EMORY AND HENRY FALLS BEFORE TRINITY ELEVEN

METHODISTS WIN SECOND FIGHT OF SEASON IN HARD FOUGHT CONTEST SATURDAY

SIMPSON MAKES WINNING SCORE

Both Teams Were Evenly Matched and Game Was Hard Fought from Beginning to End. Both Teams Played Scientific Ball

Trinity emerged from her second football contest of the season victorious, when she succeeded in defeating the strong team representing Emory and Henry on Saturday afternoon by the score seven to nothing. The game was one of spectacular plays and constant thrills, much more so than was the game with Guilford the week previous. The closeness of the score is sufficient evidence to prove that the contest was close and that the teams were well matched. Played as it was in the broiling sun of Saturday, the contest was an extremely trying one to the participants, the dry dust making playing conditions most unpleasant.

The most spectacular play of the game was the play that scored the touchdown. Simpson, who had just replaced Midget as center, was the man who made the lone score. Near the fifty yard line in the second quarter, Trinity was on the defense after a rushing play down the field by Emory and Henry. Harneling for Emory and Henry received the ball from center, and drew back to make a forward pass around right end. Delayed somewhat, waiting for his man to gain an open place, Harneling held the ball an instant too long. As he passed the ball, Simpson, who had broken through the line, leaped into the air and blocked the pass. The ball bounded from his hand into the air, but as it fell back he succeeded in catching it. He immediately started for the goal. As the interception occurred far in the backfield, no one was in his way, and he made a forty yard run straight down the field, scoring the only goal of the game. Hall succeeded in kicking the goal.

Trinity won the toss at the beginning of the game, and elected to kick. Emory and Henry chose to defend the eastern goal. Just as Crute started to kick, the wind blew the ball from the mound, necessitating its quick replacement. Hurriedly placing the ball again on the mound, Crute pointed it into the air too far, and as he kicked, it rose high in the air, only to fall on Emory and Henry's forty yard line. In the visitor's possession, the play started. Emory and Henry opened up with a series of line plunges which were successful to the extent that first down was made on the third attack. Held here for downs, the visitors were forced to kick, the ball going outside on Trinity's twenty yard line. Running a play about right end after two line plunges, Trinity advanced the ball thirty yards with Hall carrying the ball. Held here, with fourth down and thirteen yards to go, McGranahan kicked to the Emory and Henry fifteen (Continued on page three)

STUDENTS HOLD PEP MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT ON CAMPUS

On the night before the Emory and Henry game, Craven Memorial Hall was the scene of another rousing, enthusiastic demonstration on the part of the Trinity students assembled there. Under the inspiring leadership of Roy Giles, Trinity's veteran Chief Rooter, the entire campus was made to resound with the joyful noise.

Dick Bundy was called forward, and amid great applause took a place on the platform as Assistant Cheer Leader. Yells and songs were practiced for the approaching contest, and the pep, so much in evidence at the Guilford game, was revived.

Rendered Most Efficient Service as Member of Official Body for a Number of Years. Father of Mrs. R. L. Flowers

The flag of Trinity College flew at half-mast from Friday to Sunday in honor of Captain Edward James Parrish, distinguished citizen of Durham and friend of Trinity College, who died Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock at his beautiful home Lochmoor several miles north of the city.

Captain Parrish died at the age of 74, after a prolonged illness of three and a half years. His funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at Trinity Methodist church by Rev. A. D. Wilcox, assisted by Rev. R. C. Beaman of Lumberton, and Dr. M. Bradshaw of Memorial Church. Capt. Parrish was buried in Maplewood Cemetery. The floral tributes were of unusual beauty and attested to the love and esteem in which he was held.

Captain Edward J. Parrish was born near Round Hill postoffice, now in Orange county on October 20, 1846. He entered the sophomore class of Trinity College in 1863 while Dr. Braxton Craven was president. When Trinity College was removed to Durham, Captain Parrish was elected a member of the Board of Trustees and to membership on the Finance Committee of the Board. He was al-

STUDENT MEETING HELD BY Y. M. C. A. WEDNESDAY EVE

At the student meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held last Wednesday evening, four members of the Senior class made short talks on subjects of general interest to the students of the College.

