OCTOBER ARCHIVE MAKES APPEARANCE ON CAMPUS

EXCELLENT MATERIAL INCLUDED IN FIRST ISSUE OF YEAR

Article on Camp Life at Fort Oglethorpe by Capt. Chas. R. Bagley—Prize Winning Story by Brown—Essay and Story by Miss Lyons

An excellent table of contents characterizes the October number of the Archive, the first issue of the Senior Class magazine for the current year, which came off the press of the Seaman Printery last Saturday. The magazine is this year under the direction of Editor R. L. Fisher and Manager E. M. Spivey and their staff of assistants.

Four well developed stories, three poems far above the mediocre, and two interesting and instructive essays go to make up an evenly balanced and exceedingly readable issue. Of foremost interest to Trinity students should be the article on camp life at Fort Oglethorpe by Captain Charles R. Bagley, former student and instructor at Trinity and now a captain in the New National Army. In connection with this article appears a full page out of all the Trinity men who were in the first training camp at Fort Oglethorpe.

In external appearance the magazine is highly attractive. The dull gray cover used last year has given away to a binding of heavy light blue paper. As in former issues, the name of the magazine and the Trinity seal appear in large gilt letters upon the outside of the cover. In general make-up, arrangement of material, and number of departments, the 1917-18 volume follows a plan similar to that of last year. According to the old plan, Literary Department, Editorials, Wayside Wares, Exchanges, and Alumni Department comprise the several divisions of the publication.

"The Queen of the Hills," a poem by D. W. Newsum, heads the table of contents. Although very short, this bit of verse manages to catch something of real poetry. In it the author heralds in choice diction the beauty and significance of the goldenrod and hails it as the queen of the hills. The other two poems contained in the issue, "Wind's Invitation" by Arita Harper, and "A World Struggle" by H. L. Hoffman, while possessing no unusual qualities, are well above the mediocre.

"Reminiscences of Punch" is the title of a story by C. R. Brown. This story is undoubtedly the best of the issue. It deals with the doings of two crooks and is decidedly of the O. Henry type. The breezy, flowing style of the writer is especially adapted to the plot and greatly strengthens the story. Original phraseology and clever handling of situations is noticeable throughout the story. To say that the story was the winner of the Southgate Short Story prize last year is the best thing that can be said in the way of criticism for the story.

"The Strongest Tie" by Nancy Maxwell is a story of mountain

RIFLE CLUB COMPLETES PLANS OF ORGANIZATION

ELECTS PERMANENT OFFICERS AND VOTES TO ENTER NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

The proposed Trinity Rifle Club is now a reality. At a meeting of the members on last Friday, the by-laws of the National Rifle Association were adopted, and the officers for the coming year were elected. The following men were chosen by acclamation: Claude Cooper, '19, President; H. P. Newman, of the Law School Secretary; M. A. Braswell, '20, Treasurer; and H. Y. Edgerton, '19, Captain.

The Trinity Rifle Club has been a live topic on the campus for some time, but up to last Friday there was some doubt as to whether the proposed plan of organization would mature. The application for membership in the National Rifle Association has been signed by Doctor W. P. Few, and in a short time the club will be taken into the larger organization.

Arrangements are being made to have both an indoor and outdoor rifle range. At the present time there are several places under consideration, but the basement of the gymnasium seems to be the most desirable place. The college authorities have been asked for the use of the old bowling alley, and as soon as the permission is granted, the club will start to work fixing the alley. For the present the club will supply guns for the members; it is hoped, however, later that the government will take charge of this part of the work and will substitute rifles of a larger calibre.

RELIGIOUS CELEBRATION POSTPONED

The Luther Centennial Celebration which was to have been held in Craven Memorial Hall tonight has been postponed until tomorrow night. The regular designated time for the celebration conflicted with the war talk by M. Stephane Lauzanne, noted French editor sent out by the French government, at the Academy of Music tonight. M. Lauzanne has as his task the making public if the war as it really is and the actual conditions in France. His trip is under the direction of the French government. Many pictures and slides furnished by the French War Department will add to the general interest and value of his talk tonight.

As the Centennial Celebration is to be held in connection with the local Y. M. C. A., the regular mid-week meeting of the Association will likewise be put off until tomorrow night. At 7:30 tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. hall in East Duke Building the Celebration, in which the college community and all the religious organizations of the city will unite, will be held. Dean W. H. Wannamaker with a discussion of the "Influence of Luther on the Literature and Language of the German People" and Dr. W. K. Boyd who has as his subject "Luther as an Influence in the political and Social Life of Germany" will be the speakers of the evening.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL TO START AT EARLY DATE

CLASS SCHEDULE MADE PUBLIC BY MANAGER WANNAMAKER

Preparations Under Way for Coming Season—Regular Practice Has Begun—Varsity to Be Chosen From Class Teams

The annual series of inter-class basketball games, as arranged by Manager P. M. Wannamaker, will begin next Monday with the game between the Juniors and Sophomores. The series will continue at the rate of two games a week all through November and for the first two weeks in December.

