YALE VS. TRINITY

Consistent hitting and steady playing on the part of Yale aided by Trinity's numerous errors resulted in the latter's overwhelming defeat on the home grounds Friday, April 6th, by the score of 9 to 2. The Trinity team was simply outclassed from every point of the game.

All of Trinity's scoring was done in the first inning, when three hits were bunched on Comerford, producing two runs. After this inning, the Yale twirler tightened up, and Trinity was unable to drive another tally across. Yale also scored in the first, secured four runs in the fourth, and one each in the last four innings.

For Yale, the outstanding features of the contest were the all round playing of Legore and the hitting and base-running of Holden; for Trinity, the work of Tove at short and Leder's hitting.

Score by innings:

r	e	e
Trinity	...	200 000 000—2 6 9
Yale	...	700 400 111—9 15 2

 Batteries—Earnhardt, Lamb and Leller; Comerford and Munson. Umpire, "Dutch" Hoffman. Time, two hours.

TRINITY VS. BULLS

In a rather fast practice game on Monday, April 9th the Durham Bulls defeated Trinity on the East Durham ball park. Twirlers for both teams held their opponents to only four hits, and the result was the close score of 6 to 5 in favor of the Bulls. The game for the most part was smooth and unsensational. The featurings for the Bulls was the home run by R. Grimes, fast base running of Butts, and the star catch of Dayton; while the featurings for Trinity was the good hitting of Beal and Falls.

Score by innings:

r
Trinity	...	301 000 001—5
Bulls	...	101 030 100—6

 Batteries—Trinity, Earnhardt, Lamb, and Moore; Bulls, Livingston, Cates, Forman, and Smith.

TRINITY VS. GUILFORD

Effective pitching by Zachary and consistent hitting by the whole team gave Guilford a 6-4 victory over Trinity on the Quaker's grounds last Tuesday. The game was fast and interesting, and only the stellar work of the big Quaker southpaw kept the Methodists from tying the score at several stages of the contest.

Aside from the mound-work of Zachary, the slugging of Marlette stood out most prominently for the victors. The heavy-hitting short-stop secured a single, a double, and two triples out of five trips to the plate, every one of which figured materially in the run getting. The fast work of Tove on short featured for the locals. Beal, with a triple to his credit, was the only

DR. DAVID M. ROBINSON LECTURES ON ARCHAEOLOGY

NOTED EPIGRAPHIST OF JOHNS HOPKINS SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Under the auspices of the alumni professors of Johns Hopkins University now at Trinity Dr. David M. Robinson, of Johns Hopkins, delivered an intensely interesting as well as instructive address in the Y. M. C. A. hall, Friday night, April 13, on "Ancient Cities in Asia Minor and the Seven Churches."

Dr. Robinson is professor of classical archaeology and epigraphy and lecturer on Greek literature at Johns Hopkins where he has been since 1911. He has participated in excavations in Corinth and Sardis and is well known through his articles on archaeological subjects.

In the course of his lecture Dr. Robinson said that "there are hardly any new lands to be discovered except underneath the old lands, and Asia Minor offers a boundless field for such research. There buried civilizations do not rise from the dead themselves. They have to be dug up. This lecture, based on several trips in Asia Minor, attempts to play the part of the reporter of recent excavations and to show some views of buried cities in Asia Minor which have been, or are being unearthed by systematic excavation. The places considered are Laodicea, Hierapolis, Sardes, Pergamum, Smyrna, Ephesus, Priene, and Miletus."

DR. R. H. BENNETT LEC- TURES TO Y. M. C. A.

EMORY PROFESSOR SPEAKS TO STUDENTS ON CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

Dr. Richard H. Bennett, of the Theological Department of Emory University, Atlanta, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on last Wednesday evening, April 11th. Dr. Bennett spoke on "The War and Preachers," and in part said:

Let us think for a little while about the Christian Ministry. It is very difficult for a man to decide what to do in life. We need farmers and doctors and clerks and all manner of workers; a man may be called to one as well as to another. The thing to do is what we can and what we ought to do. We say we shall depend on Divine guidance, but we must do our part. We must use our intelligence and perform our part of the decision in the answer to our prayers. We must be guided by our own personal abilities, by our training, by our temperaments, and, of course, by our prayers. The last named, dependence on God, is absolutely necessary.

