TRINITY BASEBALL TEAM WINS LONG STRING OF VICTORIES ON TRIP SOUTH

S. CAROLINA, DAVIDSON, AND GUILFORD LOSE TO TRINITY

Southard and Carroll Pitch Splendid Ball for Methodists—Lose to Moose Club

Trinity's Base Ball aggregation brought home the bacon when it returned to Durham last Sunday with a record of seven victories out of eight contests with the strongest clubs of North and South Carolina. The trip has been classed as one of the most successful in the annals of Trinity's athletics. Not only did the Trinities get away with seven well-margined victories but in practically every encounter, they easily outclassed their opponents in every department of the national pastime.

First S. C. Game

After copping the series with the strong Clemson aggregation, the Methodists invaded Columbia and defeated the University of South Carolina on last Thursday in a double header featured by the pitching of Southard who twirled both games and the hitting of the entire club. From start to finish, the Trinity contingent played stellar ball and remained air tight throughout both games. Southard's twisters kept the South Carolinians guessing for eighteen innings. The first game ended 9 to 0 for the Methodists and was featured by the hitting of Hathaway, McArthur, Cole, and Carson and the fielding of the entire club. Hathaway got away with a home run and a triple, McArthur contributed two double sackers, Cole added another home run, and Carson laid down three safeties. The box score follows:

TRINITY WINS IN TENNIS FROM ELON

Methodist Racketeers Took Both Singles and Doubles from Elonites Last Thursday

In the first inter-collegiate tennis match of the season, McCullen and Powell playing for Trinity defeated Hardecastle and Holland, the team from Elon College, in both doubles and singles on the home courts last Thursday afternoon. The home team outclassed the visitors and played close to the net, allowing their opponents to get most of their points only by tossing the ball over their heads.

In the doubles Elon took the first set; but the Methodist racketeers came back in the next two sets with increasing strength and took the final set of doubles by the wide margin of 6 to 2. In the singles McCullen walked away with Holland in the first two sets. However Powell found a stronger opponent in Hardecastle, and the result of their match was in the balance during the first two sets. In the third set, however, Powell came back with old time "pep" and completed it with a 6 to 2 lead.

President W. P. Few returned to Durham last Monday night from New York City

Senior Class Subscribers to Memorial Gym Fund

At a recent meeting of the senior class it was decided to set thirty dollars as the minimum sum for each member to give towards a class contribution to the Memorial gymnasium. A committee, with W. A. Thompson, of Hallsboro, as chairman, was appointed to secure the subscriptions. The senior class has about seventy-five members, and it has decided to make a contribution approximating two thousand and five hundred dollars, to this building which is to be a memorial to the Trinity men who took part in the recent war.

Mr. Thompson and his committee went to work immediately upon the task of securing pledges. Practically every member of the class that has been canvassed to date has pledged the minimum thirty dollars or more. The subscriptions from the senior class are coming in rapidly, and the other classes in college will follow in succession with their contributions.

In addition to taking subscriptions from the members of the '19 class now in college, Mr. Thompson is sending out letters to every former member asking for their support of this cause through the class donation. It is expected that quite a handsome sum will be made to the class's gift by these ex-members.

DR. H. M. ELLIS TO TENDER RESIGNATION

ACCEPTS POSITION AS HEAD OF ENGLISH DEPARTMENT IN THE UNIV. OF MAINE

Professor H. M. Ellis, of the Trinity English faculty, has recently been appointed professor of English and head of the department of the University of Maine, and has accordingly offered his resignation, effective September 1. He expects to remain in Durham with his family until August, having previously engaged to teach the courses in Chaucer and American literature in the summer session of the University of North Carolina.

This appointment is particularly pleasing to Professor Ellis because Maine is his alma mater, from which he received the degree of B. A. in 1907 and M. A. in 1908. The University is situated at Orono and has in normal years about 1200 students; the faculty numbers 155, of whom six are in the English department.

After leaving Maine, Dr. Ellis took his A. M. degree at Harvard and from 1909 to 1911 was instructor in English in Muhlenberg College, at Allentown, Pa. He then returned to Harvard and completed in 1913 is work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, his thesis being the first ever

J. W. NEAL, JR., DIED LAST SATURDAY IN HOSPITAL

DEATH CAME AS RESULT OF AFTER EFFECTS OF INFLUENZA

J. W. Neal, Jr., a member of the Freshman class, died at Watts Hospital last Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Death came after a very short illness resulting from the after effects of a very serious case of Spanish Influenza.

