Both Orders Held Interesting Meeting Saturday Night. Several Impressive Talks. Promising Material

The Hesperian Literary Society held its second meeting of the term Saturday evening. The society hall was almost completely filled with visitors and enthusiastic Hesperians.

President H. E. Fisher opened the meeting with a short talk of welcome to the visitors. In an oration entitled "The Demands of Hesperia," G. E. Powell set forth the requirements which Hesperia makes on all her members. Hesperia demands that each of her members be loyal.

A very spirited debate was held on the question, Resolved: That student government should be adopted at Trinity College. The entire audience, acting as judges, decided in favor of the negative debaters, W. J. Bundy and H. C. Sprinkle, and against the upholders of the affirmative, H. J. Herring and T. A. Banks.

Roy Giles, an old member of Hesperia who has returned to the College, made a talk in which he said that the society hall is the place where students learn to put into practice what he learns in the class room.

After the regular program had been finished, the Society held a recess of fifteen minutes. During the recess, the visitors of the Columbian and Hesperian Societies were given a chance to choose the society with which they wished to affiliate themselves. After the meeting had been called to order again, twenty-four men were proposed for membership in Hesperia; these men were accepted by the Society and immediately initiated.

Forty-three new members were enrolled in the Columbian Literary Society at its meeting Saturday night. Of the new members, thirty-four are members of the freshman class, six are upper-classmen, and three are members of the faculty—the latter becoming honorary members. They are: Dr. Adams, of the Department of History, Prof. Lopez, of the Department of Romance Languages, and Dr. Cotton, of the department of Economics.

President J. W. Hatecock opened the meeting with a short talk, expressing pleasure at seeing so many new men present, and pointing out the necessity for every one acquiring the ability of public expression. Others delivering short talks were Dr. W. T. Laprade, Prof. H. E. Spence, G. D. Harmon, and E. M. Spivey. The gist of Dr. Laprade's talk was: have something to say; say it; and sit down. Prof. Spence in his inimitable manner called attention to himself as an example of what a debating society could produce out of very green freshman material.

PRELIMINARIES FOR ANNUAL RELAY RACE OCT. ELEVENTH

The preliminaries for the Annual Relay Race will be held this year on October the eleventh. This is a great event in the catalogue of athletics at this institution and it is desired that as many contestants as possible come out for these preliminaries. The final race, the date for which has not been set, is a ten mile run and each class in college is represented by ten men who run a mile each. The race this year will be held some time about the last of October. Watch the Chronicle for announcements which will come later.

SENIOR OFFICERS CHOSEN AT SATURDAY CONFERENCE

Henry Cole Elected President. Junior and Sophomore Classes Hold Elections Saturday

At a meeting of the senior class, held Saturday afternoon in the West Duke Building officers for the year were elected. The class was met by Dr. Glasson, who offered helpful advice to the graduating class. The meeting was then turned over to the class president and the annual election of officers was held without loss of time.

Henry P. Cole, Raleigh, N. C. was elected President. Claude Grigg, Laundale, N. C. was elected vice-president. Martha Wiggins, Denmark, S. C. was elected secretary, and Sam Holton, Durham, N. C. was elected to serve as treasurer. C. F. Carroll, Rocky Mount, N. C. was elected as representative on the athletic council.

At the first regular meeting of the Junior class, Saturday, Dr. W. I. Cranford made a short, helpful talk after which he turned the meeting over to a temporary chairman for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Miss Blanche Barringer was elected temporary chairman, and she immediately proceeded with the business of the meeting.

A great deal of interest was taken in the election of class officers for the year 1920-21. Several members were nominated for each office, and those elected are as follows: H. J. Herring, Burgan, N. C. president; W. J. Bundy, Farm-

PROFESSOR JAMES CANNON III TO WED MISS MARGARET FAW

The announcement of the engagement of Professor James Cannon, III, of the Biblical Department, will be of interest to the college community. The announcement, copied from the Nashville, Tenn. Banner follows:

"Jude and Mrs. Walter W. Faw, of Franklin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to James Cannon, III, of Durham, N. C. The wedding will be solemnized the early part of November.

The friends of Margie White, ex-'22, will regret to hear of the death of her father. Dr. White had been in bad health for some time.

