DR. W. H. WANNAMAKER TALKS TO THE Y. M. C. A.

DEAN MAKES INTERESTING TALK ON "BENEFITS OF WAR"

Urges Trinity Students to Take Advantage of Every Opportunity—Advocates Policy "Prepare for Peace in Time of War"

"Are the students at Trinity getting their share of the spiritual benefits from the war?" This question was asked by Dr. W. H. Wannamaker, when he addressed the students at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A., on last Wednesday evening. "In time of war prepare for peace" was the idea which Dean Wannamaker drew from this question and laid before the large crowd of students who heard him.

"Students have an opportunity to prepare themselves to do a work such as has never before confronted man," according to Dean Wannamaker. He declared that in his belief the war would last several years longer and that all of the Trinity students would have an opportunity to be in the fight.

This belief brought up the question of whether the students are preparing themselves physically for the work. The Dean wondered how many were taking the necessary amount of systematic physical exercise, eating the proper amount of food, and getting the proper amount of sleep. He doubted whether the students were getting the necessary physical development, and regretted the fact that so many men have been kept out of the army because of physical unfitness.

Although the question of physical development was a very important one in the opinion of the Dean, a much deeper problem for him was that of sacrifice on the part of the students. Although the students contributed liberally to the Y. M. C. A., they did not feel it. In the majority of cases, the men who contributed had their fathers pay the money, and they themselves made no sacrifice. The men who contributed deserve no credit, according to the speaker, unless they made some sacrifice and did not call on their fathers to pay the bills.

Everyone in the college community should get his share of the benefits of the war. Each student should suffer at this time. After expressing these ideas of the necessity of the students making some sacrifice the Dean told of the patriotism of the women all over the country, who are denying themselves in many ways, and who are giving a great part of their time to doing Red Cross work. The women are not doing this work because they love to do it. Many of them are seen to be weeping while they are making bandages—probably to be used in binding up the wounds of their own sons. But they will get a lasting benefit from this work, and from this sacrifice. Dr. Wannamaker then asked if Trinity students were getting this benefit from the war.

The fact that there is such a

CAMPUS CLUB TO TAKE MORE ACTIVE PART AMONG STUDENTS

COMMITTEE OF CLUB CONFERS WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF VARIOUS CLASSES

The first general meeting of the Campus Club and the Student Life Committee was held last night at the home of Prof. R. N. Wilson. The idea had been conceived by the members of the Campus Club that by working in conjunction with a student life committee, composed of representatives from each class, a more cordial relation could be created between the students and the college community.

Mrs. R. N. Wilson, presiding, outlined the purpose of the newly formed organization, and a general discussion followed. It was decided to establish a permanent relation between the Campus Club and the Student Life Committee, and it was suggested that the second general meeting be held in January and the third in April. Miss Mary White Cranford was elected secretary to the club.

It is the purpose of the club to divide the student body alphabetically into twenty sections and the several sections to be assigned to the different members of the club. In this way, it is hoped to provide means for the committee to keep in touch with every student on the campus. Members of the committee are to report sickness among students to the club.

Those present at the meeting were, Misses Mary White Cranford, Nancy Maxwell, Vera Wiggins, Mary Blair Maury, and W. D. Simmons, A. J. Hobbs, Blackwell Pierce, and D. E. Earnhardt, all members of the Student Life

COLLEGE BAND MAKES FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE OF YEAR

FURNISHES MUSIC AT FRESHMAN-JUNIOR GAME—PERFORMANCE OF BAND

The College Band, recently organized under the management and direction of R. K. Smathers, made its first appearance in public Tuesday night at the basketball game between the Juniors and the Freshmen. The band made a very good showing and will continue to play for the games.

A great deal of interest has been shown by the students, and in spite of the fact that only a very few of the old band men are in college this year, the band has twelve pieces. Some time was required for the men to learn to work together well, but after diligent practice they are in very good shape. If the student body will continue to back the band in its efforts and give it their loyal support, much may be expected from it in the future.

