WHITE STAR FOR THE GUILFORD TEAM

Quakers Were Unable to Score Until Third Quarter. Hall Made Last Touchdown for Trinity. Offensive Playing Good

The impossible was accomplished, and Trinity emerged from her first inter-collegiate football contest since 1894, victorious. Not that it was really an impossibility, but the fact that victory was so improbable had been so impressed on the players and the student body in general by outsiders that the victory came as an altogether agreeable surprise to the crowd attending the game. Trinity was nervous at the start; that was expected. For many of the players the contest was the first in which they had ever engaged, and although they had the fundamentals of the game as taught them by Coach Egan well in mind, never before had they had the opportunity to put their teaching into execution against a real team. Of course everything had been gone over time after time in practice, but it is a long step from playing against members of one's own squad who are acquainted with the signals and another college team whose power is unknown.

Guilford has a good team; of that there is no doubt. They lack the fine coaching that would make a really scientific football aggregation, but what they lack in the scientific game is overcome by their strength and unsteady luck in stopping difficult plays. Very few times did they make clean tackles from a running dive, but their tackling was effective nevertheless. They suffered hard luck in their passing, only getting across one pass successfully. However, only once did a Trinity man manage to intercept the ball for a gain. The prettiest pass Guilford made was caught just over the side line; consequently it was a loss rather than a gain. Guilford did well on line plunges, thanks to the weight of their line men. Their kicks were bad, none of their kickers having power to boot the pig-skin over thirty yards at the most. They played a good offensive game though, and their defence on line bucks was difficult to break down. Their playing was generally good, and it would be unfair to say that they were outclassed by the Trinity team at all stages of the game, for they were not. They were weak in spots and fumbled the ball more frequently than Trinity, but they were quick to recover from losses and never gave up in any of their

STUDENTS ARE RECIPIENT OF MASCOT

Many Speeches Made by Students and Coach Egan Expressed Views on Prospects for Victory Over Guilford

In Craven Memorial Hall Friday night, the old "pep" ran riot, the college band made its initial appearance, and "Bill" the Indian Game rooster adopted as mascot, became acquainted with the students.

Under the direction of Professor Bloomquist, the college band gathered at the entrance and sounded the first notes heralding the event which was to preface the defeat of Guilford. The band continued the good work throughout the meeting, rendering several selection. It was the consensus of opinion that the musicians did excellent work, considering the amount of practice they have had.

Cheer leader, Roy Giles, presented G. E. Powell, '19, who on behalf of Manager White of the football squad, presented "Bill" as the future mascot of Trinity's teams. In appropriate words which were not lost on those present, Mr. Powell reviewed the history of the mascots past and present, pointing out that it was peculiarly fitting that Trinity should have a noted bird for its gameness and cunning as mascot. The bird, he declared, was the true embodiment of the Fighting Trinity spirit.

Dick Bundy, on behalf of the college community, accepted the bird, indulging in flights of rhetoric and high sounding phrases.

All the while "Bill" blinked his eyes in apparent astonishment at the bright lights and the pandemonium.

EMORY AND HENRY HERE

COACH EGAN GETTING HIS MEN INTO SHAPE FOR EMORY AND HENRY GAME

GAME PLAYED HERE SATURDAY

Strength of Emory Team Unknown But It Is Expected That Game Will Be Hard Fought

DEFEATED CARSON-NEWMAN 49 TO 0

Team to Go to Raleigh Thursday for Purpose of Watching Carolina and State College Battle in First Contest