Class captains have already been chosen, and each team has begun practicing with great enthusiasm.

Varsity practice will not begin for sometime. None of the old varsity men are in college this year, and only one man who was on the squad is back. But there is some excellent material for a team in school, and the varsity men will probably be selected from the pick of the class teams. Manager Wannamaker is busy on the schedule for the season, but has made no definite announcements as yet.

JOHN M. WEBB COLLECTION IS PLACED IN LIBRARY

The library of the late John M. Webb, which was recently donated to the College by Mrs. Webb in memory of her husband, has now arrived and has been placed in the seminal Latin and English rooms of the Library Building. The several thousand volumes contained in the collection have all been shelved and roughly classified according to subject matter. They will be kept apart from the other books in the Library and will be known as the John M. Webb collection.

The gift of the books, as announced last Benefactors' Day, comes to the college from Mrs. Webb in memory of her husband, who was born in North Carolina and taught here till in 1877 he joined his brother, Mr. W. R. Webb, as one of the principals of

FRESHMEN ASSUME LEAD IN INTERCLASS SERIES

DEFEAT SENIORS AND JUNIORS IN ONE-SIDED AND UNINTERESTING GAMES

	W	L	PCT.
Freshmen	3	0	1000
Juniors	2	1	666
Sophomores	1	2	333
Seniors	0	3	000

In a very slow and uninteresting game, the Freshmen overwhelmingly defeated the Seniors by the score of 9 to 0 on last Thursday afternoon. This was the second defeat administered to the upperclassmen by the strong freshman team, and from the outset the result was never in doubt. The strong batting order presented by the first year men has proved invincible to the pitchers of all three teams of the upper classes.

The game was devoid of any sensational features, but the pitching of Blalock, who struck out eight men and allowed only two safeties, deserves special mention.

Score by innings: H H E
F. 11052—9 9 3
S. 00000—0 2 4
Batteries: Blalock and Page; Bolich and Wiggins. Umpire, Lefler.

The Freshmen assumed the lead in the inter-class series last Saturday when they defeated the Juniors by a score of 14 to 2.

Out of the seven hits that the Juniors made, Minshew got the longest when he poled a mighty drive to deep right which netted three bases. Carver followed with a single, and Minshew scored the first run for the upperclassmen.

For the first-year men Woltz got four hits out of four times up, two of which were good for extra bases. Hathaway, with a similar record, shared batting honors. Southard did good mound work for the Freshmen, striking out nine men and allowing only seven hits. The new men, however, were too much for Mallard, the junior twirler; and although he fanned nine of them, they pounded the ball all over the field, securing a total of fourteen hits.

The game was called at the end of the sixth inning.

The score: R H E
Freshmen ... 20333—14 16 2
Juniors ... 001010—2 7 3

Three base hit—Minshew; two base hits—Jerome, Woltz, Bamberg. Bases on balls—off Southard, 1; off Mallard, 2. Struck out—by Mallard, 9; by Southard, 9. Umpires—Lefler and Carson. Time—one hour and thirty minutes.

The regular monthly meeting of the Historical Society was held in the Economics Room of the East Duke Building on last Monday night. Dr. W. K. Boyd, presiding, read a paper by Miss Adelaide Lyons, '17, on the "Religious Defense of Slavery."

This was the second meeting of the society for the year. Although the organization has a very small membership this year, its members have entered into the work with enthusiasm and interest

WAR CAMPAIGNS COME TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

LARGE SUM PLEDGED ARMY Y. M. C. A. AND LIBERTY LOAN

Y. M. C. A. Campaign to Continue—Organizations and Individuals Purchase Liberty Bonds—Senior Class and Columbia Lead

With a total of over two thousand dollars subscribed to the Liberty Loan and with pledges aggregating between one thousand and fifteen hundred signing for the Army Y. M. C. A. Fund the two patriotic campaigns came to a close last week.