The members of the band are as follows: manager and leader, Smathers; solo cornets, Ivey and Evans; 1st cornet, Fuller; solo clarinet, Chapen; bass, Whitley; baritone, Ramsey; solo alto, Lewis; 1st alto, Loving, (T. P. S.); 2nd altos, Parham and Dixon; drums, Hale, Braswell, and Ormond.

SENIOR-FRESHMEN

With a much larger margin than was expected the Seniors romped away with the Freshmen to the tune of 39 to 26 in the second game of the Inter-class series last Friday night.

The fourth year five began the game with a rush and piled up a large score before their opponents woke up and got in the game. The first year tossers, however, came back strong in the second half and at one time threatened to assume the lead. Steady teamwork and accurate shooting enabled the '18 basketballers to come forth victors with some several points to spare.

For the victorious quintet, Captain Long, Saunders, and Timberlake played a stellar game. The sensational overhead shots of the Senior pilot were responsible for several goals. Cole, Kopf, and Douglas showed up well for the defeated Freshmen. The first year left forward, with ten points to his credit, led his team in scoring and also played a strong game on the defensive.

Numerous class yells and a general hubbub of noises led by the "Bloody Sophs" tended to make enthusiasm and pep run rife. Between halves Referee Mangum announced that all the other class games would be played at seven-thirty instead of eight o'clock.

Line-up and summary:

Seniors	Freshmen
Timberlake (6).....Kopf (6)	r. f.
Saunders (10).....Cole (10)	Lewis (2)
Durham (2).....Douglas (6)	l. f.
Caveness (2).....Hathaway (2)	c.

FRESHMEN-JUNIOR

In a decidedly one-sided contest the Freshmen basketballers defeated the Juniors on Tuesday night by a score of 38 to 14. The game was rather slow and uninteresting throughout. The Freshmen secured a lead during the early part of the contest, which they succeeded in holding, although the Juniors during the latter part of the second half were able to pocket the ball several times.

For the Freshmen Page led in field scoring, securing four field goals in the second half. Douglas at center shot three goals, all of which were scored in the first half.

CAROLINA WRESTLES TENNIS TOURNAMENT FROM TRINITY

TAR HEEL RACKETEERS TRIUMPH OVER METHODISTS ON UNIVERSITY COURTS

The University of North Carolina defeated Trinity in both the singles and doubles in the second intercollegiate tennis tournament of the season. The contest was held Wednesday, November 7, on the Carolina courts, and was witnessed by a large number of spectators.

The tournament began with the playing of the doubles. The Carolina team was too fast for the Trinity men in the first set and won it by a score of 6 to 4. The Trinity team fought valiantly for the second set, and succeeded in denouncing the score, but finally lost by a score of 5 to 7.

The singles were arranged as they were here in the first match last week. Powell, of Trinity, played Prince, of Carolina, while Aldridge, of Trinity, was matched against Wilson, of Carolina. Powell fought very hard for the singles. He denuded the first set, but finally lost it by a score of 5 to 7. Then he came back strong in the second set and walked away with it by a score of 6 to 2. But Prince was too much for him again in the third set, and took it by a score of 6 to 4.

Aldridge fought equally hard. He denuded the score in both of the sets that were played, and fourteen games were played in the first set before Wilson finally won it by a score of 8 to 6. Wilson won the second set by a score of 7 to 5.

Although they lost, the Trinity men showed up well. This tournament was only their second experience in varsity work.

RAIN NECESSITATES POSTPONEMENT OF INTERCLASS RELAY

RACE PUT OFF BY VOTE OF RUNNERS UNTIL THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The interclass relay event which was to have been held on yesterday afternoon was postponed until next Thursday at 4:15 P. M. Owing to a drizzling rain which had been descending nearly all day, a large number of the runners had not made any preparation for the race. Quite a number of the contestants, however, reported ready for the race at the appointed time. A dispute arose between the captains as to whether the race should be held according to schedule, but by a unanimous vote of the runners present, it was voted to postpone the event.

Unusual interest has been manifested this year over the probable outcome of the interclass race, but no one seems to be possessed of enough insight to designate the winner. It is expected that the Seniors will put up a hard run; for if they succeed in winning this event, the cup will become the permanent property of the class. From all indications, the Sophomores will also be in the race with a strong contingent, and the teams of the Freshman and Junior classes have been showing up in good form.