R. K. Smathers is on the campus for a few days this week.

SPLENDID PROGRAM PLANNED TO MAKE ANNUAL HOLIDAY
BIG EVENT

G. CAMPBELL MORGAN TO SPEAK

Meeting of Board of Trustees to Be Held for Transaction of Many Important Business Matters at 11:30

Benefactor's Day will be celebrated on Monday Oct. 4. The regular time for this holiday is Oct. 3, but since the regular day is Sunday, the faculty has decided to give Monday for a holiday. An excellent program has been prepared and a large crowd of both graduates and under-graduates is expected. The most interesting part of the program is probably the beginning of a series of lectures by Reverend G. Campbell Morgan D. D. which will occur that evening.

The object of Benefactor's Day is to encourage and cultivate the spirit of Benevolence and to give recognition to those who have made contributions to the college.

At 11:30 Monday morning the Board of Trustees will hold its regular semi-annual meeting. At 1:00 a luncheon will be served in the basement of the West Duke building, to which will be invited members of the Board of Trustees, members of the Faculty, members

W. BRYAN BOLICH WINNER OF RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Bolich is Second Trinity Man Who Has Won Rhodes Scholarship. He Will Study Law at Oxford

Out of fifteen contestants in this state, W. B. Bolich, an alumnus of Trinity College of the class of 1917, was given the Rhodes Scholarship in North Carolina for the year 1921. The scholarship was awarded at the same time, was given to C. P. Spruill of the University of North Carolina. The last year that the scholarships were given, 1917, (they were suspended during the war) Charles Bagley, '17, also an alumnus of Trinity, was one of the two winners in this state. He entered Oxford in 1917 and is still pursuing his studies there. Out of the four Rhodes scholars selected in North Carolina, two have come from Trinity.

Mr. Bolich, this years winner from Trinity, came here from Wofford College and entered the junior class. During his stay here he majored in English and minored in Economics. He was a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity and the 1919.

After graduation, he taught and coached the teams for Trinity Park School. When school closed in the spring of 1918, Bolich enlisted in the U. S. Navy and while there rose from a Seaman to Chief Petty officer and was later commissioned as an Ensign. He was sent to the Officer-Material School at Hampton Roads Va. and graduated there an honor man finishing fourth in his class.

EXCELLENT PROSPECTS FOR GOOD VARSITY TENNIS TEAM

When we anticipate the best tennis team this year that Trinity has had in late years, it is not the same old dope that is spread every year about the "best ever." We have figures to show for themselves: Shinn, Cornwell, Hackney, and Whitner, all last year's varsity men are back. Hathaway, who also made varsity is here, although last year he took no part in the games. Powell, varsity man for three years, is also in the law school, and his present plan is to show somebody a big time for one of the four places.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM MARKS START OF STUDENT PEP

New Athletic Plans Outlined for Year By Mr. Barnard. Other Speeches Were Made

The first mass meeting of the student body for this college year was held in Craven Memorial Hall in the form of an initial pep meeting on Monday night. Essentially it was a meeting to arouse enthusiasm in the approaching football season, although all forms of athletics received their share of support from the speakers. Gyp Loftin held the place of honor as chairman of the meeting, and as an old-timer in the game put on a program that got results. Pep was there, and in quantities sufficient to cause all the freshmen to know that such a thing exists on the campus beyond the ranks of the more diligent sophomores with the warm welcome they accord to the green arrivals.

As the first speaker on the program, Mr. Barnard, who this year holds the position of alumni secretary and graduate manager of athletics, outlined the extensive plans he had put into existence to place athletics on a substantial basis for the first time. He stated that although he had worked so far practically without funds, that he had confidence enough in the backing of his program by the student body to go ahead with his plans, with the hope that no part of his program for the year would have to be curtailed through lack of funds. He outlined the sources of income now open to the athletic

STUDENT LIFE COMMITTEE TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

A Faculty committee composed of Professors Wannamaker, Spence Cannon and Flowers has been appointed to co-operate with a committee if students, composed of two representatives from each class, to form a Student Life Committee.

The object in view is to create a committee representative of the college community to consider questions that affect the life of every member. This joint committee is intended in no sense of the word to be one which has anything to do with discipline. Its function is to find out by a full, free and frank discussion just what can be done to add to the usefulness and attractiveness of college life.

The four undergraduates classes are requested to elect at their

The gala event of the new school year was that which occurred last Wednesday evening on the second floor of the East Duke Building when the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. jointly held their annual reception in honor of the incoming students of Trinity College. The spacious halls were filled, the entire college community having been present to welcome the class of 1924.

