COLUMBIAN RECEPTION HELD THURSDAY NIGHT

ANNUAL SOCIAL EVENT PRO-
NOUNCED GREAT SUCCESS
BY ALL

ENTERTAINING PROGRAM GIVEN

Elegant Refreshments, Punch, Jazz
Music, and Decorations Made Big Event—Large Crowd in Attendance

The Columbian Literary Society on last Thursday night gave a very unique and interesting reception to its members, their lady friends, the members of the faculty, their wives, and to the officers of the Hesperian Literary Society. Professor H. E. Spence acted as toast-master for the occasion and his never-failing wit and humor did not fail to extract many hearty laughs from the audience. W. A. Rollins, president of the society, delivered the opening address and extended a hearty welcome to Columbia's guests for the evening. Short talks were made by President Few, Dr. Glasson, and Professors Pegram and Cowper.

After these speeches each guest was given an examination paper upon which was printed the thirty-six members of the faculty in the form of a charade. After half an hour of hard work on the part of the contestants, the toastmaster announced that Mrs. M. L. Lowery, who scored 100 per cent, was the winner. The booby prize went to R. L. Billings who had the distinction of being the only person present who guessed only one answer correctly.

After an intermission, during which punch was served by Mesdames J. J. Wolfe, R. N. Wilson, C. B. Markham, and H. E. Spence and refreshments were placed at the desk of each guest, the program was continued with an interpretation of the change occurring in the life of a college student from the time he enters as a gawky freshman until he leaves as a dignified senior. This interpretation was given by Woodley Merritt, of Norlina, and R. A. Parham, of Oxford, who acted the parts as they sang a parody on "Long Boy." The hall was suddenly shrouded in darkness, and a ghost appeared. The spectre soon quieted the fears of the audience by announcing that he was merely going to remind the faculty of some things that occurred in their thoughtless and irresponsible years.

The concluding act of the programme was a musical performance of a mock-heroic type delivered by the "Columbia Jazz Discard." The members of this troupe of performers were: M. S. Lewis, J. O. Long, R. A. Smith, G. D. Harmon, W. N. Vaughn, L. E. Cooper, W. C. Merritt, and R. A. Parham. The selections rendered by the "Discard" were in the form of parodies representing some phase of college life or the peculiarity of some professor.

The hall was tastefully decorated with the society colors, black and old gold. The well known "Super Six" Orchestra rendered several splendid orchestral selections during the progress of the evening.

Nearly two hundred people attended the reception.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB HELD A REGULAR MEETING FRIDAY

To Encourage Miscellaneous Productions and Offer Prize for Best Contribution

The first regular meeting of the Fortnightly Club of the Sigma Upsilon Fraternity was held Friday night in the English Office. The meeting was devoted largely to the organization of business for the year. It was decided to give special attention at each meeting of this year to some particular kind of literature and to arrange a course for miscellaneous literary productions. It was also decided that a prize of five dollars be offered for the best contributions in poetry, fiction, non-fiction, and prose, the contest to be open to undergraduates.

J. G. Leyburn entertained the members with a most interesting comic narrative which gave promise to good work in the future for Mr. Leyburn. The principle part of the program was occupied by Dr. N. I. White, who presented to the meeting "A Review of the Work of the Southern Poet and Humorist, J. Gordon Cougler," which the members thoroughly enjoyed.

The meeting was closed by a course of refreshments and smokes.

LITERARY SOCIETIES MEET REGULAR PROGRAMS GIVEN

R. L. Johnston Delivers Oration in French at Columbia—Hesperia
Held Usual Program

The program of the Columbian Literary Society last Saturday night was varied with a novel feature in the form of an oration delivered in French by R. L. Johnston. A declamation by G. B. Wynne was followed by an oration by H. W. Carter and a humorous talk by Henry Belk. The debate was on the query, Resolved, That a special tax should be levied on all bachelors residing in the United States. The affirmative was supported by H. J. Hatchett, W. P. Waggoner, and L. E. Cooper, while the negative side was successfully defended by B. P. Warren, G. H. Benson, and H. W. Price.