COLLEGE TO ESTABLISH W. F. GILL MEMORIAL

FACULTY ADOPTS SUITABLE PLAN AT RECENT MEETING

Plan Provides That Permanently Endowed Collection of Latin Books and Head Professorship of Latin Department be Named After Him

That a permanently endowed collection of books dealing with the Latin language and literature be placed in the Library, indicated by a suitable book plate, and designated as the William Francis Gill Latin Collection, was the plan for a memorial to the late head of the Latin Department as adopted by the Faculty at a meeting last Thursday afternoon.

In addition to working out the proposed Library memorial, the Faculty declared themselves in favor of designating the head of the Latin Department as the William Francis Gill Professor of Latin. This suggestion will be made by President Few to the Board of Trustees at the next meeting of that body.

Plans are also well under way to have a portrait or painting of Professor Gill placed in the Library. The college authorities intend to co-operate with one or more of the several organizations to which Professor Gill belonged in securing this particular memorial.

Professor Gill's personal library donated to the college by his father and sister, will serve as the nucleus for the memorial collection according to the details of the plan recommended by a committee from the faculty and adopted by that body as a whole last week. Circular letters will also be sent to the alumni and friends of the College inviting contributions to a permanent fund the income from which will be used to purchase additional books for the collection from time to time. In this way the memorial will take the form of a permanently endowed collection for the Library.

This whole plan was worked out recommended, and submitted to the Faculty by a previously appointed committee composed of Professor E. C. Brooks, chairman, Dr. Wm. H. Wannamaker, Professor A. M. Webb, Professor C. W. Edwards, and Dr. W. T. LaPrade. The exact provisions of the memorial as recommended by this committee and passed by the faculty are as follows:

"That a circular letter be sent to the alumni and friends of the College inviting modest contributions to a permanent fund the income from which shall be used in purchasing for the Library books relating to the Latin language and literature, and that both the books so purchased and those from Professor Gill's personal library donated for that purpose by his father and sister be indicated by a suitable book plate and designated as the William Francis Gill Latin Collection;

"That, in view of this proposed memorial endowment for the library and in view of the fact that from his youth the life of Professor Gill was in a unique manner

"By their mustache shall ye know them."

And J. Pluvius proved an easy victor in the Relay Race yesterday.

Verily, the season of overcoats, gaiters, and er—wool shirts approacheth.

Pity the Y. M. C. A. Hall is not as popular a resort on Wednesday night as it was yesterday afternoon.

Trinity men who go to France will be thoroughly familiar with at least one thing in their new surroundings—camouflage.

THE VERY IDEA

I am a Senior's mustache.
Definite color, texture, shape, density or nationality have I not. Several silky strands, a confused jumble of bristly stubs, a carefully groomed misplaced eyebrow—I am one and the same.

I am the avowed enemy of harbers, shaving soap magnates, razor manufacturers, vegetable soup, and kisses. I am the ever-ready champion of shoe polish, hair tonics, fine combs, and dye stuffs.

To some who are incapable of cultivating my presence to any noticeable extent I bring dejection, misery, and mental anguish. To others my luxuriant growth and mark of individuality spread supreme happiness and joy. Respector of persons am I none, nor does the clause, "race, color, or previous condition of servitude," in any wise apply to me and mine.

I am a performer of miracles. I transform a smooth-faced college student into the likeness of an Italian count, a French nobleman, an eater of spaghetti, a peanut vender, a shoe shine artist, or a typical wop. I am of power untold—I distinguish an insignificant college rah-rah from a dignified Senior.

Though as yet young and undeveloped, I am widely known and extensively courted. Three years hard work and forty-eight hours credit must be the testimonials offered by those who would fain become my owner. Even with these testimonials given in advance, I may exercise the liberty of refusing to recognize the proffers of my would-be possessor.

I am heartless, I am fickle, I am treacherous, I am sporadic. I am a Senior's mustache.

