TRINITY TAKES OFF TWO VICTORIES IN LINE FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

GUILFORD AND A. & E. LOSE TO METHODISTS

TRINITY DEFEATS GUILFORD
BY 47 TO 19; A. & E.
BY 22 TO 19

Guilford's basketball quint suffered an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Trinity team when the Methodists put it over them in a fast, but one-sided game by a score of 47 to 19 on last Thursday night.

The contest started off with a rush. The ball went from one end of the floor to the other for a few minutes, until the first score was made by the visitors. But the Trinity men soon got started, and throw goal after goal, although the Guilford men did keep on the move and made the game a fast one. Had the visitors not been weak on tossing, or had they "found" themselves at the goal, the score might not have been so much against them. But at the end of the first half the tallies ran 25 and 9 in Trinity's favor. The second half continued somewhat in the same way as the first ended, and the final score showed a margin of 28 points. Toward the end of the game the second team for the Methodists was substituted in order that the subs might get in to the fight.

Page did stellar work for the Trinity team, scoring 19 points. The guarding of Aldridge and Hathaway was commendable also. For the Guilford men, Frasier did the best work, scoring 13 of their 19 points. The game was witnessed by an exceedingly large crowd.

The line-up:

Trinity	Guilford
Cole (12)	Frasier (18)
L. F.	Raiford (0)
Starling (8)	R. F.
Page (19)	Taylor (2)
C.	Anderson (2)
Hathaway (2)	R. G.
Aldridge (6)	Rice (2)
L. G.

In decidedly the fastest game seen on the local floor this season, Trinity took a victory off the strong N. C. State contingent in the second game of the series last night in the Angier Duke Gymnasium with a score of 22-19. The game was by far the best exhibition of the indoor sport seen by Durham spectators in quite a long time. This game left the two teams tied for State honors which will be decided in a third game to be played on a neutral floor. Arrangements for this game will be announced at an early date.

This is the third consecutive year that Trinity and N. C. State have tied up for State championship.

From the first toss-up until the final blow the whistle, the game belonged to neither team. During the first two minutes of the play Hathaway and Page registered two field goals for the Meth-

BASEBALL PRACTICE STARTED SATURDAY

SEVEN LETTER MEN BACK—GOOD MATERIAL AMONG NEW MEN

Baseball practice for the coming season started with a rush Saturday afternoon on the diamond at the Haynes Athletic Field. It will be continued regularly every afternoon from now until the season opens with the first game, with N. C. State College, March 29.

For the time being the work is in charge of Captain Carver, who did excellent work last year and the year before. A coach has not been arranged for definitely, but efforts are being made to secure the services of George Whitted, who played with the Boston Nationals and the Philadelphia Nationals the last few years. A definite contract will be made as soon as possible, and work will be continued in dead earnest.

The schedule for the coming season has not yet been announced. Manager Few is working on it, however, and expects to put baseball back on its pre-war basis. It is planned to have a southern trip, somewhat similar to the one last year, in addition to the matches with neighboring colleges in North Carolina.

K. W. Parham, '08, who was commissioned as second lieutenant at Camp Pike, Arkansas, has been discharged from the service. He is now employed in the Sales Office of the Dupont Company, Chicago, Illinois, where he was located previous to entering service.

Officers Are Elected by The Literary Societies

At the regular meeting of the Columbian Literary Society last Saturday night after the usual opening services were performed, it was decided to dispense with the regular debate and hold an election of officers. Accordingly the following men were elected: A. H. Gwynn, of Reidsville, president; C. B. Cooper, of Wilmington, vice-president; L. H. McNeely, of Morganton, Secretary; L. W. Saunders, of Coleraine, Treasurer; J. E. Gilbreath, of Columbia, Tennessee, Chairman of the Executive Committee; M. B. Loftin, of Mt. Olive, Chief of the Tribunal; G. D. Harmon, of Monroeville, Marshal.