The campaign for Liberty Loan Bonds began a week or more ago when representatives of the various organizations met and elected H. P. Newman, the originator of the idea, chairman of the subscription committee. Under his direction the campaign was vigorously waged, bringing results which far exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic. Trinity is to be congratulated on her fine showing, and to her goes the honor of being the first college in the State to undertake the purchase of Liberty bonds among the students and college organizations. The following is a partial list of subscribers to the Liberty Loan:

Hesperian Lit. Soc.	$ 150.00
Columbia Lit. Soc.	200.00
Athena Lit. Soc.	100.00
Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity ..	50.00
Freshman Class	150.00
Senior Class	300.00
First Year Law	50.00
Individual Sub.	700.00
TRINITY PARK
Senior Class	50.00
Individuals	300.00

Total.....$2050.00

The bond purchase by the Columbia Literary Society deserves special mention. The Society did away with its annual reception pot the sum allotted for that entertainment into a fifty dollar bond.

Equally successful was the campaign carried on for the work of the Army Y. M. C. A. The campaign came to a formal close at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday when the reports of the various committees were made. With 324 subscribers from the students and faculty, a sum of $1089.75 was reported. Since that time many more subscriptions have come in, and it is not yet known what the final amount pledged will be.

The success of this campaign is indeed gratifying and reflects great credit on the leaders of the movement. Mr. J. W. Berghold, State Student Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Charlotte, was a visitor on the campus recently and was apparently greatly pleased with the results. Mr. Berghold stated that Trinity had made a splendid showing in comparison with the other colleges of the State.

The chairman of the various committees who assisted in the work are as follows: C. C. Blades, A. J. Hobbs, Jr., F. C. Cavness, M. S. Lewis, D. E. Saunders, Miss Lucile Litaker, and L. L. Gobbel.

"John B." and the Class of '20 appear to have formed a very close and binding alliance.

November 1st—latest possible date on which to begin thinking up an excuse that will justify a week-end trip Thanksgiving.

Let there be rejoicing and plenty of snugged trousers—"Boss" Hill has returned to the campus.

And no one on the campus possesses sufficient musical talent to chant a dirge over the last remains of the Glee Club or literary ability to write an epitaph for the Chanticleer? The lifelessness of these two activities demands that both the dirge and the epitaph be forthcoming immediately.

CONCERNING THE RIFLE CLUB

A Rifle Club, with membership in the National Rifle Association, is the latest addition to the list of student activities at Trinity.

In the opinion of the Chronicle the new organization should meet with such ardent interest and hearty co-operation on the part of the student body as to make it a permanent fixture in the college community.

Such an organization combines sport with preparedness. To train men to handle fire-arms, to shoot accurately, is the primary object of the club. While taking the form of recreation, this training serves to perfect the military system now in force and to work in complete harmony with the preparedness and efficiency program now being worked out by the government.

An organization of this two-fold aspect, the Chronicle reassures, should not be allowed to fall through.

The one sure way of guarding against failure is the placing of the new organization under the control of the Athletic Council. Why not make target shooting one of the regular college sports. Many colleges, even before the beginning of the present war, put out rifle teams and held inter-collegiate shooting matches. Why not put such a plan in force at Trinity, at least have inter-class contests, and stimulate interest in a sport that may mean much in the defense of democracy? The plan, under any circumstances deserves consideration.

JOHN M. WEBB LIBRARY

The John M. Webb Library comes to Trinity College as a much appreciated and most valuable gift.

The several thousand volumes, which form the collection, in themselves mean much to the college and the college community. They represent the collection of the years that Mr. Webb spent in teaching and his sense of judgment in selecting them will make them unusually helpful to the students. The library, one of the largest private collections in the South, is complete in works on practically every subject.

But as great as this real value may be, the sentimental value of the books is far more greater. The man behind the collection, his place of eminence in the educational world, the spirit which prompted the gift to Trinity College, all combine to endear to the heart of every Trinity man every book in the collection.

VARSITY AND CLASS TEAMS CHOSEN IN TENNIS FINALS

The final tennis matches which resulted in the choice of varsity men were played on the college courts on last Thursday and Friday afternoons. Those making places on the varsity were Fred Aldridge '19, and P. G. Powell '18, while R. A. Few '19 was chosen alternate.

The Senior qualification matches were also played during last week. Places were made by Floyd Caviness and A. T. Blackwell. In the Freshmen matches, L. B. Hathaway and C. C. Cornwell won places over E. M. King and N. E. Edgerton. All of the class teams have demonstrated exceptional ability, and an interesting inter-class tournament may well be expected. Manager Evans has not yet completed the inter-class schedule, but he hopes to announce the full schedule in the next issue of the Chronicle.

Just what part tennis will play in this year's inter-collegiate athletics is not as yet known. It is hoped that a schedule can be arranged with the other colleges of the state, but the present athletic situation prevents speculation as to the outcome of tennis. A challenge for a tournament from Wake Forest has recently been received by the manager, but as yet, no definite response has been made.