He became ill during the night Wednesday night, and was moved to the hospital Thursday morning. The doctors who diagnosed his case said he had every symptom of the spinal meningitis, but it was later announced that he was not suffering from that disease but from an attack of the influenza which he had last fall. His father, Dr. J. W. Neal, of Monroe, was summoned Thursday, and arrived here Friday morning. At that time the boy was resting well, and was not considered in any danger. However, his condition became suddenly worse about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. His mother arrived in Durham yesterday morning in time to be at the bedside of her son before he died, but he never regained consciousness after her arrival.

The body was taken to Monroe yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place Monday. Dr. W. H. Wannamaker, of Trinity College, accompanied the bereaved parents and the remains, as did three members of the deceased's class. The funeral is being held off until Dr. Paul Neal, a brother, who is in Boston, can reach Monroe. Another brother, Dr. Kemp P. Neal, is in France. Both of the brothers are graduates of Trinity College.

R. O. T. C. DRILLING WITH MAJ. CRAWFORD

Cadet Officers Placed in Temporary Command of Units—Will Take Part in Parade

Active work was begun by the R. O. T. C. unit at Trinity Monday when the battalion was marched to the parade ground on the old athletic field and put through two hours of strenuous drill.

Under the direction of Major Crawford, U. S. Inf., who has been stationed at Trinity in charge of the R. O. T. C. unit, the organization has been materializing rapidly, and although very little time for actual work remains in this college year, all equipment has been ordered, and is expected to arrive within a few days and everything will be in readiness for work next year.

Major Crawford took the matter of the selection of officers out of the hands of the students and appointed officers for the battalion. J. B. McCullen, '19, was appointed cadet major, W. N. Evans, Jr., '20, received appointment as battalion adjutant, with the rank of 1st Lieutenant. M. B. Loftin, and M. A. Braswell, both of the class of '20, were chosen as cadet captains of companies A and B respectively. Other appointments have not been definitely decided upon, but will be announced in the near future.

The R. O. T. C. will be accorded a prominent place in the parade here Friday. As the third division of the college in the parade, it will be marched in column of platoons in the line of march, and will continue the entire length, to the park.

W. B. Cox, A. B., '17, A. M., '18, was a recent visitor to the college community.

W. J. Crawford Talked to Y. M. C. A. at Last Meeting

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening was addressed by Dr. W. J. Crawford, Dr. Cranford is an interesting speaker, and his remarks are always enjoyed by those who have the pleasure of hearing him. His excellent talk was made on the subject, "Intercession." He spoke in substance as follows:

Intercession is the very essence of Christianity. There is a great deal in our religion which the Lord never used for Himself. This is summed up in two great commandments: Love God, and Love our fellowmen. God is love, and this is the biggest thing about Him. His love is expressed in infinite ways. His love is genuine, sincere, and all giving, and is the infinite essence of power. He is ever yearning to do all he can and be all he can for humanity. This counts for our creative world. We have been ordered and commanded by God to do things which were for our good just as the father orders and commands his son to do things which are for the son's benefit. Service passes into happiness, satisfaction, and high enjoyment, and love takes all the drudgery out. We have done things for others whom we loved when it was a pleasure.

WAKE FOREST BEATEN IN TRACK MEET HERE

TRINITY TRACK MEN RUN AWAY FROM BAPTIST OPPONENTS IN ALL EVENTS

METHODISTS MAKE MERRY IN SEASON'S FIRST ENGAGEMENT

Smathers, Loftin, Edwards, Caviness and Jeffries Leave Opponents in Lurch

Trinity took first place in the running from the 100 yard dash to the two mile run, and came out with a lead of 35 points over Wake Forest in the first inter-collegiate track and field meet of the season on the Hanes Athletic field Friday afternoon, April 18th.

In the half mile run, or 880 yard dash, the 440 yard dash, and the two mile run, the Methodists captured the full nine points in each. Cline, of Trinity, set the pace in the half mile run, and ran Edwards, of Wake Forest, such a race that the Baptist representative was unable to hold out. Smathers, of Trinity, passed them both and won first place by a very large margin. Caviness did exceptionally good work for the Methodists in the 440 yard dash, and won by an ample lead, followed by R. A. Moore, and Thigpen, both of Trinity, who captured second and third places respectively.