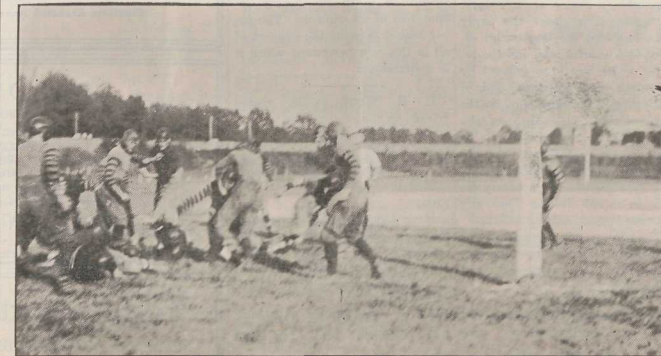

Trinity bucks up against one of her hardest opponents of the current football season Saturday afternoon when she meets Emory and Henry on Hanes Field for the second game of the season. Emory and Henry was not considered to have an extra good team at the beginning of the season, but by their 49-0 victory over Carson-Newman last Saturday they have proven themselves to be a foe worth serious consideration. Although the strength of the Carson-Newman team and consequently the strength of the Emory and Henry team is unknown, from the score piled up last Saturday it is evident that they have an effective scoring machine. As was seen last Saturday, Trinity's team is weak on defense, although much improvement will be noticed in for Saturday's game.

Practice this week has been in the form of hard, fast scrimmages, defensive work being gone through thoroughly by Coach Egan. The weak points in last Saturday's game have been carefully studied by the coach and work is being done to remedy them rapidly. Although the men who composed the team last Saturday did good work, it is very probable that there will be some changes in the line-up by next Saturday. Just where the changes will be made has not been announced by the coach, but the defense, probably in the line, will be the most effected part of the team. Coach Egan is putting men in on present merit only, and the mere fact that a man took place in the last game by no means guarantees him a place on the line-up for Saturday's game.

No practice will be held Thursday, as the coach is anxious for every man on the squad to attend the game on that day in Raleigh between State College and Carolina. Each man has been instructed to watch the contest closely, paying particular attention to the playing of the men whose positions they are trying for on Trinity's squad. Light practice will be held Friday in anticipation of a hard contest Saturday.

The college was very fortunate in having no man in any way injured in the contest with Guilford, so that the squad has not been weakened. Minor scratches and bruises of no consequence were the Guilford down and four more to wallop.

Congratulations to Coach Egan and the football aggregation.

And the unexpected happened. About a dozen freshmen just naturally voluntarily jumped into the pool last Wednesday night. What next?

THE GUILFORD GAME

Since college opened this fall and the football schedule announced, there has been shown an intense anxiety on the part of the students of the College in regard to the approaching football season. Students and alumni have been anxiously waiting and wondering just what the outcome of the first game would be. And it was not until the first kick off was made Saturday and the Trinity eleven had locked arms with their opponents in the first battle that the situation was relieved and all were convinced that Trinity, even after a long period of rest, could once more play football. Trinity won the game, and although it was won by a good margin, the victory was not a snap or a walk-over affair by any means. Guilford has a good team, and Trinity's winning the victory deserves all the more credit for having won it because of the fact that Guilford has a good team. Throughout the whole contest nothing but clean football and good sportsmanship was shown by both the opposing teams.

Although Trinity has successfully invaded her first territory, it would not be a good policy for the students to become too optimistic and feel that there is no need worrying as to the probable outcome of the other games to be played. While the winning of the first game does, in a large measure, determine the spirit which will be manifested at the other contests, there is no need in becoming too confident that the team will win "just the same." The same spirit which prevailed last Saturday afternoon at the Guilford game must prevail at all the other contests if we expect to win a majority of the games scheduled for this season. There must not be a let up in the pep which manifested before and during the Guilford game, but instead there should be a marked increase.

In the game Saturday with Emory and Henry, the Trinity eleven meet a stronger aggregation, and although they will come here with a creditable record, Coach Egan's squad will be in better shape to battle with them after having had the experience against Guilford. The old fighting spirit of the team plus the united efforts of all the students in the bleachers should add another victory to our string and add more force to the placing of football on a firm basis here at this institution.

THE STAFF

The contest for places on the Chronicle Staff for the year ends with this issue. As a result S. S. Farabow, Fuquay Springs, N. C.; T. C. Kirkman, of High Point, N. C.; and R. D. Ware, of North Wilkesboro, N. C. are the new associate editors. Martha Wiggins, of Denmark, S. C. will have charge of the collection of news from the Woman's Department. Henry Belk, of Monroe, N. C.; Mike Bradshaw, of Durham, N. C.; J. E. Tridgem, of Raleigh, N. C.; W. H. Lander, of Raleigh, N. C.; H. C. Sprinkle, of Reidsville, N. C.; C. E. Summers, of Orangeburg, S. C.; and W. W. Turrentine, of Greensboro, N. C. compose the reportorial staff.

