In a twelve inning game, Carolina won from Trinity at Chapel Hill yesterday by the score of 2 to 1. The game was one of the most sensational played this season, and was won by the sturdy work of "Lefty" Wilson, who did creditable work on the mound, and in the final round up, won his own game with a two base hit. Both teams played first class ball, which kept the spectators in suspense until Carolina made the winning run in the last half of the twelfth inning.

For the first four innings, it appeared that the contest was going to be a rehearsal of the 15 inning battle played at East Durham last spring, but Carolina broke the string of goose eggs when in the fifth inning Sweetman was thrown out at first by Towse; Feimster walked and stole second; Younce singled to right and Caviness blocked the ball which Chandler threw home in an effort to cut Feimster off, and Feimster scored.

Trinity rallied in the ninth, when Carson started off with a hit which placed him safe at first; Caviness sacrificed and Carson was safe at second; Neal lifted a single over first base, and Carson scored. Hathaway was thrown out at second, and Towse was thrown out at first. This tied the score, and caused the Carolina fans to resume their former seats.

In the last half of the tenth, Carolina came near putting a stop to the play, when Sweetman was safe at first, Feimster walked, Younce was thrown out at first, and Sweetman safe at third and Feimster at second, Pfarr received his base on balls, Saunders attempting to squeeze popped a fly out to Caviness who threw three Sweetman out at third.

In the last half of the twelfth, Wilson, first man up, met the pill for a two base hit over Hathaway's head in left field; Sweetman was thrown out at first, Wilson went to third, Feimster forced Wilson home on a squeezed play.

Caviness pitched first class ball, using splendid head work and fielding his position well. He struck out six men to his opponent's four, and kept his hits scattered.

Features for Trinity were the sensational catch made by Chan-

The newly elected officers of the Y. M. C. A. were installed at the meeting of the organization held on last Wednesday night. The installation only consisted of a short speech by the outgoing officers, reports of the year's work by the secretary, and short speeches by the incoming officers. J. E. Gilbreath, the retiring president, after a very brief talk in regard to the year's work, introduced R. A. Parham, the new president and the outgoing secretary. Parham made his report for the past year as secretary and then gave the plans for the coming year. He said that it was the intention of the Y. M. C. A.

With a line of pinch hitters, featuring Tubby Boyd and Hershey Spence, backed by Dean Wannie, a second Babe Ruth, the faculty defeated the seniors in a seven inning game of baseball on Hanes Athletic Field Monday afternoon, when Babe Ruth Wannie, with Tubby and Hershey on bases, slammed a line drive between short and second, and brought in the winning run of a 15 to 14 score.

At the opening of the game the seniors piled up a heavy lead of three runs, which would be a fair margin for such mediocre players as the Chicago White Sox. But the faculty team is no slouch aggregation. It came back in the third with six runs in one inning. From then on the score alternated, first one and then the other being in the lead, with a tie often called.

The faculty nine presented a strong line-up, with Pa Breedlove on first sack, Wannie on second, Rabbit Webb on short, and Dallas Newton stopping the hot grounders at third. Tubby featured in right field, Cap chased balls in left, while Farmer Wilson starred in center pasture. Gross, Craw-

Three matches were played, and of the three the Trinity players were successful in one. Although defeated in the Washington and Lee and the V. M. I. matches, the Trinity men made a very creditable showing against the strong teams from these institutions. The scores for the V. M. I. game were:

Cornwell vs. Young—6-3, 6-1.

Commencement exercises for the year 1920 will begin Sunday evening, June 6, with the Baccalaureate Address by Pres. William Preston Few. The Commencement Sermon will be preached Tuesday morning, June 8, by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, LL.D., of Malden, Mass. The Commencement Address will be delivered Wednesday morning, June 9, by the Hon. Maurice Francis Egan, LL.D., of New York City, Ex-Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States to Sweden from 1907 to 1919. Following the address the graduating exercises will be held.

