EXHIBITION FOOTBALL GAME WON BY FRESHMEN

FIRST YEAR MEN DEFEAT SOPHOMORES BY SCORE OF 6 TO 0 IN CLOSE GAME

GAME AROUSES MUCH INTEREST

Gridiron Contest First Since 1904
Football Will Be on a Par With Other Athletics Next Season

An event full of historical significance for Trinity College was the inter-class football game played here last Saturday afternoon. This was the first game of football that has been played by regular academic students of Trinity College since the year 1904. All friends of the college interested in this branch of athletics will be glad to know that this game has been placed on an equal basis with all other athletic sports of the college. The lifting of the ban on football here will mean a great impetus to all branches of athletics. The students have been clamoring for football for many years, and their wild cheers last Saturday afternoon showed how gladly they welcomed its return and how heartily they are going to support it in the future. The restoration of football will mean that a larger number of students will come to Trinity next year, for many high school pupils have been choosing in the past other institutions for the mere fact that Trinity did not have football. The alumni, friends, and students of Trinity College welcome the return of the game.

The teams contesting Saturday were those of the freshman and sophomore classes. The teams were about evenly matched in weight, and the game was full of interest from start to finish. Both teams made extensive gains by line rushes and plunges, the lines of both teams being weak. This game does not count in the series of inter-class games; it was planned to be a preliminary scrimmage, serving to arouse interest in football.

The freshman aggregation opened the game with a rush and carried the ball ten yards in the first play. An end run by J. T. Jackson carried the ball twelve yards further down the field, and after a series of line rushes, the freshmen would have made a touchdown had not the forward pass of Bell been intercepted by Phelps. The sophomore line proved very weak in the first half, but the freshmen were not able to penetrate it for a touchdown.

In the second half of the game the freshman line weakened and the sophomores by a combination of line rushes and end runs were about to score when J. L. Jackson blocked a forward pass of the sophomores, and the ball again went to the Freshmen. In the last few minutes of the game the freshmen scored a touchdown. Armstrong and J. T. Jackson both made short end runs; J. L. Jackson added an end run of twenty yards, and the freshmen scored a touchdown by an end run, making

GLEE CLUB PERSONNEL SELECTED BY DIRECTOR

PLACES ON CLUB GIVEN BY DIRECTOR HOWERTON AFTER TRYOUT COMPETITION

HOWERTON CHOSEN DIRECTOR

Orchestra and Stringed Instrument
Places Not Yet Announced. Regular Practice Continuing
Three Nights a Week

The work of selecting the men for the Glee Club has been going on since last Friday night, and Director Howerton, after trying out all the voices thoroughly, has announced the personnel of this year's club. The director wishes it understood, however, that the competition is not finally closed, and each man's position is subject to challenge by any other man in college. The spirit of rivalry among the contestants has been keen, and the men were chosen on a strict basis of musical ability. The personnel of the club is as follows: First Tenor, R. A. Parham, G. D. W. Rackley, C. J. Fisher, and J. E. Blades, Second Tenor, L. M. Draper, J. B. Anderson, C. E. Buckner, and B. B. Harrison. First Bass, R. A. Smith, W. C. Merritt, W. W. Turrentine, and C. D. Douglass. Second Bass, R. K. Farrington, M. B. Jeffreys, W. N. Vaughan or G. D. Harmon, and G. T. Westcott. Reader, L. M. Draper, Pianist.

OCTOBER ARCHIVE FULL OF SPLENDID ARTICLES

SOUTHGATE PRIZE STORY BY J. H. SHINN IS FEATURE OF EDITION

FIRST ISSUE VERY CREDITABLE

Productions by J. H. Lanning, Wesley Taylor, Adelaide Lyons, D. W. Newsum, and Ruth Merritt

The initial issue of the thirty-second volume of the TRINITY Archive came out last Monday. It is a neat and attractive publication and a great credit to those who are producing it. All the articles in this issue are well-written, and the friends of this publication hope that the coming issues will continue this good record.