The contest lasted for four weeks and every man was given a chance to show exactly what he could do. Every man has been given a fair chance during this contest, and the winners were chosen solely on their merit. Some of the men chosen for the reportorial staff have had some experience in the newspaper work and are sure to make good with the Chronicle.

Last year Editor Evans had only two associate editors and four reporters. The management this year feels that a chance should be given more men who are interested in journalism to get practice along that line while here in college. It is for this reason, mainly, that the staff is increased.

The Chronicle regrets that there were not enough places for every contestant, however as such was impossible, a choice was necessary. In making this choice the paper has considered the manuscript offered in a careful way and the interest which has been evinced by attending staff meetings, and of getting the material in at the specified time. To every man who entered the contest or who was on the reportorial staff last year, the Chronicle wishes to extend thanks and appreciation, and a hearty invitation to call around "just any old time."

The winners will remember to be on hand at the staff meeting Friday night at 7:00 at the Editorial Office, 306 Aycock Hall.

T. W. Sprinkle, '16, Principle of the Duke Graded Schools, came up with the football game Saturday.

THE FUTURE CHRONICLE

Owing to the insufficient amount of space with which to give the proper recognition to the various clubs and activities on the campus and due to the installation of football here, the management of the Chronicle has decided that the old custom of having a four page paper should be a thing of the past and that instead a six page paper be issued once a week, beginning with this issue. In the past, especially for the last two years, it has been rather a difficult task for the editor to crowd into the paper all the happenings on the campus for the week, and as a result, some students who are interested in certain forms of activities have felt slighted. Several efforts have been made in the past to remedy this situation, but up to this time nothing definite has been accomplished. This year, however, the management feels that the situation can be remedied; although it may have to be done at a sacrifice. The Chronicle has and can possibly have only one motive in view for making this change, and that motive is for the best interest of the college. It is the earnest desire of the management that all activities on the campus be given ample consideration. In other words the Chronicle wishes to give each form of college activities the proper recognition due, and it is expected and assured that with the help of a six page paper this can be done in a satisfactory manner.

This year the advance in the cost of printing has reached 33 1-3 per cent as increase over the cost of printing the paper last year. It can be plainly seen that it is not because of the reduction in the cost of printing that the paper is able to take on another sheet, neither is it due to the fact that all students are giving their financial support toward subscribing to the paper. The later is not true. It has never been true; yet every college man should feel it as much his duty to pay the subscription fee to the college publications as he would feel it his duty to give financial support to any other form of activity. The publications are behind all other activities, and without the publications here at Trinity, things would certainly be in a bad state of affairs. It is gratifying to say, however, that more students are subscribing to the Chronicle this year than have been known to subscribe in the past. Three-fourths of the number of the entire student body have entered their names on the list as subscribers to the Chronicle; yet this should not be complete. We should be able to boast that every student is a subscriber, and this we hope to be able to do before the year is over. The Chronicle is published by the students for the students and, as representative of true college life, should be given the hearty co-operation of all students. The paper wishes to enlist the support of all in this new movement which it is undertaking.

C. H. Ward, ex '22, visited friends on the campus last week. C. F. Perkins, ex '21, was on the Park a while last week.

J. A. Rand, '13, of Raleigh, is tended the football game here Saturday.

Earle Long '18, of Milton, North Carolina, is a visitor on the campus.

Ralph Rone, '16, and his mother of Charlotte, were visitors at the college last week.

J. W. Lillard, of Columbia, South Carolina, spent a few hours with his son, J. W. Lillard Jr., '24, last Sunday.

FIRST KICK-OFF IN TRINITY AND GUILFORD GAME

TRINITY WINS FIRST GAME OF INTERCOLLEGIATE FOOTBALL

efforts. Penalties against the Trinity team for playing off-side aided Guilford greatly in securing her lone tally.