On Monday evening the representatives of the graduating class will contest for the Wiley Gray Medal. On Tuesday evening the exercises will be in charge of the alumni. The Reverend Clovis G. Chappell, of Washington, D. C., will deliver an address, and other interesting features will be presented. The alumni and alumnae dinners will be held at one o'clock Tuesday. The annual reception in honor of the graduating class will be held in the West Duke Building Monday evening following the Wiley Gray contest.

A number of classes will hold reunions this year and the attendance promises to be unusually large.

It is probably true that the college has never had a more interesting list of speakers than it has this year. Bishop Hughes is one of the most distinguished preachers in the M. E. Church. Before his election as bishop he was president of De Pauw University. Not only is he one of the most forceful public speakers in the country, but he has written several widely known books. Among them are: "Thanksgiving Sermons," "The Teaching of Citizenship," "A Boy's Religion," and "The Bible and Life."

The Hon. Maurice Francis Egan, LL.D., is one of the most distinguished diplomats to represent the United States in an European court. He was tendered the appointment as Minister to Greece by President Cleveland, but declined the place. He has the unique distinction of having served as Minister Plenipotentiary to Sweden under three administrations; Presidents Roosevelt,

EDITORIAL

The Vanderbilt Hustler contains a comment on the overall club to the effect that at that institution it has narrowed down to those who are wearing them and sticking by the plan, and that as far as they are concerned, they don't give a damn whether the other fellow saves his father's money or not. Ring the bell, and score the "censored editor" a good point.

NOTICE

With this issue the CHRONICLE suspends publication for the year, and another volume of the old sheet goes into history. The Chronicle Board met last Thursday and elected C. H. Moser, of Cherryville, editor, and R. J. Tyson, of Erect, manager, for next year.

The present editor and manager of the CHRONICLE wish to acknowledge the splendid support they have received at the hands of the students and the college community, and especially do they commend the assistants on their respective staffs, who have so consistently stood behind them, and made whatever measure of success has been attained possible.

Special thanks are due the men at Seeman's Printery. We are very grateful to Hutchins, head linotype man, and Etheridge, the make-up man. They have done splendid work, and have shown remarkable patience at times.

FAIR PRESENTATION

The News and Observer for Monday, May 10, carries a first column write-up on its sporting page of the then impending "championship game" between Carolina and State College. In proving that the Carolina vs. A. and E. game should be the championship game, the Raleigh paper says:

Trinity is the only team that has not been defeated in a full series. On the other hand, Trinity has not won a full series. Moreover, the Methodists have been defeated by both Carolina and State College, and also lost one to Elon, a team that was an easy prey for the other contenders. State will not play Trinity again. The second contest between the institutions was scheduled for last Saturday, but was cancelled by Trinity on account of wet grounds, although Winston-Salem and Durham played in the Durham league park on the same day.

We do not fully understand the attitude of the State College men, and less so we comprehend the News and Observer. We have not been defeated in a full series, nor have we won a full series. Why? We are willing to play, and if we lose, our past reputation has shown us to be good losers when it is our fate to do so. Both Carolina and State College have defeated us one game each. Carolina was (and Wake Forest is) willing to take us on for another round, although her team won only a single point victory. The game today told who was successful in the second match. But State College turns up and says Trinity forfeited to her when she cancelled the game Saturday on account of wet grounds. Where do they get onto that noise? It rained hard all Saturday morning, and our athletic field, unfortunately, is placed on low ground, and does not drain readily. It would have been like a lake Saturday afternoon.