Perhaps the best contribution to the October issue is the short story by J. H. Shinn entitled "The Sale." This was the winning story in the Southgate Short Story Contest of 1919. The scene of the story is laid in Rome in the year 65 A. D. The chief character is Lucius Sextus, a young Christian, who first experiences in a dream the life of a Roman noble forsaking for this his religion, and later he really has the experience of dying as a Christian martyr. The writer shows an extensive and accurate knowledge of Roman history, a keen sense of character portrayal, and very fine descriptive powers.

SENIORS OF PARK SCHOOL WILL PUBLISH AN ANNUAL

Editor and Manager Elected and Committees Start to Work. Park School Notes

On Monday afternoon at a regular meeting of the senior class a resolution was passed that the class would this year put out an annual designed to represent the forward impetus of the class and the school. H. P. Powell was appointed editor, since he had had some little experience in the work and was deemed most capable. A. C. Thiem was appointed business manager. Committees and assistants were appointed and work on the book will begin right away.

Since the announcement of the 9019 contest to be held the day after Thanksgiving, several boys have signified their intentions of trying out for the coveted prize. The Park School preliminaries will be held about one week before the final contest and it is believed that the material here is sufficiently strong to take a good place in the finals, if not the best place.

Answering the call of Prof. Bolich, last Wednesday, about twenty-five boys appeared on the football field for practice. Major Crawford has undertaken to coach the boys and he gave them a good work out. Regular practice is going on with the view of picking a team to match one of the class teams at the college.

Miss Tiny Fussell, of Rose Hill, was initiated into Zeta Tau Alpha Fraternity last week.

WHITE STUDIO PHOTOGRAPHER IS AT WORK ON PICTURES OF ORGANIZATIONS

ELABORATE ANNUAL IS PLANNED

Unique Designs Great Feature. Latest Processes of Photography to Be Used. Staff and Assistants Chosen

Work on the annual being published by the senior class this year is going forward at a rapid rate. The management is striving to get the annual to the press sooner than has been done before, in order to assure early delivery, and to put the undertaking across in financial safety. The agent for the White Studio of New York has been on the campus for several days making pictures of the various organizations and groups whose organization is complete at this time. Many of the clubs of various kinds have been disposed of, and at the next trip of the photographer, which will be either just before or just after the Christmas holidays, individual pictures will be made. The management has already placed the contract for printing with the Benson Printing Company, Nashville, Tenn., who make a specialty of this work.

The annual this year will be (Continued on Page 4)

MANY CLUBS NEW AND OLD ORGANIZE FOR THIS YEAR

Organizations Include Most All of the Old Clubs and Many Which are New to Trinity Students

The presence of the photographer, making pictures for the Chanticleer, on the campus has caused a rather sudden interest in the formation of new clubs and the reviving of old ones. Among the old clubs that have taken a fresh start and elected officers for the year are the Hades Club, an organization of the sons and daughters of ministers; the Trinity Park School Club, made up of graduates of that school; the Durham High School Club; the Mountain Boomers Club, made up of students from the mountain districts; the Weaver College Club, consisting of former students of Weaver College, one of the colleges operated by the Western North Carolina Conference; the Sandfiddlers Club, made up of students from the sea-coast and near-by points; the Stenographers Club, which is organized among the students that have a knowledge of stenography and other business courses; the Parthenon Club, made up of women students who are interested in a study of the classics; the Navy Club con-

INTERCLASS RELAY IS WON BY SENIOR CLASS

CLASS OF 1920 WON TEN MILE RACE BY TIME OF 57 MINUTES AND 8 SECONDS

SECOND PLACE TO SOPHOMORES

Sophomore Runner Comes in One Full Lap Behind Fourth Year Man. Freshman Made Third by Narrow Margin

"For the love of Trinity and the prestige of twenty we have done our best," was the message carried to victory by the class of 1920 in the ninth annual inter-class relay race held on the college race track Friday afternoon. The time made was fifty-seven minutes and eight seconds. This being the first victory for the class of 1920 team, the Snider, Wilcox, Fletcher loving cup becomes the property of the senior class until one of the four classes win the cup next year.