The toss-up at the beginning of the game was won by Captain Jones for Trinity, and he elected to take the kick-off. Facing the sun, since Guilford had chosen the western goal, Crute made the first kick-off in the game. The ball rose in the air and travelled to Guilford's fifteen yard line, from which the Guilford team advanced to the center of the field. Here they were held for downs and forced to kick, Trinity gaining the ball on their own thirty yard line. The first ball snapped, on an attempt at an end run, was passed wide, and went for a loss of five yards before it was recovered. With second down, fifteen to go, McNairy executed an end run about left end that gave Trinity first down. From here the Trinity men carried the ball rapidly down the field, until it was within five yards of the Guilford goal, by a number of well-executed end runs and line plunges. Here Guilford's defense tightened, but two hard-hitting plunges through the line by McGranahan found the ball carried safely behind the goal post for the first touch-down in the first game Trinity has played in twenty-six years. This tally came at the end of only seven and a half minutes. Crute made the kick perfectly, and the seven points were safely tucked away.

Electing to kick again, Trinity went down the field with a rush, stopped the Quakers in their tracks, recovered the ball on a fumble, and made a second touch down at the end of only four minutes of play when McNairy scored from an end run. The kick was successful here, and the score at the end of the first quarter stood 14-0, with Trinity in the lead.

Neither team was able to gain on the other during the second quarter, and the half ended without additional scoring.

Guilford elected to receive the kick at the beginning of the second half, but was unable to make material gains. The third quarter passed without scoring by either team. With the fourth quarter, however, with the period starting with the ball in Guilford's possession on Trinity's thirty-five yard line, scoring again took place. From their initial position, by a series of line plunges and end runs, Guilford carried the ball down the field, aided greatly by several penalties inflicted on Trinity's inexperienced men for playing off-sides. Near the goal line Trinity tightened up and held the line well, but weight told, and Guilford was successful in securing a touch-down. On the kick, however, the ball went under the bar, so only six points were credited against Trinity. Kicking again, on the second down, Crute intercepted a forward pass successfully and ran for a considerable gain. From here, after a few plays, Quarterback Hall made a long, dodging run for the final touch-down of the contest. Trinity kicked again, but time was up on the thirty yard line, with Guilford in possession of the ball, leaving the score twenty to six in favor of Trinity.

White, for Guilford was the outstanding star for his team, he scoring their only touch-down. His team ran his interference for him well, and all deserve credit for their good work.

For Trinity, there were no outstanding stars. All the men made brilliant plays at stages of the game, but no one was better than the other. Crute was the best defensive back, making the majority of the back-field tackles. McNairy was successful on end runs, plowing through his opponents with ease on several occasions. Hall played a fine game at quarter, calling very few plays that failed to work out successfully. He was by far the best open field runner, his speed and dodging ability carrying him through line after line with ease. McGranahan was successful in breaking up two forward passes that would without doubt have resulted in touch-downs for Guilford had they been successful. None of Trinity's gains around end would have been successful had it not been for the fine interference running of Pennington and Neal. On every run they succeeded in cutting down the Guilford back-field men who were attempting to make the tackle. The line played well, opening holes where they were called, and stopping many of Guilford's plays behind the line.

The offensive playing of both teams was good, but the defense was rather weak, especially on line plunges.

The line up was as follows:

Probably the most interested spectators at the game with Guilford last Saturday were three of the men who were in Trinity's backfield in 1891, when she was successful in winning the championship of the South by defeating the University of Virginia team in a 30 to 0 game. The three present were: Tom Daniel of New Bern, right half; R. L. Daniel of Beuna Vista; Virginia, full back; and S. J. Durham, of Gastonia, left half. Fred Harper, of Lynchburg, Va., quarterback, was unable to be present. Mr. Durham told the members of the squad that he had the distinction of having kicked off the first ball in the first game of football ever played south of the Potomac, when Trinity beat Carolina 16-0. All the old "boys" were welled pleased with the showing made by the team and complemented them highly on their success. Mr. Daniel said, "I am glad to see that Trinity has some sand once more. She has the spirit, but the sand to play hard left in 1891 when football was abolished. I'm glad to see it back once more."

demonium which occasionally broke forth in front of him. Plainly his air was, "Depend on me fellows."

Coach Egan in a few words expressed his opinion of the game which was to come the next day. He declared that the forty or more men who had been engaging in daily practice for the past month had showed wonderful progress toward a winning team. He paid a high compliment to the men for the spirit which they have shown, declaring that Trinity owes much to them.

