaw revealed the great humanity of Thomas in his sermon Sunday night. He showed the weak, doubting, impulsive Thomas. And he disclosed the great love and devotion of Thomas for his Lord. He disagreed with many commentators who held that Thomas stayed away from the supper in memory of the Saviour because of skepticism or lack of faith; he maintained that Thomas stayed away for emotional reasons, not wanting to be there unless his Lord was there in the midst of it all.

This closing service of the revival was a very impressive and striking one. Mr. Bradshaw asked all who had come forward during the week making an open stand for a Christian life to come forward again that he might shake hands with them and look them in the face once more before he should leave. He also gave the invitation to any others who would come forward at this time, acknowledging Jesus Christ. And it was both inspiring and touching to see the great number of students that filed down from both aisles to the front during the singing of the soul-stirring hymn, "Just as I am."

TRINITY—V. M. I.

The second game on the Virginia trip, that with V. M. I., ended in a victory for Trinity, the final score being 31 to 29. The contest was fought out on the V. M. I. court at Lexington Tuesday afternoon.

Clean and consistent playing by both teams characterized the entire forty minutes of scrimmage. Although the defensive work by the two quintets was not as effective as that which was ever evident in the Washington and Lee game, neither side was able to pile up a dangerous lead on the other. All things considered, the two teams were very nearly evenly matched with a shade of advantage in Trinity's favor.

For the downed Cadets the work of Leech and Marshall was of the stellar variety. These forwards did practically all the scoring for the Virginians.

Ferrell, Captain Martin, and Groome were the feature players for the Methodist quint. Ferrell was in his usual form at passing the ball and was accredited with two field goals. Besides being good at defensive work, Martin threw three goals from the floor and made good seven chances at free goal-shooting. Groome secured the tip-off practically all the time and pocketed the ball four times.

Dr. William Lyon Phelps, Lampson Professor of English in Yale University, began on last Wednesday night a series of seven lectures at Wake Forest.—Old Gold and Black, Wake Forest.

As a result of the gift by a local man of $62,500 provided the city gives the same amount, the new Plantz-Naylor chapel-and-atorium for Lawrence college is certain to be erected within the next year.—The Yawrentian, Lawrence College, Wisconsin.

Tulane University basketball team made a clean sweep of the two-game series with the University of Alabama, at the University Gym, Friday and Saturday, winning the rst game 39 to 19 and the second by the score of 41 to 20.—The Tulane Weekly.

On Thursday, January 25th, the hockey team defeated New Haven High School by the score of 5 to 1. The game was by far the best played at Choate this winter, and the team showed to better advantage than at any other time this season.—The Choate, Connecticut, News.

Captain Jack Sproul's basketball five underwent a baptism of fire in inaugurating its season when it met the Princeton team with a riddled line-up for the second game of the year. Flashes of real basketball turned Albright back Friday night, 41-25.—The Phoenix, Swarthmore.

The University basketball team continued its victorious march by defeating Lafayette College in the Weightman Hall gymnasium Saturday night. The Lafayette game was scheduled only a week ago for the purpose of keeping the team in shape for the hard games that follow after the mid-year examinations. Lafayette proved a harder opponent than anticipated, Pennsylvania not showing a mastery until the last few minutes. The final score was 23 to 17.—Old Penn, University of Pennsylvania.

J. H. Separk, '06, has recently been elected President of the Chamber of Commerce of Gastonia, North Carolina, where Mr. Separk has been a cotton manufacturer for the past twenty years.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

Newly Paved Street and Planted Trees Add to Appearance Of Park

Extensive improvements have recently been made on and about the campus. Guess Street has been recently paved and its name changed to Buchanan Boulevard; and, under the direction of Dr. F. C. Brown, a number of trees are being planted over the campus. These improvements will better the appearance of the College property to a great degree.

Guess Street which runs parallel to the campus on the East has been paved with asphalt the full length of the College holdings. At the present time this street, which was paved through the co-operation of the College with the City, is the best street in Durham.

Wherever there is need for additional trees on the campus, they are being planted. At a great expense the College is securing water-oaks, willow-oaks, evergreens and pines from the nearby woods, and is transplanting them at different places on the campus. These trees will range in size from eight to fifteen inches in diameter, and from thirty to forty feet in height. Where the trees are too thickly planted, they are being cut down and removed.

PARTHENON CLUB MEETS

Miss Janie Chandler made a very interesting talk on Myron and His Contemporaries to the Parthenon Club early this afternoon. The Parthenon Club is the Women's classical club of the College. The talk was illustrated with stereopticon views.

ALUMNI REGISTER

The Trinity Alumni Register, the magazine of the general association which is published quarterly, recently issued from the press, contains a great deal of material of interest to the graduates and former students of the college. The leading article is by Prof. E. C. Brooks, and is entitled "Charles Force Deems vs. Braxton Craven" and is a part of the history of Trinity College which Prof. Brooks is preparing for the magazine.

new material. Of the old men back Love, Deal, and Graham are again trying for infield positions. Letier is at his old place behind the bat, Earnhardt, Powell, Lambe and falls, who last year played second base, are out for pitchers and Captain Flythe is again covorting around the outer gardens.

Besides the large and likely looking bunch of Freshmen candidates Whitener, Carver, Edens, and Menshew all members of the squad last year, are seeking permanent births this year. These are the only men who have reported regularly up to date, but Captain Flythe wishes every other man, who has any baseball ability at all, to report for practice at once.

According to Coach Manush's announcement practice will be held upon the Old Hanes Field every afternoon that the weather permits. A stiff, hard practice will gradually take the place of the light, preliminary workouts, and in a short time the new Coach hopes to have a straight line on all the material at hand.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat suggests that Colonel Roosevelt might now write a book on "The Losing of the West."—El Paso (Tex.) Times.