The Hesperian Literary Society met at its accustomed hour last Saturday evening. The Society voted to dispense with the regular program and hold a new election of officers. The following men were elected: R. W. Bradshaw, of Durham, President; W. A. Thompson, of Hallsboro, Vice-President; Wesley Taylor, of Concord, Secretary; W. S. Elias, of Asheville, Auditor; H. L. Hoffman, of Cottage Grove, Tennessee, Critic; T. P. Thomas, of Henderson, Chairman of Executive Committee; J. D. Lewis, of Whiteville, Marshal.

DINING ASSOCIATION ADOPTS CONSTITUTION

ARTICLES READ AND VOTED ON SEPARATELY BY THE MEMBERS

"Attention!" rang out the voice of the door-keeper of the C. D. A. of the door-keeper of the Collegio Dining Association one evening last week soon after the men had taken their seats at the supper table. Anyone who was a patron of that boarding house last fall could not but reflect on the difference between the meaning of the same word then and now. On this occasion it was a mere request for attention that Dean Wannaker might explain to the Association some matters of common interest.

Dean Wannaker explained briefly that as the C. D. A. is a self-governing body, it is necessary to have some rules of action. He then read and explained the Constitution and By-Laws, which had been drawn up by the Executive Committee. Afterward, both the Constitution and By-Laws were voted on by sections, and then each of the two divisions was voted on as a unit. The whole document was accepted verbatim, no amendment being offered. A synopsis of the provisions follows:

PARK SCHOOL REVIVAL IN PROGRESS UNDER REV. CADE

REV. BRADSHAW SPOKE TO THE Y. M. C. A. AT THE LAST MEETING

The revival services which were planned to begin on February 10, are in progress at the Park School and are being conducted by Rev. W. A. Cade, of Rocky Mount, N. C. Rev. Cade is a graduate of the Park School with the class of 1909 and of the college with the class of 1913.

Rev. M. Bradshaw, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church, addressed the Y. M. C. A. at its meeting on last Thursday night. He used as his subject, Sin, and very clearly impressed upon his hearers the effects of it upon man. This was Rev. Bradshaw's first visit to the school this year, and was much appreciated.

The Calhoun Literary Society, at its meeting on last Saturday night, argued the question of the freedom of the seas, and after a very interesting and hotly argued debate, the decision was given to the affirmative side, composed of Messrs. W. L. Taylor, M. L. Wilson, H. L. Townsend, and W. E. Atwater. The negative side was represented by Messrs J. L. Woods, G. L. Parker, W. C. Bissitt, and Aaron Turner.

The Grady Society debated the question: Resolved: "That the war with Germany did more for the United States than did the American Revolution." The question aroused much interest and argument, and the judges rendered their decision in favor of the affirmative, which was represented by Messrs. G. L. Brantley, C.

"Y" IS ADDRESSED BY DR. F. C. BROWN

USES SUBJECT OF THE GREAT
HERITAGE OF THE PRES-ENT DAY

The feature of the Y. M. C. A. program Sunday evening was the address delivered by Dr. F. C. Brown. The subject of his discourse was "The necessity of proving worthy of the rich heritage which God has given us." The speaker dwelt on the many ways in which the people of America had made sacrifices during the great war, and as to how we should prove worthy of these sacrifices. He spoke in part as follows:

We have won the war. If we have not suffered enough during the war to receive a lesson, we will have to suffer later. We are proud of our quick response to the suffering millions of our allies. We saw France perishing before our eyes. We heard the wail of violated Belgium, the moaning of her starved and the prayers of virgin counted with the conqueror's loot. We went to war because God willed us to go to the front; because humanity summoned us to arms; because we would have been false to conscience if we had abandoned civilization in this extremity. Are we going to prove worthy of what we have done?

Before we entered the conflict, we thought more of the daily business and selfish duties of life. We did not take religious matters so seriously as we should have done, but since newspapers which paid no attention to religious matters proclaim the fact that this is a God-won war, we have magnified those things which God blessed us with and hence worked along with His destiny. We have all made sacrifices. We have been obedient.