To be true Winston and Durham played here. But the game was called at 4:30, after gasoline had been burned on the field for three hours; and the field is raised for the purpose of ready drainage. Furthermore, it would have been to our advantage to have played A. and E. We could certainly have played on our own field, soggy or not, as well as the visitors could have. We have everything to win and nothing to lose. They had a game scheduled with Carolina for Monday which would have meant that they pitch their second man, with whom they have given a picnic to every other team in the state except ours, against us or against Carolina, when they could ill afford to lose either game. Our first pitcher was here and ready to go. And yet they say we cancelled it, insinuating that we were afraid to tackle it, when we only gave them a gentleman's deal, and called the game off because of unfavorable circumstances. Had we forfeited a game, as A. and E. once forfeited a basketball game here, there would be some grounds for contention. The discussion of titles does not enter here. What we object to is any subtle insinuation that we pulled any shady stuff in cancelling a contest. Anyone with eyes can see that it would have been to our advantage to play State College again, even to finish the series, but she does not seem to be eager to take another chance on the field in open combat. She had rather work it out to her own satisfaction in a biased news story, and call it square at that.

The News and Observer takes great pains to mention the fact that Trinity was defeated by Elon, "a team that was easy prey for all the other contenders." Yet the paper has not mentioned the game when Trinity took a 9 to 2 victory from Elon. And we notice in an added afterthought the fact that A. and E. went down before Wake Forest by a score of "twenty to something." We might have an off day once in the season, but hardly would we take it out on our opponents by running them to death.

We wonder, too, what the big idea is with the News and Observer. It seems to us that a state paper, commanding as it does, wide influence over the state, might forget old differences between individuals dating back into history, and give us all fair representation.

FORECAST AND REVIEW

One of the most successful years in the history of Trinity College is drawing to a close. The accomplishments of the year have been many, and their significance in the annals of the institution is overshadowed only by the portentousness of the promise of greater things in the future that they signify.

The college year opened with an enrollment enormously swelled, straining the facilities of the college. Greater enrollment is in sight for next year, and plans are under way to meet the increased numbers. From a student's standpoint the year has been excellent. A spirit of industry has pervaded the campus throughout the year, and the quality of honest effort put forth has never been better than this year, providing a powerful incentive to good work among the students, and placing Trinity College in the foremost rank of educational institutions in the country.

A successful year for athletics has been had. Intra-mural football was carried on with great zest during the fall, and upon that basis plans are being made for intercollegiate football next year. Effort is being made to secure as good a football coach as can be found in the country, and the establishment of the game as a major sport at Trinity next year seems assured. The basketball team put up a wonderful fight, and walked away with the state championship. The baseball team has worked hard, and made a creditable showing, in spite of occasional misfortune. Our track and tennis teams also deserve commendation. Other lines of student activity have prospered. Trinity's debating team defeated Swarthmore College and Emory University, and preserved the reputation of the college as the leading contestant in forensic matches in the South. Literary activities have done well, and the publications have striven to reflect credit on the institution.

In the drive for Greater Trinity, the college has achieved wonders. By a campaign of less than a week, money was raised with which to establish a co-ordinate college for women, and work will be started on the project during the summer. In addition to this new building and increased facility, the alumni of the college have taken up the matter of a gymnasium, and an alumni secretary is spending practically full time completing the preliminaries, and working on that building will also be started during the summer. Furthermore, the alumni secretary has started the work of organizing the alumni of the college throughout the state, by means of which Trinity College will be fostered and helped in a way which cannot be realized through any other channel.

The year has really been a record-breaker for deeds accomplished, and will go down in the history of the college as a banner year for Trinity.

WAKE FOREST

Wake Forest defeated Trinity on Hanes Athletic field Wednesday by the score of 2-1. Trinity's inability to hit with regularity made it possible for Barnes to get the best of a pitcher's dual. He was able to hold the Trinity team at bay, and only once was he scored upon. Wake Forest scored twice and many times had Trinity in situations far from favorable. The Baptist sluggers succeeded in getting five safeties, while Trinity succeeded in getting two, one in the infield and the other a stinging double to left field off Johnson's bat.

Joe Caviness made a splendid start. In the first inning he pitched only four balls in order to get the visitors out. In the second inning, however, Duncan led off with a hit. On an error by Caviness, who threw badly to first, he went to second. Johnson fanned, but Ellis was safe on a bad throw to first. Barnes bunted and was safe on first. Duncan scored on a wild throw. Kestler was out at first base and Boylan went out second to first.