J. N. Aiken, class of '12, who received a commission as first lieutenant at the training camp at Oglethorpe, was married to Miss Wert, of Cincinnati, the latter part of August. He is now at Camp Jackson in Columbia, South Carolina. Mr. Aiken has for a number of years been Deputy Clerk of the United States District Court at Chattanooga. He was a member of the Tennessee National Guard and spent several months on the border.

President W. P. Few spent Tuesday in Salisbury on business.

In MEMORIAM

Whereas, it has been the will of the Almighty in His supreme power, infinite wisdom, and unspeakable love to take from us on Thursday, October 18, 1917, our founder and most faithful and devoted co-worker, Professor William Francis Gill; and

Whereas, The Classical Club, of Trinity College has lost by the death of Professor Gill, one of its most ardent and loyal members, one who has ever been sincerely interested in the advancement of its welfare, and one who has always done honor to its name. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Classical Club, realizing the grief of the bereaved family, extend, in this hour of sorrow, their heartfelt sympathy and pray that the wounded spirits of the mourning may be comforted. And be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Professor Gill, that they be published in the Trinity Chronicle, the Raleigh Christian Advocate, the North Carolina Christian Advocate, and that they be recorded in the minutes of the Classical Club.

ROBERT M. PRICE,
H. L. HOFFMAN,
H. W. KENDALL,
Committee.

Whereas, an All Wise Providence in infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst one who from the very inception of our organization has been a helpful guide and esteemed fellow-worker, be it resolved by the members of the Parthenon Club:

Resolved, (1) that we, the members of the Parthenon Club, express a keen sense of our loss in the death of Professor W. F. Gill, a staunch friend and an enthusiastic supporter of the varied interests of Trinity College in general, whose devotion to the field of classics in particular was such as to make him an especially valuable, wise, and sympathetic counselor of our organization;

(2) that we extend to the members of the bereaved family our sincere sympathy and appreciation of the loss sustained;

(3) that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the father and sister of the deceased, published in The Trinity Chronicle, the Raleigh Christian Advocate, the North Carolina Christian Advocate, and spread upon the minutes of the Parthenon Club.

EVELYN C. READE, LEUCIE M. BULLARD,
VERA WIGGINS,
Committee.

Mr. C. B. West, '10, ex-professor in Trinity Park School, was the guest of Professor and Mrs. J. J. Wolf last week. Mr. West is now engaged in the physical training work of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Jackson, Columbia, South Carolina.

Capt. C. G. Falls, ex-'18, and Lieut. J. S. Anderson, '17, now stationed at Camp Jackson, Columbia S. C., were Sunday visitors on the campus.

The Ministerial Band met last Friday night at seven o'clock. A regular devotional meeting was held, and President W. G. McFarland talked to the Band.

George P. Wynn, ex-'19, who is in the Quartermaster Corps at Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C., has been a recent visitor on the campus.

H. W. Carter, '19, is now postmaster at College Station. Carter takes the place of R. W. Sanders who has been the temporary head of the local sub-station for several weeks.

W. H. Morgan, '15, of Washington, N. C., is with the British-American Tobacco Company, in Richmond, Va. He attended the first Training Camp at Fort Oglethorpe.

Samuel H. Jordan, '15, was a member of the Training Camp at Sackett Harbor.

H. B. Teeter, '16, is principal of the Columbia, (N. C.) High School.

life and the powerful influence which it exerts over one of the natives. The principal character of the story wants to carry the Gospel to the heathen Chinese but finally decides that her native mountains offer the best opportunities for her work and endeavors. The beginning of the story is weak, but skillful use of dialect does much to counteract this weakness.

The cruelty and death of Targon, Prince of the Isle of Alcazar, is vividly portrayed by C. B. Cooper in "The Legend of Alcazar." By means of choice diction, clever use of outside elements and objects, and excellent description the author creates an atmosphere of genuine horror and creepiness. The extreme cruelty of Alcazar to his helpless victim in the old ruined, musty castle results in his own mental torture and anguish and ultimately in his total blindness. The story is unusually interesting from beginning to end.

The magazine is especially strong in essays. "Religious Defense of Slavery," by Adelaide Lyons, and "Some Aspects of Life at Oglethorpe," by Captain C. R. Bagley, constitute two articles of a much higher degree of excellence than is usually found in the average college publication. The first of these is exactly what its title implies—a justification of slavery according to Scripture, as worked out by many prominent churchmen. The excellence of this essay is shown by the fact that it was the winner in the Braxton Craven Contest last year. The second article deals with the routine duties and everyday life of the soldier at Fort Oglethorpe. It contains many interesting and humorous incidents of camp life and is of supreme importance to Trinity men because it contains an authentic list of all Trinity students commissioned at the First Training Camp. Numerous personal touches by the writer make the article all the more interesting and noteworthy.