Officers Club Plan to Hold Banquet this Month

The Officers Club, composed of the ex-lieutenants of Trinity College, were called together Friday of last week by the president of the Club for the purpose of debating whether or not they would have a banquet in the near future. Several speeches were heard from different members of the Club, and after considerable discussion the club decided to have a banquet, permitting each Club member to invite one of the "fair sex."

The plans for the evening are as follows: First, go to the theatre, afterward to meet at the Malbourne Hotel where the banquet will be held. Here there will be music and other amusements that will help to make the evening an enjoyable one.

A committee was appointed by the president to investigate the different shows that are booked to play at the Academy of Music this month and to choose what promises to be the best, on the date of the coming of which the banquet will be held.

B. F. Dalton, '14, who was principal of the graded school at Duke, North Carolina, before entering military service, has been appointed postmaster at Rutherfordton, North Carolina.

ALUMNAE TO ASSIST IN RECONSTRUCTION

AN ALUMNA TO BE CHOSEN TO DO RECONSTRUCTION
WORK

FUNDS BEING RAPIDLY RAISED

Miss Bullard, the Treasurer, Reports Large Amount In Hand

The campaign which the Trinity alumnae began last October for raising funds to send from among their number a reconstruction worker to France, after being interrupted by the influenza epidemic in the State and following the signing of the armistice the uncertainty on the part of various organizations about sending workers, is being renewed. The alumnae are now working under the American Committee for Devastated France, which is co-operating with the French government.

This committee has pledged to work for a period of two years on the restoration of a section in the Department of the Aisne, somewhere near Chateau-Thierry and Soissons. Headquarters for the work on this side are at 16 East 39th Street, New York City. The president of the Trinity Alumnae Association, Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, '06, of the faculty of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School at Greenville, N. C., has recently made a visit to headquarters in New York, where she was fortunate in meeting and getting first-hand information from Miss Anne Morgan, director of the work in France, who had just returned from the desolate region of France. Miss Jenkins has just sent out an appeal to the alumnae in which she tells of this visit.

The treasurer of this fund, Miss Lucile M. Bullard, '16, reports that she now has in cash and subscriptions $742.00. The women students of the College gave $151.50 of this amount. To keep a worker in France for one year requires $1,800, and for six months, $1,500. The first of the workers are to go over in May, and the Trinity alumnae are anxious to have their worker go among the first. By that time they hope to have in hand $1,500 and in pledges, at least, the remaining $300. The Trinity worker is to be selected by the Personnel Committee of the American Committee from among the qualified and available Trinity women who care to make application.

The whole object of this work is to help the French people who have lost everything to rebuild in their own way. The American Committee for Devastated France does not wish to Americanize this desolate portion of France but simply to lend the destitute people of this region a helping hand—to furnish a town cow for each small town, to supply a few chickens for each household—in short, to help them rebuild their ruined homes.

Lieutenant E. T. Harrison, who was recently discharged from the service at Camp Grant, Illinois, was a visitor to the campus Monday and Tuesday.

On for State Championship!

The tide did turn in Trinity's favor.

What Trinity student can say now that he has not been to the Orpheum?

Some find it unprofitable to kick high in a "snake dance," especially towards garbage cans.

A bit of advice: if a freshman wants to pass his work, don't let it be known that he has a bid from a fraternity.

What about a policeman that will arrest a student who has left a bunch of college men that went down the street for a little fun and draw his gun when other students attempt to protest? Sane cop!

St. Valentine's Day, the season of which we are about to celebrate, was set apart for the especial purpose of choosing of a lover; but judging from scenes which take place in the College post office and elsewhere on the campus, some believe in the policy, "Never put off till Valentine Day what you can do today."

TO THE STAFF

Friday night at 7:00 o'clock is the regular time for the weekly meetings of the editorial staff of the CHRONICLE and room 205 Jarvis Hall is the place. These meetings were instigated for the interest of the publication and the benefit of those who are ambitious to advance in their effort to be eligible for editorship. Therefore it is imperative that every member of the staff be present at these meetings. The editor urges that there should not be a single absence at the meeting tomorrow night as there is to be some especially important matters to come up.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

The spirit evidenced by the student body at the basketball game Tuesday night is commendable. Such enthusiasm for victory, and pride in achievements as a body, is college spirit. It is healthful. It is because of this self-same "patriotism" that inter-collegiate activities have become such a factor in college life. Pulling together for the advancement of the school creates a feeling of fellowship among the students, which makes them more contented, and it most certainly should be fostered.