"Supporting College Activities" was the subject of the talk made by W. C. Merritt, who urged that every man, whether a new student or old, support the various activities of the College. Football, the literary societies, the college publications, and the musical activities are what the students make them; and all of these activities need support that they may be successful. The speaker said that the Y. M. C. A. included in its membership every man in college and that its meetings should be better attended. "Every man in college," he said, "is a spoke in the wheel of college activities; and if he does not hold up his part, the wheel will bump."

In speaking of the opportunities which the College offers, H. E. Fisher said that greatest sin of the day is the sin of ingratitude. He said that students should show their gratitude to the College by taking advantage of the opportunity.

TRINITY TEAM VICTORIOUS OVER GUILFORD IN TENNIS

Trinity Men Outclassed Visitors. Methodists Have Good Chance for State Champions

Trinity defeated Guilford in a fast tennis match played here last Friday afternoon by winning the entire number of matches. It was plainly evident that the Trinity team entirely outclassed the Guilford team; however, Guilford put up an exceptionally good fight and the match proved to be exceedingly interesting to all observers. The following is a list of the players on both teams and the outcome of each match: For Trinity—Whitener, Shinn, Cornwell, Hathaway, and Hackney. For Guilford—Winn, Gloff, Zachary, and Merri-man. Hackney and Cornwell defeated Merriman and Gloff 6-3; 6-0. Shinn and Whitener defeated Winn and Zachary 6-0, 6-1. Hathaway defeated Merriman 6-3, 6-2. Whitener defeated Winn 6-1, 6-0. Cornwell defeated Gloff 6-1, 6-4. Shinn defeated Zachary 6-2, 6-4.

There were no especially spectacular plays made in the whole match, although mention may be made of the unusual steadiness and accuracy of Whitener's game. He played his opponent a very fast game, winning most of his points by accurate placements and swift lawfords. Probably Merriman played the best game for Guilford. He was rather erratic in his serves and played a middle court game throughout the match.

This makes the second tennis victory for Trinity, the first being played between University and Trinity at Chapel Hill two weeks previous to this one. It appears that Trinity has a very strong tennis team, and there is a good prospect for her capturing the state championship.

Trinity will meet Davidson in a match here Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

DR. PEGRAM DELIVERS LECTURE TO CHEMISTRY CLUB FRIDAY

Dr. Pegram lectured on radioactivity at the Chemistry Club Friday night, October 22. The speaker outlined some of the scientific phenomena that led up to the discovery of radio-active elements, and pointed out the men who contributed most to the study of the science. He gave a few specific instances for the continual decay of certain elements or the derivation of one element from another by spontaneous combustion. He cited general instances in which radio-active elements had become of important commercial value, pointing out the allied relation between the X-rays and Radio-active rays.

LYNCHBURG AND TRINITY TO MEET HERE SATURDAY

COACH EGAN RAPIDLY TRAINING HIS SQUAD INTO FORM FOR LYNCHBURG ELEVEN

GUILFORD DEFEATED LYNCHBURG

Very Probable That Every Member of Trinity's Team Will Be Given a Chance to Participate in Game Saturday

Trinity bucks up against her third opponent of the season Saturday when she meets Lynchburg College in football on Hanes Field. This game has been looked forward to as the easiest on the season's schedule since the defeat of Lynchburg at the hands of Guilford three weeks ago by the score of fourteen to nothing. Lynchburg has undoubtedly improved much since that game, however, and a walk-away for Trinity is not expected. Coach Egan is eager to test the strength of the Virginians, and if possible, many new men will be used in the game. If the score can be run up into safe grounds, the coach intends to give every man on the squad a chance in the game. However, circumstances may alter cases, and Lynchburg may turn out to have a stronger outfit than is anticipated.

At any rate Trinity's team will go into the game next Saturday with three or four new plays that Coach Egan is teaching the squad this week. In addition to these new plays, other plays that have not been used so far in the other two games will be used. Trinity expects to play an offensive game throughout.

Coach Egan was more than pleased with the grade of football played in the Emory and Henry game last Saturday. Interviewed the first of the week, he said, "I was more than gratified at the manner in which both teams played last Saturday. The game was the best exhibition of real football I have witnessed since I have been in this part of the country, and I have seen practically all of the games of importance played in this vicinity. Emory and Henry played a good, hard, clean game, and Trinity did as well. Of course mistakes were made, but the grade of football attempted is very gratifying to me."

