Coach Lee Gooch got a chance to look his material over Tuesday afternoon when the Trinity baseball team staged a practice game with Lenoir College and won out by walking away with the big end of the score of 21 to 0.

Coach Gooch, who is signed up with Atlanta for the coming season, has been on the campus only a few days. He has been whipping the strong material into team work rapidly since he arrived.

The game with Lenoir College Tuesday was one of the most unevenly matched contests ever witnessed on Hanes Athletic Field. The Methodists started off with seven runs in the first inning, and before the final inning they were playing an entire line-up of second team material. Although the Lenoirites saw that they had no chance of winning, they stuck to the fight to the last and never seemed to lose heart.

Southard, pitching for Trinity, struck out eight men and held his opponents to one hit during the six innings that he was in the box. Carroll replaced Southard in the seventh, striking out three men and holding his part of the game hitless. The hitting of Jerome and Hathaway, each securing three hits, were also features for Trinity. Wannamaker got two hits, one being a two bagger. The whole team did excellent work, aggregating thirteen

LT. J. H. RUFF WINS A CROIX DE GUERRE

Was Member of Famous Red Hand Division; Third to Return to College with Croix de Guerre

The return of First Lieut. J. H. Ruff, who comes back to college to resume his academic course, marks the advent of the third Croix de Guerre on the Trinity campus. Lieutenant Ruff returned to America February 11 and was discharged from his regiment on February 25. He comes back to college prepared to obtain his degree with the 1919 class and afterwards to resume his study of law.

Lieutenant Ruff was in the vanguard of Trinity men who offered services to the government in the spring of 1917. He attended the first officers' training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and was there commissioned as second Lieutenant along with the many other Trinity men who attended the camp. He was then ordered to Camp Jackson, S. C., and assigned to the 371st infantry with which organization he remained until his discharge. On January 22, 1918, he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant, and on April 6, his regiment embarked for France. The regiment was then brigaded with the 157th French Division, popularly known as the Red Hand Division. After a few weeks preliminary training, the Red Hand Division

Inter-class Track Meet Scheduled for April 5

The regular annual interclass track and field meet will take place Saturday afternoon, April 5th, at the Hayne Athletic Field. The contest will start promptly at three o'clock, and continue throughout the afternoon. There will be a number of additional features besides the regular contests, and inasmuch as each class has an unusual amount of good material, the meet promises to be very interesting.

R. K. Snathers, captain of the varsity team, working in conjunction with Manager R. T. Hambrick, has arranged the events and will allow the class captains to choose the men to participate. The class captains are: —Cherry, senior; Loftin, junior; Sanford, sophomore; and Draper, freshman. Letter men will not be allowed to participate in events that count for scores. A silver loving cup will be awarded to the winner. This cup is now in the possession of the class of '21, who won it last year.

The events as planned are: 100, 220, 440, and 880 yard, and one mile run, two mile run, low and high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, discus throw, javelin throw. In addition to these will be a mile walk, tug-o-war, sack race, equipment race for the R. O. T. C. students, three-legged race, baseball throw, and a half mile relay race.

The interclass meet will serve as the beginning of the season. Trinity has a number of letter men back, and has prospects for a victorious season. Manager Ham

SWARTHMORE DEFEATS METHODISTS IN DEBATE

DECISION OF JUDGES 2 TO 1; ONLY DEBATE OF SE-RIES LOST

On Saturday evening, March 15, 1919, in the college auditorium at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, the team representing Trinity College in the forensic realm met defeat by the vote of two to one, this being the eighth annual debate between these two institutions.

The question as discussed, the negative side of which was upheld by Trinity, was "Resolved, That the federal government should continue to control and operate the railroads for a period of at least five years." The affirmative was upheld by Swarthmore, their team being composed of J. F. Bogardus, D. M. Hodge, and Alan C. Valentine. Trinity was represented by H. E. Fisher, of Zebulon, A. H. Gwyn, of Reidsville, and N. M. West, of Zara. The debate was presided over by the Dean of Swarthmore, the judges were Mr. Smith, superintendent of the schools of West Chester, Pa., Dr. Lewis, librarian of Crozier-Seminary, Chester, Pennsylvania, and Mr. Phillips, principal of the West Chester Normal School, West Chester, Pennsylvania.