Like all preceding races, the relay was exciting. The seniors assumed the lead from the start and held it by a small margin until the fifth mile was reached, when the margin was widened to the distance of a half mile lead. There were times during the race when it was evident that all four of the classes were endeavoring to make a desperate effort to land the coveted cup. The first mile saw "Gip" Loftin take first place for the seniors, while his "kid" brother, Bob, came in just a few seconds behind him. Lavallee for the juniors was next to cross the line, followed by freshman Burton. The second mile brought Powell to the front of the seniors. Scott was second for the sophomores in this run, Kanoy came in third for the juniors, and Bradshaw came in fourth for the freshman. The race continued in this fashion until the fifth mile when the freshman came in second on the last lap of the fifth mile. This position was not maintained long by the freshman. The seniors held the lead from the beginning and before the last mile was reached they had almost doubled this lead.

Aside from the seniors, the sophomores were the strongest contestants for the cup. Keeping the lead for ten successive miles, the "Wearers of the Derby" were not for a single time overtaken, neither was there any chance to get ahead of them until the race was finished. The juniors held third place until the fourth mile was reached, when they were forced to take a back seat. The freshman brought up the rear during the first four miles when they assumed the third place.

The relay was this year conducted under the same system inaugurated in preceding years. The race was run around the college circle, two laps of the circle considered a mile. The start and finish was just in front of the Library Building on the west side of the track. Several hundred spectators lined the circle during the contest. The class spirit ran high, and continued cheering was heard throughout the race.

EDITORIAL

There has come a time when class numerals painted in many conspicuous places call forth only a slight reproach to the miscreants. We have seen the time when the college would have needed a shipping clerk to have handled the outgoing students when an offense as serious as painting numerals was committed. Times do change!

The path to the library is no longer stony. Even all the pebbles were cleaned up in the showers upon the Freshmen Friday.

The message carried by the runners for the Junior class in the interclass relay race read: "If you run the race of life as you run this race, you will have done well." The poor juniors have a gloomy future if this is true, for they came out a way behind everyone else.

The spirit that is instilled by football is already evident in Trinity students, although they have seen only one game on their own gridiron, and that a very superficial product, when considered what will be developed by next year.

It is perfectly all right for students to have their spirit aroused and their loyalty inspired, and it is gratifying to those who contended for football to notice that it does have the effect that they maintained it would have. But we must not let out desire for contests and thirst for battle lead us beyond what our strength will support. It is with regard to the suggestion that Trinity meet some of the smaller colleges this season that the CHRONICLE is alluding in the preceding statement. Although the contest put up by the freshman and sophomore teams last Saturday was far beyond what many of us expected, or even thought it could be, nevertheless it was not near up to the standard of college football. Both sides made many bad plays, and both sides were weak. Furthermore, when the board of trustees agreed to reinstate football, there was a condition that for the first year football was to be intra-mural, meaning that it should be confined to class contests. The coach deems it the wiser policy to plug away this year developing a team for next year, satisfying ourselves with intra-mural football for the present, in order that we may put out a team next year to cope with our old rivals in other athletics. The CHRONICLE is of the same opinion, and urges students not to chafe at restrictions, but to continue working, and be willing to look ahead and get good results when we get any at all.

On page three of the Chronicle will be found a number of announcements for the ensuing week under the head of "Calendar of the Week." These announcements of meetings will be carried by the Chronicle in the future in order to give the students a definite understanding of the time and place of meetings which they should attend, and at the same time to take over a part of the burden of announcements in Chapel.

Anyone having an announcement of the nature of those in this issue will be able to have it published by either mailing it to the editor or by marking it "For the Chronicle" and leaving it on the bulletin board. Should these notices become too numerous, the ones that pertain to the largest number of students will be printed.