As far back as the history of colleges go, rivalry between them is to be found. Schools have encouraged it, and the college that has shown the most spirit, has, as a rule, been classed as the most progressive and successful institution. There has not been enough spirit shown at Trinity in recent years. Perhaps it would be too much to attack the loyalty of the students, but nothing proves loyalty, or is so much a measure of it, as spirit and enthusiasm.

Certain forms of manifesting enthusiasm cannot be approved,—for instance, pranking with the agents of public protection,—turning in false fire alarms. The CHRONICLE wishes the public to know that it does not sanction the action of the student (if a student it was), that turned in the false alarm Tuesday night. But who can attack the time honored custom of having a snake-dance after a notable victory has been won? Some of those who were so outraged at the snake-dance that took place after the game Tuesday night should wipe the cob-webs from their eyes, and wake up to the fact that Trinity is a live college. W. N. E.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

It is neither the purpose nor the desire of the CHRONICLE to unduly criticize any person or organization on the campus, but to bring to the thought of the students and the administration any conditions which is thought not to be all that they should be or all that they are thought by some to be. It is with this intent that the following comment is made on the matter of the recently inaugurated plan of physical training.

In former years there has been a nominal regulation here that all students of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes were required to attend one hour gymnasium class work three days each week from Thanksgiving until the Easter holidays. The members of the senior class were not required to take any form of physical exercise unless it was their desire. The fact was, those students who were supposed to take this work were excused for minor and petty reasons, and those who were not excused soon learned that they would not be reported if they failed to show up according to schedule. Those who desired to take the work regularly were directed in a small amount of callisthenics for the first week or two, then the periods were turned over to "hard-boy" basketball without a director, in which only a limited number of students could take part. Consequently compulsory physical training at Trinity in former years has been a total failure.

The recent great war revealed to the whole country that the neglect of the development of the physical side of the lives of the youths of our land was becoming critical. Practically every college and university in America has put on a broader and more comprehensive program of physical training since the war closed. Trinity, anxious to do all possible for the welfare of her students, has started a plan of physical training and regulated that it be imperative that every student meet classes in that department according to schedule. Furthermore, the College has granted credit towards a degree for this work. The CHRONICLE wishes to commend this step and the purpose behind it.

If, however, for the same reason as was the cause of the failure of the old method the new plan is not going to accomplish its purpose, it soon too will become a joke among the students. It has been so arranged that this work can be taken in basketball squad work, baseball, track work, tennis, golf, or work at the gymnasium.

If the men who have charge of the various sports are such as will not report a man when he is absent or the work is not going to be sufficient to be of value to the student in his physical development, the plan to that extent will soon become an entire failure. However, the CHRONICLE has no criticisms to make of this work since complaints from these branches have not come in. On the other hand, the old cry is becoming common that the students who are scheduled for classes at the gymnasium go down there and have to stand around in the cold for a half or three-quarters of an hour and watch a few men scuffle over a basketball, then the roll is called and about ten minutes is spent in callisthenics. In all probability without a change soon the gymnasium classes will be a matter only to be spoken of and not a thing of reality. It is to be hoped that physical training at Trinity will become even more intensive under thoroughly responsible leaders, and that this will soon be a department of the College as efficient in accomplishing its results as the most thorough.

Golf Club Gets Practice With Dr. Brown as Coach

The Golf Club which was organized a few weeks ago is doing regular practice now under the direction of Dr. F. C. Brown, assisted by C. B. Cooper. Tuesday and Saturday afternoons are spent by each member of the club in work and the results are showing up well for amateurs.

The work on Tuesday afternoons consists in practice in position and form work, which is done on the old college athletic field. When the weather permits, the Saturday afternoons are spent on the links at the Country Club.