Under the direction of Cheer Leader Giles, those present practiced yells and songs for the coming day. No life was wanting at this point. Several additions had been made to the yells distributed at the meeting, which met with much favor.

only injuries received. Over-confidence is the main thing that the team must guard against. A team that is able to win its first contest for a school where football as a sport has been denied for twenty six years is liable to be more or less effected by a feeling of over-confidence. But the prospects for the coming contest are not so good as to warrant a feeling of this kind either in the minds of the members of the team or of the student body generally. An interesting and hard-fought contest may be promised for Saturday.

R. T. Hambrick, '19, now a law student at the University of North Carolina came over Saturday to see the football game.

Dr. W. H. Wannamaker has been elected to membership on the Board of Trustees of Watto Hospital. He takes the place left vacant by the death of Dr. J. J. Wolfe.

THETA NU EPSILON HOLDS ITS YEARLY INITIATION

Sixteen Men Are Initiated Into Fraternity Last Tuesday Night, Banquet Held Afterwards

Sixteen men were initiated into the Theta Nu Epsilon Fraternity at the annual initiation held last Tuesday night. The object of this organization is to promote and extend friendly relations among members of social fraternities "and non-fraternity men." Thomas B. Ashby, Mount Airy; J. M. Barrett, Raleigh; T. A. Banks, Garner; C. H. Brown, Lillington; J. F. Harward, Durham; L. B. Hatha way, Hobbville; J. D. Lewis, Whiteville; T. G. Neal, Laurinburg; J. P. Rascoe, Cary, N. C.; J. E. Rose, Franklinton; J. C. Spauch, Winston-Salem; J. C. Newton, Durham; N. A. Rutherford, Canton; C. C. Cornwell, Dallas; T. R. Waggoner, Walkertown; R. C. Bernau, Greensboro;

Immediately following the initiation, which was accompanied with the usual horseplay, an informal banquet was held in the West Duke Building.

ANNUAL INITIATION OF T O M S WEDNESDAY NIGHT

(Continued from page one) since the last initiation. The initiates were blindfolded and marched around the race track in a kind of snake trail formation, their voices, which no doubt spoke the suffering of their physical bodies, chanting the tune of "Peanut Butter, Hit Me Harder." This doleful tune and the whack and thud of paddles drowned all other sounds on the campus for the next two hours.

The first stop was made at the Woman's Building where the initiates sang odd songs, danced, and many of them proposed to girls. After the ceremonies here, the procession began marching again to the tune of "Peanut Butter, Hit Me Harder." They were taken to the College Store, where they faint would have asked one drop to cool their parched tongue. For a few minutes they were allowed a period of rest after which the marching was resumed, which led to the gymnasium where they were put through a very severe patience test. The Annie Rooney Fountain in front of East Duke Building was the scene of the grand finale of the evening. One by one the initiates were plunged beneath the surface of the water.

The initiation continued through Thursday. The initiates appeared at chapel ridiculously clothed and carrying large sofa pillows. They wore costumes during the entire day, and were always accompanied by their pillows. At two o'clock in the afternoon the regular horseplay was started in full fashion. The men were compelled to put baby rattlers around their ankles, and to march to the city with rubber pacifiers in their mouths. The entire afternoon was spent in amusing horseplay down town. Some of the men were made to make speeches, some to sell news papers, some to dance, and every foolish prank imaginable was executed by these goats before the Durham public. The final act consisted of a Hula Hula dance in the street in front of the Broadway Theatre in which all the initiates participated. They became so interested and their enthusiasm became so great and the excitement so intense that they seemed to forget the traffic laws of the city, and as a result representatives from the Police Department came along with the patrol wagon and rushed the poor goats to the county jail where they were given the privilege of peeping from behind the bars for a short while.

Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, the initiates were assembled in East Duke Building where the initiation was concluded with the ritualistic ceremonies. At 11:00 o'clock the new and old members enjoyed the annual banquet at the Goody Shop Cafe. Professor James Cannon, III, acted as toastmaster and called on several for speeches. The horseplay of the day was laughed about, and in the early hours of the morning the men returned to the college.