Eko-L Held Regular Initiation Last Friday

The regular annual initiation of Eko-L, the local scholarship society for the young women of Trinity, was held Friday afternoon, October 31, at the Kilgo House. The "horse-play" lasted for over an hour and furnished much amusement for those who had also once experienced something similar. After the initiates displayed much wit and expounded their learning, refreshments were served. The new members initiated were Misses Elizabeth Allen, Nancy Maxwell, Mary Blair Maury, Mary Gooch Pitts, Martha Wiggins, and Beulah Walton. The other members present were: Misses Lucile Bullard, Margaret Cameron, Vera Carr, Elizabeth Floyd, Florence Shuman, Gladys Price, Doris Overton, and Bernice Ulrich.

established in 1910 by Dr. F. C. Brown, and since that time it has become one of the foremost sporting events of the fall. All runners win their class insignias, and considerable interest is stimulated in track work as a result of the contest. The time this year was not so good as record established in the fall of 1917 when the class of 1918 finished it in fifty-five minutes and thirty-eight seconds.

Considering the fact that there was not a sufficient number of score-keepers, it was impossible to work out the individual time of each runner. In past years the individual time of each runner has never been worked out to the exact figure.

Dr. W. P. Few congratulated the Senior class on their victory and presented the cup to E. T. Harrison, captain of the senior team, immediately after the race.

Another notable production is an oration by J. H. Lanning, '19, entitled "America's Place in a World Peace." Mr. Lanning delivered this oration in the Wiley Gray Contest last year, and was the winning contestant. The oration first shows America's position in regard to the war, and then it shows the mighty powers and resources which she marshalled into service. It gives as the ultimate answer to the peace question the league of nations idea. The author develops several very fine climaxes from which he drew in his delivery of this oration a very pleasing oratorical effect.

"How to Enjoy Life" is the catchy title of an essay written by Wesley Taylor (G. Whillkins). Mr. Taylor gives and elaborates two ways of obtaining happiness or enjoying life; these being to minister directly to ourselves, and by ministering to ourselves through the agency of other people.

The alumni department has one well written short story by Adelaide Lyons, '17, entitled "Two Stars and a Diamond." The two stars are two girls loving the same boy, a member of the A. E. F., who is the diamond in question. The boy marries a French girl before leaving France, and thereby extricates himself from an embarrassing situation, as he had previous to his departure for France, made love to both girls. Miss Lyons is an able writer, and her story is a very good production.

Y. M. C. A. ENJOYS "FIT TO WIN" PICTURES WEDNESDAY

Special Army Pictures Sent Here by State Board of Welfare Workers for College Y. M. C. A.

"Fit to Win," a moving picture prepared by the war department for the army was the feature of the Y. M. C. A. program at its regular meeting last Wednesday evening. The picture is being furnished to the colleges of North Carolina by the State Board of Welfare Workers. Mr. G. F. Warner, of the Durham Y. M. C. A., acting under the director of the International Y. M. C. A., was present to explain the picture and why it is being presented to college men. Most of the men students and many members of the faculty were at the meeting, and everyone enjoyed and appreciated the program.

The faculty meetings are to be revived beginning with tonight, when W. H. Wannamaker, the first speaker in the series, will address the Y. M. C. A. at the regular meeting.

The Sunday evening vesper service has been revived by the Y. M. C. A., and is to be continued throughout the year. The first service was held Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. A main feature of the meeting is its brevity. The program consisted of a few songs, a few prayers, and the reading of a short passage of scripture by one of the members. None of these services are to hold for more than fifteen or twenty minutes.

and Orchestra Director, J. G. Leyburn. Director, Edgar Howerton. The orchestra and stringed instrument places have not been chosen as yet, but Director Howerton expects to announce these in a few days. The director wishes all the men who have been chosen for the Glee Club to the prompt in reporting for the practices which will be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Friday nights of each week. It is earnestly hoped that the co-operation not only of the Glee Club members but also of the entire student body will be strong in the determination to make this valuable phase of college work a great success.

Manager Draper has been very fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. E. A. Howerton as director. Mr. Howerton is a well known baritone singer and has been engaged in operatic work for the last few years. He was recently elected a member of the National Bureau of Lyceum Entertainers and has achieved a splendid record in chautauqua work. Director Howerton has begun planning the program for the club and is very much pleased with this year's prospects.

The college through the music council is giving support to the club this year. Dr. F. C. Brown, Chairman of this Council, met with the Glee Club last Friday night and spoke interestingly of the history of the organization, and assured the men that the faculty had pledged their support and were confidently expecting good results. With the men for the Glee Club chosen, a good director secured, and the college supporting it, this year's club has a very bright future.