Trinity scored in the eighth when Neal was safe on Ellis' error.

Chandler popped out to third base. Johnson doubled and Neal scored. Johnson was caught between second and third; Carson was out second to first.

Wake forest scored in her half of the eighth on a hit batsman, two errors and a single.

In the third inning Trinity missed an opportunity to score and made one of the most unique plays of the season. Hathaway, first man up, beat out a bunt towards third. He went to second on Chandler's sacrifice hit. Neal hit what appeared to be a foul down the third base line; it rolled fair. Wake Forest third baseman picked up the ball and put Hathaway out as he attempted to make third. He then threw the ball to first putting on Neal who had failed to run.

LETTER FROM CHAS. R.
BAGLEY IS COMPLETED

REMAINDER OF LETTER FROM OXFORD STUDENT GIVEN IN THIS ISSUE

Below is given the last half of a letter from Chas. R. Bagley, '17, a Trinity student who is now in Oxford University, England. He wrote the letter to the CHRONICLE, telling of the life at Oxford. The first half of it was published in the issue of March. It has been impossible, because of the lack of space for current news, to complete the interesting account before this.

The remainder of the letter follows:

SPORTS

The principal sports are rowing, rugby football, soccer, hockey, track, cricket, tennis, golf, swimming, etc. All of the different colleges are represented by one or two teams in each sport. There is also a varsity team in each sport, made up of the best college players. Varsity men may play for their college as well. The attitude towards sports and the general spirit of play were revelations to me when I first came up. Every man in the university takes an active part in some sport, and doesn't worry very much whether his side wins or not, so long as it's a good game. It is unusual to see many spectators at a game, unless it is a cup game or a varsity match; everyone is busy playing something himself. I remember the first rugby game I saw St. John's play. Queen's had just beaten us in the second round for the cup. I was skulking off home, feeling very much like I used to feel when we lost to Wake Forest in baseball. A friend came by and hailed me: "What's the matter, old man? You look as if you were ill."

"We lost the game," I muttered in a thick voice, like a kid who has just swallowed his chewing gum.

"Oh, that's all right," he said. "They had a better team. It was a jolly good game, though." And off he rode on his bicycle.

That struck me as being a pretty good way to look at it; so I straightened up my clouded countenance and since that day have thought no more about defeats. Last week our boat lost six successive races on the river. After the races were over, however, we had as big a dinner and drank as much champagne as the winners. I believe this is the right attitude towards sports. It saves hard feelings and makes for real amateurs.

To resume the athletic system in a few words, I should say that it gets away from foul play, grandstand play, and from the idea that victory is the whole object of every game. It makes for clean sport for all students, for perfect athletic relations between the different colleges, and for the idea of sport for sport's sake and for health's sake.

SOCIAL LIFE

Under this heading I shall group all the principal features of Oxford life not mentioned under the other two.

One of the most pleasant features of the social life of a Rhodes scholar is his associations with about one hundred other Americans, who come from every state in the Union. These men are not freaks at all, as I once imagined. On the contrary, they are, with a few inevitable exceptions, first-rate students, men of wide experience, good athletes, and sociable fellows. At the American Club rooms one can find all the leading magazines and dailies of the United States.

As I intimated above, debating forms a large part in the social life. The largest club here, the Oxford Union, is a debating society, and the programs of nearly all the other clubs usually center around a debate of peculiar interest to the house. These discussions are generally of a high standard. For instance, prominent ministers of the British government quite often take part in the Union debates. I might add that I have found them humorous and instructive.

The undergraduate's associations at Oxford are pleasant and at the same time perhaps the greatest factor in his education. An American who spends three years here does not necessarily change any of the opinions he brought with him across the water, but he does learn to see and to assimilate some of the good points of other peoples. Narrow-mindedness exists but does not flourish here.

I have not taken up the question of the religious life in the university because it is practically the same as ours at home, except here we have chapel twice a day instead of once. Oxford is as important a church center as Canterbury.

