PLANS OF CHANTICLEER OUTLINED BY EDITOR

EDITOR AND BUSINESS MANAGER
SELECT ASSISTANTS FOR
1921 CHANTICLEER

DEDICATED TO PRES. W. P. FEW

Editor Expects to Double Amount of Space Devoted to Features in 1920 Annual. Football to Be Featured

With the organization of the staff complete, Editor-in Chief, J. H. Shinn, of Norwood, has already started work on this year's Chanticleer, aiming at a production which shall truly portray the spirit and life of Trinity.

The editorial staff as announced by the editor is as follows: Lelia Humble, of New Bern, Assistant-Editor-in Chief; R. E. Thielen, '22, of Wilmington, and Henry Belk, '23, of Monroe, Associate Editors.

In the business department of the annual, L. M. Draper, of Warrenton, is Business Manager. He has named the following men as Associates: R. K. Farrington, of Randleman; T. R. Waggoner, '22, of Walkertown, W. H. Smith, '23, of Clover, South Carolina.

As planned now by the Editor the Chanticleer will consist of four divisions. The various headings assigned to these divisions are as follows: the College, Activities, Organization, and Features. In thus planning the annual, Editor Shinn has omitted the Woman's Department found in the production of last year. He announces, however, that the women of the college community will be given ample representation under the other heads.

A feature of college life which will receive extra attention from the editorial staff will be that of athletics. There will be more pictures, and bigger and better write-ups dealing with this activity, according to announcement. Football is expected to come in for considerable space.

Extra attention will also be paid to the features which go into the work, it is said. In this connection Editor Shinn wishes to emphasize at this time the necessity for every student on the park turning in any material which he may have for this department. With the help of the student body it is hoped to double the amount of space devoted to features in the last annual.

Members of the faculty and students generally are evincing a keen interest and willingness to help with the work. Dr. W. H. Wannamaker, Prof. C. L. Hornady, Prof. B. W. Barnard, and Coach Egan have invited Mr. Shinn to call upon them for any assistance which they may be able to render. Among the students the following have tendered their services: T. W. Crawford, '22, R. D. Ware, '22, and Messrs. Spencer, Sheetz, Ard, Sherrill, and others from the freshman class.

Feeling the debt which Trinity owes to Dr. W. P. Few, it has been decided that the annual shall be dedicated to him.

ORGANIZATION OF COLLEGE BAND WELL UNDER WAY

Several Men Have Announced Themselves as Candidates for Musical Organization

The College Band has had several practices in the past two weeks and it is certain that everyone will enjoy the results of the member's hard work at the first football game of the season which is to be played next Saturday.

Professor Blomquist, the Band Director, has received through the Business Manager, W. W. Turrentine, the band book which contains many good, snappy college marches. It is thought that a real good band will be organized this year.

It may be said that within a very short time a still better band will be organized as there is much more material with which to work. Professor Blomquist urges that every man who can play any instrument or who wishes to learn to play a particular instrument, to come and see him about the matter at once as an order for instruments is expected to be sent off at a very early date.

DR. GROSS LECTURES TO CHEMISTRY CLUB FRIDAY

Dr. Gross lectured to the William Howell Program Chemistry Club on Friday night. His subject was "Chemistry as a Profession." He spoke of the possibilities of the South and of the Chimefield region. He stressed opportunities which chemistry offered to a young man who pursues it as a life's work.

The new members who were initiated were: Miss Lota Lee Draughan, and Messrs. Robert Hartfield, Rufus Saunders, Murray, Holt McCracken, C. P. Ashley, W. A. Ellison, L. J. Broadwell Jr., L. B. Falls, M. T. Shelton, J. K. Vise, P. S. Williams, and J. D. Pegrum. Abe Rosentien, President of the Chemistry Club, made a short talk in which he brought out the aim and purpose of the club to the initiates.

MINISTERIAL BAND HEARS DR. LAPRADE FRIDAY NIGHT

At a well attended meeting of the Ministerial Band held on Friday evening, Dr. W. T. Laprade spoke on "The Fourfold Functions of the Ministry."

Dr. Laprade first called attention to the duties of the minister as priest, and pointed out the responsibility that rests on the man who officiates against a false attitude toward these high offices, and advised them to avoid both cynicism and professionalism in res-

BRAX. JONES ELECTED CAPTAIN

Football Squad to Meet Guilford in First Intercollegiate Contest
Since 1894. Trinity Confident of Victory

Next Saturday when the whistle blows at the end of the first football game played against another college on the local grounds for twenty-five years, it is the confident hope that Guilford will have been defeated decisively by Trinity's football team. Since the beginning of the college year Coach Egan has been working faithfully in an effort to put out a team that would be strong enough to be a fair representative of the institution and one that would serve to put football on a firm basis for years to come. His early efforts met with success, an initial squad of approximately fifty men was uniformed and put on the field. Enthusiasm ran high, and although the men who came out for practice were extremely green and inexperienced in the playing of scientific football, much improvement was noticed in the squad within a few days.