Coach Egan is confident that he has men on his squad who are far better in all stages of the game than men in other institutions who have already won fame as football players. As soon as the men find themselves in the sphere of football, Coach Egan is confident that the Trinity team will be a formidable opponent for any team.

While expecting to win the game Saturday with ease, it is by no means certain that such will be the case. Overconfidence may mean the loss of the game, and is to be avoided! A good contest from start to finish is confidently expected.

Prof. James Cannon III was called to Nashville, Tenn., last night by the serious illness of his fiancée, Miss Margaret Faw, to whom he was to have been married Monday next, Nov. 1.

EDITORIAL

Lookout Lynchburg.

Yes, Methodist supporters know now that Emory and Henry puts out a pretty fair football team.

Two victories out of the first two starts. Not so bad for a college that has not played football for over a quarter of a century, is it?

Verily, the season of overcoats, gaiters, and er—wool socks approacheth.

Of course there is no convincing proof and no one knows for sure, for one can hear almost anything these days, but it is being rumored that a large number of Trinity students are signing up for Sunday School Training course because of the free lunch feature.

A recommendation to the bug-house is offered the man who turned in the fire alarm on the campus Saturday night. A man who would commit an act of this kind is really in a more deplorable condition than a candidate for the bug-house. The man who committed this violence did not think before he did the act, and a man who does things without first thinking is a dangerous man. Words are inadequate to express the utter contempt the student body has for the man who turned in this false alarm.

When a college man completes his college course and enters the world for the purpose of beginning his life's work, he is expected by those who are interested in him to be to a large degree efficient and prompt in all of his business dealings with his fellow men. At some time during his college course he is expected to acquire a certain amount of efficiency and alertness in attending upon his duties. Business men all over the country in employing college men in all cases expect and require that the man employed be efficient and prompt in all his business dealings, and the college man who is deficient in this respect not only feels that he is seriously handicapped but casts a bad reflection on his college. If a student spends four years in college and fails to develop a sense of duty toward the prompt and ready attendance to all his business matters, he has failed in one sense of the word to complete his college course. It matters not how many ninety-five's he may have to his credit or how many times he has represented his college in inter-collegiate debates or in athletic contests. A man is not educated until he knows how to do things business like manner.

Here at Trinity this spirit of a lax, don't give a snap way of doing things has been detected in the past. It may be called laziness; yet in some cases it is not that. It has been called or termed the lack of energy, which, of course, is a first cousin to laziness or, one might say, a cross-pollination between laziness and indolence. The Chronicle is of the opinion that it is just a lack of the development of a business sense. Of course these above mentioned things may be large stumbling blocks in the way of the development of a business sense. Anyway, there is a spirit of carelessness and laxity shown here on the part of some students. In some cases when a man has incurred an absence from a class, he allows this absence to be held against him until he is called up before the dean for an explanation, and in all cases the one who fails to attend a class at a certain time knows that he has been reported absent by the instructor and knows that he will be held responsible for that absence until it is cleared up. In some cases when a financial debt is made, some students show an unconcerned attitude toward meeting the debt at the appointed time. Men who hold responsible positions in college activities sometimes fail to do the things asked of them and at the required time, and as a result trouble comes. Every student in college realizes that he is making a mistake when he fails to attend to these duties promptly. Every student knows that when he fails to perform his duties, he is forming a habit, which without a sudden and determined reformation, will be a serious handicap to him so long as he lives. We are all guilty of procrastination, but we can in a large measure reform. Let's snap out of our lethargy and clear up the old ruts in which all things drag and never get anywhere.

STUDENT AND POLITICS

An unusual amount of interest, it seems is being shown by the college students in the approaching election which is to be held November the second. It is encouraging to note that politics are being discussed freely by the students, and that clubs have been organized during the past few weeks for the purpose of creating party spirit and enthusiasm. The young men of America who are becoming twenty-one years of age are going to have to assume a wonderful responsibility in the political world. The question is, are we, as college students, going to do our duty in helping to clean the rotten politics from the public offices of our nation by lending our votes or are we going to take the view of the fellow who fails to vote and then complain and offer criticism to the way in which things are run? It is high time that the college man should be realizing his obligation. These men who absolutely ignore the political question of the day are within themselves rotten politics. They are the men who are directly responsible for the sending of grafters to the legislature and demagogues to Congress, not by voting for them but by failing to vote, and then after the election is over they howl the loudest about fool legislation and graft and waste.