Were I an undergraduate at Trinity again, with my present experience, I should not hesitate to embrace the opportunity for a Rhodes Scholarship after being graduated there; for Oxford, in my opinion, offers peculiar advantages in library facilities and in method of instruction, a healthy and sportsmanlike system of athletics, and a wide circle of pleasant and helpful associations. There is no fear of an American becoming Anglicized; he simply rejects what he dislikes, appropriates what he likes and takes it with him back to the U. S. A. If there are any students at Trinity who would like to have more definite information on certain points, they have only to write me. I should be glad to take the time to give any further information desired.

Please convey my kindest regards and best wishes to my friends at Trinity. I am keenly interested in the college and its work. I wish for you all the fullest measure of happy usefulness.

Sincerely yours,
CHARLES R. BAGLEY.

APRIL EDITION SOUTH ATLAN. QUAR. IS OUT

LONG ARTICLE BY DR. GLASSON
IS ONE OF THE FEATURES OF THE ISSUE

SUBJECT MATTER IS BALANCED

Articles By Brooks, House, Glasson, Schiefel, Graves, Whitford, Dibble and Northrup Are Very Commendable

The April number of the South Atlantic Quarterly is just off the press. This issue contains several timely and noteworthy articles on various subjects of interest. The article by Dr. W. H. Glasson on "Price Inflation: Its Beneficiaries and Its Victims," is of especial interest at this time and gives a small degree of comfort to the outlook for the future.

The contents of this issue are not devoted to any one field. There is an article by R. P. Brooks on "The American Cotton Association, giving its object, and history." R. P. House writes on "Preserving North Carolina's World War Record as a State Enterprise" and what steps have been taken by the state in this work. In "French Problems" William H. Schiefel calls attention to the economic, political, and social problems and suggests how they may be remedied. Dr. Glasson's article on "Price Inflation: Its Beneficiaries and Victims," gives the causes of high prices, points out what classes are most affected, and suggests the method to pursue in order best to deal with the situation.

The other articles are of a more or less scholarly and literary interests. "The Devil in the Playhouse," by Thornton S. Graves, deals with the ancient illusion of religious people which raised the devil in and about theaters. "Lexiphanes: Satires View of Doctor Johnson," by Robert C. Whitford, shows the contemporary satirist's opinion of Dr. Johnson as opposed to the opinion of such admirers as Boswell. Ray F. Dibble gives a short sketch of the life, work and place in literature of Nathaniel Ward, the first American satirist, in his article, "The Simple Cobbler of Agawan." Clark S. Northrup's "Problems of Democracy" is a review of several current books dealing with the problems of democracy rising out of the late war and some of the methods by which they might be solved.

Prof. H. E. Spence delivered the commencement address at the closing of the Creedmoor High School, in Granville County, Tuesday, May 4th. J. A. Pitts, '06, was principal of the Creedmoor school during the past year.

TRINITY PARK SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY

PARK SCHOOL CLOSES MAY 7th
WITH DECLARATION CON-TEST AND EXERCISES

The final graduating exercises of the Trinity Park School senior class of 1920 were held in the Craven Memorial Hall Friday evening, May 7, at 8:30 o'clock. The first feature of the program was a declamation contest. Those taking part in this contest with their subjects were:

Cary Winston Durham, "The Blue and the Gray;" Robert LeRoy Jerome, "The University, the Training Camp of the Future;" Charles Frost Lewis, "From Death to Life;" Edward Benjamin Spivey, Jr., "The Home in the Government;" Edward Everett Snow, "America a World Power;" Julian Haywood Swain, "Poes United in Death;" Guy Temple Tripp, "Influence."

The winner of the contest was Edward Everett Snow with two of the three votes. Charles Frost Lewis received the other vote. To the winner of this contest is given a gold medal by Prof. and Mrs. F. S. Aldridge in honor of their deceased child, Joseph Bivins Aldridge. The medal is given every year and is called the Bivins-Aldridge medal. In a very pleasing and touching talk, Professor Hornaday, ex-professor of the Park School and now professor at Trinity, delivered the medal.