Team work was displayed to a wonderful degree in the two mile run. Loftin, of Trinity, who won first place, ran off and left the crowd, and came in first by a lead of nearly half a lap. Moore and Cherry, of Trinity, got the Wake Forest men in a pocket, and held them to a pace that would allow Loftin to get his lead, and then ran away from them and took the other places. Practically the same kind of tactics were used in the one mile run, when Smathers came in by a big lead. Trinity runners kept the Wake Forest distance men in a pocket, while Cline was running Edwards to death so that Smathers could pass them early in the game and win by a big margin.

Edwards, of Trinity, deserves special mention for taking first place in the 100 yard dash. Both he and Walt, also of Trinity, who captured third place, got bad starts, and the Wake Forest sprinters had a good lead on them, which was overcome by a terrific burst of speed. In the 200 yard dash Edwards also won first place, with Walt a very close second.

Wake Forest staged a big comeback in the weights and jumps. Blanchard, the well-known heavyweight catcher on the Baptists' base ball team, won the shot put with considerable ease and Gaddy took first in the discus throw.

Mills, of Wake Forest was the highest individual scorer, with 13 points, while Smathers and Edwards, of Trinity, tied for second place with 10 points each.

1. 100 yard dash—Edwards (T) first, 11 sec.; Duncan (WF) second; Walt (T) third.
2. One mile run—Smathers (T) first, 5 min. 2-5 sec.; Cooper (T) second; Garriis (WF) third.

It is actually true that we now have an "Iron Man" on the park.

Seven base ball victories, a track meet, and a tennis tournament—not so bad for two weeks.

And now we have the R. O. T. C. to remind us of the stormy days of the S. A. T. C. 'Tis well to be reminded.

The recent base ball trip gave Trinity seven wins out of eight engagements. The game with State College which was to have been played yesterday was unexpectedly postponed by the A. & E. management.

This issue of the Chronicle is under the editorship of Associate Editor Braswell. He is responsible for the unsigned editorials, the headline writing, and the entire make-up. Mr. West will have charge next week, which will be the last issue of the trial issues. Attention of the Chronicle Board is again called to these issues, as their merits are to be considered in the selection of an editor for next year.—C. C. A.

BACK THE TEAM

Trinity's base ball club returned from the annual southern trip last Sunday morning with a record which is nothing short of phenomenal in the history of base ball at Trinity. Out of eight encounters with strong collegiate contingents throughout the South, the Methodist aggregation has emerged with a record of seven victories. The team clearly outplayed the opposing teams in nearly every instance and was the subject of favorable comment in the state press reports of both North and South Carolina. The Columbia "State" says that the South Carolinians were simply outclassed and boldly headlines Southard as the "Iron Man" from North Carolina. The Charlotte "Observer" gives the Methodists credit for "walloping" the Davies, and in almost every press report the Trinity club has been highly praised.

To attempt to give individual credit to any one player would do an injustice to the entire team, and it is only safe to say that the whole team played real base ball. The Chronicle is justly proud of the achievements of the club and takes this opportunity to urge every student to share in the praise and give the team his whole-hearted support for the rest of the season. Trinity's chance for state championship is well assured, and the achievement of South Atlantic honors is not so far removed from the realms of possibility. Let's all get behind that old team and—Push.

NEAL'S DEATH

When the flag was lowered to half mast last Saturday as a symbol of the mourning of the College community over the death of J. W. Neal, Jr., a member of the class of '22, a sad shock came to every student, faculty member, and member of the community. This was the first death of a student of Trinity College in about twenty years, not withstanding the fact that several epidemics have made their attacks upon the student body at different times and the influenza preyed upon three hundred or more students during its seiges. However, due either to the very sanitary conditions or adequate arrangements for medical attention, the recent death of Mr. Neal was the first person whose illness has proved fatal while a student at Trinity in two decades.

Of course the long absence of a death among the students added to the keenness of the shock which the death of Mr. Neal brought; but there were other features which made this loss felt very sharply by especially the acquaintances of Neal. When Neal entered Trinity last fall and enlisted in the S. A. T. C., he made his first friends at Trinity. He was found to be a diligent worker, striving and not without success—to obey orders, learn military discipline, and fit himself to be a worthy soldier. After the signing of the armistice and the return to regular college activities at Trinity, Mr. Neal immediately applied his efforts to the work of a student. He was ever found busy putting forth a fitting effort to accomplish the tasks before him, and his work was rewarded by a creditable showing. Not only was Neal a diligent student, but he possessed a congenial disposition and a clean moral character. The Chronicle wishes to express sympathy to the College community and especially to the father and mother of Mr. Neal.—C. C. A.