Now after a month of practice and three days before the first game, the outlook is bright for a successful season. The work has been hard, and the men who have been practicing regularly deserve all the praise that can be bestowed on them. The squad has diminished until now only thirty-five who have stuck have been coached on offense and defense until they are now rounding into shape as a well running squad.

Coach Egan is not yet able to state the names of the men he intends to use in the game Saturday. From the beginning the Coach has Joint Banquet Held with Eko-L.

The semi-annual initiations of the Eko-L, the women's scholarship organization of Trinity, and the 9019, the local men's scholarship and patriotic society, were held on Thursday and Friday of last week. The two organizations, while not operating jointly, are corresponding societies of the women and men of the college respectively. The 9019 was organized in 1890, and for twenty years has held its place as the only organization of its kind on the campus. At the installation of the Phi Beta Kappa last year, it was thought that the 9019 would be overshadowed by the national organization, but such is not the case. The organization is now as strong as in former years. The annual high school oratorical contest conducted by the 9019 is the chief public work performed by the society.

The Eko-L is a younger organization, but has practically the

According to the time honored custom of the Society, Dr. W. K. Boyd was elected President. The other officers of the Society are: Vice-president, L. W. Barnhardt; Secretary, Miss Coma Cole; and Treasurer, C. H. Moser.

Dr. Boyd told the Society that Mr. W. S. Lee is giving $150 annually to be spent in buying books on Southern history. The collection is to be known as the W. S. Lee Memorial Library.

The program committee of the year is composed of the following members: Dr. Laprade, Dr. Adams, Miss Penny, Miss Cole and Mr. Grigg.

BIOLOGICAL CLUB HEARS DR. CUNNINGHAM LECTURE

The Biological Club meeting which was held on Monday October 11, 1920 proved to be a success, both in attendance and in subject matter. The club was favored by a lecture on "Turtles" by Dr. Cunningham.

After the usual business part of the meeting was completed, a specific talk on the natural history of the turtle was given. The subject was also presented because of the fact that Dr. Cunningham has been doing work on turtles for the last two years. Some interesting facts concerning the habits of this animal were brought out in the lecture. After a thorough discussion of the talk the club accepted the following men into the organization: Wilkerson, N. F., Hathaway, L. B., Davis R. L., Hartsfield, and Braudwell.

SOPHOMORE CLASS ADOPTS SET OF RESOLUTIONS

At a called meeting held in Craven Memorial Hall on Tuesday, October fifth, the Sophomore Class passed the following resolutions in regard to the practice of hazing.

1. That we, the Sophomore Class, go on record as opposed to hazing.
2. That we will not promote or encourage hazing while at Trinity College.

In passing these resolutions, the Class of '23 has taken a step in advance of any preceding class in dealing with this problem.

TRINITY TAKES TENNIS MATCH FROM CAROLINA

METHODISTS WIN THREE OUT OF FIVE MATCHES IN FIRST MEET HELD

SECOND CONTEST TO BE FRIDAY

Entire Number of Matches Were Well
Played by Both Teams. Second
Contest Will be Played
Here

The Trinity tennis team defeated the Carolina tennis team by winning three out of five matches completed in the first meet of the season which was played at Carolina last Saturday. The matches were as follows: Whitener, Trinity, beat Williams, Carolina, 6-1, 5-7, 6-0, Cornwell, Trinity, beat Bardin, Carolina, 4-6, 6-1, 8-6, Shinn, Trinity, beat Jernigan, Carolina, 4-6, 6-3, 10-8, Gardner, Carolina, beat Hackney, Trinity, 3-6, 6-1, 8-6, and Gardner and Jernigan, Carolina, beat Cornwell and Hathaway, Trinity, 6-2, 6-2.

The entire number of matches were very well played by both sides, and the games proved to be intensely interesting to all observers.

The first match taking place at the meet between Whitener and Williams, (Williams, Carolina's first man) was very close indeed, the outcome of which could not be ascertained until the last man had finished playing. Whitner's swift serve and his general game of accuracy were too much for Williams, who it seemed, took on quite a spurt and came back strong in the second set, however, losing the first and last ones and winning only one game out of both. It seemed that Williams' somewhat erratic serve bothered Whitner to an extent, but never did it appear as though either man outclassed the other to any great degree.