Why do you want to preach? Because every other ambition sinks into insignificance beside that of a life of service for Jesus Christ. The only question for you and me is what to do about it. Don't make a mistake. Go at it from the highest motive. Every life may be a great success. Any man can succeed. The only two conditions are these: turn to the right; then keep straight ahead.

TRINITY MEN BEGIN MILITARY TRAINING

OVER TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS
REPORT FOR ACTIVE
DRILL

PARTICIPANTS TO DROP COURSE

Major Chambers, Lieutenant McLendon and Prof. Flowers Address
Enthusiastic Mass Meeting

Intensive military training was made an actuality for Trinity students yesterday afternoon when over two hundred men began daily drilling under local supervision following the action of a mass-meeting Monday afternoon, in which the new conditions were fully set forth and the plans of the college made known. The faculty has agreed to allow any student drop one of the regular three hour courses and be credited with it, provided he take the training offered. It is at present planned to have eighteen hours of drilling a week.

Prof. W. H. Hall, of the Department of Engineering and former student of the Naval Academy, Annapolis, has been detailed to instruct the Trinity students in military tactics, and he is at present working with the co-operation of some twenty undergraduates who have had previous military training. Prof. Hall has modernized himself in every respect in regard to military regulations and discipline and will prove a most capable commandant. Hearby co-operation has been promised by members of the local unit of the National Guard and by Capt. Sharpe, Retired, of Raleigh. Capt. J. O. Durham, '17, will also be active in the work until his departure for regular service. About twenty Seniors and Graduates in addition have been picked by Prof. Hall and are being given intensive, additional training preparatory to becoming petty drill-masters for the rest of the student body.

Following the return of Prof. R. L. Flowers from Washington, with the information that the War Department would furnish as many Craig, 1898, remodeled, guns as should be needed, that no officer was available for detail here, but that it was keenly desired by the army authorities that the colleges begin as much training as possible, it was decided to begin the local drilling at once. A mass-meeting was held, therefore, in Craven Memorial Hall Monday afternoon for the purpose of bringing before the student body all the facts of the situation and securing a list of those who still desired the training after understanding its rigorous nature and all other facts in the case. Major Chambers, of the North Carolina Regiment, and Lieutenant McLendon, were kind enough to make short talks based on their border experience and giving in peculiarly forcible terms the duties and standards of soldiery. Prof. Flowers spoke also, expressing the College's viewpoint. He declared in particular that Trinity could brook no half-way measures in its preparatory activities and begged that

LITERARY SOCIETIES SUSPEND ON ACCOUNT OF THE WAR

OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR ARE ELECTED AND MEDALS
AWARDED

Owing to the state of affairs on the campus in regard to war and military training, the Columbian and the Hesperian Literary Societies decided at their regular meetings last Saturday night to discontinue with all further meetings of the societies throughout the current year. This suspension of all meetings made necessary the delivering of the senior farewell speeches, the awarding of the various medals, and the election of officers for the first term of the next collegiate year after the regular programs of the societies.

In the Columbian Society the medals were awarded as follows: Orator's Medal, R. E. Parker, of Lasker; General Debater's Medal, A. B. Farmer, of Bailey; Freshman Debater's Medal, J. E. Gilbreath, of Columbia, Tenn. The election of officers resulted as follows: president, A. H. Gwyn, of Yanceyville; vice-president, E. M. Spivey, of Farmville; secretary, A. J. Hobbs, of Corapeake; treasurer, L. L. Gobbel, of Spencer; marshal, J. A. Gilbreath, of Columbia, Tenn.; chairman executive committee, B. O. Merritt, of Clinton; business committee, R. K. Smathers, W. R. Jenkins, D. E. Saunders, J. B. Hurley, J. H. Brendall; Chronicle Board, A. J. Hobbs and L. H. McNeely; Chancellor Board, H. W. Kendall, A.

TRINITY ALUMNI OF VIR- GINIA HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

ENDORSE ACTION OF COLLEGE
—DR. GLASSON GUEST OF HONOR

The second annual dinner of the Trinity Virginia Alumni Association was held on last Saturday evening at the University Club, Richmond. There were more than thirty persons present, among whom were many alumni who have won distinction in business or professional life. After a delightful menu was served, speeches were made by members of the association and guests.

Reverend T. A. Smoot, D. D. '95, Pastor of Centenary M. E. Church, acted as toastmaster. After he had made a few remarks, the following men spoke: Arthur B. Bradsher, '04; Dr. Paul V. Anderson, '97; John Steward Bryan, Editor of the News Leader, of Richmond; and Dr. William H. Glasson, who was the guest of honor.