The following old Tombs men were present at the banquet: K. M. Brinn, J. H. Small Jr., C. H. Moser, C. Hackney, R. S. White, S. A. Delap, Roy Giles, W. T. Towe, J. H. Shinn, G. T. McArthur, H. P. Cole, Gilbert Powell, C. F. Carroll, and W. E. Smith; Honorary members: B. W. Barnard and F. J. Egan.

President W. P. Few left Tuesday for Salisbury, where he will attend the annual session of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

C. M. Campell, Jr., '07, accompanied by Mrs. Campell and Mrs. R. J. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, visited the college Monday morning. Mr. Campell is connected with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

CLASS RELAY TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5th THIS YEAR

The class relay will be held on November 5. The preliminary, which was scheduled to be held on October 11 and was postponed, will be held on October 27.

The reason for the postponement of the preliminary is that the assistant athletic coach has not arrived. He is expected to be here in a few days. The inter-class relay race is an annual event which arouses much interest among the students because of the Snider Wilcox Fletcher loving cup which is given each year to the winning team. This cup is offered by the Tombs and is the permanent property of any class which wins it for three consecutive years.

SIGMA UPSILON HOLDS REGULAR INITIATION

(Continued from page one) about the Fortnightly Club's work last year, short speeches were also made by Professor James Cannon, III, Dr. F. C. Brown, and Dr. T. S. Graves. The initiates were then called upon in turn to make short speeches.

On Saturday, in addition to their colors the initiates were marked by wearing colored glasses, pens over their ears, and blotters tied to the lapels of their coats. In their hands they carried an open copy of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, and upon their cheeks the Greek letters Sigma and Upsilon were pasted.

Dear Old Pete!

Just wound up the one sweetest day of my life! Since early this a.m. when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel Cigarettes! Yes sir, right from the rooms where the choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos go into Camels unbeatable blend, straight through to the loading platforms where cases holding 10,000 Camels each are packed into car after car for shipping to every corner and cross roads in the U.S.A!

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply pickier stuff! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—there are hundreds of these machines putting out Camels at 27,000 an hour—EACH!

And, Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is just charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant, you've had a trunk full!

I stood by one of these machines, fascinated, and figured the delight each Camel would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smokers' jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor! And—

Pete, I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon, old Camel-o-pard!

Yours Joyously
Shorty.

9019 PREPARES USUAL DECLAMATION CONTEST

SCHOLARSHIP ORDER TO RENEW OFFER OF MEDAL AND HOLD CONTEST

FRIDAY AFTER THANKSGIVING

Letters Being Sent to High Schools
Giving Purpose and Regulations of Contest. Visitors to be Entertained on Campus

The 9019, local scholarship and patriotic organization of Trinity College, has announced plans for conducting the interscholastic declamation contest, an event occurring annually under the auspices of this fraternity and around which is centered a great deal of interest throughout the academic circles of the state. The contest, in which will be represented a large number of schools in North Carolina and some in South Carolina and Virginia, will be held this year on the Friday following Thanksgiving, November, 26th.

The custom of holding an interscholastic declamation contest originated in the movement of the 9019 in 1910, when the plan, which was quite unique and original at the same time, but which has been imitated throughout the state, did more to advance the interests of the college, and to promote and develop public speaking in the high schools of the state, than anything undertaken by a North Carolina college.

An expensive and attractive gold medal is the prize for which the speaker will contest. It has been won at various times by men who later became students at Trinity, and there are some men in college now who possess one of these coveted medals.

The committee in charge of the contest has been at work for some days sending out literature to every high school and private preparatory school in this and adjoining states. The preliminaries will be conducted at the college on the morning of the twenty-sixth, and from those who enter, the best twelve will be selected to contest for the medal in the finals. A committee of judges, different from the committee that decided the preliminary contests, will decide the winner in the final contest, without knowing from what school the various speakers come, in order that an absolutely fair and uninfluenced decision may be reached as to the winner.

The declaimers will be entertained on the campus during their stay here as guests of the community. Owing to the fact that many of the students will be away on Thanksgiving Day, it is anticipated that there will be any trouble providing adequate accommodations, especially since the student body has so speditiously responded to the request for rooming space.