Resolutions of Respect for Neal by Class of '22

Whereas, William Neal was a young man of the highest character and one who always discharged his duties, in school and out, with diligence and fidelity. When Neal entered college he became a member of the class of 1922, in which he made many close friends.
In view of these facts, we, the Class of 1922, desiring to express our deepest sympathy in mourning the death of the beloved classmate, the Class of 1922 and the college community as a whole sustain a permanent loss.
Resolve: First, That in the death of John William Neal, Jr.,

Second, That we desire to express our deepest sympathy to the family and friends of the deceased.

Third, That a floral design and two members of the class be sent with the body to its resting place.

Fourth, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Trinity Chronicle, to the Monroe Journal, and to the family of the deceased.

Class of 1922,
By Committee.

During the next four years he taught in the University of Texas. Here he was secretary of the School of English and an associate editor of the Texas Review. His doctor's thesis "Joseph Dennie and His Circle," was published in 1916 as one of the University of Texas Studies in English.

In September, 1917, upon the resignation of Dr. C. A. Moore, Dr. Ellis was appointed professor of English in Trinity College. During the past year he has been collecting material for a biography of Dr. Thomas Cooper (1759-1839), author, editor, educator, jurist, and radical thinker, who was president of the South Carolina College from 1820 to 1833 and a prominent nullification agitator. Professor Ellis is a member of the Phi Eta Kappa, Sigma Upsilon and Phi Kappa Phi (honorary) fraternities and of the Modern Language Association of America; he is also secretary of the Trinity Faculty Club and of the Harvard Club of North Carolina. Second S. C. Game

The second game was a continuation of the good work commenced in the first and was characterized by hard hitting and splendid fielding on the part of the Methodists. The contest ended 4 to 0 in favor of the North Carolinians. Cole managed another three sacker, and Southard showed that he could handle the willow as well as the horse hide by contributing a double. Byrd pitched well for Carolina.

Davidson Game

Trinity continued her victorious march when she came back into the state and defeated Davidson on the Presbyterian field last Friday to the tune of 9 to 2. Carroll worked well throughout the game and allowed his opponents but few hits. The contest was featured throughout by the sensational work of the Methodists outfield and hard hitting on the part of both clubs. Five runs were copped by the Trinitians when they took advantage of the Presbyterian blow up in the final siesta, making six hits during the inning. Wannamaker played sterling ball at third throughout the contest, and Richards starred in the field for the Presbyterians. McArthur hit well for Trinity, and Ratchford and Johnson did excellent stick work for the losers.

The score:

Davidson	100	000	001	—2

Gulford Game

The Guilford contest last Saturday proved an easy victory for the Methodists with "Bullet" Joe Caviness on the mound for the winners. The game went only seven innings and ended 11 to 2 for Trinity. The contest was featured by the work of Caviness who allowed the Quakers only three hits in the latter part of the game. The Methodist twirler had the Guilfordians at his mercy throughout the contest and kept them constantly guessing during the entire fracas. Every player on the Trinity team contributed at least one hit to the aggregate of seventeen safeties. Only one error was accredited to the Methodists during seven innings of air tight fielding. The Guilford game was the last milestone passed by the Methodists' victorious aggregation during the march to the sea. The team returned to Durham Sunday.

The score:

Trinity 300 212 4—11
Guilford 000 000 3— 3

Moose Game

In a thirteen inning game featured by the fighting spirit of both teams being kept at highest possible pitch, the Moose club Monday afternoon, at the East Durham ball park, defeated the strong Trinity College team by a score of 3 to 2.

Bob Gantt, who starred with Trinity some years ago, and later pitched for the Baltimore team of the International League, started the contest for the Moose Monday afternoon. He worked only five innings being relieved by Pace in the sixth. Leo Mangum took the mound in the seventh going the remainder of the game successfully.

Carroll, who went the entire thirteen innings for Trinity, uncorked one of the best pitched games ever twirled for the Methodists. He was steady throughout the game and was beaten by inability of his team to make tallies.

The feature work for Trinity was done by Towe and Hathaway playing short stop and left field respectively both of these players took chances which seemed impossible and fielded balls with an easy naturalness which brought forth favorable comments from fans of both sides. Carson was credited with a double and a single in four times up.

The Moose got the winning run in the 13 inning. Whitted doubled, Dennis fanned, Avent fanned, Kearnes loked a single and Whitted scored, the game ended.

His military career began in 1916 when he enlisted in Company M, at that time a unit of the North Carolina National Guard. During the days in which the National Guard was mobilized on the Mexican border, he was 1st Lieutenant of his company, and he has remained with the same organization throughout the war.