It is the duty of the college man, not only to vote in the primaries and final elections but to go back of these to the real seat of good government and try to influence the right man to stand for the right. In order for the college man to do this, he must think and by thinking use his best judgement in acting on all the questions which present themselves. It is the duty of the college man to find out whether the candidates for office are capable men as well as honest men. Investigation should be a potent force in the selection of a candidate for any political office.

We should all vote in the coming election, not in a haphazard, careless unconcerned manner, but by conforming to the principles which we have been taught here in college.

I am Autumn.

I bring quizzes in abundance, falling leaves, overcoats, gaiters, and wool socks.

Moonlight, porch swings, evening strolls, imitation ukeleles, and fords all begin to take on a deathly expression during my reign. Laziness, procrastination, indolence, baseball umpires, ice cream, straw hats and mosquito netting all flee before my train.

I am the forerunner of steam heat, the first herald of approaching Christmas, the promoter of overshoes, felt hats, and chapped hands. Woolen manufacturers, hot suppers, closed of evening signs, and frost-bitten toes are all ingredients of my medicine.

During my reign linen handkerchiefs and bandannas are not longer used to harbor perspiration, college students begin to complain of cold rooms, Durham Traction Co's business begins to take a slump, professors frequent the libraries more often, and turkeys begin to think of the day of execution.

To all physical labor I am a stimulant. Gym classes and afternoon lectures are friends of mine. A doctor am I in that I advocate physical exercise for the curing of all aches and pains, imaginary and real and for the purpose of aiding in causing the fresh air which I offer to have its utmost effect.

To the student I offer a stimulant for study. To the professor I offer a feeling of cheer and gratitude. To the farmer I offer rewards for past labors. Partake of me, enjoy my hospitality, and make good use of me while I remain with you.

I am Autumn.

yard line. Here the visitors were held for downs and forced to kick. The kick was bad, and Trinity gained the ball on Emory and Henry's twenty-five yard line, directly in front of the goal posts. Here Hall attempted a drop kick which failed, and Emory and Henry advanced the ball to the forty yard line before they were stopped. Here the first penalty of the game was inflicted on the visitors for playing off-sides. Trinity again held her opponents for downs and forced the kick, which went to Trinity's twenty-yard line. Taking the ball on a kick formation, Crute made nine yards around left end. On the next play Trinity was penalized for holding, fifteen yards. Forced to kick, the ball travelled to the thirty yard line, from which the visitors executed a ten yard run around right end. At this point, in an attempt to strengthen the team in its unfortunate position, Simpson was sent in to replace Midgett at center. With the ball directly in front of the goal posts, Emory and Henry attempted a place kick which was unsuccessful. From the twenty yard line, the ball was advanced by Trinity to the twenty-five yard line, where the quarter ended.

Starting the ball on the twenty-five yard line at the beginning of the second quarter, Hall at once made first down on a run about left end. The visitors tightened their attack here, and Trinity was forced to kick. McGranahan drove the ball to the thirty yard line, where the visitors were in turn forced to kick on downs. The ball went to Trinity's twenty-five yard line. At this point Smith was sent to replace McNairy, who had been unsuccessful in making gains. On the next play Hall made a run about left end that ended with the ball in Trinity's possession of the visitor's forty-five line. The ball went to Emory and Henry on this same line when it was fumbled by Trinity. Fumbled again by the visitors on their forty-eight yard line, Trinity again took the offensive. With fourth down and ten to go, McGranahan kicked to the visitor's ten yard line. The visiting team by good interference running advanced the ball thirty-eight yards before they were stopped by Hall's fine tackle just on the side lines. Had the tackle failed, a touchdown would have been scored by the visitors, for Hall was the last defensive man. Bringing the ball in fifteen yards, Emory and Henry attempted the play from which Simpson scored the only touchdown of the game. Electing to kick, Captain Jones booted the ball to the visitor's five yard line. By a series of quick plays the ball was advanced to the twenty-five yard line. At this point in the game, the visitors began to lose their offensive power, and were held for down after down, not only without gains, but for serious losses. Leach and Neal were largely responsible for this by their excellent tackling back of the line of scrimmage. The period ended with the ball in the possession of the visitors, fourth down and eight yards to go.