Cornwell and Bardin, (Bardin, Carolina's third man) played a very interesting match. The most effectiveness about Cornwell's game was his accurate smashing and placement of Bardin's numerous lobs.

Gardner and Hackney, (Gardner, Carolina's fourth man) played a similar game. Neither man played any vicious strokes. Their serves were very much alike and both played a back-court game. The only advantage that probably caused the end to come as it did was due to the fact that Gardner would venture up to the net at times and end certain long plays, while Hackney played altogether back-court game. Hackney had his man within one point of winning the match more than once, but could not manage to capture the precious, necessary concluding point.

Shinn and Jernigan, (Carolina's second man) were last to finish in the singles. Shinn seemed to be going in his ordinary manner, and overcame the main obstacle of the opposition by using effectively his swift, reverse serve and placing his incessant lawfers. This concluded the single matches, and although Trinity won the battle, it was evident that the Carolina men were superior in steadiness and in lobbing.

EDITORIAL

And the college band is beginning to function.

Be on hand at the pep meeting Friday night, and don't forget to bring your pep along with you.

A pep meeting Friday night, immediately followed by a snake dance down town, and then at the Quakers Saturday. What dye say?

The stick with the crooked end and the class of '21 appear to have formed a very close and binding alliance. Why not let "John B." in on this?

In the football game Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock between Trinity and Guilford on the Hanes Athletic Field will be marked an important event in the history of athletics at this institution. For the first time since 1894, the Trinity eleven will meet opponents near intercollegiate football contest, and for the first time in twenty-six years will Trinity win or lose an intercollegiate football battle. Whether we win or lose will not detract from the significance of the event. At this time all the old Trinity Veterans of the gridiron, should they all be present, will be given a chance once more to see action that will cause them to bring up reminiscences of past years when they won the Southern Championship Title, and how after defeating the University of Virginia they took Richmond by storm. All these things are in the past; yet they will add to the historical significance of the occasion.

Although this is the first contest to be played since 1894, no one doubts that the victory will be ours. The Trinity eleven will go into the contest to win. They will do their part; the band will do its part; the alumni will do their part; and the student body and loyal Trinity supporters from the outside will do their part; so if we lose it will be due solely to the fact that Guilford fought as they have never before fought in any gridiron contest.

THE BAND

And the College Band will soon make its first public appearance. The initial appearance of this musical organization at the football game Saturday will, no doubt, add much enthusiasm and pep to the occasion and will be greatly welcomed by the whole student body.

In the past there has always been a tendency for such organization to begin the year with a sweep and flourish and then to tire of practice and become a dead activity in a short time. This year the band from the very beginning of the organization seems to have pursued a different policy. It began the year in as quite a manner as it is possible for a band to begin, is working steadily, making no boasts, and will not make so bad an appearance Saturday as some might think. It is hoped that it will avoid the old rut of laxity and disinterestedness that has proved the downfall of similar organizations on the campus.

It is hoped that the presence and the music of the band may result in the rejuvenation of life, pep, and college spirit. All of these essentials have at times in the past been sadly wanting in the student body, and any force, instrument, or condition that will work for their removal or restoral should be welcomed with open arms by every loyal Trinity supporter. Even though the band may not make so good an appearance Saturday as you may expect it is to be remembered that it is its first public appearance this year. As a possible savior of college spirit, therefore, the band should have the hearty cooperation and support of every man and woman on the campus.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

Somebody, somewhere, and at sometime has said all there is to say on the subject of college spirit, but the Chronicle wishes at this time to reiterate and emphasize a few of the things which have been said on the subject.

College spirit has often been defined, and strange to say the differences in the definitions are almost as great as their number. It is college spirit which causes a student to yell himself hoarse in support of his football, basketball, or baseball team. It is college spirit which prompts a student to represent his college in intercollegiate debates. It is college spirit which prompts a student to go down into his pocket and give financial support to the various college activities. It is college spirit largely which causes a student to make himself a candidate for a place on one of the college teams and to offer his services for publications. It is college spirit which causes a wealthy alumnus to give money for the improvement of his college.

College spirit, however, cannot be crowded into so small a space as this. College spirit is more than all the above mentioned things. It is true that they go to make up college spirit, and it is also true that a student who honestly and faithfully performs the tasks assigned him daily just as truly has college spirit as the student who yells himself blue in the face at a football, basketball, baseball or tennis contest. A graduate who goes out into the world with the indomitable determination to make the best of every opportunity which presents itself and to live some of the things which he has been taught is just as loyal to his college as the wealthy alumnus who swells the endowment fund. The graduate who does this is making a reputation for his college.

