W. AND L. AND SWARTH- MORE TO BE DEBATED

SERIES OF FORENSIC CLASHES ARRANGED WITH OLD RIVALS

Preliminary to be held for Both Debates Saturday, February 23—Results of Debates in Past—Outlook for Present Struggles

The preliminary for the inter-collegiate debates with Washington and Lee University and Swarthmore College is to be held next week, Saturday, February 23.

There will be only one preliminary for both the final debates. The subject for both these debates is: "Resolved, That the present war time scope of Federal legislation (in principle) should be continued in time of peace." The fact of having the same subject for both debates makes possible one preliminary for two final debates. As there were no inter-collegiate debaters selected from the inter-society debaters, as has been the custom in former years, there are to be six men selected at this preliminary.

In the final debates Trinity is to defend the negative side of this question against Swarthmore on March 16. On March 23 the affirmative side is to be upheld by the Methodists in the combat with the Generals.

Both of these conflicts are to be on home ground. Trinity is entering this year a new series of three debates each with each of these forensic opponents. Two debates of each of these series are to take place at Trinity and one of each respectively at Lexington, Virginia, and Swarthmore, Pennsylvania.

Last year Trinity successfully ended a trio of debates with each of these colleges. The series with Washington and Lee consisted of two debates at Lexington and one at Trinity. Two of the three decisions were captured by Trinity. The former contests with the Pennsylvania college were fought two in Penn's Forest and one on Tar Heel soil. The Methodists succeeded here; also, in two heats out of three in getting under the wire first.

"The prospects for winning in both the new series looks good," says debate gossip about the campus. There are two of the successful combatants of last year back to enter the forensic lists. The inter-society debaters made a very creditable showing, and it is understood that there is to be some of the best material from both societies to select from in the preliminary.

Mr. A. M. Proctor, superintendent of the graded schools of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., has presented Trinity College a book of much value to students of education and especially to those interested in the history of the Sunday school. The title of the volume is "A Sunday School Spelling and Reading Book," by Stephen R. Kirby, principal of one of the New York public schools. It was prepared for the Sunday School Union of the Methodist Episcopal church and was in its second edition in 1836.

WOODCHOPPERS RESUME DUTY AFTER HASTY RECUPERATION

DEAN WANNAMAKER LEADS KNIGHTS OF HATCHET INTO ACTION

The Trinity wood-choppers resumed work again Tuesday on the work which was left during the latter part of mid-term examinations. The work will continue until further announcement, and Dean Wannamaker desires that a large number of students go out to the woods every day. The wood which was cut by the college boys is in a separate field and is kept apart from the wood which is cut by the Durham citizens. The work yesterday was mainly to get the wood properly corded, so that it will be easy to haul when the time comes for hauling.

Whether the work will be continued for a very great length of time has not been decided as yet. The spirit of the college boys will no doubt be a determining factor in the length of the wood-chopping period for the imperative demand for fuel is over, at least temporarily. Further announcements will be made at a later date, and until that time the chopping will be continued.

BASEBALL FOR APPROACHING SEASON IS NOW A CERTAINTY

ATHLETIC COUNCIL MAKES DECISION AT MEETING YESTERDAY

In a meeting of the Athletic Council Tuesday it was decided once for all to have baseball for the coming spring. This decision on the part of the Council has been delayed for some time on account of the unsettled condition of Trinity athletics. Recent developments, however, have made possible the continuation of all athletics for the spring term.

Manager J. A. Bolich has been working on a schedule for baseball which he expects to announce within a few days. Owing to the limited amount of finances belonging to athletics, the schedule will be somewhat modified. The number of games to be played on the Trinity diamond will be considerably less than in previous years, but the schedule which he has in view will no doubt be sufficient for the present season.

Spring practice will probably begin early next week. The council elected Arthur L. Carver as temporary captain to fill the vacancy made by the absence of A. G. Flythe, who was elected captain last spring. Practice will be carried on under the direction of the captain-elect until a coach is engaged to take charge of the squad.

The problem of obtaining a coach is still unsolved. The council appointed a committee for the purpose of engaging the services of an efficient coach. The committee, however, is hampered by the lack of finances, and the possibility of having a coach seems to lie wholly with the student body. The committee expects to hold a mass meeting at an early date in order to solicit sufficient funds to engage the services of a coach. Already several propositions have

Constitution and By-Laws of Council Made Public—Election of Officers—Requirements for Musical "Tri"

The administration has announced definite arrangements for the recognition of the men who have taken interest in and have worked for the three musical organizations—the band, orchestra, and glee club.