Emory and Henry chose to receive at the beginning of the second half, and Jones kicked to the twenty-yard line. Emory and Henry made first down on their forty yard line. Here the fine tackling of Neal and Derriekson forced the visitors to kick, and the ball was booted to the thirty yard line. By a long thirty yard run, Hall carried the ball again into the Virginian's territory, only to lose it on the next play by a fumble. Neal's consistent tackling again held the visitors for losses, and Trinity gained the ball on a fumble. Here the only clean forward pass of the game was made when Crute received the ball for an eighteen yard gain. The ball was lost on downs, however, and a thirty-five yard run made by the Virginian's was only stopped when Hall slowed up the runner enough to give the other back field men time to stop him permanently. Neal recovered the ball on a fumble once more, but held for downs, and with fourth down eight to go, McGranahan kicked to the ten yard line. The man receiving the ball was nailed in his tracks by Neal. Emory and Henry then kicked, and Hall advanced the ball to the thirty yard line. On the next play Hall gained thirty-five yards on an end run. From here Crute made first down on a run from kick formation. Hall made another fifteen yards on an end run, and then under the very shadow of the goal, a kick was blocked, and the ball bounding back was covered by the visitors on their forty yard line. The quarter ended with the play in this position.

At the beginning of the last period Emory Henry was held for downs and forced to kick, the chief losses being caused by Simpson's fine tackling. The ball was booted to Trinity's thirty-five yard line, from which Crute made first down on a long run about right end. Hall advanced the ball to the visitor's thirty-five yard line by another end run. Attempts were then made to make gains through the line, and McGranahan plunged through the line for several gains. Held for downs, though, and forced to kick, McGranahan lost the ball on a bad pass from center, but recovered it in time to prevent the visitors from gaining on the fumble. Emory and Henry advanced the ball to their forty-eight yard line, where it went to Trinity on downs. With fourth down ten to go, McGranahan kicked to the fifteen yard line. On the next play Jones made the tackle for a loss for the visitors. The ball went to Trinity on Emory and Henry's thirty yard line just as time was up.

Neal was the outstanding star of the game, his tackling and interference work being splendid. None of the visitor's runs about his end were successful. Particularly during the second half was his playing brilliant. Leach was also a strong man on defense, time after time throwing the visitors back of the line of scrimmage for losses. Hall was the best ground gainer, and Crute the most consistent player in the backfield. The backfield was rather slow during the entire game, but nearly every play was put across successfully. McGranahan's kicking was above the average, his punts always going far down the field.

Ellis and Weaver of the Emory and Henry team were the stars for their outfit. Their defensive work was fine. Time after time they broke through the line and broke up Trinity's plays for losses.

The line up and summery:

Emory and Position	Trinity
Wolfe	Pennington
	Right End
Weaver	Derriekson
	Right Tackle
McClung	Hatcher

Captain Parrish was one of the pioneers of the great tobacco industry, and he did much for the progress of the city of Durham. On one occasion he was sent to Japan to get business for the American Tobacco Company. His trip was highly successful and he was greatly honored by the Emperor of Japan. During the Civil War Captain Parrish was a member of Company K, Fourth North Carolina Cavalry. He was captain of the Durham Light Infantry for five years, and was afterwards appointed colonel of the Third Regiment of State Guards.

Captain E. J. Parrish is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. R. L. Flowers, wife of Professor Flowers.

(Continued from page one) ties which it offers them. Comparing the opportunities of college life to the talents which were given to the servants in the parable of the talents, he said that students should not bury these talents but make use of them.

C. D. Harmon urged that every man in college take advantage of "the golden opportunities that lie in wait for college students." He said that students should avail themselves of the opportunities offered by the Y. M. C. A., the literary societies, athletic field, and the opportunity of hearing good speakers. "Work on little things," he said, "and larger things will follow."

Speaking on Preparedness, T. A. Morse said that just as there is preparedness in history and preparedness in Nature, so the law of preparedness rules the spiritual world. "We come to college to prepare ourselves for some vocation; and we should prepare ourselves to meet the needs of the world." The speaker said that the greatest need today is Christian leadership and that the college offers the means of preparing oneself to meet these needs.

Why not embrace the chance to see the smart things to wear for Fall and Winter.

MINISTERIAL BAND HOLDS ITS REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Ministerial Band on Friday evening D. W. Kanoy gave a very interesting talk about the Social Service work of the Y. M. C. A. in New York City.