Trinity men have always recognized this wider interpretation of college spirit to an unusually great degree and have in most cases been actuated by it. It is hoped that this idea may gain even greater ground in the future and there is no reason why it should not.

NOTICE!!

No student will be admitted to football games without ticket from treasurer that he has paid his athletic fee.

By action of the Executive of the Board of Trustees the fee is to be collected this year from the women and law students.

First payment on the Emergency Athletic Fund pledge is now due. Please call at my office during this week and make payment.

At the same time I wish to express my appreciation to the student body for the loyal manner in which they have responded to this request for financial support of the athletic program ing and also in making less number of errors.

TRINITY TAKES TENNIS MATCH FROM CAROLINA

The doubles were commenced directly after the singles, and the first to finish was Cornwell and Hathway vs. Gardner and Journeyman. It seemed that the Trinity men were unable to take the offensive in this particular match, and it is probably due to this fact and the additional fact that Hathway and Cornwell had not played together previously that they lost to the Carolina team.

The match between Whitener Shinn Vs. Williams and Barton was indeed an interesting one. This match may be termed as the only real rally in the entire meet. Whitener and Shinn had their opponents within one game of winning the match by the third set score of 5-1. The Carolina team exemplified an extra good ability in placing the hard drives received and in lobbing effectively. Shinn and Whitener played, particularly toward the last, a defensive and offensive game. Trinity was not able however, to conquer its opponents in this exciting match and the game was called on account of prevailing darkness. This gave Trinity three out of the five matches completed.

The best of feeling was manifested throughout the matches and the players of both teams expressed the desire to play another tournament at a very early date.

Attentive plans were made subject to the approval of the Athletic Council. The Council at its last meeting approved the proposition and another meet between Trinity and Carolina has been arranged for the approaching Friday at two thirty o'clock. The same number of matches will be played as was played in the last tournament.

The work of assembling material under way, the Editor hopes to get the book into the hands of the students at an earlier date than last year. All indications at present point to the realization of his hopes. The photographer is expected on the park about the middle of November to begin the work of making photographs for the production.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS ARE INITIATED INTO 9019

the same objects. This organization conducts an annual short story contest for high school girls.

The 9019 initiated five members, R. A. Parham, of Oxford, R. T. Dunstan, of Winsor, O. L. Richardson, of Monroe, T. C. Kirkman, of High Point, and S. S. Murray of Durham. The initiates of the Eko-L were nine in number, Miss Josie Foy, Scott's Hill; Miss Jessie Penny, Cary; Miss Margaret Harvey, Newtown, Pa.; Miss Irene Pitts, Enfield; Miss Irene Price, Wilmington; Miss Blanche Barringer, Norwood; Miss Elizabeth Walker, Durham; Miss Helen McCrary, Lexington, and Miss Lucille Merritt, Wilmington.

The initiation of the Eko-L was more or less a secret affair, while as usual, that of the 9019 was public, insofar as the horseplay was concerned. In accordance with the old custom, after much "Peanut butter, hit me harder" variety of preedure, the initiates invaded Alsbaugh Hall for a frolic for the benefit of the ladies present. Friday the new men appeared in the usual grab, dunce caps, red and white socks, red ties, and Pennants streaming from their backs. The ordeal through, the annual banquet, held jointly by the two organizations, took place at the Durham Cafe on Friday night.

A delightful feast was spread, and after the banquet proper speeches were made by representatives of both organizations, for the old and the new members. Eko-L members present beside those initiated were: Miss Lucille Bullard, Miss Mary Westcott, Miss Estelle Flowers, Miss Martha Wiggins, Miss Beulah Walton, Miss Maud Nicholson, and Miss Nancy Maxwell. 9019 men present in addition to the initiates were: Professor James Cannon, 3 rd., Professor Spence, Professor Barnard, R. S. Bradshaw, James Leyborn, L. S. Elkins, C. H. Benson, C. C. Cornwell, H. E. Fisher, L. B. Hathaway, S. M. Holton, and G. S. Mumford.

C. D. Douglas, '20, was on the campus visiting friends Sunday.

H. L. Caviness, '19 was on the campus last week-end.

WITH THE SOCIETIES

COLUMBIA

At the regular weekly session of the Columbian Literary Society, held last Saturday evening, five men were received into full connection, after which an interesting and instructive program was given. The orators, Hugh Lefler, speaking on Inter National Law treaties, and C. E. Buckner, speaking on "The Elements of True Success," presented helpful thoughts for the large number in attendance. After the orations a spirited debate was held on the query, Resolved: that Columbia should hold three joint meetings with the Athena Literary Society during the college year. The negative speakers, G. D. Harmon, Austin Elliott, and G. W. Ferrell were successful over their affirmative opponents, D. T. Ferrell, B. I. Satterfield, and M. F. Teeter. The house was then thrown open for general discussion and several responses were made. Following the transaction of several business matters the meeting was adjourned.