The next feature of the program was the awarding of medals for the year. Each of the literary societies gave a debaters' and a declaimers' medal. Professor Aldridge, headmaster of Trinity Park School, delivered the medals as follows: for the Calhoun Literary Society the debaters' medal was awarded to Charles F. Lewis, and the declaimers' medal to E. G. Overton; for the Grady Literary Society the debaters' medal was awarded to Chas. B. Deane, and the declaimers' medal to Walter B. Spivey. In addition to these, a medal is annually given by Mr. W. P. Henry, of Durham, to that member of the senior class whom the school decides is the best all round student. It is given for round excellence in the class room, on the athletic field, and as a leader among the student body as a whole. This medal was awarded to Chas. B. Deane.

Probably the most impressive part of the program was the awarding of diplomas and certificates. Those receiving diplomas signifying that they had done all the required work of this school creditably were:

Elizabeth Aldridge, Irwin Dewey Hathaway, Robert LeRoy Jerome, Haydie Edmundson Lane, Martha Valentine Snyder, Mary Carrington Umstead and Linwood Erastus Mercer.

Those receiving certificates signifying that they had not finished the required work of the school, but had finished enough to enter college were:

Students making honors or an average of more than 90 for the entire year were:

Seniors—Robert Leroy Jerome, Carl Goodman Knox and Harry Bryant Smith.

Upper Middle—Beatrice Browning, George Washington Jackson, Jr., Thomas Clark Fitzgerald and Ernest Holston Kirby.

Lower Middle—Marvin Coleridge Pharr.

The following scholarships were given: Robert Leroy Jerome, a four year scholarship to Trinity College. Upper Middle, to George Washington Jackson, Jr. Lower Middle, to Marvin Coleridge Pharr. Junior, to Otis Carrol. Music was furnished by the Constable Orchestra.

Dr. W. T. Laprade acted as host to the Fortnightly Club of Sigma Upsilon last Friday evening at his home on Buchanan Boulevard. The members of the literary order enjoyed a number of poems read by Dr. Laprade, and one or two other literary features. Several matters of business were discussed and acted upon.

SEASON RESUME SHOWS A CREDITABLE RECORD

TEAM HAS PLAYED HARD FOUGHT
CAMES. MOST OF LOSSES
DUE TO HARD LUCK

"WINNING TEAM" DEFEATED BY JINX

Total of Seventeen Games With Eight Victories. Eleven Centuries in State With Six Scatps To Our Credit

The baseball game with Carolina at Chapel Hill yesterday ended what has been a very successful season. Although the record in games won has not been so good this season as it might have been, the team deserves much credit for the consistent work of every varsity man. Out of 11 college games played in this state, Trinity has won 6. On the Virginia trip Trinity played 7 games, winning 3.

The season opened March 23 with Lenoir College on the Hanes Athletic Field. The score was 7 to 2 in Trinity's favor.

On March 29, Trinity battled with Elon on the Hanes Athletic Field, the score being 9 to 2 in favor of the Methodists.

On March 31, Guilford was played on the Hanes Athletic Field, and suffered defeat by a large margin, the score being 10 to 1. April 3, Wake Forest suffered defeat at the hands of the Methodists by a good margin. The game was played at Wake Forest, and the score was 4 to 1.

The team took the Virginia trip, leaving Durham May 6 and meeting V. P. I. April 7. Trinity was victorious by the score of 5 to 4.

April 9 Trinity battled with Washington and Lee at Lexington. The game was reported the best played on the local ground since the opening of the season, the score being 4 to 0 in Trinity's favor.

April 13 Randolph-Macon was played in Richmond, resulting in a score of 4 to 0 in Trinity's favor. April 14 Trinity met William and Mary in Williamsburg, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the opposing team. This was the last team played on the Virginia trip. April 17 Trinity met the State College in Raleigh and was defeated by the score of 4 to 2.