As in previous years, there will be an entertainment of some sort for the speakers, officials, and the 9019 members, to be held after the speaking, but the nature and details of this feature have not yet been determined. It has also been customary in former years, to conduct the visitors through some of the large manufacturing plants in Durham, and some interesting instructive features of this nature will be given this year.

A notice requesting the co-operation of all the students in the work of the contest occurs elsewhere in this paper. It is the desire of those in charge that every student shall see that literature is sent to his preparatory school and that he will also write a personal letter to the principal of the school and to the local newspaper.

A committee from the faculty is working with the 9019, giving it both moral and material aid and support that is always desired and appreciated by students when coming from the college administration.

October 5, 1920.

Dear Principal:—

Since 1910 it has been the custom of the 9019, the patriotic and scholarship society of Trinity College, to conduct a declamation contest for the benefit of the high school students of North and South Carolina and Virginia. This contest is held at Trinity College during the Thanksgiving holidays and has always been popular and successful. The prize for which the contestants will strive is a handsome gold medal given each year by the 9019.

Enclosed herewith is a statement of rules and conditions governing the contest. Whether or not your school has been represented in previous years we trust that you will see the value of having a representative in the contest just ahead and that you will notify us of your intention to participate. We urge your hearty co-operation and hope that you will send a representative.

Very sincerely yours,
H. E. Fisher, Chairman
J. G. Leyburn,
G. S. Mumford.

WITH THE SOCIETIES

HESPERIA

The Hesperian Literary Society initiated three new members into its organization at its regular meeting Saturday night, thereby assuming the lead in the race between the two societies for new members. The count now stands Hesperia fifty-four, Columbia fifty three.

After the initiation, G. E. Powell delivered an oration entitled, "Too Much Gas," in which he deplored the present state of affairs existing in the world in which the chief occupation of men seems to be to tell someone else how to work and under what conditions, instead of going ahead and doing his own work.

R. B. Dunstan delivered an oration on the subject, "Tempus Do Fugit." He urged the members to take advantage of the golden opportunities each moment offers. He declared that the most depressing incident in college life is the manner in which many men waste their time.

Several members delivered extemporaneous speeches on subjects of timely interest, after which the debate of the evening was held. The subject of the debate was "Resolved that the revaluation tax is discriminating, unjust and should be repealed." The affirmative was successfully upheld by T. R. Waggoner, K. M. Brim, and S. M. Holton; While S. H. Clegg, Mike Bradshaw, and H. C. Sprinkle advocated the negative side of the question.

The Society dispensed with the remainder of the program to take part in the celebration of the victory over Guilford in the first intercollegiate football game Trinity has played in twenty-six years.

COLUMBIA

Due to the illness of the President, J. W. Hatchcock, the meeting of the Columbian Society was called to order by the Vice-President, Claud Grigg. Two new men, members of the freshmen class were initiated after the opening ceremonies.

The orations were of especial interest. C. Lindsay spoke very forcibly on "Our Attitude Toward Immigrants." D. H. Conely followed with an oration on the subject "Lost Opportunities," in which he brought out some very strong realities.

The debate of the evening was very spirited and of great interest at the present time. The subject was, Resolved, That the amendments to the Constitution of North Carolina should be adopted. The affirmative team, consisting of G. W. Ferrell, W. Q. Grigg, and B. F. Kendall was successful over B. I. Satterfield, R. L. Jerome, and M. T. Teeter, representing the negative.

The society then adjourned in order to allow the members to take part in the celebration of the football victory over Guilford.

Mrs. J. W. Prince, of Fuquay Springs, North Carolina, was on the campus Sunday afternoon, visiting her son, J. W. Prince Jr. '22.

Messrs. Homer Legrand, '17, and Nash Legrand, a former law student here, both of Hamlet, spent a few days last week with friends on the campus.

Kale White, '13, who holds a position with the Republic Tobacco in Costa Rica, has returned to the State for a short visit. He tended the football game here Saturday.

PHYSICAL TRAINING PLANS ANNOUNCED BY THE COACH

Plans to Take Effect in Near Future.
Work to be Made More Interesting

"The physical training program for the year 1920-21 will depart from the system which has been in vogue for past. Says Coach Egan, 'The department is due to the more advanced modern theory of physical training; and better results will be obtained by making the work more interesting, and at the same time more beneficial to the individual student.'"