Mr. Kanoy pointed out that the Y. M. C. A. is doing a very great work in the districts of most need.
Community Houses are established, and workers are taught the needs of the people and trained in community service. Especial attention is given to the amusement and uplift of the boys by providing outdoor camps and physical exercise for them. It is also the policy of the Y. M. C. A. to render all possible assistance to the unfortunates, and an employment bureau is one feature of this work.

The speaker, who had spent last summer in New York doing this work, described very effectively the awful conditions that exist in some sections of the city and pointed out the benefits that are to be derived from working to alleviate these conditions.

Dr. Few returned from Salisbury Tuesday. He has been attending the session of the Western North Carolina Conference

Camel

CIGARETTES

Dear Pete:-

Get you a house and let you'd stay in W-S a month if you ever got to know folks here like I have. Between business and Reynolds factories and a bully time—well, my date book has been bubbling over! And, I'm still running into facts that would stagger even your imagination, old football, with all your kick!

Pete, take it straight from government figures direct to you, that every work day in the week R. S. Reynolds Tobacco Co. buys from our "Uncle Sam" enough revenue stamps to pay for a duplicate of the handsome new Winston-Salem post office building! Ever hear of such a thing?

And, if you want to get an eye full of an army of more than 15,000 people, be down in the Reynolds factory district when the whistles blow!
Never saw such a cigarette firing up time in my life! Looks like more folks than you ever saw at a Princeton-Yale football game!

Pete, every time you light a Camel in the future, call back on what I've slipped you about Camels—absolutely, the greatest cigarette at any price—for quality, for refreshing flavor, for well-rounded body, for freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or odor! It's worth the busiest smoker's time to compare Camels with any cigarette in the world! Camels are simply a revelation! You know that!

I'll spill you a lot more just as quick as I get a whack at you across the dinner table!

I'll open my eyes in Atlanta tomorrow! In the meantime here's a wad of best wishes I have in stock!

Yours Shorty.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE IN SESSION HERE THIS WEEK

PROF. R. N. WILSON IS DEAN OF SCHOOL. VARIOUS INTER-ESTING COURSES GIVEN

Under the supervision of the General Board of Sunday School Education at Nashville Tennessee and the North Carolina Conference Sunday School Board, there is being held throughout the present week a Sunday School Institute. This is in the nature of a normal school of instructions for Sunday School teachers, and on the opening night 1125 teachers and religious workers had enrolled.

The Institute, which is held annually for the Durham District, is the third to be held at Trinity. This year Professor R. N. Wilson is acting as dean of the school from the primary department through the senior adult classes. Being one of the standard training schools of the Southern Methodist Church, many of the leading specialists in Sunday School work are in attendance, either as advisors or as instructors. The courses being offered together with the instructors are as follows:

Beginners Lesson Material, Mrs. C. E. Van Noppen, of Greensboro; Primary Methods, Mrs. P. E. Flag, of Richmond; Junior Methods, Mrs. Cann, of Asheville;

Pupil Study, Dr. W. I. Cranford, of Durham;

Methods of teaching, Miss Annie Moore, of Nashville;

Each evening the session begins at 6:30 and continues until nine o'clock.

DEVEAU TROUPE WILL NOT PERFORM HERE THIS FALL

$300 in Tickets Engaged but $800 is Required Before Troupe Can Present Plays

The Deveau players will not perform at Trinity College this fall. Only about $380 of tickets were signed for by the student's and $800 must be guaranteed before they will come.

The players wished to give Gibson's "The Ghost," "Thomas's Her Husband's Wife," and a combination of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Twelfth Night," and "The School For Scandal," by Shakespeare. The Public Lecture Committee would have been glad to get these players here, but, apparently the students did not want them. The Deveau Troupe will perform before the students at University of North Carolina and Wake Forest during the fall.

MICROSCOPE IS PRESENTED UNIVERSITY BY STUDENT

Microscope of Professor John Kimberly Becomes Property of the University

Among the highly prized gifts recently tendered the University is a microscope, the property of John Kimberly, Professor of Chemistry Applied to Agriculture and the Arts in the University of North Carolina, 1856 to 1866. In 1875 when the University was reorganized, following the dark period of the Civil War, he was elected Professor of Agriculture. Professor Kimberly was a graduate of the Lawrence Scientific School of Harvard University, where he was a student of Agassiz, who stated that the notes of his lectures written by Kimberly were the best ever submitted by any student during his connection with the school. Professor Kimberly was one of the first professors granted a year's leave of absence by the University in order to study in a German university.