April 20 Carolina was played on the Hanes Athletic Field. In a very exciting and close game, Trinity lost by the score of 1 to 0.

April 23 Davidson was defeated by Trinity on the Hanes Athletic Field by the score of 4 to 3.

May 3 Trinity took a two days trip West, playing Elon College on Monday, and losing by a score of 9 to 1 in favor of Elon. May 4 Trinity met Guilford College at Guilford, defeating the Quakers by the score of 11 to 7. May 5 Wake Forest won an exciting game on Hanes Athletic Field. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of the Baptists.

The total number of games played during the season is 17. These 17 games include those played on the Virginia trip, and also the games played with the Durham "Bulls." Out of the number Trinity has won 10.

Manager Gilbreath deserves much credit for the splendid schedule which he worked out before the season opened.

Coch "Chick" Doak, who is noted for his ability as a baseball coach, has displayed his ability in a satisfactory way during the season.

TRINITY MAN WINS IN STATE PEACE CONTEST

INTERCOLLEGIATE ORATORICAL CONTEST WON BY SENIOR AT TRINITY

HONORS TO J. T. CARPENTER

First Prize Of $75 Goes To Him. Second Prize To Carolina Man. En-treces from Wake Forest and Guilford

J. T. Carpenter, '20, speaking on the subject, "Nationalism the Enemy of World Peace," won the first prize in the annual state intercollegiate peace oratorical contest which was held in the high school auditorium at High Point, Thursday evening. D. R. Hodgins, of Carolina, speaking on "Essential Fundamentals of World Peace" won second place. The first prize was seventy-five dollars and the second was fifty dollars. There were four speakers in the contest, the University of North Carolina, Wake Forest, Guilford and Trinity being represented.

Since this contest originated, seven years ago, it has been held in Raleigh three times, in Greensboro twice, and in Durham once. The purpose of this annual contest is to promote the art of oratory among the colleges of the state, to stir up enthusiasm among the numerous high schools, and to bring current topics worthy of discussion before the eyes of the people.

The High Point Enterprise commented on the speech made by Trinity's representative as follows: "Mr. Carpenter was very deliberate in manner and clear in enunciation. His oration was, perhaps, the longest of the four given."

CHANTICLEER EXPECTED OFF THE PRESS IN NEAR FUTURE

Managerial Staff Is Taking Subscriptions For Annual Now, and Expects Delivery Soon

The publication staff of the Chanticleer reports an exceedingly gratifying situation in regard to the annual. Members of the business staff have been canvassing the students for several days and will continue to do so until every person in college has had an opportunity to purchase a volume. The expectation of everyone that the present Chanticleer will be the best annual ever produced at Trinity College is no doubt giving an impetus to its sale, for the managerial staff states that ninety percent of the students canvassed have already given their subscriptions.

In spite of certain unavoidable hindrances, the final stages of the editorial work were all successfully completed some time ago, and no pains have been spared to carry out the original, elaborate plans to the fullest extent. The printer has been working on the book for some time, and is making all possible haste to deliver it to the students in the very near future.

and Lee match were:

Cornwell vs. Colin—6-3, 6-1.

Shinn vs. Birsch—2-6, 2-6.

Hackney vs. Falstein—2-6, 2-6.

Cornwell and Shinn vs. Colin and Imawitch—4-6, 6-4, 4-6.

The match with Lynchburg College, which was won by Trinity, resulted in the following scores:

Shinn vs. Porter—6-2, 6-4.

Hackney vs. Willis—6-2, 6-4.

Cornwell vs. Marshall—6-1, 6-3.

Cornwell and Shinn vs. Porter and Marshall—6-4, 6-0.

These teams have been successful against many of the northern institutions, and the result the Trinity men produced is very gratifying.

On Friday afternoon on the local courts a match with V. M. I. will be played. This is expected to be one of the best tennis matches played here in a great while and the Trinity team, strengthened by the addition of "Red" Whitener, anticipates victory. Four single matches will be played and two matches in doubles.