Professor H. E. Spence, with his abundant and never failing supply of humor acted as toastmaster, and introduced to the students and visitors Dr. Wannamaker, Dean of the college, who welcomed the new students on behalf of the administration. Dr. Wannamaker briefly reminded the new men of what it means to be a college man in the world of today and urged that each student exert himself toward the attainment of worth while aims. "It is a tragedy for youth to shun the possibilities it has, and I invite you to appreciate that which you have and make the utmost of the possibilities before you," said Dr. Wannamaker.

Miss Lota Leigh Draughan, president of the Y. W. C. A., was then introduced, and she fittingly offered the new women students a welcome to the college. Miss Draughan said "the Y. W. C. A. is here to help you begin right. We want you to let us help you, for after all a good beginning is the best guarantee of success."

R. A. Parham, president of the Y. M. C. A. outlined the work of that organization for the new year. "This is the one student organization of which every man is a member. We stand for progress and development. Your interest is needed, your support expected," concluded Mr. Parham.

Representatives of the various branches of athletic activities were then introduced. "Sammy" Carson, speaking for baseball was sanguine in his view of the prospects for a successful 1921 season. R. S. White, manager of football, then urged the interest and support of the students for the football team. He was followed by L. B. Hathaway, a member of the 1920 championship basketball team who spoke in interest of that sport. J. D. Lewis, representing tennis, H. P. Cole, speaking for track, C. H. Moser, editor of the Chronicle, J. S. Peterson editor of the Archivist, J. H. Shinn, editor of the Chanticleer, J. W. Hatecock, president of the Columbian Literary Society, H. E. Fisher, of Hesperia, Miss Ora Holton, of the Athena Literary Society, and R. K. Farrington, of the Musical organization. All made short speeches.

The next speaker was Coach

Pep, Pep, Pep. More pep on the park than Wrigley has Spearmint gum. You've got it now, confound it, keep it.

Wanted: More freshmen to report for football practice each afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Pity the Y. M. C. A. is not as popular resort on every Wednesday night as it was last Wednesday night.

Aw, cheer up, there's one consolation—these song birds you hear on the park every night until twelve o'clock are not representative men on the glee club.

If there had been any "movie joints," college stores, and "weenie stands" in Shakespeare's time, we doubt very seriously if the great poet would have said: "Neither a borrower nor a lender be."

In the mass meeting Monday night, subscription cards were circulated among the students for the purpose of getting the men to offer voluntary subscriptions to athletics. It is gratifying to know that the total amount subscribed up to date is $1,316.50. Congratulations!

The Chronicle wishes to call special attention to all students and especially to the new students the meaning of Benefactor's Day, which will be observed Monday, October 4th. The object of Benefactor's Day is to encourage and promote the spirit of benevolence and to give the proper recognition to those friends of the college who have made contributions to the college. This has been the object of Benefactor's Day in the past and is today; yet there are other phases of this—the one college day of the year, which adds much to the significance of the occasion. As the years pass another element is being instituted into this annual observance. This new element is the reunion and meeting of alumni and old friends of the college. Old Trinity men meet and mingle together on the campus as they did back in the days when they were in college here. They discuss privately and openly the various needs of the college and inaugurate ate plans by which these needs may be supplied. It is a time for the evincing of a strong college spirit, a spirit of keen interest, and a spirit of cooperation.

All classes will be suspended for these exercises next Monday. In other words there will be a holiday. Every student will be given a chance to attend these exercises unmolested. We should all get behind it. The active interest of the students in college at the present time mean more to the advancement and success of this event than any other one factor. Attend these meetings; it is your duty to do so. If you haven't any interest in the college, manufacture some or get out. In later years when we return to Trinity, we will expect to find conditions here as the alumni wish to find them when they return today; so let's give the programs, which will be held Monday, our most enthusiastic interest and support.

STUDENT LIFE

The Chronicle reserves this amount of space for the purpose of heartily endorsing the recent movement suggested by members of the faculty for the purpose of organizing a Student Life Committee here on the campus. It is sincerely hoped that this movement will materialize into what has been a need of long standing here—the cooperation of the faculty and students for the betterment and improvement of conditions about the college community. The object is to create a committee to consider questions that affect the life if every student of the college. After the committee has been organized the primary purpose is to gain by a full, free and frank discussion a knowledge of just what can be done to add to the usefulness and attractiveness of college life. These discussions will be held between a committee appointed from the faculty and a committee appointed from the students, and in no sense of the word is there to be attached anything in the form of discipline, neither will it have any connection with the official side of the college.