Miss Grace Coeherham, of Elkin, visited friends on the campus this week.

CALENDAR OF THE WEEK

The Executive Committee of the Co-operative Dining Association will meet in the office of the Dean Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The Fortnightly Club will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Then Engineer's Club will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The Physics Club will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The Historical Society will meet on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Economics room.

Among the new clubs that have been organized in the last few days are the Tennessee Club, made up of students from that state; the Cosmopolitan Club, whose membership embraces all those students from states other than those that have individual clubs; and the Alien Club, composed of students from foreign countries. County clubs have been organized by the students from the following counties: Wayne, Granville, Person, Mecklenburg, Wake, Stanley, Pitt, and New Hanover. Other county clubs are in process of organization, but so far organization is not complete.

CO-ED NEWS

The women students of Trinity College have organized a Glee Club of their own. They cannot be accused of not being original in this, for work on their organization began before that of the men's club. Practices are being held at regular intervals, and try-outs are being held to determine the personnel of the club, which will be selected on a competitive basis.

The club has been divided into four departments. Miss Estelle Warlick, who is manager of the organization, is also director of the chorus department, while the instrumental solo department is under Miss Blanche Barringer; the dramatic department is directed by Miss Lota Leigh Draughan, the stringed instrument work by Miss Thelma Howell. About thirty girls are trying for places on the club, and the selections will be made in the near future.

known as "The Chanticleer." It is the plan of the managers to have a larger volume than ever before, this edition to contain more than three hundred pages, excluding advertising. The binding will be made of dark blue material of high quality with a unique design, and the annual will be dedicated to Mr. James B. Duke, of New York, one of the largest benefactors to the college. The material in the volume will be arranged in books, according to subject matter. Each book will be introduced by a handsome design done in colors. Each subdivision of a book will be introduced by a specially prepared design covering a full page. All designs in the volume will be made to illustrate something peculiar to Trinity College. No stock drawings like those used in other college annuals will be used in the Chanticleer. There will be a special view section of new views of the campus, the photographs to be made by the latest process of half-toning decorated in border tints with subdued background scenes. All pages will be decorated with tinted borders characteristic of Trinity College. The senior and junior classes will have individual pictures of their members; three pictures to the page for seniors and ten for the juniors. The seniors, juniors, and sophomores will have complete honors given. This will be the first time the juniors have had individual pictures, and the first time the sophomores have had their honors listed. Organizations are to be encouraged to have individual pictures made, inasmuch as much more attractive designs can be given individual pictures. The humorous features will be combined in one section, as will also all matters pertaining to the co-eds, with the exception of class pictures and organizations.

The editorial staff has been announced by the editor, Wesley Taylor, and M. A. Braswell, business manager, has selected these assistants. Mr. Taylor has undertaken to fill the positions of editor-in-chief, art-editor, and literary editor himself. The associate editor in charge of athletics is G. M. Ivey; associate editor in charge of honors and records, J. D. Lewis; associate editor in charge of woman's department, Ruth Early. The assistant business managers are R. L. Thornton, H. P. Cole, and R. K. Farrington.

Sometimes

We love to touch the human side of folks. After all money making is not all there is in business, leastwise not with

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

THE MAN behind the dollar interests us.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

wants the public to consider it as a MAN MAKER, as well as a MONEY MAKER. Every bank owes the other fellow something. There is but 100 cents in a Dollar, but there is the word of encouragement, the human touch that will help lift the burden. Many a poor fellow is hungry for a word of sympathy, "the hello, hooray Bill, we are betting on you" spirit that makes a MAN MAKER as well as a MONEY MAKER.

Dan Henderson interpreted the thoughts and plans of

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

When he sang:

Weave for the world the flag of man!
Finish the fabric our sires began!
Out of our lives shall the thread be spun!
Out of our veins shall the color run!
Out of our deed shall rise its lustre!
Out of our dreams its stars shall cluster!
Wide as the heavens spin the span
Of freedom's fabric—the flag of man!

HATS OFF!