Dr. W. I. Cranford left Durham

cabinet to continue the same plan next year that was used during the past year, giving variety to the association meetings by having faculty lectures and musical programs at frequent intervals. This matter is left entirely in the hands of the program committee. Parham stressed the importance of cooperation in association work to make a successful year, and urged all those present to aid in this work. A promotion committee, to promote the work of the "Y," and to place it before the student body has been discussed by the cabinet.

W. N. Vaughan, the new vice-president, further stressed Par-ham's remarks on co-operation, and told something of the intention of the local "Y" to send a large delegation to the Blue Ridge Conference this year. T. C.
Kirkman, the new secretary, and L. Dulin, the new treasurer, made short talks stressing the remarks of the president and endorsing the plans for the coming year's work.
A successful year appears to be in prospect for the association next year.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR ATHLETICS IS CLOSED

ATHLETICS GETTING STRAIGHTENED OUT, AND PLANS ARE MADE FOR NEXT YEAR

WILL SECURE FOOTBALL COACH

Effort Is Being Made To Secure Football Coach Of National Standing To Open Intercollegiate Season Here Next Fall

With the closing of this year, ends one of the most successful years Trinity College has had. In the beginning of the year Trinity students were granted the privilege of playing intra-mural football, with the assurance that if enough interest was manifested in this form of athletics, inter-collegiate football would be granted later. As a result each class was represented last fall by a strong, well-trained team, and during the inter-class series, great interest was evidenced, not only among the members of the various teams but also by all students in general. Next year inter-collegiate football will be played with colleges in this state and in other states. The Athletic Council is making every possible effort to secure the services of a coach for football, and one with a national reputation as such. The council has been in touch with several men of such standing, but as yet no man has been employed. It is especially desirable that football receive the right send off here next year, and in order for this to happen, there is need for a coach who has the ability and a thorough knowledge of the game in every form. It will mean the re-establishment of football in the catalogue of athletics at Trinity College.

The re-establishment of football at the beginning of this year was the beginning of a successful year in other forms of athletics. The basketball team won the undisputed right to the title of State Championship.

In the Annual State Track Meet held at Chapel Hill recently Trinity took second place. The team was victorious in a meet held on the Hanes Field with Wake Forest, while the meet with the State College was lost in Raleigh.

FACULTY TAKES GAME WITH LINE OF PINCH HITTERS IN SEVENTH

ford, and White were also in the game. Dean Wannie carried off the honors for the faculty with the stick, while two sensational catches by "H. B." Wilson in center were the big league stunts.

The seniors, with Polly Jeffries on the mound, and Bobby Thornton enriching the ground at short with his infallible line, put up a hard fight. In the seventh frame, however, when senior victory seemed certain, the faculty pushed in Tubby as a pinch hitter. Polly conferred with catcher Saunders, and the outcome of the inquest was that Boyd should be walked, for fear of his mighty slugging ability. He stole second, and then took third, acting on the timely coaching of Wannie. Hershey Spence came up and got on base. Wannie followed after two outs had been made, and knocked the drive that won the game.

Sometimes

We love to touch the human side of folks. After all money making is not all there is in business, leastwise not with

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

THE MAN behind the dollar interests us.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

wants the public to consider it as a MAN MAKER, as well as a MONEY MAKER. Every bank owes the other fellow something. There is but 100 cents in a Dollar, but there is the word of encouragement, the human touch that will help lift the burden. Many a poor fellow is hungry for a word of sympathy, "the hello, hooray Bill, we are betting on you" spirit that makes a MAN MAKER as well as a MONEY MAKER.

Dan Henderson interpreted the thoughts and plans of

When he sang:

Weave for the world the flag of man!
Finish the fabric our sires began!
Out of our lives shall the thread be spun!
Out of our veins shall the color run!
Out of our deed shall rise its lustre!
Out of our dreams its stars shall cluster!
Wide as the heavens spin the span
Of freedom's fabric—the flag of man!