Hesperia's program was also very interesting. The debate was on the query, Resolved, That compulsory arbitration should be resorted to in the settlement of all labor disturbances. The affirmative was successfully upheld by W. A. Allen, and L. S. Brady, while the negative was defended by G. V. Allen, J. E. Bridgers, and M. Bradshaw.

Wm. P. Hawfield, '15 was married at Linwood, N. C., to Miss Pauline Raper on October 30, 1919.

MASTER VIOLINIST TO BE HEARD AT TRINITY

FAMOUS BOHEMIAN VIOLINIST
JOSEF KONECNY, WILL PLAY HERE

UNDER AUSPICES OF Y. M. C. A.

Grand Concert By One of Best Known
Violinists To Be Given in Craven
Memorial Hall Tuesday
December 2

Arrangements have been made by the officials of the college Y. M. C. A. for a concert in the Craven Memorial Hall, Trinity College, December 2, by Josef Konecny, the famous Bohemian violinist. The violinist is being brought here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and a concert will be given in Memorial Hall for the benefit of the students and the college community. Tickets for the concert will be on sale in the near future. The admission for students will be fifty cents, while for outsiders, one dollar. Any profit made on the entertainment goes to the Y. M. C. A.

Press reports of Mr. Konecny say: "Josef Konecny has played in most of the big cosmopolitan and musical centers of this country, as well as in other parts of the world, and is considered by his critics to rank among the foremost violinists of the present day. He is the son of a Bohemian blacksmith. He studied with and was taught by great violinists, and is a shining example of what can be accomplished by indefatigable industry, energy, and perseverance. His playing is distinguished by faultless technique, and that fiery temperament which is found only in the Slavic race.

"He will be assisted by Lola Alley, American soprano, and Mary Tris, the brilliant American pianist, both artists of national reputation."

The coming of the concert to Trinity is a treat that should be enjoyed by every student and member of the college community.

Four New Men Taken Into Classical Club Tuesday

The classical club, an organization composed of students and faculty members interested in the ancient languages, held its annual initiation last Tuesday evening. The initiates were, J. D. Lewis, T. A. Banks, W. N. Vaughan, and K. J. Vise. Each initiate made a short speech in Latin or Greek, and to these speeches each of last year's initiates made short replies in one of the Classical Clubs. The ceremonies were followed by an informal feed.

At the meeting of the Parthenon Club on Tuesday afternoon Miss Beulah Walton read a paper on the "Myth of Niobe in Literature and Art," that was supplemented by quotations from Byron, Walter Savage Landor, Tennyson, and Alfred Noyes, and illustrated with stereoscopic pictures of the statues of Niobe and her children in Rome and in the Uffizi palace in Florence.

JUNIORS WON FIRST OF INTERCLASS FOOTBALL

FRESHMEN DEFEATED BY JUNIORS
TUESDAY BY SCORE
OF 8 TO 0

SENIORS DEFEATED BY JUNIORS

Close Game Between Juniors and Seniors
Ends With Score of 13 to 0—
Law School Defeats Sophomores
By Score of 14 to 0

The first game of the interclass football series for this year was played Tuesday evening between the juniors and the freshmen. Although the weather was bad, a fairly large crowd witnessed the contest.

The game opened with the ball in the hands of the juniors who carried it within three yards of their goal before the quarter was over. The freshman line could not withstand the short rushes of the juniors led by Starling and Hathaway. The ball was carried through the first year men's line for gain after gain and each down put the third year men several yards nearer the goal. The freshmen did not seem to be able to hold the ball when they had it and the first quarter was notable for the large number of fumbles on both teams. The quarter ended with the ball on the freshmen's three yard line.

The second quarter opened with a touchdown by Hathaway for the juniors. The touchdown was secured by a rush of the juniors upon their opponents' line. The freshmen made considerable gains during the second quarter, the most notable was a forward pass to J. L. Jackson which gained about fifteen yards. The half ended without any more scoring by either side.