The College band was organized early in the year through the efforts of R. K. Smathers. The band has held regular practices and has made several appearances in public. Some time after the band was organized, the College orchestra was organized by M. S. Lewis. It has held several practices and plans have been completed for an early appearance in public. The Glee Club organization was perfected only recently, but is under the management of an able and experienced man, E. P. C. Craft. A council for the general management and financing of these musical organizations has been in the process of making for sometime, but the decisions and the constitution and by-laws have just been made public.

The Constitution and By-Laws read as follows:

1. A council shall be organized to be composed of three members of the faculty to be appointed by the President of the College, and one representative from each of

GLEE CLUB COMES TO LIFE AFTER PERIOD OF SILENCE

DR. M. T. ADKINS SECURED FOR DIRECTOR OF THE CLUB

At a very enthusiastic meeting held last Friday afternoon the Glee Club, after a long period of silence, came to life again. At the first of the year it was deemed advisable to form a club as there was apparently a great dearth of material. Since then it has been found that there is an abundance of material on the park and a movement was started for the organization of a club.

Though it is rather late in the season a trip to be taken some time in the spring is now being arranged. Practices will soon start and every effort will be made to put on a good club. Dr. M. T. Adkins, of Durham, has been secured as director. Dr. Adkins has put out several successful clubs in times past and is a highly capable and efficient director.

Prospects look bright and with the co-operation of the student body there is no reason why Trinity cannot put on the best Glee club of years. Dr. Adkins wishes to meet all candidates for the club Wednesday immediately after the Y. M. C. A. meeting and all those interested are urged to be present.

COACH DOAK TAKES QUINT ON TRIP THROUGH VIRGINIA

W. AND L., V. M. I., VIRGINIA AND STAUNTON TO BE MET

After a solid week of stringent practice, the Trinity basketball quint left Monday morning for an extended trip which will largely decide the success of the 1918 season. Since the last encounter with N. C. State, at Raleigh, Coach Doak has given the team a stiff practice every afternoon and the team departed in the pink of condition to battle with northern foes.

Last year "Click" Doak piloted a victorious Methodist quint over Virginia soil and into the District of Columbia with only two reverses out of six engagements. This year he invades the same territory with an all-new quint which promises to perform creditably in behalf of the same institution. The squad will not reach Washington this year, since one of the engagements in that city was cancelled a few days prior to the departure of the team. The Methodists will clash with the teams of Washington and Lee, Virginia Military Institute, Staunton Military Academy, and the University of Virginia on the present trip.

The personnel of the squad is as follows:

Forwards, Cole, Starling, Saunders, Hornaday; center, Douglas; guards, Captain Long, Hathaway and Aldridge; Manager Wannamaker and Coach Doak. Each member of the squad was selected by Coach Doak with a view to his own personal merits and his work with the squad. Trinity constituents may well expect favorable returns from the trip.

J. W. Summers, '15, spent several days of this week on the campus with friends.

Mallory Hackney, ex-'18, was married last Saturday to Miss Elizabeth Stagg, of Durham.

MARSHAL AND MANAGER FOR COMMENCEMENT ARE CHOSEN

HOBBS AND THOMPSON ELECTED AND IN TURN MAKE APPOINTMENTS

The Columbia and the Hesperia Literary Societies held call meetings last Monday for the purpose of electing commencement officers. A. J. Hobbs was elected chief marshal by the Columbians; and the Hesperians elected W. A. Thompson commencement manager.

Since the election Thompson has appointed as his assistants from the Sophomore class M. A. Braswell, W. J. Crawford and H. L. Ormond; from the Freshman class, E. M. Knox, L. B. Durham, and Aubrey Wiggins. Hobbs has named as his assistants N. M. White, L. W. Smith, and J. E. Gilbreath from the Sophomore class, and C. C. Dixon, J. W. Hathcock and F. H. Moore from the Freshman class.

Rev. H. E. Spence delivered one of a series of vocational lectures at the city Y. M. C. A. last Monday night.

ANNUAL REVIVAL CLOSÉS WITH SUNDAY SERVICES

PURSE PRESENTED TO REV. TRUESDALE BY STUDENT BODY

Meeting Highly Successful—Prayer Services Continued Throughout Week in Dormitories—Special Music Led by M. L. Lewis

With two services daily, noon and evening, and special services Sunday morning for the male students and for the young ladies that afternoon the annual revival came to a close after a most successful service that night. The dormitory prayer meetings were continued throughout the week, and numerous other signs of deep interest shown among the student body.