"It is the aim of the directors to follow a program which will co-ordinate mind and the muscles with the body. The work required of the student seeks to improve posture, poise, grace, and carriage, and at the same time develop the body in an all around way. The following divisions of physical work will be used in proportional amounts: calisthenics, heavy apparatus work, and competition in athletic games.

"Each student will be required as per catalogue of 1920-21 to take three hours per week of physical exercise under the prescribed program in order to receive credit for graduation.

The following equipment was specified by the coach as necessary: slippers for use in gym, heavy shoes for outside work, regulation gym suit of short pants, sleeveless jerseys, and socks.

The classes will be held on the athletic field on clear days, and in the gym in bad weather. Attendance will be carefully taken at the beginning and end of each hour. A careful record of each student will be kept by means of individual cards, and a grade of 70 will be required in order to get credit for the course. Credit will be allowed for the participation in intra-mural and varsity sports and all students are urged to take part in one of the sports either on the class or varsity teams.

When a student wishes to go out for one of the sports, he must give his name to the manager in charge and report to him on each day that he goes out in order to get credit. All record cards must be handed to the chairman before December 10.

Credit will be allowed for football, varsity or class baseball, class track or class relay; basketball, class and tennis, and for tournament. Candidates for the varsity sports will be exempt while on the varsity squad.

All students who work will be exempted from physical requirements provided they bring a note from employer specifying the number of days per week and hours of work. These notes must be handed to Mr. Egan before October 22. Students who work all or most of the afternoon must take two hours work in gym during free hours in the morning.

The requirements to pass Physical Training are: each student must obtain a passing grade on class work and athletics; two unexcused absences will only be allowed per term, and all absences will be checked up at the end of the week and reported to Mr. Egan.

Exemptions will be allowed to: candidates for varsity sports while on the varsity squad; candidates for football provided they report for the remainder of the season will be exempt for the entire year; and students who work will also be exempted.

The requirements per week is two

CO-ED NEWS

The Athena Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday afternoon at four o'clock. The time of the meetings has been changed to Monday instead of Tuesday because of the inability of many of its members to be present at the old time of meeting.

At the beginning of the meeting Monday afternoon fourteen new members were taken in. Then the meeting was turned over to the chairman of the Program Committee. Miss Lota Leigh Draughon made an interesting talk about the Y. W. C. A. conference at Blue Ridge last spring. Miss Ethel Merritt gave a reading "Ravin's of a Freshman" written by Professor Spence. There was an impromptu debate between the Freshman and Sophomore classes on Resolved: That Sophomores should be allowed to continue to haze. The affirmative was upheld by the Freshmen: Misses Margaret Frank, Dorothy Canoy, and Blanche Johnson. The negative was defended by the Sophomores, Misses Hunter Holloway Annie Garris, and Jane Christenberry. The judges decision was in favor of the negative. The last thing on the program was a talk by Miss Louise Berry on "The Slump in Prices."

Mary Blair Maury, Elizabeth Allen, Ruth Early, and Julia Self all of the class of '20 were visitors at Alspaugh this past week-end.

INFORMATION AND RULES FOR 9019 INTERSCHOLASTIC DECLAMATION CONTEST OF 1920.

1. The contest will be held in Craven Memorial Hall, Trinity College, Friday, November 26, 1920, at 8:00 P. M.

2. The prize for the winner in this contest will be an attractive gold medal given by the 9019.

3. Any school in North Carolina, South Carolina, or Virginia, offering three or more years of high school work may send one representative to the preliminary contest.

4. The preliminary contest of these selected representatives will be held at Trinity College at 9:30 A. M. Friday, November 26, when ten declaimers for the final contest of the evening will be selected.

5. The name of each contestant, the title of the declamation, and certificate from the principal of the high school that the representative is a bona fide student of the school, must be filed with the contest committee not later than November 19, 1920.

6. No declaimer will be allowed more than ten minutes in the final contest, and selections of from six to eight minutes are recommended.

7. The order of speaking in both preliminary and final contests will be determined by lot.

8. No expense will be incurred by the representatives during their stay at the College.

9. Further information if desired may be obtained by writing the Chairman of the contest committee.