The third quarter was the most critical one in the game for the juniors, as the freshmen seemed to wake up and played in their usual form for a few minutes. A long run by J. T. Jackson and another by J. L. Jackson carried the ball well down the field toward the goal posts. An unsuccessful attempt by Bell to punt gave the ball back into the hands of the juniors. The first year men did not get another chance to score during the game.

The most spectacular play of the day came off in the last quarter in a long forward pass by Starling Ashe, who carried the ball within a few inches of the goal line. The freshmen scented the ball in play and prevented the juniors from scoring. They were not able to prevent the juniors from forcing their way back over the line and thus securing a safety, which gave the juniors two more points and brought the junior total to eight.

The features of the game were the line work of Hathaway, Starling, and Tysor; the end runs of J. L. and J. T. Jackson; and the long forward pass and run of Ashe for the juniors. Hathaway and Starling did stellar work as half-backs, and Tysor played an excellent game at quarter for the juniors.

DEAN WANNAMAKER LECTURED TO Y. M. C. A. WEDNESDAY

"Love of Truth" Subject of Lecture to Y. M. C. A. Meeting Last Wednesday Night

Dr. W. H. Wannamaker, the first speaker for the Y. M. C. A. in the series of faculty lectures, delivered a very interesting and helpful talk last Wednesday evening on the "Love of Truth." He began by showing the distinction between merely theoretical truth and the ability to grasp and love the truth when once discovered. The fact that most men in reality do love the truth is proved by their response to calls to defend it in great crises. The speaker used that startling question that Pontus Pilate asked Christ, "Master, What is Truth." He showed how Pilate by his lack of appreciation of his opportunity to get a final answer to the greatest of all questions, turned away without waiting an answer. He pointed out that there is much truth to be discovered in patient searching after the hidden wisdom of God in whatever sphere we serve humanity. But truth enough is already discovered to save the world if it were only manifested in the lives of men. He concluded with the thought that we have a need for a fuller

TENNIS TEAM SELECTED BY PERCENTAGE TOURNAMENTS

Shinn, Cornwall, Hathaway, and Hackney Won Places—Dr. N. I. White Will Coach

The varsity tennis team for this year has been selected. The percentage tournaments started on Monday, October the eleventh, with the following men trying out for places on the varsity team: Shinn, J. H., Cornwall, C. C., Hathaway, L. B., Lewis, J. D., Cooper, L. E., Carroll, C. F., and Hackney, C. W. Shinn won first place; Cornwall, second place; Hathaway, third place; and Hackney fourth place in the percentage tournament. These men will compose the varsity squad. Cornwall and Shinn will play the doubles, and Hathaway and Hackney will be the alternates.

Dr. N. I. White, South Atlantic Champion, will coach the tennis team, and there is no doubt but what the team will be up to the standard of past years. There will probably be no matches this fall, and the schedule of inter-collegiate matches for the spring will be published later.

The Y. W. C. A. is conducting a week of prayer service this week. Services are held every evening at seven o'clock in the Alsapha Hall. The attendance has been good so far, and the interest manifested is encouraging.

EDITORIAL

The Georgia Technique and the Vanderbilt Hustler have been quibbling over which one has a monopoly on "Say It with Flowers" as an advertisement for floral shops. We might suggest that the union of florists which carries such large advertisements in many of the leading periodicals, and which uses the same slogan, could settle the matter for the two papers.

Every year when the men who have been selected for places on the various athletic teams are considered by the faculty, some one is debarred from playing because of deficiency in class-room work. It is sometime yet before any men will be given a tryout for the teams, and while the matter is still opportune the CHRONICLE wishes to say a few words urging all athletes to devote more time to their studies.