The revival as a whole appeared more successful than any similar one of recent years. The services were well attended, and the personality, appearance and delivery of Rev. R. S. Truesdale, the preacher in charge, was such as to hold the interest and attention of every one who heard him. The music, under the direction of M. S. Lewis, was especially good and did much to add to the success of the meeting.

Rev. Truesdale's pleas resulted in numerous outward expressions of repentance and manifold good on the campus. That he made many friends in the community and endeared himself to those who heard him preach was evinced by the presentation to him of a purse obtained by purely voluntary offerings by members of the community immediately before his departure for his home in Sumter, S. C., Monday morning.

The outline of Rev. Truesdale's sermons and the gist of his talks at every service is as follows:

WEDNESDAY EVENING.
The theme of Mr. Truesdale's sermon Wednesday night was the ever present love of God, his discussion being based on the first part of the 139th Psalm. In a very simple but graphic manner Mr. Truesdale showed that the love of God was to be found in all parts of the earth and that by His infinite mercy He provided for the weaknesses of His children. He concluded his sermon by making an appeal for all who were not Christians to come forward and acknowledge their indebtedness to this great love of God.

THURSDAY MORNING.
Thursday morning Reverend Truesdale chose as his lesson the "Parable of the Lost Sheep" and the "Parable of the Lost Coin." He explained very vividly what it meant for a life to be lost in sin. Then he pictured with striking illustrations how easy and unaware a young person, by a little careless playing with sin, would let his soul slip beyond his grasp and be lost almost without the bounds of hope. One of the illustrations used was that of a foolish young fellow out at sea tossing a very precious gem into the air when a swell came and the diamond went down into the sea just beyond the tips of his fingers. In closing the speaker made a strong appeal to the young people never to handle care-

Approach March, the month of wind and make-up exams.

Who said the Knights of the Hatshot was a defunct organization?

Attention! Military drill is coming—January, February—March!

Happy thought—time to repair the swing and dust off the porch chairs!

Verily the days of straw hats, promenades, and "crawling varmint" draveth nigh.

Talk may be cheap, but in all probability it will win a "T" for several men in the coming inter-collegiate debates.

Wonder why the basketball club carried no excess baggage on the Virginia trip? Yes, my lad, Congress has enacted certain legislation.

And now that the scourge of the Kaiser has about spent its force on the campus, some patriot comes forward and says that we should have said Liberty rather than German Measles.

And this warm weather has rejoined one freshman of the time when it was so hot in his town that he had to feed cracked ice to the chickens to keep them from laying hard-boiled eggs.

Certainly "Cap" Card will be made an honorary member of the Red Cross when he appears with his take-me-along bag and veterinary tools on the very first afternoon of baseball practice.

WHAT'S HAPPENED?

What has become of the close cooperation that was going to exist between the members of the Campus Club and the members of the student body?

As well as THE CHRONICLE representatives were elected from each class to meet with the club or representation of the club in order to bring the student body as a whole into more intimate association with that organization and thereby improve the social side of student life.

Provision was made by which certain sections of every dormitory were assigned to the various student representatives on the club council, whose duty it was to report any sickness within their allotted bounds to the club members who promised to furnish little delicacies for sick students and to try to make the time spent indoors more cheerful for them. Such help from the club was, in the opinion of THE CHRONICLE, the primary object in the establishment of the new associated council.

This purpose, however, seems to have been forgotten totally. In all the cases of sickness, including measles, not so much as an attempt to help a single sick student or cheer him up by a single action of interest or care has come to light. What has happened to the proposed plan then?

THE CHRONICLE does not know who is to blame—the student representatives or the club members. It seems certain, however, that interest has lagged and the purpose in view totally disregarded by club and students. Such a purpose is too worthy and commendable to fall flat, and for that reason THE CHRONICLE urges a re-concentration of forces and a second effort to convert talk into action.

EYES FOR THE NAVY

The college men and women of the United States can be of great service in getting the members of their families and other friends to contribute to the Navy, Binoculars, Spy Glasses and Telescopes.

The number of glasses available today is wholly insufficient and the need must be met quickly.

That non-used pair of field glasses in your home or the telescope on some college laboratory shelf, if promptly given to the government may mean the saving of a transport loaded with soldiers or the sinking of a sneaking submarine. Quick action in this matter means everything.

All articles should be securely tagged giving the name and address of the donor, and forwarded by mail or express to the Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, care of Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C., so that they may be acknowledged by him.