An unusual amount of interest was in evidence throughout the entire forensic battle. Especially was this true inasmuch as Trinity won the contest last year and the outcome of this debate determined to a great extent the result of the series, this being the second debate of the third series, Trinity having won both of the former ones.

The contest was very close indeed. Both teams gave evidence on thorough preparation and skill in handling their material. After the first speeches had been delivered, the outcome was in the balance. Both teams came back strong on the rejoinders and manifested much "pep," vim, and enthusiasm. The affirmative team, however, apparently was successful in convincing two of the three judges that they had advanced the stronger argument of the two teams and accordingly received a two to one decision.

The affirmative speakers pointed out the many accomplishments of the government in the handling of the railroads, such as directing freight via the shortest routes and abolishing unnecessary competition. They likewise emphasized the point that the government was empowered to retain control and operation of the new merchant marine for a period of

BANQUET IS HELD BY OFFICERS CLUB

Party Saw "Miss Blue Eyes" Then Went to Malbourne Hotel Where Festivities Followed

One of the most brilliant social events held in the season and in the annals of Trinity College place on the night of March 14, when the Trinity College Officers club composed of practically 50 ex-officers of the army, navy, and marines corps convened with its guests in the first social function held by the club since its organization.

The party met at the Durham Academy of Music and enjoyed for three hours the delightful musical comedy, "Miss Blue Eyes." After the theater the scene of the entertainment was moved to the main dining hall of the Malbourne Hotel where the club had prepared an elaborate banquet in honor of its guests. The dining hall was tastefully decorated with beautiful cut flowers which blended perfectly with the blue and white, the college colors. A delightful seven-course dinner was served during which the Durham orchestra rendered excellent music.

Dean Wannamaker acted as toastmaster for the occasion. The first speaker was First Lieut. Frank McNeill, field artillery, U. S. A., president of the club. Lieutenant McNeill welcomed the guests of the club and ex

Park School Wins Over Liberty Piedmont Nine

On Wednesday, March 19, the Trinity Park School team took an easy victory from Liberty Piedmont Institute in an uneven game of baseball by the score of 9 to 0. The game was hardly a question from the beginning, when the "Preps" led off with three runs in the first inning. Batts, pitching for the Park school, held his opponents to one hit, while his team secured six off Fritts. Two double plays were pulled by the local boys one from Bissitt to Lee and one from Bissitt to Townsend to Lee. The visitors lacked team work and their playing was characterized by errors, recording 10 to the Park's School's 3.

On last Thursday evening, the Y. M. C. A. at its regular weekly meeting was addressed by Prof. W. H. Wannamaker of the College, who took as his subject the 14 verse of the 25 chapter of Matthew. Professor Wannamaker showed very plainly that one had in his keeping, the greatest gift of the universe, namely, the living of a life. He showed how through the right living of a life, one stored up the means of a happy manhood.

In the Grady Society, at the last meeting, the subject for debate was: "Resolved: That the League of Nations should be adopted according to President Wilson's Plan." The affirmative was upheld by L. J. Rainey, J. I. Gray and G. W. Brantley, while O. L. Gentry, R. E. Tarkenton, and O. A. Robinson represented the negative.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR S. S. WORKERS MEETS

PROMINENT LEADERS ON PROGRAM AS TEACHERS AND LECTURERS

SECOND SESSION HELD IN DURHAM WITH BIG SUCCESS

Many College Students Taking Work to Receive Credit in Teacher Training Work

Beginning on Monday of this week and continuing throughout the week a Training School for the Sunday school workers of the City of Durham and for any Trinity students who are interested in this work is being conducted on the campus. About thirty or forty students of the College are taking courses in this school preparatory to receiving a diploma in the work. The school is meeting with great success, the enrollment being about two hundred for the various departments.

This is the second school of this kind to be held here, and it is calculated to become a permanent annual occasion. Last year the school proved very profitable. About forty college students received diplomas at that time in teacher training work. Professor R. N. Wilson, Superintendent of the Memorial M. E. Sunday school, is Dean of the school, and Professor Holland Holton is Secretary. The power behind the throne, and the man who is silently bearing the burden of responsibility, is Professor H. E. Spence, formerly Sunday School Field Secretary of the North Carolina Conference, now Professor of Biblical Literature at Trinity.