The microscope was given to the Department of Botany by David Kimberly, Jr. grandson of Professor John Kimberly, who is at present a student in the University.

The microscope itself is known as the "Large improved Compound Microscope, and was the highest developed type of its day. It has six objectives with magnifications ranging from 30 to 250 times. Even the microscopes used in General Botany and Zoology are a great advance over the improved microscope. The ordinary high power" used in Botany it is capable of magnifications of from 200 to 300 times while in the research classes of Botany, microscopes supplying magnifications up to 2,160 are used.

HENRY BELK ELECTED TO HEAD BUREAU OF NEWS HERE

The college's officials have announced that a news bureau to furnish news of college activities has been established and is in charge of Mr. Henry Belk, of Monroe, North Carolina. Mr. Belk has had rather extended experience as a newspaper man, having been connected with the Monroe Journal and the Greensboro Daily News. This policy is in keeping with that of many of the larger educational institutions of the country. Students are requested to furnish Mr. Belk with items of news that would be of interest to the general public.

Harry Yarborough of the class of '23 was on the park Sunday.

ALLEN GWYN MADE ASSISTANT IN PHYSICAL TRAINING HERE

Gwyn to Aid Capt. Card in Giving Calisthenics to Students of College

Allen H. Gwyn, of the Law School, has been retained by the college as assistant to Coach Egan in directing classes in physical training required of every student. Mr. Gwyn will have charge of two classes in calisthenics each afternoon for five days in the week.

The securing of Mr. Gwyn to aid Capt. W. W. Card in the classes in calisthenics assures a competent instructor for each class. At the same time Coach Egan is thereby relieved to devote more time to the work of coaching the various varsity teams. This increase in the instructors of the physical training department marks a forward step for the college.

Mr. Gwyn has had considerable experience as a director in physical culture classes. For more than two years he was stationed at Camp Pike, Arkansas, being engaged in directing the work of physical culture required of the men in the units stationed there. This experience is expected to stand him in good stead in his new position.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE TO MEET RICHMOND COLLEGE

The Old Dominion will again be invaded by Davidson next Saturday. This time, however, Richmond will be the scene of battle instead of Lexington, the home of W. and L. Richmond University, this week's opponents are reported to be in excellent shape, having had fairly easy games so far. A corking good football game is slated for the fans in the Virginia Capital.

The Virginians have been successful in their first three games. Hampden-Sidney lost to them Saturday, and George Washington University suffered the same fate the week before. In view of these victories and the general good reports of the team, Davidson is expecting a tough battle before trimming them.

Information concerning the style of play and the individual qualities of their players is scarce in these parts. Beyond the fact that the squad is quite heavy, and speedy enough to make impressive scores very little is known.

Their representative in Charlotte should have gained a little advantage by witnessing our game against Wake Forest.

With the exception of Cassell, the Wildcats have no injuries from the contest with the Baptists. Although the fight was strenuous and several men on both teams were laid out temporarily, none were seriously hurt; so Davidson will have a strong line-up. Coupled with the natural Wildcat fight the ability of those plunging demons of last Saturday and a combination of results that is hard to beat.

BIOLOGICAL CLUB HEARS ITS MEMBERS DELIVER LECTURES

The Biological Club held its regular meeting Monday evening in the Science Hall.

H. V. Beaman made a talk on the subject, "Cancer of the Lower Lip." His speech was very interesting and showed Mr. Beaman's thorough knowledge of the subject.

C. P. Ashley delivered a short lecture concerning "Abscesses of the Lungs" which was followed by an informal discussion of the two questions by all present.

CITADEL

The Cadets drew another goose-egg. V. M. I. opened up and bowled them over them by 30 to 0 count. The lads from Citadel must have put up a good fight through because V. M. I. has one everlasting War Horse of a team.

U. of S.C.

Coach Metzger's pig-pin chasers lost to the Tar Heels by a lone touchdown. The Palmetto State Lads had hard luck, twice coming within the 10 yard line only to lose the ball on downs. They put up a plucky fight and were especially strong on the defense.