Articles not suitable for naval use will be returned to the sender. Those accepted will be keyed, so that the name and address of the donor, will be permanently recorded at the Navy Department, and every effort will be made to return them, with added historic interest, at the termination of the war. It is, of course, impossible to guarantee them against damage or loss.

As the government, cannot, under the law, accept services or material without making some payment therefor, one dollar will be paid for each article accepted, which sum will constitute the rental price, or, in the event of loss, the purchase price of such article. —Patriotic News Service.

lessly the precious heritage of their soul.

THURSDAY EVENING.

In the sermon last Thursday evening, Rev. Truesdale spoke on masterpieces of the world but most particularly on God's masterpieces. Rev. Truesdale based his sermon on the following passage of scripture:

"Ye are God's husbandmen; Ye are God's builders." He then told of the masterpieces that existed in every walk of life and in every vocation. The greatest masterpiece of all, however, is man, and he is God's masterpiece.

The speaker then impressed the seriousness of the trust vested in man by God. God has made man his supreme being, his masterpiece. Every college boy is a masterpiece of God and is expected to live up to his trust. The sin of man was likened to the wanton destruction of some great piece of art. Sin is the Devil's means of mutilating God's greatest masterpiece. Rev. Truesdale concluded by exhorting his hearers to make themselves to cast aside sin and to make themselves worthy masterpieces of God.

FRIDAY MORNING.

The substance of Rev. Truesdale's sermon Friday was based on the subject of calamity. "We live in an age of calamity," said Rev. Truesdale. He then pointed out several great calamities of the present war; the awful tragedy of the great battles which are taking away the best element of the greatest nations of the world, and contrasted them with the greater calamities which confront us every day, such as strong drink and the common evils of every day life. The sins of the father visited upon the children cannot be blamed on God," said the speaker, "it is purely and simply hard-headedness and human neglect."

Rev. Truesdale then showed the purpose of the calamities which are sent upon us by God. "By calamity we are made to understand things," said Rev. Truesdale, and he showed how God would bless us if we bear our troubles patiently, and how our religious lives are enriched when they are untouched and untarnished by the calamities which are visited upon us.

FRIDAY EVENING.

In his sermon Friday evening Reverend Truesdale emphasized the fact that college men are not getting ready to live—they are living now. Many of his experiences with college men were told, and the speaker showed by these illustrations that college men are living a great part of their lives now, and a part of their lives that they should be especially careful to keep clean and pure.

SATURDAY MORNING.

Reverend Truesdale made one of the best talks of the entire meeting at the service Saturday morning. The subject of his sermon was "Sin." For his text he took the 23rd verse of Romans iii.

Reverend Truesdale explained that there are many and varied definitions of sin, but that no one of them thoroughly covers the subject, although some of them are not at all without merit. The text read, "All that sineth come short of the glory of God." The fact that we all sin creates a sort of common interest among all men. Intellect, affection, will-power, and other qualities on which men tend to rely, must be subordinated to faith in God, for faith remains after all else has failed, it is sufficient to build new hopes upon.

SATURDAY EVENING.

The subject of the sermon delivered at the service Saturday evening was, "The three steps in the process from high respectability to the depths of degradation." The talk was to the point and very interesting. The attendance was better than expected, considering the many other activities of Saturday night.

It is not safe, as Rev. Truesdale proved, to be satisfied with the standards of life set by one's own reasoning and respectability, to the point of resisting the Spirit of God. The first step in the process from high respectability to the depths of sin is indifference. Indifference grieves the Spirit. The

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL WINNER IN BASKETBALL

The Trinity Park school basketball quint has been singularly successful in this year's season. The quint emerged from the last four engagements with overwhelming victory in each game. Oxford High School was defeated on the Trinity floor by a 26 to 13 count, Cary High School by a count of 45 to 15, and Selma High School and Atlantic Christian College respectively, were defeated at Selma and Wilson by the score of 36 to 12 and 21 to 16.

In each of these engagements,
the "prep" school quint outclassed its opponents by all round superior teamwork. Mitchell, at right forward, throughout the season has been the outstanding star of his team. Gonzales, at left forward, and Dickens as guard, also contributed greatly to the success of the team. The Park School squad has been working steadily in the Angier Duke Gymnasium under the direction of W. B. Bolich, '17, a member of the Park School faculty. The concluding game of the season will be played next week with the Durham High School quint, and a hard fought game may well be expected.

tinued during the spring. As yet Manager Durham has not arranged any inter-collegiate meets, but it is expected that the cinder path will once more be brought into use.
The outlook for varsity track is very good. Not only is there a year did not have an opportunity of proving its prowess, with a few exceptions, is back in college.

lowing men were eligible and were awarded insignia: M. S. Lewis, manager of the Orchestra; E. P.
C. Craft, manager of the Glee Club, and R. K. Smathers, manager of the Band, and also, M. Fuller, G. M. Ivey and W. N. Evans, Jr., who were eligible under the two-year ruling.