The daily program begins at 7:00 o'clock each evening and lasts until 9:30. The work opens each day with supper in the Mess Hall of West Duke Building, where all the attendants meet around the large tables for a lunch together. The program follows:

Supper	7:00-7:30
Fellowship Talks	7:30-7:45
Classes	7:45-8:30
Devotional Exercises	8:30-8:45
Classes	8:45-9:30

The Fellowship Talks each day are made by some prominent inspirational speaker. Some of these speakers are Dr. W. P. Few, Presiding Elder W. C. Wooten, Dr. M. Bradshaw, Rev. J. W. Shackford, and Professor J. M. Montgomery. The devotional exercises are conducted by the pastors of various churches of the city of Durham.

The courses offered by the school and the instructors in each are given below:

1. "Program of the Christian Religion," by Rev. J. W. Shackford, Superintendent of Church Training, of M. E. Church, South.
2. "Intermediate-Senior Methods," by Prof. H. E. Spence, Professor of Biblical Literature, of Trinity College.
3. "Primary Methods," by Miss Ethel Smith, Elementary Superintendent of the Virginia Conference.
4. "Junior Methods," by Miss

On to victory over A. & E. Saturday!

They call it Feminism, but it sounds masculine.

We all sympathized with the Lenoirites, but it just couldn't be helped.

The Officers' Club banquet at last came off. No doubt these heroes feel relieved—of twelve to fifteen dollars each.

Each day the S. S. training school opens with a feed. If the process of taking in something applies as universally from the mental standpoint as from the physical, the school ought to be a tremendous success.

"CUT OUT" CUTTING OUT

Some unidentified persons—students or others—have been guilty of clipping articles from magazines and papers at the college library. Such persons, while securing some article of personal interest to themselves, no doubt did not stop to realize that they were taking that which belonged to others and at the same time was cultivating a habit of disregard for the rights of others.

The periodicals at the library are paid for from funds provided for the purpose of serving the entire college community. These publications are expected to be read by the dwellers on the campus now and filed away for future reference and history. In a recent issue of the News and Observer there were given accounts of the North Carolina soldiers who received special citation for bravery in France, in which the accounts of the deeds of two Trinity men occurred. Someone, possibly a friend of the soldier in question, clipped one of these accounts. When the library wanted to bind this issue of the News and Observer, it had to purchase a new copy, for it was not desired to have the files lacking an article of such vital interest. The above is only one of many such occurrences.

It may be that the guilty persons commit such acts thoughtlessly. If this be the case, they need to realize that they are in a pitiable plight to go through life with such disregard for the rights of others and they should awaken themselves to the fact that they live in a social community of which they each compose only one unit. If the articles are secured with the willful intent of getting it by this means rather than to spend the price of a copy of the publication, it is hardly less than theft on a small scale. Of course no one believes that there is any wrong intention behind such acts; nevertheless the result remains the same.

Let's have cutting out articles "cut out."

Rev. J. C. Ostrom Speaks to "Y" on Japan Situation

Rev. J. C. Ostrom, who has spent several years in Japan in the interest of missionary work, delivered a very interesting lecture to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening. Reverend Ostrom returned to America from Japan in July, and has since that time been devoting his time and interests to the Student Volunteer Movement of America. His subject was, "The Riddle of Japan." He spoke as follows:

"What is to become of Japan? What relation has Japan to the future? Japan is a nation which has assumed a development which is astounding, and is one of the Big Five at the peace conference. She has important representatives on the most important committees in the peace conference. Japan is a brilliant nation. Ninety-eight percent of her boys and girls are in school. She is trying to keep abreast with the times, and is imbued with the ideal to become equal with the greatest nations of the world. Factories are being built; industrial interests are increasing, and religion has lost its sway among the industrial workers. Ninety percent of the people are without religion. This is a problem which is becoming serious in Japan. It is of vital interest to the American people to become interested in this nation. Christianity alone can control these forces.