Dr. Glasson's subject was "Political Economy and Patriotism." He urged personal economy as the patriotic duty of all citizens during the period of the war and advocated the financing of the war as largely as possible by taxation rather than by too exclusive a reliance on great issues of bonds. Dr. Glasson's speech made a deep impression upon the alumni.

The Association sent the following wire to President Few: "We, members of the Trinity College Alumni Association of Virginia,

SERMON BY J. S. MONTGOMERY

Former President Crowell to Speak to Alumni and President Few to Deliver Baccalaureate
Address

The program announced for the seventy-ninth commencement is as follows:
Sunday, June 3, 8:30 P. M., Baccalaureate Address, President William Preston Few, L. D.
Tuesday, June 5, 11 A. M., Baccalaureate Sermon, The Reverend James Shea Montgomery, D. D., Washington City.
Tuesday, June 5, 1 P. M., Alumni Dinner, Address, Dr. John Franklin Crowell, L. L. D., New York City.
Tuesday, June 5 8:30 P. M., Graduating Orations.
Wednesday, June 6, 10:30 A. M., Commencement Address, Hamilton Holt, L. L. D., New York City.

The Honorable Hamilton Holt, who is to deliver the commencement address, is editor of the Independent, one of the most influential magazines in the country. Dr. Holt is a native of New York and a graduate of Yale in the class of 1894. From 1894-7 he pursued studies in sociology and economics in Columbia University. In 1915 he was awarded L. L. D. degree by Ursinus College. He is not only a distinguished man of letters, but he is also one of the most forceful and interesting public speakers in this country. He has lectured considerably on international peace and is a member of the Church Peace Union, the League to Enforce Peace, the World Peace Foundation, the American-Scandinavian Foundation, a member of the executive committee of the New York Peace Society, and the International Conciliation Society. He is author of Undistinguished Americans, Commercialism and Journalism, and other literary productions.

Dr. Montgomery, who is to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon, has for several years been one of the most popular and influential preachers in Washington City. He is author of The Voice of a New Age and a frequent contributor to religious papers and reviews. He has a distinguished career as a preacher and lecturer on sociological and literary subjects.

The College is especially fortunate in being able to have Dr. John Franklin Crowell, of New York City, to deliver the alumni address. Dr. Crowell was President of Trinity from 1887 to 1894, when he accepted the position of head of the department of Economics and Sociology in Smith College, Massachusetts. He is a noted economist and man of letters.

The exercises this year promise to be of unusual interest. At commencement the twenty-fifth anniversary of the removal of the College to Durham will be celebrated.

"Let's see what nation is responsible for this conglomeration of hair and head noises."

EDITORIAL

Students are urged to use the deliberative subjunctive in this tense situation.

Trinity students might be reminded of the famous words from Pope: "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

There appears to be a tie in the number of courses dropped and of old books sold to the second-hand book merchant on Tuesday.

One who knows says that there is at present more war talk on the Trinity campus than there is in the War Department at Washington.

THIS NUMBER

Pursuing the announcement in the last issue of the Chronicle that the current number would be the first of a series of three under the complete supervision of the associate editors, Associate Editor R. L. Fisher has this issue in his charge. He has had charge of the gathering of news, written heads, corrected proof, composed and signed an editorial, and supervised the entire make-up.

The issue of next week will likewise be in the hands of Associate Editor, H. W. Kendall.

SALUTE THE FLAG

Since Trinity College has become at least for the time being a military institution, it is nothing but proper that the students should take a more serious attitude to military matters, especially the custom of saluting Old Glory.

The American flag has come down to us from generations and generations gone by. It is a symbol of nationalism, of patriotism, and of liberty, equality, and fraternity. We are inclined to forget, however, just what the Red, White, and Blue represents. We are apparently of the opinion that our love for the flag is to be taken for granted and not to be displayed in any concrete manner. The consequence is that we indifferently look upon Old Glory purely as a matter of course.

But we must overcome this indifference to the Stars and Stripes now. One of the most admirable qualities of the American soldier is his outward expression of love and regard for our Nation's flag. Wherever he may be, he tips his hat at the tune of the "Star Spangled Banner" if standing with his hat on. Or if he is sitting, he stands up and remains standing until the tune is ended. Then, in many other ways he tenders respect to the flag.