In the past there have, no doubt, been complaints and grievances raised on the part of students in regard to the ways in which certain functions have been conducted about the college, and these criticisms have doubtless reached the ears of those in charge. Now, an effort is being made to make right anything which has gone wrong in the past, to clear up things which have been puzzling the students, and make plans which will add to the convenience and satisfaction of the students in general. The College wishes to know the wants of the students and offer a plan by which there can be arranged permanent "get together" meetings for the purpose of discussing remedies for the various situations.

This plan suggested for the young men of the College is entirely new, and it is hoped that when the classes meet for their regular group meetings Saturday, men will be selected to serve on the committee who are enthusiastic and will take interest in this work. The work of this committee will be a most helpful and effective agency in the life of the College community.

A. J. Hobbs, Jr. '19 spent a few hours on the Park last Friday. He expects to join the North Carolina Conference this fall.

FOOTBALL SQUAD RAPIDLY GETTING INTO CONDITION

Team Getting Into Form for First Intercollegiate Battle. Contestants for Team Announced

Football practice is going on every day rain or shine. The coach is working hard to get his men into shape for the game with Guilford which will be played here on October 16. About fifty men are out for the team, and Coach Egan says that he is going to use the entire number for the squad this year. In regard to the practice so far he says:

"I am very well pleased with the interest manifested in football so far. The only unsatisfactory feature of the practice is the comparatively small number of freshmen who have come out for the team. Unless more first year men come out, the chances for having a strong aggregation in the future are small."

The men are being put through a grilling practice in passing, kicking, running signals and scrimmaging. To carry on this work the squad has been divided into four parts, each of which does its signal work independent of the other.

The following men have come out for practice so far: Armstrong, Almond, Brooks, Barrett, Bolich, Crawford, Derrickson, Farmer, Hatcher, Hall, Jones, Kirkman, Leach, Moore, L. D., Moore McNeely, MacWhorter, Nicholson, Pennington, Rose, L. L., Rose, J. E., Smith, Sneed, Stamen, Spivey, Sawyer, Taylor, Tyson, Woltz, White, Worsley, Crute Carson, McGranahan, McNair, Pickett, Holt, Neal, Hnekebe, Midgett, Mabry, Ledford, Jackson, Ashby, Hippius, Stanford, Giles and Bukner.

Of this number of men only about ten are from the freshmen class. The coach and everyone interested in the college wants and expects the first year men to get behind the team and come out and do their best to make a place. Suits will be provided for every man who will come out.

Of the men given above the following are showing up best so far in their respective positions: backfield—Barrett, Hall, Tyson, McGranahan, Crute and McNair; ends—Neal, Rose, L. L., Moore and Armstrong; linemen, Derrickson, Leach, Rose, J. E., Jones, McNeilly, Hatcher, Spivey, Midgett and Worsley. The following men show up well in kicking the ball: McGranahan, Crute, Jackson and Crawford.

The team is rapidly getting into shape and Trinity bids fair to show Guilford an excellent brand of football even though it is her first intercollegiate battle on the gridiron for over twenty-six years.

STAFF RACE ON

The race for position on the editorial staff of the Chronicle is now on. The contestants both for positions as associate editors and the reportorial staff have been required to hand in competitive news stories for this issue. This plan will continue through the next two issues after which time the winners of the various places will be announced.

From the sophomore class the following have entered the race for places on the reportorial staff: Carroll Summers, Henry Belk, John Bridges, W. H. Lander, H. C. Sprinkle, W. W. Turcutt, E. P. Gibson, and Mike Bradshaw.

S. A. Delap has returned to take up work in the Law Department.

MUSICAL CLUB ORGANIZED HERE FOR COMING YEAR

President and Business Manager Were Elected at Recent Meeting of Club. Outlook Bright

The prospects of organizing a creditable musical club for the present year appears to be exceedingly favorable.

Apparently the student body affords many good men who will add to the improvement of the College Orchestra and will aid in the development of a College Band.

The college is indeed fortunate in having this year two members of the faculty who will be very valuable to the Band and Orchestra; these professors being Mr. Blomquist and Mr. Patterson. It is interesting to know that Professor Blomquist is a former Band leader and has consented to take part in the college's musical activities.