Library Adopts Plans to Govern Use of New Books

At the end of our fiscal year, Feb. 1, 1919, the Library at Trinity contained 55,120 bound volumes and 13,400 pamphlets. In addition, there are approximately 10,000 pamphlets in the Library which have not yet been catalogued and shelved.

During the year, 7,328 catalogue cards were made and filed, also, 1,145 additional copies of books and continuations were entered on cards already made. The total circulation of books was 8,542, which is much smaller than the normal circulation.

The following plans concerning new books have been adopted:

Selected lots of new books will be placed in the reading room for a period of two weeks before shelving them in the stack room.

This plan has been decided upon as a means of calling the attention of the faculty and students to the many interesting and excellent books that are being added constantly to the collection.

In order that all may have an opportunity to see them, the new books will not be taken out of the library for the first week, though may be used in the Reading Room. After a new book has been on the shelf for one week, it may circulate as any other fourteen-day book.

We suggest that any patron make a note of any of these books which he wants to read, then when they are ready for circulation he will have no trouble getting them.

The shelves set aside for these books are near the desk and are marked, "New Books."

Mrs. Cooper Speaks to Athena About Feminism

Mrs. F. A. G. Cowper talked to the members of the Athena Literary Society Tuesday afternoon on the subject of Feminism. After a definition of Feminism in its broadest and most modern terms, the speaker explained the three principal objects of the Feminist movement, which were (1) to make women consider themselves not as merely members of "the dependent sex" but as human beings deserving opportunities for development equal to those of all other human beings, (2) to teach the public to consider them as such, and (3) to train women to loyalty to women's unions so that definite benefits may be acquired through unity.

Literary Societies Met; Hesperia Holds Election

One of the many questions which have recently been the subject of negotiations between certain student gatherings and units of the faculty, eventuating in a compromise effected by accepting the views of the latter party to the negotiations, was the subject of discussion in Hesperia last Saturday evening. The proposition was "Resolved, That chapel exercises at Trinity College should be abolished." W. L. C. Ormond, the sole speaker of the affirmative, was opposed by K. W. Parlin, E. L. Harwood, and S. M. Holtton. Although the affirmative team made a good appearance, the odds were with the opposition, and the decision was in favor of the negative.

The following officers for the ensuing quarter were elected: President, W. L. C. Ormond; Vice-President, Reginald Turner; Secretary, T. P. Thomas; and Chairman of the Executive Committee, Wesley Taylor.

In Columbia, despite the paucity of numbers present as a result of the absence of students from the campus, an unusually spirited program was rendered. The orators were A. W. Oaks and W. H. Cherry. The following question was debated: "Resolved, That the Constitution of the League of Nations as adopted by the fourteen powers should be ratified by the United States Senate." The affirmative team, composed of C. M. Ransey, O. T. Bradley, and A. H. Gunyie, lost the decision to the supporters of the negative, R. A. Parham, L. H. McNeely, and W. A. Rollins.

The manager of the marshals for commencement was elected, in compliance with the custom of long standing by which the election of the manager and chief marshal alternate between the two societies. N. W. West was chosen for the office.

were W. L. Fitzhugh, W. R. Perkins, C. G. Knox, and H. C. Woolard. Readers were B. F. Batts and C. Vaughan.

In the Calhoun Society, the question for debate was: "Resolved, That an income tax is a desirable scheme of taxation."

The affirmative was composed of E. T. Teal, R. C. Glover, and O. G. Sawyer, while the negative was upheld by W. A. Tuttle, H. I. Durham, and H. E. Brewer.

Declarations were given by C. W. Durham, G. S. Parker, J. H. Swain, and Joel Jackson.

vision went into the thick of the fighting and was active until the signing of the armistice in November. Most of its operations were confined to the Verdun sector near Avocourt, but on September 1, the division was flung into the Champagne offensive with the 4th French army. This offensive lasted for about ten days after which the division operated in the vicinity of the Vosges mountains until the end of hostilities.