It would indisputably be a great thing for us of Trinity to be outwardly more respectful to Old Glory. Wherever a Trinity student may be, he might salute in some manner at the time of the "Star Spangled Banner." And after the evening retreat when the flag is lowered and the evening call sounds on the bugle, he might rise if he is in hearing distance, face toward the college flag, and salute.

SERVICE COMMENSURATE WITH TRAINING

In a crisis such as the one that confronts our nation today there is always a marked tendency on the part of college students and others to become excited and resort to hasty action without giving the matter thoughtful and careful consideration. Many are prompted to pursue such a course-by what they believe to be patriotism. Now, a man's conviction that he should enlist as a private in the army, navy, or some other branch of service, or his patriotism is too sacred a thing to be questioned, but it is important and, in fact, essential to the success of the cause that this patriotism be directed in the right channels. Thus, the question as to whether he should immediately enlist in some branch of service or wait until the government takes some definite steps as to the method of raising an army, confronts every college man today.

In reality, what is a college man's relation to the whole situation? The world is going to expect him to be a leader in the conflict. This is well evidenced by the fact that the Government has recently seen fit to change Plattsburg from a citizens' camp into an officers' training camp for college men. This camp may open May 1 and the College should and in all probability will release all Seniors who have the aptitude and who are willing to attend this camp. Is it not better, then, for these men, who, by reason of their superior advantages are better qualified to become leaders, to display their patriotism by enlisting in the Officers Reserve Corps?

There are many ways of displaying one's patriotism other than enlistment as a private. Of course, if one feels that it is his duty to enlist as a private, he should by all means do so. But does not true patriotism embody service to one's country in the best capacity for which one is fitted? The women in the Civil War who stayed at home and made clothing, etc., for the soldiers were just as much patriotic in the truest sense as the soldiers on the battlefield. For example, there are men in the engineering school who would be of more service to the government in the engineering corps than they could possibly be as a private in the regular army. There are other technical students, such as those majoring in Chemistry, who could render much more efficient service in the munitions factory than they could on the firing line. At Cornell University the administration and the faculty are making vigorous efforts to retain in the industrial world all men who have had training in Chemistry. Would it not be a sacrifice to the cause for these students to enlist as privates, work for which they have no preparation whatsoever, when they are so well qualified to serve their country in some other capacity?

Again, no one knows in what branch of service men are most needed and the War Department is not prepared as yet to answer this question. Plans as to the number of men that will be needed also have not yet been formulated.

The following quotation from General Wood, now Commanding General of the Southern Division, will serve to show the attitude of the government authorities as regards the policy that the college men should adopt: "The college and university corps are doing splendid work, and I am hoping that it will be possible to keep them in continuous training until they may be needed by the army. Princeton, Harvard, Yale, and University of Pennsylvania, Columbia, Wesleyan, Cornell, in fact practically every leading college and university in this part of the country now has a corps of students undergoing a course of military training directed by army officers. I think these organizations should be continued all summer if necessary. They have the dormitories, mess halls, and the drill grounds, and there is no reason why any college corps should be disrupted and the men transferred to any other camp or organization."

Taking all these facts into consideration, then, it behooves every college man to consider carefully how he can best serve his country before he takes any definite steps. Every one who possibly can do so and who does not feel called upon to enlist as a private, but who wishes to display his patriotism in some way, should stay here and take advantage of the military drill which the college authorities have so generously made possible for the major portion of the students to take by letting it substitute for a three-hour course.

TRINITY BEGINS MILITARY TRAINING (Continued from Page One)

Only those men who were in earnest in their interest should begin the training. Prof. W. H. Wannamaker announced to the meeting the result of the Faculty's discussion as to ways and means of alleviating the work of the students. This action was precipitated by a petition from the members of the Senior Class. It has been decided that a student may receive full credit for any course he may select, with certain limitations, if he take the military drill satisfactorily and for the full term. If any man is dropped from the training, he must make up the course and stand the regular examination before he receive any credit for the course originally dropped.

GENERAL ORDER NUMBER ONE

Students who are taking or expect to take military drill and who do not make arrangements with the Executive Committee about the course of study which they expect to discontinue before twelve o'clock Thursday, April 19, will not be allowed to discontinue any course. Absolutely no exception will be made to this rule, and no further notice will be given.