It is known that the Glee Club, Orchestra, and Mandolin Club worked under great difficulty during last year. Lack of organization and an entirely new body of untrained men who had to be trained during a very short period were some of the conditions with which the Clubs had to work last year. Owing to this condition only one trip to a sister college was made last year, the remainder of trips being made to non-college towns. But despite these difficulties, the appearances made by the Clubs were appreciated and enjoyed to the fullest extent.

In order to avoid the repetition of such mistakes as were made last year, a new plan managing the musical affairs of the college has been adopted by the members of the Musical Club.

The new plan was discussed in the Musical Club's last meeting which was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall last Friday night. The plan was presented by Mr. Turrentine and Mr. Draper, both of whom discovered its practice at the foremost colleges of the United States. A brief Summary of the plan and the officers elected is given below:

To have a Musical Club in charge of all musical affairs of the college. This club is to be given a specific name and is supposed to contain the following officers, some of which have been elected while the vacant offices will be filled by additional elections at a later meeting of the Musical Club: (1) President: L. M. Draper; (2) Business Manager: W. W. Turrentine; (3) Secretary and Assistant Business Manager: R. W. Giles; (4) Directing Managers: a. Band Professor Blomquist; b. Glee Club; (vacant); c. Orchestra; (vacant); Mandolin Club; (vacant) (5) Advisory Board: (To be chosen by and from the faculty)

The President is to act as head of the Club and he is also supposed to assist the Directing Manager and to call the meetings of the Club. The Advisory Board is to consider and to pass or refuse the various matters concerning the Club itself.

Former Glee Club Director Howerton made a talk to the Club and promised his help toward organizing a creditable Musical Club for the present year. Mr. Howerton has just returned from New York where he has been studying music for the past three months. It is understood that he will be elected Directing Manager of this year's Glee Club.

of the Alumni Council as well as all visiting and local alumni.

At 2:30 in the afternoon a joint meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall in the East Duke building. This meeting will be presided over by Mr. Joseph G. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Dr. William H. Glasson, of the department of Political Economy and Social Science, will speak on "The Needs of the College as Developed by its Growth and by Changed Economic Conditions." Mr. B. W. Barnard, Alumni Secretary, will speak on "What the Alumnae Secretary Has Done and Proposed to Do." After an open forum, at which will be discussed many questions of interest to the college, President Few will speak on "Plans for the Future." Mr. C. C. Camden, of Nashville, Tenn., Alumni Director of the Educational Campaign of the M. E. Church, South, will speak on "What the Alumni can Do."

It is expected that there will be a large attendance of the alumni and that the meeting of this year will be of especial interest. The exercises of Benefactor's Day will be memorable this year because of the fact the series of lectures by Reverend G. Campbell Morgan, D. D. will begin Monday evening. These lectures will be given in the Craven Memorial Hall and the general public is invited.

After the lecture of Dr. Morgan, President Few will make some announcement about the significance of Benefactor's Day, and a portrait of the late George W. Ivey, of Charlotte, will be formally presented to the college. The speech of presentation will be delivered by Reverend M. T. Plyler, of the class of '92, presiding elder of the Durham District.

group meetings next Saturday two young men from each class to membership on this committee. Since the young women of the college have organizations which deal with questions that affect them, it is suggested that young men alone be selected and whenever it seems advisable, representatives of the young men may meet in joint session with the committee.

It is hoped that the work of this committee will be a most helpful and effective agency in the life of the College community.

association. The college store, in the basement of the West Duke building, while expecting to make much money, will be unable to supply the necessary funds due to the fact that a large amount was expended on improvements this summer, and this money must be replaced out of the profits of the store. The alumni have been very generous in their donations, but the expense added by the acquisition of new coaches, by the purchase of new equipment, and by repairs to the athletic grounds has greatly increased the necessary budget for athletics. Mr. Barnard urged the student body to lend its financial support to the athletic undertaking planned.

The next speaker, Coach Egan, again made a plea for more freshmen to try for the football squad. He also urged the men who are not trying for the squad to lend their best backing to those who are.

Other speakers were: Professor Cannon, Dean Wannamaker, Professor Flowers, Mr. Umstead, and Mr. G. E. Powell. All of these speakers made interesting talks. Mr. Umstead asked for voluntary contributions to relieve the situation. Cards were passed around and a good subscription was taken.

At the close of the meeting, cheer leaders for the year were elected, Roy, Giles, and old timer of three years ago and Weinstein Hatchcock being chosen.