HERSPERIA

The Hesperian Literary Society held its regular meeting Saturday night, and initiated nine new men into the society. After the initiation ceremonies, the society adjourned in order that the members might attend the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus.

CO-ED NEWS

A Bible Study Class was organized Monday night with thirteen members and Mrs. Cotton as leader.

Mrs. A. M. Webb entertained the Zeta Tau Alphas at an informal tea Friday afternoon.

Mrs. E. B. McCullers of Clayton N. C. was the guest of the college from Sunday until Thursday, attending the Avera Bible lectures which were delivered by Dr. Campbell Morgan.

PARK SCHOOL NOTES

The Trinity Park School Athletic Association assembled in a call meeting last Saturday night. The object of the meeting was the collection of dues, and the arrangement for selling blanket tickets for entrance to all games on the campus this year. One hundred and fifty tickets is the anticipated sale for this year. This will put the athletics on a much more firm basis than ever before. There were about twenty-five new members admitted to the Association. With Aaron Turner, the fast short stop, as President the Association is destined to do more work this year than in any previous year in the history of the school.

The football manager has entered into negotiations with the following schools for arranging a schedule: Atlantic Christian College, Wilson High School, Raleigh High School, and the Durham High School.

The Avera Bible Lectures by Mr. Campbell Morgan were largely attended by the members of the Park School. The lectures were greatly enjoyed by the whole community.

J. H. Ruff, a member of the class of '19 and a student in the Law School last year, is now practicing law in Durham.

told his men that he has no regular team and no substitutes; every member of the squad is on his team, and he uses the men who are thought to be in best condition at the beginning of the game. No man has been definitely decided on for any position. Places on Coach Egan's team are awarded on merit alone.

Those who saw the game on last Saturday between Guilford and Lynchburg College unite in the opinion that Trinity stands a good chance to capture both games that are to be played against these two teams. If the brand of football that Trinity's team has been taught is carried out as it should there can be no doubt as to the outcome. But the team has no actual experience against another team; they have not faced the first blood of battle consequently there can be no accurate estimate of the outcome of Saturday's contest. With good support from the student body, and with the successful working of Coach Egan's series of plays, it is reasonable to suppose that the blue and white will come out on top Saturday.

At the meeting of the team to discuss matters of general importance held on last Friday night, the captain of this year's team was elected in the person of Braxton Jones, of the Trinity Law School, one of the men who is expected to play guard position on the team. Jones is a man of more or less experience as a football player. He has had as much experience as any other man on the team, and in addition did much in rounding last year's Sophomore team into shape. Jones is one of the older men on the team, and his opinions and instructions will be received by his team-mates with more appreciation than they would did they come from a man of lower collegiate standing. He is doing all in his power to round out a well-working, smooth-running team by the time the coming contest takes place.

Practice was held for the first time on the Hanes field gridiron on Monday afternoon. Hitherto the old athletic field has been used, but as the games are to be played on the new field, the transfer was made so the team would become accustomed to the ground. The field is in good shape, and the managers and assistance deserve credit for their work. The field lies at the lower end of the field, across the baseball diamond. A fence is at present being constructed around the gridiron, and additional bleachers and band stand will probably be added. The field is in fine shape for a contest, and those who attend the game Saturday may come assured of seeing a contest well worth while.

MINISTERIAL BAND HEARS DR. LAPRADE FRIDAY NIGHT

pet to these peculiar duties.

The next requirement of the ministry, which Dr. Laprade discussed, is that of leadership, the work of organizing and directing other men in the work of the Kingdom. In this connection, he pointed out the need for tact and wisdom and at the same time denounced the ecclesiastical politician.

The third function of the minister, as outlined in the discussion, is that of the prophet. The speaker emphasized the need for more men free from fanaticism, but gifted with a prophetic vision and a boldness in speaking the truth.

In speaking of what he considered the most important duty of the minister, Dr. Laprade reminded his hearers that Jesus was greatest and best known as a teacher. "The greatest good that can be done for humanity," he declared, "is to get people in a frame of mind to learn things."

Dr. Laprade expressed very forcibly the necessity of the teacher's confidence in his message. "If your religion won't stand investigation," he said, "don't preach it to anyone else. Most of us need religion that will stand the test. He closed the address with an appeal for more manhood and strength of character in the ministry and among those who are training themselves for that work.