The student members of the Club are: C. B. Cooper, Reginald Turner, C. C. Alexander, Wesley Taylor, K. M. Brim, J. E. Gilbreath, G. M. Ivey, D. W. Kanof, J. G. Leyburn, and W. T. Reeves, Jr.

Y. W. C. A. Celebrates The Birthday of Lincoln

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on last night was turned over to a Lincoln Day program. This was thought to be a fit manner for the women of the College to celebrate the birthday of the great Civil War president.

The meeting was presided over

Saint Valentine's Day

Thou Day on which by Claudius' hand the court
Of Rome was stained with blood of martyred Saint,
The birds have chosen thy season, 'tis report,
For taking each his mate for close acquaint;
And man, from birds' example, sets apart
This day for choosing his for life to be,
The lass he shall through all keep near his heart,
Till one be called into Eternity.

Now when this day of passioned dreams is near,
Let Cupid with his darts not idly stand;
But pierce each heart that to some lad is dear,
That she with rapture may accept his hand,
And then in mutual thought appoint the time
Whence she forever shall be his Valentine.

by the president, Miss Vera Wiggins. The program proved very enjoyable as well as instructive. In addition to the usual musical and devotional exercises, the following numbers were carried out:

1. Significant Events in Lincoln's Life, Mary Pettit.
2. Lincoln as a Friend of the South, Irene Price.
3. Some of Lincoln's Works, Thelma Howell.

olists, but this lead was quickly overcome by the Aggies when the basket was discovered twice and a free chance gave them the lead. The first half ended 11-10 for the Aggies. During the second period the pendulum swung from one team to the other and not until the final blast of the time-keeper's whistle did the State contingent concede the victory. When the last goal had been scored for the Methodists and when the game was ended, the student spectators gave way to pandemonium, rushed the floor, and enthusiastically bore off the players.

For Trinity, the work of Hathaway, Captain Cole, and Page were the chief assets to the Methodists' victory. Hathaway, besides holding his opponent to one field goal, registered six points to the Methodists' credit. Captain Cole played a stellar game, doing all round defensive work and contributing six points to his team's aggregate, while Page did excellent passing, held his opponent to one field goal, and himself secured two. The work of the entire Methodist quint deserves special commendation.

For N. C. State the individual honors of the game go to Homewood, the star right guard of the Aggie contingent. Homewood secured four field goals while holding his opponent to two, did excellent defensive work, and aided materially in his team's passing. The work of Captain Cline also deserves special mention.

After the game the students proceeded to celebrate by the usual semblance of victory, in a snake dance through the city of Durham. Practically the entire student body led by its cheer leaders joined in the parade and trailed along in the long file down Durham's main thoroughfare. Cheers were constantly given as the procession marched down Main Street and when finally the head of the column reached Five Points the snake dance began. The students literally took the city, visiting in a body the Orpheum and several other leading theaters of the city, and finally returning to the college.

ent, and obedience is not slavery, but through obedience comes freedom. This war has meant that men have paid the supreme sacrifice for a just cause. They have laid business affairs, social affairs, and their very lives on the altar of their state. They have brought to us a vision of our heritage. Prayers and confidence in God and an understanding of our heritage is what won the war. We have caught a vision of what our heritage is, and are we going to follow it or are we going back again to ourselves? We have a great work to do. We must retain this vision of our heritage, and in order to do this we must be men. We must have ideals. A man without ideals, without air castles, and without a soul is a dead man. If one is a man, he can do anything. God will smile on our efforts to make men, and in the making of men we must depend on God for help.

Economy Expressed in Fall
Clothes—Good clothes cost more today
There is no getting around that fact. By lowering our quality and value-giving standards, we could offer cheaper clothes. But we shall stick by the guns of quality for our customers' best interests and our own.

Our Clothes for Fall carry out this policy to the letter. They evidence how good clothes can be made and not how cheap. They will make a stronger appeal to the man who knows real value and that true economy is gauged by quality and not price.