Lieutenant Ruff was awarded the Croix de Guerre through his army corps citation which is signified by a small gold star and he refuses to talk about the circumstances which led to his citation. He was four years a student of the college, having spent three years in the academic department and one year in the law school. Lieutenant Ruff was prominent in college activities and was a member of the varsity track team for four years. He left an unbroken record on the Hanes field for the 100, 22-yd dash, and broad jump, was captain of the track team when he left college. He was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Miss Buchanan expressed herself as being much pleased with the spirit of the occasion, and extended a cordial invitation to Trinity student-officers to call at the women's building. Dean Wannamaker then called upon Major Crawford, commandant of the Trinity R. O. T. C. Major Crawford was followed by a speech from a representative of each of three branches of the service, Second Lieut. R. E. Parker, Ensign Claude Cooper, and First Lieut. E. M. Thompson, representing the over-seas forces of the army. Each of the three speakers praised his branch of the service and expressed best wishes for the success of the club. The speaking was concluded by a few remarks from Dean Wannamaker.

Among the out-of-town guests present were: Miss Rhea Van Noppen, of Greensboro, guest of Lieut. Wesley Taylor; Miss Mary Bridges, of Charlotte, guest of Lieut. Van Noppen, a visiting officer from the University of North Carolina; and Miss Grey Bradshaw, of Greensboro, guest of Lieut. L. C. Matton.

five years and that it should likewise have authority to continue its control over the railroads for a like period in order to effect the proper co-operation between these two transportation agencies. The speakers of the affirmative also contended that there were certain improvements, such as improvements of terminals and consolidation of ticket offices, which should be effected before the return of the railroads to their owners and that such improvements could not be made within the present limit of 21 months after the declaration of peace. They further stated that during the critical period of reconstruction there would be a period of labor unrest and that the government should continue its control over the railroads in order to help adjust these difficulties.

The Trinity team argued for private operation and control of the railroads out and out. The first speaker pointed out the policy of the government in returning to normal peace conditions in all other industries which were affected by the abnormal conditions of war and asked why an exception should be made in the case of the railroad industry. He clearly outlined the two policies and contrasted them in detail. The second speaker emphasized the point that the policy of the affirmative was one of doubt, delay, hesitation, and experimentation. He contrasted the two plans in that the affirmative did not know what they wanted; they wanted a minimum period of five years in which to decide what to do. On the other hand, the plan of the negative was definite in that it stood for private control and operation of the railroads, only waiting for a favorable opportunity to effect the return to their legal owners. The last speaker of the negative contrasted in detail government control and operation as opposed to private control and operation, both as to many examples of inefficiency during the present government

Remember Well to Bear in Mind
A Faithful Friend is Hard to Find

Socrates once built a house, and everybody who saw it had something or other to say against it. "What a front!" said one. "What an inside!" said another. "What rooms! not big enough to turn around in," said a third. "Small as it is," answered Socrates, "I wish I had true friends enough to fill it."

Friends true and tried are not as numerous as we suppose. When the sunshines and everything is lovely, friendship is one thing. When things go "dead wrong," friendship is altogether a different proposition.

A never failing friend is a BANK ACCOUNT, and the FIRST NATIONAL BANK has a long list of friends that has never failed it, and there are hundreds ready to testify that often times the FIRST NATIONAL BANK has proven a FRIEND IN DEED.

There are two sides to Banking, one is to keep the rudder true and to earn dividends for the Stockholders. The other side is the human side, which is really the better and bigger side.

To be ready with the Life Line to aid and assist the unfortunate, but worthy derelict. Sooner would the FIRST NATIONAL BANK close its doors and go out of business, rather than to be unmindful of its obligations to humanity, and do business only to profit its Stockholders.

Try us—let us be your friend. We have more than doubled our Capital Stock—once $150,000, now $400,000. We are better prepared than ever to serve the public. The glad hand awaits you. Come.

control of the railroads and reminded the affirmative of the great deficit existing at the end of the year as a result of government operation. The records of many foreign countries where there is government control were given in support of his contention that the government as an enterpriser is very extravagant. Many instances in our own country were cited, such as the Hog Island affair. In brief, the negative stood for private operation and control of the railroads as opposed to government control and operation and argued that the sooner the railroads were returned to their legal owners the better it would be for all concerned.

Immediately after the debate a reception was given in honor of the debaters at which tea and cake were served.