U. of N. C.

The Tar Heel Boys failed to develop drive enough across over one tally against South Carolina. Hanby saved the day by grabbing 'up a punt and running thirty yards for a touchdown. This was the first football game to be played between the two institutions in a number of years.

FURMAN

Coach Laval's lads are still putting up the same gilt edge performance they began the year with. The best the University of Georgia could do was to score a lone touchdown. Only seven touchdowns were made during the recent game played between the two institutions. Three were made by Georgia and four by Furman.

STATE COLLEGE

The State College added another star to their crown when they defeated the University eleven last Thursday. Lowe, for Carolina, was determined that it would not be a goose-egg result for the University when he made the kick for a field goal and was successful. Report has it that this is the first victory that the State College has ever won over the University.

DAVIDSON

The Presbyterians, it seems, easily defeated the Wake Forest aggregation by the score of 27 to 7 in the annual game played at Charlotte recently. The Davidson eleven played a dashing offense and a stone wall defense. At the first of the game Wake Forest kicked off to McFadden who returned twenty yards from that point the march of the Presbyterians was irresistible. This drive down the field for the first touchdown took six minutes.

Co-Ed News

Miss Mary Dodson, a missionary from India, addressed the Y. W. C. A. Thursday night.

The Citizenship Club held its regular meeting Saturday night. A live discussion of politics followed the reading of the Democratic and Republican platforms by Sophia Ryman and Helen McCrary. Coma Cole read a very interesting paper on the League of Nations. An unusual amount of interest in politics was shown by every one present.

Pearl Adams and Helen Cantrell attended the Adams-Sutton Wedding at Linden last week.

Dorothy Aycock, of Greensboro College, visited Lelia Humble last week.

Roy K. Smathers, '19, has been selected as director of all branches of athletics at Emory University.

Vesta M. Dorrity is representing the British-American Tobacco company in China.

With the Societies

COLUMBIA

B. R. Holt, B. T. Ferrell, and I. W. Strawn, upholding the negative side of the question: "Resolved, That Ireland Should Be Given Home Rule," won over the affirmative team, M. Q. Tuttle, L. A. Falls, and John Stamey, at the regular meeting of the Columbia Literary Society Saturday night. Mr. Falls was voted the best debater on the affirmative team, while Mr. Ferrell was declared the best on the negative.

C. E. Buckner in an oration discussed "The Call of the Age." Following Mr. Buckner, C. D. Harmon was declared the best orator.

HESPERIA

The Hesperian Literary Society initiated two new men into the society at its regular meeting Saturday night. After the initiation ceremonies, two former members of Hesperia, Mr. C. H. Clegg and Mr. E. P. C. Craft made short talks to the society.

S. M. Holton delivered an oration on the subject, "Personality in Politics" in which he gave facts concerning the men who have dominated the political affairs of the nation. Several men made extemporaneous speeches on various subjects the most noticeable of which was the speech by Head on the subject, "Lips that Linger on Limburger Cheese Shall Not Linger on Mine."

The society dispensed with the regular debate and gave the remainder of the time over to the transaction of business. The social committee reported that the annual reception of the society would be held on Wednesday the third of November.

Park School Notes

About seventy-five of the Park School boys and girls went to the Fair Thursday of last week. The school did not give a holiday, but it allowed all the boys who had permission from home to go that day. It is notable to say that all the boys were back here ready for work on Friday.

On Friday the football team will journey to Oxford to play the first game of football in the history of the school. Coach Lewis believes that he will have the team rounded out in good shape by that time and that the boys will make a very creditable showing against the Oxford eleven. The probable line up will be Turner or Barker, center; Thompson and Warren, right and left guards; Parham and Jones, right and left tackles; Dillon and Brewer or Gasque; Owne, Right half; Tugwell, fullback; Brame left half back; and Lister, quarter back. J. C. Owne, the right half back was elected captain of the team on Monday.

Owing to the fact that many of the students went to the Fair Thursday, the regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was postponed until a later date.

Next week is one of the momentous times of the year for the Park School students in that they have their first quarterly examinations. The examinations will begin on Monday and last for five days. Judging from the earnestness of the students for their work this week, it would be wished by the faculty that examinations would come every week.

L. L. Gobbel, who is on the staff of the Greensboro News, spent Sunday on the campus with his brother, J. T. Gobbel.