ENTER THE BAND

And the College Band has at last made a public appearance. The initial appearance of this musical organization at the basketball game last night added much enthusiasm and pep to the occasion, and was greatly welcomed by the whole student body.

Although small in number, the band made a decidedly better showing last night than has any similar organization in the near past. Every member has worked hard to make the organization a credit to the college. In fact, not an afternoon has passed for the last six weeks, Sundays excepted of course, but that members put in at least an hour at practice. Their appearance last night showed the results of this practice. For such steady work and undaunted spirit of perseverance the organization, individually and collectively, should be given due credit and consideration by the college community.

In the past there has always been a tendency for such organizations to begin the year with a sweep and a flourish and then to tire of practice and become a dead activity in a short time. This year the band from the very beginning has pursued a different policy. It began the year in as quiet a manner as it is possible for a band to begin, worked steadily, made no boasts, and did not make its appearance until it was suitably prepared. It is to be hoped that it will avoid the old rut of laxity and disinterestedness that has proved the downfall of similar organizations at no remote date.

The Chronicle hopes that the presence and music of the band may result in a rejuvenation of life, pep, and college spirit. All of these abstract qualities, if abstract qualities they may be called, have been sadly wanting in the student body, and any force, instrument, or condition that will work for their revival or restoration should be welcomed with open arms by every loyal Trinity supporter. As a possible savior of college spirit, therefore, the band should have the hearty co-operation and support of every man and woman on the campus.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

President W. P. Few and Dr. W. I. Cranford are attending the Western North Carolina Conference at Asheville this week. President Few will represent the College at the banquet of the Western Conference Alumni Association to be held on Thursday. Dr. Cranford will deliver the annual educational address on the same occasion. Hon. L. S. Overman '74 will be the other speaker at the banquet.

J. H. Taylor, '16, who taught school at Whiteville, N. C., is now with the 124th Aerial Squadron, Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Library has lately purchased a set of "Library of Southern Literature," compiled under the supervision of Southern men of letters. There are sixteen volumes, arranged alphabetically by the name of the writer, which makes a very valuable encyclopedia of quick reference. There are biographical and critical sketches of each author and selections from his works. In addition to the longer sketches, V. 15 is a biographical dictionary giving brief accounts of minor writers. V. 16 contains a general index, readings courses and historical sidelights.

The purpose of the "Library of Southern Literature" is to present frankly and as fully as convenient the literary life of the whole South throughout its entire history and to leave the reader and student to draw such conclusions as he may see fit. Besides the individual authors, there are anonymous and fugitive poems, editorials of historical import, notable epitaphs and inscriptions, significant letters, legends and traditions, myths and folk-lore tales,—rare material illustrative of Southern life and character.

Mr. J. A. Thomas has sent this week some more valuable books on the Orient. The list follows: Couling: Encyclopaedia Sinica. Gee and Moffett: Key to the Birds of the Lower Yangtze Valley.

Hoang: A Notice of the Chinese Calendar and a Concordance with the European Calendar.

Laorette: Development of China.

McCormick: Menace of Japan.

Nichols: Through Hidden Shensi.

Shaw: Manchurian Tussore Silk, also reports on silk by the Inspector General of Customs of Shanghai.

Tyant: Legal obligations arising out of Treaty Relations between China and other States.

The following new books on the war have been contributed to the library:

Aitken: Canada in Flanders.

Aughie: The Iron Furnace.

Bailey, W. F.: The Slaves of the War Zone.

Broughton: British Empire at War.

Mokveld: The German Fury in Belgium.

Murray: Faith, War, and Politics.

The Library now has a large collection on the world war. For complete list of the collection look in the catalogue under "European War, 1914-."

A life size portrait of Dr. N. H. D. Wilson, who was one of the leading Methodist preachers in this state during the latter part of the 19th century and was closely identified with Trinity in its early years, has just been donated to the College by Rev. H. N. D. Wilson, of Louisburg, and other relations. Dr. Wilson was the grandfather of Mrs. W. K. Boyd, wife of Dr. W. K. Boyd, of the Department of History.