The admirable combination, athlete and scholar, is one that is growing rare at Trinity College. It is readily granted that the primary purpose of a college student should be the acquisition of knowledge and not the cultivation of an athletic inclination. Of course, it is a very good idea for a student to be also an athlete, but he should not let his athletic activities occupy so much of his time that his class-room work has to go neglected. If one cannot be both a student and an athlete, then he should be a student for that is his purpose in being in college. It is usually the case that the men who practice nearly every afternoon. Granting, then, that the afternoon is always devoted to the gridiron, ball-field, or basket-ball court the night should be spent in the preparation of the lessons for the following day. One will need at least one night a week for various other things than studying, and in such a case he should take off an afternoon from athletic practices and devote it to studying.

The CHRONICLE does not wish to lower the respect which all the students have for the athletes of the college; it only desires to remind them of what they are in college for, to ask them to study more in order not to be kept off a team, and to assure them that the CHRONICLE, with full heart and soul, is pulling for Trinity College and its athletic system.—R. A. P.

"What Trinity College needs," is an old slogan which is continually being heard on the campus year after year. The needs of the college are, no doubt, discussed in the Trustees meetings; they are discussed in the various meetings of the alumni; and they are being discussed invariably by the students of the institution. When one speaks of the needs of Trinity College, it is generally understood that the term applies to buildings, equipment, accommodations, and probably an increased number of faculty members. No doubt, it is true that all these things are needed for the promotion of the welfare of the institution, and these various needs will be supplied in the future by those who are interested in the college. A question which more vitally concerns the welfare of the institution is not a question of buildings, equipment, and accommodations. This is what can the students do for the good of the institution? The buildings, the equipment, and the other material necessities are going to be supplied; hence it is absolutely necessary that the students do their part toward making conditions around the campus what they should be.

What can the students do? They can make conditions on the campus more favorable and impressive by doing real constructive work. The trouble on the campus at the present time is that the number of students trying to tear down is greater than those trying to build up. Instead of endeavoring to push to the college community, we try to impede its progress by offering our wise criticism. The offering of criticism has never accomplished anything that was really worth while, and so long as we hold a critical attitude toward athletics, publications, and college activities in general, they will never take a forward movement. The criticism offered these college activities may be wise and justifiable, provided the one offering them will make an effort to improve the defects by showing how and in what way the improvements might be made and at the same time a certain amount of constructive work may be done. Construction is the foundation of prosperity, and where there is no constructive work there is no prosperity. Why cannot we, as students of Trinity College, do more constructive work, and in so doing lend a helping hand to those who are making efforts to make our institution the foremost institution in the South. We can do this.

It is just as easy to push college activities forward by every student doing his or her honest bit as it is to stand off with folded hands, unwilling minds, and worlds of criticism to offer. When we all decide to put a shoulder to the wheel of these activities and push forward together, we can say that we, as students, have done our share for our college.—C. H. M.

Chas. C. Searlett, '03, of this city was married on October 18 to Miss Lillian Page, also of this city.

LAW SCHOOL vs. SOPHOMORES
"Pompey Duckley's" squad of lawyers laid aside Blackstone, contracts, and criminal law long enough to defeat the sophomores in an interesting game of football Friday afternoon. The score was 14 to 0 in favor of the lawyers, who evidenced the fact that they were far from being a bunch of "softs" when it comes to handling the old pig-skin.

The game was interesting from the start. The first touchdown made by the lawyers did not lessen the morale of the sophomore team in the least. Although they did not score, they made the game interesting for their opponents.

In the first quarter Ruff, running through the line, made the first touchdown. Salmon kicked the goal making the score 7 to 0 in favor of the lawyers. In the second half Martin, making an end run, scored the second touchdown. Salmon again kicked for the goal completing the score.

The law team was very much superior to the sophomore team in weight, but in spite of this, the sophomores did much gaining by hitting the line. During the game, Crawford, full back, and Moore, left tackle, for the sophomores, were disabled and were replaced by Sherrill and Gray.

The features for the Law School were the playing of Martin and Ruff, and kicks by Salmon.

The feature plays for the sophomores were the playing of Leach and Phelps, and a fifty yard end run by Phelps on a fake forward pass.

SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED FOR INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

First Game Will Be Played Friday—
Games Will Be Played in Double
Headers to Gain Time

The interclass basketball season will open November 14 with double headers between the freshmen vs. seniors, and the sophomores vs. the juniors. Owing to the shortness of time remaining before the opening of the varsity season all interclass games will be played in double headers. The interclass schedule as officially announced is as follows:

November 14: Freshmen vs. Seniors; Sophomores vs. Juniors.

November 18: Seniors vs. Sophomores; Juniors vs. Freshmen.

November 21: Seniors vs. Juniors; Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

The second series of double headers between the classes begin on November 24. They are as follows:

November 24: Freshmen vs. Seniors; Sophomores vs. Juniors.

November 28: Seniors vs. Sophomores; Juniors vs. Freshmen.

December 2: Seniors vs. Juniors; Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

The captains of the class teams are urged to get busy, and everyone who has ever played basketball is expected to be on hand at the practices. The teams will be selected in a few days and everyone who expects to try out must be on hand at once if they want to make the team.

The class games will determine largely the varsity team, and all new men who are trying out for varsity will greatly improve their chances by coming out for the class teams.

Juniors Defeat Seniors in Hard Fought Contest

The student body enjoyed a very spirited football game between the juniors and seniors last Wednesday. The juniors won the victory with a score of 13-0 in their favor.

The prospects for victory for the seniors were very bright in the first quarter. Beginning at the kick-off, they steadily forced the juniors back until they reached the two yard line. The ball was lost there by a fumble and there was little hope for victory for them again until the last few minutes of the game. During the last quarter, Finch, for the seniors, made a very pretty end run, but was downed before reaching the goal. The seniors did not have another chance to score.

The juniors made their first touchdown by a series of short rushes on the opposing line in the third quarter, followed by a short end run by Starling for the third year men. Only six points were scored on this touchdown since they failed to make the kick.

The second touchdown was made for the juniors in the final quarter. The seniors attempted a forward pass only a few yards from one junior goal. Cole intercepted the pass and carried the ball across for a second touchdown. Cole made the kick making the juniors score 13.

The features of the game were the playing of Cole and Starling for the juniors and Finch and Thornton for the seniors. Finch played especially good ball and carried the ball through the line on several plays. Starling made several good gains for the third year men.

PARK SCHOOL NOTES

The first quarter of the present term of the Trinity Park School was brought to an end last Friday with the last of the quarterly examinations.

Two new students were enrolled term, swelling the total enrollment to above 240.

To celebrate the end of the examinations the boys were given Friday night to do as they pleased. Inasmuch as the students are striving to do the full eight months' work in a little over seven months, it is not customary to break into the work in that manner, and the boys were delighted by the unexpected pleasure.

Professor F. S. Aldridge, headmaster of the school, spent a part of last week in Winston-Salem on special business for the school, returning to Durham Sunday morning.

THANKSGIVING DAY CROSS COUNTRY RUN CALLED OFF

Big Fall Track Event Canceled Because of Necessity of Time For Football

The cross country run, which was to be held here on Thanksgiving Day, has been cancelled because most of the colleges in the state were not participating. The State University was the only institution that showed any desire to take part in the contest. The track management considered the prospects for making the run a success, and decided to cancel it in order to put all the time on football. It is believed that by putting this extra time on football work, that we will be able to play in inter-collegiate contests next year.

Track work, with hare and hound, and cross-country runs, is to begin immediately after the first term examinations, at the latter part of January.

Trinity Enjoys Holiday on First Armistice Day

Students of Trinity College enjoyed a holiday Tuesday, November 11, to celebrate the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice. This holiday was not in the schedule, but was given by the authorities after the movement for a holiday had become fairly general in other colleges in this state and over the country. Whether this custom is continued will probably depend upon the action now pending on them.

Out of our dreams its stars shall cluster!
Wide as the heavens spin the span
Of freedom's fabric—the flag of man!