It is the plain of the council to form a Lyrial club to correspond with the "T" club of the athletic branch of college activities. The requirements of the council have been made strict enough that some little work is necessary to qualify and become eligible for insignia.
In this way it is hoped that interest may be stimulated in the musical organizations of the college in order that they may be continued and their standard of excellence raised.

ON WITH THE DANCE

The most brilliant affair of the season was the dance given to the ladies of the college last week by Mrs. Bynum. The college community had been looking forward to this ball with the greatest of pleasure; and their hopes were more than fulfilled, for the dance of last week surpasses all occasions in the history of the college in many respects, in spite of the fact that all the "men" present happened to be ladies.

The halls of the Frau Shack had been beautifully decorated by the O. T. Graham Decorating Company. The music was furnished by the Edison Victrola; and the musicians responded with selection after selection, never seeming to tire in their efforts to please the trippers of the light fantastic.
There was a display of costumes that would have made a flock of peacocks jealous. Nothing more magnificent can be imagined than the sight of the beautifully gowned young ladies and especially handsome young "men" swaying through the halls to the tones of music resounding "like the swell of summer ocean." The only adverse criticism that could be offered would be that the "men" were somewhat effeminate

The revelry continued till a late hour; and the sun rising over the eastern hills announced the close of a perfect day.

second step in the process of backsliding is reached when the individual carries his indifference to the point where he ignores the Spirit, and he in turn comes to the individual for recognition. The Spirit will call on any man who has not absolutely put Him out of his life. The third step depends upon the answer to the call. If the Spirit is put off, He will call again perhaps, but if He is snuffed out, the third step is made and the process from respectability to the depths of degradation is complete.

SUNDAY MORNING.

On Sunday morning Reverend Truesdale talked to the young men of the college on repentance. The

PRESIDENT FEW DISCUSSES PLANS FOR GYMNASIUM

In the Alumni Register for October, 1916, announcement was made that at the preceding commencement Bishop Kilgo had started a movement looking to the building of a new gymnasium by the alumni and friends of the college. Reference to the undertaking was made again in the Register for April, 1917, and in that number appeared a cut of the proposed building made from the architect's drawings. The responses to these calls were generous and a good proportion of the money for the new gymnasium is already in sight; but a good deal still remains to be done.

This movement so promisingly begun, Mr. M. E. Newsom, Jr., of the class of 1905, has undertaken to carry forward. Mr. Newsom is a member of the Board of Trustees of the College, a hard working member of the executive committee of the board, mayor of the City of Durham, and in these momentous times is constantly occupied with tasks that call for public spirit, unselfishness and ability to bring things to pass.

That a busy and highly useful man like Mr. Newsom should offer to give freely of his time to completing the arrangement for a new gymnasium at Trinity will be greatly appreciated by all the servants and the sons of the college. I am sure he can count on the active co-operation of all who have at heart the good of the college and the causes for which it stands.

Trinity College would not be selfish, especially at a time like this. We must all bend every energy to the winning of the war. But we must also be ready for the still greater task of reconstructing the world after the war. And to this end the hands of Trinity College must be strengthened by the voluntary service of generous and patriotic men.

calamity of putting off repentance was shown. The speaker gave examples of men who had put off repentance until they had given off influences that they could never recall, and until they had brought sorrow and suffering into their homes. The plea was made for the men of Trinity college to repent before it is too late and before evil influences are given off that will stare us in the face later. Sunday afternoon at 3:30 Rev. Truesdale spoke to the young ladies of the community.

SUNDAY EVENING.

The meeting was brought to a successful close by the services Sunday night. Mr. Truesdale, after expressing his great pleasure at having been here at Trinity College, made an earnest plea for all those who had not taken a stand for Christ to do so now before it was too late. He told of the great sacrifice people made of salvation and warned against the dangers of procrastination in religious affairs.

A patriotic note was lent to the service by the singing of "America" by the congregation. Upon the conclusion of the anthem Dr. Fed led in an eloquent prayer for the Trinity boys who are in the service of their country. The meeting closed with the singing of the Doxology.