The regular meeting of the Classical Club will be held in Room 2A of the West Duke Building to-morrow night at seven-thirty. A full attendance is desired as initiation of new members into the Club will take place.

Professor E. C. Brooks is attending the meeting of the Association of Southern Colleges and Secondary Schools in Atlanta this week.

PROMINENT ALUMNUS DIES

James Reid Cole, of 2300 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas, died at his home in Dallas on Saturday, October 27. He was buried Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Cole was a native of North Carolina, and entered Trinity College from Greensboro in 1857, when Trinity was under Dr. Craven. He was graduated in 1861. During the war he was a colonel in the Confederate Army, and immediately after the war, 1866, he settled in Texas. For a number of years he was president of the Texas A. & M. College. Then for several years he was a member of the state legislature, and was prominent in the educational and business life of his adopted state.

SCIENCE CLUB HAS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The relation of summer experiences of its faculty members made up an interesting program at the meeting of the Science Club last Monday evening.

Professor Bert Cunningham gave a most interesting lecture on the experimental work which he and Dr. Wolfe carried on at Chesapeake Bay last summer. The object of the investigations was to ascertain the origin and number of certain animals in the Chesapeake Bay.

The second lecture of the evening was by Professor J. H. Coman. With the aid of lantern slides Professor Coman gave a very instructive lecture on the engineering work carried on at Fort Oglethorpe.

Professor R. N. Wilson gave a short talk regarding the street paving work going on in Durham. This was the final number and the meeting adjourned.

SENIOR CLASS MEETS

At a meeting of the Senior Class held last Thursday at noon D. E. Earhardt and Miss Mary White Cranford were appointed as representatives to confer with the Campus Club in regard to social affairs here on the campus. The design for the class ring was decided upon and the contract was awarded to the firm of Jones and Frazier, of Durham. By unanimous action it was voted that the Seniors, or rather the male members of the class, should wear mustaches and carry canes during the remainder of the college year.

TRINITY ALUMNUS HONORED

Among other visitors on the campus last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Lucas, of Raleigh, who came up to see Mrs. Lucas' brother, Eugene C. Craft, of the present Junior Class. Mr. Lucas was a student at Trinity in 1904 and Mrs. Lucas, who was formerly Miss Alice Charles Craft, of Wilmington, is a graduate of the College in the class of 1905.

Mr. Lucas is now connected with the Food Administration work in Raleigh, in the capacity of Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Food Conservation Commission. Before going to Raleigh, he was in the real estate business at Charlotte. On account of the excellent work which he and his co-laborers are doing in the way of food conservation an article which recently appeared in the Review of Reviews gives him special commendation. This is simply another instance where one of Trinity's sons is making himself prominent in serving the public weal.

RESTIVO DELIGHTS STUDENTS

The students of the College were afforded a rather unusual treat when Restivo, the world famed accordionist, gave a half-hour's concert Tuesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The concert was entirely gratis and the students are greatly indebted to Restivo for his delightful music. Restivo is playing at the Paris Theatre and may be heard there during the remainder of this week.

great lack of seriousness shown by the students was deplored by the speaker. He was sorry to observe, he declared, that the students were not preparing themselves as they should to take the place of those who will be killed on the battle fields. For many of the best teachers and scholars will be killed, and great problems will fall on the shoulders of those who are left. The adage, "In time of peace prepare for war," was changed by Dr. Wannamaker and made to read, "In time of war prepare for peace." It was shown that those who are not preparing to fight, should spend their time preparing to help solve the problems which will come after the war is over.

SENIORS AND FRESHMEN
WIN IN CLASS GAMES

Kopf, at left forward, Watson at left guard, and Cole, at right forward, each succeeded in pocket-ing two shots. Edgerton, as substitute for Cole, added one goal to the credit of the Freshmen.
Watson, out of fifteen possible chances, succeeded in securing six foul goals.

Brendall, at center, led in the scoring for the Juniors, getting three goals towards the latter part of the second half. Aldridge, at left forward, was the only other scorer, making two field goals and shooting four fouls out of six chances. Jerome, at right forward, while not succeeding in finding the basket, held his opponent scoreless during the first half and to only two goals during the second.