"Support the Archive," Trinity's Attitude Regarding Inter-Collegiate Athletics, and "What of Debating at Trinity?" are the topics treated in the Editorial Department of the magazine. All three of these subjects are dealt with in a logical and reasonable manner, and on account of their importance and timeliness should be carefully read and considered by every Trinity student.

Wayside Wares is in all probability the weakest department of the current issue. "Advice to New Girls," "Lady Dainty," and "Gleanings from a Freshman's Diary" make up the contents of this department. All three of these articles are weak in composition and fall far short in their attempts at humor. The author of the last mentioned article, considering his trite and hackneyed subject, managed to work in several original thoughts and at times to approach real humor.

As no other magazines had been received at this early date, the Exchange Department of this issue is sadly in want of material upon which to thrive. It contains a formal salutation and word of advice to whatever magazines that may exchange with the Archive.

"The Victory of Three Generals," another article by Adelaide Lyons, as the sole article in the Alumni Department, concludes the issue. It is the story of the struggle undergone by an old father in attempting to decide whether he should compel his only son to uphold and perpetuate the honored family name—a name backed up by three generals and two governors—or allow him to enlist in the defense of America and Old Glory. After a great struggle, the three generals win out and the son takes his place in the ranks.

Rev. M. T. Plyler, '92, A. M., '97, of Wilmington, was a visitor on the campus last week.

The Cleveland County Club met last Wednesday night and elected officers for the year who are as follows: J. W. Burns, President; Claude Moser, Vice-President; H. B. Higgins, Secretary and Treasurer; and H. W. Kendall, Reporter. Two new members, H. B. Higgins and Claude Moser, were taken into the Club.

HESPERIA

Last Saturday night the Hesperia Literary Society elected the officers for the second quarter of the present college year. The elections were closely contested, but they finally resulted as follows: R. C. Wiggins, President;
R. H. Durham, Vice-President;
R. T. Bradshaw, Secretary; R. L.
Fisher, Critic; J. D. Jerome, Marshall; Isawo Tanaka, Chaplain; W. A. Thompson, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

The regular program was postponed until next Saturday night.

COLUMBIA

Program for Saturday, October 27, 1917.

Orators—Oakes, Leake, and Lewis.

Query—Resolved, That Senator LaFollette should be impeached for his seditious remarks made since America entered the War.

Affirmative—Carpenter, Kind-
ley, Price, and B. O. Merritt.
Negative—Norton, Calfee, Hunter, and Rollins.

Decision in favor of the Negative.

ATHENA

At the regular meeting of the Athena Literary Society last Friday afternoon, it was decided to change the time of meeting from Friday to Tuesday. This change was made to prevent a conflict with the gymnasium classes. Hereafter the Society will meet only twice a month instead of four times. In the future the Society will meet every other week instead of meeting every week as formerly. Changes will also be made in the programs; a large portion of the time will be given to debating.

At a recent call meeting of the Society, H. P. Newman spoke to the members in behalf of the Second Liberty Loan Bond Campaign. The Society bought a one hundred dollar bond.

JOHN M. WEBB COLLEC-TION PLACED IN LIBRARY

the Webb School in Tennessee.
This was the first training school west of the Allegheny Mountains.
First in time and first in ideals, it has led the way in the education of boys and for forty years has been sending its graduates to the foremost colleges of the South and the North.

The library represents the collection of the years that Mr. Webb had spent in teaching. It contains books on English Literature, Latin, Greek, French, German,
Dante, Works on History, Science, and Philosophy, and many of the text books that have appeared in the last quarter of a century. The books are very valuable in themselves, but they have an even higher sentimental value as coming from one of the great teachers of his generation.

ALUMNI REGISTER

The Trinity Alumni Register for October is now on the press and is one of particular interest.
The first article by Prof. E. C.
Brooks, deals with Dr. Braxton Craven's administration during the war, and there follow reminiscent articles by Miss Rose L.
Johnson, and Dr. J. S. Bassett,
'88, professor of history of Smith College, Northampton, Mass. The news relative to Trinity men now in military service is especially full of interest to the alumni.

Sincerity Clothes

For Young Men

This store is a lively place right now.
And it is going to be livelier as the season advances. The reason is our unusually interesting display of young men's models—clothes with the spirit of youth and vigor the manly young man is always looking for.

$10 to $35

Here are suits and overcoats to suit every fall and winter purpose. And in Sincerity Clothes you get proper style—style not overdone.