W. H. HALL, Officer in Charge.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Offenses committed by students of Trinity College taking military drill shall be classified and assigned demerits as indicated below. Reports of offenses will be posted on the bulletin board each day, and the person so reported will have an opportunity to render an excuse. This excuse, however, must be presented in person within twenty-four hours after the report is published. Any student who receives fifty demerits within the first three weeks, beginning Thursday, April 19, will be dropped from the squad. The name of any person dropped from the squad will be posted on the bulletin and published in the Chronicle. These regulations are modeled after the regulations enforced at West Point and Annapolis.

RECENT TRIP PROVES DISASTROUS FOR TRINITY (Continued from Page One)

DAVIDSON VS. TRINITY

In a listless, uninteresting game Trinity succumbed to the Davidson nine on the latter's ground last Thursday by the score of 10 to 3. The game was featured by the hitting of McMillan and Keesler for Davidson and of Lefler for Trinity. Trinity first scored in the opening frame. Towe went to first on an error and scored on Lefler's hit for the circuit. The only other tally came in the eighth. Hitting when hits meant runs gave Davidson scores in almost every inning, the principal offender being McMillan, who hit for a triple, a double, and two singles out of five trips to the plate.

Trinity . . . 200 000 010—3 7 3
Davidson 021 103 03x—10 14 5
Batteries—Lambe, Earnhardt, and Lefler; Lawson and Keesler. Umpire, Geary.

In the second game of the western trip with Davidson, at Davidson last Friday, Trinity played the Presbyterians to a 3-3 tie. As the game was not called until after five o'clock on account of wet grounds, darkness stopped hostilities at the end of the seventh inning. Considering the soggy diamond, the game was unusually fast and free from errors, Davidson being credited with the only miscue of the struggle.

Both the Presbyterians and Methodists scored their three runs in one inning. In the very first frame Lambe wildness and bunch-ed hits enabled the Red and Black team to rush three counters across the plate. At all other stages of the game, however, Lambe held the situation well in hand. Four successive hits and an error gave the Methodists their three runs in the fourth. After that inning there was no more scoring on either side. The terrific hitting of Beal, who secured a double and two triples out of four times up, and Whitener, who secured a double and a triple, featured for the locals. The all-around work of McMillan in centerfield stood out prominently for the Davidsonians.

Score by innings: R R E
Trinity . . . 000 300 00—3 9 0
Davidson . . . 300 000 0x—3 6 1
Batteries—Lambe and Lefler; Withers and Keesler.

TRINITY VS. LENOIR

In a slow and rather uninteresting game Trinity defeated Lenoir College at Lenoir last Wednesday by a score of 6 to 2.

Whitener was easily the star for Trinity. He fielded his position well and secured three hits out of three times up. Powell also pitched a good game, and secured a triple. Plyler for Lenoir pitched an excellent game. He supplanted Miller in the early part of the game.

Batteries—Powell and Lefler; Miller, Plyler, and Howell.

TRINITY VS. NORTH STATE

In an interesting and one-sided game, played on the Tech's ground Monday, A. & E. overwhelmed Trinity by a 10 to 1 count. Powell who essayed to do the twirling for Trinity, lasted only two innings. Earnhardt replaced him on the mound but fared equally hard at the hands of the Tech batsmen, who found him for nine hits during the remaining innings of the game. The pitching of Weathers and the stellar work of the entire A. & E. outfield also contributed largely to the Methodists' downfall.

Besides Weathers, who allowed only four hits off his delivery, Captain Hodgkin, with two hits out of two times up, Miller, with three hits out of four times up, and Thrash and Castelleo, with sensational catches, were the particular stars for the victors. The fast fielding of Towe on short, particularly his one-hand stab of a hot bouncer over second, and the work of Beal were the bright spots in the playing of the losers.

Score by innings: R R E
Trinity . . . 000 100 000—1 4 4
A. & E. . . 220 102 03x—10 12 4
Batteries—Powell, Earnhardt and Lefler; Weathers and Lewis.

TRINITY ALUMNI OF VIRGINIA HOLD ANNUAL DINNER (Continued from Page One)

assembled in second annual meeting at the University Club, Richmond, send affectionate greetings to the College and commend with pride the patriotic action of the Faculty and students in substituting serious military training on the campus for athletics and in pledging unstinted support to the nation in the present conflict. In harmony with the spirit of Alma Mater we have telegraphed President Wilson tonight as follows: 'Believing in equal duty, equal responsibility, and equal sacrifice, we wish to assure you of our firm support in your advocacy of national compulsory military service, believing this to be the fairest means of adjusting equitably the burden of national defense and presenting to a successful termination the war against the Imperial German Government.'
